JUNIOR CLASS PLAY NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

FIRST ARTIST COURSE-KIRSTEN FLAGSTAD

Marking the triumphant opening of a new season of musical events sponsored by the Claremont Colleges artsist course, a capacity audience gathered in Bridges Auditorium Mon. night to pay enthusiastic tribute to the golden voice of Kirsten Flagstad, Norwegian soprano of the Metropolitan opera company.

Flagstad, a newcomer to the Pacific cost, lived up to her advance notices in all respects, displaying a voice of richness and power. Heralded chiefly as a Wagnerian singer, she exhibited her artistry in other realms of songs, Mon. nite, opening her program with four Strauss numbers of varying temperament. The color and purity of her tone were exquisite.

Following the Strauss numbers, which were sung in German, was a group of delightful Greig songs sung in Norwegian, These, with two by Jordan and two by Joseph Marx, gave ample opportunity for the audience to recognize the technical skill and beauty of the singer's voice. Three numbers sung in Eng. "Nocturne"(Michael Head), "Spendthrift"(Ernest Charles), and "Love Went A-Riding"(Frank Bridge) won special recognition for her interpretation.

Two arias closed the official program, altho Flagstad was most generous with encores. It was only fitting that the arias be chosen from two of the Wagnerian Operas that first won her international fame, "Lohengrin", and "Walkure". In them, "Einsam in Truben Tagen" and "Du bist der Lenz", the full majesty of the Norwegian primadonna's voice was heard.

Edwin MacArthur accompanied the singer at the piano most ably.

MAGNIFICENT!STUPENDOUS!! COLLOSSAL!!!

PRODUCTION OF JUNIOR CLASS SWEEPS TO FINAL PREPARATION!!!

In a sincere endeavor to educate the La Verne college boys(and girls) in the art of Romantic technique the Junior Class is working feverishly to present "The Importance of Being Earnest" in a way which will leave no one guessing as to what to do next when on a lonely road, and things in a swell mansion. Boys--don't miss taking your girls to this play, because if they are as green as most L.V.V. dates, they have a lot to learn, and boy, will Burnett and Smeltzer, Rube and Ople Shirley show you the real stuff? Straight from bally old England.

LA VERNE COLLEGE POST FILLED.

Miss Strobach Recalled as Mrs. Haugh Withdraws.

Dr. E.M.Studebaker announced today that Miss Natina Strobach of Los Angeles, will begin work as teacher of Mrs. B.H.Haugh's speech classes at the college. Mrs. Haugh is withdrawing from the college faculty on account of her father, the Rev. J.P.Harshbarger.

Miss Strobach taught for almost a year in the speech department of the local college several years ago Having enjoyed her work here, Miss Strobach is enthusiastic about her return, She will teach here each Friday and Monday as she is also offering work in Los Angeles and Pasedena.

"The world situation, as seen by the youth of today, is one pregnant with grave potentiatlies and unsolved problems. We, the youth of America, do not design passively to accept so-called 'inevitable fate' but resolve in the name of the Christ to build a world of peace in so far as it is humanly possible with the help and guidance of God."

"We do not recklessly and thoughtlessly jump at conclusions, or build our hopes on fantastic and groundless assumptions, but, through Jesus Christ, we believe the outcome of our efforts will promote peace and understanding as we in our humble but determined way seek the Kingdom of God."

"We unanimously agree that world peace can come only through universal Brotherhood and that war is contrary to the spirit and teachings of Christ. We are further convinced that adherence to Jesus' teachings is the only permanent solution to the problems of the chaotic world of today."

"The Kingdom of God must of necessity come in our hearts and lives as the first step we can make to promote world peace. We know that He must speak peace to our individual hearts before He, through us, can promote peace in the world. May we here highly consecrate our lives in our youth to the ongoings of God's Kingdom and to Universal Peace and Brotherhood."

The above article I have clipped from the International Journal of Christian Education. We are students of a college that has always stood for peace and brotherhood. There is much we can do to keep up the standards of our school and church. The answer is found in the above declaration of youth. We have our ideas, our ideals. Let us not be altered from our convictions by exterior forces, stand for peace, love, unity and brotherhood.

God grant we may be strong enough to stand by our Christian ideals at times of greatest unrest.

RELIGION CLUB

Sam Ellenberger was elected president of the newly organized group of religious activity within the college, at a meeting Tuesday aft. Other officers are: Vice-Pres., Mary Blocher; Sec'y-Treas., Bertha Holmes; Council members, Dayton Root and Albert Hollinger. The council will be composed of those five officers with Prof. Crist.

