Marriage of Popular Junior Couple Revealed

Orchestra Presents Concert For First Time

LaVerne college orchestra, under the direction of Robert Walker presented a concert and other special features at the college auditorium last night.

The orchestra had its final regular practice last Monday night in preparation for the performance, but arrangements were made to have a special rehearsal Sunday afternoon.

Included in the special features was a group of songs by the sophomore womenen's quartet composed of Ruth Walker, Marian Moomaw, Margaret Hawley, and Edith Shick.

The orchestra includes eight first violins, three second, two cellists, two trumpeters, two trombonists and five other musicians.

Paul Fancher is concertmaster in the violin section. Other first violins are Harold Richter, Audrey Newton, Austin armen, Lonetta Montz, Wanda Brubaker, Richard Shock and Royce Lapp. Second violins are William Crawford, Charles Davenport and Willard McDaniels; cellos, Mildred Garmen and Alma Cathcart; saxophones, Daniel Miller, Stanley Hunter and Roger Nine; trumpets, Dick Landis, Charles Bowman and Eugene Bowers; trombones, Dwight Hanawalt and Arthur Snell; horn, Cliff Brubaker; string bass, Betty Rothrock; drum, Clayton Shehorn; bells Eleanor Herrick; piano, Gladden Boaz.

MRS. MERRITT SPEAKS TO FACULTY WOMEN AT MEETING

Last Tuesday night Mrs. Merritt gave an account of her recent trip to England at the faculty women's meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. C. I. Myer. Preceding the lecture, a short business meeting, at which Mrs. Myer presided, was held, and Feb. 7 was set as the date for the annul faculty women's banquet. It was also decided that a home economics demonstration with Miss Winder in charge would be held in the college kitchen on March 7.

Mrs. Merritt, with her husband and son, and a friend, David Bell, and two history professors, left for New York June 15, and from there sailed for Ireland. From Ireland they went to Wales and then to England. where they spent the greater part of the summer. One of the interesting places in England that they visited was Tinturn Abbey, the scene of Wordsworth's well-known poem, 'Tinturn Abbey.' Mrs. Merritt spent six weeks in

Students Trek to Mountains To Spend Annual Snow Day

Snow Day was a success. Perhaps the best part of it was that the most serious accident was a bloody nose, which Jim Bradley suffered when he tried to slide down the ski jump on his stomach.

Toboggans and sleds furnished most of the sport, but everything from skis to skates was seen. Many spills and breathtakingly narrow escapes added to the excitement. Unprofessional flops were taken, some of the most entangled of which were head lands and side rolls.

Dorothy and Bob Deal were crowned rulers of the day by President Michael. The ceremony went off smoothly except for the flurries of snow which followed them as they left the amphitheatre.

As usual the best way to the men's hearts was found, but this time Archie found it with the lunches he made. Frances Bowser and Norma Newcomer helped the Reeves brothers out by arranging for the doughnuts and coffee. Along with the food committee, the clean-up-ers, Norma, Mary Lou, Dayton, Bob and Jim Bradley did grand jobs.

A snoopy-snooper saw: Dayton Dickey fishing all sorts of burned rubbish out of the stove. Upon further inquiry she found out that Travy and an unnamed helper had fed all the rubbish to what they thought was a wood stove. Imagine their embarrasement when they learned it was a gas one and that they had put the fire out. Imagine the Professor's chagrin when the rest of the dishes had to be washed in ice water.

At the skating rink the snoopy-snooper was both surprised and pleased about the representatives from LaVerne holding their own so well, but what happened girls? She had hoped to see some "Sonja Heinies."

Lambda Staff Holds Contest To Get Snaps

Photography enthusiasts are urged to enter the snapshot contest that the Lambda staff is sponsoring for the purpose of obtaining a wide variety of informal pictures for a "bigger and better" snap section in this year's annual. The winner of the contest will receive a free Lambda, and second and third prizes will also be given to runners-up.

Snaps should be given to either Stanley Hunter or Doris Meacham.

Crowd Attends Violin Concert At Claremont

Jascha Heifetz, well-known violinist, appeared in concert at Bridges auditorium last Saturday night at 8:15 to give his first performance in the Artist Course series.

