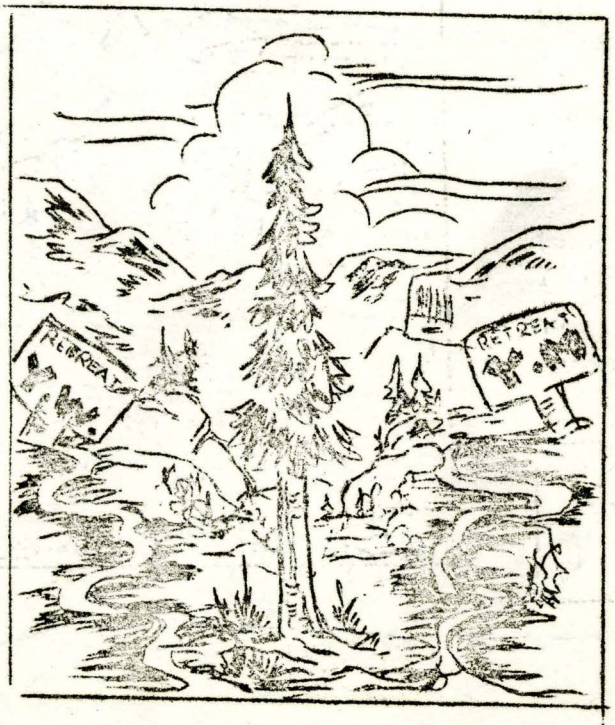
CHORAL UNION TO GIVE "CHIMES OF NORMANDY

Y. W. RETREAT

Moonlight liking, singing around a camp-fire, cooking meals in true camp-fire style, and an allround La Verne co-ed good time may be had by every girl who is wise enoughto attend the Y. W. retreat at Camp Bethel, May first and second. Fellowship and fun is all the girls need to become better acquainted with one another. Up in the mountains away from any and all, the girls are free to do and say anything that they desire without any restrictions whatsoever.

Let's see every girl at Camp Bethel---for a week-end packed full of good times and real companionship.



Since Febrary, anyore wandering down the basement corridor of the college every noon has heard peculiar things emitting from a room down there. Cries of "I'll break every bone of his body!" have been followed by a woman's terrified,"Save me! Save me! I'm going to faint!" The dramatically tense pause before the air is filled with peculiar stutterings. Every so often, some one or other will break into song, and then more exclamations and ejaculations and laughing.

Then on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons anyone going into the auditorium has seen thirty some students on the stage going through their routines with a certain professor gesticulating wildly every so often. Sometimes some one person has been late in the action, so the routine is repeated and repeated until all are alike.

All of this has been and still is evidence that the Choral Union will present an opera here on the evenings of May 7, 8, and 10. Be certain to remember the dates and come for the best thing presented here this year. Remember the light Opera, "The Mikado"? Well, this is even better!

See you there!!

MAKE THE BEST OF REMAINDER

Only two months of school! That time is rapidly slipping away from us. There will be socials, parties, week-end events, operettas, plays, etc. All these will be crowded into these last two months. We may seem at times to be smothering under such heavy load of activities, but just keep a smile on your face and the burdens will grow lighter!

I don't know--but perhaps there are some in our college who have not gotten all out of this school year they should have. There is so much to gain if we could but search it out and apply it to our lives. I many times, have heard students say, "Oh, it's been o.k., but --I don't know." From the way this sounds we are inclined to believe such students have n't taken advantage of all the pleasant opportunities for social contact that we are privileged to enjoy. Perhaps they feel that they have dome out at the "little end of the horn". About this time of year we begin making a backward survey of all we have done this year. Many of us are well-satisfied, many are not.

We now have two months of activity left in our school year. There is plenty in those two months for everyone. Beach Day presents abundance of fun, laughter, and enjoyment; Clean Up Day is a day we all make work a pleasure and like it. If you are one who feels the lack of social atmosphere, just take inventory and see if you have really tried to enter into all the fun and activities while here. If you are--determine within yourself to give all you have to making yourself and others happy by entering into these varied opportunities. Let yourself go! And join the party!

For the next two months let's take advantage of all that comes our way! Let's say at the end of the year, "It's been a real pleasure!"

FOUR JOURNEY IN CALIFORNIA

LaVerne College was put on the map for high school students in southern and northern California during spring vacation. Under the direction of A.C. LaFollette, Field Secretary, Eleanor Herrick, Frances Kutchback and Rube Callison gave programs to the student body of a number of high schools in this state.

