Scope & Content / Abstract:
Partial sheet of paper used for a waybill written in black ink. The bill starts "Regular Line!, Way Bill June 19th 1848" with a squiggly line underneath. There is a list of 11 stops with pricing and the last two are separate from the first nine. The back cover page reads "Way Bill, No 203, Monday June 19 48" with a list of nine lines to the right of the cover pager and the bottom eight lines have been crossed out.

		The paper was folded in quarters and is most discolored along the creases on the back cover page. There is water damage on the front causing the ink to bleed and smudge on the front and through to the back. The paper is thin and the ink can be seen on both sides. The bottom edge was torn away and is jagged.
