

71ST YEAR—59

TWO SECTIONS

CHARLESTON, S. C. TUESDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1964

RAZED—This building, which formerly stood at 325 East Bay Street, was razed recently to make way for a Sam Solomon Co. parking lot. Constructed sometime after 1802 by Capt. William Hall, a mariner, it contained Adam-style woodwork and a palladian window. This is one of a series of Evening Post drawings of historic buildings razed, threatened with destruction or restored in the city of Charleston.

L
2
Fur
Boo
At

JAKAI
A mob
policies
Malaysia
formatio
East Ja
Monday
furniture
car.

It was attacked strators
stoned a
cultural
its libr
stroying
library's

The
strators
ca's pa
in the r
from Co
support
nesian
threater
USIS
told a n
about 1
onstrato
enter
which locked i

The Americ
Indones
interior
threw i
side ar
them.

BOO!
The James