THE HERALD is published every Friday morning, at Fairport, Monroe county, N. Y., by A. J. DEAL. Terms—$1.50 in advance. The HERALD is a local paper, devoted to Home News and enterprise. It is an excellent Advertising Medium, as it is taken and read in nearly every family in the eastern portion of Monroe county. tf

"INK-DROPS."

—As yet no very damaging frost has visited this vicinity.

—Overcoats have been in demand during the last few days.

—Yesterday, Thursday, we had a fine rain, which was much needed.

—The advertisement of the new Fairport grocery and restaurant man appears in this issue.

—It is probable that there will be no service at the Congregational church next Sabbath.

—The F. B. Conference adjourned on Wednesday morning of this week, after a profitable session.

—The Baptist people of this place are making preparations for the dedication of their new church.

—It does seem as if there had been more tramps about our town than usual during the past few days.

—Rev. Mr. Crandall has gone to Canada on a vacation. As he will be absent next Sabbath there will be no service in the F. Baptist church.

—Rev. J. Butler left town on Monday morning for a four weeks vacation. Mrs. Butler was sufficiently recovered from her recent illness to accompany him.

—The delegates to the Free Will Baptist conference have in many instances expressed themselves as very much gratified by the hospitality of the residents of Fairport.

—On Wednesday Mr. Vanetten, a mechanic who has lived in this village for over a year past, removed to East Walworth where he has secured work for the coming winter.

—While the Free Will Baptist Conference was in session last Saturday, they all assembled on the church green and the Fairport artist, Mr. Waldron, took a photograph of the whole body.

—Henry Thorpe, the Auburn prison convict who murdered Howard, the negro ravisher sentenced in Rochester, was tried this week. He was found guilty of murder in the first degree, and will probably be sentenced to-day.

—On Tuesday of this week Mr. J. C. Merrell removed his family to Geneseo, where he is in the photographic business. During his residence here he has acquired many friends, and their good wishes will attend him in his new place of residence.

—For ten days, up to Wednesday noon of this week there were meetings in this village from early in the morning till late at night. The greatest lover of attending religious exercises was satisfied. On Wednesday evening there was no meeting at any of the churches.—Every one was resting.

—On Wednesday afternoon, the wife and son of Mr. B. Farrel, who lives in the vicinity of Wayneport, were driving home from Rochester in a buggy. East of this village a mile or more they were driving on the tow-path of the canal, when the buggy wheel caught in the fence. The horse began to back, and being unable to stop him, they all went into the canal together. The woman was rescued by some boatmen, but the boy was drowned.

—The DeLand Fire Company have their room in the HERALD block fitted up in the best manner. Their new hose cart is now in the room, with the hook and ladder truck. The boys are perfectly willing to have their room and apparatus inspected, and they invite our citizens who are interested in the welfare of the company to visit the room. In fact the boys have great reason to feel proud of their achievements in preparing to meet and subdue the fire fiend.

HOSE CART.—The hose cart which Messrs. Hart & Bellby have been building for DeLand Fire Co., is completed and in their room and is decidedly a credit to the manufacturers. Our worthy townsmen, L. M. Shaw, stepped in to see it the other day and was so well pleased with the Hose Cart and the enterprise which the Fire Co. boys have shown in purchasing it that he handed the treasurer a $10 bill to help them along. Thanks for generosity Lee. "May your shadow never be less."

—On Monday morning about 2 o'clock fire was discovered in the carriage factory of A. R. Sherman, on Fayette street a short distance north of the Palmyra Hotel, and in spite of the active exertions of the fire department and the united efforts of the titizens, the entire structure was burned to the ground.

—It is reported that at a recent tea-party in the town of Mentz, in the central part of the State, five widows were present. It was announced that an old gentleman in a neighboring town, having some property, wanted a wife.—Thereupon those five women pulled straws to ascertain who should take him "for better or for worse." The one who drew the longest straw actually married him.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a regular meetiug of DeLand Fire Co., the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father, in his wisdom and inscrutable providence, has seen fit to remove from our midst by death, our esteemed brother and friend, Frank Marrin, therefore,

Resolved, That in his death we have lost a faithful and efficient member. His cheerful countenance and amiable manners will be missed by the surving members, and with sadness and sorrow we behold his vacant chair.

Resolved, That his sorrow stricken parents and friends have our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement.

Resolved, that our room be draped in mourning for 30 days.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the Fairport HERALD, and the secretary send a copy to the friends of our deceased brother.

PREMIUM HORSES.—At the late State fair Mr. I. S. Wells, who lives in the south-east part of this town, made a very fine display of his "Monroe Morgan" stock of horses. A chustnut mare, "Middy Morgan" was much admired for her graceful carriage, style, and beauty.—She certainly deserved the first premium which she took. The young filly, "Victress," showed a remarkable trotting gait for her age, and gives promise of increasing value. The animal "Stella Howard" also took the first premium as did the filly. Mr. Wells showed several other horses which also took premiums. They were all sired by his horse "Monroe Morgan," and that this stock is among the best is attested by premiums they took, and also by the admiration they received by those who can appreciate a good horse.

