Generation X. We have been named the Lost Generation. The generation forever destined to be fixing the mistakes of our pasts and predecessors. The generation that is completely caught up in the bad things that our elders criticize but did after all invent. Generation X is in the midst of intense exploration. On a dusty, old piece of what may seem like worthless paper there reads a treasure map drawn by people from generations before us. On the paper a thin, transient, unpredictable line represents the path that one must follow to find the long-seeked treasure. The treasure is marked by a large, deeply embedded X. The students of the class of '96, '97,'98, and '99 are all represented by this X. We are the treasure that the generations before us have for so long quested. We have tried to follow in their footsteps, searching for something that already existed, and it has been easy to get stumped by the thinness of the line drawn for us. We have searched for our own identity, and still are. What we are just beginning to realize is that we are the answer to this map, and satisfying our explorations is left to be found by exploring within ourselves. We hold the key to the future- the key to unlock the real treasure that lies in each and every one of us. Generation X is discovering who we really are, what potential we have of controlling the future, and how far are horizon reaches. In the school year of 1995-1996, 1250 students at Key West High School began to realize that our horizons have been broadened by the uniqueness in identity, and strength and potential in character. Follow the new map documenting the explorations of Generation X- read into the X files.

STUDENT eXPRESSION

Why not spend a beautiful day at the beach with friends? Katie Halloran and Jeff Grabois take advantage of a free day from school to visit Bahia Honda, the State Park, and celebrate the better things in life, like hugs.

What better way to wake up is there to the fresh, new Florida Keys air? Amanda Briscoe-Blacklock and Molly Milnes relax on the porch of a friend's house on the early morning of a weekend.

Opening the door to a room that completely expresses who you are provides a comforting reminder that at last, after a long school day, you are at home. Lissette Kuhnke takes it easy it while reading a magazine in the unique suorroundings of her room.

eXtraordinary days

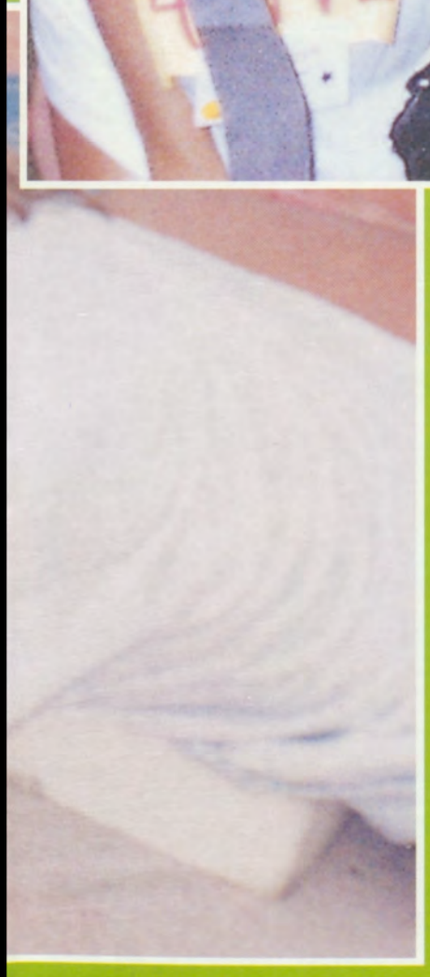
Those lazy, hazy, crazy daze of summer: we never want them to end... but they eventually do and when we're left with the memories those endless days to keep us going.

Whether you spent the summer lying on the beach or traveling around new places, one thing is certain; we all wish the summer would last forever. Junior Teresa Stafford said, "I traveled to England and Portugal this summer and I had the greatest time. It was so fun getting to experience other cultures." Aside from family travel many students went off to summer camps. Kathy Rzad went to a camp this summer sponsored by the Interact club at the FIU campus. "It was hard at first because I didn't really know anyone, but by the end of camp I had made lot's of great friends," said Kathy.

As we wait for summer to roll around again, we can only imagine the great times we'll have and hope it will surpass the summer before.

Shana Vasbinder spends a week of her summer vacation at FSU as a Florida Girl's State delegate. Throughout the week she learned about the government and dressed up as a Federalist squaw.

Erica Vural is shown here camping in Czechoslovakia. She enjoyed spending time in the countryside and cooking her food over an open fire.



Brandi Dion and Tricia Sawyer having a ghost of a time on their trip to Universal Studios. Posed behind them are the ghosts from the movie "Casper".

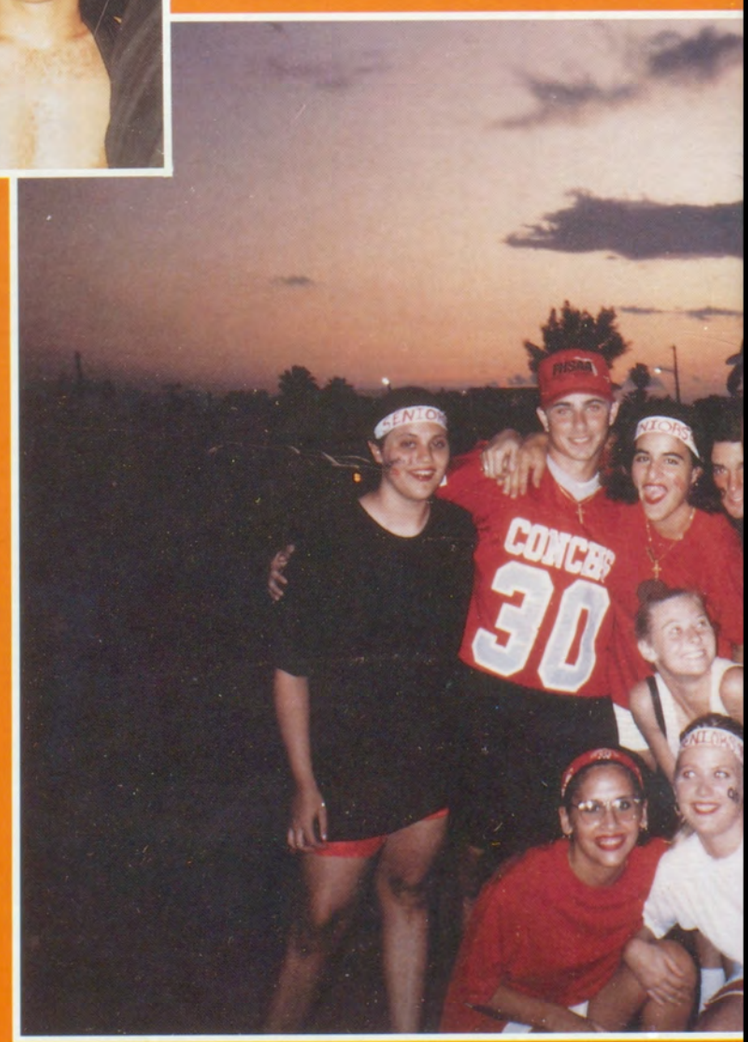
Brittany Knapp is showing her love for the water and the animals in it. The baby whales shown in the picture were being taken care of in Big Pine.

an eXplosion of spirit

Jessica McGee, Francesca Madeo, and Amber McDonald are making junior head bands.

The bonfire burned brightly with intense spirit as students from all classes kicked off the '95 football season. The bonfire is a tradition to get the football season off to a hot start. Much school spirit was observed at this years bonfire.

These sophomores are waiting to go into the gym to attend a Pep Rally. They show their class spirit by wearing gray shirts and sophomore head bands.



Some seniors huddle together anxiously awaiting for the bonfire to start.

The seniors proudly display their creative endeavors on their coffin. Craig Lariz tries it on for size.

"Go Conchs!" Enthusiastic phrases like this one were blasted in the battle between who had the most vehement spirit during the first pep ralley of the year. Seniors expressed their school spirit by designing and wearing these shirts. The success of the pep ralley was matched by the victory of the football game that night.

Although we broke the tradition of having the bonfire before the first football game, this years fire was still exploding with spirit.

