Senior History

Four years ago the class of '39 commenced on a tour through bookland in the ship Key West High, Horace O'Bryant being Captain and Mrs. Bessie Eagan First Mate. Other members of the crew were Bob Duncan, President; Juanita Dongo, Vice-President; and Olga Camo, Secretary. As this was our first trip to Freshman Port, we were confronted with many obstacles, how to take in the high spots the town had to offer in the quickest way, how to store our knowledge away on its proper shelf so that it would always be ready for future reference, the selection of souvenirs, gems which would bring back the happiest memories in later years. In time we all learned and were prepared to enjoy fully delights of a greater variety awaiting us at Sophomore Port, our next stop.

Sophomore Port—from this port onward we were under the sponsorship of Mrs. Lorine Thompson and the officials were Juanita Dongo, President; Allen Roberts, Vice-President; Virginia Knowles, Secretary; Lionel Cobo, Treasurer; Margaret Bernal, Student Council Representative. It was during this stop that we lost one of our thirty-two seamen—Bob Duncan, who was killed in an accident. After a nine months sojourn we embarked for Junior Port.

Junior Port—Our officials this time were: President, Harry Knight; Vice-President, Juanita Dongo; Secretary, Margaret Bernal; Treasurer, Virginia Knowles; Representative to Student Council, Paul Esquinaldo. We gave a "Posin" Dance for the purpose of securing funds for the Junior-Senior Prom. This dance was a big success. We featured a "Big Apple" number routine which went over big. In giving our Prom we broke away from the precedent and gave a "Barn Dance" in the Gym. The Seniors thoroughly enjoyed it and it is probable that future proms will be given there. It all ended too soon and once more we were headed for another port, Senior Port, our last stop. Before we embarked for the last time we were joined by another section of seamen who had been a little advanced from us.

Senior Port—We elected Harry Knight as President; John Robinson, Vice-President; Virginia Knowles, Secretary; Dorothea Stricker, Treasurer; Anita Berkowitz was unanimously elected Business Manager of the Annual and Dick Hernandez Editor-in-Chief of the same. Our basketball team had a very bad season, winning but a few of the games they played.

Our senior rings were distinctive. Instead of the old Oversea Highway they had the modern Oversea Highway for a symbol.

Three plays from which the Senior Play was to be chosen were ordered. The D. A. R. award was given to Bonnie Mae Watkins. John Robinson was elected Giftorian; Dorothea Stricker, Prophetess; Margaret Bernal, Historian; Anita Berkowitz, Valedictorian, and Mario Napoles, Salutatorian.

Conch Day came eventually, and fun was had by all—including the sponsors. Joe Henriquez acted as Master of Ceremonies for an amateur hour in which all Seniors took part. Anita and Howard tried to hide under a sun hat. A few danced, a few sang, and they all ate. Silliest boy was Allen, and loudest trunks were Hector's. The five musketeers—Lionel, George, Joe, Dorothy, and Orlando—???—politely cockeyed!

Now we are nearing our destination and our trip is about to end. We are all looking forward to the day when we cast anchor on the shore of life, but our eyes mist at the mere thought of saying goodbye to our dear ship and fellow seamen as we take the separate paths destined for us.

MARGARET BERNAL, Historian

Class Prophecy

GOOD EVENING LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

Here we are on the deck of the S. S. Conch peering eagerly through the magic telescope into the year 1949. Let's see what our friends the dignified seniors of '39 will be doing 10 years from today.

The mist clears. I see five women in white. They're none other than Mary Castro, Maria Estenoza, Felicia Yado, Una Mae Brady and Joan MacMullen—trained nurses at the great Mayo Brothers Hospital.

Pegging away at a typewriter in Attorney Charles Aguera's Law Office I find Margaret Bernal, better known as Peggy. Some job!

Here is Virginia Knowles standing at the door of her new beauty shop in California. Working here also are Marie Sands and Dorothy Steadman, manicurists and Agnes Thompson and Barbara Curry, hairdressers.

