The ink has bled in places or could have gotten wet and bled. There is a 1/2 inch tear down the center from the top edge, it looks like it might have been eaten by a possible insect infestation. There are stains and discoloration mostly on the last page. A large dark stain is near the tear along the top edge and the creases are dirty. It was folded in thirds. Lastly there is a small portion that looks to have been punctured with something small near the center of the unfolded page. It can be seen just left and write (mirror) of the center of the page.
