SYLVIA BROMAN WINS JUNIOR BROAD JUMP

Miss Broman has done her best work this past summer and has picked up many cups at the different meets. She will be seen again this winter on the Y. W. C. A. basketball team.

Other marks approved were in the senior events: Florence MacDonald, in the 220-yard dash, Rena MacDonald in the discus throw and Margaret Proctor in the javelin throw. Olive Hasenfus was given credit for the mark she made in the 100-yard dash of 11 3-5 seconds at Needham.

Spitz Used the Orthodox Style In Making High Jump Record

By HNRY McKENNA

Shades of old "Mike" Sweeney! Hail to the new world champion, George Spitz, sensational 20-year-old New Yorker, who, with Leo Sexton, Leo Lermond and Ted Lee, just about stole all the thunder from the 400 odd athletes who combined to make the 43d B. A. A. games the greatest ever held in the Rub. Minus the prima donna tactics which the fidgety high jumpers of old have been wont to display, Spitz, cool and modest, gave the greatest exhibition of jumping ever witnessed. Perhaps the best way to realize the height which Spitz attained is to say that a leap of 6 feet 4¼ inches was good enough to win the Olympic event in 1928; or better still, measure the distance against a wall, then stand off and regard it and actually grasp the phenomenal performance of this stripling.

COACHES BELIEVE HE HAS NOT REACHED HIS LIMIT

Any doubt that may have been attached to his 6 feet 7⅛ inches jump at the Millrose games was dispelled Saturday night. His trio of efforts at 6 feet 9 inches, an unbelievable height, came so close to being realized that the spectators couldn't have appreciated the height which Spitz was trying to clear.

While the local populace took Spitz to itsbosom when he cleared 6 feet 8½ inches, the result was even more pleasing to the veteran track and field coaches and ex-athletes who long have claimed that the orthodox style of jumping, as used by "Mike" Sweeney, is the one and only way to high jump. Californians invented the so-called "rolling" style, which is nothing else than a dive. The rule is that the feet must go over the bar before the head and so to conform with this, the Californians sneak their feet ahead of their head.

Spitz uses the "scissors" kick, comes quickly to the bar after a long take-off, pounds on his right foot and then leaps, his whole body tibrating as he shakes himself over the crossbar. He lands on his feet, going away from the bar. Even on his record-breaking jump, the highest ever attained by man, he maintained his equilibrium.

The next thought is: "How high can he jump?" Now there's a thought. It's almost unreasonable to believe that anybody can jump higher, yet Spitz, in the opinion of many coaches, hasn't reached his greatest height. Spitz stated after the meet Saturday night that conditions for jumping were ideal, the finest under which he has ever competed, yet he is certain to have such perfect conditions again and should anybody be able to furnish the competition, it's possible he may better that 6'8½ leap.

DOESN'T LIKE SPOTLIGHT

He also remarked that he becomes self-conscious when he knows that everybody is looking at him, and would prefer to keep jumping while other events are being held. This may explain his almost hurried attempts at the 6:9 jump, when he failed three times in a row, all within five minutes after having set his new mark.

There were no exercises, putting on of togs and taking them off again, no silly acrobatic stunts which are part and parcel of other jumpers. He simply went to his task, and to the best of our knowledge the only thing he did to prepare for the jumps was to rub the muscle of one of his legs a couple of times. We can easily imagine another jumper taking until 3 o'clock Sunday morning before completing three tries at 6:09, after having set a new world mark. In fact, we believe that Spitz's conduct proves that he is without a peer in this world.

Leo Sexton, who threw the shot 51 feet 11⅞ inches, to better Herman Brix's 51 feet 2½ inches indoor record, didn't concentrate on putting until last summer. When at Georgetown, he had been a high jumper, withal his 200 pounds. His first effort, in the metropolitan championships, if memory serves us correct, was good for 48 feet, and so he decided to forget high jumping. He has two 50-foot heaves to his credit this winter, yet he was given a handicap Saturday night. Like Spitz, Leo's best days in his specialty seem ahead of him.

Leo Lermond turned in a masterful performance, considering the lack of competition. Right now, the New York A. C. flyer, who is living in Nahant, is in the best condition of his career, in the opinion of Jack Ryder, who knows Leo better than anybody else. Jack stated today that Lermond is faster by seconds than he was in the 4:11 1-5 turned in by Venzke in the Millrose games.

Wednesday night, the pair will clash in the Baxter mile, feature event of the New York A. C. games. Frank Crowley will be there and so, too, will Carl Coan, Penn miler, and Glen Dawson of Oklahoma, who has a 4:16 mile to his credit.

BOTH HAVE "KICK"

Leo will not make the mistake of letting Venzke get too far out front this time, if Venzke goes out from the gun as he did in the Millrose games. He is sure to pace his teammate every inch of the way until a lap from home and then he will depend upon that "kick," with which we are all so familiar, to carry him home in front. Venzke has a "boot" and it will be a question of reserve when they head for the worsted. We have high respect for Venzke, but if Leo hangs to his rival, we have a hunch that he will win and if he does, you can bet that it will be in record figures.

Leo and Gene also will meet in the New York K. of C. games on Feb. 27, but in the Nationals, Leo will run the two-mile event in all probability. Joe McCluskey seems ideally suited for the 5000 meters, but he has decided to run the 3000 mile steeplechase . . . George Lermond looked mighty good his sprint on the last lap being especially pleasing . . . The B. A. A. will send a medley team to the New York A. C. games, 440, Frank Cummings; 220, Hal Suttle; 660, Tom Clausen; 880, Eddie Blake; and also "Monty" Wells in the hurdles . . . The times of the B. C. two mile relay team members follow: Paul Dailey, 2:00:8; Brendon Moynahan, 1:57.8; Bob Jordan, 1:58; Paul Killilea, 2:03.4 . . . Did you see that Harvard freshman quartet, and that Villanova galloper . . . Creighton Gatchelle, Newton boy, gave Bowdoin the lead in the race with Amherst and Williams, but J. W. Page of Williams upset the dish . . . Bob Grieve of Northeastern pulled the gallery from its seat by his anchor leg against New Hampshire eand Mass State . . . From the showing of the New England collegians, Saturday night's meet in the Garden by the University Club should be a thriller . . . Boston College certainly missed Don Fleet . . . Pen Hallowell and Jack Pearson left little work for "Red" Record and Phil Dodge . . . Georgie Bullwinkle is still at his best before Boston track crowds . . . Joe Dineen, who ran anchor for Exeter, is a former Lawrence boy, and Bob Perry certainly was proud of his pupil.

IN ANY EVENT at the forthcoming Olympics at San Francisco you might expect Ethel Catherwood, Canadian athlete, to shine. She not only is entered in the high jump, of which she holds the women's world's record, but here she is warming up for the javelin throw. Ethel won the women's high jump at Amsterdam four years ago.

Bridgewater Girls' Track Team Starts

Eddie Jenkins of Quincy Karhus Takes Up Coaching Job—Good Material Available—Big Dance Is Planned to Inaugurate "War Chest."

BRIDGEWATER, April 21—Members of Bridgewater Girls' club held their first track practice yesterday afternoon, with Coach Eddie Jenkins of the Karhu A. C. of Quincy on hand to start them off on the right track, assisted by members of the Karhu Girls' A. C.

There was a squad of nine girls on hand for practice, and some of the huskier members of the club were shown a few points on shot-put and discus throwing, while the rest of the outfit worked on sprints and starting.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Coach Jenkins found some promising material among the club members, who were most enthusiastic over the track work.

Regular weekly practice sessions will be held, and arranagements are being completed so that the girls will have a good track on which to run their practice meetings.

As soon as the squad has had a chance to learn a little about the track events it is hoped to arrange a "triangular practice with the Brockton Girls' A. C. and the Karhu Girls' A. C. of Quincy.

DANCE PLANNED

The club is planning a dance in the near future to raise funds to aid in equipping and financing the track team. Since the girls won the Eastern Massachusetts title in basketball they have won a big following in Bridgewater, and with a big crowd of out of town dance lovers promising to attend, the event should be a success.

OLIVE HASENFUS, with numerous cups and medals she has won. The Needham sprin queen is considered New England's brightest prospect for the 1932 Olympics.

Young Olympic Performer

She could hardly be considered as a threat to the matured champions of other countries, yet Boston, and especially Needham, felt proud of this girl, who at that time was one of Uncle Sam's youngest representatives in the games.

The next Olympic games will find matters reversed. Miss Hasenfus will be one of the veterans, although still a young girl, and one of the most feared contenders in the sprint races.

The rise of little Miss Hasenfus to the front has been carefully planned and even yet, although an Olympic competitor, N. E. sprint champ and holder of other titles, she has yet to attain her greatest power as a runner.

Indication that she was reaching the great heights of what looms as a remarkable athletic career, were evident only in the past few months. It was not until the last national out-door track championships at Texas that Miss Hasenfus began to show the form and speed that is expected to make her a potent factor in the next Olympics.

"Ollie," as this girl is more familiarly known to her intimate acquaintances, proved herself the third greatest 100-yard sprinter in the country at Texas, and gave signs of passing Mary Carew, the little Medford flier, as New England's foremost woman runner.

Defeated Mary Carew

Miss Carew, holder of the national indoor and outdoor 50-yard dash titles, has been defeated twice by Miss Hasenfus since the last championships at Texas, but the Medford girl still reigns supreme at the 50-yard distance.

In the longer distances, the 100 and 220, Olive is expected to sit on the New England throne. Only for the fact that she is a slow starter, she might occupy all of the sprint championships.

Her running form is second to none. All she required was the necessary strength to enable her to maintain full speed over such distances as 100 yards and 220 yards, for it was evident that she could not hope to defeat Miss Carew, who is a fast starter, over such a short distance as 50 yards.

DOMINATED WOMEN'S MEET AT FENS STADIUM

Left to right—Marie Wendt of Medford Girls' Club, who finished third; Mary Carew, team mate of Miss Wendt, the winner; Olive Hasenfus of the B. S. A., who was shut out, and Louise Stokes of the Onteora Club, who was beaten at the tape and took second honors in the 100-metre dash yesterday.

Louise Stokes, (directly above) for the second time won the Curley trophy by giving the best all around performance and in addition to taking second in the race shown here, carried off the N. E. senior high jump title.

Sylvia Broman of the Brockton Girls' Club, who landed the N. E. senior broad jump crown, after being dethroned as high jump queen.

Louise Stokes Features Meet; Wins High Jump, Curley Cup; Miss Broman Switches Titles

Louise Stokes of the Ontheore Club held on to her all-around athletic honors at the women's outdoor track and field meeting which the Boston park department conducted before a large and appreciative gathering yesterday afternoon at the Fens stadium.

By capturing the New England A. A. A. U. high jumping crown and finishing second in the 100 metres, a race in which many believed she deserved at least a tie, the Onteora queen was awarded the Hon. James M. Curley trophy, as being the outstanding athlete in the games. By the way, Miss Stokes won this award last year.

MISS BROMAN LOSES, THEN WINS CROWN

Sylvia Broman of Brockton gave Miss Stokes a real battle for individual honors and it was not until the latter had cleared 5 feet to win the jump in the final contest of the day that there was a decision. Sylvia was upset as New England high jumping queen, but has the balm of dethroning Natalie Welch of the Boston Swimming Association in the fight for honors in the New England A. A. A. broad jumping championship. These two contests were the feature events in the meeting.

Miss Broman cleared 15 feet 7¼ inches while winning the broad jumping title, which was remarkable going in the powdery jumping pit. This same young lady tied for third place in the high jump at 4 feet 9 inches and also was third in the javelin throwing with a toss of 88 feet 4 inches.

Perhaps the outstanding thrill of the afternoon came out of the 100-metre battle, which was won by thread margin by likeable Mary Carew of the Medford Girls' Club. Miss Mary would have won the event hands down had the finish line been at the 75-yard mark, but in the rush for the tape at 100 metres, Miss Stokes showed a lift that brought her in so even with Miss Carew the judges had to do considerable pondering. A tie would not have been an unfair verdict.

The youngsters ran against the wind, which was rather stiff and from the southwest, yet the winning time was 13 seconds, just 2-5 from the New England record. Marie Wendt of the Medford Girls' Club was a good third.

Dee Rowe of the B. S. A. carried off honors in the 100-metre handicap dash and then captured first place in the handicap 50-yard dash. Dorothy Lyford, another B. S. A. entry, triumphed in the 50-yard dash for novices.

Josephine Lally of the B. S. A., with a toss of 224 feet 7 inches, won the baseball throwing event, while Rena MacDonald of the Karhu Club upheld her shot putting honors with a heave of 40 feet 6¾ inches for first place.

By hurling the javelin 123 feet 2¼-inch, Katherine Mearls Rogan nosed out Margaret Proctor of Lunenburg, N. E. champion. Alice Morris of the B. S. A. proved the leader in the discus throwing field and Barbara Howe of East Brookfield leaped 4 feet 7 inches to head the field of novice high jumpers.

8-pound shotput—Won by Rena McDonald (Karhu Club), scratch, distance 40ft. 6¾in.; second, Marie Wickens (Watertown), 38ft. 10in., distance 38ft. 10¾in.; third, Alice Morris (Boston S. A.), 37ft. 9in., distance 37ft. 1in.

N. E. A. A. U. running broad jump championship—Won by Sylvia Broman (Brockton G. C.), distance, 15ft. 7¼in.; second Mabel Broman (Brockton G. C.), distance, 14ft. 12¼in.; third, Margaret Burke (Brockton G. C.), distance 14ft. 1in.

MRS. ROGAN IN TRACK GAMES TOMORROW

Mrs. Katherine Mearls Rogan of Watertown hopes to lift the New England senior javelin throwing championship at the Boston Daily Record and Boston Sunday Advertiser, women's outdoor championship track and field meet in the Fens Stadium tomorrow afternoon.

Sylvia Broman of the Brockton Girls' Club, Margaret Proctor of the Lunenberg Club, Alice Morris, Marge McGlone and Josephine Lally of the Boston Swimming Association are a few of the field stars who will oppose Mrs. Rogan.

Mrs. Rogan will also face Josephine Lally, the present holder of the New England baseball throwing championship, and Lillian Traselt, of Madison, Ct., in the baseball throwing event.

Two national and two New England championships are on the program. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to the first three to finish in the championship events and silver cups for the first three to finish in all of the open events.

Canton Girl Wins Running High, Running Broad Jump and Is Third in Javelin at Norumbega Park

SYLVIA BROMAN

Canton girl, who took the honors at the track meet yesterday at Norumbega Park.

Little Sylvia Broman, the blonde athlete of the Brockton Girls' Athletic Club, living in Canton, carried off the honors in the women's New England A. A. A. U. track and field games held under the auspices of the Boston Swimming Association, at Norumbega Park, yesterday afternoon. It did not seem to make much difference what event little Sylvia went into, she generally was to be found among the winners.

PRESSED BY LOUISE STOKES

To cap her day's climax, the fair representative of the Brockton Girls Athletic Club annexed the running high jump with a leap of 4 feet, 10 inches without turning a hair. Then hardly had her high jumping contest been over than the Canton miss went into the running broad jump and won that event against a strong field with a jump of 16 inches which beat such a strong [illegible] as Katherine Mearls Rogan, [illegible] one of the best jumpers in [illegible]land. But this was not all for [illegible] took a crack at the javelin [illegible] managed to get a third place [illegible] her offerings for the day, [illegible] a third, which led all [illegible] rivals.

Sylvia, however, was closely pressed by Louise Stokes of the Onteora Club of Malden who again proved herself the premier woman sprinter of the New England ranks by copping the 50 yards N. E. A. A. A. U. sprinting championship title and by later winning the 100 yards scratch from another strong field.

While the Brockton Girls A. C. champion easily led in the field events, Louise Stokes led on the track and her running on the cinder path was about the real gilt edge performance of the day. Twice the fleet footed Malden flier swept down the straightaway and each event she won quite handily.

In the 50 yard New England championship event, although penalized a foot by a false start, the speedy Louise defeated Mary Carew, the National 40 yard champion, also Olive Hasenfus of the B. S. A., winner of the title a year ago. Olive was not up to snuff in yesterday's sprint, but it could be easily explained owing to the Needham lass just getting over an operation for appendicitis.

Beats Mary Carew Twice

While Louise only won by inches in the 50-yard championship event from Mary Carew, who defeated the Onteora Club runner just two weeks ago at the Fens Stadium, the Malden girl came back in fine form in the 100-yard event, and left no question about the superiority of Mary Carew and herself over the century distance.

The 100 yards was a corker for about 60 yards, with Mary Carew and Helen McCarthy of the Medford girls slightly leading the way. Then the Malden lass put on full steam and went by both runners as if they were standing still.