Another meeting will be held in the near future.

Prof. J.C.Brandt conducted the Armistice season program Sunday evening on the subject of "Nationalism vs. Peace and the Christian Viewpoint", at the Church of the Brethren. Don Verbeck, Don Gans, and Mary Blocher represented various nationalistic viewpoints, and Ralph Mangan, Elvin Ebersole, Rolland Collison, and Hal Michael sang in a quartette. Mr. Brandt is peace secretary for the local church and for the district of So. California and Arizona.

Maurine Moomaw sang a solo at the morning church service.

"Criticism" was the theme for the talk given by Mr. Ray Cullen in Christian Endeavor last Sunday night. He told us how important it is for us to meet criticism and profit by it rather than "letting it get us down". Devotions were led by Mildred Holl, and several group songs were led by the new Choirster, Ralph Mangan.

GRID DOPE

Well, folks, even though the Whittier game is over it is still not too late to give the boys a big hand for playing a rip-roaring game. You could hardly tell they were out-weighed 30 lbs to the man. It would probably interest you to know that although the score was 32-7 that L.V. made the most first downs, showing that the team is finally beginning to click. From now on you can expect anything. For when a team begins to click they are hard to stop.

This week the La Verne Leopards travel to Davis to play the Cal. Aggies. This should be a swell game. We know nothing about them and they know nothing about us. So we expect to be evenly matched.

Coach Hank Lloyd has not, as yet picked out the men he intends to take to play but we will know soon.

The team knows that the student body will not be able to be there to support them, but let's all get out Friday night and give them a real send-off that will last throughout the game Saturday, and watch them bring home the Bacon.

LET'S GO!!

GIRLS' SPORTS

Because of continued use of the football field, the girls have had to postpone W. A. A. practice for the last two weeks. It is hoped that speed-ball practice will continue next week.

FOOTBALL PARTY SUCCESS

As a reward for their untiring efforts, Coach Hank Lloyd and Mrs. Lloyd entertained the football men and their friends at a party at the home of Mrs. and Mr. Wilson in San Dimas, Sat. night, Nov.7. The evening was spent in playing Monopoly, Ping Pong, Pool, and group games. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames Lloyd and Wilson. Forty-four college young people attended and report a delightful time

ALUMNI

Seen at the game;

Herman and Hazel Landis, Fred and Alta Mae Butterbaugh, Howard and Bert Nordstrom, "Happy" and Beulah Brubaker, Fred and Kay Mahoney, Edith and "Nick" Nicolas, Bill Butterbaugh, Everett Bannister, Ted Allen, Ade Wright, Mildred Brubaker, Merlin Eisenbise, Albert, Knagy, and Bob Wather. There were probably many others, but your reporter didn't see them all.

By the looks of things the "Grads" are all for L.V.C.

GUESS WHO??
Senior Girl

We see her swinging along as if she didn't have a care in the world. She is very individual and has a personality all her own. Her eyes are blue, made bluer by her wearing of the same color. It is one of her favorites, I think , because she wears it a lot. She's very muscular and athletic, and goes for acrobatics in a big way. We've found her awfully interesting to talk to because she talks with her eyes as well as her mouth.

She had a handwriting all her own too. The letters are square, making the page look neat and carefully written, We like her just as she is but we wonder how she would look with a bit of cosmetics and a permanent--just wondering, mind you

Sophomore Boy

Ha ha, more funs. Here we are again. This week we have a very intelligent boy from the Soph. class who wants you to try to guess him. It is his greatest ambition, altho he won't admit it, to be admired by the co-eds. We noticed how, at the football party last Saturday, he reall, ripped around with another certain sophomore girl whose last initial is Iles. He drives a car which has a sort of caved in radiator. Maybe it's the make of car.

He won't admit it but way down in his heart he likes to play. His favorite game is Coffee Pot.

He was the only sophomore to help on the "L" Wednesday. Poor egg! The reason was that he forgot what it was like last year and he is so conscientious that he decided to do it again this year. He is very sensitive around the bony part of his anatomy, generally known as Ribs--especially when touched by someone else. Well, let's see if you can guess him.

IMPRESSIONS

McSweeney didn't want to play post-office at the football party. Was the game too old, Mac?

Did anyone see Johnson's tooth? He's been down on his knees looking for it.

Talking about football parties--Seems strange that some fellows wait until a half-hour before time to go, to find girl friends. Awfully sure of themselves, eh?

