Class Poem

Four years of work and pleasure now behind us lie—
Four years of captivating memories;
Joy, Sorrow, and Romance walked with us
Hand in hand.

In these, the best four years in life,
Our m'nds we've shaped for that which is to come,
Who knows? Some of us may be Presidents,
Others merely beggars.

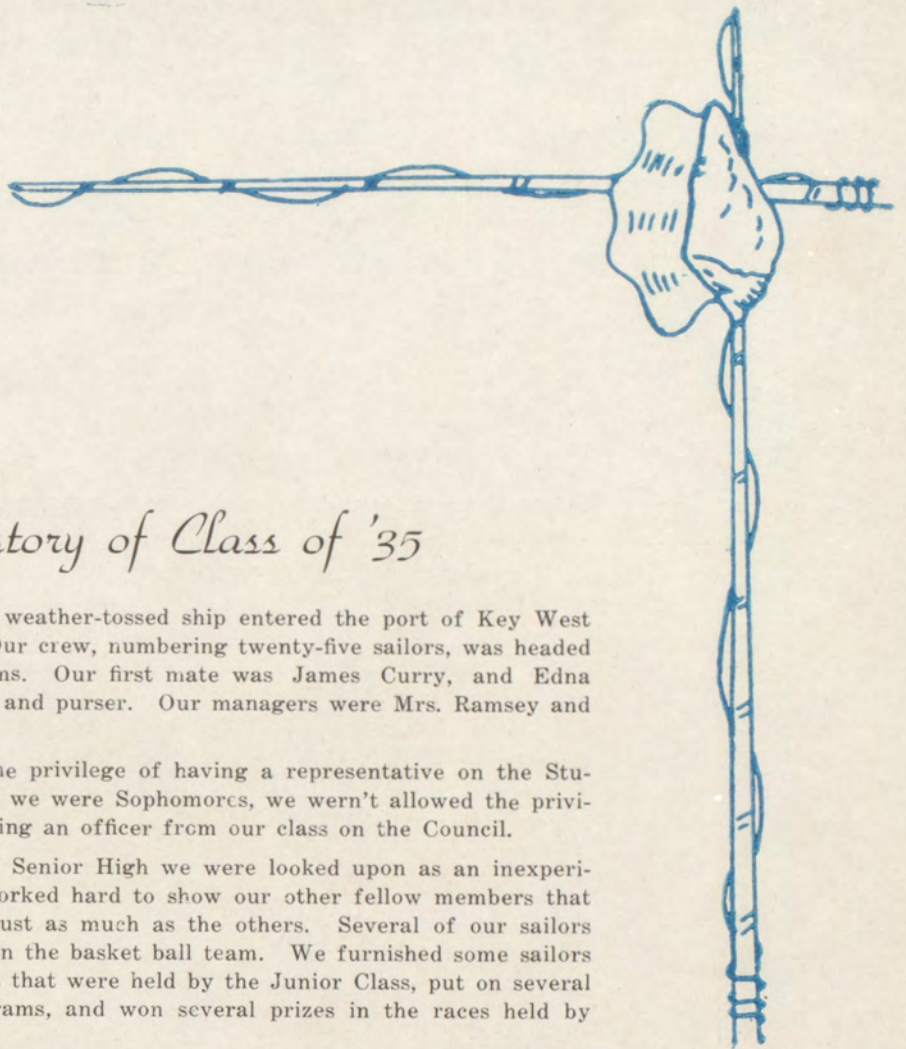

This step that now before us lies,
Will lead us to the stark realities of life.
In days not too far distant,
We will be sole masters of our destinies.

So now we take our places
In the rank and file of Life's great drama—
In years to come
We'll prove ourselves fit heirs of our progenitors.

So now we find that we are at the parting of the ways,
Sweet memories are all we'll have
Of these four years of joy;
Before us lies a broader road.

With these, dear friends, our parting words,
We'd like to wish success to underclassmen
Who, some day, will find themselves
In cap and gown arrayed.

ALBERT WIGGINS, Class Poet.

History of Class of '35

In '32 our small, weather-tossed ship entered the port of Key West Senior High School. Our crew, numbering twenty-five sailors, was headed by Beulah Lee Williams. Our first mate was James Curry, and Edna Roberts was secretary and purser. Our managers were Mrs. Ramsey and Professor O'Bryant.

We were given the privilege of having a representative on the Student Government. As we were Sophomores, we weren't allowed the privilege and honor of having an officer from our class on the Council.

When we entered Senior High we were looked upon as an inexperienced crew, but we worked hard to show our other fellow members that we could accomplish just as much as the others. Several of our sailors represented our ship on the basket ball team. We furnished some sailors on the boxing matches that were held by the Junior Class, put on several excellent chapel programs, and won several prizes in the races held by the P. T. A.

The first nine months of our duty was accomplished, and we were given our vacation for the next three months.

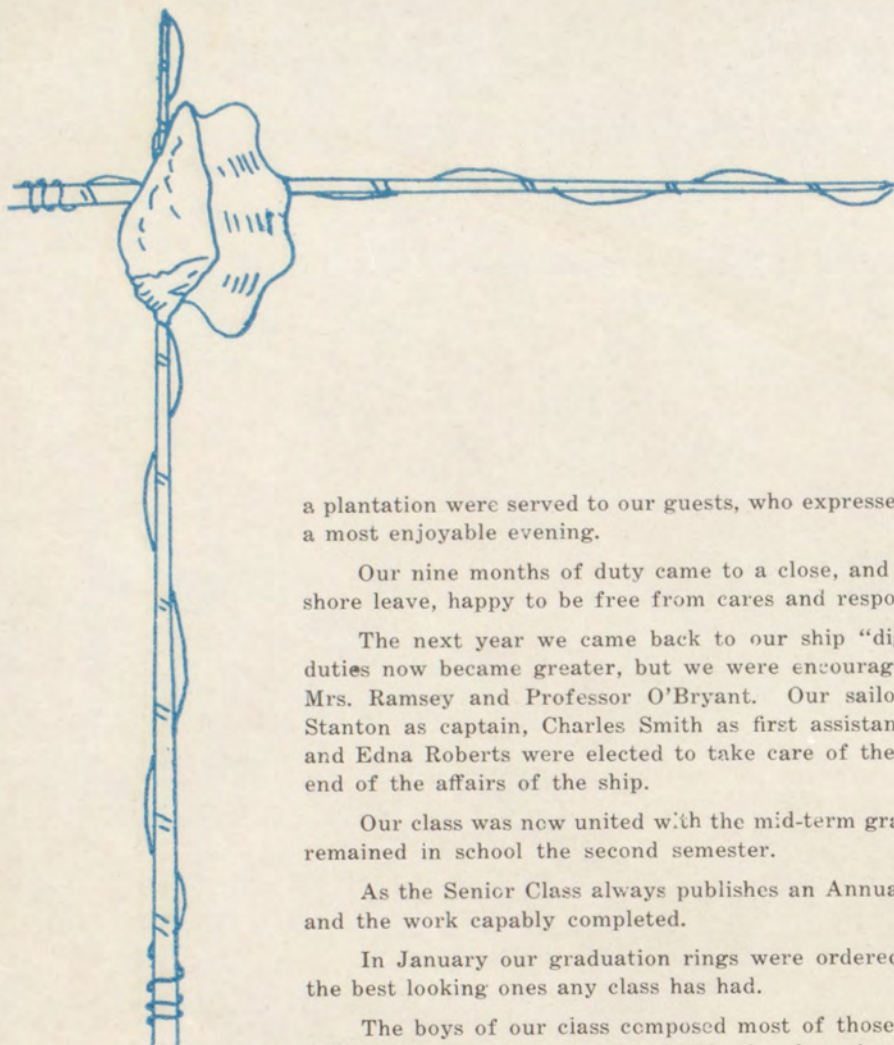

The call to duty was heard, after three months of pleasure. We assembled once more to take up our responsibilities, which were becoming more difficult. The crew elected Laudelina Contreras as captain, Beulah Lee Williams as first mate, Margaret Falcon as secretary, and Edna Roberts as purser.

