LAND OF HAWAII IS PICTURESQUE

VISIT HAWAII WITH MANUEL KWON

"Look west as your liner leaves America's western edge! Watch the gray sea change to blue, then deepen into indigo; feel the warmth of the breeze; watch green Molokai, then, Oahu, rise out of the sea. Then, around Diamond Head—into another world."

As your ship slips into the Honolulu harbor and you and your mates stand at the ship's rail, you will note the green and fresh atmosphere, the nearness of the hills and mountains. Speedboats, canoes encircle the ship. You see a flower lei. Someone hangs a three-foot strand of carnation, ginger, gardenia, etc., lei about your neck. You wonder——! Fragrance fills the air. You hear the band, shouts, the clouds. It seems all Honolulu is present. You know the meaning of "ALOHA." The welcome is real and thrilling.

Down the gangplank, past the band, through a rainbow of races, Lei women, Hawaiians, Japanese, Chinese, people of all nationalities, tourists from all parts of the world! Flowing plants and trees—green shrubbery— a miraculously strang land! You're in Hawaii!

Hawaii in its essence. Going to Hawaii or rather the experience of entering Honolulu Harbor in the Hawaiian Islands is described here in this article. Future articles on the development, and relationships of the Island's resources to humanity will be written.

M. KWON.

MISS HESTER SPOKE AT Y. W. C. A. MEETING

Y. W. C. A. had a very interesting meeting last Friday when Miss Hester presented an interesting resume of her stay in England.

Marvin Bollinger opened Y. W. C. A. meeting, leading in some school pep songs. Then Miss Hester gave an interesting account of her stay in England.

Miss Hester spent the past summer in England where she attended the Oxford University. She told us of her trip to England and her interesting first experiences there.

One of the most outstanding and interesting topics that she mentioned was the beautiful ancient cathedrals and abbeys, and the beautiful pottery that had stood for generations in the magnificient abbeys. She also mentioned the glorious old gardens.

Miss Hester said that Oxford was the most interesting and picturesque city of Europe. They have twenty-one men's colleges and four women's colleges there. Before you can gain admittance to any of these colleges you must pass a rather stiff examination, which is quite the opposite of our American colleges.

Some interesting points that she mentioned were: the maids which waited upon them, five meals a day in England, consisting mainly of tea; everyone wears black cotton hose, and the fact that English people are always comfortable—no hurry or rushing about.

Miss Hazel Kennedy and Edith Coffman visited their homes in Covina last week-end.

STUDENT LEADERS WEIGH PROBLEMS

Friday, October 28, at 3:45 the student leaders met in the Y. M. room to discuss student problems. This group includes the commission and the officers of all student organizations.

Max Forney presided while many problems were discussed. One of these was ways of stimulating attendance at student body functions, social and business.

They urge the student body to support the economy program this year. It was suggested that motion pictures shown in the college auditorium might help in the publishing of an annual.

Since the Campus Times is in a large measure dependent upon student body support, it was urged that each student buy a copy of the paper for himself instead of reading his friend's.

The problem of student body tickets was discussed. The little foreword in the ticket books is being and will continue to be rigidly enforced.

The meeting ended with a decision to hold student leader meetings regularly.

MANY BOOKS GIVEN TO COLLEGE LIBRARY

More books have been added to our College Library, according to Mrs. Miller, Librarian. The heirs of David Crist have contributed numerous volumes besides those given by M. O. L. Minnick of Pomona and Mrs. H. A. Brubaker of Pasadena.

Since the death of both Mr. and and Mrs. Crist, their children and heirs have given their parents' library to that of the College. Most of these new donations are in the fields of religion and education.

Then we want to express our gratitude to Mr. O. L. Minnick and to Mrs. H. A. Brubaker for the books which they have given also. La Verne College appreciates such kindness and expressions of helpfulness and good will.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT ORGANIZE OCTETTE

The college will very soon be able to boast of a fine octette. Under the direction of Mr. Travis it is making rapid progress. The octette is planning on giving a program at the Church of the Brethren some Sunday evening in the near future.

