Identity Statement:Scope & Content / Abstract:

Two letters written on two pieces of lined paper. The two pieces are still connected to each other as if they came from a notebook. The letter is written in black ink in cursive from Henry A. Fowler to Edgar M. Dick. Franklin June 18th and 20th 1864. It looks like these letter were not sent independently, but written on the same sheet of paper and sent together.

Content of letters include: ready to farm, but mare had a colt; fire nearby; nearby band not practicing; cant shingle because saw hit a bolt earlier; summer trip.