Rena MacDonald came through with a record-breaking throw in the discus event when the Boston Swimming Association Hercules hurled the saucer a distance of 95 feet, ½ inch, which broke the old New England record of 93 feet 9 inches. However, Rena will not be allowed the new mark owing to no official circle being in evidence when she made her throw. Katherine Mearls Rogan showed she had lost none of her old-time prowess although now married, for the former champion won her favorite event, the javelin throw, with a throw of 112 feet 10 inches.

Marie Wegener of Winthrop became the New England rolling pin champion when she beat all comers with a throw of 110 feet, while Josephine Lally had the number of all the baseball throwers by throwing the horseshide 218 feet 7 inches, which was more than 14 feet more than her nearest competitor, Ethel O'Brien, of the Boston S. A.

HENIGAN IN FRONT.

Jimmy Henigan led the way in the 15-mile race at the annual Scotch picnic Saturday afternoon at Caledonian Grove, Boston. Up to the last three laps Henigan and Kosit of the Finnish-American Club raced neck and neck. In the last three laps Henigan let loose and set a dizzy pace, winning the race easily. Johnny Miles was a full lap behind Keskl, with Clarence DeMar a half lap behind Miles.

Sylvia Broman of this city won the running high jump event, leaping a large field. Katherine Mearis was third. Katherine Mearis won the standing broad jump, and Mabel Morrissey won the 220-yard dash.

SYLVIA BROMAN JUNIOR TITLIST

Sylvia Broman of this city won the 50-yard junior championship at Caledonian Park in Boston on Monday afternoon. May Ricule of Boston Swimming Club was second. Eunice Larson of Brockton took first place in the junior high jump, Miss Larson jumped 4 feet, 8 inches. Sylvia Broman and Helen Hammersley were tied for second.

SYLVIA BROMAN AND MARY CAREW SHINE

Despite the gigantic Magill heave laurels in the women's events easily belonged to Mary Carew and Sylvia Broman. The last-named from the Brockton Girls' A. C., won two first places and a second to boot. Miss Carew was first and second in the sprints.

Sylvia took the 50-yard handicap sprint in 6 3-5 seconds and also won the running high jump with a leap of 4 feet 5 inches. The young woman was in great form and grabbed a second in the 100-yard handicap, being close enough to Mary Carew, the winner, to cause the judges bother.

We really were impressed by the racing of Leo Lermond. You know it is quite a stunt to run a mile around 4:25 any day and yet Lermond, who is training for the 5000-metre test in the stadium, reeled off the distance yesterday as if he was out for a stroll. Harry Cutbill started from the honor mark with him but lacked the stamina to sprint in the home lane. Julius Gilbert the B. A. A. 3000-metre steeplechaser, got second place from Harry 30 yards from home. Lermond's sprint in the final lap carried him home 50 yards in front of Gilbert.

Smith ran a very steady two miles, eating up the field before a mile was run and coming home as he pleased in racing fashion. Both Lermond and Smith finished with plenty of running.

MISS BROMAN ENTERED.

Sylvia Broman of this city will jump in the Scottish Clan games at Caledonian Grove, Labor day. The fans will watch with interest the duel between Miss Broman and Helen Hammersley of the Boston Swimming Club. Miss Hammersly won the junior high jump New England championship at Lynn a few weeks ago.

CLOSE HIGH JUMP DUEL BY GIRLS FOR CLAN MEET

Followers of women's athletics are looking forward with interest to the coming high jump competition between Helen Hammersley of the Boston Swimming Association and Sylvia Broman of the Brockton Girls' A. C. in the Scottish Clan games, to be held in Caledonian Grove, Labor Day.

The two girls battled in the recent games at Lynn and seldom has a closer fight been seen among girl athletes than was furnished upon that occasion. Each believes she can win Monday. Miss Hammersley won the New England junior high jump title at the Lynn meet.

The 100-yard handicap dash is expected to be a thriller, with three of the speediest women track performers in this section competing. They are: Olive Hasenfus of Needham, a member of the American Olympic team; Pansy Maderia, Ex-Canadian champ, and Mabel Morrissey of Middleboro.

Relay teams from the Medford Girls' A. C., Brockton A. C., Employers' Liability and the Boston Swimming Association will fight for honors in another event.

Two New England junior champions will compete against Rena MacDonald, national and New England senior champion, in the shotput. The junior titlists are Lillian Dennen of the Medford Girls' A. C., the indoor ruler, and Mae Magill of the Boston Swimming Association, the outdoor champion.

COMPETE AT LYNN

Sylvia Broman of the Brockton Girls' A. C. copped two prizes in the N. E. A. A. U. championship track events held at Lynn yesterday. She finished second in the running high jump and third in the eight-pound shotput among senior girls.

C. A. Kenton Farrell of the local Y. M. C. A. track team took a second in the 100-yard dash, handicap. Farrell had the lowest handicap among the winners.

WOMEN'S TRACK MEET

In the women's track meet, a Brockton girl, Sylvia Broman, won the N. E. A. A. U. junior high jump championship. Miss Broman showed a lot of class and her win was a popular one. In the 100-yard N. E. A. A. U. championship for juniors, Dorothea Muilane of Medford won the event by a hair over her sister Eleanor.

Margaret Burke, Sylvia Broman Continue to Win

Win Several Places at Boston Meet Saturday —Miss Burke Gets One First Place Prize.

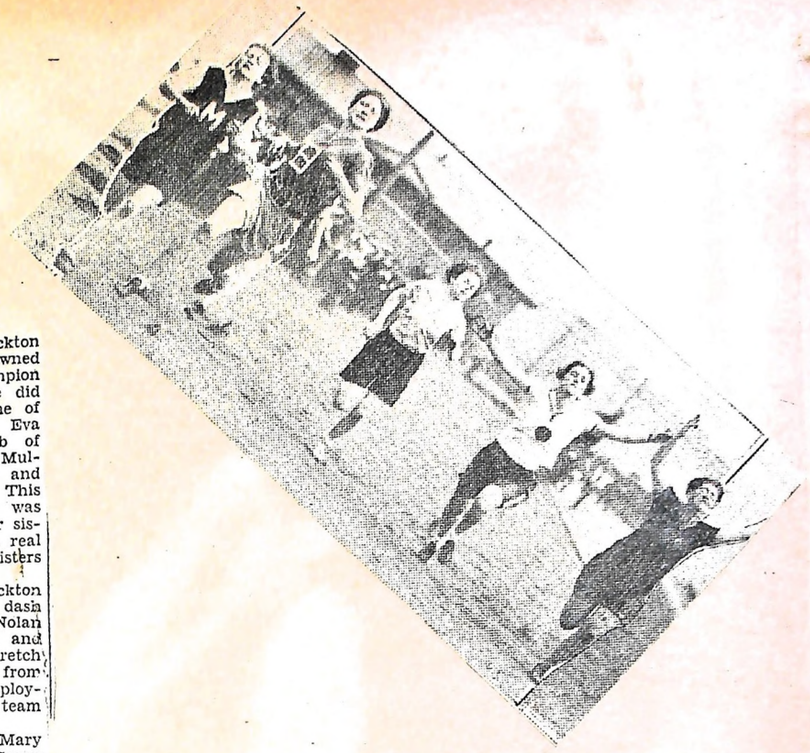

Sylvia Broman and Margaret Burke, both of the Brockton Girls' A. C., won several places in the women's track and field meet at the Fens stadium, Boston, Saturday.

Miss Broman, who resides in North Easton, was second in the National A. A. U. junior running broad jump championship and Miss Burke came in third in the same even. Natalie Welsh, Boston Swimming association, was the winner of the event with a leap of 16 feet seven inches.

In the N. E. A. A. A. U. senior javelin throw championship Miss Broman took third place. Mrs. Katherine Mearis Rogan, Medford Girls' A. C., won the event with a throw of 114 feet.

In the running high jump Miss Broman took third place. Miss Burke was the winner of the discus throw, scratch, event. Her distance was 109 feet, four inches.

Both girls have been winning at many meets in this district during the past summer and are now ranked among New England's leading track and field stars.

Miss Broman Wins Title.

Sylvia Broman of the Brockton Girls' Athletic team was crowned the New England A. A. U. champion in the broad jump, when she did 15 feet 7 inches. This was one of the popular wins of the day. Eva Henry of Onteora Girls' Club of Malden, was second. Dorothea Mullane won the 100-yard dash and N. E. A. A. U. championship. This young lady from Medford was pushed hard to the tape by her sister, Eleanor. The race was a real family affair, with the two sisters leading the field.

Grace Nolan of the Brockton Girls' Club won the 50-yard dash for novice racers. Miss Nolan showed the fastest heat time, and in the final came down the stretch like a deer, winning easily from Thelma MacFadden of the Employers' Liability Insurance track team of Boston.

In the open 50-yard dash, Mary Carew took first place. Miss Carew is the New England indoor 40-yard champion. She beat Miss Katherine Mearls last winter for the title. Pansy Madieria of the Boston Swimming Club was second, beating her teammate, Mabel Morrissey, for the position by inches. The latter is one of the most popular runners that comes to Brockton, and her many friends were disappointed in seeing her lose, but the clever flyer showed her speed in the relay race by running anchor and overcoming a lead that the other girls had.

Lillian Hammerseley, the New England Junior champion high jumper, won the high jump event, with Sylvia Broman second. Miss Hammerseley goes over the bar like a real jumper. It was a delight to the large crowd to watch this young lady take the bar so gracefully. Virginia Bomerth of Onteora Club took first place. This young lady was giving the two leaders a fine go, but she took an ugly tumble and had to drop out at 4 feet 5 inches.

Alice Morris won the discus throw with 81 feet 9 inches. Miss Mae Magill, another Boston swimming girl, was only eight inches behind her teammate. Florence Belevich, who won the event last year, looked on with regret that she had not entered the event. Last year she made over 90 feet. Margaret Proctor, with 105 feet and 9 inches, won the javelin throw. This young lady from Lunenberg was in a class by herself in this event. Mae Magill of Boston was second with a throw of 76 feet 4 1-2 inches.

Boston Swimming team won the relay with Employers' Liability Insurance Co., in second place; Brockton was third.

Making History

Again Brockton and district reads of the success of two young women who have made athletic history during the past few months.

Sylvia Broman and Margaret Burke, entered in track and field meets under the colors of the Brockton Girls' A. C. always seem to be able to cop a few first, second or third places.

Saturday in a Boston meet Miss Burke got a first place and a third. Miss Broman, a North Easton girl, got a second in a national championship, a third in a N. E. A. A. A. U. title event and another third.

They are making history for Brockton and district and are rapidly gaining national recognition.

SYLVIA BROMAN, BROCKTON, WINNING THE HIGH JUMP AT FRANKLIN FIELD

OLIVE HASENFUS DEPRIVED OF WELL-EARNED RECORD

Wins N. E. A. A. A. U. 220-Yard Crown In 25 2-5s But Only Two Timers Clock Race—Three Other Marks Go

By JERRY NASON

With three records officially scribbled into the books and a fourth mark putting to shame its predecessor although not officially recognized, the Boston Park Department women's outdoor track and field gathering at Franklin Field yesterday afternoon not only found an entry list studded with stars, but was one of the greatest meets of its kind ever conducted in this section.

Track and field shared alike in record-shattering feats, for marks were broken in the 100-meter dash, the N. E. A. A. U. 220-yard run, the baseball throw, and the N. E. A. A. A. U. junior running broad jump by Louise Stokes of Onteora Club, Malden; Olive Hasenfus, diminutive Boston Swimming Association grayhound; Lillian Tusselt of Madison, Conn; and Natalie Welsh, a Newton girl representing Boston S. A.

There was a little girl out there yesterday who turned in the greatest afternoon of running any local girl has ever displayed and failure to allow her a record rightly hers was the only regrettable instance of the day. The girl is Olive Hasenfus of the B. S. A. When she breezed home in the N. E. A. A. A. U. 220-yard sprint in 25 2-5s she sliced just 2 1-5s off the old mark of 27 3-5s made by Florence McDonald of the B. S. A. July 4, 1929.

It was a title race, but someone blundered and only two watches were held on the little speedster and her crackling run does not go on the ledger as a record. One of these clocks caught Miss Hasenfus in 25 1-5s and the other in 25 2-5s.

Miss Stokes First, Second

This was one of the real duels of of the day, for the smooth-striding B. S. A. entry was opposed by Louise Stokes, the brilliant Negro miss from Malden, who had just raced to a new record in the 100-meter dash. Catherine Carew of the Medford Girls' A. C. was the other starter. They broke from the gun on even terms and halfway out Miss Stokes was holding a scant lead, with both she and Olive Hasenfus picking up fast. Twenty yards from the fluttering worsted the Boston runner uncorked a torrid kick and led her Malden rival by four yards, with Miss Carew 10 yards in the rear.

Miss Hasenfus recently annexed the N. E. A. A. A. U. 50-yard dash title in a close brush with Miss Stokes and yesterday was defending her 220-yard crown won a year ago.

The Onteora Club speedster breezed through in dazzling style to lick the field in the 100-meter sprint and set up a new New England mark of 12 4-5s. She slid through with five yards to spare over Marie Wendt of Medford and eclipsed the 13 1-5s mark made by Catherine Mearls of B. S. A. in 1928.

Natalie Welsh of the B. S. A. leaped to a new N. E. A. A. A. U. junior mark in the running broad jump when she outclassed her field with a 13ft 17½in effort. This record-jarring jump came with her first attempt and bettered by one-half inch the previous mark made by Sylvia Broman in 1929.

Baseball Throw Mark Ruined

The third official mark to be sent to obscurity was the baseball throwing record and a sun-bronzed, sturdy-armed miss from 'way down in Madison, Conn, Lillian Tusselt, cast the horsehide straight into a stiff breeze. The Hand High School girl winged the ball to the 218ft 5in marker to eclipse anything in the way of records for this event in New England feminine circles. The old mark was 224 feet, made in 1930 by Laura Sullivan of the B. S. A., who did not compete yesterday.

The Connecticut girl, who was graduated this year from Hand High School, Madison, did not take advantage of her final throw. Her closest competitor was Josephine Lally, a 14-year-old miss who was throwing a baseball in competition for the first time.

The 440-yard relay was a hummer, with the B. S. A. team A landing just one-fifth of a second behind the record held by Medford. Although B. S. A. team B and the Maccabee Club were also entered, the race was between Medford G. A. C. and B. S. A. team A. Anna Catarius, lead-off for Boston, was opposed by Marie Wendt. The latter got a poor start, but they were even when Olive Hasenfus took up the battle against Catherine Carew, and it was all over then, for Olive opened up a 15-yard gap that never was closed. The summary:

50-Yard Dash, Limited to Residents of Boston 15 Years and Under—Won by Anna Catarius, B. S. A.; Alice Curran, South Boston, second; Jennie Guarino, East Boston, third. Time, 7 3-5s.

SYLVIA BROMAN, BROCKTON

LOUISE STOKES WINS N. E. HIGH JUMP TITLE

Malden Girl Also Places Second To Mary Carew in 100 Meters To Keep Curley Trophy

By NANCY BRADLEE

Louise Stokes, Negro athlete extraordinary of the Cutecra Club, Malden, retained the Mayor James M. Curley Trophy for the outstanding performer of the annual women's track meet conducted by the Boston Park Department yesterday at the Fens Stadium, by winning the New England running high jump title and running a close second to Mary Carew in the open 100-meter race to score eight points.

SYLVIA BROMAN

These two were easily the most interesting on the program of 11 events which attracted a crowd of about 1500 to the Back Bay "desert."

Miss Carew took an early lead in the 100-meter event and managed to cling to it, although the Malden flash came strong in the last 50 yards to finish only a hair behind.

The title high jump was the last event of the day. Miss Stokes was matched against Sylvia Broman, defending champion; Helen Phillips, National junior titleholder indoors, and Ethel O'Brien of the Boston Swimming Association, who tied with Miss Broman for second in the National junior championship. The latter and Miss O'Brien dropped out at 4ft 8in to tie for third. Miss Stokes cleared the bar at 5ft on her third try while Miss Phillips was unable to do better than 4ft 11in.

Miss Lyford Wins Sprint

Dorothy E. Lyford of Spencer, who became the sensation of the indoor season when she set a new world record to win the national junior standing broad-jump championship, easily won the 50-yard novice dash, turning in the remarkably good time of 6 2-5 seconds in a heat. She was forced to run three heats and decided not to compete in the N. E. A. A. U. running broad jump, which was subsequently swept by the Brockton Girls' Club.