The octette is composed of very excellent voices. Edith Flory and Anna Messamer will sing soprano, while Vera Mae Shafford and Dorothy Robinson will carry the alto parts. The tenor will be taken by Marvin Bolinger and Ed Baer. Vernon Heckman and Chuck Snell will hold down the bass.

All of the members have had previous experience in music. We all know what Marvin and Vernon have done in the Apollo Four. Ed Baer was director of music at Chaffey J. C. before he came here. Misses Missamer, Shafford and Flory were members of the Lyric Quartette and were in the operetta last year. Miss Robinson is a member of the Choral Union.

With such a background of experience, we certainly have a right to expect big things from the Octette and we will not be disappointed.

FINAL RETURNS OF VOTE ANNOUNCED

REPUBLICAN MAN WINS IN STRAW VOTE

La Verne is a Republican institution! At least this is the opinion one would get from reading the results of the straw vote taken last Friday.

Althought a very small per cent of the student body voted, Herbert Hoover took the lead with thirty-one votes; Roosevelt, five votes; Thomas, three, and four votes for our own Frankie Elder.

The student body and faculty of La Verne College feel keenly the sorrow caused by the death of Mrs. Glick yesterday afternoon, and they wish to extend their sincere sympathy.

REPRESENTATIVES ARE CHOSEN BY I. R. C.

The International Relations club held a meeting Wednesday, October 26, at 7 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A. room to select delegates for the Institute of Pacific Relations. Arnelia Brubaker and Manuel Kwon were selected as official delegates of this chapter.

The Institute of Pacific Relations will be held on the campus of Redlands University from November 24 to November 27. This conference is solely a young people's gathering, with students and recently graduated young people as forum chairmen. There will be forum discussions on the following subjects: (1) Youth Movements in the Pacific Area, (2) Problems of Territorial Rule in the Orient, (3) Sino-Japanese Relations, (4) Relations of the United States and Latin America, (5) Economic Factors as They Pertain to Pacific Relations, (6) Race Problems of the American Pacific Coast.

DEBATERS HOLD INITIAL MEETING

A meeting of all those interested in debate was held last night at 7 o'clock in Prof. Brubaker's room. By the size of the group that turned out it looks as if La Verne will have a real debating team this year as well as the next few years to come.

The main feature in the meeting was the discussion of the question for this year: "Cancellation of Inter-Allied War Debts," and to make plans for the future. Anyone wishing to read anything on the question will find plenty of material on reserve in the Pomona library.

REV. EGLY SPEAKS ON A PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

Rev. Egly, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Riverside, spoke very interestingly in Chapel Tuesday morning on "A Philosophy of Life."

He said that our philosophy of life is constantly changing or at least it should be growing; if not we will find ourselves in a terrible rut. Too many people are being taught a wrong philosophy of life which will not meet and withstand the real tests of life.

"We are all fellow-passengers on the same boat and the weel or woe of one is the weel and woe of all" is a quotation which Rev. Egly felt is closely associated with the command of Jesus that we love our neighbors as ourselves. The world has turned to everyone else for a philosophy of life and none has been satisfactory, so it must now turn to Jesus.

We were favored with a number by a ladies' trio composed of Edith Flory, Anna Messamer and Vera Mae Shafford.

MR. L. C. McDONALD ADDRESSES Y. M. C. A

Friday morning, October 25, Mr. L. C. McDonald from Azusa gave an interesting talk to the Y. M. on the history of the Y. M. C. A. movement.

Vernon Heckman gave a Jewish reading entitled "Italians' Views on Labor Questions." A short pep rally, led by Allen Atkinson, was held at the end of the meeting.

The Y. M. C. A. meetings are peppy and interesting. Be sure you attend, fellows!!!

"WONDERFUL WORDS OF LIFE" THEME OF C. E.

A very impressive service was given in the College C. E. department Sunday evening, October 30. "Wonderful Words of Life" was the theme of the program which was sponsored by Ira Metzker.