A U. S. battleship has just come into port at Key West, Florida. Captain Dexter Dorgan, First Mate Louis Orvide and Quartermaster Canfield Lewin are stepping ashore to be greeted by their happy wives and what a greeting!

Two housewives who look a great deal like Olga Camo and Hilda Yado are doing their weekly shopping at Louis Richardson's Grocery Store. Watch those scales girls!

Now let's take a look at the Pan American Airways field. Can that man in greasy overalls be George Ybarnea? He is now an expert airplane mechanic. Aviators, Harry Knight, William Jackson, Warren Lowe and Gilbert Lord of the U. S. Air Corps are having their planes checked for a Cross-Continent flight. Good luck, boys!

There's a big dance going on at the Twenty One Club in New York. Orchestra leader, Hector Barrozo, and hot trumpet player, Allen Roberts, are really swinging while Joe Henriquez and Bob Atkins are behind the bar mixing drinks for the dancers.

In a cozy sitting room I find Olga Kemp, the experienced housewife reading the Sunday papers. The cartoons are drawn by Dick Hernandez. Society Editor Margaret White and Sports Editor Malcolm Roberts are always on the job getting the latest news.

Here is Paul Esquinaldo working like a troupier singing in a Chicago night club.

Architect Howard McDonald and partner, Arnold Brye, are designing a new streamlined aircraft for Daisy Watkins, the great solo flier. She is getting ready for a record-breaking round-the-world flight. Secretary Susan Roberts with pencil in hand is taking dictation at 150 words a minute.

Accountant John Robinson, Bookkeeper John Valenzuela, and Secretary Dorothea Stricker are earning large salaries at Bolt's Wholesale Co.—one of the largest in the country.

Who is this standing over a cage of guinea pigs with a test-tube in her hand? Ah, it's Anita Berkowitz, working on her latest experiment.

I see Ruth Osterhautt having a dress fitted at Diana Ortiz Dresse Shoppe. It looks a lot like a wedding dress to me.

Lemuel Baker is warming up a plane at the New York field to fly American Consul, Antonio Martinez to his new appointment in China.

Delio Bazo is wiping the dough off his hands to serve Nathalie Perez as she buys cake for hubby's dinner. Cashier, Phyllis Adams is nearby to receive the money.

A large neon sign reads: "Lionel Cobo's Drug Store." Curb Girl, Sarah Perez, runs out to serve Kathryn Johnson, Virgie Key, and "Tootsie" Thompson who are on their way to a lecture on "How to Be a Successful Housewife."

Here is the office of a large corporation. Bookkeeper Olga Camo is handing out work to Stenographers Juanita Dongo, Geraldine Knowles and Bonnie Watkins.

Who is this coach giving the Key West Hi School Varsity a pep talk. It is Frank Stickney, Florida's leading basketball coach.

Photographer Orlando Esquinaldo is taking pictures of Ruth Russell, Radio City Organist, after her concert at Carnegie Hall.

Mario Napoles has just won his first case in court as Court Secretary Lillie Carey records everything that is said.

Among the whining dynamos, I find Electrical Engineer Eugene Russell checking the wires.

Now the scene becomes misty and finally fades, as our look into the future draws to a close. We cannot linger too long on the future, however, as we still have the present to cope with.

DOROTHEA STRICKER, Prophetess.

Class Will

KEY WEST HIGH SCHOOL
MONROE COUNTY IN FLORIDA

To Whom It May Concern:

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1939, being in our sane and sensible minds, with no outside influence being brought to bear upon us, do this day, May 31, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine A. D., bequeath:

FIRST: To Mrs. Lorine Thompson, all our thanks for the splendid way she has sponsored our class and also all our gratitude for her kind service and helpful advice.