Rube's singing, accompanied by Eleanor at the piano, was very well recieved. Miss Kutchback and Miss Herrick gave readings and skits.

The students report that the high school principals in every case were extremely cordial to the La Verne representatives, which speaks well for the standing of the college.

LEOPARDS BOW TO GAUCH OS

The La Verne Leopards bowed to the Santa Barbara Gauchos in a three game series last week-end. The games were played at Santa Barbara.

They were three great games. Friday afternoon the mighty Leopards led during the entire game. Thescore was tied in the sixth and ninth. The Gauchos with Old Lady Luck on their side managed to bring in a winning run.

Swihart pitched most of the game and did he make their batters look sick! Only five hits were allowed by Swi. In the secondinning with two men on base, Wilson Ferrel steps up and lays out a home run. Ulmer andSwihart were chalked up with three base hits. The outfield looked plenty classy and with a little polishing on a few rough spots the infield will be in tip-top shape. Al Basten, catcher, got a swecked finger but was playing a bang-up game. He was replaced by Crites, who played the position like a veteran. Coach Franny Crites was well pleased with the performance of the boys.

Saturday in the first game it seemed that everything went wrong. Messick had a very sore arm and his pitching suffered with him. Santa Barbara had an eleven run lead, score 12-1.

Then came the most exciting game. Ferrel pitching and Crites catching. Everyone seemed to hit their stride. Ferrel fanned out ten men and allowed only eight hits. The Leopards were ahead until the sixth inning when the their luck changed to Gaucho luck. It seemed they couldn't miss a ball. A ball that was intended to go wide was struck at and hit in some way and always for a hit.

AROUND THE CINDER PATH

The Leopards met in a triangular meet at Santa Barbara last Saturday andshowed some real stuff. Snokelberg, Fischer, and Lehman were the main point gatherers. Lehman was the only one to take a first place. He tied for first in the pole vault. Fischer took third. Perry Smith took third in the javelin, beaten out of second place by 8 ". Snokelberg took several places but his best race was the high hurdles where he took third. The boys are getting into good shape for the Conference and are expected to go places. So you had better watch them!

W.A.A. NEWS

Saturday, April 17, eight L.V.C. co'eds went to Whittier College for a play day. Women from Santa Barbara, San Diego State, U.S.C., U.C., L.A. also were present to show their skill.

Registration was at 9:00 O' clock, when each athlete was placed on a team, namedfor objects dealing with the no. 13.

Basketball, baseball, volleyball, badmington, track, and ping pong were played. After lunch, at which the Whittier women served punch and ice cream, the first year drama class of W.U.H.S. presented a program.

Poor Penny!!!!! had to be bored by playing ping pong when she wanted to play basketball.

Tuesday afternoon the soccer playoff was held. Doris Meacham waselected Captain of the lowerclassmen and Harriet Strate of the upperclassmen. The lowerclassmen won by a score of 20 to 4.

EASTER VACATION NEWS

We are glad to see that most of our L.V.C. friends could visit home this spring vacatiom Many had not been there since September.

It is old news that George Snokelburg visited at home in Wichita two weeks, but have you noticed that he came back with a nice looking grey jack et?

I guess Dutcher went home to Montebello to learn a bunch of new facts about his home town so that he could impress L.V.C. coeds. Maybe he wants one of us to come and live there some time.

Doris Meacham also visited her home in Pasadena. We think that it made it more convenient for a certain Frosh boy who lives in L.A. than if she had stayed here or gone to SanDimas.

Bernard Finch spent his vacation getting well-acquainted with a pretty girl who works at the Medico Dental building in Pomona. His ambition to be a doctor and her evident connection with that type of work makes them interested in the same work. More power to you, Bernard. We know her, too, and think she is plenty O.K.

Of course the seniors used their vacation by going on surveys. We are proud of their ambition and are certain that they will secure teaching positions.

Elwood Johnson worked the major part of his vacation in the grocery store. We like to trade at that store because they have such handsome clerks, but oh, Johnny, who don't you give L.V.C. women a break?

Our friend, Mr. Francis Ulmer went to St. George's, Utah this vacation. Maybe he hoped to bet a wife out there in the Mormon country, but we forget he already has a wife in Santa Ana. At any rate he says that he saw some pretty girls.