The service began with a very meditative prelude followed by a hymn by the group. "Wonderful Words of Life." Vernon Heckman, read a passage of Scripture and gave the Invocation. The lights were turned out and a quartet which consisted of Evelyn Deardorff, Virginia Stern, Elmo Holl and Charles Snell sang "Holy Bibe, Book Divine." Vernon Heckman then gave a group of verses along love and guidance. The quartet singing "Wonderful Words of Salvation" and "Tell Me the Old, Old Story."

Ardith Horning taking the part of a dear old granmother expressed her appreciation to Helen Heisey, who took the part of Little Mary, for the gift of a new Bible. The grandmother told how she loved her old Bible best because of the many little finger prints on it. There were several other passages read and this was followed by a piano meditation, "Nearer My God to Thee." The group was lead in prayer by Merle Butterbaugh, then the quartet sang a very effective number, "The Whole Wide World for Jesus." The group joined in singing the closing prayer, "Have Thine Own Way, Lord."

The Misses Alice Strate, Dorothy Frantz, and Evelyn Wine spent Sunda in San Dimas Canyon back of Wolskill Falls.

POMONA CHURCHES HEAR STUDENTS

PUBLIC SPEAKING CLASS GIVES PROGRAM

Students taking platform reading have been receiving actual experience in performance, giving programs at Pomona churches.

Last Sunday night at the request of the Trinity Methodist church a group of five L. V. C. students presented the following program on prohibition:

Explanation of Prohibition Acts.....Manuel Kwon

Contrasting Pre-Prohibition Age.....Maurine Haman

Prohibition is a Success.....Marvin Bolinger

Prohibition As It Should Be.....Edward Baer

A Challenge to Voters.....Arno Meyers

This Sunday an Armistice program will be presented at the Holt Avenue Methodist Chrch.

School talent will give the following program: A violin solo will be played by Maurine Hamann, Chrysler's "Old Refrain." "War True Memories" will be sung by Marvin Bolinger, Edwin Baer, Harold Hylton, Royal Glick, Evelyn Deardarff and Dan Stover. Evelyn Deardorff will read, "The Day of Glory." Marvin Bolinger will sing Joyce Kilmer's beautiful selection, "Trees." Young Fellow, My Lad," will be read by Maurine Hamann. The last, a sketch entitled, "Unknown," written by Bruce Barton, will be presented with Royal Glick, reader; Harold Hylton, first soldier; Edwin Baer, second soldier; finally, Marvin Bolinger, as third soldier. Dan Stover is the bugler who will play "Taps."

It is of interest to the students that we will be favored with this program in a future chapel period.

COMMUNITY SINGING FEATURED IN CHAPEL

A very interesting and entertaining chapel period was enjoyed by the students Thursday morning. Marvin Bolinger had distributed some very good secular song books throughout the auditorium and with Proessor Travis accompanying, Marvin led the group in singing for the entire period. Proof that this was greatly enjoyed was evident when the students kept asking for more songs.

S. V. MEETING HEARS DR. EMMERT SPEAK

"What the Church Expects of You" was the theme of the heart-to-heart talk that Dr. Emmert gave to the young people of the Student Volunteer group last Wednesday night.

"We have three great tasks to do," said Dr. Emmert, and he listed these as first, Exaltation of God; second, the perfection of the individual; and, third, Christianization of the world.

Edwin Baer sang "Teach Me to Pray" as a solo. Royal Glich read the Scripture and presided over the meeting.

During the service the lights were turned out and the group sat in silence watching the flicker of the flames of the stove and meditating.

FAIR WEATHER LOYALTY

If this is an institution which prides itself upon its loyalty, there was a poor display of it at the Rose Bowl Friday and there has been a rapid declining since the Whittier game. Before that, with a football team that had won three games, there was nothing but praise, but the team has been playing differently lately. What many of you don't realize is, that for the men who play the game, it lasts much more than the 60 minutes of playing time. There's the nights before when they toss in bed figuring out the plays to work and the nights after which they wonder why they didn't, and not sparing themselves of the blame. Whether you know it or not, right now is the time to give to the members of our team your enthusiastic support which will let them know that as long as they do their best they are your team, and you are proud of them. The problem will be over, for the alumni, faculty and all will become the supporters that they should be naturally. When the team leads the conference, there are plenty to pat them on the back—let's not be "fair weather" rooters!