Sylvia Broman, who was second to Miss Stokes in the Curley Cup competition, won the broad jump, while her sister, Mabel, was second and Margaret Burke third. Mrs Albert Rogan of Watertown, who, as Katherine Mearls, held several New England championships at one time, won the javelin throw by a 10-foot margin over Margaret Proctor of Lunenberg.

Olive Hasenfus of Needham returned to competition and won a heat in the handicap 50-yard sprint, but her handicap proved too much for her to overcome and she was shut out in the semifinals. Dee Rowe, Boston Swimming Association, with a handicap of four feet, won this event and also the handicap 100-meter sprint.

Miss Lally Barely Wins

Josephine Lally, Boston Swimming Association, who is New England champion in the baseball throw, was given quite a battle in that event by Ethel O'Brien. Miss Lally's best toss was 224ft 6in, while Miss O'Brien was less capable by only four feet.

Miss Lyford's time of 6 2-5s for the 50-yard distance, Rena MacDonald's heave of 40ft 6½in with the eight-pound shot and the performance of Alice Norris, Boston Swimming Association, who won the discus throw with a toss of 101ft 9in, would seem the most interesting from the point of view of prospects for the United States Olympic team, which was one object of the meet. The summary:

A Great Performance

A group of prize ladies is making a name for Brockton and district by splendid performances at track meets.

Leading the group which runs under the colors of the Brockton Girls' A. C. is Sylvia Broman of North Easton. This young lady on Sunday won the N. E. A. A. U. championship in the running broad jump by leaping a distance of 17 feet 7½ inches. Quite a performance in itself, but she didn't stop at that. She stepped over the bar in the N. E. A. A. U. running high jump championship event at a distance of four feet nine inches to tie for third place. Then in the javelin throw she garnered another third place for a pretty good day's work.

She performed brilliantly and was runner up to the girl who won the James M. Curley Trophy and had she got one second place in either the running high jump or the javelin throw she would have tied for high total of points and the cup.

Incidentally Brockton seems to have all the broad jumpers there are in New England for all three places in the championship event in which the best women athletes of the New England states took part were won by girls of the Brockton Girls' A. C. Sylvia Broman, sister of Sylvia, was right behind her younger sister and Margaret Burke of Brockton was in third place.

But there were other Brockton girls in the meet who made their presence known. Evelyn Stansfield got second place in the novice running high jump. Barbara Smith of Brockton was third with a toss of over 4½ feet in the baseball throw and Margaret Burke was second in the discus throw and third in the 50 yard dash handicap.

A really remarkable showing for any one group of girls in a meet where the best women athletes gathered. They are deserving of a full amount of praise and are sure to bring added honors to Brockton and district.

It is quite possible that Sylvia Broman will be given a chance for the Olympic women's team. She has performed remarkably for the past few years and is getting a wide reputation as an athlete.

GIRL STARS IN TITLE GAMES

By NEMO FUCILE

With outdoor track quickly winding its way towards the end of the season there is time but for one more great meet to close an outstanding year in this sport. The final sport classic will be a championship track and field carnival for women of New England and will be sponsored by the Boston Daily Record and Boston Sunday Advertiser at the Fens Stadium, September 17.

This schedule includes two national and two New England champion events, also six open and one invitation events.

Dot Lyford, the 16-year-old Spencer High School athlete and holder of the world's standing broad jump title, will attempt to shatter another record when she competes against Helen Phillips, Natlie Welch, Mary and Sylvia Broman, both of the Brockton Girls' Club, for the national junior running broad jump championship.

RECORD IS EXPECTED

In the national junior 100-yard dash championship many of New England's leading women runners have already made their entries. With Olive Hasenfus, winner of the national 220-yard championship; Louise Stokes, representative of the United States Olympic relay team; Dee Rowe, Helen Keller, of the Medford Girls' Club, and Helen McCarthy, also of the same organization, entered it is almost sure that a new record will be established.

Another event which should furnish a great deal of interest and competition is the New England senior javelin throw championship. Among those to compete are Misses Josephine Lally, and Alice Morris, both of the B. S. A., Margaret Burke of Brockton, Beatrice Manchester of the Lunenburg Club and Margaret Proctor.

The New England junior running high jump which is the final of the championship events has scheduled among its entrants, Miss Louise Stokes, of the Onteora Club in Malden. Miss Stokes, who recently returned from California was one of Uncle Sam's leading representatives on the Olympic relay team and now this young lady looms as the leading contender for this title.

DEE ROWE, of the Boston Swimming Association, is another entrant in the junior national 100-yard dash championship

PRETTY Miss Sylvia Broman, of the Brockton Girls' Club, is one of the many young ladies entered in the New England running broad jump championship.

SEVEN OTHER EVENTS

The remainder of this schedule includes seven other events which are open for the women of New England. They are the 50, 100 and 220 yards dashes, 50 yards handicap, discus throw, baseball throw and the running high jump.

Entered in the baseball throw is a young lady who comes all the way from Connecticut, Miss Lillian Tresslet, of the Hand Consolidated school. Miss Tresslet was here last summer and broke the New England record which was formerly held by Miss Josephine Lally of the B. S. A.

Registration blanks may be procured from Frank J. Facey, 26 Prospect st., Cambridge. With the entries closing tomorrow we again remind you to send them in as early as possible to the Girls' Track Meet Editor, P. O. Box 2228, Boston, Mass.

Sylvia Broman Is New England Champ

Miss Broman's jump was 15 feet, 7 1-4 inches. She represented the Brockton Girls' A. C. Miss Broman was second in the championship high jump, Miss Louise Stroke of Malden taking first.

Mabel Broman, a sister to Sylvia, was second in the broad jump, with Margaret "Peggy" Burke in third place.

In the non-title events, Sylvia Broman took third in the javelin throw; Margaret Burke was second in the discus throw with 100 feet, 8 1-2 inches, four inches behind the winner. The same star from Brockton came in third in the 50-yard dash handicap.

Mrs. Katherine Mearls Rogan, holder of the New England javelin throwing championship, will defend her crown against Alice Morris, Marge McGlone and Josephine Lally of the Boston Swimming Association and Sylvia Broman of Brockton.

Although Mrs. Rogan, who held several New England and national titles at one time, is the favorite, she will face an athlete with plenty of ability, in Alice Morris.

The first three athletes to finish in all of the title events will be awarded the regulation gold, silver and bronze medal, and the first three to flash over the line in all of the other events will be given silver cups.

The track in the stadium is in excellent condition for the big meet. Charles Hogan, deputy park commissioner, and his men have everything ready for the big crowd that will watch the series.

Record Baseball Throw by Girl, 19

Miss Lillian Trisselt of Madison, Conn., Stars at Women's City Meet at Franklin Field

BY ARTHUR DUFFEY

Miss Lillian Trisselt, a stockily built 19-year-old graduate of the Hand High School of Madison, Conn., was easily the star performer in the annual women's outdoor track and field meet held under the auspices of the park department of the city of Boston at Franklin Field yesterday afternoon.

MAKES NEW RECORD

The fair Lillian was only graduated from high school last week. She was on her way to spend her vacation in New Hampshire. Learning there was an open meet for girls at the local track, she just dropped off, accompanied by Superintendent Baldwin of the Hand High School, to compete in the baseball throwing event. Not only did she defeat all the local athletes without difficulty, but created a New England baseball throwing record by hurling the horsehide 248 feet, 6 inches.

Grasping the baseball in regular big league fashion and with a windup that would be a credit to a Dazzy Vance or a George Earnshaw, Miss Trisselt handled the ball like a veteran. Her feat was all the more remarkable when it is considered that she made her throw against a slight wind and had been suffering from an injured tendon in her arm. She was advised not to do any throwing on her vacation, but passing through Boston she simply could not resist [illegible]ration.

Greatest Throw Ever Seen Here

Miss Trisselt made only a couple of throws. Her first went more than 238 feet, which easily would have won the prize for her. Then she took one more throw. High up in the air the ball went and when it landed and was measured it beat her first throw and was found to be a record for New England, 248 feet, 6 inches. The Madison girl's throw was easily the greatest ever seen in New England and compared favorably with the national record of 279 feet held by a lass in Texas. If conditions had been right yesterday, the Hand High School girl would easily have beaten the national A. A. U. record.

Two New England records and one junior mark were established in the games yesterday. Besides Miss Trisselt's mark in the baseball throwing event, Louise Stokes of the Onteora A. C., Malden, created a New England 100-meter record when she copped the sprint in the fast time of 12 4-5 seconds. Getting away to a rather slow start, the long-limbed Atalanta came through in fine fashion and easily defeated Marie Wendt of the Medford Girls A. C. and Natalie Welch of the B. S. A. with yards to spare. Louise's time was the fastest ever done in New England for that distance. It lowered the former record of 13 1-5 seconds made by Katherine Mearls on the same track in 1928.

Fast Sprint by Olive Hasenfuss

Little Natalie Welch was the other record breaking performer in the Junior N. E. A. A. U. event. Natalie showed regular championship prospects by clearing 15 feet, 7⅞ inches, in the running broad jump which beat the former mark of Sylvia Broman of the Brockton Girls' A. C. by ½ an inch, made in 1929.

Olive Hasenfuss also put up a fine performance in the senior New England 220-yard championship event, but little Olive had to keep moving all the time as Louise Stokes who won the 100 metre event was on her heels all the way and forced Olive to run 25 2-5 seconds. Unofficially it was a record performance for the best 220 yards ever done in the event in New England before was when Florence McDonald of the B. S. A. ran the distance in 27 3-5 seconds, July 1929. Unfortunately Ben Levias and his corps of assistants did not have official timers, or not enough timers or whatever it was on the job. Accordingly Miss Hasenfuss will be deprived of a New England record.

Rena MacDonald competing unattached, as usual, showed she had lost none of her former skill with the shot and discus for she won both of these events without the least trouble. Rena was the only double winner of the day. Miss MacDonald, like Miss Trisselt also, was only getting over an injured knee up, but Rena managed to win her events just the same.

Sylvia Broman of the Brockton Girls' A. C. won the running high jump with a leap of 4 feet, 8½ inches, while in the javelin throw Margaret Proctor defeated Beatrice Manchester and Madeline Francoeur when the Brockton girl hurled the spear a distance of 99 feet, 6 inches.

Women Track Titlists Crowned in Meet at Hub "Y" Last Night

...with the ... to see ... bird, ... eye ... who won national junior titles at the women's indoor track meet under the auspices of the N. E. A. A. A. U. last night at the Boston Y. M. C. A.. Left to right, Marie Wegener, German visitor and N. E. Junior shotput champion, who annexed the junior national title; in the middle, Dorothy E. Lyford, Spencer youngster who established a new world's record standing broad jump is shown as she leaped to the new mark winning a national crown; and on the right is Helen Philips of Boston Swimming Association, N. E. outdoor champion in the high jump who won the national junior title in her favorite event.

14-Year-Old Girl Sets World Mark

Appearing in her second local meet the new record holder, who is a sophomore at David Prouty High in Spencer Mass., and a member of the B. S. A., catapulted through the air to a mark of 8 feet, 6 3-16 inches, to break the American record made by Louise Stokes of Malden last December and the world's record established by Miss Holladay of England in 1927 and equalled by Miss Stokes, in the outstanding performance of a meet that crowned three national junior champions.

Other national junior title winners were Marie Wegener, New England junior champ and fourth place winner in the national senior event, who hurled the iron ball 35 feet, 10½ inches, to make a new mark for the event, and Helen Phillips of Medford and Boston Swimming Association, who scissored over the bar at 4 feet, 11 inches, which, as in the case of all junior records, makes a new mark.

Sensation of Evening

Without any question the sensational performance of the unassuming Dorothy Lyford was the climax of the evening. A product of the coaching of her father, Harry L. Lyford, and her high school coach, Ed McDonough, the light-haired 14-year-older came within an ace of equalling the record on her first jump when she fell short by less than an inch. On her second attempt, Miss Lyford, who had been heralded as the dark horse of the meet, kicked through the air to the new mark and to show that it was no fluke in her third jump she almost equalled the former mark.

Miss Margaret Burke, Brockton youngster, stepped through two fast fields to become the double winner of the dash trophies when she jumped the field in the Class B 40-yard dash and then followed that with a brilliant burst of speed in the Class C. dash to finish in front with light showing. The time of the last race was a fifth of a second slower than the time of the open special dash which Mary Carew of Medford, leading sprinter of New England, won in a flying finish over the cream of local speedsters.

Little Helen McCarty of Medford Girls A. C. after a slow start almost caught the fleeing Miss Carew to beat out Marie Wendt also of Medford shutting out of the prize money such racers as Louise Stokes, Rena McDonald and Helen Keller.

Rena Shines in Shot

One of the most noteworthy showings of the night was that made by Rena McDonald of Karhu Club, holder of the world's record in the discus throw, who won the invitation shot put with a heave of 38 feet, 1½ inches, with Marie Wegener and Josephine Lally in second and third place, respectively. In the novice class, Miss Miriam Nelson of New Bedford showed her heels to a large group of youngsters in the 40-yard dash, when she led all the way from the gun in the final heat to nose out Esther Quandt of Atlanta Club and Marion Weatherbee of Brockton.

Winner of a third place in the Class B dash, Marion Weatherbee came through with a real trophy when she plowed through the field in the first heat of the Class C sprint to win that race easily.

In the final Miss Margaret Burke just barely eked out the win over Dee Rowe of the Boston Swimming Association and Miss Weatherbee.

Louise Stokes Second

Another B. S. A. speedster came into her own in the 30-yard dash when Hazel Hubley broke the tape beating out Miriam Nelson of New Bedford and Patricia O'Brien of B. S. A. in a close battle all the way.

In the national events Miss Stokes was second in the standing broad jump, with Mary Carew third, while Alice Morris and Margaret Tierney gathered consolation honors in the shot put. Patricia O'Brien and Sylvia Broman forced Miss Phillips to [illegible] honors in ... Blomerth it.

The summary:

HENIGAN WINNER IN 10-MILE RACE

"Smiling Jimmy" Has Lap on Collins in Scots' Games Feature, Koski Is 4th---Kanaly Nails Scott Mile

HIGH SOARING SYLVIA

Sylvia Breman, Brockton Girls' Club, is shown winning the high jump in the annual Scotch games at Caledonian Grove yesterday afternoon.

BY ARTHUR DUFFEY

Thrilling a crowd of more than 4000 spectators by his final sprint, "Smiling" Jimmy Henigan of the Medford A. A. romped in an easy winner of the Scotch 10-mile special at the 78th annual games of the Boston Caledonian Club, held at Caledonian Grove, West Roxbury, yesterday afternoon.

It was Smiling Jimmy's 16th entrance in the annual Scotch event and his third triumph, and in spite of his long inning in the running game he never showed a better 10-mile performance than in yesterday's race.

WINS BY A LAP

Cheered to the echo by the many Scottish followers, Jimmy circled the local course like a veritable Man-o-War and won by more than a lap over his nearest competitor, a club mate, E. Collins of the Medford A. A. Henigan covered the distance in the fast time of 56 minutes, 31 4-5 seconds. Finishing second to Henigan was Collins more than 220 yards behind. Albert Whitey Michelsen of the Millrose A. A., New York, was next in line almost two laps in the rear. Karl Koski, the "Flying Finn" of the Finnish-American A. A., New York, and thought by many to beat Henigan for the premier prize could do no better than finish fourth while Leslie Pawson of the Pawtucket Y. M. C. A. and Ted Lowson running unattached finished in the order named.

The Boston Caledonian Club 10-mile race has always brought out the finest field of distance runners but none any better than this year. There were some 30 odd starters called to the mark by Clerk of Course Billy McVicar. Henigan was given a fine introduction as he toed the line as was Whitey Michelsen and Koski all B. A. A. Marathon favorites. At the crack of the gun all were off like a flock of scared sheep. For the first few miles Henigan, Koski and Michelsen were content to play a waiting game and allowed the rest of the under strappers to set a killing pace. Finding the pace not to his liking Henigan then stepped into the lead closely followed by his club mate Collins while Michelsen and Koski were not far behind. This order remained the same until they came into the fifth mile. Then Henigan began to go away from his field and coming into the sixth mile was nearly a lap ahead of all comers.

Order at 5 Miles

At this distance the time given out was 33 minutes, 5 seconds with Henigan in front with a good lead while Collins, Michelsen, Leslie Pawson, Ted Lawson, and F. McCune, also from Medford, were the order of the other runners.