The pansies missed a lot of fun "L" Day. There's nothing like a string of Indians, prospectors, and pioneers to brighten up yon hills. We're glad we went even though some of us are slightly decrepit. You can depend upon Travy and his bunch to bring fresh spring water to soothe aching throats. We suggest that one very massive person try that hike. Bet he'd be plenty thin next day. Landis--bet you didn't know Ople had another boy friend for the hike. Well, she did--kinda liked it too! Don't see why we can't have another day off after that hike. Bu the way, were you wondering who those new students are? Bunion, Panting Moose, Flapping Eagle, Dragaboot, and Fallen Arch? We brought 'em back from the "L". Something like snakes sheddin' their skin.

No wise crakks today. I guess I just don't feel in the mood----

L. V. REPRESENTED AT CONFERENCE ON WORLD RELATIONS

Fifteen La Verne college people attended sessions of the International Relations clubs of the Southwest conference Friday at Occidental college, part of this group returning Saturday to attend other sessions.

The La Vernites were Miss Muir, Mary Blocher, president; Ella Whitehead, Kathryn Thomas, Mrs. Jean Angel, Leslie Eisan, Lawrence Stutzman, Norlyn Dull, Virginia Massey, Elaine Garner, J.B. Conway, Margaret Red, Don Gans, Maurine Mocmaw, and Louise Larrick.

A report of this conclave will be given before the local club at the refular monthly luncheon meeting Thursday noon in the Y.W. room.

FORENSICS

The debate teams for the Pasedena Tournament which will be held Nov. 23,24,and 25 in Pasadena, have been chosen. They are as follows: Dorothy Holmes, Mary Ellen Lapp; Mary Blocher, Fransic Kutchback; Hildegarde Weiss, Cecil Fager; Paul Groff, Bud Henzie; Sam Ellenberger, Don Verbeck; Cletus Holmes Ralph Mangan. Preparatory debates are going to be held by the teams here during the next week.

RESERVED SEAT SALE OPENS NOV. 20

Tickets for the annual La Verne college Junior Class play, Oscar Whilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" to be presented November 20, at the college auditorium, were available yesterday at La Verne drug store.

Wide interest in the play because of its literary merit was reported by those in charge of ticket sales. The play, with its sparkling dialogue and subtle humor, is one of Wilde's best known works.

Y. W. NEWS

A cabinet meeting was held Tues. night in Janet Brink's room. Means for raising money for the Asilomar fund were discussed. Belva Buck informed us that some different L.V.C. men are to speak Friday morning in the Y.W. room on their likes and dislikes in girls.

Refreshments were served, and the meeting was adjourned.

QUILL CLUB MEETING

The Quill Club met this Thursday afternoon at 4:15 in the Y.room.

The meeting consisted of a short story read by Eleanor Herrick, and criticisms by the rest of the club members.

Tea and Cookies were served, Elaine Garner acting as hostess.

BRANDT AND WARREN SPEAK IN CHAPEL

Armistice was the incentive for the speech of Professor Brandt in chapel Tuesday. Experiences which he had during the World War composed the greater part of his talk. He told of the stand he took for the principles of peace, and of the fair treatment shown him in that respect.

Thursday's chapel hour was taken up by Rev. Warren of the Chino Methodist Church. The subject he used was "A Rendezvous with Life."

Rev. Warren advanced three principles which he believed to be worth while:

They were: If you are loving, you are wanted. If you are growing, you are a success. If you are useful, you are happy.

EXTRA!EXTRA!EXTRA!EXTRA!

Have you noticed the lovely floral decorations in chapel recently? Phyllis Loch is responsible for this inspiration to our meetings, so let's give her a big hand.

"L" DAY

It's a long long trail winding to the "L" high upon the mountainside. Various groups of students left after breakfast Wednesday morning, riding to Wolfskill camp in San Dimas Canyon. Then began the long steep climb; the trail led first along a small stream through woods beautiful with falling colored leaves and then up above the timber-line over brush covered hills.

The Frosh boys did splendid work in cleaning off the "L". They left very early early in the morning in order to accomplish as much as possible before the sun rose too high. After toiling up the last steep hill by way of the fire-break, most of the hikers arrived at the "L" about eleven o'clock. We found the view out over the valley was worthy of all the effort required to get us there. The afternoon was spent at Brown's Flats in resting and playing games.