The heat was tremendous, the conchettes and cheerleaders were amazing, and the spirit was overwhelming. For the first time in memory all the classes were at the bonfire showing their class spirit. But the spirit was not only shown the night of the bonfire, it was also very apparant all of coffin week culminating at the pep rally. The competition was fierce between the Juniors and Seniors, but the Freshmen and Sophomores weren't to be outdone. They also made it known that they their classes were part of the festivities.

Faculty members were amazed at the outpouring of spirit this year. "I was so happy to see all the students getting into the spirit at the pep rally, especially since there has been talk of cancelling pep rallys," said Ms. Macphereson.

Dressing nice isn't just a one day thing: with Hayley Pope it's an every day statement. Juli Lot shows her great fashion sense by wearing an ultra-trending argyle dress.

The plastic pink hat and patent leather tennis shoes that Katie Baldwin is wearing make a statement on what she thinks personal style is.

Billy Rivera is showing his unique sense of style with baggy jeans and wild pink hair.

Vernell Castillo and J. R. Mounts are sporting their own styles. Vernell is wearing a basketball jersey and a stylish baseball cap while J. R. is trendy in a blue jean outfit.

unorthodoX style

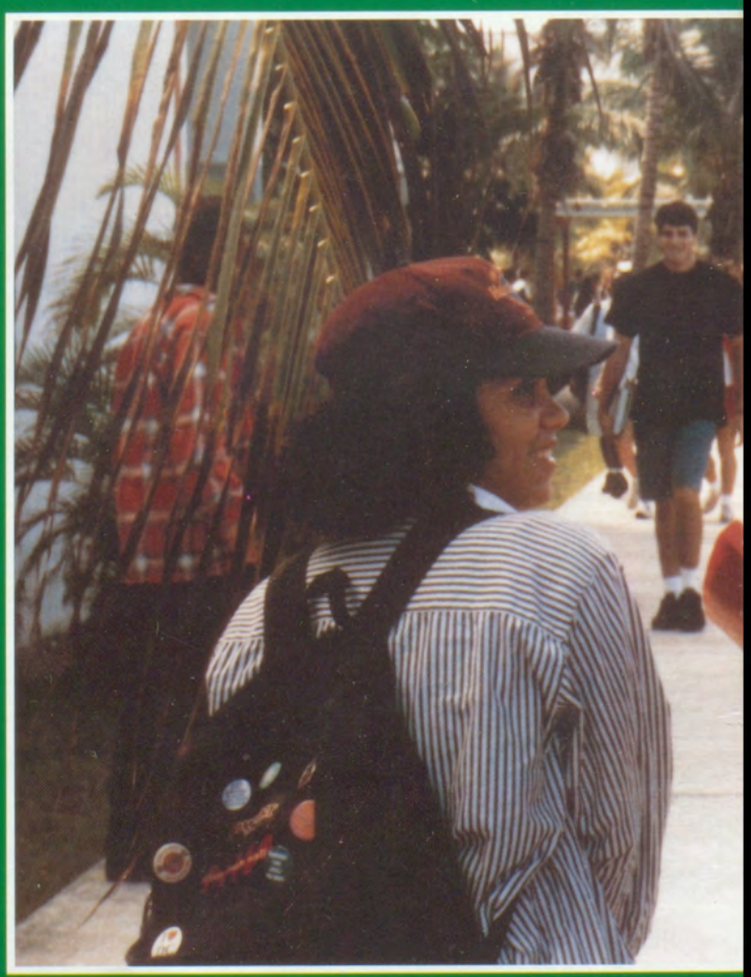
Walking through the halls you see many different varieties of style. For every style there is a diverse group of people behind it. People are diverse and eccentric and the clothing they wear expresses their individuality. "Although the styles may change the people inside them are still the same," said Lauren Demree.

In the halls you see so many styles. People in our school seem to be really into the latest trends. Every day you see people wearing anything from satin to corduroy to team shirts. We are definitely a unique school with unique people who wear the latest and most interesting styles.

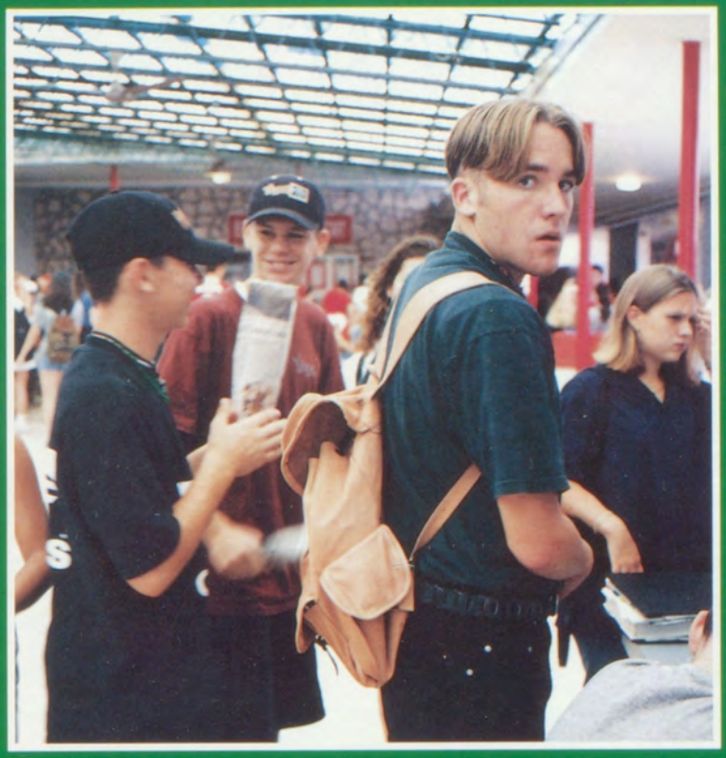
individuality eXposed

Amanda Briscoe-Blacklock's clear backpack proves that she has no secrets.

Jocelyn Jacox shows her love for Calvin Klein by wearing his clothing and even a CK backpack.



Nicolette Alex-Sands and Allie Merino decorate their backpacks with unique patches to express their individual styles.

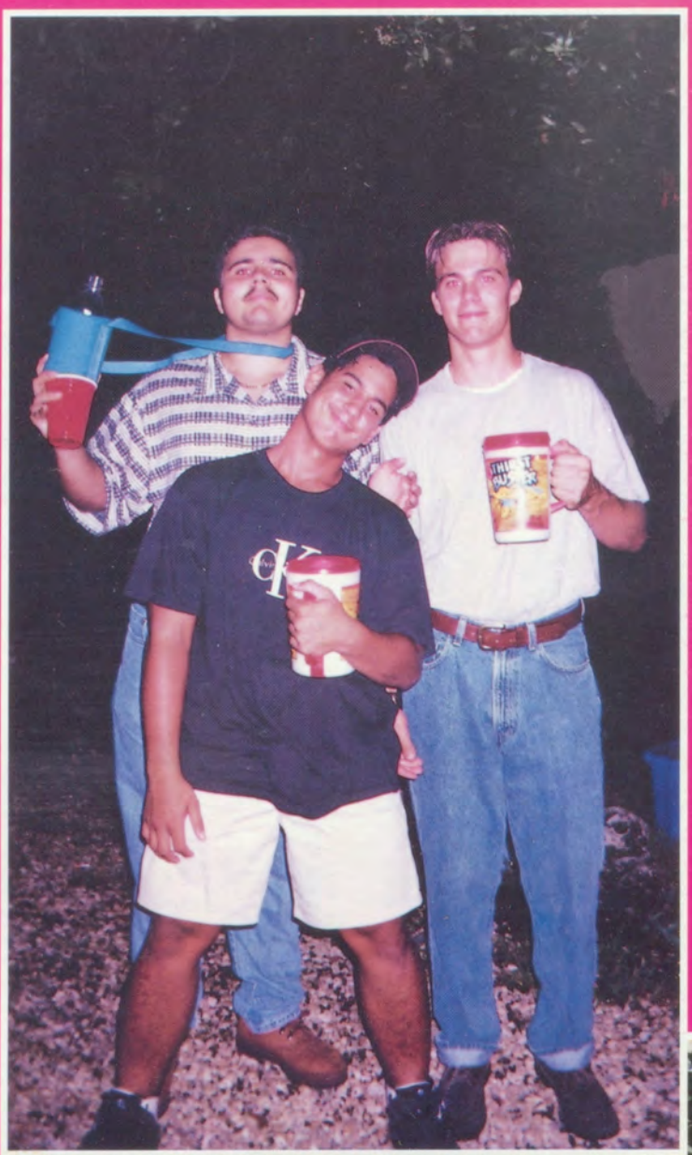


In front of the gym Jay Kingsley shows how he wears his backpack as a'chest pack.' Now he's all set to get to class.