From this point it was simply a case of how much Henigan would win by. Running with a fine machine-like stride and the same that thrilled thousands along the B. A. A. Marathon course last April 19, Henigan never faltered as he set out to wind up his final mile. Both Michelsen and Koski did their utmost to try and win back some of the lost ground, but it was in vain. Jimmy, with the same broad smile on his face, finally crossed the line an easy winner and rushed over to the dressing room as the other runners finished their racing.

Paul Kanaly of Belmont, son of Frank Kanaly, the Yale trainer, came through with another well-earned victory in the Walter Scott mile, one of the other real features of the Scotch games. Kanaly won just as impressively in the Scott mile as Henigan did in the modified Marathon jaunt. There were only five starters in the Scott mile—a small field, but true and tried.

The runners who reported were Paul Kanaly, New England champion; Brendan Moynahan, Boston College track team captain-elect; Les Flaksman of the Maccabees, a former Harvard runner; John O'Brien, Boston Y. M. C. A., and Marshall R. Kingsbury, the former Moses Brown High School champion runner.

Outdistances Rival

Of course, the race centred in Kanaly and Moynahan, owing to the hair raiser they ran at the New England championships a week ago when Kanaly won by a scant yard. But Moynahan was not in Kanaly's class yesterday, for the Belmont champion won by more than 25 yards.

Young Kingsbury was the first to get away at the start. He held the lead for the first half. The Providence lad was followed by Flaksman and Kanaly while O'Brien and Moynahan were yards to the rear. Kanaly allowed Kingsbury to keep the lead until coming to the three quarters distance. Then stepping out like a real three-year-old the Belmont lad with one of the most beautiful strides ever seen on a track took command of the situation and just lobbed away from the field. Coming around the final corner Kingsbury and Flaksman began to weaken while Moynahan moved up. In the final scramble Moynahan passed the both of these runners while Kingsbury beat out the ex-Harvard miler for third place. The time was 4 minutes, 33 4-5 seconds—not so bad for the Caledonian track.

George Plansky was another one of the star performers of the day and incidentally the only double winner in the field events. The brother of the great Tony landed the running broad jump with a leap of 23 feet, 8¾ inches to beat Al Bogan of the New Departure and in addition he copped the 16-pound shot event with a heave of 48 feet, 1½ inches. Leo Sexton was entered in the shot but for some unforeseen reason failed to show up.

Surprises Talent

Norman Wolford a Franklin High School junior proved to be the winner of the 100-yard handicap and also finished third in the 220-yard run. Young Wolford showed some of the finest sprinting ever seen on the local track. He came to the meet unknown, so much so that he was conceded a five-yard handicap. But he proved to be the best sprinter and looked as if he could have won from scratch. When he romped home in his heat in such easy fashion with some five yards to spare the officials began to shake their heads. They thought he must have been a "sleeper."

But Young Wolford followed up his fine work in the final by winning by at least three yards from Alfred Hicks, who had a two yard handicap, and Joe Healey, the scratch man. Wolford's time was 9 4-5 seconds, the fastest that has been recorded at the track for many years. Arthur Jannell, the Lynn High school boy, did not run, as he pulled a tendon in the New Englands, last week.

Arthur Russell of the Olympia A. C., running off the 220 yard mark on the quarter mile, won over Ernest Pollister, St. Pius Club, Lynn, in another real duel, while W. Scott McFetridge defeated Dennis Daugherty of the Blue Hill Club for premier honors in the half mile.

Henry Forsyth of the Boston Caledonian Club again proved himself the best tossing caber thrower. Fred Klauer showed that he was the best hop, step and jumper by clearing 47 feet, 5 inches, in the three jumps.

In the girls' events, Ruth Mary Carew and Olive Hasenfus, both former champions, had their troubles winning brackets in their favorite events. Margaret Tierney of the Boston Swimming Association landed the 100 yard handicap off the four yard mark, while in the 50 yard handicap Lillian Stelfox was too fleet for the other girl speedsters and won by a few feet over Miss Goodman of the Medford Girls' Club. Sylvia Breman of the Brockton Girls' A. C. leaped 4 feet, 6 inches, to win the high jump for the ladies, while the Medford Girls' Club had the fastest relay team, Mary Carew, Katherine Carew, Helen McCarthy and Marie Wendt, to down their rivals, the Boston Swimming Association, in the 440 yard relay race.

NEW WOMEN'S DASH CHAMPION NEVER FEARS HER COMPETITORS

Mary Carew of Medford, Who Won National A. A. U. 40-Yard Crown, Natural Athlete

By FORD SAWYER

A little, blue-eyed, auburn-haired girl of 15 years, who runs races because she loves it and who has no such thing in her mind as fear of competitors—such is Miss Mary Carew, dash star of the Medford Girls' A. C. and National A. A. U. 40-yard champion.

Few who witnessed her sensational race in the Boston Garden last Saturday night, when she beat national as well as sectional title-holders to gain new laurels, realized what sacrifice, what tiring efforts the girl went through to achieve her success, so remarkable in that her nation-wide recognition was gained in about nine months of competition.

Two miles of walking from her home on Lyman av to Dilboy Field, Somerville, where the girls practice, and two miles trudging back again after the practice, this is what Miss Carew has been forced to endure in her steady climb to the pinnacle of success. This is what all the Medford girls have done during the past nine months, which makes all the more merited the honors which they brought upon themselves and their club by their efforts in New England and national competition.

Mary is a normal, healthy young woman, unused to the adulation and the head-turning flattery. She is perhaps a little bit frightened by the fame which her recent feat has gained for her.

She is naturally mighty happy, but she has little to say regarding her recent triumph, going about her daily routine of school duties, of athletic training and her play just as though nothing of an unusual nature had happened.

Coach Eddie Pidgeon, who is responsible for the founding and development of the club, and to whom all give credit for the brilliant records of the girls, says that Mary is one of the finest young women in the organization.

"She has the right mental attitude," declares Coach Pidgeon. "She doesn't consider who is in the race with her. She just goes in and does her best. If Charley Paddock were on the mark with her, she would be the same."

Mary had natural ability when she first reported to Coach Pidgeon early one day last May, but she had faults to correct. She didn't get off the mark quick enough and she had what is called a "chin lift." But Mr Pidgeon worked with her carefully and steadily and the girl responded willingly to his teaching. She appreciated his efforts and she tried her hardest to profit by the instruction.

She won two first places in her first meet, held at Franklin Field, Dorchester, in June, and on another occasion she captured three first places, in a meet held in her own home city. During the past Winter she won her first New England title, a junior championship, for standing broad jump.

In her nine months of competition she has won 14 cups, besides other prizes emblematic of placing in her events. She has beaten both of New England's running stars who went to the Olympics, Olive Hasenfus and Florence MacDonald, besides Mabel Morrissey, another fleet runner. Now she has beaten Katherine Mearls and taken from her the national crown.

Mary is an all-round athlete. She played forward on her sophomore class basket-ball team at Medford High School. She was a substitute for the first field hockey team at the school.

She lives with her cousin, Katherine Carew, a teammate on the Medford Girls' A. C. She is a good student in school.

MARY CAREW STAR IN LYNN MEET

Medford Girl Is Double Winner in Sprint Events

Mary Carew, a 15-year-old Medford high school sophomore, wearing the colors of the Medford Girls' Club, was the star performer in the first athletic meet for women ever staged in Lynn. It was held yesterday by the General Electric Employes A. A. and the meet served as the dedicatory event for the new cinder track.

Miss Carew won both the 50 and 100-yard dashes in fast times. Rena MacDonald, the world champion woman shot putter, failed to place in her favorite event. She would have been forced to break her own record made recently in Chicago to come out on top.

Katherine Mearls of Boston won this event with an actual put of 35 feet, 5¼ inches. Her seven-foot handicap gave her 42 feet, 5¼ inches.

Miss MacDonald's mark for yesterday was 38 feet 3½ inches. The high jump for girls was a close battle between Sylvia Broman of Brockton A. C. and Helen Hammersly of Boston Swimming Association, both jumping from scratch with the Brockton girl winning with a mark of 4 feet 10 inches, just one-half inch over Miss Hammersly's best jump.

William C. Zepp of Worcester, formerly of South High of that city and now a clerk with the Grattan Knight Company, won the five-mile race, the feature of the open events for men athletes. He had a handicap of 240 yards. William T. Simons of Dorchester Club, was the second to cross the finish line. He was about 100 yards behind the leader, and only a few strides behind was Jimmy Henigan of Dorchester Club, the scratch man.

There was the usual confusion that goes with running a distance event on a small track, several of the runners felt that they had completed the required number of laps, only to be told they had one or two more to go.

The officials straightened out the apparent tangle to the satisfaction of all.

Webster Brown of Colby, wearing the Lynn Y. M. C. A. colors, won the century dash, and Cecil "Rebel" Russell of Brown University, scratch man, placed second in the high jump. He failed in an attempt to make 6 feet 3 inches for first honors. The event was won by Walter E. Hebert, unattached, whose handicap of 3½ inches gave him 6 feet 2½ inches.

WATERTOWN GIRL JUMP CHAMPION

Katherine Mearls Captures N. E. Title Event

Katherine Mearls of Watertown was crowned queen of the senior New England high jumpers at the women's indoor track meet which was conducted under the auspices of the Boston Park Department at the Paris Street Gymnasium, last night. Miss Mearls won the title with a leap of 4 feet 8¼ inches.

TIED FOR SECOND

Sylvia Broman of the Brockton G. A. and Elizabeth Bickford of the Onteora Club of Malden were tied for second place in the championship but on the jump-off Miss Broman managed to win the prize. The Bickford girl, junior New England titleholder, was bothered with a sprained knee which handicapped her considerably. In spite of the injury she gave a good account of herself.

In the eight-pound shot put event, Rena McDonald of the Boston Swimming Association, world's champion and record holder found things rather easy. Her toss of 36 feet, 2 inches, was almost four feet better than the second place winner, Mae Magill. Lillian Bleakney, a Needham High School girl finished in third place in this event.

The 20-yard dash open event was a one-sided affair with Pansy Maderia of the Boston Swimming Association winning easily. "Pat" took the lead on the gun and was out in front to the finish. Sylvia Broman of Brockton was second with Rena McDonald of the B. S. A. third.

Presses Champion

Mary Carew of Medford, national 40-yard indoor titleholder led the field home in the 220-yard race. In this event Margaret Tierney of the Boston Swimming Association pushed the Medford star to the limit. Lillian Dennen of Medford was the third prize winner in this race.

The novice 20-yard dash was won by Helen Keller of Medford, with Helen Enos of Onteora Club and Grace Carbone of the Boston Swimming Association next in order.

BROCKTON GIRLS AMONG WINNERS

Sylvia Broman and Beatrice Manchester.

Two Brockton girls won prizes at the Mary Carew day held at Medfeld High school field Saturday, when a track and field meet took place.

Sylvia Broman was tied for first place in the high jump and the same young lady was second to Katherine Mearls in the broad jump. She also won the first place medal in the high jump by toss of coin. Beatrice Manchester of Brockton was second in the N. E. A. A. A. U., 80-metre hurdle race, Miss Manchester won her heat.

Running for the first time under the Medford colors, Katherine Mearls running anchor defeated Olive Hasenfus in the final relay, giving Medford a win over Boston Swimming Club. Miss Mearls was formerly a member of the Boston team.

Miss Laura Sullivan of Hingham won the baseball throw. Ever since Miss Sullivan won the event at Walk-Over Park last spring, in the district High school meet she has been breaking records. Saturday was a new N. E. A. A. A. U. record, when Miss Sullivan threw the ball 222 feet 2 1-2 inches.

Sylvia Broman Stars At Norumbega Meet

North Easton Girl Wins Running High Jump and Running Broad Jump — Margaret Burke Gets a Second and Third—Arlene Brennan Wins a Third.

Sylvia Broman of North Easton, running for the Brockton Girls' Athletic club, triumphed again Sunday afternoon in the women's New England A. A. A. U. track and field events at Norumbega park when she won two firsts and a third.

Margaret Burke and Arlene Brennan, both of Brockton, were also winners.

Miss Broman won the running broad jump and the running high jump and came in third in the javelin throw. In the jump she did 16 feet 2¾ inches to lead a fast field, and in the high jump she crossed the bar at 4 feet 10 inches. In the jump she beat Katherine Mearls Rogan, a leading woman athlete.

In the javelin throw Miss Broman got third place with a throw of 101 feet 9 inches, and was beaten by Mrs. Rogan, whose distance was well over 112 feet.

Margaret Burke came in second in the 50 yard, class B dash, in the discus throw was third with a shot of 103 feet 7 inches.

In the baseball throw Arlene Brennan tossed the ball 199 feet to get a third.

The Brockton team made a fine showing and Miss Broman was far ahead of the field and was easily the star of the meet, being pushed for this honor only by Louise Stokes, the Malden flyer, who copped the 50 and 100 yard dashes.

AFTER TWO TITLES ON THE TRACK

Miss Blakeney Enters for Shot and Discus

Lillian Blakeney, a 14-year-old Needham miss, who competes under the colors of the Boston Swimming Association, will attempt to annex two junior New England titles at the N. E. A. A. A. U. women's track and field championships, which will be held at Norumbega Park, Auburndale, next Saturday afternoon.

LOOKS A CHAMPION

This young miss has entered the eight-pound shot-put and discus throw and stands a good chance of winning both events. Although a young girl and new to competition she has made a good showing in the past few meets she has taken part in. Eddie O'Brien, who is the coach of the B. S. A., thinks that he has another Rena MacDonald in the making.

Another Needham miss, Olive Hasenfuss of National and Olympic fame, is also entered and will compete in the senior 100-yard dash. Last Saturday at Caledonian Grove the young Needham star turned in one of the best races of her career when she won the 100-yard handicap event. She will be a big favorite to take the 100-yard event on Saturday.

To Defend Javelin Title

Margaret Procter of the Lunenberg Girls' A. C. will be on hand to defend her javelin title. Alice Morris of the Boston Swimming Association, who holds the baseball throwing crown, will also defend this title. Both of these young misses should win their events easily.

The senior running high jump should result in a great battle for first honors. Ever since women's athletics came into prominence, Mildred Wiley has held this title. This year Mildred has forsaken athletics to devote her time to business, which means that a new title holder will be crowned.

Helen Hammersley of the Boston Swimming Association, junior champion, Sylvia Broman of Brockton, one of the best prospects in these parts, and Enes Larson, who won the event at the Scotch games, are the three members of the fair sex who will battle for first prize in this event.

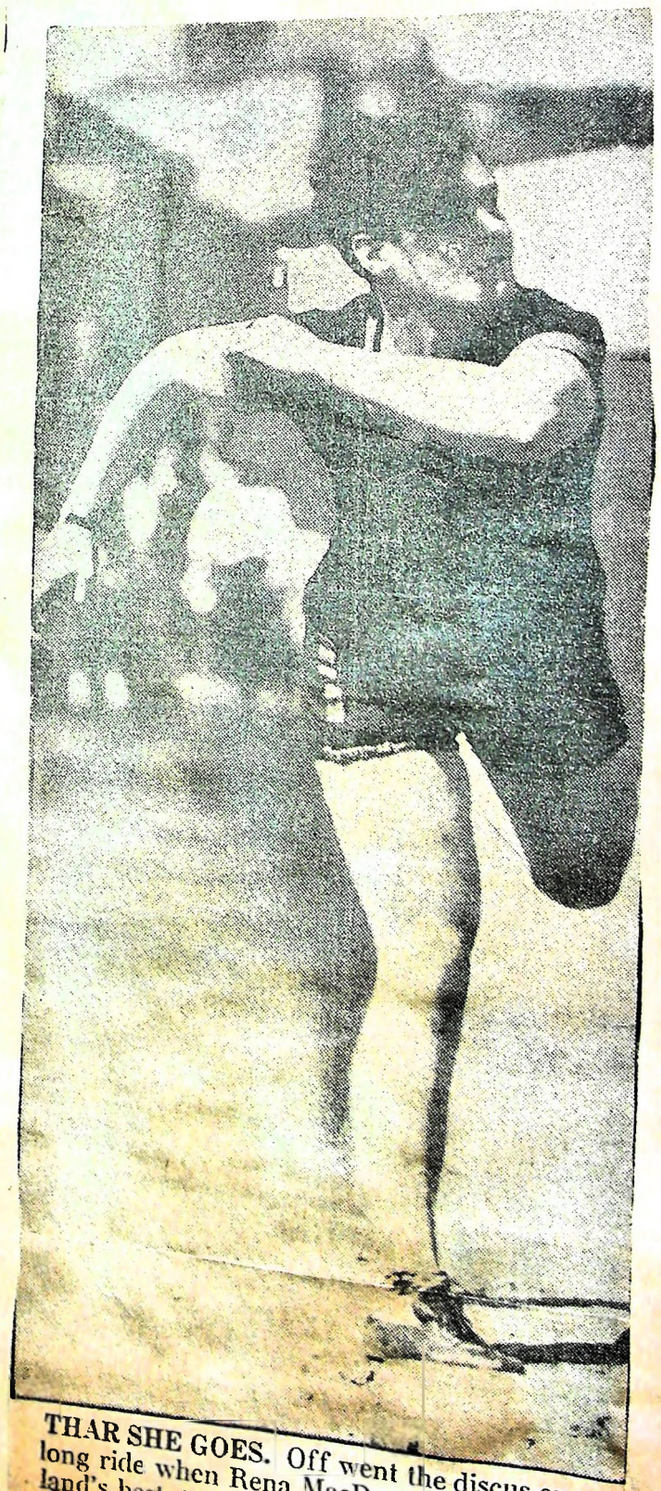

SPEED AND MORE SPEED was witnessed in the dash events at the first women's outdoor track meet, held under the auspices of the City of Chelsea Park Department at Carter Grounds yesterday. Sylvia Broman Wins N. E. Broad Jump Title

Performs Brilliantly at Boston Track Meet—Margaret Burke and Other Brockton Girls Win Several Places — All Places in N. E. A. A. U. Broad Jump to Brockton Girls.