Our ship had to entertain the Senior crew at a farewell party, so we started to work as soon as possible.

The crew held several boxing matches in the gymnasium, which were well attended. They were a success through the efforts of the prominent fighters of our city and our crew. Again our ship came out victorious in the races held by the P. T. A. We were also represented in basketball by our boys and girls.

April found the Senior crew ready to play pranks on us. As April 1 came on a Sunday the Seniors held their entertainment and picnic on March 23. Our sailors were ordered to imitate many of the leading movie stars, which we successfully carried out. Some of our sailors tried to steal the "Conch" from the Seniors, but the Seniors proved too witty for us.

In the next few months we were busy making plans for the Junior-Senior prom. May 18 came and our ship entered the port Country Club, where an old plantation was beautifully decorated. The typical foods of a plantation were served to our guests, who expressed themselves as having a most enjoyable evening.

Our nine months of duty came to a close, and our sailors were given shore leave, happy to be free from cares and responsibilities.

The next year we came back to our ship "dignified Seniors." Our duties now became greater, but we were encouraged by our managers, Mrs. Ramsey and Professor O'Bryant. Our sailors now elected Curt's Stanton as captain, Charles Smith as first assistant, and Hilda Demeritt and Edna Roberts were elected to take care of the financial and business end of the affairs of the ship.

Our class was now united with the mid-term graduates, many of whom remained in school the second semester.

As the Senior Class always publishes an Annual, the staff was elected and the work capably completed.

In January our graduation rings were ordered. No doubt these are the best looking ones any class has had.

The boys of our class composed most of those on the varsity basketball team. Although they didn't win the championship, they were an outstanding team.

The girls also exhibited their skill in basketball by having a strong team.

In the A. A. our class was honored by having Edward Woodson as president.

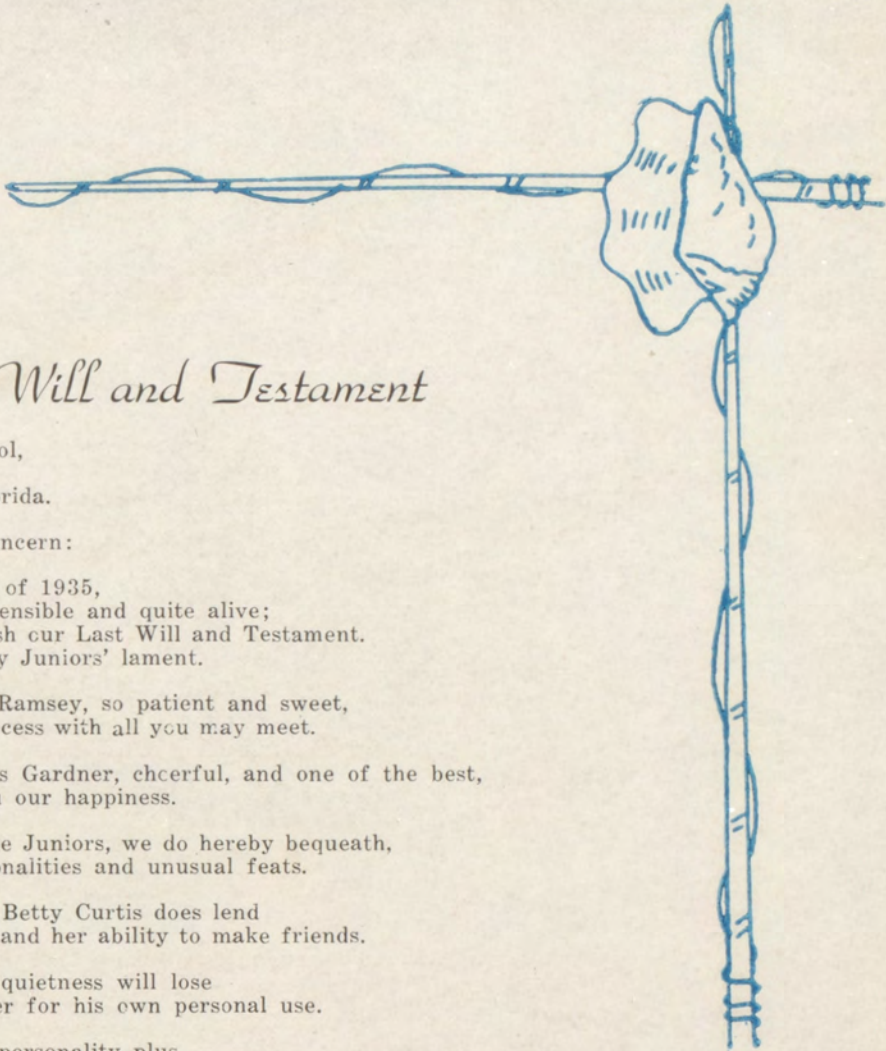

In March the class decided to select the Senior play. "Huckleberry Finn" was voted the best play and the cast was selected. Practice was immediately begun. On May 3 the play was presented to a very large audience, who greatly enjoyed it.

On March 29 our class held "Conch Day," a privilege given only to Seniors. We fooled the Juniors by not having a program. Although they did try to play a joke on us by kidnaping our president. The crew went to Boca Chica for an all-day picnic, which was greatly enjoyed, although many were sunburned.

On May 10 the Junior Class entertained our class with a large party at the Country Club.

Thus our duty on our little ship has come to a close. Many of us are to take up heavier and harder duties that the future holds for us. Our ship has made a successful voyage, and we especially owe its success to Mrs. Ramsey and also Miss Gardner. Everyone has tried his best to make some other sailor's task easier, and we only hope that the future holds bright prospects for us.

EDNA ROBERTS.

Last Will and Testament

Key West High School,
Key West,
Monroe County in Florida.

To Whom It May Concern:

We, the Seniors of 1935,
Being healthy, sensible and quite alive;
Do hereby publish our Last Will and Testament.
Much to the silly Juniors' lament.

First: To Mrs. Ramsey, so patient and sweet,
We wish you success with all you may meet.

Second: To Miss Gardner, cheerful, and one of the best,
We leave to you our happiness.

And lastly, to the Juniors, we do hereby bequeath,
Our grand personalities and unusual feats.

Ruby Albury to Betty Curtis does lend
Her sweet ways and her ability to make friends.

Irene Allen her quietness will lose
To Gerald Pinder for his own personal use.

Jack Pierce his personality plus
To Jerome and Jeff to use as they must.