EDITOR HERALD.—On Saturday last a large crowd gathered upon the Base Ball ground in Penfield to witness the game, which the "Plough Boys" of Union Hill, Ont., had engaged to play with the "Spartans" of Penfield. The appointed hour came and passed, and still another; and the immense crowds were beginning to break up in great disappointment, when pyramids of dust, arising in the distance, gave token of the approach of a large body of men, and a few moments later the glittering uniforms of the "P. B's" were visible thro' the clouds of dust. After a long and hotly contested battle, the score stood 9 to 0. The nine was not for the Plough Boys. O.

—DEBATE.—The debate on Prohibition which was to have been held Thursday evening last, at the Baptist church, is adjourned until Tuesday evening next at the same. Let all who are interested in this question rally and fill the house. Plenty of good music will be furnished. The exercises will commence promptly at 7:30. G.

—We were happy to greet our young friend and former fellow citizen, Mr. Chas. H. Dickinson, of Coldwater, Mich. He has been spending a day or two in visiting friends in this village and vicinity.

Fairport Police Court.

Enter Beardsley with a prisoner; the crown of his hat smashed in and his shoes, three sizes too large, covered with tow-path blacking an inch deep, and his pants tied up with a calico string.

Officer. "Squire, I charge this specimen with being drunk, disorderly, and a nuisance."

His honor was in a profound study over Conkling's speech, and after deciding that it would have been better for the great Senator to have remained on his stilts than to get down in the mud, took a look at the prisoner. Apparently satisfied with his distinguished(?) appearance, the Squire politely asked his name.

The change in the countenance of the stranger was something to be remembered for a lifetime. His face, which had been the picture of good humor, immediately assumed the most woe-be-gone expression. Digging his fists into his eyes he howled out: "My name is John Smi-hth, boo, ho, hoo. Now ple-these let me go-ho and I won't come here agin, boo-ho-hoo. I drive on the canal and I got tu-turned o-hof, and I want to get wo-hork."

Esquire. "Stop your noise, you don't cry worth a cent, and if you can't do better than that you need not perform for my benefit."

Smith. "Oh! please let me go, and I don't want to be sent up, bo-hoo, I want to go to Troy, boo-hoo-hoo-oo-oo."

Esquire. "No doubt Troy is a pleasant place to go, but it can't be compared to Rochester, and of all the places in that beautiful city the big brick house on the hill is most desirable as a residence. I think I will give you a permit to live there for 30 days."

Smith, with a look of horror started to his feet and then leaned over the table and said: "Oh don't, the canal will be clo-hosed and I can't git wo-hork, boo-hoo-oo-oo, and how can I git home to New Yo-hork, oo-oo-oo."

Esquire. "Stop! If you can't cry better than that I'll have the constable get you some pepper, or an onion."

Smith. "Oh! Don't Squire, I don't want any; and I want to drive on the canal. Oh! let me go-oo-oo," and walking around the table he got down on his knees and howled, "oh! oo-oo-oo-oo-o." Beardsley, being moved to pity, touched him with the toe of his shoe, and told him to "dry up."

Esquire. "He is no doubt as dry as he can be, you see he can't even shed a tear." Here the person wiped his eyes with the skirt of his coat and roared louder than ever. The Squire told him to get himself out of the office and out of the village inside of fifteen minutes or he would send him up. John did not wait to hear the rest of his Honor's remarks, but in a minute he was seen going at a 2:40 pace for Dickerson's with a nickel between his thumb and finger saying he would have one more drink anyway. An hour after he was at the Squires house begging for bread.

What They Say.

The notice by the publisher of this paper three weeks ago in which was announced the arrival of a youthful editorial assistant brings the following from Sodus Alliance man:

Having in the past been intimately acquainted with the editor and proprietor of the "Herald," Mr. Deal, and being indirectly acquainted with the first aforesaid mentioned assistant, we would most cordially doff our hat, and extend to you, dear sir, the ☞ of fellowship, and welcome you to that great and grand, yet oftentimes tried and tempted fraternity of Papas. Although at present this second aforesaid assistant is the bright * of your existence, and many shall see you m~h'm with true fatherly affection, yet all along up through his little life he will be an ? to you, and a CASE without a . But though your expectations in regard to his goodness may be often ——ed, though like a BRIAR he may scratch, or as with a ~ he may exercise you, and cause you to make many an ! in haste, which you will repent of at leisure, yet unflinchingly go forward, my dear sir, with those noble thoughts in mind that you have not only helped to swell the census of this grand and glorious and free U. S. of America, but that by the transmission of good precept and better example, these little lights shall go forth, by-and-by, to cheer a desolate and dissatisfied world.