SECOND: To Mr. O'Bryant all the fear, admiration, awe and respect that we have all held him in the past years and we give him our deepest sympathy for the almost impossible task of converting incoming Seniors into ladies and gentlemen.

We, John Robinson and Bonnie Mae Watkins, gladly leave to Jack Weech and Clyde Stickney our extensive knowledge and good grades.

We, Arnold Brye and Louis Richardson, do bequeath to Charles Pierce and Jack Einhorn, our ability to create a disturbance in a quiet and peaceful study hall.

We, Allen Roberts and Howard Earl MacDonald bestow upon Milton Appel and Elmore Rosam, our ability to be heard as well as seen.

We, Tootsie Thompson and Joyce Whitmarsh donate to Lenora Whitaker and Magale De Leon our excessive talking any saying nothing.

I, Daisy Watkins, pass to Jessie Watkins my untiring devotion for the boys in the khaki uniform.

I, Hector Barrossa, pass on to Eric Curry, my talented gift of playing the saxophone.

We, Geraldine Knowles and Ruth Osterhault, leave to Shirley Almyda and Dolores Romeguera our intense desire to gossip.

We, Louis Ovide and William Jackson, leave our love of Histrionics to John Lowe and Ray Malone.

I, Buddy Dorgan, leave my ability as a salesman to Emil Gardner.

We, Hilda and Felicia Yado do hereby bequeath our likeable and generous nature to Alice Aguilier and Wilma Sands.

I, Bob Atkins, do gladly relinquish some of my excessive height to Phillip Orta to do with as he sees fit.

I, Joan MacMullen, gladly bestow my quiet and cunning ways to Regelio Gomez.

I, Eugene Russel do gladly bequeath my sincere devotion to all types and kinds of bottles to Charley Ketchum.

We, Olga Camo and Dorothy Steadman, do hereby leave Shirley Almyda and Lois Malone our natural gift of staying slim.

I, Warren Lowe, leave my unusual ability to Richard Chapman.

I, Orlando Esquinaldo, present my artistic ability with a pen to Robert Madrigan.

I, Juanita Dongo, do gladly bestow on Lorraine Harrington my sedate and quiet manners.

I, Lemuel Baker, bequeath to George Henriquez, my girl shyness and some of my blushes.

I, Delio Bazo, leave to Ray Perez my boisterous attitude toward life.

I, Margaret Bernal, leave to Edna Spencer and Shirley Pierce my everlasting neatness of hairdress.

I, Agnes Thompson, leave to Flossie Mae Key my ability to recite.

We, Marie Sands and Margaret White bequeath to Humberlina Norcisa and Rita Disdier our latest jokes and wise cracks so that they might not seem gloomy all the time.

We, Sarah Perez and Olga Brost, bestow on Francis Williams and Anita Stewart some of our funny little ways and mannerisms.

I, Lillie Mae Carey, donate to Lois Lockrow my ability of singing alto.

I, Una Mae Brady, leave to Eloise Sawyer, Cecilia Alonso my love for the sailor boys, etc.

I, Nathelie Perez, bestow on Helen Archer, my girlish delicateness.

I, Kathryn Johnson, leave to Shirley Elbertson my technique of having fun in school.

I, Gilbert Lord, leave my ability to tell funny jokes to William Schoneck.

I, Virginia Knowles, do gladly will my extraordinary abilities as a secretary to Ray Demeritt.

We, Diana Ortiz and Maria Estonoz, bequeath our equanimity to Sylvia Pinder and Marion Taylor.

We, John Valenzuela and Malcolm Roberts leave our ability to make money to Eugene Lowe and Ray Perez.

We, Canfield Lewin and Frank Stickney, gladly give our technique for basketball playing to Robert Smith and Jack Murray.

I, Mario Napoles, give to Kermit Lewin, my unusual gift of being seen and not heard.

I, Antonio Martinez, pass on to Bob Pittman some of my excessive weight.