Ed Woodon to Jay Stricker and Henry Lee
His basketball ability does leave.

Glenwood his good looks does lease
To Tom Eden, that he may be looked at with ease.

Charles Smith to Herbert and Jack Knight,
His manner of dressing, the way the girls like.

Helen Russell her mirthful laughter
To Cynthia Pearlman and Clarabel Cerezo.

Shirley, her dancing gracefulness to Eloise,
For the special purpose of partner's relief.

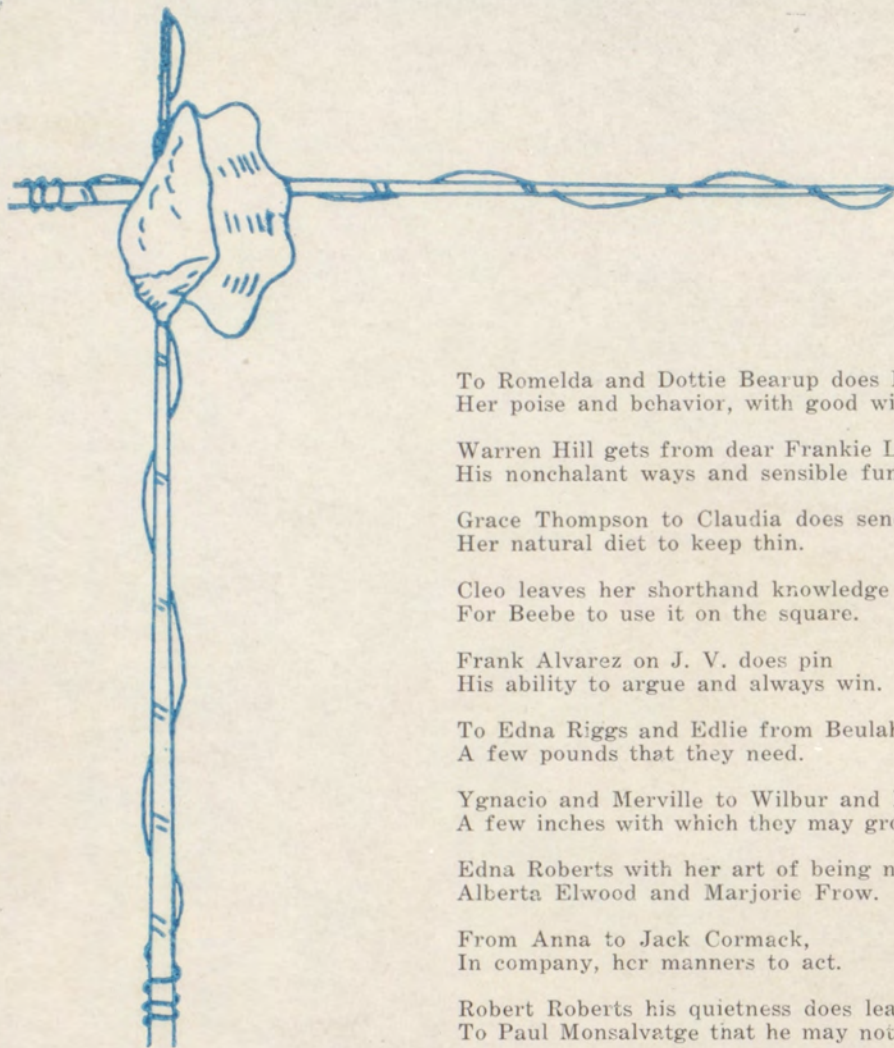

Evelyn Niles and Marguerite to Edna Gomez and Faye,
Their love of basketball and fair play.

Woodrow and Lali their wonderful A's abandon
To Gerald Jaycocks and Billy Acheson.

Curtis Stanton to Thelma Atwell and Sidney Blackwell leaves
His ability as a leader and his social prestige.

To Marguerite Medina does Celia lend
Her good looks and a few old boy friends.

Hilda and Marjorie to Cleora and Ann
Their ability to be seen wherever they stand.

To Romelda and Dottie Bearup does Margaret Falcon
Her poise and behavior, with good wishes, loan.

Warren Hill gets from dear Frankie Lund
His nonchalant ways and sensible fun.

Grace Thompson to Claudia does send
Her natural diet to keep thin.

Cleo leaves her shorthand knowledge there—
For Beebe to use it on the square.

Frank Alvarez on J. V. does pin
His ability to argue and always win.

To Edna Riggs and Edlie from Beulah Lee
A few pounds that they need.

Ygnacio and Merville to Wilbur and Betty Moreno,
A few inches with which they may grow.

Edna Roberts with her art of being natural would endow
Alberta Elwood and Marjorie Frow.

From Anna to Jack Cormack,
In company, her manners to act.

Robert Roberts his quietness does leave
To Paul Monsalvatge that he may not his teachers grieve.

Albert Wiggins his vocabulary bequeathes
To Billy Lowe and Deimar Hotchkiss.

Leona and Mary Romero their tidiness do leave
To Jack Saunders and Robert Valdez.

For Annice Smith and Edna Wells
Sweet Lolita lays her Spanish at their feet.

To Billy Allen and Anthony Knowles
Hand motion from Alberto, they may need it, who knows?

Clarence to Cora and Ella Curry does leave
His ability to tell jokes and not always look peeved.

From Henry to Mary Boyd, who could be so sweet,
A few lessons of "no bragging" to the new people she meets.

