2112 Montford Ave. is an area of the Uptown that even lifelong Uptown residents have probably never seen. It is a sketchy cut through in the shadow of the Joseph Floyd Manor way up on King Street next to the interstate.

I have NO IDEA why anyone would ever want to send a postcard showing a private security force standing outside of mobile home. But, someone must have thought it was a good use of marketing funds.

The eBay listing for this oddball view wants $13. That would be a good deal for an oddball view of a house or something. But a mobile home?

I'm not bidding on it, but might change my mind later!
