DEBATE TEAMS RETURNS

Our debate teams are home again and seem no worse for the wear. They say they had a very enjoyable time. Ed Cunningham, one of our alumni, entertained them at his home in Oakland.

They journeyed back and forth each day to San Francisco on the ferry which was lots of fun.

In the debates there were five rounds, first semi finals, second semi finals, and the finals. If a team lost two of their debates in the first five rounds, they were disqualified for the finals. There were about 130 teams competing from colleges and universities all over the Pacific Coast. The University of California, College of the Pacific, Washington State, and Caltech. U.S.C. and Willamette tied for debate champions.

ANNUAL FT'BALL BANQUET

With the last game but a memory and the battle-scared armor safely tucked away in moth balls, there remains but one act to close officially the football season that is the football banquet.

The annual football banquet is being given in honor of some forty players, managers, and coaches who have worked faithfully for three months to shape a football team. The spread is scheduled for this Saturday December 7, at the American Legion Hall, with the feasting due to start at 6:30 p.m.

Arrangements are in charge of Bert Thomas, who occasionally gives a dark hint of some rare treat in store for those attending. The program calls for a banquet, inter-

SCHOOL SPIRIT

Is the Alma Mater a musical collection of empty words to you, or a sacred pledge to be "true to La Verne"? Do you boost your college at every opportunity, or ridicule and criticize its activities? The answer to these questions will determine whether you are a hindrance or a benefit to La Verne College.

Since we have a splendid administrative force and faculty, surely the students should do their part to make La Verne College a living, growing institution. Boost the school activities, the athletics, the forensics, the dramatics, and the class officers, and representatives in student government! A real booster will rejoice in the successes of La Verne activities, and be sympathetic when mistakes are made. Let us all put a new meaning into the dear old words, "La Verne, we are true to you."

ODDITIES IN THE NEWS

The news section tells you about the debate trip--yes, about the news side of it. Here are a few of the real bits of news you'd never know about if we didn't tell you.

For instance, you didn't know that the last time Clement killed a man he had a good reason. And As for intimidating waitresses, he and Paul are experts. If any of you girls want someone's shoulder to sleep on, try Don's. Ask Clella for recommendations--she knows. He and Bob are getting experience in more than debating. Frances G. entered extempore for women--so did Don and Esther and Paul and Clement. How do you account for that? Kay looked a bit dampened lately--that comes from nearly being "dumped"in the bay. If Don had dropped her----- There was a real knife-fight in Chinatown. After that, Clement took very good care of Frances K. as they snooped around black alleys and dark shops. We hope there were no worms in with their Chinese noodles. As if half a dozen girls were not enough, Don and Clement had to fall for the pretty Chinese waitress. If Travis had been Bob and Kay at dinner, he would have said, "Romance!" Have you heard about Ralph's uncle? He has one somewhere in San Francisco. We hope he's all right yet. Between Ralph's uncle and his hat, there was quite a delay in traveling. It was a debate trip--perhaps that was the reason no one could talk for more than a minute without bringing in the Supreme Court to prove something. It was a great trip--ask anyone who went.

"SUPER SNOOPER"

Well, here we are again peaking in key holes as usual. Poor Marjorie Miller! I heard she can't get enough to eat at the dining club, but she has gained about ten pounds, more or less..... And Al Eisan has earned a very fitting name of "three minute Al". You needn't worry, Al, just remember it took the

BEWARE--DIRT

If any of you new students see colored people coming to college in the near future, don't be alarmed; they will only be student smudgers. Smudging evidently is the way some manage to keep themselves in college even though they do sleep in classes with one eye open and one closed. Dr. Steele will think he's going bats when he notices black boys doing their practise teaching. I wouldn't wonder if Fletcher "Hornraker" will do away with the do-nut duster and the red speckled chin whiskers; he'll have a little smut to tangle with. I don't know what the rest of the chin whiskered goats will do when this dark cloud of grease sets in. Maybe they'll get a contract in a zoo. All Eisan is trying to find a way to keep from shaving so he may not get behind in his sleep and studies. Willard McDaniels is helping him for fear he may sprout a "pin feather".

I suppose you green gals don't know what smudge is. Well, don't worry, you'll find out. Let me

Did he have it lifted?....Pat Packard has her hair cut and Miss Cline is combing here differently, just a change, is that right, girls?....It looks as tho Ira's ride to Oakland with Scottie has started them well on the road to happy days....Moon, we sincerely wish you better luck in give you one tip--beware! it comes as a thief in the night and you'll have to keep one window up or you may miss it. Some day you'll come to school with rings around your eyes and wonder why students are wearing dark glasses. If Margaret Haymes ever will disown Fogle, she'll do it this winter when that black face glares up at her window in the dorm.