DORM GOSSIP

Well, look who's back!! Who? Why Miller Hall girls, of course. Back again for more work and play after a grand and glorious week spent at home. What fun to be back though! You know, youthful young maidens always tell their secrets to their Diaries and judging from the lines jotted down this week in the various dorm diaries, every one is glad to be here. I thot it would be nice to know what some of them said so I snooped and found out. Of course, all of this is supposed to be kept quiet. Promise? Vie wrote with a free stroke of the pen. "Ah! Vacation days have their delights, but they can't compare with college nites." Jewel thinks that it's ever so much nicer to be face-to-face when Willy says those little things because they just didn't sound the same in letters. Belva is having a little fifficulty. She wrote "That old George Snokelburg shined his lights in the car we sat in to nite in front of the dorm. I wouldn't have minded it it had been some one else, but Snocky always talks so much." And then there's Mary Lou. She seems to Harp about the same thing constantly. The subject is always her one and only. Opal, Dotty, and Janet after living on hard boiled eggs awhile remarked that it was a relief to have a little variety of string beans in their menu.

And so they go! There's just no peace like the old dorm for things to happen, so is it any wonder that adventure seeking girls are glad to be back to all the excitement once again?

Keep this date open.

CHIMES OF NORMANDY"

BEYOND THE HORIZON

To read some of the speeches of apponents of Supreme Court reform is to find that some consider this division of our "Holy of Holies." Rather it is one of the institutions government to be a sort of created by the constitution the same as Congress and the Presidential office. Being a human device it is not perfect.

The principles of checks and balances which is basic in a democracy does not always produce equilibrium. Congress passes a bill and the President can veto it--that is the check; then Congress can pass it over the head of the President--that is the balance. This same bill can be reviewed by the Supreme Court and be revoked--that is a still further check; but where does the balance come in?

There seems to be a difference of opinion on this point in the Supreme Court itself, as evidenced in the decision validating the Washington minimum wage law for women. Chief Justice Hughes in delivering the majority report said that in the light of changed economic conditions the law was constitutional. Justice Sutherland in the minority report said that the court should not construe the constitution in the light of changed conditions but that it should be amended. This would be a balance if explicit.

REGARDING PETITIONS

According to the constitution, petitions for president of the Associated Students and the five commissioners must be given to Charles Messick by Tuesday, April 20. In order to be valid, a pet-

CHAPEL

Rev. Frank Howell, pastor of the Calvary Church of Los Angeles spoke in Chapel, April 13. He mentioned to us the futility which many people feel in the world today and cited the various means of meeting this situation. The only adequate way is to seek God's control and His plan for our lives, Mr. Howellsaid. Among his closing remarks he said that it seems to him that if there is a God, he would surely have a plan by which to run this world and by which He would include each individual, and that surely if He had a plan, He would tell it to each individual if he will only listen.

Prof. Ralph Travis gave a very delightful organ recital at the church during the Chapel hour Thursday, April 15. Four sketches from nature composed by Joseph Clokey opened the program. Among the other numbers were variation of two hymns, Introduction, Humeresque, Londonderry Air, and the ever familiar Ave Maria by Schubert.

This special chapel was especially appreciated by the students and is looked forward to each year.

ition must be signed by 10% of the students and the candidate be approved by the faculty. Following the 20th there will be one week for ballyhoo and boosting for the candidates. During this week, on April 23, there will be a meeting of the Associated Students where the managers will be permitted to make a soapbox oration for their candidates.

LUCKY POETS DEFEAT LEOPARDS

The Whittier Poets Wednesday defeated the La Verne Leopards 8-4 on their local field at Santa Fe Springs. The field was in very bad condition. There was a light wind and the outfield was very soft. Otherwise everything was good.

La Verne went to bat first. Wilson Ferrel was the first up to bat and was walked. He was helped to round the bases to make the first run before La Verne was retired.

Messick pitched and Crites caught and they played a real game. It took Chuck two innings to get really warmed up. The Poets made one run at their first time at bat. In the second inning Lady Luck went entirely to their side. Several errors were made by the Leopards. Three outfield flies were missed and there were two overthrows to first base.

From the second inning, things changed. The Leopards started to bear down. No more runs were scored by the Poets. They were helpless under Chuck's pitching power and his baking infield.

Then the Leopards began to use all their strength to catch up. One run was made in the fifth inning and in the seventh inning Johnnie Landis stepped up and knocked out a pretty two bagger to score two men and then the Leopards were retired to finish the game in favor of the Poets.

Coach Crites expects to make a few changes and iron out a few of the wrinkles both in the infield and outfield. Whittier is coming here to play a return game Saturday. The Leopards are waiting to tear out their eye teeth.

Thursday after Chapel a short W. A. A. meeting was held. It was decided to give a pin to J.C. transfers which will differ slightly from the ones which the four year students recieve.

