Dear Mr. Mohid:

Concord High School, after a tremendously emotional and trying period, is now beginning to return to a more normal life. This process toward normalcy has been helped in ways we would not have thought possible by the concern, condolences and love of people like you.

Christa McAuliffe meant much to us in her sharing of herself. In similar ways, it means a great deal to us to realize that you have shared your love in such a creative way. Your work, "The Ultimate Field Trip: Micropsychology" and "Wanted: Peace Educators" has been listened to and is being kept safe for others in the future to be moved by its compassion.

We hope, just as your work has been of comfort to us, that it can also, be part of a healing process for you.

On behalf of the school community - teachers, students, administrators and parents - Thank you.

Truly, there is great warmth in knowing that others care. May the world be a better place to live because of this outpouring of love.

May God bless you.

Sincerely,

J. Bruce Gatchell
Music Teacher

Dear Mr. Gatchell:

Peace be unto you and your family!

We thank you for your very warm and moving letter of April 2, 1986 expressing thanks on behalf of the school community-teachers, students, administrators and parents-for our cassette on,"The Ultimate Field Trip:Micropsychology," and "Wanted:Peace Educators." It shall always be treasured as a bright star and a guide in the dreams of the compassionate heart.

We shall be bringing shortly to New Hampshire a programme of peace and compassion in Micropsychology, teaching the specifice human relationship of Unconditional Love:living without fear, with love for all and hatred for none. Our first lecture, "Youth Program for Peace in Micropsychology," will be given at UNH in Durham later this month, after our participation in the International Conference on Peace and Security on 21, 22, and 23 of this month at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel in Montreal.

We look forward to meet with the school community at Concord High very soon.

While there is time, may all experience the joy of peace and prosperity from the insightful living experience-living without fear, with love for all and hatred for none:unconditional love.

Yours in Truth,