FOR WHOM SHALL I VOTE?

Thinking people everywhere are asking themselves the question: "For whom shall I vote in the presidential election?"

There are two major parties at the present time, but a third party under the leadership of Norman Thomas is struggling along. Both of the major parties disagree on foreign policies, but both hove as their aim the emulation of the United States. Although it is generally agreed that our next president will be either Herbert Hoover or Franklin Roosevelt, Norman Thomas may poll a vote that will prove an eye opener for the two other parties. If the campaign speeches of the two major parties keep popping up at every conceivable minute, there is sure to be a big upset. A moratorium had better be called on the campaign speeches; they have called each other everything that they can think of and it is getting to be disgusting, if not boring. Will Rogers remarked that "the high office of the President of the United States has degenerated into two ordinarily fine men being goaded on by their political speeches into saying things they wouldn't think of saying." If this kind of advertising is to continue, Mr. Thomas may have the upper chance to be the next president.

Although the enemies of President Hoover claim that he could have prevented the Wall Street stock crash, and Mr. Hoover's constituency in retaliation point out the same fact only place it on Roosevelt's head, it is doubtful if the single effect of either could have prevented it. It came as the result of the financial policies of the United States. And this the party politicians, eager to get votes, say everything they can about each other.

If some divine act could rid our country of these parties and hire some fine man like any business firm, the majority of these stupid disagreements could be eliminated. What we need are statesmen to govern and direct, instead of politicians to get votes.

And so the thinking people are still asking and trying to find the answer to the question, "For whom shall I vote?"

Football players at Bethany College, W. Keyhole Tidbits

Boy, what a party that was Monday night! And did we have fun! Too bad that half the student body forgot and stayed at home. You could put all their social aspirations in a nutshell along with the nut, I'm thinking.

Wise saying: "The best state of all in which to live is the state of solvency." White would still say Oakland.

And then there is Prof. Brubaker who said: "If you like fairy stories, don't be ashamed of it." Which reminds me of my favorite fairy tale about a fountain which would make your feet grow big if you stuck them in. Lucky it's only a fairy story!

I wonder why we have mid-semesters—why more students don't attend student body meetings—why four rode in a rumble seat Monday night and liked it—why Travis BRAGS about his bad hand writing. (I don't even wonder about the fire in front of Miller Hall—I know.)

Don't be yourself all the time. Be different. Surprise your friends. It might prove exciting.

F'rinstance—wear a purple necktie if you never have—wink at the student body president once in a while even though you "aren't the type"—date, even if you don't know how—learn some slang if you don't know any. Oh, yeah!

Just pretend. There will be more about which to be different next week.

PLAYHOUSE PRESENTS CAVALIER PERIOD PLAY

Gladys Hurlbut, New York stage actress, will be featured in a limited engagement of "A Man With a Load of Mischief," comedy of romantic intrigue in the cavalier period of England, written in the modern manner by Ashley Dukes, to open the evening of November 8, for one week only, at the Pasadena Community Playhouse, it is announced by Gilmor Brown, producing director, in outlining plans in Pasadena.

The current production of "The First Mrs. Fraser," comedy by St. John G. Ervine, with Margaret Clarke, Addison Richards, Paul Hansen and David Loring, entered its second week at the Playhouse on Tuesday evening, and is scheduled to close Saturday evening, November 5.

Congressional Candidate.... JOHN H. HOEPPEL

has adopted the following Democratic and Progressive Platform

Restore confidence and safeguard deposits by extension and liberalization of our present Postal Savings law. Over three billion dollars have been lost by American citizens through bank failures. Additional billions have been lost through collusion of banks with stock and bond manipulators.

Establish branches of the U. S. Treasury in community centers so as to enlarge the scope of lending (extension of credit) to include the small business man, the farmer and home owner. Give the government the profit on its reserve and deposited wealth rather than subsidize the private banker by giving him government funds at 2½ per cent interest to relend to you at 7 per cent.

Employment for all on a basis which will maintain the high standard of living in the American home. A price for products of the farm which will insure a profit on the investment and the hours of labor. A more equitable distribution of the profits of industry.

