Description Black and white photograph of a wedding party standing outside of the Central House, Anton Keuler. There is a small square table in the front left of the group with four men sitting around it and a small child behind them. One man is sitting on a wood barrel. The bride and groom are sitting in the front row in the middle of the large group. She is wearing a veil with flowers and clasping a fan in her lap. My guess is the groom is to her left (right in photograph) slightly bent forward holding a flower in his hands.

The photograph is mounted on black cardboard matting. The back of the backing is a gray color. Written in black ink on the back "Aug Moyer Belle Kinney Wedding".

The backing is worn around all the edges and on the back noticeable water damage can be seen around three of the four sides. The backing is also warped. There is a large brown stain in the middle of the photograph just behind the wood barrel over the skirts of a young girl. There are various other stains including many brown stains over the wedding party and in the bottom right corner.
