Captain Harleston Becomes Patriarch of Prominent Family

121 Calhoun Street

After a dispute with the Mickey family, Edwin G. "Captain" Harleston built this three-story structure in 1913 to house the Harleston Funeral Home. The artist Edwin A. "Teddy" Harleston was one of the Captain's sons. Teddy—who trained at Boston's School of the Museum of Fine Arts—and his wife, photographer Elise Forrest, kept a studio in their home near Harleston Funeral Home, but their income came from the funeral business. Teddy was one of the founders of the Charleston branch of the NAACP; W. E. B. DuBois was a personal friend.