Repeal our antiquated and obsolete national electoral laws.

Committed to World Peace through negotiation and disarmament. Until that objective is attained, we must maintain a Navy second to none.

Avoid all foreign entanglements. Oppose Cancellation of the European War debt. The American taxpayer should not shoulder the war debt of Europe.

FRANK BIKE SID

KLEET KLATTER

By EDE

This goes to press before we know about the scrimage Wednesday but my oh my, what that "second" bunch, or coach says, Dickey's bunch, did to Calvert's bunch.

Guess it's the first time the guys really hit in scrimmage and some of the varsity couldn't take them.

Red wasn't hitting at all until someone made a remark and then some of us decided the red hair was not in vain.

Cec got a bad "charley horse" that has us worried—hope it isn't like Jays', which just won't be rid of.

Frankie looked plenty nice on his run to a touchdown when he reversed the field three times. If the ball packer always go the way he did then, our big worry would be, how to keep the score down.

They lined up, three to go, a 30-yard pass to Kelly who scored and Dickey's bunch had another touchdown. Sure lookes like we have an offense ready to be used.

Davis managed to get to classes on Monday and that shock was so bad he hasn't been around since.

Some one should have put an "ad" in Saturday morning's paper —Lost a First Class Line"—Please return to L. V. College.

If Cec is playing center Saturday night, don't be surprised, for there are a few of the changes this week. Puzzle—find a man where he started.

Noll to left tackle, Swihart, weak side guard on second team.

Ohanison on the first team—nice going, Ed, work hard and maybe Dinuba will see you in all your glory in another week.

The frosh are still trying to get a game. Pomona called off their game for Saturday night. They won't want one pretty soon.

It's mighty hard to practice every night and play so few games. They deserve plenty of credit for their regularity at practice and their spirit.

Oh, my, if my hunch is right those Sage Hens better get going, 'cause the Leopards are hungry for some "white meat."

CONFERENCE DOINGS

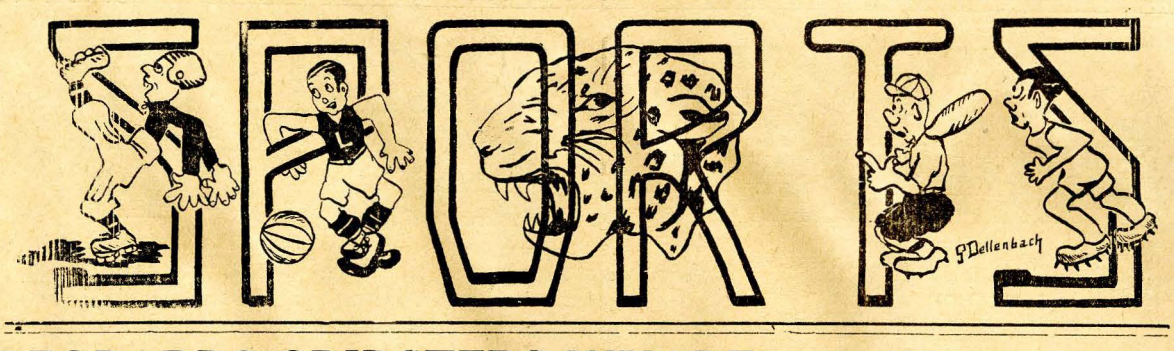
Last week saw the Redlands eleven establish themselves as the logical conference winners. With the 19-7 defeat given the strong San Diego team, chances for upsetting the Bulldogs becomes very scarce. Only La Verne and Whittier have an outside chance to give the Redlands team a defeat.

By beating La Verne 24-0 Occidental places itself along side Whittier as two of the strongest teams in the conference. In case Redlands has a few weak moments, either of these teams would be able to step in as champions.

Cal Tech and Santa Barbara engaged in an encounter to determine the cellar championship. The educated toe of Captain Craig gave Cal Tech a victory, giving Cal Tech a tie with San Diego and Santa Barbara in the conference standings.

Mary Ellen: There's a personal letter in the office for you.

Ethel Dresher: What did it say?