Ryan Burns shows his manly sense of style by using a hip leather backpack instead of a normal canvas bag.

"People's backpacks express their personalities," said Lynly Curry. As we walk through the halls we see many backpacks; tiny, big, patent, patched, and many other crazy and unique styles. While backpacks are very useful, they also show one's personal style. Since backpack's are a part of a person's character, we can find some pretty strange stuff jammed inside. "I live in my backpack," said Kelly Cabanas. Besides clothes we found anything from keys to make-up floating around the insides of backpacks. People carry everything that they need to survive from day to day. Stashed between all the necessities you may occasionally find some extra notebook paper, and at the same time come across some long lost homework and loose change jingling at the bottom.

A group of seniors bring a blanket and have a picnic under a tree. This is where they enjoy lunch and avoid the commotion of the patio.



At a party three friends Michael Olson, Bunty Gidwani, and Donald Trujillo gather for a group picture with theur cups.

As you take your first steps into Key West High School the first thing you notice is the diversity of our student body. There are 1200 students in KWHS, each unique in their own way. Although expressing our individuality it is important to each and every one of us, we all have a group of people we can call our "best friends." This group may be as small in numbers as two or three. But the size is not important , it's the quality of the friendships that form a close bond that we call a "clique."

There are many recognizable cliques in Key west high. Some cliques are the result of the bond formed between team mates. Others are simply formed on the basis of similar interests. Whether we are "bubbas'', or ''skaters'', or "hippies", or "preps", we all have one thing in common, we're all conchs!

eXceptional acceptance

Lasaro Chavez and Steven Davilla tell jokes as they watch people go by before school.

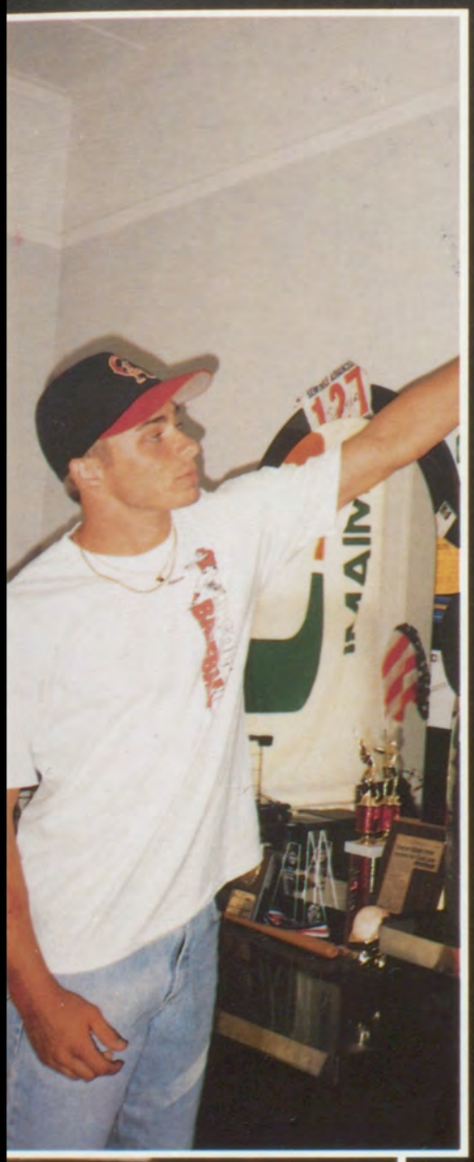
Before school Pauly Walterson, Bobby Lowe, Steve Simeon, and Brandon Jones sit at a bench together to pass the time before a day of school.

Lunch is a great time to get together and talk. This group is taking advantage of that time with a good laugh.

self eXpression

Bedrooms are the ultimate expressions of our individuality. Our bedrooms say more about us than we even realize. Our bedrooms express what we like and hate, what we look for in a boyfriend or girlfriend, our favorite things, and our sense of style.

Whether you are organized or cluttered, your bedroom is unique to you - it is totally individual. There are no two bedrooms alike. "It's my ongoing art project," said Kathryn Wigner. We get a feeling of privacy in our rooms, it's our home inside our home. "My room is my escape," said Erica Vural. No matter how much we like to go out we always feel relieved when we walk into our bedrooms.



The baseball trophies that are being shown off in Steven Sawyer's room took him years to accumulate and they bring him great pride and joy.

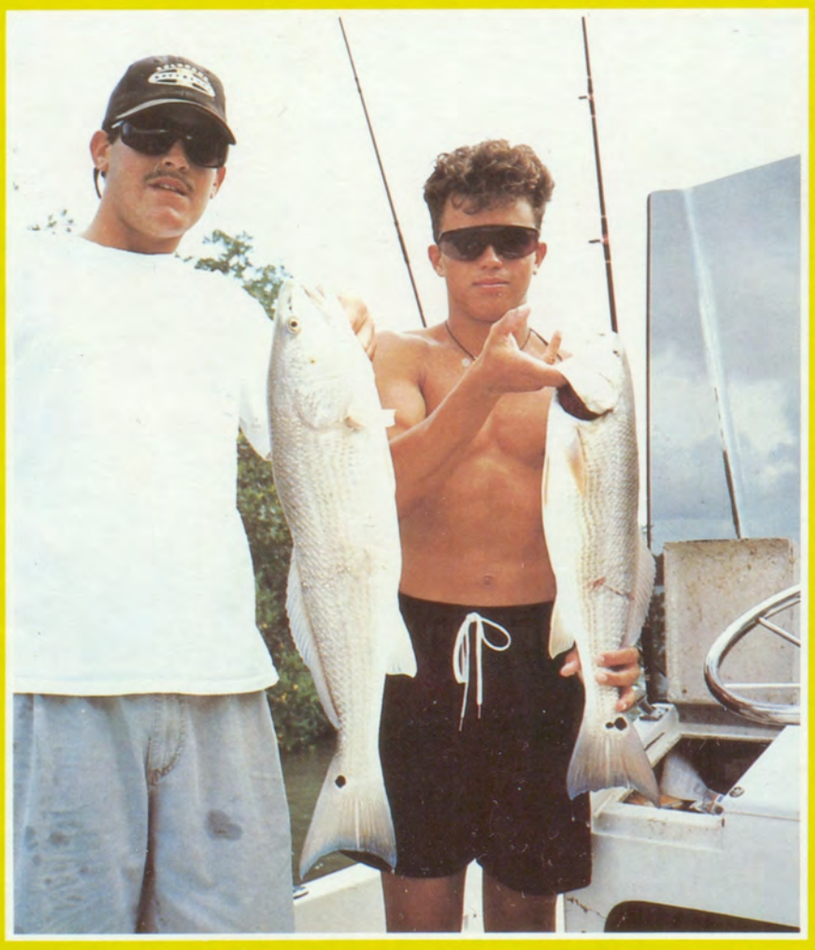
Katy Heinrich spends a lot of time in her room. So when she decorated she tried to make it as colorful and wild as possible.

The romantic posters that Katherine Wigner has on her walls show that she is in love with love.

