Yes. The front door was bumped out to fill that area under the stoop and it has aluminum siding, but all of its materials are still there.

Is the house still standing?

After years of trying, I finally tracked down someone related to a family that lived at 4 Glenwood Ave. He didn't know when this photo was taken, but his family owned the house from 1929 to 1961. Looks early to me. I wish the quality were better, but the issue is with the original photo and not the scan.
