Identity Statement:Scope & Content / Abstract:

Single sheet of paper used as waybill written in black ink. The bill starts "Way Bill, Thursday July 27th 1848". There is a short paragraph at the top, followed by nine lines written sideways and crossed off or X'd out, and finally another three lines written horizontally. The back cover page reads "No 214, Thursday July 27 1848".

The paper was folded multiple times either in quarters or thirds and is most discolored along the creases. There are dark stains around the cover page along the top edge and black stains along the right edge on the back page. Some ink on the front seems to have gotten wet and bled through to the back: one line along the top and one line along the bottom.