Sylvia Broman of the Brockton Girls' A. C. won the New England running broad jump championship, and came close to copping the Mayor James M. Curley trophy at the annual women's track meet conducted by the Boston park department Sunday at Fens stadium.

Brockton girls were prominent among the place winners in many events at the meet, and Miss Broman led them with brilliant performances, especially in the broad jump, in which all places were won by Brockton girls.

A little better performance in the high jump, in which she tied for third place, and she would have been deadlocked with Louise Stoke, negro student of Malden, who scored eight points to Sylvia's seven and one-half, to win the trophy.

In the N. E. A. A. U. championship running broad jump Sylvia Broman was first, her sister, Mabel Broman, was second, and Margaret Burke, also of Brockton, was third. Sylvia jumped 15 feet 7 1-4 inches. With a jump of four feet nine inches Sylvia was tied for third in the running high jump. Sylvia took a third in the javelin throw.

Evelyn Stonefield of Brockton was second in the novice high jump. Margaret Burke of Brockton got a second in the discus throw with a toss of over 100 feet and a third place in the 50 yard dash to get a total of three places in the meet.

Barbara Smith of Brockton was third in the baseball throw with a toss of over 202 feet. Rena MacDonald of Karhu A. C., Quincy, won the putting eight pound shot event, and was third in the discus throw. Irene Weiss of Quincy was third in the novice 50 yard dash.

The Brockton Girls' Club has come to the front rapidly, and at the present time has one of the best track teams in New England. Because of the lack of money, the A. A. A. U. did not send a full team to the national championships at the world fair in Chicago.

This prevented at least two members of the local club from competing against the pick of the country and returning home with the first national championship for this district. Dana Hutchinson of North Easton, a former track star of no mean ability, should certainly feel proud of his success in introducing track and field events among the fairer ones.

The track meet held last Saturday afternoon at the Frothingham Memorial Park, North Easton, by the Brockton Girls' Club, was a fine tribute to his efforts. His athletes certainly didn't let him down in their first local track meet, for no matter if it was a track or field event, wearers of the Brockton emblem were always out front.

Sylvia Broman added another to her collection of A. A. A. U. championships, when she annexed the javelin throw title, and then finished the afternoon by taking the shot-put event, and Margaret Burke cleanly showed her superiority over Rena MacDonald, former U. S. Olympic athlete, by winning the discus championship with a heave of 113 feet, 5½ inches.

Although this performance exceeds the New England record by over 10 feet, it will not be recognized as such, due to the ring, which was unofficial. This was unfortunate for Miss Burke, but it did not dim her spirits, for she continued on to victories in the broad jump and 50-yard dash.

News and Comment

A Great Performance

A group of young ladies is making a name for Brockton and district by splendid performances at track meets.

Leading the group which runs under the colors of the Brockton Girls' A. C. is Sylvia Broman of North Easton. This young lady on Sunday won the N. E. A. A. A. U. championship in the running broad jump by leaping a distance of 15 feet 7¼ inches. Quite a performance in itself, but she didn't stop at that. She stepped over the bar in the N. E. A. A. A. U. running high jump championship event at a distance of four feet nine inches to tie for third place. Then in the javelin throw she garnered another third place for a pretty good day's work.

She performed brilliantly and was runner up to the girl who won the James M. Curley Trophy and had she got into second place in either the running high jump or the javelin throw she would have tied for high total of points and the cup.

Incidentally Brockton seems to have all the broad jumpers there are in New England for all three places in the championship event in which the best women athletes of the New England states took part were won by girls of the Brockton Girls' A. C. Mabel Broman, sister of Sylvia, was right behind her younger sister and Margaret Burke of Brockton was in third place.

But there were other Brockton girls in the meet who made their presence known. Evelyn Stonefield got second place in the novice running high jump, Barbara Smith of Brockton was third with a toss of over 202 feet in the baseball throw and Margaret Burke was second in the discuss throw and third in the 50 yard dash handicap.

A really remarkable showing for any one group of girls in a meet where the best women athletes gathered. They are deserving of a full amount of praise and are sure to bring added laurels to Brockton and district.

It is quite possible that Sylvia Broman will be given a tryout for the Olympic women's team. She has performed brilliantly for the past few years and is gaining a wide reputation as an athlete.

ATHLETIC CLUB NAMES OFFICERS

Mabel Broman Elected President.

Brockton Girls' Athletic Club elected officers Tuesday at a meeting held at the home of Margaret Burke, 600 Warren avenue. The following officers were named for the coming year: President, Miss Mabel Broman; secretary, Miss Beatrice Manchester; treasurer, Mrs. Sigrid Hollis.

The following champions were at the meet: Sylvia Broman, outdoor senior high jump champion of New England; "Peggy" Burke, champion junior discus thrower.

The club is in hopes of adding many more champions this summer with one or two Olympic prospects. The club has a basketball team that is ready to play any girls' team in the city or in the district.

Plans were made for a dance that is to be held at K. of C. hall early in April to raise funds for equipment. The committee for the dance includes "Peg" Burke, "Bee" Manchester and Marion Pearl.

This club has been giving Brockton several fine athletes and is in hopes of upsetting several of the girls' around Boston in the meets this coming summer. Dana Hutchinson of Whitman and a member of the Dorchester Club track team, is the coach of the track team.

SEEKS HONORS IN OLYMPICS

North Easton, July 11.—Miss Sylvia Broman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walfred J. G. Broman of Linden street left yesterday morning for Chicago, where she will attend the Olympic tryouts in that city on July 16 and 17. Miss Broman, working under the colors of the Brockton Girls' Club, has won distinction in many track events in New England during the past season. She holds the title of the N. E. A. A. U. for the high jump and the running broad jump and has several second and third places to her credit for running and javelin throwing.

If she should be successful at Chicago she will continue on to Los Angeles where the Olympics are to be held the latter part of this month. Miss Broman is well known in town and has a host of friends who sent her away yesterday morning with the best of wishes. While at Oliver Ames High school she was the star in all athletic activities.

Sylvia Broman Going To Chicago Tryouts

Member of Brockton Girls' A. C. Will Have Chance to Qualify for U. S. Olympic Team —Club Trying to Raise Funds.

Brockton has a good chance of being represented in the Olympic games. Miss Sylvia Broman of the Brockton Girls' Athletic club is to make the trip to Chicago to compete in the Olympic games final tryouts, in the high jumping event. If successful at Chicago, Miss Broman would become a member of the U. S. Olympic team.

Other New England girls who will try out at Chicago for the Olympic team include Miss Mary Carew and Miss Louise Stokes of Boston in the dashes, and Miss Rena MacDonald of Karhu A. C. in the discus throw.

Members of the Brockton Girls' club are working hard to secure money to finance Miss Broman's trip to Chicago and California. They held a whist party last evening at the home of Miss Mabel Broman, Linden street, North Easton, with prizes going to Miss Jennie Humphrey and Arthur Dolson, and consolations to Miss Ilene Brennan and Mrs. D. Pearl. Another whist will be held at the Broman home tomorrow evening.

Miss Broman's sensational work at the recent women's track meet, under auspices of the Boston Swimming association, at Norumbega park, won her a chance to compete in the final tryouts at Chicago. She set a New England record in the running broad jump and did close to five feet in the high jump.

Sylvia Broman Off to Chicago

Miss Sylvia Broman of North Easton, star athlete of the Brockton Girls' Athletic club, with Miss Rena MacDonald of the Karhu A. C. of Quincy, and Mrs. Helen Jenkins of North Abington, left North Abington by auto at 2 Sunday morning, bound for New York and Chicago, where Misses Broman and MacDonald will participate in the final tryouts for the U. S. Olympic team.

Seven machines full of friends from this city, North Easton and Canton, were on hand to see Miss Broman start. If she qualifies, Miss Broman will continue on to California with Miss MacDonald and Mrs. Jenkins.

District Girls Seek Honors as Athletes

Group From This City and North Easton Organized as Brockton Girls' Athletic Club Shows Prowess.

Lithe, brown-armed, muscular maidens in snappy outfits of blue and orange limbering up in the athletic field. Scattered paraphernalia of the girl athletic star—two-pound discus, shot, javelin, jumping standard, pit, etc. Happy hours spent in the sunshine invigorating healthy bodies, driving worries away and maintaining youth and agility. All these go to make up the Brockton Girls' Athletic Club under the tutelage of its trainer, Dana C. Hutchinson of North Easton.

The girls who meet sometimes in North Easton at the Oliver Ames High school field and sometimes at Brockton fairgrounds numbered 15 at the beginning of the season, most of whom appear regularly for practice.

Mr. Hutchinson, their coach, a former marathon runner, and athlete of no mean ability, has taken a great interest in the work of the girls as his faithful attendance at all their practices indicates. He has bought equipment, paid expenses for trips to various meets and furnished transportation for them all over Massachusetts. He is at present training the group for a meet at Bridgewater Legion field day on Friday, at which time local athletic clubs will compete for the trophy. Brockton will be one of a dozen towns and cities entering the contest and represented by its girl athletes.

Mabel Broman President.

The Brockton Girls' Athletic Club was organized in 1928 by Helen McCarthy and Beruta Jorash. It was essentially an organization for health exercises and beauty culture in its early stages, but soon developed into a lusty and vigorous sportswomen's club. Its officers today include: Mabel Broman, president; Beatrice Manchester, secretary; Sigrid Hollis, treasurer. Business meetings are conducted once a month at the homes of the various members. The group has practiced three times a week, Mondays at the fairgrounds, Thursdays at North Easton and Saturdays at the fairgrounds again.

Although the girls do not observe strict training rules, they strive to get plenty of sleep, stay outdoors as much as possible and avoid sweets. Most of them go in for training more vigorously just previous to a track meet. They make an attractive picture in their orange sweaters, blue corduroy running pants with the orange initial "B," and their orange or blue socks protruding above the running shoes.

Little Phyllis Broman, the mascot of the club, bids fair to become a future star of the Brockton athletic girls, and wears the full regalia of the organization. She can run like a little chipmunk now, and hopes some day to rival her longer limbed sisters.

Some of the girls work while some still attend High school, but all are young and enthusiastic about the work, and pass up a chance to go to the beaches of an afternoon in order to get in the regular practice. In the winter the organization boasts a basketball team hard to beat in this vicinity.

North Easton girls, headed by the famous Broman sisters, are locally acclaimed athletes. Miss Sylvia Broman holding the title of senior champion high and broad jumper of New England. Peggy Burke of Brockton is more noted for her work with the discus in which field she is junior champion discus thrower of New England. Ilene Brennan excels with the javelin, while others of the club balance the sheet with preferences and excellences in running and high jumping. All of the members have been entered by Secretary Sigrid Hollis in the coming field meet at Bridgewater.

Club Roster.

North Easton girls who are members of the club include: Sylvia Broman, Mabel Broman, Barbara Smith and Dorothy Case, while Brockton girl members are Sigrid Hollis, Ilene Brennan, Anne Pokraka, Peggy Burke, Beatrice Manchester, Marion Pearl and Alice Price. Sylvia Broman and Peggy Burke, both of whom are well-developed athletes, show promise in their particular fields, Miss Broman easily jumping 16 feet in the running broad jump, while Miss Burke shows excellent form and speed in the 50-yard dash. All of the girls are vigorous, health, carefree, all-around sports, faithful to the coach' recommendations and eager to w all available laurels for Brockton

BOSTON'S OLYMPIC PROSPECT. Miss Mildred Wiley, New England's champion high jumper, should make the Olympic team with ease. She set a new N. E. record.

MABEL BROMAN HAS BIG LEAD

Wins Broad Jump at Norumbega With Foot to Spare.

Mabel Broman of this city won the running broad jump event at the girls' track and field meet at Norumbega Park, Sunday, under the auspices of the Boston Swimming Club. Miss Broman's jump was 15 feet 8 inches, a foot ahead of Lorraine Morrill, Boston Swimming Club.

Sylvia Broman was second in the high jump, being defeated for first place by Helen Phillips of Boston by one inch. The winner's jump was 4 feet 10 inches.

Beatrice Manchester of Brockton was third in the javelin throw. Laura Sullivan of Hingham High, who broke the record at the District High school meet, held at Walk-Over Park last spring, in the baseball throw event, won the event Sunday, breaking the N. E. A. A. A. U. mark, with a throw of 221 feet, 4 inches.

Olive Hasenfus was defeated by Mary Carew in the N. E. A. A. A. U., 50-yard championship sprint. Each of these girls won their heats. The rivalry was intense when the two stars went to the mark in the final. Six weeks ago, Miss Carew defeated Miss Hasenfus for the national championship, when the latter was a big favorite. Sunday the race was exciting right down to the tape, Miss Carew having the power near the end to carry her to victory.

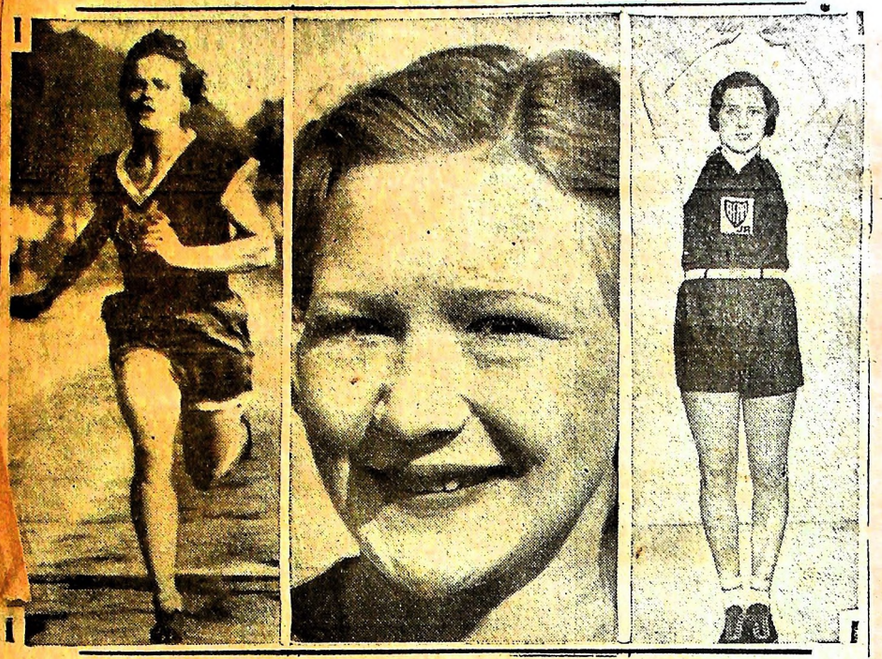

Later in the day these same girls met in the 100-yard dash, and once again, Miss Carew defeated Miss Hasenfus. This time the winner pulled the New England record.

New England's foremost women athletes will be seen in action next Sunday afternoon at Russell Field, North Cambridge, in an athletic meet under the auspices of the Columbus Day Nursery Guild. The proceeds of this track and field carnival will be turned over to the Cambridge organization in order to help defray expenses for the coming year.

Two members of Uncle Sam's Olympic team will be on hand to help put the affair over. Rena MacDonald, world's champion shot putter, and Olive Hasenfus, one of the best over the 100-yard route, and holder of the New England record for the distance, are the young misses who will appear.