PERSONAL.—Last week Tuesday, Oct. 2nd, Mr. Stephen Sanford reached his eighty-first birthday. He has lived in this village for the past twenty-four years and is known to most of our readers. For one of his age, his vigor is the wonder of many men by thirty years his junior. His form is erect, his eyesight is good and he has labored a number of days this summer. His wife is nearly the same age as himself, and the two keep house alone; and they have lived together about sixty years. In 1808 Mr. Sanford removed from Paris, Oneida county, where he was born, to the northern part of Wayne county, where he lived until 1853. During the war of 1812 he was not old enough to be subject to military duty, yet he volunteered and was on duty at the time five British war vessels visited Sodus and Pultenyville.—His reminiscences of those days are of great interest to younger men. Not long since he visited his former home in Wayne county, but very few of his old friends remain. Mr. Sanford is indeed one of the old pioneers, and his vigor is such that he may yet see another score of years.

COMPLIMENTARY.—We the undersigned, delegates and visitors to the twenty-third session of the Free Baptist General Conference, held in Fairport, N. Y., Oct. 1877, would hereby express our appreciation of the kindness extended to us by the proprietor, clerks and waiters of the Osburn House, and our gratitude for the excellent accommodations which have been furnished to us.

School Meeting.

On Tuesday evening the annual school meeting was attended in the Union School building in this village. Mr. N. Lewis was called to the chair. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the clerk, C. L. Peacock, and accepted as read.

The report of the trustees was then read. After the reading, a few of the bills were looked into separately, after which the report was accepted. The expenses of the school for the past year were $3,694.43. There is a surplus of $264.11, which is to be used for teacher's wages. There was a deficiency of $69.44 in the contingent fund, and that amount of bills were yet unpaid.

Balloting for three trustees in place of W. S. Storms, C. L. Peacock, and E. Davison, whose terms of office had expired, was next in order. Upon motion the chair appointed Messrs. A. E. Hazen and W. H. Dobbin as tellers.

The first ballot to fill the place of Mr. Storms resulted as follows: Mr. Storms 38; Mr. E. P. Ward 96; Scattering 2; total 136.

The second ballot to fill the place of Mr. Peacock resulted as follows: Peacock 107; scattering 11; total 118.

The third ballot to fill the place of Mr. Davidson resulted in his having a 107 out of a total of 110 voles. Mr. Davison was elected for two years, the other gentlemen for the full term of three years.

The board of trustees recommended that the following sums for the objects specified be raised by tax. for the support of the school for the ensuing year:

Teacher's wages	$2,235.89
For fuel	125.00
For Janitor	85.00
For Clerk	50.00
For Contingent Fund	600.00
For Interest	99.83
To meet unpaid bills	69.44
Total	$3,265.16

A motion was carried that the above sums be raised. It was afterward voted that the $69.44 for unpaid bills be drawn from the contingent fund of $600; also that the $99.83 to pay interest on school bond be taken from the same fund. A motion was carried that $150 be added to the contingent fund to be used for counsel fees if necessary.

A motion that the Board of Education prepare their next annual report and have it published in the Fairport Herald in the issue previous to the next annual school meeting, was lost. The meeting then adjourned for one year.

—The Republican Judicial convention which met in Canandaigua on Wednesday of this week nominated Hon. C. C. Dwight, of Cayugay. That gentleman is now on the bench, but his present term expires with this year. He will have small opposition.

—Cough, Hoarseness, Asthma, or any Irritation of the throat or bronchial tubes will be relieved by taking Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It has cured thousands. Recommend it to your friend and neighbor. Your druggist keeps it. Price 25c.

Great Mistake Corrected.

Very many persons when asked to try Shiloh's Consumption Cure, say:—"Why, I haven't got the Consumption!" supposing this medicine—judging from the name—was only designed for Consumption. What a fatal mistake. Did you not know that a medicine that will cure consumption, will most certainly and speedily cure a Cough, Cold, Hoarseness, or any throat and Lung trouble? It is an expectorant; it will not dry up a cough. Try it for Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and Whooping Cough. There is no medicine that will give as immediate relief, which is guaranteed. It is perfectly harmless to the youngest child, and no family with children can afford to be without it; 10 cents, 50 cents, and $1 per bottle. For sale in Fairport by R. L. Estes, at the Gem Drug Store.

"HACKMETACK," is the most popular perfume; sold by R. L. ESTES, Fairport.

How it is Done.

The first object in life with the American people is to "get rich;" the second, how to regain good health. The first can be obtained by energy, honesty and saving; the second (good health) by using GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER. Should you be a despondent sufferer from any of the effects of dyspepsia, liver complaint, indigestion, &c., such as sick headache, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, habitual costiveness, dizziness of the head, nervous prostration, low spirits, &c. you need not suffer another day. Two doses of AUGUST FLOWER will relieve you at once. Sample Bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by all first-class druggists in the U.S., and by Dr. Weare.