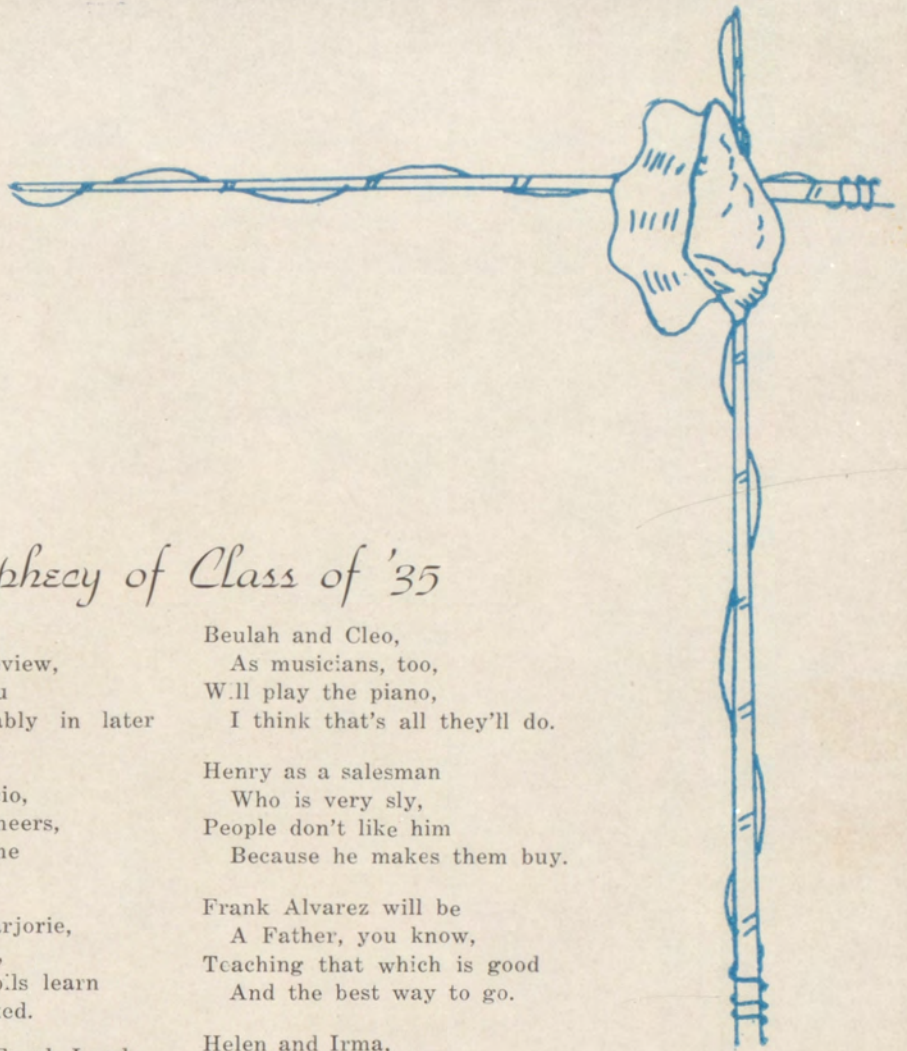

Allan Robinson, who is ambitious and slow,
On Amparo Simon does these arts bestow.

Justine to Charles Wardlow would mete
Her foreign pronunciation and accents sweet.

And lastly, does Carmen her best wishes leave,
To her successor, her sympathy has he.

Witnessed and signed by the best class alive on this 29th day of May, 1935.

SENIOR CLASS,
By Carmelina Alfonso.

Prophecy of Class of '35

As the Class of '35
Passes in brief review,
I will try to tell you
What they probably in later years will do.

Woodrow and Ignacio,
As electrical engineers,
Will make their name
In future years.

Ruby, Edna and Marjorie,
As teachers strict,
Will make their pupils learn
Or they'll get licked.

Albert Wiggin and Frank Lund
Will join the navy, I heard,
They will lead a carefree life,
Never to be disturbed.

As artists of fame,
Merville and Jack
Will draw many
A dame.

As a beauty specialist
Shirley will strive,
To help keep up
The woman's pride.

Allan as a musician
Will play many a piece
On his violin,
With the greatest of ease.

Beulah and Cleo,
As musicians, too,
Will play the piano,
I think that's all they'll do.

Henry as a salesman
Who is very sly,
People don't like him
Because he makes them buy.

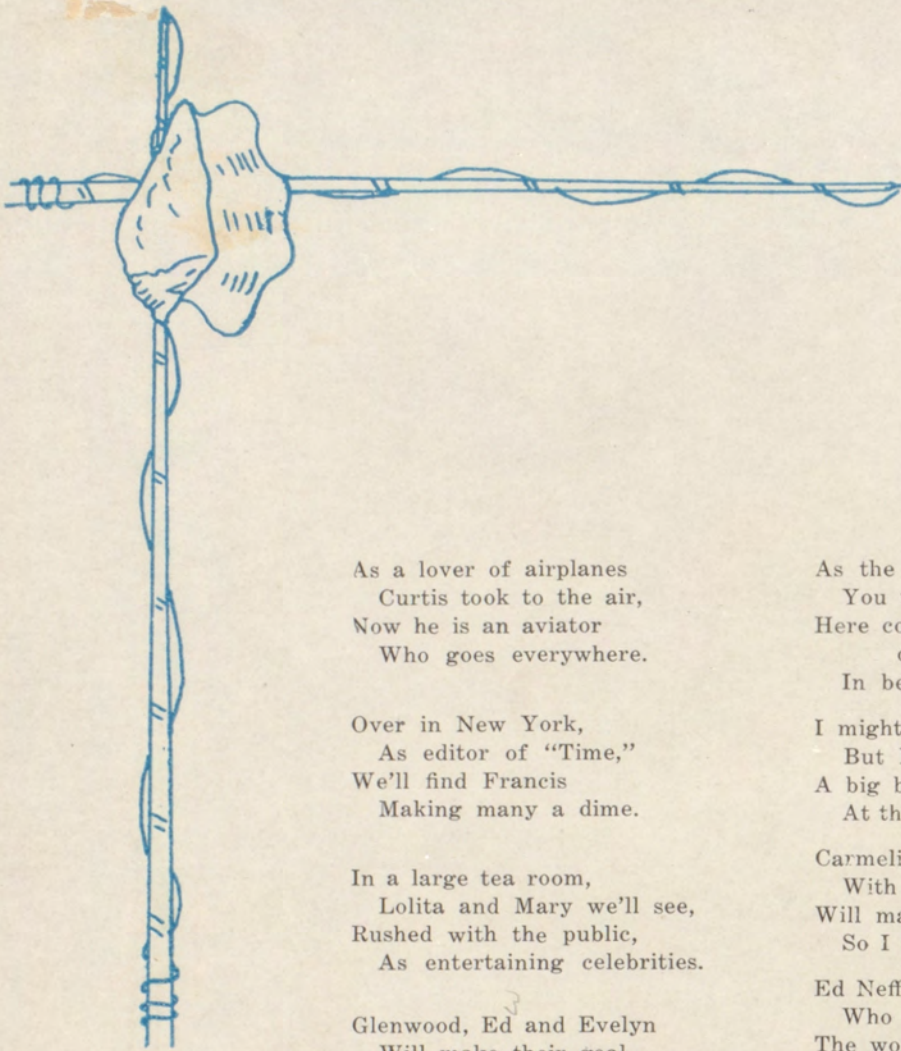

Frank Alvarez will be
A Father, you know,
Teaching that which is good
And the best way to go.

Helen and Irma,
From a big business man,
Take their dictation
With a very quick hand.

Toot, toot!
Get out of the way!
Here comes Robert Roberts
As a chauffeur in a big coupe.

Justine is a story writer,
Writing stories that are swell,
Lali is a seamstress
Who sews very well.

In the World Series,
Clarence you'll see;
Pitching strikes fast,
One, two, three.

As a lover of airplanes
Curtis took to the air,
Now he is an aviator
Who goes everywhere.

Over in New York,
As editor of "Time,"
We'll find Francis
Making many a dime.

In a large tea room,
Lolita and Mary we'll see,
Rushed with the public,
As entertaining celebrities.

Glenwood, Ed and Evelyn
Will make their goal
As high school coaches
Of basketball.

Of Anna's future
I am not so sure,
But I think she will clerk
In a drygoods store.

As the wedding march is played
You will turn around,
Here comes Grace, Hilda and Leona
In beautiful wedding gowns.

I might be mistaken,
But I think Margaret will be
A big business woman
At the head of a dress company.