Mae Magill, former Sargent School star, Alice Morris, baseball throwing champion, Lillian Bleakney, a promising youngster in the field events, Helen Hammersley, high jump queen, Mary Carew, junior indoor 40-yard title holder, Katherine Mearls, Pansey Maderia, Canadian star, and Sylvia Broman, one of the best of the young crop, are only a few of the other stars who will appear.

There also will be races for the men. Mayor Quinn is chairman of the committee in charge of the meet and he is being assisted by the members of the Nursery Guild.

LOS ANGELES—International femininity, represented by the woman athletes competing in the Olympics, is as picturesque a psychological study as this miracle city of make-believe has come in contact with.

The housing of a dozen film stars under one roof for one night would probably cause a riot of inharmony and hair-pulling. Yet 200 or more athletic queens are living on friendly, happy terms at Chapman Park Hotel. And are taking themselves less seriously than any celebrities visiting this publicity-mad capital to date.

When sought by reporters the week of their arrival, most of the girls with the world spotlight upon them were paged in the basement laundry room, where they were "doing up" their own sweat suits, pressing what few frocks they brought. Discovering that the dainty little cakes of soap were melting like ice in the sun, the hotel staff got on to what was happening and hurriedly sent out for hundreds of laundry bars.)

No Silk Stockings There

Sportsmanship and developed muscles both are put to practical use. In this aristocracy of track and pool there are no pampered silk-stocking darlings. To a lady, they were socks of cotton and wool—in and out of training.

No Paris bonnets hang in their closets. From every point of the globe they came wearing what seems to be the international headgear—berets.

Women of all Nations hook each other up the back. Not a ladies' maid among them. Chaperones tell them what time to go to bed, what dates to make. Coaches and managers boss them on the field without back talk.

Sportsmanship of the feminine gender appears to be minus temperament, petty personalities or jealousies. Perfect coordination of brain and muscle requires a clear head, with no room for thought of exhibitionism.

The girls seem more appreciative of their opponents' prowess than their own. When one comes across her picture in the paper, she is apt to grin sheepishly and turn hastily to careful perusal of what is said of others. In fact, it looks as if the Olympiettes were in cahoots to show the male contenders just what good sports they are!

One Universal Language

How they fraternize—like girls in a boarding school or buddies at the front! As aptly put by Miss Grace Walker, hotel hostess, diplomat and glorified conductor of this symphony of stars of every race and color:

"I think we have exemplified here the very thing the games are meant for. The youth of all lands are getting in touch with each other, growing to understand each other. I never shall forget the way these girls have fraternized—youth calling to youth.

"They speak many tongues, but one universal language of youth and sportsmanship. I never hear a critical comment.

"We provided a table for each Nation. The girls who came in ones and twos, however, appeared so lonely in the chattering groups that we put an international table in the center of the dining room, and this has proven the most popular.

"The Japanese are the friendliest. The night they arrived they went around the dining room putting their arms around the girls' shoulders, touching their hair, making each other understand which were the swimmers, the divers, the runners.

"The next night the Germans got in. They were enchanted with the tiny Nipponese. They picked them up—one under each arm, and danced all over the dining room with them. It was so spontaneous it was positively dramatic. And what a sight—the tall, blonde Germans with a Japanese doll on either side!"

Japanese Most Colorful

The writer dropped in for lunch with the Olympic girls a few days before the games officially opened. Flags of all Nations floated from the dining-room ceiling. Uncle Sam's colors bordered the caps and aprons of the waitresses. The tri-color, Union Jack, Danish cross, Poland's half white, half red, South Africa's orange and blue stripe, Japan's white ground with red disc, Italy's three vertical stripes on green, white and red—and a score of other emblems waved singly in the center of separate tables or were massed in one group on the international table.

A setting for the League of Nations at Geneva—with boarding school atmosphere! Magpie chatter. Girls stopping at various tables to exchange track training talk of the morning. Just girls with astonishingly few racial differences—with the exception, of course, of the Orientals!

ally one of the beauties among Olympic championettes—Mlle Yvonne Goddard, asked first for the beauty parlor. Running true to form, she reached the hotel with flower-filled arms and soon dancing attention on all sides.

Speaking of beauty parlors I am reminded that International femininity as a whole uses little or no makeup. They don't need it. (Tip for American girls not athletically inclined). The only completely eternal feminine girl in the group who carries a vanity case is the 17-year-old Mexican fencer, Eugenia Escurdia. She actually takes her vanity case out at the table and powders her nose!

There seems to be no set Olympic hairdress. Quite a few heads are shaved like boys, as for example Ruth Osborn from Missouri, champion discus thrower, who stands 5 feet 11 inches. Bobs are worn straight and cut just to the nape of the neck, like that girl wonder of wonders, "Babe" Didrikson.

The curled and waved bobs are in the minority, while the long-haired Olympiettes are very scarce. Among the latter Helene Mayer stands out. This Rhine maiden parts her flaxen hair in the middle and braids it in two loops over each ear.

Walking through the dining room Helene Mayer impressed me as being the only super-woman present. Of heroic stature, measuring 5 feet 10, she looked as though she should be standing on a mountain top calling to the gods of Valhalla. Were it not for the fact that she has other ambitions star hunter Cecil DeMille would surely get her.

The Viking queen of fencers is the exchange scholar of the Institute of International Education. After the games she will continue her law studies at Scripps College for a year. Then she plans a diplomatic career. She is an accomplished linguist.

All the Way from Medford

Pointed out to me in the dining-room were girls whose occupations were teaching school, clerking, saleswomen in shops and insurance offices, masseuses, doctors' assistants, physical instructors. This last-named is to be the career of little Mary Carew of Medford, Mass, whom they dub out here "Uncle Sam's sweetheart." Whether she wins or loses the 50-meter race in the Junior division, she means to go on with her training at Boston.

When this New England sprinter bounded in the dining room to greet the writer, was she impressed at being interviewed? She was not. The first thing blue-eyed, freckle faced Mary Carew said was:

"Oh, Miss Peak, you are the one who writes about all the movie stars. I'm so thrilled to meet you!"

"Well, you are the star I'm interested in now, Mary. Don't you realize everybody back home is watching you and Helen Johns?"

"Oh, gee," she blushed, "say, do you know Joan Crawford?"

An offer to take Mary and my New England "constituents" to the studios and introduce them to some of the stars made her eyes dance. Almost immediately word somehow got around, and there came running Rena MacDonald—speedy, red-head from Boston, who has won athletic laurels in previous try-outs and accompanied her sports friends to the 10th Olympiad as audience and inspiration. She was promptly invited.

Thus, solidly "in good," I was given a lot of inside dope. I learned that Mary's roommate,—none other than the "one gal track team," Babe Didrikson, was not only the most interesting athlete at the games but the "greatest girl in the world," that her Southern drawl (Texas) and Mary's Yankee talk she called "two different languages!"

Voted Juno of the Girls

I learned that the girls considered the Canadian group the prettiest and most attractive, as a whole; the Australians the classiest; the Dutch the most exuberant; Germans the most serious; Japanese the most picturesque; English the most reserved; Americans the most natural and frank; that Helene Madison, Seattle swimmer, was voted the Juno of the girls and feminine counterpart of Johnny Weismuller; that the "baby of the Olympiad," 16-year-old Dorothy Poynton of Hollywood, is the only peroxide blonde (you might know she hails from Hollywood); that Carolyn Giesel, Holland, and pretty Ingeborg Sjoquist, Sweden, attract the most beaux.

Although the famous Cocoanut Grove is across the street at the Ambassador Hotel, dancing is taboo during the games, ditto parties and suitors. Doors are locked at 10, lights out at 10:30, and none of the sprinters or high divers have yet taken to the fire escape.

Further investigation disclosed that while the men athletes are eating in 40 languages, international femininity has about the same food with slight variations and all prepared by the same cooks—buttermilk, fruits and vegetables are the mainstay of the woman power. The Japs have their rice at each meal.

The Dutch girls like a Dutch lunch of cold meats at noon and eat heavily of mashed potatoes, hot meat and white bread in the evening. While the German frauleins take their hot meal in the middle of the day and a cold one at night.

One of the British girls wants fish every night—never meat. Mlle Yvonne Goddard and her Swedish sisters drink buttermilk with their meals and consume many eggs. The Dutch eat plenty of fruit, vegetables, potatoes. But the Australians won't touch potatoes. They drink only tea—very strong and made in the cup.

AMERICA'S LEADING GIRL ATHLETE! Miss Babe Didrickson, the Texas girl who was the sensation of the recent national track and field championships at Jersey City, N. J., is now contemplating branching out into another sport, golf. Miss Didrickson, although a novice golfer, is already shooting in the 80's and she is getting ready to step into big competition in an effort to win her way to the throne that Glenna Collett occupied here.

Two N. E. Title Events Carded for Girls Friday

Two N. E. A. A. A. U. senior championships, including the running high jump and 8-pound shot, are among the many events to be held at the women's track and field championship meet on Friday evening, Feb. 16. The meet, under the auspices of the committee on women's athletics of the N. E. A. A. A. U. in conjunction with the Stoneham Rotary Club, will take place in the old armory, Stoneham.

HELEN PHILLIPS, B. S. A., and Louise Stokes, Onteora A. C., are expected to vie for honors in the senior running high jump. Miss Phillips and Miss Stokes are present co-holders of the high jump championship, having tied for first place in the title event last year. Other important entries are Sylvia Broman, Brorckton A. C., open high jump champion, and Barbara Howe, B. S. A., New England junior outdoor high jump champion.

In the senior shotput, Rena MacDonald will be on hand to defend her title.

The open 25 yards dash will give Louise Stokes, colored flash of the Onteora A. C., the opportunity to be on the starters' line with Olive Hasenfus, diminutive star of the B. S. A. Miss Stokes holds the national 50-meter dash outdoor championship and also the New England 100 yards dash championship. Miss Hasenfus is the New England 200-meter dash title-holder, also national 200-meter dash champion. With two stars of such fine calibre competing unexcelled action should take place in this event.

The open standing broad jump will have perfect form in Dorothy Lyford, product of the B. S. A. who travels from Spencer to compete. She is national indoor standing broad jump champion and holder of the American and World's records.

Completing the program are the N. E. A. A. A. U. Junior broad jump, Class B. 25 yds. dash, Class B running high jump and a novice 25 yds. dash.

The meet will be under the supervision of women officials.

CHICAGO AMERICAN SPORTS

TEXAS TORNADO IN ACTION

Here are two striking action pictures of Mildred Babe Didrikson, the brilliant Dallas track star, who is one of the favorites in tomorrow's women's Olympic trials at Dyche Stadium, being held under the auspices of The Chicago American. Admission will be free.

Protest Looms on Stella Walsh

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—(By International News Service.)—Stella Walsh, fleet and fair Cleveland sprinter, will probably run in the Olympic games under protest, if she is allowed to run at all.

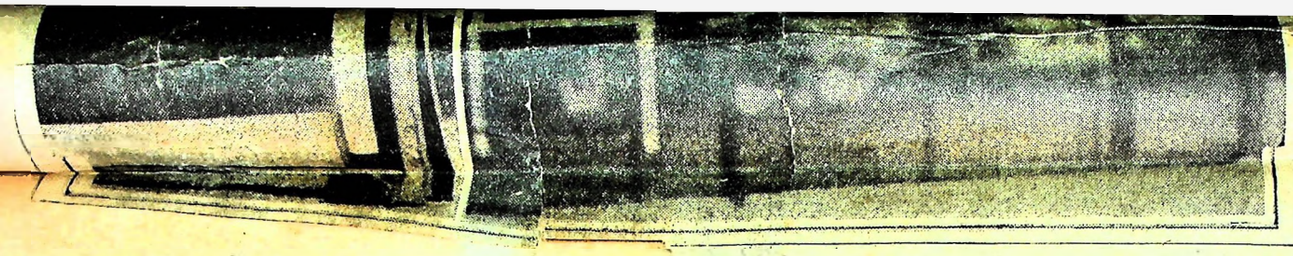

The fact that Miss Walsh was recently reported to have "auctioned off" her running ability for a job with the Polish consulate in New York will be laid before the executive council of the International Amateur Athletic Federation here July 28, two days before the opening of the games.

In all likelihood some nation—probably the United States—will lodge formal protest. Even if this does not materialize the matter will be taken up by the I. A. A. F., since the case has already attracted the attention of high officials of the council.

Because of the short time remaining, there is no opportunity for a formal investigation of Miss Walsh's status. Hence her protested entry will probably be allowed, with a thorough airing of the case when the games are finished.

If the decision is adverse Miss Walsh could lose any medals she might win, even as did the great Indian decathlon performer, Jim Thorpe, when he was declared a professional after the Stockholm games.

Women Athletes Await Test

Women Athletes Await Test

BY LEO FISCHER.

More than 200 of America's foremost feminine stars were literally poised on their marks today awaiting tomorrow's Olympic tryouts at Dyche Stadium, in which eighteen of them will be chosen to wear the red, white and blue of Uncle Sam at Los Angeles later this month.

Workouts completed, there was nothing for the girls to do but await the starter's gun in the first event at 2 p. m. tomorrow. From then until approximately 4:30, the keenest kind of competition will be in evidence as every woman track star in the United States fights for the highest honors in the game.

EVERY ONE INVITED.

The Chicago American, which is sponsoring the meet, invites every one to attend. The gates are being thrown wide open as a gift to Chicago's sport followers, and there will be plenty of room for every one. No tickets of any kind are required.

The meet should be a classic of women's competition, since every section of the country has sent its foremost stars here to strive for the chance to win Olympic laurels. This, too, is the only final Olympic trial ever held in Chicago, and the successful place-winners will leave Monday or Tuesday in a special car for the Pacific coast, where they will meet the stars of other nations in the games.

SEVEN RECORD HOLDERS.

Out of the eleven events on the program, holders of seven world and American records will take part in the competition. If Betty Robinson is able to run, it will mean that the makers of ten of the eleven marks will be on hand, since she holds the world's records in the 50, 100 and 220 yard runs. The sole exception is Stella Walsh, who possesses the broad jump record. Even Stella may be here, as she may still compete for National A. A. U. championships, even though she is not eligible to be a member of the American Olympic team.

The other record holders who will take part in the meet are:

80-meter hurdles — Babe Didrikson, world's record, 12 seconds.

440-yard relay—Millrose A. A., New York, world's record, 49.4 seconds.

Shot put—Rena McDonald, Quincy, Mass., American record, 43 feet 3 inches.

Discus throw — Maybelle Reichardt Hopkins, Los Angeles, American record, 116 feet, 9¼ inches.

Javelin throw—Babe Didrikson, world's record, 133 feet, 3 inches.

High jump—Jean Shiley, Philadelphia, American record, 5 feet, 2 inches.

Baseball throw—Babe Didrikson, world's record, 296 feet.

BABE IN EIGHT EVENTS.

Most interest, of course, will be evinced in the performance of Mildred Babe Didrikson, the 19-year-old phenom from Dallas, who has sent in her entry in eight events. Miss Didrikson, who holds the world's record in the eighty-meter hurdles, javelin throw and baseball throw, has been performing in sensational fashion in the other events, and if she goes through with her determination, may set a mark for future men and women athletes.

The Texas star, however, isn't the only outstanding performer in the meet. From the Pacific coast have come more than a dozen girls whose names are listed frequently in the record books, while a similar delegation is here representing the Missouri Valley and the East.

OLYMPIC MEMBERS COMPETE.

Lillian Copeland, Maybelle Reichardt Hopkins and Anna Vrana O'Brien, members of the 1928 American Olympic team, head the California squad. They are three of the twelve girls, incidentally, who

TWO N. E. TITLES TO MISS BROMAN

Wins Hurdles, Javelin; Mrs. Wright Takes Discus

Special Dispatch to The Herald

NORTH EASTON, June 29—Sylvia Broman of the Brockton Girls Athletic Club won two New England championships in the open athletic meet at Peabody Memorial Park here today, capturing the 80-metre hurdles in 12.5 seconds, and tossing the javelin 'across with a heave of 108 feet 7 inches. The other championship event, the discus throw, went to Mrs. Margaret Burke Wright of the same club, with a throw of 75 feet 6 inches.

Miss Broman, who is national champion with the spear, was hard pressed to annex her specialty by Betty Burch of the Boston Swimming Association, who was only a quarter inch behind the North Easton girl. Miss Burch won the open javelin event with a toss of 106 feet 2½ inches.

Rodena Winton pressed Miss Broman in the hurdle championship, with Dorothy Lyford, also of the Boston Swimming Association, in for third. The Brockton queen was the meet's only triple winner, for she won the open broad jump and won Mrs. Wright with a leap of 16 feet 8 inches.