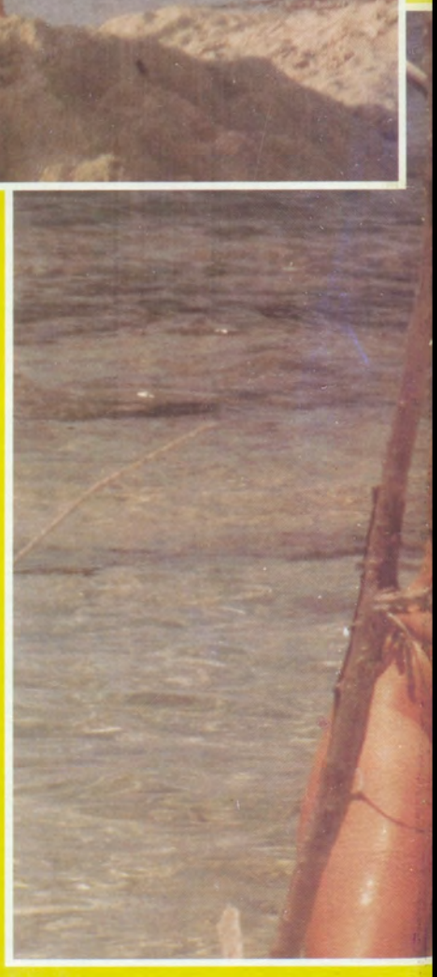
Michael Crespo sits in his room talking on the phone. He shows how much he likes the Falcons and Marilyn Monroe by his walls and life size poster.

Nicole, Jessica, Katy and Sonya are soaking in some sun and relaxing at Bahia Honda.

Jack Davis and Lisette Kuhnke enjoy spending time at Smather's Beach. Since this particular day is windy, Jack is making a kite out of his shirt.



Zach Bently and Alex Canalejo spend a lot of time on the boat, either out at Snipes, with friends or fishing in local waters.



Francesca Madeo, Margarita Olson, and Tessie Stafford enjoy a lazy summer day at the beach at Dry Tortugas.

eXit to atlantis

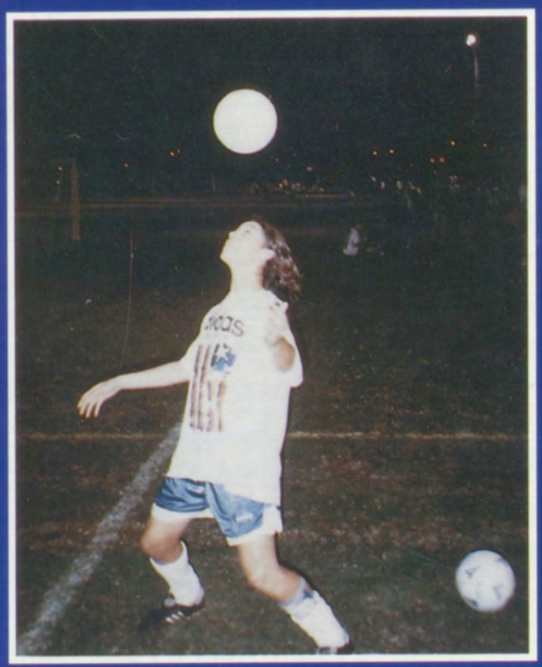
Water, water everywhere...The Florida keys are surrounded by water so it is only natural that most students spend a lot of time in the ocean. Weekends are the perfect time for students to go out on the boat. As they push away from shore they leave the worries and stresses of school behind them. No matter where they end up, if they're out on the water they are sure to have good time.

"I enjoy spending time on waverunners and hydrosliding with friends," said Evan Haskell. Whether you are going fishing or hanging out at snipe it's great to just be able to get away from everyday problems. "The water is relaxing; it gives a soothing feeling and I like skinny dipping," said Lisette Kuhnke.

Since the water is all around us we are continually reminded about how important it is to keep the oceans clean and nice. The cleaner and nicer the ocean is, the more time students want to spend out there.

Absolutely Fabulous

Sonya Manning, Julie Lot, Amber McDonald, and Jessica Watkins strike a seductive pose before taking the stage for the show, "How to Succeed in business without Really Trying".



J. P. Gonzales loves to play soccer. He went to Sweden this summer with the Junior American team.

Lynly Curry (student for twelve years), Shannon Koshnic (10 years), and Jill Russell (11 years) show their graceful beauty while practicing ballet at Kari's Dance Factory.

The modeling that Nadi Vlaun does has gotten her far. She has travelled to foreign countries and is in an advertisement for perfume in a popular main-stream magazine.

Tiffany Anzalone enjoys spending her time sailing the clear blue sea and racing in competitions.

Many of us have always dreamed of being famous, of having a special talent that sets us apart from all the rest. While we all are special in some way, some students take their talents a step further.

Jill Russell, a Junior, has always dreamed of becoming a ballerina. She has taken dance class for 11 years and works towards her goal everyday by practicing and going to class. "I love ballet more than anything. I dream of dancing with the Joffry Ballet Company," said Jill.

While all of us want to do special things, these people actually do. For instance Nadi Vlaun, a senior, is a model with La'gence agency in South Beach. She has to travel at least three hours just for casting calls, and often times further. "It's hard having to travel so far and keep up with school work, but I love what I do. This last spring I traveled to Milan, Italy to do a commercial, and it was a great experience but it was also hard because I had to miss a track meet.

Modeling, acting, singing, dancing, playing soccer, and sailing. They all sound like careers of the elite. You have to have extreme talent and skill to make it to the top of these careers and here in Key West we have lots of it.

Students spend five days a week planning their weekend. They look forward to putting the week's frustrations behind them. The only bad thing is, the weekend flys by and never seems to last long enough. "Usually by the time you start unwinding, it's time to go back to school again," said Jeff Grabois. So students are determined to make the most of two short days.

So what do teenagers do on the weekend? A majority work, sleep, party, and finish up homework. "My Fridays and saturdays are for going out, Sundays are for last minute homework," said Sonya Manning. Cashawn Peete stated, "I love the weekends- I go to do all the things I didn't have time for during the week."

Groups of teenagers get together and go out to the Pines or scope the scene for a party. "I go out to forget about school, have fun and chase women," said Robert Lockwood with a huge grin on his face.

Tinseltown Dreams

You didn't have to go to Hollywood to see the stars. The theme Tinseltown Dreams of Fantasy Fest '95 brought the stars to you. This night, being a main attraction in Key West, is the one time Duval is jammed packed with people disguising themselves in wild costumes and masquerading in the street. "I saw a lot of crazy things going on. This one guy was dressed in black, had his face painted and was walking through the crowd on 10 foot stilts," said Jeff Grabois.

The night started off with the traditional parade of floats. Our very own Mr. Wilt played the piano on the lead float. He stated,"For me it is fascinating to be in the Fantasy Fest parade, as opposed to watching it. Every minute you see another thousand different faces and you do not have to fight the crowds".

Fantasy Fest is a time to be creative and get away from the everyday normality. It is simply an exciting extravaganza that we all look forward to.

