

BROTHERTOWN.

1800

JULY 11.—The fall in the price of iron and steel has caused a fall in the temperature—40 degrees above this morning.

The late rains were a God-send for corn, potatoes and pastures.

Theo. Dick, who has a job in the Sweet wagon shops at Fond du Lac, came down, Thursday, for a day's visit.

The old oak tree, known as "Council Tree," and the corner stake in the northwest corner of this town, on lot No. 1, were blown down during the big storm, Friday.

Edw. Amel, of Fond du Lac, came down, Thursday, for a visit with relatives and friends here.

S. McKinsey and wife, of Milwaukee, and G. H. Baker, of East Brothertown, were visitors at J. O. Pemberton's, Friday. On their way home they put up in this burg, during the big storm.

Messrs. E. W. Murdock, H. E. Fowler, L. Fowler and Mel. Johnson left yesterday, by team, for Gillett, Oconto county. The first two are looking for land, while the latter two are looking for work.

A large number of the friends of Mrs. H. E. Kindness gave her a pleasant surprise, Saturday evening, at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. A. Niles, it being her birthday anniversary.

The Calumet Co. Sunday School Association is in session here, at the M. E. church. Owing to the threatening weather, yesterday, the attendance was rather light. The attendance to-day is better. Rev. John E. Manning, of Fond du Lac, gave a splendid address, last evening.

Barley harvesting has commenced. John Snyder cut a four-acre piece, Monday.

Well, it looks like an electric road on the east shore, now. If we get it first, we will let you all know about it.

The big wind-storm, last Friday, did quite a little damage here blowing down fences, trees and wind-mills, and unroofing barns, etc. There was just a little hail mixed in with it, which was lucky for us, otherwise greater damage would have been done. The liberty pole went down during the storm.

Geo. Phillips, Sen., and son Charley arrived home from the east, Monday, after a six weeks' visit with relatives in the empire state.
