Kids,

Sorry I have to go to work today. I'll let you know when I'll be back as soon as I know my schedule.

Today is grandpa's birthday. I called and sent ~~flowers~~ FRUIT THAT WILL BE DELIVERED TOMORROW, but you might want to call him to wish him a happy birthday sometime this evening.

I would sincerely like to find the kitchen in a condition similar to that in which you find it this afternoon. Consider it a supreme challenge to your self discipline.

I'll try to call tonight, but I am flying until late this evening. The only chance I'll probably get to call is when I am on the ground in Tampa, but I will try.

I love you both very much,

Dad