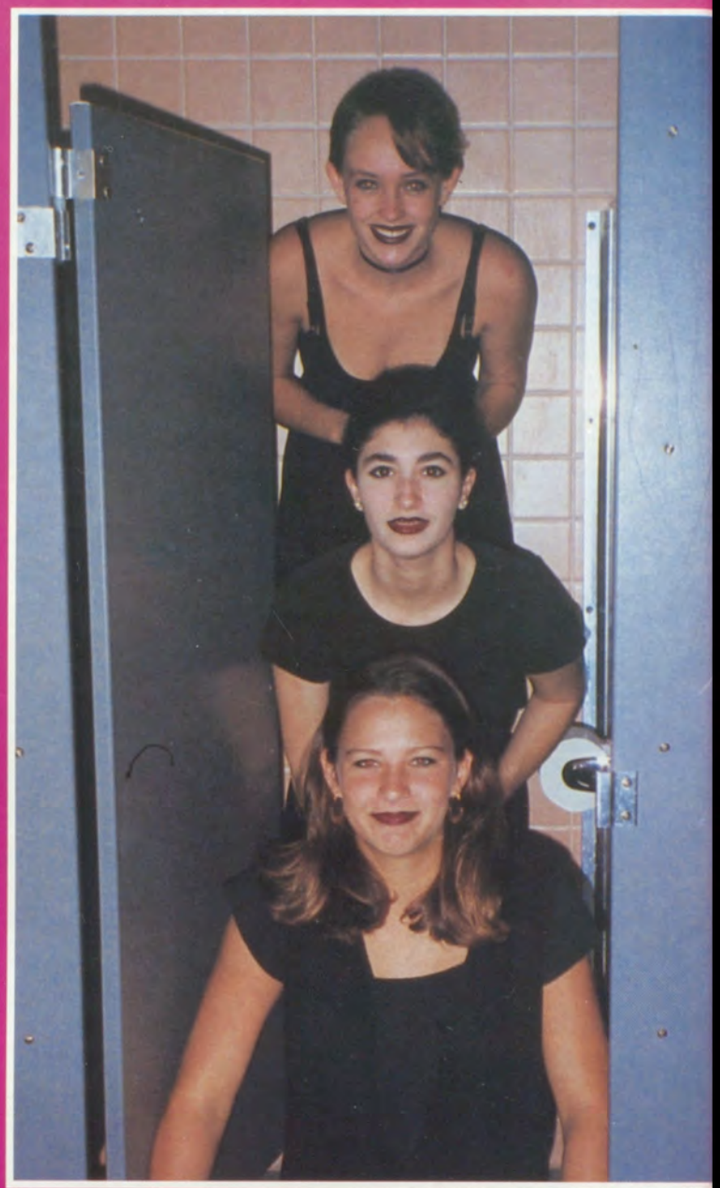
Dressed in gray, Jonathon Gates and Chris Toppino really get into Spirit Week.



Jessica Castro, Glicy Novales, and Tabitha Peralta were feeling really spirited on Spirit day so they stacked up in a bathroom stall.

Spirit Week is one of the most exciting weeks at Key West High School. For one week you could dress crazy and be imaginative with the clothes in your closet.
Each day is different. Monday is senior Toga Day. Seniors tied and wrapped decorated sheets around their bodies. Some even spelled out phrases. This large group spelled out WE ARE THE SENIOR CLASS 1996, GO CONCHS, #1. "Toga Day is fun. It gives us seniors a chance to stand out from the rest of the classes," said Pedro Rodriguez. Tuesday is Twin Day. This is the only day of the year you could get away with copying someone's outfit. Wednesday or Dress-up Day is a chance to view your classmates and faculty in a different light. "Everyone looks so nice and professional", said Mia Davilla. Thursday or Pajama Day is a very original day for us. It used to be college day, but just last year it changed completely to pajama day. Students roamed the campus in nighties, robes, silk pj's, boxers, and exotic slippers. Friday is Color Day which was very appropriate for our pep rally. Patches of white, grey, black and red filled the stands.

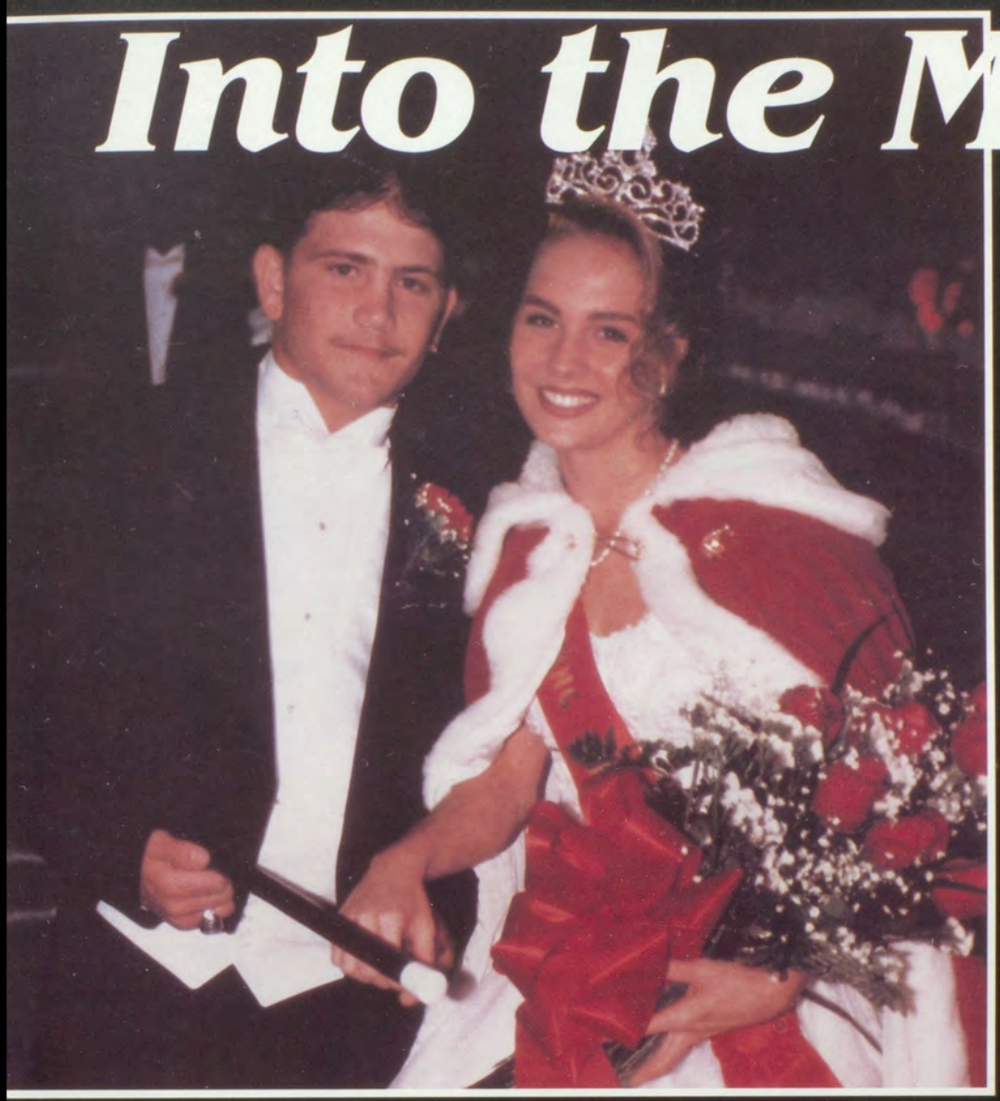
Into the Mystic



It started at half time Friday night. The announcer said each girl's name and escort the crowd going wild after each: Tiffany Mora Gaertner with escort Steven Davilla, Tricia Marie Sawyer with escort Brandon Jones, Nadira Sonya-Ann Vlaun with escort Bobby Lowe, Demetria Shine with escort Eric Woodberry, and Tamika Washington with escort Haywood Scott. The court stood there in all their glorious splendor, looking like princesses from a far away land. They stood in nervous anticipation, waiting to see who would be crowned the queen. The crowd hummed with excitement, you could feel the tension in the air. Then suddenly the announcement was made: Nadi Vlaun was our Homecoming Queen. As the crowd cheered, the VIP's broke into song singing "Lady in White"

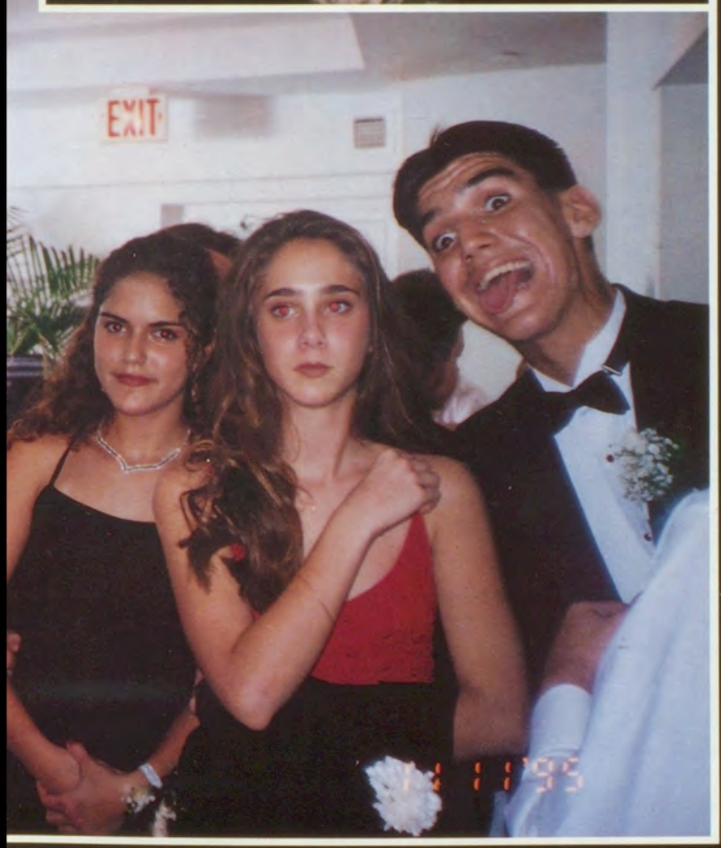
Tricia Jackson and Dominique Jones are simply chatting while waiting in line for pictures.