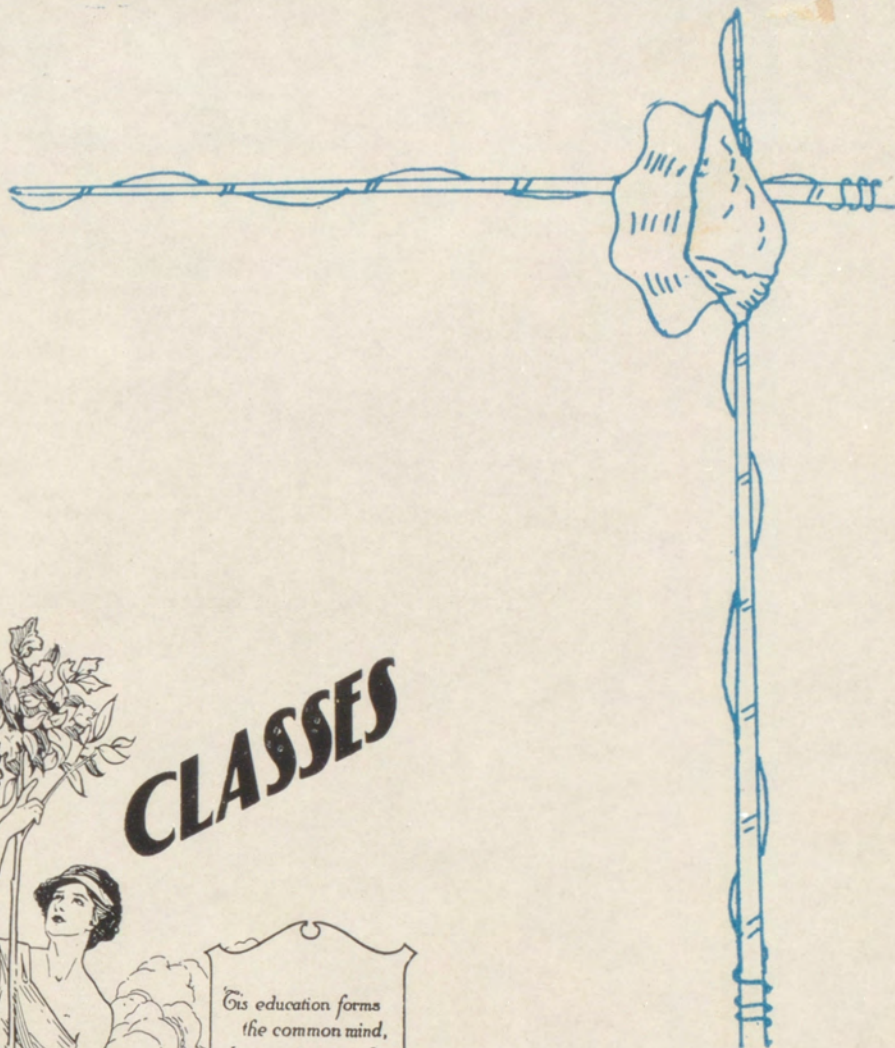

Carmelina and Celia,
With big ideas,
Will make Hollywood their aim,
So I am told, my dears.

Ed Neff is an engineer
Who understands perfectly,
The working of the gears
And can set them up with dexterity.

Albert Rodriguez is a baseball player,
Batting and pitching away.
Charles Smith at Naval School,
He'll be a lieutenant some day.

Now, my friends,
My prophecy is at an end;
May many blessings to all attend.

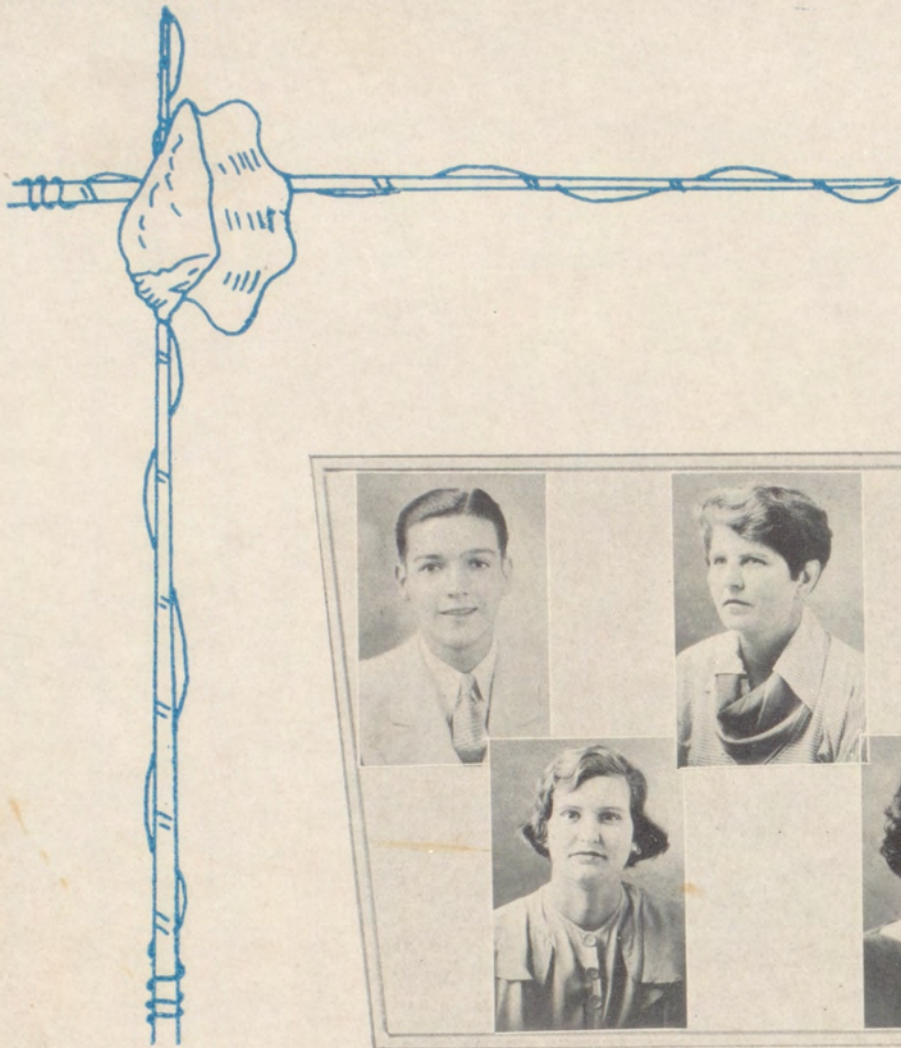

MARGUERITE VALENZUELA,
Class Prophet.