I, Anita Berkowitz, gladly leave my ability of arguing even though vanquished to Maude Roberts.

We, Lionel Cobo and Harry Knight, bestow on Jack Miller and W. C. Maloney, our graceful dancing as an everlasting heritage.

We, Charles Aguera and Dick Hernandez, pass on to Sebastian Cabrera III and Wallace Mitchell, our highly esteemed journalistic ability.

I, Barbara Curry, present to Rosemary Kelly my modest timidity and daintiness.

I, Olga Kemp, leave some of my seriousness and my stern nature to Lois Pinder.

I, Paul Esquinaldo, leave my popularity around school to Edwin Berkowitz.

I, Joe Henriquez, gladly give to Sidney Matthews the technique of having fun in school and still graduating after a time.

I, Ruth Russell leave my gift for playing the piano to Carmen MacBeth and Walter McCook.

I, Vergie Key, donate to Mary Sawyer my melodious voice.

I, George Ybarnea, leave to Earl Garlotte my small and dainty feet.

We, Dorothea Stricker and Susan Roberts, gladly bequeath to Louise Niles and Betty Jane Lukas, our extremely serene and wonderful nature.

All the rest of our property, whatsoever and wheresoever, and of what nature, kind and quality, after the payment of all our debts and funeral expenses, we leave to our Key West School Board and Superintendent. May they grow rich and independent from the proceeds.

In testimony whereof, we hereunto set our hand and seal, and declare this to be our last Will and Testament, this thirty-first day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine.

PHYLLIS ADAMS, Testatrix.

Displaying probably the worst record of any team to represent a local school, the "Conchs" terminated their miserable season by bowing to the Delray Beach "Sea Hawks" in the district tournament 17 to 10.

Many reasons have been given for the team's unexpected downfall, such as the inability of the veterans, Lewin, Schoneck, Pinder, and Stickney to regain last year's form and the lack of capable substitutes.

Key West was a member of the strong Island City Basketball League.

This year's varsity consisted of: Matthews, Lewin, Pinder Shoneck, Nelson, Stickney, Soldano, and Collins. We succeeded in winning 8 games while dropping 14.

Coach Huddleston should produce a winning team next year as Lewin and Stickney are the only players lost by graduation. "Slinging Sam" Collins will captain the 1940 team. Matthews and Soldano figure heavily in next season's plans.

Jokes

Mrs. Eagan: "John, what is the term 'etc.' used for?"

John A.: "It's to make people think we know a lot more than we do."

Harry K. was very much in love. He wanted to marry Barbara L., but could not for the life of him ask her outright to marry him. After taking much shrewd thought, he finally asked, "How would you like to be buried with my people?"

Surgeon (to Tony, an attendant): "Go, and get the name of the accident victim so that we can inform his mother."

Tony (three minutes later): "He says his mother knows his name."

Daisy W.: "They tell me you are on the college basketball team."

Frank S.: "Yes, indeed!"

Daisy: "What position do you play?"

Frank: "Why Daisy, I'm one of the drawbacks on the team."

Miss Gardner: "Now Allen, in the Mitchell family there are Mother, Daddy and Ronnie, the baby. How many does that make?"

Allen: "Two and one to carry."

Mrs. Thompson: "Where is the Suwanee River, William?"

William J.: "Far, far away."

Hector: "Could you fix me a dose of castor oil so the oil won't taste?"

Druggist: "Certainly! Won't you have a glass of soda while waiting?"

Hector: "I don't mind" (Drinks soda).

Druggist: "Something else?"

Hector: "No, just the oil!"

Druggist: "But you just drank it."

Hector: "Oh, I wanted it for a friend."

(One of the Yankee Pupils in the Senior Class): "I'll take off my hat to you oyster eaters. It was all I could do to eat three last night!"

Juanita D.: "Weren't they fresh? What did they look like when you opened them?"

Yankee: "Oh, do you have to open them?"