LEOPARDS GRIDSTERS INVADE SAGEHEN NEST SATURDAY

CIVIL WAR GAME TO ATTRACT MANY

CONTEST TO BE STAGED BY CLAREMONT ARCS

Tomorrow night will be the date of the re-opening of the "civil war" games between La Verne and Pomona. The contest will be held at Alumni Field, Claremont at 8 p. m.

This is the first time in three years that La Verne has met Pomona and this renewal of gridiron relationships should see plenty of spectators out to see the local clash.

If last week's performance is any indication of the strength of the Leopards, the Sagehens would be given a distinct edge in the coming contest, but the rejuvenated and reorganized La Verne team will go into the battle throwing aside this "edge" and determined to redeem themselves.

Zabriskie and Walker in Shape

Zabriskie and Walker, quarterback and halfback, respectively, will add considerable punch to the Pomona offensive. Don't think Pomona is easy; they always get better as the season progresses and with their full squad in shape they should be in their best condition at any time this season. The last time Pomona played La Verne it was a track meet featuring Pomona in the lead role, that is, the second half was, but keep up the old fighting spirit. It's not going to be that way this time.

La Verne Team See Changes

The La Verne team has seen many changes since last Friday night, including the shifting of Sammy Rothrock, 126-pound end and the lightest player in the conference, to a starting position. Sammy is light but don't let that fool you, it isn't weight that makes a football player. Fred Kircher has been shifted from right end to outside tackle and Adrian Wright has moved over to right end.

At the present time we see hope that Jay Bessey may be in starting line-up. Jay has been laid up since the Whittier game with a bad "charley horse" which is slowly answering to treatment. Captain Max Forney, star blocking and passing half and "Pee Wee" Lathrop, fullback, will probably be in the starting line-up.

Cecil Brooks, hard-hitting halfback, collected a "charley horse" in scrimmage Tuesday and was not in a suit Wednesday, but it is hoped that he will be able to play, although he will not be in the starting line-up.

Probable Starting Line-up

The probable starting line-up for La Verne will be: center, Calvert; guards, Ohanisen and Hickmen; tackles, Noll and Kercher; ends, Wright and Rothrock; quarterback, Montgomery; halves, Forney and Elder; fullback, Lathrop.
to see plenty of action; fullback, Lathrop.

Only three of these men started in their present positions in the Oxy game. Saturday night should prove what these changes will do to or for the team.

OXY SCORES WIN OVER LEOPARDS

LAVERNE LINE FAILS TO FUNCTION PROPERLY

You La Verne rooters! It's an easy job to back a winning team. Now let's show every one that we're up to the harder job of backing a team which has lost two games, and by our backing we will help them to win the rest of their games.

Oxy took La Verne down the road to the tune of 24-0 last Friday night. Our team's not as bad as this score looks. Our line didn't hold. Oxy outfought them but part of the line is now on the second team and are they fight to get back their places!

If they fight against Pomona like they are fighting to get back on the first string we will not be scheduled for a defeat this Saturday night.

Oxy Offensive Powerful

The Oxy offensive was built chiefly around "Tuffy" Reed, loose hipped broken field runner, and McWilliams, line plunger. Reed skirted end and went off tackle, while McMillan plowed through the line for substantial gains on the first march for a touchdown, which came in the opening quarter. Oxy scored again in the second quarter, and twice in the fourth period.

Forbes Punts

Late in the first quarter Brooks put Oxy in "Coffine corner" when he punted out of bounds on Oxy's five-yard line. Forbes came back to prove that he is one of the best if not the best punter on the Pacific Coast when he stood back in his own end zone and booted one to the La Verne 30-yard line, a good 70-yard punt.

La Verne's offensive power was scattered. They could not keep up any sustained drive and their substantial gains were rather few and far between.