Class History

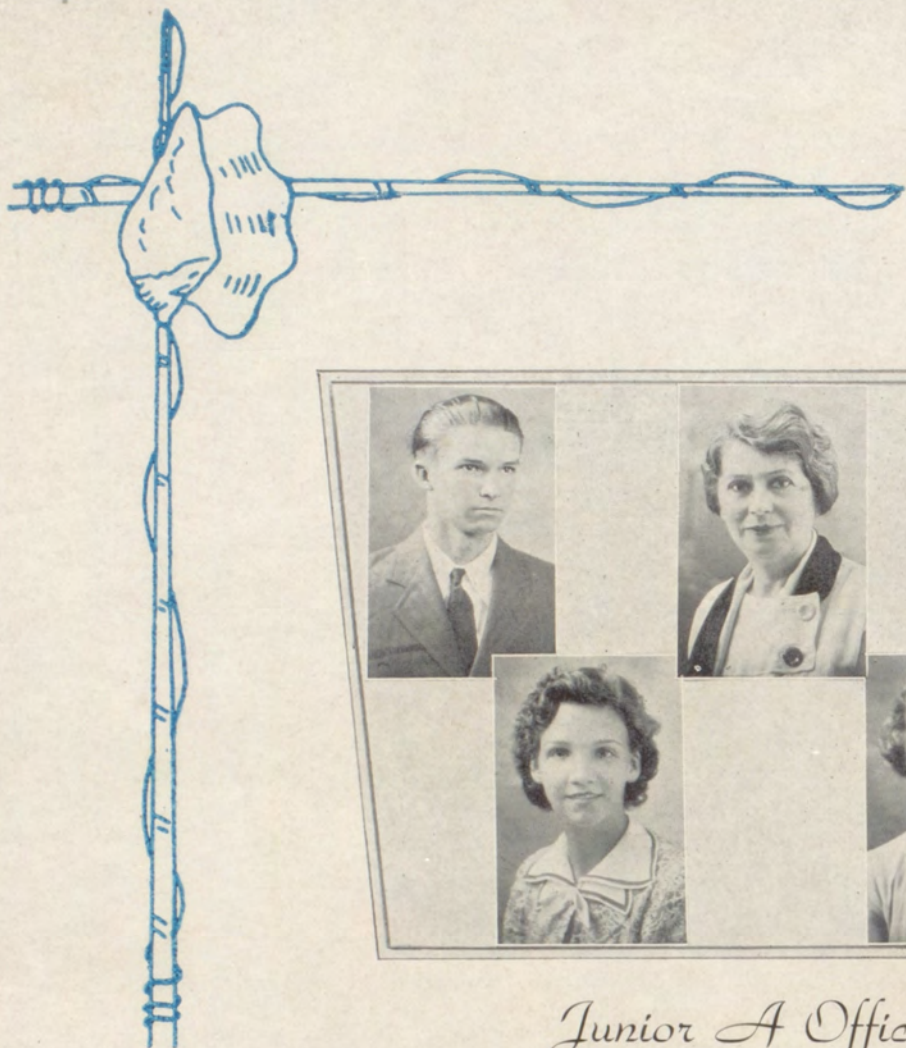

We're coming down the stretch on the last lap of the first race for knowledge, each member a coordinating muscle in the makeup of our quite thoroughbred class entry! And our entry's jockey, Mrs. Thompson, is to be complimented upon her expert holding of the reins.

The class was full-spirited during the tenth lap, sponsoring plays and taking part in contests in dear Old High School. It wasn't quite as eventful as the eleventh round in which we successfully hurdled boxing matches, plays, a dance and the plantation prom which we gave the class of '34 in true Southern style.

Our class has been well represented in the Pep Team, on the Varsity and in the Athletic Association.

The Class of '36 needs one half of the lap to go and then the race will be won!

Class History

The world goes on! So must its people. In all fields of service we find people fighting and striving for the goal of a higher and better living. But to continue this great and worthy cause we must have education . . . hence our institutions of learning.

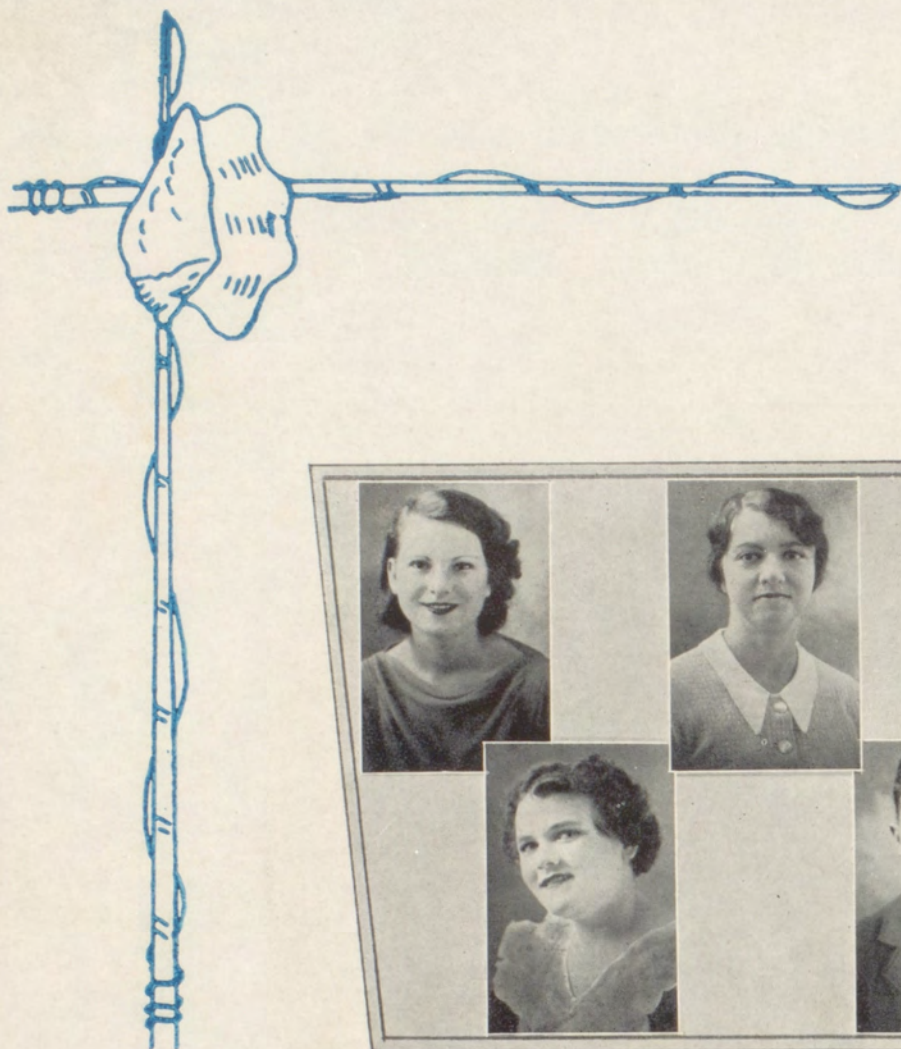

Our class will spend one more year in High School and then go out into the world to better our education so that we may help guide our great country.

We have the reputation of having staged some of the best chapel programs, many of which will be long remembered by most of the students.

The dance that our class sponsored was so thoroughly enjoyed by everyone attending that they are impatiently waiting for the time another will be held.

Our class has been fortunate enough to have earnest and hard-working leaders who have always endeavored to advance the class to first place. May we continue with success.

Class History

Senior High at last! These were the words of relief from the 9-A Class in February, 1934.

While in Miss Peebles' home room we presented a very entertaining play for a chapel program.

After a long vacation we were assigned to Miss Trevor's home room. Here as class activity we have spelling twice a week.

Our class has taken an interest in the various school activities. We gave a pre-Thanksgiving dance at the Cuban Club and earned enough money to pay our share of expenses for the Junior Prom.

Class History

We left Junior High with the feeling that we had accomplished something worthwhile and had set an example for other classes to follow.

The following class officers were elected: Alton Roberts, president; Norma Louise Garcia, vice president; Gerald Pinder, secretary; Rae Louise Russell, treasurer; Fred Ackerman, athletic representative; Bob Saunders, representative to the Student Council.

Our great ambition is to establish an exceptionally high mark for achievement, loyalty and scholarship.

Class History

The students of our class met in the seventh grade and have together since co-operated and worked harmoniously with our teachers.