Though only 37 years old, Heifetz has had 34 years experience as a violin player. At the age of three he began his training under his father, an accomplished Russian violinist. Studying later at the Vilna school of music under Elias Maling, he made his debut at the age of seven when he played Mendelssohn's "Concerto" in Kovno, Russia.

He was admitted as the youngest member of Professor Auer's famous class at the Imperial Conservatory in 1910, and was formally launched into the musical world in his 12th year, when he started touring Russia, Germany, disturbing conditions in Russia, he disturbing conditions in Rusia, he came to the United States and became a naturalized citizen in 1925.

He has been around the world four times making concert appearances and gaining new admirers in the music world. He is responsible for forty new transcriptions in the repertoire of the violin, and played several of these Saturday night in his Claremont concert.

In February Marian Anderson, noted negro contralto, will make her appearance at Bridges auditorium. Miss Anderson presented one of the most popular of the artist concerts year before last.

Winston Walker Leaves LaVerne To Join Wife

Winston Waker, member of the junior class and recently resigned business manager of the Campus Times, is transferring to the University of California to take up the second semester's work in order that he might live with his wife, Mrs. Hrrriet Walker, who is supervising a nursery at the World's Fair.

The couple were married a year ago, on January 1, 1938, but the marriage was kept secret, and is now being publicly revealed for the first time.

Geography must sure be tough for the kids nowdays. We are glad we studied ours before the map of the world started changing like the back wash of an ocean wave on the beach.

Holmes and Deal Wed Friday In Santa Ana

Robert Deal and Dorothy Holmes were married last Friday evening at 9:00 o'clock in a single ring ceremony at the home of Rev. A. O. Brubaker. Perry Smith and Edith Stiverson stood up with the couple while Rev. Brubaker read the ceremony.

The bride wore a wine colored bolero street dress, and a gardenia corsage for the wedding ceremony, and added a black jacket and black hat to make up her going-away outfit. Edith Stiverson was dressed in a teal blue street outfit and also wore a gardenia corsage. The groom and Perry Smith both wore white carnation buttonieres. The newlyweds went on a trip after the wedding, and returned to school on Monday morning.

When asked whether she would continue going to college, the bride said, "No, I guess I'll stay home and keep house." Bob, however, plans to continue his school work in order to be graduated in 1940. The couple have taken up residence on west Second street in LaVerne.

Those present at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Don Verbeck, Rube Callison and Belva Buck, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Davison, Mrs. Gerald Deal, Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Holmes, the groom's brother, Joe Deal, Edith Stiverson and Perry Smith.

REV. KEPNER ADDRESSES STUDENTS IN CHAPEL

"Forks, Faith, and Fortune," were the three key words of the address that Rev. Frank Kepner of the First Baptist church of Pomona delivered during the chapel hour last Tuesday morning. He used Moses as an example of a great man of faith who made a definite, a sacrificial, and a thoughtful decision when he stood at the forks of the way, and consequently lived a full and complete life in close communion with God.

Rev. Kepner challenged youth to make their decisions through faith in God, and then to stick to them and to go forward in a life of service to others.

The winning personality of Rev. Kepner as expressed through his delivery, and the inspirational material of the talk completely gripped the students, making this chapel hour one of the most impressive of the year.

Mr. Don Brown, assistant pastor of the Pomona First Baptist church pronounced the invocation, after which Pres. Davis introduced the speaker. The president closed the service with a benediction.

Get Assignments In Early

Now that the women on the campus are beginning to make arrangements for those formal invitational parties—three in all, the G.A.T. progressive dinner, the dorm party, and the W.A.A. banquet—it's time for the fellows on the campus to put on their best behavior. Of course, the felows who are 'going steady' with campus girls have a cinch and don't have to worry about shined shoes and clean shaves and so on; but the rest of you, here are a few helpful hints: either be definitely attached, or definitely unattached; speak to a girl when you pass her even if you're not in love with her; wear a shirt under that sweater and socks in those shoes; wear either suspenders or a belt, but not both.