And Seniors, remember to clean up your false teeth before eating or you may swear you're chewing licorice.

in this little afair.... Now that Thanksgiving is over Stutzman can call upon his lady love in the open. But how about you, Price?....Esther, who is this unknown admirer you found at San Francisco? ....Ch ye, fair milk maids from the dorm who stroll out at night to milk your cows....It must be true that as soon as the Moon went in the Robin came out....Wilma must have some one else on the string as her long ride on Monday evening could not have been to Rosemead, when Andy was here in La Verne. Who is he, Wilma?....Did Smeltzer's heart ever beat triple time in Chapel Tues? !!!!Roy, don't you know that olives aren't the way to a girl's heart? Jimmy is slowly losing his Texas drawl, or is it his New Mexico whang? Anyway he is losing it.... Well, that's all for this week, children, but remember, if you get your cake, eat it.

There were four divisions: debate, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and interpretive reading. Frances Kutchback and Ciella Brubaker went into the finals for debate, Katherine Greenwalt for oratory, and Francis Grober for extemp.

While in San Francisco they viewed the beautiful Golden Gate and visited China Town. They returned to La Verne Thanksgiving morning in time for the football game.

The debaters are looking forward to five more tournaments. One will be held at the University of Arizona.

NOTES

Beginners luck was with Lucille Packard Wednesday night when she went ice skating with a friend from South Padadena at the Winter Gardens in Hollywood. She knows she never took a spill.

Besides eating her family out of house and home Harriet Strate attended two weddings while at Strathmore. No, she didn't come back with two plain gold bands.

spersed with music from the Cecilian Quartette, the Simpson String Duet, and Rube Collison, elected of the captain for 1936, speeches from coaches and players, and all the rest that goes with a football banquet. "Dutch" Brubaker is to be the toast-master.

It is the wish of the commission that this be the biggest social function of the year. Everyone is invited and the price of the tickets is very reasonable. A single pasteboard may be had for fifty cents or a pair comes at the special price of onl ninety-nine cents. Tickets may be secured from Tom Carter, John Landis, Rube Collison, or the Student Store, before noon, Friday.

Students, let's show the football men we appreciate their efforts, and let's have a good time! All attend the football banquet!

BEYOND THE HORIZON

Norlyn Dull

Failure of the Canadian government to back their League delegate in his proposed oil sanctions and thus reserve for themselves a course of independent action in case of united oil sanctions and possibly war, may set an historic precedent in the British Commonwealth of Nations.

The ties that bind Canada to England are strong. Perhaps, though, Canada is stricken with the same malady that is prevalent in our own government, which reserves the right of independent action but at the same time prevents us from having any dependable foreign policy.

On December 13, 1935, in the L.V.C. Auditorium a Christmas Play, THE BIRDS CHRISTMAS CAROL will be presented. Tickets will be 2 for 25¢.

FIELD TRIP

Monday, Dec. 2, at 11:30, Mr. Hollenberg took the Zoology class to Exposition park to visit the museum and become acquainted with various forms of life. Mr. Hollegberg proved a very efficient guide for most of the students received a slight insight into the organization, interest, and history of some of the various exhibits. He showed and told about the different types of molluscs and the California birds and then explained the theories as to how the animals became trapped in the oil pits at what is now called Rancho La Brea. After examining many fossil preservations and skeletons it was time for the museum to close.

Johnny Landis says that kissing Lucille Packard (V13) is like opening a bottle of olives --the first may come hard but it's a cinch to get the rest.

POETS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Coach "Chief" Newman's WhittierPoets defeated Garrett Arbelbide's fighting Leopards in the last game of the season on Thanksgiving Day. Altho the score was one-sided, 26-7, the game proved to be an interesting as any.

For the third straight year La Verne has been the deciding factor in the Southern California Conference title. If the Leopards had pulled through with a victory the championship would have gone to Redlands.

Captain Glover played his last game by playing a bang-up game on defense and blocked like a demon on Offence. Walt Anderson star sophomore end, was another mainstay, with Bob Haynes, in breaking up the Poet's running playes.