The least said about Friday night's game the better, practically entire second strings ended the game for both teams. Rather than weep about what's happened, let's all point toward the "Civil War" game with Pomona and yell and hope for the best,

The lineups:

La Verne		Occidental
Kersher	LER	Rowland
Stowell	LTR	Bourell
Heckman	LGR	Flanegin
Calvert	C	Hunt
Noll	RGL	Waddell
Swihart	RTL	Parle
Wright	REL	Meeks
Montgomery	Q	Ackland
Brooks	LHR	Finley
Kelly	F	McMillan

Score by quarters:

Occidental	6	6	$	12—24
La Verne	0	0	0	0— 0

Touchdowns: McMillan, Reed, Finley, Forbes. Officials: Referee, Haney; umpire, Barker; head linesman, Jellison; field judge, Hayhurst.

Beat Pomona!

Coach: "Were you out after ten last night?"

Elder: "No, sir, just one."

COLTS DEFEAT LEOPARD KITTENS

COVINA HELD SCORELESS IN FIRST HALF

The La Verne "frosh" pigskin totters were defeated 13 to 0 last Thursday afternoon by the Covina high school "Colts" on the winners' field.

The first quarter was scoreless, with neither team gaining a decisive advantage. In the second period the Colts threatened to score when they recovered a La Verne fumble on the "Frosh" five-yard stripe, but the frosh held them for four downs and the educated toe of Harper Lehman put the frosh out of danger.

The first score came in the third quarter when Covina scored on a pass to Max Glasco, star end for the Colts. Max caught the porkhide on the frosh one-yard line and fell over the goal line to score. Covina scored again in the third quarter after a barrage of passes with Glasco again on the receiving end. The Colts converted after their first touchdown on a pass to Glasco.

The frosh came back in the final quarter with a determined brand of football and when the gun ended the game they were about to harness the Covina "Colt."

Bob Haines, center on the frosh team, played an outstanding defensive game.

The frosh play the Webb school football eleven today at 3:15 on the local gridiron. The probable starting lineup for the frosh will be as follows:

Butterbaugh and Davidson, ends; Crago and Harshbarger, tackles; Chauncy and Vanimar, guards; Haines, center; Wallard and Arnold, halfbacks; Lehman, quarterback, and Itzaina, fullback.

STUDENT SOCIAL LIFE

WOMEN ATHLETES TAKE TRAMP TO GANESHA

The Women's Athletic Association (W. A. A.) held the first function of the year last night when old and new members took a jaunt ened only to Caesar's army.

The girls left the gym about 4:30 with lunch baskets full of "goodies" and with much hilarity and fun tramped "en masse," liken only to Caesar's army.

W. A. A. girls are interested primarily in sports, and activities center about the point system, i.e., each girl earning 1000 points is awarded a letter. Miss Eleanor Shepp presides as president over the association with Ede Eisan, vice-president; Opal Kuns and Grace Ward, secretaries, and Ruth Rothrock, treasurer. Mrs. Phyllis Anderson plays the part of advisor.

W. A. A. girls strive to add enthusiasm and pep to college activities.

HARRISON A. FRANTZ CALLED TO NEBRASKA

Mr. Harrison A. Frantz left last Friday for Holmesville, Nebraska, having received a telegram informing him that his mother, Mrs. Delila Frantz, lay seriously ill.

Mrs. Harrison Frantz received word here Tuesday morning of the death of his mother who had been a resident of that district for fifty years. Surviving Mrs. Delila Frantz are four sons and one daughter in the east, and Mr. Harrison A. Frantz in California.

La Verne College wishes to extend the sincerest of sympathy to Mr. H. A. Frantz and family.

MEN SHOW INTEREST IN SUPPER AUCTION

"Aw, Shucks, please tell me what your box looks like." "Well, you can't expect me to buy it if I don't know." Such were some of the exclamations emanating from lips of various male members of the student body, as they stood in front of Miller Hall, awaiting the arrival of the hay trucks which were to transport them to the scene of the Hallowe'en box supper which was held under an arbor in Ganesha park.

Such a conglomeration of boxes —orange boxes, green boxes, white boxes, boxes trimmed with cellophane, boxes trimmed with newspaper, black derbies, crysanthemums—such boxes as have never been seen before.

Fred Kercher and his brother, Tony (Harold Hylton) served admirably as auctioneer and teller respectively. There were high bids and middle-sized bids and low bids. It has also been rumored that several Scotchmen were present, who evidently came only to drink cider.