Now watch the fellows go around shirtless, sockless, and taciturn, just to show the gals that they don't care whether they-re asked or not. It's all a very big problem, though. Why, Chamberlain doesn't worry any more about the peace of Europe that these girls do about whom to ask. They're afraid to ask the one they want to ask on account of he might think they want to ask him. And they don't like to ask someone they don't particularly want to ask but would because he's usually asked to these things, because why waste good money on a fellow like that? It's all terribly complicated. About the best thing for a girl to do is to go into the library, then ask the tenth fellow who comes in after her, and her worries are over.

That way, any fellow that wanted an invitation would just have to come into the library at the right time.

JUNIOR CLASS PUTS ON THREE-ACT MYSTERY THRILLER

"The Howling Dog," the three-act, mystery-packed drama presented by the junior class to some 400 people last Friday night was, according to all reports, a howling success. The cast as a whole rendered a capable and effective performance with each character standing out in his own way. One of the most remarked of performances was that of Archie Reeves in the title role of the howling dog. Many people in the audience were reported to have said that they thought the howling was done by an actual dog.

The poise and assurance of Dorothy Holmes and Gordon Macauley in character, the sympathetic role played by Dehlia Stanley, the strong and very real performance of Dorothy Bostleman, the naturalness of Doris Meacham and Bud Henzie, the mobile characterization of Madge Fischer and Orion Cottle in difficult parts, the comic ability of Jewel Niswander as the witless maid, Albert Hollinger's fatherly portrayal, and Garland Mendenhall's characterization of the caretaker, all contributed to put the play over.

Between acts Garland Mendenhall presented Hal Michael with a beautiful bill-fold on behalf of the cast for their appreciation of his patience in directing the play. The bill-fold was engraved with his name and with the words, "From the cast of 'The Howling Dog'."

KUTCHBACK ANNOUNCES FRIENDSHIP DINNER AT Y.W. MEETING

Local talent was featured in the program presented at the Y.W. meeting last Friday morning. The program opened with Ada Faye McCune leading the group in a number of familiar songs, after which Altonetta Waas, accompanied on the piano by Edythe Fesler, sang, "Love Has Eyes." Roberta Jenkinson gave a reading, taking the role of a baby, and dedicated it to Philip Wayne Walker, then Ruth Walker sang a solo. Barbara Davis gave a humorous reading taken from one of Bess Streeter Aldrich's novels, and the meeting closed with the singing of "Follow the Gleam."

Frances Kutchback announced that the usual friendship party would be held this year on the evening of Valentine's day and urged every girl to come and bring her friendship notes.

G. A. T. MEMBERS MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR ANNUAL DINNER

Members of the G.A.T. organization have scheduled their annual progressive dinner for Thursday evening, Feb. 2. The dinner is to be a formal invitational affair, with each girl inviting a fellow either from on the campus or off.

According to tentative plans, the dinner wil be planned in five courses, and each course will be served in a different home. Beth Elliott and Kay Maley, co-presidents of the club, are in charge of appointing the committees.

Twits and Twitters

Butterfield has been passing poetry to Ena Bruesch and it isn't even spring.

One girl has invited the friend, who lives 1200 miles away, to come to the dorm formal in March. She expects him, too.

Betty Kurtz didn't place in the Speech Tournament at Los Angeles the other Saturday, but she made pretty good progress in getting acquainted with the five fellows from Arizona State.

Ada Faye asked her roomates last week if the Appalachians were mountains or Indians.

Chalmer Johnson refused to go in for a Friendship dinner at Mr. and Mrs. Arnolds when he found out that four teachers were to be there. Tsk, tsk.

One girl in this school counts the hours till she gets the next letter from Arizona.

It has just been discovered that Dorothy Burley is lazy. She was heard to remark that she didn't have to worry about getting her name in the dirt comumn, because she never did anything.

-: LIMELIGHTERS :-

She's been in the limelight for the past week or so particularly, but is getting used to it and does not blush quite so much any more. Hair and eyes the same shade of brown, nice complexion, attractive humor, good sport—just go down humor, good sport—just do down the list of desirable traits in the female element and you'll find them all there and to spare; but, unfortunately for you fellows, she is pretty definitely attached. She's been quite excited the last few days and just can't remember to go to all her classes, but she's usually fairly conscientious, though not at all the studious type. She is president of one of the campus organizations, made her debut as an actress the other night, is a nice person for anyone to meet in a dark alley, but has one outstanding fault—that she hails from that northern state.

