

From: Kevin R. Eberle
To: Emmons, Karen
Subject: Amherst Jones Library
Date: Monday, May 18, 2020 8:35:45 PM

---

I HATE using library catalogs on line. They are all terrible. Really. I have never even once found any single catalog to be useful in tracking down anything that is not a book being search for by its title.

These are two photos in the Clifton Johnson (photographer) collection of photos housed by that Amherst Jones Library. I can't reproduce the search that I did to find them. But one is 54 Meeting Street in about 1905 and one is the Market. The house at 54 Meeting Street was reworked in the early 20th century, but I'm 95% certain it is 54 Meeting.

Kevin

The information transmitted is intended only for the person or entity to which it is addressed and may contain confidential and/or legally privileged material. Any review, re-transmission, dissemination or other use of this information, directly or indirectly, by persons or entities other than the intended recipient is prohibited. If you are not the intended recipient please contact the sender and delete the material from all computers in which it resides. Internet communications cannot be guaranteed to be secure or error-free as information could be intercepted, corrupted, lost, destroyed, arrive late, incomplete, or contain viruses. Therefore, we do not accept responsibility for any errors or omissions that are present in this message, or any attachment, that have arisen as a result of e-mail transmission. If verification is required, please request a hard-copy version or contact us by phone. Any views or opinions presented are solely those of the author and do not necessarily represent those of the Charleston School of Law.