The Whittier poets scored in every quarter while the Leopard's only score came in the last quarter with a short pass. Babe Eisan, lateral, passed to Thomason-Thomason forward, passed back to Eisan-Babe raced fifty-four yards to a touchdown, eluding the entire Whittier Varsity. Carl Walsh converted with a place kick.

PLAYED LAST GAME

--"Dutch"

Five seniors played their last game for La Verne against the Whittier Poets. Captain Howard Glover, the outshanding defensive man, plaing for La Verne. Howard has played half-back on offence and backed up the line on defence. "Tommy" Thomason, utility man, played his last game at left end, being turned from quarter-back to end. Two tackles and men who have been valuable in every game; they are Bert Rightmer, and Roy Smith. Bob Haynes, first string center, also has played his last game at La Verne. There are two players who were injured early in the season which left large vacancies in the line up. George Marx who was injured beforethe Spartan game and Bob Kelly during the hot contest with San Diego.

SOPHOMORE FRANKS

The Sophomore Duet Contest will be culminated in the Associated Students Meeting on Friday morning. It will take more than horseshoes to bring some of the superstitious sophomore duetists good luck in such a contest.

INTERDENOMINATIONAL PEACE CONFERENCE

The week-end of December 14 and 15 can be spent profitably at the Interdenominational Peace Conference for all Youth at the First Methodist Church, Eigth and Hope, Los Angeles.

.WRITERS ORGANIZE

A new organization that has recently been started in LaVerne College is the Creative Writing Club. The opening meeting was a tea at 4:15 Tuesday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. room. Officers elected were Phyllis Koch and Margaret Grant--Co-presidents; Tom Carter--Secretary and Treasurer; and Margaret Haymes--Tea chairman.

A short story written by a member of the club was read and criticized. A short business meeting was held to explain the aim and dues of the club. The meetings are to be held every Tuesday afternoon at 4:15 in the Y.W.C.A. room. All interested are extended a cordial invitation to come to the meetings. Members present were: Margaret Grant, Phyllis Koch, Mary Kneeland, Margaret Haymes, Tom Carter, Ira Metzger, Winston Richards, Katherine Steele, Dorothy Cooper, Miss Cline, Dorothy Head, Paul Groff, Vivian Saul, Janet Brink, and Elaine Garner.

VACATION DAYS

A formal dance for the alumni of Voorhis school for boys was held Saturday night in the beautiful grounds and buildings of the school. Barbara Juckett, Jim Donibble, and Jane Huston of San Dimas and Ishmel Berg attended the dance. An elaborate buffet supper was served during the evening.

Jesse Iles made a flying trip home to Arizona over the holidays. A family reunion was the main event of the visit besides the train ride to and from.

Instead of turkey, weiners were served at a party in the wash Saturday night attended by Helen Brownsberger, Perry Smith, Margaret Haymes, and Jack Fogle. Marshmallows were also toasted over the fire.

Miss Edna Phillips entertained a group of LaVernites at a waffle party at her home Friday evening.

Arizona, New Mexico, Iowa, and India were all represented by guests of Dorothy Head on her ranch near Colton. Martha Jones, Glenna McLean, Bob Stortz, and Dallas Fox were the guests for Thanksgiving dinner. Martha Jones and Bob Stortz stayed for the remainder of the vacation, enjoying activities of ranch life. During the visit the interesting historical Mission Inn at Riverside was visited.

Marguerite Deal enjoyed the Thanksgiving vacation at Kingsburg near Fresno. She stayed with Alice Swenson, a former LaVerne College student.

Leona Feist and Mildred Young visited Mildred's home at Perris located beyond Riverside.

The dormitory blossomed out also for holiday festivities. An impromptu Marshmallow toast was organized around the fireplace of Miller Hall. Cracker jacks furnished a lot of fun with the prizes within.

Imagine the surprise of Leona Feist and Mildred Young, when, attending the March Field Air Benefit show during the holidays, they met the Drs. Steele, Bobby and George Steele, and Everett Myer. Reports are also that Ade Way attended this spectacular event.

All ye friends of Harper Lehman!! We hear that he was host to a group of 10 college students at a chicken dinner at his home last Sunday evening.

Galen Price and Dick Moon and their brothers attended the show "Midsummer Night's Dream" last Saturday night, after which they put their brothers on the right car for home.

And have you heard what Bill Crawford did!! While hitch-hiking his way back from home, a driver stopped to ask his way. Bill, wise one, directed him towards La Verne, his own destination. When he arrived there, he told theman he had gotten his directions mixed and that he should go back to where he had picked him up and find his way from there.