After just arriving Carly, Keith, Monique, Millie, Brooke, and George are all patiently waiting to have their pictures taken.

Jonathan Wilcox and Claudia Margolis danced into the mystic at Homecoming '95

David, Carie, Mercy, and Richard started their Homecoming evening off with a lovely dinner at Beni Hana's followed by the dance.



Homecoming, always a special time at KWHS, was made unique this year by the Student Council choosing the theme "Into the Mysitc." The colors were navy blue, pearl, and silver. The dance was held at The Top of the La Concha.

For the Seniors, this night was full of lasting memories as it would be their final homecoming. "It was great until the final slow dance, memories of good times, trying times,and times with my friends came back," said Jennifer Ritchey.

A captivating view from the open-air balcony was breath taking and romantic. People took in the view and enjoyed each others company as the sound of music played in the background. "The music was alright, but the line for pictures was to long," commented Tim Morris.

The evening ended as the Seniors, reminisced of past Homecomings and looked forward to a final exciting year in school. Underclassmen nervously anticipated the moment in which they would share the same feelings and emotions when their final Homecoming arrives and they can go "Into the Mystic."

When it comes down to partying and having a good time, Arlo Haskell and Jack Davis would never be caught without their Bongo drums. Their creative music was frequently found at parties throughout the year — whether it was requested or not.

Mornings before school provide an ideal chance to socialize with friends and get in a good mood before the school day starts. Danielle Sellers is amused as Kim Eisenzimmer explains something of great importance as shown by her intricate hand movements.

Lunchtime is looked forward to by practically all students as a time to clear your heads before moving onto the next half of the day. Josie Taraccino and Shakti Assouline take advantage of the half hour to talk and relax in between classes.

eXpen$ive!

Years were spent struggling through school. You were cut short while Seniors and other upper classmen were given special advantages. But as a member of the next graduating class, an official senior, you thought, "Alright, this is it - I am a senior and it's going to pay off." WRONG! Seniors had to pay up! One of the biggest costs that seniors were met with right as school started was the cost of pictures. If you wanted to buy nice graduation pictures the cheapest package cost an easy $170.00. Then there was the beginning of the year dues for clubs that a senior may have wanted to be involved in — at least $20.00 to $50.00. What if you wanted to be a conchette, or in choir, or in a sport? You had to buy uniforms, costumes and props. Don't forget Spirit Jugs. The Seniors couldn't possibly let any other class win. That cost anywhere from $5.00 to hundreds of dollars, depending on how spirited you were. Before you knew it there was Homecoming and seniors had to lay out money for a dress or a tux, dinner, tickets, memorabilia and after the dance activities (if you were on the court, that cost you anywhere from $500.00 to $1000.00). Later on in the year, in between paying for the Senior class trip ($600.00), and Grad Night ($150.00), there was the fee to Graduate ($30.00). Then you had to buy your cap and gown, a minimum of $20.00. Some Seniors bought memory books ($25.00), and invitations to graduation ($50.00). Last, but not least, the seniors bought their yearbooks for $40.00, if they bought them early or $50.00, if they waited until after the winter break. So, as seniors, you got to enjoy graduating, being the upperclassman of the school and in charge of many activities, but as with many things in life, there was a cost.

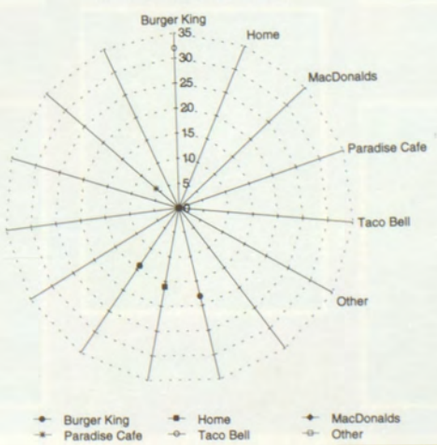
Where do Seniors Go to Eat



Garcia eXcrutiating

Every year an epidemic disease infects hundreds of high school seniors across America. This disease, "Senior-egomania," is technically the condition of being a senior. Symptoms include swelling of the head and thinking you're "big and bad" simply because you are a senior. The senior ego made its presence known at Key West High School. This somewhat unusual disease was abnormally contagious but advantageous during Spirit Week. The seniors rallied and put their money together to support their class and were once again victorious.

Lisette Kuhnke told us, "I don't have a senior ego; I'm really that good." Not too many seniors admitted to having caught senior ego, but a group of underclassmen gave us a list of seniors with large egos. We were unable to contact any of these seniors for comment, since it was advisable to stay away from them. While no cure for the senior ego is known of yet, all symptoms seem to dissipate shortly after graduation. If someone had a senior ego, it was wise to select your words carefully around them to be sure you didn't inflate their heads any further.

Equal in number of cases but less well known is a disease called "Senior-phobia". This disease is actually the fear of becoming a senior and the extreme envy of seniors. Senior-phobia is most common in freshmen, but has been spotted at other grades as well. Those with this disease go around making statements to the effect of, "I don't like her. She's a senior," or commenting, "I can't stand him, because he's a senior."

However, never fear "Senior - phobia" will be replaced with Senior - egomania .

eXtremely embarrassing

Remember when.....

All of us have at least one incident in our past that we wish we could say never happened. We try our hardest to put it behind us, but we somehow are never able to. We polled the senior class to find out what made them blush. Here are some of the results:

"In 3rd grade I was carrying my lunch tray and my underwear fell down to my ankles." - Katy Heinrich

"I grabbed the back pocket of a teacher's pants, while walking up the stairs, thinking it was my boyfriend." - Kara LaBella

"I was caught using the women's bathroom in Byron's" - Robert Lockwood

"I was talking to a girl in a hotel in my boxers when Wayne Davila came up from behind men and pulled my pants down to my ankles." - Mike Crespo

"Getting tied up to a tree, naked, at the pines" - Tim Morris

"The night of a football game I was in my Conchette uniform and fell down the bleachers." - Ivy Roche

"I flew out of my chair on to the ground while answering a math question." - William Russell

"Walking around with dry toothpaste around my mouth" - Cynthia Garcia

"I wet my pants in a restaurant from laughing so hard." - Jessica Stringham

"I was at a friend's house and I wanted to swim, but I had no bathing suit. So, I went in naked. Then everyone came out." - Katy Milnes eXperiencing

One new experience a senior has is preparing for college. Once you have been accepted, it is time to think about what you will need for the dorm.

When asked, Chelsea Paul replied, "I would start buying little shelves, a futon, lamps, unique little things, and a small radio with speakers. I would hit the thrift stores first before going to the expensive stores." If you are thinking along the lines of basic stuff you just might want to take Chelsea's advice.

For most of us Samia Williams voices a concern, "It is going to be a different experience. I would be buying stuff on my own. It will be a little difficult."

