JR.-SR. BANQUET BREAKS ALL RECORDS.

CURTAIN CALL EDITION OF
"CAMPUS TIMES"

Listen my children and you shall hear
Sounds of the echo of this great year in the
"CAMPUS TIMES"

June 3rd, the day before exams.
No money down, a lifetime to pay.

Don't be surprised
When the sun doth rise
On our grand finale
Telling all so fully

And when we receive our Lambdas Monday and our "Grand Finale" Wednesday, we will have a token of the "dear dead days beyond recall" and "A song will live in our hearts".

Just ask any member of the junior or senior class --who attended the annual banquet last Friday night (and most of them did) what kind of a time he had. The answers would range all the way from "scrumptious" to a still rather sleepy "we didn't get home until morning". This was one of the largest Jr.-Sr. Banquets in La Verne's history. Although both classes are quite small they turned out nearly one hundred per cent. The Hotel Ontario made a delightful setting for the occasion and the nautical motif was used through out the whole affair, principal decorations being flower-laden galleys on the tables. Captain Chuck Messick made a very clever toastmaster, but he is skeptical now about his history grade after the crack he made about Miss Muir

ON THE EVE OF ANOTHER WATERLOO

Exams are here! But where are we? Those who have done each daily lesson this semester and who have studied their heads off have many worry. Those of us who must "cram", God bless us. Well, don't take this philosophy too seriously and don't study too hard. 'Cause if you cram you'll forget everything as soon as the ex is over, and records show tha t one only remembers one-seventh of what he really once learns. And anyway what do grades mean in this short life? Future utility is the main objective.

(Jr. - Sr. Banquet)

Muir and Mr. La Follette. Dot Frantz as first mate from the junior class gave the seniors a toast entitled "Shipmates Forever", while Admiral Roscoe responded with "Echoes from Davy Jones". Skipper Landis presented "Rhythm of the Waves" and Gob Massey gave us a "Chanty". Then the "Sea Gull Soared" in the person of Winston Richards and the program closed with a "Bon Voyage" by Tom Ca rter., and Aloha by the "Mere Maids Four" (Cecilians)

A miscellaneous shower was given for Bert Thomas by the Cecelian quartette, Thursday in Dorothy Frantz's rose garden. Nearly fifteen girls honored the bride-to-be. Each brought a present to her in her home and their favorite recipe or acvice.

The gifts were tied with yellow streamers on to a tree and Bertha had merely to pick (cut) them down.

Refreshments of ice cream and angel food cakes with mint and nuts were served.