It takes about 1,600 nuts to hold an automobile together, but it only takes one to scatter it all over the landscape.

Salesman (selling rings): "I'd like to speak with somebody around here with a little authority."

Senior: "Maybe I can help you. I have about as little as anybody."

Mr. Huddleston: "I will now show you the internal structure of a frog. (Opens paper parcel containing two ham sandwiches). Why, I was sure I ate my lunch only a few moments ago."

Personnel Director: "Yes, we have a position open. Do you know anything about figures?"

Eugene: "Do I? I was lifeguard at Key West Beach all winter."

Mrs. Eagan: "I have went. That's wrong isn't it?"

Bob A.: "Yes, ma'am."

Mrs. Eagan: "Why is it wrong?"

Bob: "Because you ain't went yet."

Mrs. Thompson: "Can anyone tell me how the earth is divided?"

Charles: "Between them that's got it and them that would like to have it."

Teacher: "Parse the sentence, 'Tom married Jane'."

Junior: "Tom's a noun because he's the name of something. Married's a conjunction because it joins Tom and Jane. Jane's a verb because she governs the noun."

Mrs. Russell: "Can you tell me what thought passed through Sir Isaac Newton's head when the apple fell on it?"

Joe H.: "Glad it wasn't a brick."

"If your mother bought seven baskets of grapes, the dealer's price being a quarter a basket, how much would the purchase cost her?" asked the teacher.

"You never can tell," answered Barbara, who was at the head of the class. "Mother's great at bargaining."

"Father," said little Frank, as he turned the pages of his history, "How did the cliff-dwellers keep warm in the winter time?"

"Why, I guess they used the mountain ranges. Now don't ask any more foolish questions."

Bill: "I'm learning to fly, grandma. Pretty soon I can take you to the city in an airplane."

Grandma: "You will not. When I want to go to the city, I'll go in an automobile—they way Providence intended me to go."

Mrs. Hilton: "Now, will someone please spell needle."

Smart Junior: "N-e-i-d-l-e, needle."

Teacher: "Wrong, there is no i in needle."

Smart Junior: "Well, 'Taint a good needle then."

"Why did you get home so late, Warren?" asked his mother.

"Teacher kept me after school because I answered a question."

"Surely, you must be mistaken; your teacher wouldn't keep you in because you answered a question. What was the question?"

"She asked who was whistling."

"And now," asked Mrs. Thompson, "will anyone give an example of an indirect tax?"

"The dog tax," announced the pupil.

"Why do you term that an indirect tax?"

"Because the dog doesn't pay it."

College Lad: "But your honor, I am a college boy."

Judge: "Ignorance doesn't excuse anybody."

Traffic Cop: "Use your noodle, lady. Use your noodle."

Joyce: "My goodness. Where is it? I've pushed and pulled everything in the car."

Johnny: "Say, dad, how soon will I be old enough to do as I please?"

Pop: "Nobody ever lives that long, son."

A beggar held out two hats to a passerby. "Mister," he said, "will ye gimme a nickel for a cup of coffee?"

Sure, replied the passerby. "But what's the idea of two hats?"

"Well," said the beggar, "business was so good that I had to open a branch."

"Can you tell me how to wash spinach so as to get all the sand off it."

"Sure, tie it on the end of a fishing pole and hold it under Niagara Falls."

"Eldorado"

Gaily bedight,
A gallant knight
In sunshine and in shadow
Had journeyed long,
Singing a song,
In search of Eldorado.

But he grew old—
This knight so bold—
And o'er his heart a shadow
Fell, as he found
No spot of ground
That looks like Eldorado.

And, as his strength
Failed him at length,
He met a pilgrim shadow—
"Shadow," said he,
"Where can it be—
This land of Eldorado?"

"Over the Mountains
Of the moon,
Down the valley of the shadow,
Ride, boldly ride,"
The shade replied—
"If you seek for Eldorado."

—Written by Edgar Allen Poe