Finally, don't forget some of the essentials like a bean bag, black light, computer, Lysol, glow-in-the-dark stars and green silk bed sheets.

Raab eXploring the future

On your mark, get set, go! The seniors have taken their marks in the race toward college.....

We wanted to know how many seniors out there have experienced the inferno of college applications and the angst of essays, transcripts, recommendations and, for most, acceptance.

Out of 100 seniors surveyed, 95 said yes, that they were or did apply to college. About one-half of the seniors think they will be attending an in-state college while 31% believe they will go out of state. Some of the out of state colleges included schools in the New England area, in North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, and even in California and Washington state. Florida favorites were the University of Florida, Florida State University, and our very own Florida Keys Community College.

About 41% of the students surveyed said they would prefer attending a small college, whereas 30% were interested in a large university.

Grad Nite '96 and Operation Graduation were two events that the senior class participated in. With both events happening towards the end of the year, most seniors were looking forward to fun and relief from the stress that came with being a senior. The two activities were all night parties with only one requirement: to have a lot of fun.

Grad Nite '96 was an overnight trip to Orlando's Disney World. It was a non-stop party with seniors from other schools all across the United States. There were all kinds of activities going on, a number of musical groups performed on stage and at different areas of Disney World, and all the rides were open to the seniors. Memorabilia was on sale as well.

Operation Graduation was also a non-stop party; however, it was in Key West. It started at 10:00PM, but party goers were allowed in as late as Midnight. Operation Graduation was open to all seniors and their guests. During the night, seniors and their guests had the opportunity to participate in numerous activities both at the high school and in town.

"I thought it was wild and fun and a great way to wear you out," said Katie Rawles. Some of the activities offered were swimming, a movie, bowling, a dance, a casino, a quest game, and other games to win prizes.

"The dance was good, but the casino kicked .... By the end of the night, I couldn't even move," said Robert Lockwood. Christina McPherson, a sponsor, claimed, "The quest was probably the most exciting part of the evening. Thousands of nut shells covered the patio while students were running across campus and jumping into the pool to find clues."

The all nighter ended with breakfast at the Teen Center where prizes and several thousand dollars in cash were handed out.

A group of seniors rehearse for Grad Night. If you want to get it right, you have to practice.

Another party rehersal for a group of seniors at Annie Curnow's house. Do you think Disney World will be like this?

great eXpectations

Just when you thought being a senior was going to be a breeze, your mailbox becomes heavily laden with letters from various colleges all over the nation, all of which are asking for your time and money.

After being reminded about going away to school for the last four years, the time finally comes to pick the university of your choice. Certain schools can be weeded out by their special courses (the ones you don't like) or price of tuition (way too expensive), but after that, you've got research to do.

The applications you've requested start to flood into your home just as the flyers did before; only now there's more work to be done. You strive for an original way to get into your college of choice, like sending them coconuts and explaining that you're going "nuts" waiting for an answer to your application. The anticipation wreaks havoc on your brain, coming from various stressers which can quite easily cause a mental problem or two. Then, one wonderful day, you receive THAT envelope, the one that destines your future..... and the rest is history.

Tiffany Nesbit fills out a college application - one of many she and other seniors filled out this year.

Senior Will and Testaments

I, Abigal Ashe hereby bequeath the following: To Isaac Ashe my free spirit and the good part of my reputation. To Matthew Ashe I leave my integrity and my mistakes. (That way you don't have to make the same ones in the same family twice.) And to my family I leave all the open-mindedness in the world, along with all of your goals and dreams, bundled in one small package, your minds.

I, Ana Aschendorf hereby bequeath the following: To my fellow grad's, I leave you all the memories we've shared together. To Gigi, I leave you 100 boxes of granola. To Molly, I leave you a bag of tricks. To Carie, I leave some honey, power bars, and one big peanut. To Brandi, I will always remember Goombay in '95. To Jennifer and Sara, I leave you with some Nair. To Olympia, I leave you an open container so you can drink out of it. To Philida, I will never forget what you gave me for my birthday, you were the only one that remembered. To Johnny M., you will always be an Iron Man to me.

I, Revati Assovline, hereby bequeath: My best wishes and my love to my sister, Shakti and all my friends, I hope that you will find happiness in life.

I, Erin Backer, leave the following items to these most spiffy people: To Billy Jack, I leave my ride to and ticket for the Green Day concert. For my bestest buddy, Jennifer Buitrigo, I leave whatever artist talent I have left to her. I leave my spiffy personality to Patricia, Blossom Mae, and Ambuiar-since I have more than enough for all of us. And to my brother I give my senior seat in hope that one day he, too, will graduate. Thanks to everyone.

I, Michael Bernreuter, leave: To the SK8's and SKATEBOARDERS who always give 100%- I leave my respects. And all the regulars who know me as a masseur- whenever you need me, ask me. And a loving hug and a kiss to a particular Handrail at the FKCC that saved my future children by being built 1 inch lower than my groin.

I, Ross Baker hereby bequeath to the following: Eamon, a bag of royal gold pretzels, a new shimano rod and reel, and great memories. To Pedro, I leave you a life supply of seals, a couple hundred gallons of hydro oil, some paint to cover up all the scratches on your frame, a jack hammer so you can get rid of all the speed bumps in Key West, my help anytime you need it (and good luck with J.R.). To Stephen, I leave a couple of batteries for your hydro's, a viper alarm system, a kit for a dancing bed, a sign that says "Caution of sidewalk" so Pedro won't scratch his ground effects, and lastly a new crossover so your speaker will be straight. To Tejas, I leave you a new camera so you won't mess up any more photos. And I only got one more thing to say, Drop Mob is in the house!

I, Deborah Lynn Barrera, hereby bequeath: My senior seat and cap and gown to Angela Rodriguez- also all our crazy weekends, my great softball skill, and our great friendship, thanks for everything. To Rachel Gordley- I leave our ability to beg Mr. Santana to turn off the darn AC. To Rainy Scarbrough- I leave all my DQ skills, God knows you need them (JK). To Lea Masters- you still owe me $1.75. To Danny Mira- an old notebook of Spanish II so you won't have to copy anymore. To the softball bubbetts- these 4 years together have been a blast, especially all the Hoochie Mamas and all those long bus trips- and Neda, you better like them low balls by now (HaHa JK). To Coach Wise and Coach James, thanks for all the help and support you've given me during my 3 softball years with you guys. I'll miss you both. To the senior class of 1996, we finally made it. Good luck out there; and last but not least, I leave all my love to Marcos Arencibia.

I, Lauren Stevens, can't leave anything to anyone because I need all I have left for the after life - except Angie Cumby - I leave all the hope and patience I have left to get through your final year. You'll make it. Oh, and to everyone else - Better luck next time. I hope someone leaves you something.

I, Carie A. Baso, hereby bequeath the following: To my cousin/nephew Chrissy Walterson- I leave you my senior seat, cap and gown, and my off campus lunch pass. To Elizabeth Leanna- I leave an electric window, so you never have to be "a little NIPPY" again. To David Eric- I leave the complete set of guano bowls & Homecoming memories. To Brandi F., thank you. To Ana Maria- I leave... "Found a Peanut." To Kara Louise- I leave you J.R./Jason Rodrick, because you know how much I love to use middle names, and Malibu. To Ross- I leave all of our old memories and reminder cards so you can remember to pick me up. To Ryan- I leave you the official manual to being a good sport, PS Let Nathaniel get a goal once and a while. To Christian Maribone- I leave a whole day to do acting grams, Good Luck! To the rest of the class of 1996- I love you guys more than life itself. I'm outta here!!!