He is sitting in the library talking in an audible undertone—he never whispers on account of it never occurs to him—and anyway, he's a prominent man on the campus so why should he whisper? He has a habit of gesturing with his right hand when he talks—it's something unique in gestures, or so Barbara Davis says and she is a connoisseur of getsures. He has light brown curly hair and people are always asking him for money, but these two facts are unrelated as far as we know. He is nice looking and dresses attractively and also has intellectual tendencies, which is quite a combination. He likes a good rational argument most any time, and so practices up with the Palace boys for those I.R.C. discussions. Like most of the attractive men, he is more or less attached at present.

Leopards Trim Goodman Quint in Thriller

Freshman Basketeers Streach Win Streak; Three Streight Games

DEFEAT CAL-POLY

Three straight victories! That is something that has not happened for a long, long time in LaVerne's sport annals, but it is true!

California Polytechnic's basketball team from Voorhis was the third unsuspecting victim, and the score was 32 to 18.

NEWCOMER STARS

As in previous games, Lee Newcomer was the fair-haired boy who sparked the Frosh on to a triumphant ending. This time Lee hit the hoop for 20 markers.

All the boys played good ball and had little trouble keeping the Cal-Poly offensive threats completely bottled up.

It has taken them a little while to get acclimated, but now the Frosh look as though they are ready to take on all comers.

LEOPARDS TO MEET STRONG WHITTIER OUTFIT TONIGHT

Tonight Coach Manley Reitz takes his varsity basketball team on a little trip into Whittier where his Leopard squad will lock grips with the Poets.

Whittier, incidentally, is Manley's alma mater and he hopes to make a good showing, which means defeating his undergraduate school choice.

Before the Leopards can do very much damage, they must stop the high-scoring Poet ace, Lee Woodward. He has been the sparkplug and leading scorer in all of Whittier's games thus far.

Occidental's quintet succeeded in taming this same Woodward last week in two games, and perhaps the LaVerne varsity can do likewise.

Coach Reitz will most likely string along with the same starting lineup of the past few games. It will be composed of Captain Dickey and Cottle at forwards; Crites at the center post; and Deal and Dwight Hanawalt at the guard spots.

LaVerne Cagers Come From Behind To Eke Out Victors Over Visitors

COTTLE TALLIES 19 POINTS FOR HONORS

Is revenge sweet? Very much so! Ask any LaVerne Varsity cager and they will tell you so, since they trimmed the Goodman & Sons quintet, 47 to 45, in the second and final game of a two game series.

The Leopards came from behind to overcome a 15 to 1 lead which the Goodman five had gathered in quick order in the early part of the first half.

LEOPARDS FIGHT

Led by Cottle, the Green and Orange dropped in basket after basket to run nip and tuck with their rivals until the final minute of play. With the score tied at 45 to 45, Cottle looped in a one-handed goal from the floor to give the Leopards the ball game.

From the way the Goodman lads started out it looked like it was going to be a bad night until the Leopards started moving on all fours.

COTTLE SPARKS TEAM

Little Cottle was the spark plug who fired LaVerne on to victory, with his 19 points. The rest of the points were distributed fairly

LEOPARDS PECKED BY SAGEHENS IN CLASSIC

A sluggish LaVerne college basketball team was trounced by their neighboring rivals from Pomona college, 49 to 25, in what was supposed to have been a very close battle for the Pomona Valley championship. The game was played at Claremont.

The Sagehen boys were too tall and fast for the Leopards who appeared to be suffering from the after-effects of too much "Snow Day."

STRONG DEFENSE

Pomona's zone defense was invulnerable, and the Leopard sharpshooters, namely Cottle and Captain Dickey were effectively bottled up, Cottle being held to a lone field goal and Dickey failed to get any tallies.

LaVerne was hopelessly out of the running just three minutes after the tip-off. Some good shooting by the Sagehens left the Leopards by the wayside, and gave them a lead of 11 to 0, which they soon raised to 17 to 3 and later to 21 to 3.

