I unfortunately do not know much about the photo. I can see my dad in the front row and he looks to be about 5 or 6, putting this at 1941 or 1942. He might even be 4, but I compared this to another picture of him where the date(fortunately) was written on the back. There is nothing written on the photo with regards to the photographer. I'd of course love to track all of the details down. I'm not even sure what became of the church.

Here is the link for the photo.

Let me know if you have any problems with it.

Hi Michael,

Yes, Kevin is one of HCF's Archives's strongest supporters and one of the best building-identifiers I know.

Thank you in advance for the jpg! A TIF or JPG at 600 dpi will be good and, although an attachment to an email would probably come through, let's go with DropBox so we can be certain. If you could let me know who might have taken the photo, the date, and any other information regarding its provenance. That way I can create the most thorough catalog record possible.

Again, many thanks for the photograph!

Good afternoon Ms. Emmons,

I posted a picture to the Charleston History before 1945 Facebook group to solicit help in tracking down the location of a church from a photo I found in my late grandmother's photo albums. There were lots of responses, and lots of curiosity about it, but Kevin Eberle finally solved the mystery. He of course felt obligated to put in a plug for you, and I would also like to say thank you for your part in helping him put my mystery to rest. I have scanned in the photo at it's original size, at 600dpi. Currently it is a jpg, but I can certainly supply you with whatever format you would require. I also can send this to you via dropbox, if that is ok. Please let me know.

Kindest Regards,

Michael Walsh