We take an interest in the school activities and sports. Our class officers this year are: Arnold Brye, president; Louis Richardson, vice president; Dorothy Mae Dungan, secretary; Elwood Dexter, treasurer, and Matthew Zoel, Student Council representative.

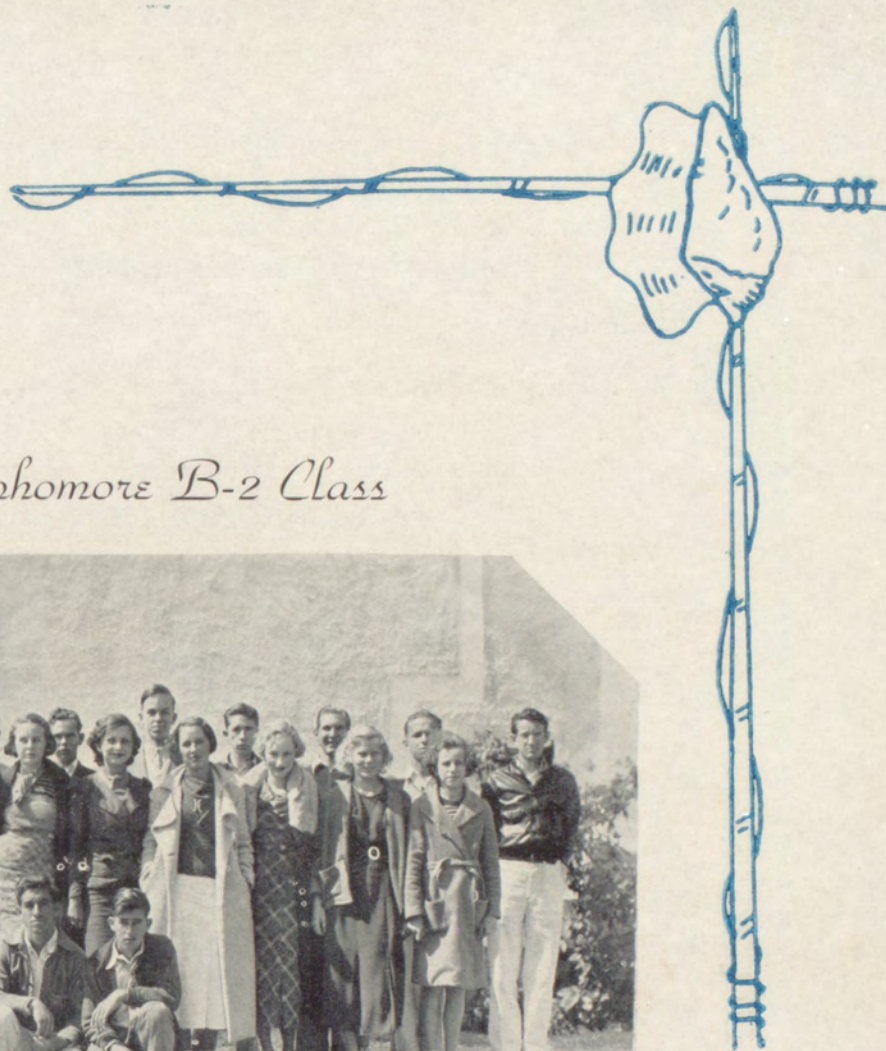

We hope to set an example which will enable other students to gain the respect of their teachers and schoolmates.

Key West High School

Activities —

Student Government

Officers

President	Curtis Stanton
Vice President	Herbert Eddy
Recording Secretary	Chester Knowles
Corresponding Secretary	Hilda Demeritt
Treasurer	Jeff Knight

The Student Government Association was organized by the students of Key West High School in 1932. Since that time it has succeeded in organizing various activities.

This last year we have established flag saluting ceremonies in the assemblies.

The purpose of the Student Government is to encourage the practice of good citizenship and to promote the highest type of relationship between the faculty and the student body. We feel that we have done much toward accomplishing our purpose.

Assistant Business Managers ..	Jack Knight and Raymond Navarro

We feel grateful to the staff of The Snapper for its steadfast and earnest work. They have succeeded in providing the school, for the most of the year, with a newspaper that not only aroused school spirit to higher levels, but also has given evidence of what future students may do in the way of journalism.

On the advice of the faculty the name of the paper was changed from The Conch to The Snapper.

After weathering many storms The Snapper had to discontinue publication two months before school closed, due to the fact that we have no school press and were not allowed to call further on the local merchants to help us meet expenses.

Glee Club

This group has very successfully participated in several programs during the year 1934-35. The Christmas Vesper Service on December 15 was beautiful and well done, simple yet most effective.

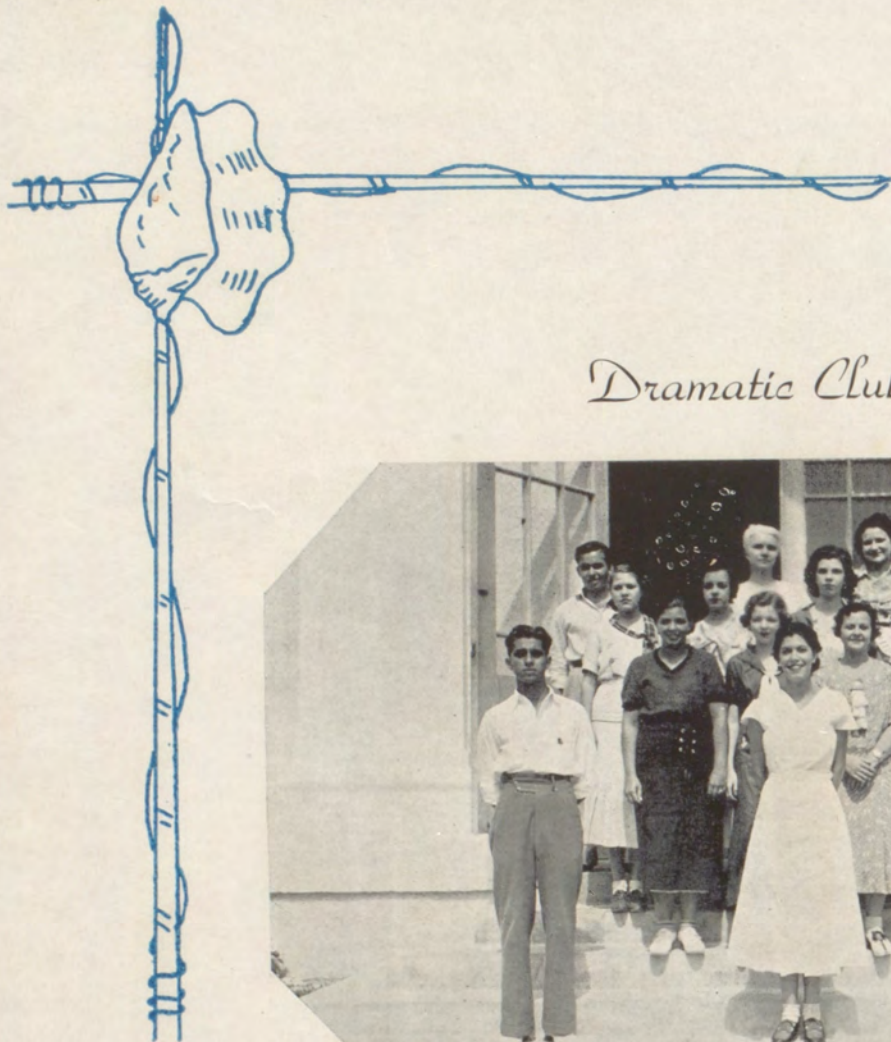

Prelude.....	High School Orchestra
Processional.....	Senior High Chorus
Greeting.....	Junior High Chorus
Carols.....	Harmonica Band
Christmas Story.....	Curtis Stanton
Carols.....	Senior High Chorus
Playlet, "Follow the Gleam".....	Senior High Girls
Anthem, "Beautiful Song of Christmas".....	High School Chorus
Recessional, "Jesus Shall Reign".....	High School Chorus
Postlude.....	High School Chorus