The banquet was decided upon. It is to be a formal affair, May 12, to which guests will be asked.

A petition sponsored by the W. A. A. for a coach next year is to be started soon. Also a petition for an ammendment to the constitution so the gi ls can receive a block letter.

Sports--cont. from pp.3 They managed to chalk up a six run lead before they were retired. The Leopards gained two of the runs back to end the game 12-8/ It was a real game with everyone going full stride.

The boys will play Whittier here Saturday and are out to win. So you had better come out and watch it.

C. E.

Three very interesting programs were held in the College C. E. the past three Sundays. April 4th, Frances Kutchback was in charge of a program concerning race relations with the negroes. Mrs. Anthony gave a very interesting talk on her experiences in social work among the negroes of the south. Mr. La Follette gave an interesting interpretive reading of a negro sermon taken from a book of sermons "God's Trombones" by James Welden Johnson. Rube Callison sang several spirituals.

Last week the program was in charge of Cletus Holmes. A young woman of Chino gave an interesting summary of her trip last year through Euraope. She was a delegate to the World's Sunday School Convention held in Norway. She showed several reels of moving pictures she had taken on her trip.

Last Sunday evening, the main speker was from the L. A. County C. E. Union, Mr. McGaha. Ralph Mangun led the group in several inspirational songs before Mr. McGaha opened his discussion on "Prayer." He read from Matthew 7, and stressed the need of a daily and sincere prayer by every Christian. There was a very good attendance at this meeting.

Passer-by, meeting small boy on the street--"S-s-say, s-s-sonny, where can I find C-c-central S-s-station?"

No answer!

The passerby repeated the question but there was still no answer. So the man went on his way. A man standing nearby asked, "Why didn't you answer that man who just asked you a question?" The answer came back, "S-s-say, M-m-mister, do you think I want m-m-my f-f-face s-s-slapped?"

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS

Music and readings were the entertainment for the Associated Student Meeting, Friday morning, April 16. The Monrovia High School Girl's Glee Club and bass section of the Boy's Glee Club furnished the delightful music. Mrs. Frances Potts, the director and pianist, accompanied the group of about thirty-five students. Mary Lou Habbs, president of the Glee Club, announced the numbers, and Robert Anderson sang a solo. The bass section sang a beautiful arrangement of "Rock in the Cradle of the Deep" with Charles Dickens as soloist. The Y.W. was very fortunate in obtaining this group to perform in the assembly and are very gracious to the Glee Clubs and Mrs. Potts for the enjoyable program.

Y. M. C. A.

Two weeks ago the youth of La Verne College assembled together to discuss the vital need of organization. After the preliminaries which included group singing led by Hal Michael and several brief reports on old business, the Y.M.C.A. committee introduced the measure that "the present Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. be transformed into an A.M.S. and A.W.S. with the understanding that an organization based on the principles of the Y.M. be established to take care of the needs which such an organization would satisfy."

Paul Groff arose and talked of the realm of activity and purpose of the A. M. S. and of the Y. M. After much discussion the proposition was submitted to a vote and was carried.

We all hope that this movement that the young people of L Verne College are undertaking will prove to be successful.

THREE CORNERED MOON A SUCCESS

Last Thursday night the annual Alpha Psi Omega play was put on to only a fair sized crowd. However, the attendants were able to show their appreciation of the fine work done by the cast.

Outstanding as the love element was Donald--Jim Thornton, Elizabeth--Maurine Moomaw, and Dr. Stevens--Charles Brickley; around them revolved the eternal triangle. Supporting roles were Kenneth--the law students, taken by Elmore Mc Sweeney; Douglas, who thought he was an ~~actor~~, Archie Reeves, Mother, the scattere-brained woman who had a remedy for every ill--Olive Blickenstaff; Kitty charming but dumb fiancee of Kenneth, Doris Meacham; and Jenny who didnot understand English--Madelyn Penland.

The cast and coach La Follette choula be congratulated upon their successful interpretation of this three act farce of a careless fun-loging family which is suddenly thrown upon its own resources for its living.

EYES

I have watched eyes,
For the eye is the door to a man's soul.
I have seen fear
In the eyes of a condemned man,
Such fear as I once saw
In the eyes of a caged animal.

I have seen despair
In the eyes of a wanton woman,
Such despair as I once saw
In the eyes of a starving cat.

I have seen disillusion
In the eyes of a beaten child,
Such as I once saw
In the eyes of a whipped dog.

I have watched eyes
For the eye is the door to a man's soul.
