

Ashley River Railroad.

The Ashley River Railroad consists of the line which runs from the Northeastern station out to Ashley Junction, together with numerous valuable spurs, which connect it with the various manufacturing concerns and phosphâte plants located on Charleston Neck. The management has continued to develop the property and its prosperity increases. The branch lines have proved valuable feeders to the Ashley River Line, and all have done their share in the handling of Charleston's business and increasing her commercial importance.