An operetta, "Miss Cherry Blossom," was presented March 22, 1935, by the following cast:

"Cherry Blossom".....	Edris Lowe
"Kokemo".....	Frank Alvarez
"Jack Smith".....	Warren Hill
"Harry Jones".....	Chester Knowles
"Horace Worthington".....	Richard Lund
"James Young".....	Steve Boyden
"Jessica Vanderpool".....	Leodawn Jergusen
"Togo".....	Charles Smith, Jr.

Much acclaim was given this delightful musical comedy by all who saw it and it was repeated on Monday afternoon, April 1, 1935.

One of the happy events of the school year was when Miss Emily Crosland came into our school life. We can not praise her too highly for the work she has already done. The success of anything depends on a capable leader and for this reason we have been able to do much work in our school pertaining to music under her direction.

The history of the Dramatic Club is brief, but very interesting. Since its organization the club, with the help of our sponsor, Miss Peeples, has been able to present many successful performances.

"Her Radio Romeo," a one-act comedy, presented in chapel during the early part of the school term, proved to be most enjoyable.

The last play, "Miss Molly," a comedy in two acts, presented at the sixth period, drew a large crowd and this play was even better.

The activities of the club closed with a grand swimming party at "Rest Beach." The members spent a most delightful afternoon.

Debating Society

Officers

President	Delio Cruz
Vice President	George Collins
Secretary	Norma Garcia
Treasurer	Thelma Atwell
Sponsor	Miss Gardner

The Debating Club of the Senior High School, which was organized a year ago last September, although successful during its first year, has been even more so during its second year.

Practice debates have been held at the regular meetings.

On November 20 the society presented a debate in chapel: Resolved: That the Present System of Installment Buying of Consumption Goods Should Be Condemned. Affirmative—Sidney Aronovitz, George Solomon, Norma Garcia. Negative—Delio Cruz, George Collins, Joseph Pinder. The arguments on both sides were strong, making it very difficult to render a decision. However, the negative side came in with the winning colors.

An enjoyable event of the first semester was a picnic at Rest Beach.

On April 9 the national debate subject was debated in chapel. Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Adopt the Policy of Equalizing Educational Opportunity Throughout the Nation By Means of Annual Grants to the Several States for Elementary and Secondary Education. The negative side won. This debate was considered of much importance to the entire school, as it taught not only the form of debating but brought out many interesting facts and opinions existing in the nation at the present time.

NORMA GARCIA.

School Orchestra

MISS EDNA SMITH, Director

The Key West High School Orchestra, under the capable direction of Miss Edna Smith, was newly organized this year and has developed new talent. The individual members as well as the organization have accompanied and played for various functions throughout the school year. The outstanding work of the organization was in connection with the Christmas Vesper Service, "Miss Cherry Blossom," Baccalaureate and Commencement.

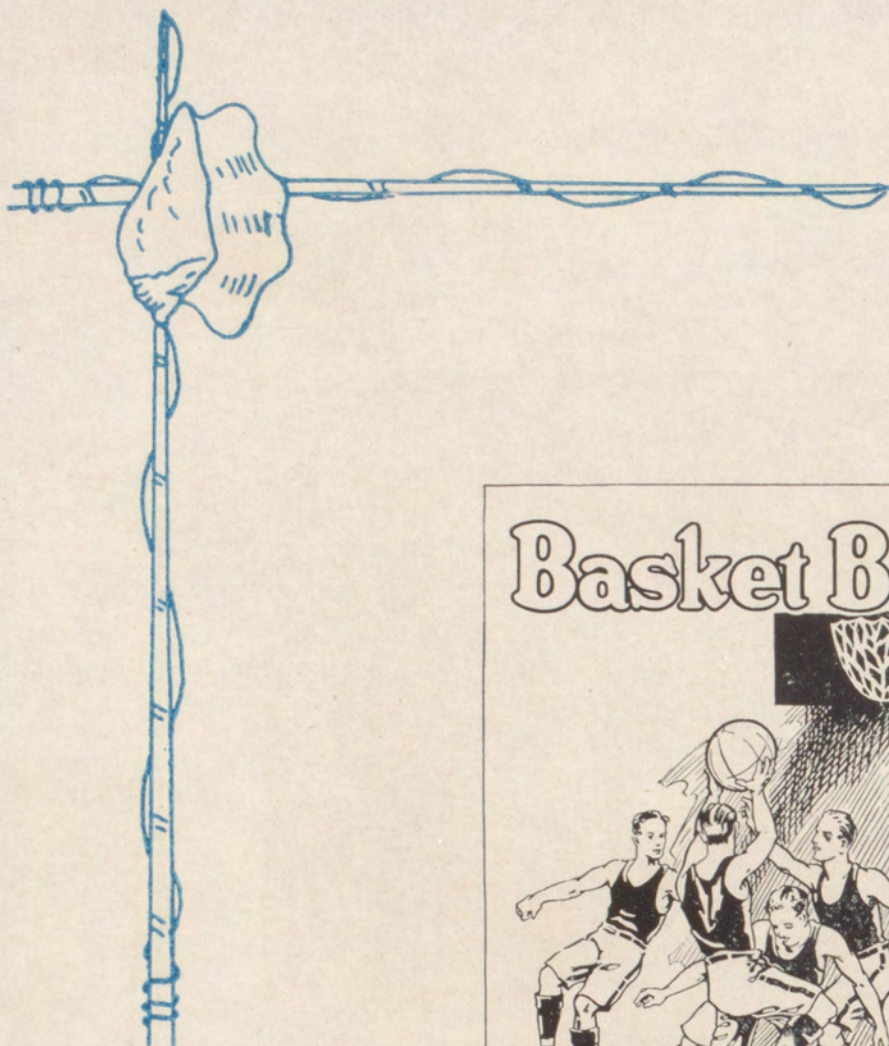

The orchestra this year was fortunate enough to have a director like Miss Smith, who loves the work and has added much to the school life by rendering many musical programs.

Basketball

The 1935 Varsity, under the instruction of Coach Huddleston, had the most successful season ever played in the history of Key West basket ball.

Led by the Woodsons, Anderson, Smith and Rosam, our Varsity came out victorious in every game played on our court. On our road trip we were defeated twice, but luck was with us in our game against Lake Worth. Our Pep Team accompanied us on the road trip and our success was mostly due to these loyal rooters.

Playing the first game at the District Tournament, we put up a good fight, but our opponents, Lake Worth, came out victorious by one point.