Mrs. Wright is the national discus champion, so her triumph today surprised no one. Her winning throw was two inches less than eight feet of her best, the second place effort of Rita Mellyers of the Alpha Girls Club, Miss Winton was third.

Other winners were Olive Hasenfus, Boston S. A., in the 50-yard and 100-metre dashes; Miss Lyford, 50-yard novice dash, and R. Irving, 50-yard novice dash.

OLD COLONY RACING.

Sylvia Broman Wins Another N. E. Title

Miss Sylvia Broman of North Easton, and a member of the Brockton Girls' Athletic Club, captured the New England senior championship in the broad jump yesterday at the All-Women's meet at Norumbega park, Newton. Miss Broman, in addition to securing that title, took second place in the open javelin throw.

The meet yesterday served as a dress rehearsal for this section's best, who are going to Providence to take part in the national meet and Olympic tryouts next Saturday. Entered in yesterday's meet was champions and near champions of practically all prominent women athletes in New England.

Mrs. Margaret Burke Wright of the Brockton club captured second place in the discus throw, and third in the broad jump. Arlene DuHamel, also of the Brockton club, won third place in the standing broad jump, and third in the novice high jump.

About the Country with Ralph H. Colson.

Ralph H. Colson

I have been saving the best story of the year until after the J. M. Curley track meet. This yarn is about the greatest Swedish-American woman athlete in America. None other than our rival Miss Sylvia Broman, Linden st., No. Easton. She is one of three daughters, and the whole family are athletes. The dad, Walfrid Broman, follows all the athletic contests, and I come in touch with him at various meets. When I say rival, I mean in athletics. I coach the Boston Swimming Association girls track team, and many a meet we lost on account of this good athlete. Well, one thing about the girls, they are very friendly with one another, and are good sports . . .

Sylvia was born in No. Easton, October 12, 1912; she graduated from the town high school where she was the greatest all-round athlete the school ever had. Basketball is one of her favorite sports. But, listen to an old-timer, and forget the game this winter and concentrate on track and you will make the Olympic team. At the 1928 tryouts in Chicago Sylvia missed the trip by an eye lash. She was picked the best high jumper in N. E. and set out for Chicago. If she only takes this game to heart, and is serious, she can make the grade in the hurdles. At present she is the N. E. champion in the javelin, 104'; she won the event at Dedham last Saturday. Sunday she won the javelin, 107', was second in running broad jump and second in the standing broad jump. If she keeps away from all the events but the hurdles, and spends some time in her back yard training with her dad, I know she will make that 80 meter hurdle team. Babe Didrickson won the event in 1928, and the two Americans that placed 1 and 2, are out of competition.

Miss Broman has 48 cups and about 100 medals and many more prizes that she has won in the past six years of competition. During these years Sylvia has won the N. E. A. A. U. running high jump two years, the running broad jump two years, the javelin three years, and also won the Junior N. E. A. A. A. U. 50 yard dash and discus throw. Her best marks in the various events are 5' in the high jump, 8' in the standing broad jump, 16' in the running broad jump, 98' in discus, 110' in the javelin, and she can do a mean 50, 100 or hurdle . . . The best sport, basketball, for this lady had her playing on two N. E. A. A. A. U. basketball championships. Looks to me as if they could have won the National A. A. A. U.-title, if they went after ut. But, Sylvia, stay away from the sport for about 8 months; it would be great to see this girl make the grade, and go bock to the old country and compete in the many Swedish cities, after the Olympic games. I am with you, Miss Broman, and know that your dad wants to see you go places . . .

SYLVIA BROMAN RATED AMONG BEST ATHLETES IN COUNTRY

Captain of Brockton Girls' Club Basketball Team Proud Possessor of Many Trophies--- Senior N. E. Broad Jump Champion.

In the membership of the Brockton Girls' Athletic Club, which has brought honors galore to this city in the past several years, is one of the outstanding athletes in this section of the country. She is Sylvia Broman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walfred J. G. Broman of 12 Linden street, North Easton, who is the proud possessor of more than 30 handsome silver cups and statues, and more than 50 medals, pendants, charms and gold basketballs, which have been won during the past seven years of athletic activities.

The most recent outstanding achievement of Miss Broman in girls' athletic circles was attained during the past basketball season when she captained the Brockton Girls' Athletic Club basketball team which successfully defended the New England championship in the N. E. A. A. A. U. tournament under auspices of the Abington Alpha Club at the local Y. W. C. A.

Playing centre for the championship team, Sylvia received her second N. E. A. A. A. U. championship miniature gold basketball in addition to a handsome statue of a basketball player in action, being selected the most valuable player to her team during the tournament; also a pendant for being selected as centre for the all-star team.

Started at Oliver Ames.

While prominent in girls' basketball activities in this section for the past several years, starting as an outstanding performer for the Oliver Ames High sextette where she played for three years, and captained the team, later playing with the Brockton Y. W. C. A. sextette for three years and also being captain for one year, and then featuring with the Brockton G. A. C. quintette, when girls' basketball under boys' rules became popular, Miss Broman has been more active in girls' track activities.

At the present time Sylvia is the Senior N. E. A. A. A. U. champion in the running broad jump and javelin throw, and last year she placed third in the running high jump, though she was the Senior champion for the event in 1930 and 1931. She won the Junior N. E. A. A. A. U. championship in the running broad jump, discus throw and 50-yard dash in 1929.

In six years of track activities, the popular North Easton athlete has won more than 75 fine prizes, competing in local and Boston district meets for girls, sponsored by the N. E. A. A. A. U. also in big meets in New York and New Jersey. She competed in the Olympic tryouts, being selected as a representative from this section of the country, at the Northwestern University Stadium at Evanston, Ill., in July, 1932. She barely missed out in qualifying for the Olympic competition.

MISS SYLVIA BROMAN.
North Easton's Gift to Athletic World.

In the National A. A. U. meet at New Jersey in 1929, she placed second to Jean Shalley, National champion, in the running high jump. In 1932 she placed second in the Junior National A. A. U. competition in the running broad jump and running high jump.

In the numerous meets in which she has competed Sylvia has won 47 first places. She features in the running broad and running high jump events, but has also placed in following events: 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, special relay races, baseball throw, discus throw, shotput and javelin throw.

Miss Broman plans to continue with track activities this summer and hopes to enter the special pentathlon events for women to be staged by the A. A. U. at New York this summer, which will feature the events in which she excells.

Sisters Star Performers.

Sylvia has three sisters, two having been active in basketball and track activities for the past several years, also members of the Brockton G. A. C. and the younger sister who shows promise to be an outstanding athlete in future years.

Mrs. Sigrid Broman Hollis, the oldest of the four sisters, has been prominent in basketball circles for the past numerous years. She was a star player with Oliver Ames High sextette for four years and captained the team for three years, and was manager for one year. She played with the Brockton Y. W. C. A. outfit for 11 years, being captain for four years. She played with the Brockton Girls' A. C. New England championship crew for the past two years.

Mabel Broman is also a former Oliver Ames High and Y. W. C. A. star player and a regular guard of the Brockton G. A. C. quintette. Phyllis Broman, only seven years old, shows promise and is as much interested in sports as her older sisters. She doesn't fail to miss a single practice session with her sisters, and is mascot of the Brockton G. A. C. Sylvia is employed at the Plymouth Rubber Co. in Canton.

ATHLETICS FEATURE LYNN G. E. FIELD DAY

Special Dispatch to the Globe

LYNN, Aug 17—More than 2500 spectators thronged the General Electric Company's Field on Sumner st where the workers held their seventh annual field day. Registered athletes competed, taking a handicap in some instances to allow the upcoming amateur to make a showing, and in some cases wishing the odds were not so heavy. Mary Carewe of the Medford Athletic Club starred in the 50-yard and 100-yard dash. Rene McDonald, champion shot-put thrower, did not excel as the handicap given her would necessitate the breaking of the world's record of 49 feet. Katherine Mearls won the cup in the eight-pound shot-put. William Zepp, unattached, excepting for the first three laps, led all the way in the five-mile run, finishing a victor, with Jimmie Hennigan, scratch man, coming in third. Wildam Simmons, Dorchester, came second although some of the spectators differed, stating that they thought Hennigan passed Simmons.

LVIA PROVES VERSATILE MISS. The Boston Swimming Association's leading track light refuses to confine her activities to the javelin event alone. She is a far better than average running broad jumper and may represent this country in the jump also. Miss Bromen is one of the finest girl athletes ever developed in New England and at present she appears to be the only girl, who stands a chance to mak the track team from this section.

STAR GIRL ATHLETE POINTS FOR PLACE ON OLYMPIC TEAM

By WALTER KILEY

A new Babe Didrickson is rising to track and field stardom right here in our Greater Boston midst.

She's blonde and blue-eyed, graceful as well as lithe and agile. And withal about the most attractive feminine to don the cinder spikes of recent seasons.

We're talking now about Sylvia Broman, popular 24-year-old pride of North Easton, one of America's main hopes for Olympic track and field fame.

Like her more famous predecesser, Miss Didrickson, there is little in sports which Sylvia cannot do and do well.

EFFORTLESS EASE

She can throw the javelin with effortless ease. She can step over the hurdles with the grace of a fawn. She can broad jump with some of our men performers.

She played center on the Brockton's girls' athletic team, which won the New England basketball championship three years running.

She can swim and dive and lack of time alone prevents her from playing baseball as well as many a boy wearing an amateur uniform.

But Miss Broman has to work for a living. So that she is naturally limited in time to devote to sports.

Nights are her only free moments. And her evenings are given over religiously to her practice sessions.

Now Sylvia is Olympic-minded.

"Who wouldn't be be, with a chance to make the trip to Berlin?" she asks.

And who wouldn't, we agree.

It all depends on the result of the final Olympic tryouts for women to be held in conjunction with the national senior women's track and field championship at Brown University's Field, Providence, on Saturday, July 4.

Both title events are being conducted under the auspices of the Providence Tercentenary Committee, working with the A. A. U.

Our pretty friend is concentrating on her two pet specialties, the javelin throw and the 80-meters hurdles.

The New England javelin championship has been hers for the past three years straight. To that she has already added the 1936 national title.

GREATEST SUCCESS

While she is still comparatively new to hurdles, it is the one event which she likes the best and in which her trainer, Dana Hutchinson of Brockton, expects her to meet her greatest success on the basis of recent performances.

When Babe Didrickson was hitting the amateur high spots, she turned in a very neat 140 feet javelin throw to win the women's Olympic event at Los Angeles.

Sylvia can't compare with this mark as yet.

But she has been flirting with 120 feet in practice.

Now Miss Broman is not at all the girl you usually associate with strong man sports.

She looks slim and dainty. Her speech is highly refined. She has grace and charm.

But Sylvia is strong. She has that loose strength of the trained athlete, long silky muscles, shapely limbs, and makes a fine appearance whether in street attire or the blouse and shorts of competition.

In her stocking feet she weighs 120 pounds, distributed most evenly over five feet seven and one-half inches.

Her observations are intensely interesting. She says:

"Women are taking to track and field sports as a hobby. It gives them an outlet for their many men resort to golf and tennis and baseball for their normal inclinations, the same way laxation.

"I really like track. Of recent years it has become an obsession to me.

"I have always been good in sports. I have been actively playing some game or another since I was 15.

"I may not win the javelin throw or the hurdles at the Providence tryouts. But I have a confidence in myself which will help me."

Here, Sylvia flexes her arm. We feel the steel muscles hidden under a soft, smooth layer of flesh.

And we cease to wonder where she gets the power to propel the spear-head missile those prodigious distances.

And we sit back and trust that she will bring back to Boston the first Olympic title ever won by a New England track and field woman athlete.

Here's to Greater Boston's modern conception of the 1936 Babe Didrickson.

Dressen Explains Why Managers "Grey"

Charley Dressen, manager of the Cincinnati Reds may not have as many varied experiences in the course of an afternoon as Casey Stengel of the Brooklyn Dodgers, but the Reds, nevertheless, furnish him with occasional emotional moments, such as the incident that is related about one of his players, whose name is not quoted, but whom the ordinary fan should be able to readily identify.

Narrating the occurrence to Al Abrams of the Pittsburgh Post, Charley explained that in order to simplify his instructions while coaching at third base, he gives his base runners only two commands: Either "Go" or "Half-way."

One day this player had reached third from first on a long drive to the outfield. Seeing that the ball could not be relayed back in time, Dressen yelled "Go," to the runner, but imagine his surprise when he saw the athlete dash halfway to the plate and then return to third base.

"What's th ebig idea?" exploded Charley. "Didn't you hear me say 'Go'?"

"I thought," replied the base runner, "you said 'Whoa.'"

TRACK.

The South Shore High School track meet held in this city last spring, brought some mighty keen competition, with Brockton High taking top honors in the competition between schools of the larger group, Fairhaven was the Class A winner while Cohasset High won in Class B.

The Brockton Y. M. C. A. track team, coached by Henry Willman romped to the championship in the 4th annual A. A. U. meet staged at Newton, with a grand total of 97 points. Captain Lloyd Swanson was a triple winner in this meet, landing first places in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and also the high jump.

Miss Sylvia Broman brought the N. E. A. A. U. javelin championship back to Brockton, and Amy Dreyer, a member of the Brockton Girls' Club team won the discus throw title at the same meet. Miss Broman also took second place in the national meet held at Trenton.

Brockton runners performed well in long distance events during the year. Mike Mansulla and Leo Girard have become national figures because of their marathon prowess.

The above mentioned pair, along with Clovis Bourdelais were in the B. A. A. marathon last spring, and acquitted themselves with credit. They expect to run next April.

Looks like the American Olympic team will send its share across to Germany. I received a letter from Gus Kirby, Treasurer of the U. S. Olympic Committee, and also one from William Bingham and Fred Steers, both member of the Olympic Committee, regarding the program. I am sure all will be well, and all we need now is the money to send the team across the pond. Am in hopes of conducting events in Fitchburg to gather in some money for the team, same as I did on the Dedham affair. . . . . Do you know that the many other countries want us to keep away from Germany because they want to win the meet themselves. I will try to give the readers some real news next week, because I will officiate at the National A. A. A. U. Championships for Women this Staturday at Ohio Field, N. Y. City. I will drive over with miss Lally and her brother. I expect her to win the baseball throw and place in the javelin . . . . Miriam Nelson, winner of the N. E. A. A.A.U. 500 meter title, and third place-winner in the Indoor Nationals, looks like a place winner and may upset the dope and beat the champion, miss Stokes, 1934 winner. Last month Nelson beat out Stokes and made a new N. E. and national record of 6.6 for the dash . . . Sylvia Broman, Brockton Girls' Club, and Swedish lassie, should place in the javelin and high jump. I still say she would be the best hurdler in the land . . .

Sylvia Broman of the Brockton Girls' Athletic Club, won two New England championships in the open track and field meet at Frothingham Memorial Park, Saturday, capturing the 80-metre hurdles in 13.9 seconds, and taking the javelin throw with a heave of 108 feet 7 1-2 inches. The other championship event, the discus throw, went to Mrs. Margaret Burke Wright of the same club with a throw of 115 feet 6 1-2 inches.

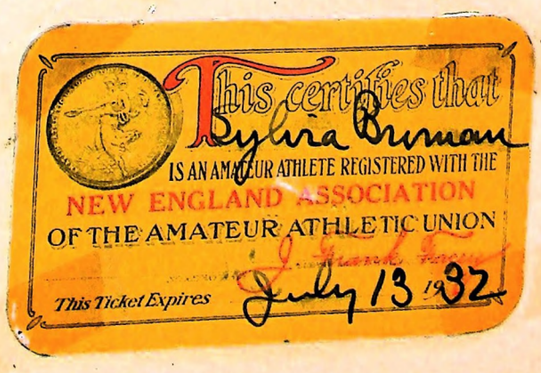

Miss Broman, who is national champion with the spear, was hard pressed Saturday to annex her specialty, for Bunny Burch of the Boston Swimming Association was only a quarter-inch behind the local girl. Miss Burch took the open javelin event with a toss of 105 feet 3 1-2 inches.

Roberta Winton pressed Miss Broman in the hurdles championship, with Dorothy Lyford, also of the Boston Swimming Association, in for third. The javelin queen was the meet's only triple winner, for she took the open broad jump from Mrs. Wright with a leap of 16 feet eight inches.

Mrs. Wright is the national discus titleholder, so her triumph Saturday was no upset. Her winning throw was two inches less than eight feet better than the second place effort of Rena McDonald of the Alpha Girls' Club of Malden. Miss Winton was third in this event.

Other winners were Olive Hasenfus, 100-yard and 100-metre dashes; Edith Donnegan. 50-yard open dash and R. Irving. 50-yard novice dash.

