On Sept 2, 1652 the fall of the year that the was at Norwalk, he appeared before the Commissioners of the United Colonies of N. Eng. then assembled at Hartford, as their records bear witness in the following language: "wherein we were informed by Chekehoe an Indian of Menhaden Island, on behalf of the Ind. inhabitants of said island, that they are disturbed in their possession by Capt. Middleton purchase from Mr. Goodyear of New Haven, who bought the same of Mr.

Tonet, a scotchman, & by vertue thereof the said Indians are threatened to be forced off the said island & to seek an habitation where they can get it; the said Indians deny that they sold the said island to the said Govett; & that the said Tonet was a poor man, not able to purchase it but the said Indians gave to the said Tonet some part of the said Island & marked it out by some Conclusion, that if the owners of L. I. were unable to produce Garrett's deed from the Indians in 1652, which they seem to have been unable to do it is not at all likely that it will ever be discovered. It also indicates that F's title as well as that of Mr. Goodyear, rested on a frail foundation as far as the whole island was concerned + that the Ind. were right in their protest.
