I asked my expert-- Mrs Elizabeth Knight. She says that is 704 S. Main Street -- directly across the street from the large building that is a seminary now (formerly Pinewood prep) She said it has undergone substantial renovation -- but she's pretty certain as her mom grew up just down the street and she grew up around the corner. It must have lost its little tower along the way and gotten some large additions --

To the HCF Summervillites,

Do you know anything about this home of J.J. Wescot, where it is, if it's still standing?

Thanks,
K