GIRL STARS IN TITLE GAMES

By NEMO FUCILE

With outdoor track quickly winding its way towards the end of the season there is time but for one more great meet to close an outstanding year in this sport. The final spoit classic will be a championship track and field carnival for women of New England and will be sponsored by the Boston Daily Record and Boston Sunday Advertiser at the Fens Stadium September 17.

This schedule includes two national and two New England champion events, also six open and one invitation events.

Dot Lyford, the 16-year-old Spencer High School athlete and holder of the world's standing broad jump title, will attempt to shatter another record when she competes against Helen Phillips, Nathie Welch, Mary and Sylvia Broman, both of the Brockton Girls' Club for the national junior running broad jump championship.

RECORD IS EXPECTED

In the national junior 100-yard dash championship many of New England's leading women runners have already made their entries. With Olive Hasenfus, winner of the national 220-yard championship; Louise Stokes, representative of the United States Olympic relay team; Dee Rowe, Helen Keller, of the Medford Girls' Club, and Helen McCarthy, also of the same organization, entered it is almost sure that a new record will be established.

Another event which should furnish a great deal of interest and competition is the New England senior javelin throw championship. Among those to compete are Misses Josephine Lally, and Alice Morris, both of the B. S. A., Margaret Burke of Brockton, Beatrice Manchester of the Lunenburg Club and Margaret Proctor.

The New England junior running high jump which is the final of the championship events has scheduled among its entrants, Miss Louise Stokes, of the Onteora Club in Malden. Miss Stokes, who recently returned from California was one of Uncle Sam's leading representatives on the Olympic relay team and now this young lady looms as the leading contender for this title.

SEVEN OTHER EVENTS

The remainder of this schedule includes seven other events which are open for the women of New England. They are the 50, 100 and 220 yards dashes, 50 yards handicap, discus throw, baseball throw and the running high jump.

Entered in the baseball throw is a young lady who comes all the way from Connecticut. Miss Lillian Tresslet, of the Hand Consolidated school. Miss Tresslet was here last summer and broke the New England record which was formerly held by Miss Josephine Lally of the B. S. A.

Registration blanks may be procured from Frank J. Facey, 26 Prospect st., Cambridge. With the entries closing tomorrow we again remind you to send them in as early as possible to the Girls' Track Meet Editor, P. O. Box 2228, Boston, Mass.

DEE ROWE, of the Boston Swimming Association, is another entrant in the junior national 100-yard dash championship

RETTY Miss Sylvia Broman, of the Brockton Girls' Club, is one of the many young ladies entered in the New England running broad jump championship.

ciation and holder of national 220-yard championship, feels confident that she will set another New England record at the Fens meet Saturday.

OLYMPIC
Trials for Girls
IN PROVIDENCE

The Olympics in Berlin are the goal of hundreds of girl athletes who are converging on Brown University Field for the final tryouts next Saturday afternoon.

From all parts of the country they come, a parade of national champions.

This new contingent of feminine stars must take over the Olympic responsibility so adequately handled four years ago when Babe Didrickson won the two hurdles and the javelin throw and took second to Jean Shiley in the high jump; and when Lillian Copeland led her discus field.

This trio of stars has departed the Olympic quest. It leaves the 1936 situation a wide open affair.

Massachusetts has a pair of champions in its own right who carry high hopes of traveling the ocean seas to Germany.

Sylvia Broman of the Brockton Girls' A. C., victor in the 1935 national javelin throw at New York, is definitely a prospect. So, too, is Louise Stokes, capable colored girl from Malden who only yesterday became New England 50-meters champion at Norumbega Park.

Joint Meet

The 1936 national title events will be conducted in conjunction with the Olympic events. But the latter are restricted to five performances, 100-meters run, 80-meters hurdles, discus throw, javelin throw and running high jump.

Miss Broman, who has been concentrating on the Olympic for a year past, is equally as capable over the 80-meters hurdles as in her better known specialty. She should represent United States in one of the events at least.

Much interest will center on the comeback attempt of Chicago's Betty Robinson who scored the only American woman title in the Amsterdam games of 1928.

Betty won the 100-meter dash in convincing time. Two years later she narrowly escaped death in an airplane smashup.

Miss Robinson has confounded her medical advisers and in recent workouts she has shown enough to warrant the hope that she will be the athlete of eight years ago.

But Betty has a hard row to hoe. Not only is Louis Stokes confronting her. But there is also Helen Stephens, who has been smashing records with abandon during the past year.

Helen's chief ambition is to dethrone Stella Walsh, Cleveland girl, who represented Poland in the 100-meters dash.

Miss Stephens has lowered the mark for this event to 11.3 seconds, six-tenths of a second under the Olympic record set by Stella at Los Angeles in 1932.

NEW ENGLAND'S No. 1 bet for Olympic honors is Miss Sylvia Broman of Brockton, shown above in a very unusual track pose. Miss Broman is certain to win a place on Uncle Sam's girls' team at Providence next Saturday afternoon. She will be entered in three events, the javelin, discus and low hurdles.

Fair Athletes at Rangely Lakes

Sylvia Broman, left, all-round athlete of Brockton, and Ann McNally, right, classy sprinter of New York, are in training at Rangely Lakes, Maine, for the National championships at New York next month, with the hopes of making the Olympic team.

REFEREE CALLS NORTH EASTON-FOXBORO H. S. GAME NO CONTEST

Basket Scored by Foxboro Player After Foul Had Been Called on North Easton Cause of Trouble---Visitors Declined to Try for Foul Shot, Claiming Victory.

Dec 8, 1927

Dec 8, 1927

THE basketball game played by the Oliver Ames High school boys and the Foxboro High boys in the Legion gym last evening, was declared no-contest, through a misunderstanding. The score was 11 to 10 in favor of the Oliver Ames boys, when a foul was called on Hilmer, the Oliver Ames centre for holding McLaughlin of Foxboro, by Referee Frolio of Abington. McLaughlin instead of ceasing to play, continued after the referee's whistle had been blown, and made a goal, and as the ball was in the air the whisle was blown for the termination of the game.

The Foxboro boys understood that the goal was awarded to them, and left the floor, but Referee Frolio ruled that the ball did not count, and the foul committed by Hilmer should be shot. Mr. Peterson, coach of the Foxboro High left the gymnasium before the termination of the game to participate in a contest between Foxboro and Franklin, and Principal Easter of Foxboro refused to take the responsibility of the team and the boys refused to shoot the foul, which might have tied the score, causing an overtime period.

It was very unfortunate that the game should terminate in this way, because it was a very good game to watch, as the teams were evenly matched. It is hoped that another game will be arranged between the two schools in the near future.

Between the halves the Oliver Ames girls easily defeated the Foxboro girls by a score of 36 to 8. At the beginning of the first half it looked like a pretty close game, but Oliver Ames soon got going and the score at the end of the first half was 19 to 8. In the second half the Foxboro girls did not score at all. Miss Larson was the heavy scorer for Oliver Ames, caging 10 baskets from the floor and three from the foul line. Miss Ahern played well for the losers, getting five points.

BRIDGEWATER H. S. LANDS 27 TO 22

Defeats Oliver Ames High in Thrilling Battle.

Bridgewater High made it 10 victories out of 11 starts when they defeated Oliver Ames High at the Normal Gym yesterday afternoon, 27 to 22. The North Easton boys gave Bridgewater a great scare, and led 14 to 7 at one time. Jackson seldom gets less than six field goals, and got this number yesterday in the second half. Blood and Kidney each got three baskets.

For the visitors, Spillane with five from the floor was the big noise. The Bridgewater team has yet to loose a game away from home, and only Abington has beaten them.

The girls' team lost to the North Easton girls, 24 to 16.

Y. W. C. A. BASKETBALL TEAM TOPS MIDDLEBORO 33 TO 17

Take Lead Early in Game and Are Never Headed---Irene Willman and Nora Williams Leading Scorers.

Brockton Y. W. C. A. defeated Middleboro Y. W. C. A. 33 to 17 Tuesday night on the local Y. W. C. A. court. The Brockton girls piled up a good lead during the first half, the score at the half being 24 to 5. In the second half with a change in the lineup, the Brockton team didn't look so good, the visitors outscoring the home team, 12 to 9.

Irene Willman with 13 points and Nora Williams with 11 points did the heavy scoring for Brockton. Hazel McNally, playing the second half for Brockton showed a lot of fine basketball. Rose Badeau at side centre showed plenty of power in that position. Faith Clifford as usual was strong both at guard and in a forward position.

The real battle of the night was between Sylvia Broman of Brockton and Elizabeth Kelley of Middleboro at jumping centre. It was as good an exhibition of centre work as has been seen at the "Y" in many a day, Miss Kelley giving the crack Brockton centre plenty to think about.

Vera Clark and Norma Smith, the two forwards for Middleboro played hard, but they couldn't locate the basket until the second half. The summary:

BROCKTON Y. W. C. A. UPSETS WORCESTER IN FAST BATTLE

Garners 37 to 16 Victory With Sigrid Broman and Irene Willman Starring---Seconds Drop 30 to 26 Verdict to Providence.

Brockton Y. W. C. A. basketball teams broke even in Worcester on Saturday. The Brockton first team defeated Worcester 37 to 16, while the Providence Seconds defeated Brockton Seconds, 30 to 26.

Brockton first team showed plenty of class. The two forwards, Sigrid Broman with her shooting, and the great passing by Irene Willman, was too much for the Worcester team. Miss Broman scored 13 field goals. Her shooting was sensational. Irene Willman was wonderful from the foul line, making five points out of six tries.

Sylvia Broman at jumping centre, Rose Badeau, Faith Clifford and Eva Anderson were the other girls to show fine basketball and made Brockton look like a real outfit. Pauline Dustin was the best for Worcester.

After holding the lead at the half, Brockton Seconds lost to Providence Seconds during the second half. The game was hard fought from the start. Marie Hinckley with 10 field goals was the high scorer. Frances Baldwin showed class for Brockton with 10 field goals. The other points made by Brockton were three field goals by Nora Williams. Constance Blake and Edna Markowska were the other stars for Brockton. The summaries.

6:30 P. M.—Y. W. C. A. vs. South Congregational; First Congregational vs. Central M. E.

The Evening Basketball League resumed play after the vacation, at the Y. W. C. A. Friday night. The Y. W. C. A. won its third straight game by smothering First Congregational, 48 to 4. The South Congregational-New Jerusalem combination, after one of the hardest battles of the season, defeated Central M. E., 45 to 38.

Y. W. C. A. had a chance to use all of its substitutes last night, in defeating First Congregational, 48 to 4. Every player on the Y. W. C. A. squad was given a chance to show her worth. The girls who looked the best for all around work were Sylvia Broman, Sigrid Broman, Irene Willman and Faith Clifford. The leading scorer was Sylvia Broman, with eight field goals. During the first period before any changes were made in the "Y" lineup, Irene Willman and Sigrid Broman gave a wonderful exhibition of passing and shooting. Eva Anderson played a strong defensive game for the Y. W. C. A. Pauline Baker made the only two field goals for First Congregational. Helen Fogg and Helen Hardie were the other girls to show good work for the losers.

Y. W. C. A. BASKETBALL TEAM EVENING LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

Goes Through Season Without a Defeat--- Second Title Won by This Organization.

Y. W. C. A. basketball team coached by Miss Eleanor Wennerberg won the Evening Basketball League without a loss. This is the second time that the team has won the championship. Captain Sigrid Broman played at forward. While at Oliver Ames High, North Easton, Miss Broman was a star. One of the best players in the State was at centre, when Sylvia Broman covered herself with glory.

Irene Willman, who played at the Y. W. C. A. for many years, was the other forward. he was just as clever as ever, her passing enabling Miss Broman to make many of her baskets.

Rose Badeau played at side centre. This was her first season on the varsity team, and she gave a good account of herself. In the backfield the team had two clever guards. Eva Anderson playing her second year, was hard to get by, and she saved many points from being scored against her team by her blocking.

Without doubt one of the best guards in girl's basketball in the State was Faith Clifford, a former inter-scholastic guard from Maine, Miss Clifford, while playing on the Portland team, was picked for All-Maine basketball teams, for four years. This year she has shown much power. Like Miss Anderson, she was able to break up the plays of their opponents.

The team had a name of playing hard, but clean basketball, very few of the girls going out on personal fouls doing the 12 games. The following is the record for the past season.

BROCKTON Y. W. C. A. FORCED TO LIMIT BY MIDDLEBORO

Only a Last Half Rally Saves Shoe City Quintette---Final Score 26 to 24---Game Played at Middleboro.

Middleboro Y. W. C. A. came near spoiling the fine record of the Brockton team Wednesday night when the Shoe City crew barely trimmed Middleboro, 26 to 24. At the half Middleboro led 15 to 10. It was great team work that gave Brockton the victory in the second half, outscoring the home team, 16 to 9.

Y. W. C. A. has not been defeated this season. The game was the roughest that the Brockton team has been in, many fouls being made, but few being called.

Sigrid Broman scored every point for the winners. Miss Broman was aided in her work by the wonderful passing of Irene Willman.

Sylvia Broman showed the Middleboro fans a few things how the jumping centre position should be played. Her pivoting had the centre of the Middleboro team on the go all through the game and it was her great work in handling the ball that gave Brockton the victory.

Vera Clark was the high light scorer for the home team. Miss Clark tossed in seven field goals and two foul shots. Melba Pratt was the other girl to show fine work for Middleboro.

Middleboro Seconds defeated Brockton Seconds, 29 to 19. The first half of this game was close and exciting. In the second half the Brockton team faded in front of the Y. W. C. A. Girls Take Revenge for '28 Loss.

Driving the Howard Seminary back to the wall during the first period of the game, the Y. W. C. A. made up for the beating that they received last season from the Howard Seminary Girls, by defeating them, 30 to 12, at the Y. W. C. A., Friday afternoon .

Very few girls' teams have ever shown the speed and dash the Y. W. C. A. team showed in the first eight minutes of play. The score stood 14 to 4 at the end of the period. At the half the local team was leading, 20 to 5. Great work in this half by Eva Anderson and Faith Clifford, Brockton's two guards, was mainly responsible for this. In the third period the Brockton team made one lead 26 to 5. This period it was the wonderful work of Sylvia Broman and Rose Bedeau at centre that kept the ball from the Howard baskets. The last period showed the Howard attack, outscoring Brockton, 7 to 4.

Sigrid Broman Leads Scorers.

The high class shooting of Sigrid Broman with eight field goals, and Irene Willman with six field goals was the feature of the game. The Y. W. C. A. girls outplayed the Howard girls and had them a tired lot when the final whistle blew. Once again Sylvia Broman, at jumping centre, showed that she is the peer of any girl basketball player in this district.

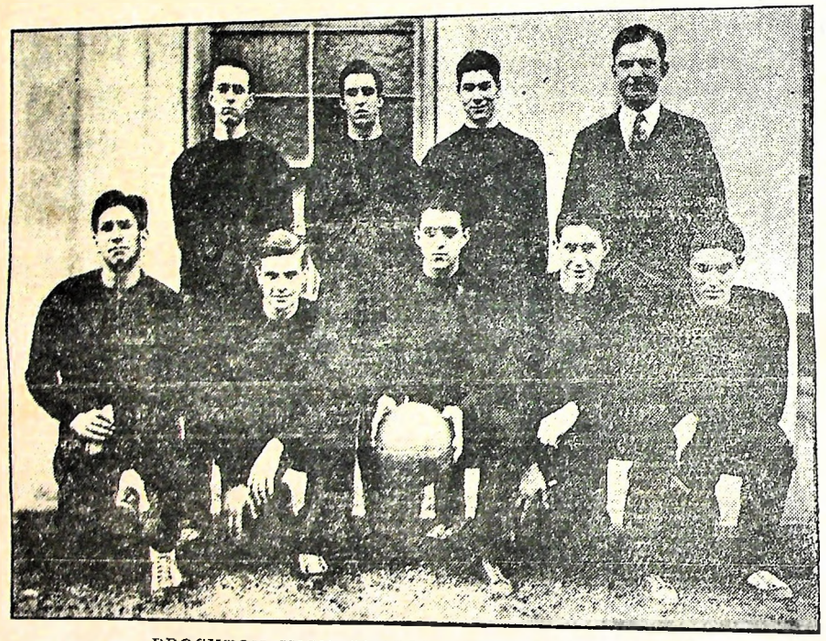

The girls that showed the best work for Howard Seminary were Harriet Coffing at side centre, Blanche Ihen and Virginia Bailey.

The work of these two great basketball players was the best seen in Brockton for many days, reminding the fans of the days of Dorothy Kelley Bath Manders and the