Mrs. Holsinger caused much anxiety to the rest of the hikers who thought she was lost, but she had merely gone to sleep while taking a rest on the fire-break. It seems she just couldn't climb any more hills. Even "Dragaboot" Otto had a little difficulty in ascending the last few hundred yards. We heard that five or six people were so anxious to blaze new trails that they started climbing the wrong mountain! Is it true that Professor Travis was so heroic that he killed a young rattlesnake, or was it only a poor harmless lizard,

By means of innumerable short-cuts everyone came sliding down the mountain to San Dimas Park for a hamburgher supper prepared by the Sophmores. The program which followed was arranged by the Juniors. The Seniors were guests of honor.

"L" Day is a special event in the lives of La Verne students. Let's strive to keep our school standards as high as our symbol on the mountainside.

The Trail to the "L"

A narrow trail winding with the slow creek's bend,
The sycamores bending low,
Yellow leaves on a roch strewn path,
Leads to a place I know.

A cool damp breeze in the morning,
Spider webs silver with dew,
Hard frozen ground that crunches,
As you wend your lazy way through.

Sunlight that filters through fern leaves,
Curled brown and crisp by the frost,
Sunlight that grows hot on the hillside,
But the end of our trail is not lost.

Tough shrubs grown tight on the firebreak,
Red manzenita, crooked and still--
Yet the trail goes onward and upward,
To the "L" at the top of the hill.

--Mugs Grant--

Mountain Meadow

High above the fruiting plain,
Up among the towering hills,
Far away from culture's stain,
A mountain lea that no one tills.

Lost amid the massive show-
Lofty hill and snow-blown peak,
Hidden, warned by sunlight's glow,
Haven soul-worn travelers seek.

Comfort here for those alone,
Welcome pause in life's long hike;
Music from the pine soft-blown,
Rests and heartens all alike.

--Robert Stortz--

If your foot doesn't skip, mountain climbing is strictly on the up and up!

SOIETY

Maurine Moomaw was hostess Thurs. afternoon to the first of a series of musical teas which are being sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. in anticipation of the various artist programs held at Bridges Aud. Mrs. Martha Dent, music director at Bonita High school told a few interesting events of Kirsten Flagstad and her program.

Lucille Gregory, Frances Grober, Leona Lehmer, Dehlia Stanley, and Dorothy Frantz were co-hostesses.

Sunday Nov. 8, a trio composed of Lorene Larimer, Mary Ebersole, and Phyllis Koch, sang for the morning service at the Covina Church of the Brethern. Their program consisted of three responses during the service, and a special number "My God and Father", by C. Elliot. This is the second time for this trio to make its appearance.

Milton collison arrived Sun. night from Wenatchee, Wash., for a visit with his brother, Rube.

Gladys Yoder, a graduate of L.V.C in 1936, who will become the bride of Bill Butterbaugh also a La Verne graduate in 1936 on Nov 26, was guest of honor at a surprise bridal shower with Lois Brower, Alberta Betz and Marguerite Deal as hostesses. The guest list included several graduates and Maurine Moomaw, Lois Meyer, Ethel Dresher, Phyllis Koch, Bertha and Dorothy Holmes of L.V.C.

A handkerchief shower was given for Dot. Frantz Tuesday night in Elaine Garner's room. Those who were there beside the honoree were Jeraldine Massey of Pomona, Lorena and Belva Buck, Doris Beckner, Mary Shick, and the hostesses Elaine Garner and Virginia Massey.

DORM GOSSIP ...

Screak, screak, just peak around the corner and lo and behold if Penny's bed isn't walking down the hall. No, someone is pushing it. None other than Miss Cline and Mary Kneeland. What did they do with it? Why just put it in the storeroom. Such pranks!

Hm, hm, how's this for a party- Lucille Gregory, Milton Callison, Marjy Miller and Bob Deal, That's not the half of it, the next night Milton and Marjy had a little party of their very own. Oh me, these little boys from Washington!!

SAILS FOR INDIA

Rev. Chalmer Shull, a nephew of Rev. and Mrs. D.L.Forney, accompanied by his children, Lorita and Gorden, sailed Monday for India, after a furlough of five months in the United States. He is returning to the Church of the Brethern territory in the India mission field. Upon his arrival there, he will be united in marriage to Suzan Stoner, another missionary of the church whose family home is in Inglewood. Miss Stoner was here on furlough a year ago, and returned to India where she is again teaching school.

Board of Trustees Meets

The executive committee of the Board of Trustees of La Verne College held their first meeting for the academic year Wednesday night. Those present were L. M. Davenport, Chairman, Los Angeles; Edgar Rothrock, Vice-chairman, La Verne; John C. Price, Secretary; La Verne; E. R. Blickenstaff, La Verne; and C. M. Heckman of Pasadena.