LaVERNE STRONGER

The Leopards retaliated a little and by half time had run their totals into double figures, Pomona out in front 28 to 10.

After the intermission the Sagehens continued their scoring methods and it wasn't until the final five minutes of play that the Green and Orange did any consistent scoring.

Fischer and Ferrell each scored 6 digits to take high point honors for LaVerne.

Newcomer Scores 30 Points; Frosh Trounce Sherman Indian Five

IMPRESSIVE WIN

With Lee Newcomer hitting the hoop from all angles, La Verne's Frosh quint trounced the Sherman Institute five, from Riverside by the score of 59 to 37. Newcomer was so hot he sizzled to the tune of 30 digits.

At the outset the kittens were behind, but Newcomer and Aasen soon remedied that, and at the half the Frosh were in the lead, never to be headed.

KITTENS SCORE

In the second half the Kittens made a runaway of the contest. Coach Hertz inserted his reserves, and they continued to chalk up points.

The Frosh showed they were on the victory trail very definitely by this triumph over the Indians.

WITHIN THESE WALLS

How can it be that our canny commentator on college comics missed this one? Do You Know: Who spent Snow Day trying to think of a way to save the icicles caused by his breath (icicles from hot air—we missed that in our perusal of Chemistry) so that he could make ice cream on Sunday night?

Did you see Lois Clark Saturday night at Bridges. She was wearing one of those new angora boleros. The kind that leaves fuzz all over the escort.

Did you see Hal at school in fig leaves; the frosh looking dopey but mighty happy when that English paper was finally in; Boaz squiring a blond who's a dead ringer for Anita Louise; Ironhorse Hanawalt allowing a sliver of brass to get under his skin; the article in the current "School Art" signed by the lady Shelly Ann calls "Mom."

Those twelve sleepy people Sunday morning spent Saturday night sitting around holding hands. Ena and Hallie certainly are thoughtful hostesses.

Howlers from Friday the 13th: Gordon (there's that man again) Macaulev kept his part conversational throughout—buttonhole carnations to him; Madge was so hot she almost went up in smoke; Archie Reeves, in the title role, ran off with acting honors.

The suspense is taking pounds off the wrong places, but did those young people, who signed on the Dot-ed line really Bob off the campus, call it a Deal, and start one of those new Holmes?

Poetry Corner: Ogden Nash is the poet of the week. We are printing the uncensored version:

"Purity, therefore

Welcome to the new member in faculty circles, Phillip Wayne Walker. Father Bob reports that he got through the ordeal in better shape than he had anticipated.

Joseph Allard Sponsors Last Issue Of Campus Times for First Semester

In behalf of the students of La Verne college, members of the Campus Times staff express their appreciation to Joseph A. Allard for sponsoring this issue of the paper.

Mr. Allard, who is now a Pomona lawyer, was admitted to the bar in 1912, and since has served as city attorney of LaVerne, Claremont and Pomona in addition to his regular law practice. He is a graduate of Yale University where he received his Ph.B. degree, and while a student there, was on the editorial staff of the Yale Law Journal. He is a member of the Phi Delta Phi and Ki Tau Kappa fraternities as well as being a member of the Pomona and American Bar associations.

EDITH STIVERSON ACTS AS HOSTESS AT SURPRISE SHOWER

Edith Stiverson was hostess to a surprise towel shower for Dorothy Holmes last Thursday night at Miller Hall. The girls, over forty of them in all, got together a little before 10 o'clock, bringing with them towels and more towels, and then waited patiently for the honored one to get in from her date with the groom-to-be (or is it "was"?) When she eventually arrived at the dormitory sometime after 10, she was greeted by an avalanche of towels and voices shouting "Surprise."

After Dorothy exhibited sufficient surprise, a program followed, with Dorothy Bostleman and Madge Fischer belittling married life in the enactment of a skit. After she had opened her gifts, refreshments were served and the party brok up with everyone still wondering whether or not the couple had been married yet.

ROBERT WALKER TELLS OF VIOLINIST AT MUSICAL TEA

Robert Walker was speaker at the musical tea held in the dormitory lobby Thursday afternoon. The tea was sponsored by the Y.W. in order to give students a better understanding and appreciation of the artist course concert presented Saturday night.