Ralph Travis was in a perfect flutter, paying his attentions to two fair co-eds, whose boxes he was fortunate enough to obtain. And your should have seen Howard Nordstrom eating tomatoes and gurgling cider.

This eventful evening came to a close with a starlight ride home on the hay trucks.

THANKSGIVING DINNER PLANNED FOR STUDENTS

There will be "Thanksgiving dinners" this year even for those who cannot go home.

The Church of the Brethren and the commission have thoughtfully made arrangements so that no one need be homesick on Thanksgiving Day because he can't go home.

There will be invitations for football men who must be here because of the game, for those whose homes are distant, and for those who may be detained in La Verne over the holiday for any other reasons.

PERSONALS

Mrs. H. A. Frantz entertained her son, Russell, who returned from Santa Barbara, and two of his friends, Mr. Albert and Mr. Ander- The boys left that night for Loma son, at dinner Monday evening. The boys left that night for Loma Linda, where they will resume their medical studies.

Miss Eleanor Shepp (and her dog (Nick) cheered several girls by inviting them to her home in Pasadena after the Occidental game. Friday night. Shepp served pineapple "upside down" cake, sandwiches and coffee and oh! the whip cream on top of the cake! The girls so "depressed" to be invited were Eileen Miller, Ruth Rothrock, Alice Strate, and Opal Kuns.

Fern and Faye Rule attended a hay ride and Hallowe'en party which was given by the Epworth League of the Methodist Church, Saturday night. The destination of the "hay riders" was the Delphy barn near Chino.

The cabinet of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church will be entertained at a dinner at the church parsonage this evening (Friday) following the dinner, the cabinet will convene for its regular meeting. Those invited from La Verne College are Frances Horner, Louise Willis, Fern Rule and Faye Rule.

Miss Evelyn Wine spent Hallowe'en in L. A. visiting Miss Margaret Walters, U. S. C. student. Miss Walters entertained several friends in "seasonal" style in the evening.

Miss Arnelia Brubaker and Vernon Hickman attended the Workers' Banquet at the Brethren Church in Pomona Tuesday evening. While there, they presented a commission plan whereby they are attempting to combine the Young People's bands of this district.

Miss Marian Steves sang a solo in the La Verne Church of the Brethren Sunday morning.

Margaret Crites was a visitor to a friend and frenids in Los Angeles Saturday afternoon.

Martie Carter, a very prominent athlete of La Verne College, has assumed activities in Upland until the official announcement of basketball practice by Mr. Lee Eisan.

Ruth Clark and her brother, Wilbur, attended the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Shriner, in Los Angeles Saturday.

Mrs. B. Ikenberry entertained a group of students and alumni at a birthday dinner honoring Marguerite Deal last Sunday. Those pres-present were: Misses Marguerite Deal, Thelma Ikenberry and Edna Brubaker, and Messers. Everett Meyers, Elmo Hall, and Jerry Deal.

Miss Vera Mae Shafford and Miss Muir spent the week-end at their homes in Pasadena.

Mary Heffner had guests from McFarland Saturday evening. They were Everett Holloway and Louis Davis.

Miss Mary Ellen Lauver entertained Miss Dorothy Blickenstaff and Ethel Dresher at tea in her room Sunday afternoon.

Miss Gertrude Leonard had charge of the games at a recent Sunday school picnic of the Protestant Mexican Church.

The Shakespeare class is planning to visit the Huntington Library Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Holsinger, Miss Muir and Miss Strobach heard a lecture Wednesday evening in Claremont about architecture.

Mildred Brubaker was the guest of Edith Flory at her home in Pasadena over the week-end.

Ruelin Bruesch, Roy Smith, John Harshbarger, and Merlin Bowman made a trip to Laguna Beach Sunday afternoon. It was reported that they collected a few interesting specimens as the tide went out. Here's wondering if any mermaids (mere maids) were involved.

Gwendolyn Ardinger and Emma Mae Neff were recent guests of the Eteri Club, held at the home of Mrs. Frank Lapp.

Prof. Brandt: Give me an example of energy gone to waste.

Dayton Stutzman: A hug is energy gone to waist.
