

80 ASHLEY AVE.

Evening Post (published as THE CHARLESTON EVENING POST)

(Charleston, South Carolina)

April 6, 1929

REALTY TRANSFERS

Abbie L. Moore, to Economy Oil
Co., N.E. Wentworth and Ashley Ave.

Evening Post (published as THE CHARLESTON EVENING POST)

(Charleston, South Carolina)

April 6, 1929

BUILDING PERMITS

To W. A. Condon, for wrecking 39
Charles street; estimated cost not given.

To Economy Oil company, for wrecking building, corner Ashley avenue and Wentworth streets;
estimated cost not given.

Evening Post (published as THE CHARLESTON EVENING POST)

(Charleston, South Carolina)

April 19, 1929

BUILDING PERMITS

To South Carolina Radio Shop,
for construction electric sign at 337
King street; estimated cost, $150.

To Economy Oil Company for construction filling station at 80
Ashley avenue; estimated cost, $2.- 000.

Charleston News and Courier (published as The News and Courier)

(Charleston, South Carolina)

May 18, 1929

Old Charleston Is Model For New Gasoline Station

Adapting the charm of old Charleston to a highly modern use, ancient bricks caressed by the hand of time will be used in building a gasoline filling station in the colonial style at Wentworth street and Ashley avenue.

A new process for cleaning the old bricks of mortar so that they will have the appearance of genuine age, without the speckled white which has marred other attempts at duplication of old houses will be used in constructing the latest gasoline haven.

A peaked, sloping roof, slightly curved, and the low, rambling appearance of the old architecture will be carried out, while a five-foot brick wall at the rear will furnish the proper background.

Behind arched carriage gates will be the washracks and greasing pits, while the gasoline pumps will be placed on a concrete courtyard in front of the quaint house.

The gasoline station is being constructed by the Dawson Engineering company for the Economy Oil company. Both of these firms are Charleston owned and operated.

Charleston News and Courier (published as The News and Courier)

(Charleston, South Carolina)

November 3, 1929

Announcement—

I Wish to Announce

That I Am Now Operating the

Century Service Station

COR. ASHLEY AVE. AND WENTWORTH,

PHONE 12

—For The—

Economy Oil Company

And Will Appreciate the

Patronage of My Friends

George W. LaTrace