Identity Statement:Scope & Content / Abstract:

Single page folded in half to create four pages of correspondence. The first page has a large red and blue stamp of two hands shaking in front of "The Constitution" and an American flag. Behind the hands are a number of stars and what looks like an axe and maybe a bunch of sticks. The letter is addressed "Camp Washburn, Milwaukee, Feb the 12. Dear friend". The writer is well, but a fellow soldier is going to be discharged because he is sick and unable to serve but he wants to go. It is signed "Good by at preasant, yours with respect, LFW".

The red and blue stamp bleeds through the paper and makes the second page of writing difficult to read. There is a dark stain on the top of the page 3 and multiple on the first page along the right edge. The back is blank but is most discolored. Slight tearing on back page in three spots (top right corner, top left corner, and along the left edge).