Mr. Walker sketched the life of Jascha Heifetz and told the students something of his personality and his contributions to the musical world.

STUDENT PRESENTS PEACE PROGRAM AT GLENDORA

Five LaVerne students took part in a peace program at the Church of the Brethren in Glendora on Sunday evening, January 15. The students, representing five different groups of people, presented a picture of the prsent Jewish situation and the various attitudes taken toward it. Those who took part in the program were Philip Davis, Dorothy Bostleman, Marie Sarafian, Rodney Lehman, and Bob Deal; introduced by Lorell Weiss.

Arrangements have been made for I.R.C. deputations to present peace programs at the Hermosa Beach and Pasadena churches in March.

SENIORS SPEND TUESDAY NIGHTT IN MOUNTAINS

The Seniors went to the snow.—Yes, but we went Tuesday afternoon, sort of beat the rest of you to the draw. After tobagganing, skiing, ice skating, and participating in all the rest of those "fun-sports" that are hard on the posterior of one's anatomy, we enjoyed a chili bean feed. The evening was spent in playing games—both inside and out of the cabins.

A few winks of sleep were gained in the wee-wee hours, except by the masculine element who kept the fires going and prepared the breakfast. It was really a feed—bacon, eggs, hot cakes, syrup and coffee. And say, what elegant chaperones we had—Prof. Reitz and his wife.

REGIONAL CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT LA VERNE COLLEGE

The Pacific Coast Regional conference of the Church of the Brethren will be held at LaVerne college during the week of February 12-17, according to Rev. Lorell Weiss, who is in charge of arrangements.

The night of Friday, February 17, has been set aside for the annual New Era Banquet, which will be held at 6:30 in Fellowship Hall. The speaker for the occasion has not yet been announced.

Many noted speakers will be numbered among those giving addresses for the occasion, and sessions will be held in the forenoon, afternoon, and evening. Among those who will be heard will be Dan West, national director of peace work for the denomination, recently engaged in neutral relief work in Spain.

Other speakers are Ruth Shriver, national director of children's work for the denomination, Dr. D. W. Kurtz, pastor of the local church; Dr. J. W. Lear, who recently became pastor of the Glendora church; Roy A. Crist, Professor of Religious Education at LaVerne college, and the Rev. Harper S. The Social WHIRL

More Notes in Passing: Ruth dashing out of the gym and slamming the door when Bob K. made his appearance in the doorway after his oh-so-long absence. Boaz worrying about that certain blond kissing Brownie goodnight and not even him. Travy addressing a lady on a street corner with "Well, what are you doing tonight?" People remarking on how "natural" Meacham was in her part in the play—except for the romantic scenes, deciding it was the man, not lack of experience, that made the exception. Jewel, as Sarah, looking not very disheveled for having been kidnapped by such a roughneck as Archie. Hazel transporting the Pomona gals to and from school in a nice new car. The G.A.T. girls saving their pennies to blow on that progressive dinner. Mendy finally emerging from the undergrowth. Prexy wandering into the library, looking the situation over, and leaving without comment, apparently satisfied, but not exactly bubbling over. Burky still feeling none-too-happy about it all. Inspector Hanawalt looking as though "it's all fixed up."

Snow Day Shots: Various clerks giving Ruth and Bob Kurtz that questioning I-wonder-if-they're-married look when they were shopping for groceries for their Snow Day lunch; Anna and Ethel finally tearing themseves away from the beloved office and joining the snow procession; Bob and Dot being crowned King and Queen of Snow Day and still no statements; Marcia et company sprawling in the one and only mud-puddle on the premises; Virginia and Shehorn absent-mindedly leaving their radio up at the lodge; Maribah wearing shorts the day after to expose that bruisiest of bruises she acquired.

Do You Know: What two senior fellows are still in their teens? Why the faculty committee jumps on a student for using the word "hullabaloo" while the professors themselves use it in class? What two frosh girls were valiantly endeavoring to give a couple of the fellows a broader outlook on life? What gal on the campus has buttered her bread but didn't much want to lie on it, or something to that effect?