I, Jessica Watkins, hereby bequeath to the Junior Misty's: To A. M. memories of good times with our men, To Both K. E. and A. M. a surgery to seperate yourselves, To D. G. my sometimes annoying enthusiam and ability to ham it up, To F.W. our uncanny ability to forget our solos as we are singing them, To E. V., an extra push or punch since I won'be around to hit you anymore, and to all the Misty's I leave hopes that the qualities that made us the best Misty's ever will return again next year. To F. M. I leave all of those exhausting, infuriating, and time-taking moments in yearbook- may you have as much fun! To the rest of the Y.B. staffers- I leave hopes of a non-procrastinating staff (yeah right), hopes that the power won't go out right after you typed copy for nine spreads, and an abundant amount of pictures. To all my choir buds- thanks for the great times, and friendships that got me through H.S. To all the 2nd sop.'s I leave my ability to sing louder than anyone. To A.R., I leave you my "senior" seat in choir, ability to laugh & talk when Mr. W. isn't looking, and the gossip about your bro (and everyone else for that matter) that you never knew. To K.C. my ability to live happily with your parents. To JP someone who will bring you free food like you did for me. To B.V. a whipping because you badly need one. To all the underclassmen- hopes that you can seperate yourselves from the system, be an indiviual, be happy, and have a good time! And, because she'd kill me if I didn't leave her anything, to S.V. I leave all the memories, thank you, I Love You!

I, Andrea Lynn Berglund, do hereby bequeath the following: To Virginia Smith- I leave my senior seat, the beach w/the exciting car ride. To Shannon Darby- I leave my cap and gown. Juniors

Most students of the class of '97 got their first chance for Advanced Placement (AP) classes their Junior year. They'd had the Dual Enrollment (DE) classes in the year before, but they weren't as tough as the AP classes.

It was also the time for students to start thinking about their future life. Juniors had the chance to take the PSAT's and other tests to get them ready for the next year and college. They had to bring it all together this year, so they'd have time for fun next year. In the Junior year mistakes made before could be fixed also, like making up lost credits. "This year I took two math classes to make up one I didn't have to take in my other school. It was really tough, but at least I'll be ahead next year," said Junior, Tera Easton. It was all right if you slipped by the first two years as long as you pulled it together this year.

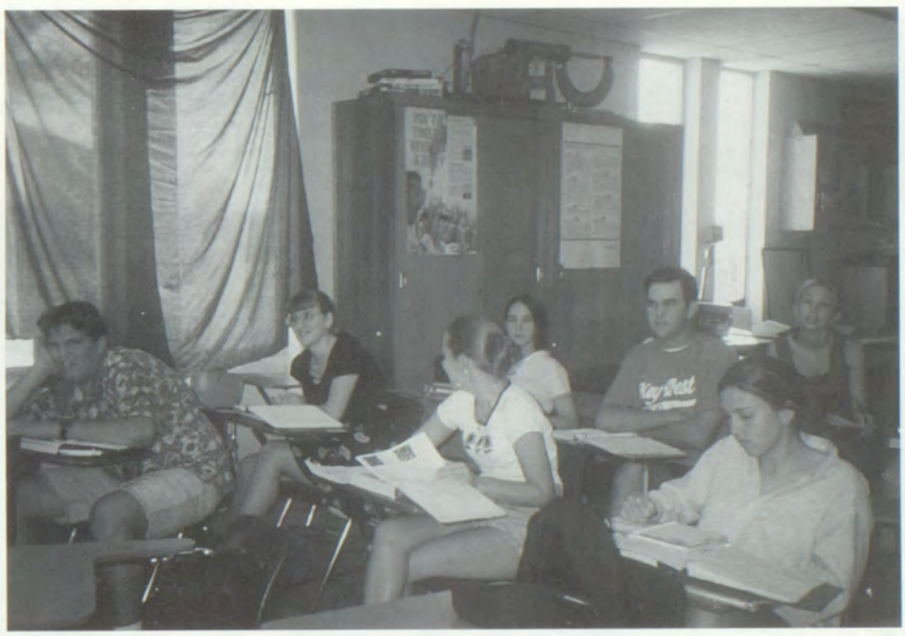
eXpectations

Beside being worried about the future and classes there was the Senior - Junior competion. Juniors needed to make their mark by showing how much school spirit they had. Although upperclassmen, they still weren't the top. There were school activities focused on friendly competition between the Juniors and Seniors: Coffin Night, when unfortunately the Seniors hid the coffin where the Juniors couldn't get it; Junior/Senior Field Day where the Juniors and Seniors competed in field activities at the track; and the Spirit Jugs when the Juniors and Seniors showed the most class spirit and the Juniors made the difference in amounts smaller than last years.

Between competition with the Seniors, planning for the future, and keeping grades up in the AP and DE classes, there wasn't much time left. The Junior class of '97 really had it the toughest.



Andrea Stone and Vanessa Shoemaker look to the book for answers unlike Randy Sterling and Virginia Smith, who look to their notebooks while others just look in a daze.

Sophomores

A Sophomore literally means a "wise - fool". This year's tenth grade class certainly lived up to the "wise" end of the bargain. From size, to spirit, to school work these incredible young adults shined wisely for the whole school to see.

They were "wise" in their size this year. With over 400 students making up the class of 1998. They were by far the largest group in the school.

They were also wise in their spirit. This year, the sophomore class shocked the upperclassmen and faculty with their strong school spirit and vivacious voice. In the past years, sophomores have been notorious for their lack of enthusiasm and spirit. This year however, the tenth graders shined brightly and even criticized the lack of spirit the student body had. "Things were better this year, everyone got more into their school," said sophomore Michael Wershing.

As well as size and spirit, the sophomores have shown wisdom in their studies. The hand holding was over. They were no longer the babies of Key West High. "The work load was alot more than I expected," stated honors student Heather Ashly. "The work load was bigger and more important for our college plans," agreed Chuck Holiday. It is true. The average tenth grader's schedule included 4 academic classes and two required electives, leaving no room for a "free" class of your choice. The sophomore year is also the first shot students get at a duel enrollment course, Spanish.

So the sophomore class this year may not have been foolish, but the class of 1998 proved to everyone that they were wise with "we're a heck of a big class, but out spirit and hard work showed that bigger is better.

Shamika Leland and Ayesha Osborne work long and steady on making candy grams for the Freshman Class. Selling candy grams is a major fund raiser for the Freshman Class. It seems to be more than just making money- if these two are any example, the making of candy grams is a fun experience, and an opportunity to socialize.

Freshmen

Beginning your High School career is a different and often complicated experience. You have just left the comfort, safety, and high standing you had at the middle or elementaruy school which you attended. You have entered a new and unknown world and are uncomfortable with your surroundings. Some Freshmen find the change easy, but many find that adapting can be difficult.

Having friends already established in high school can make the transfer a lot more easy. Taking a summer school class before your Freshman year can help you become familiar with the teachers and campus. You may even meet new classmates. When the first day of school comes you won't find it so scary and will probably fit in easily.

Once the school year starts, try joining some clubs to meet new people. The meetings and activities are great opportunities to meet people who share similar interest and goals. No matter how hard it seems to get used to high school, Freshmen all seem to say that it is a very exciting place. "It's pretty cool! High School has better experiences and availabilities - more things to do," said Jenny Costarino.

There is an academic shock at the high school. "The teachers don't baby you as much here," Carly Bervaldi told us. "You can't get away with everything anymore," was a common response from the majority of Freshman. "At the middle school we could whatever we wanted." No matter how hard Freshmen try to fit in, they will always be picked on just because they are Freshmen.

Luke Lanasa and Christina Stout share jokes between themselves to pass the time at the end of class. A little humor helps with the strain of academics; however, too much humor and not enough study could result in a very non-funny situation. No problem here though. Kristin Walterson, after a long day, still has to wait out front for someone to come and pick her up. Hey, Kristin, there's always the big yellow monster.

eXploring possibilities

Tech Prep

striving to eXcel

"No two Tech Prep courses are alike," said Mr. Freer, a guidance counselor. "Each school has different programs to meet the needs of the community and the nearest college."

Here at KWHS we have a variety of programs, ranging from Cosmetology to Television Production. The Cosmetology course allows the student to obtain a Cosmetology license. T.V. Production will provide students with the experience they need to succeed in the entertainment field.

Said Nail Tech Ivy Roche, one of the students, "It will help me in the future when I graduate and need a job."

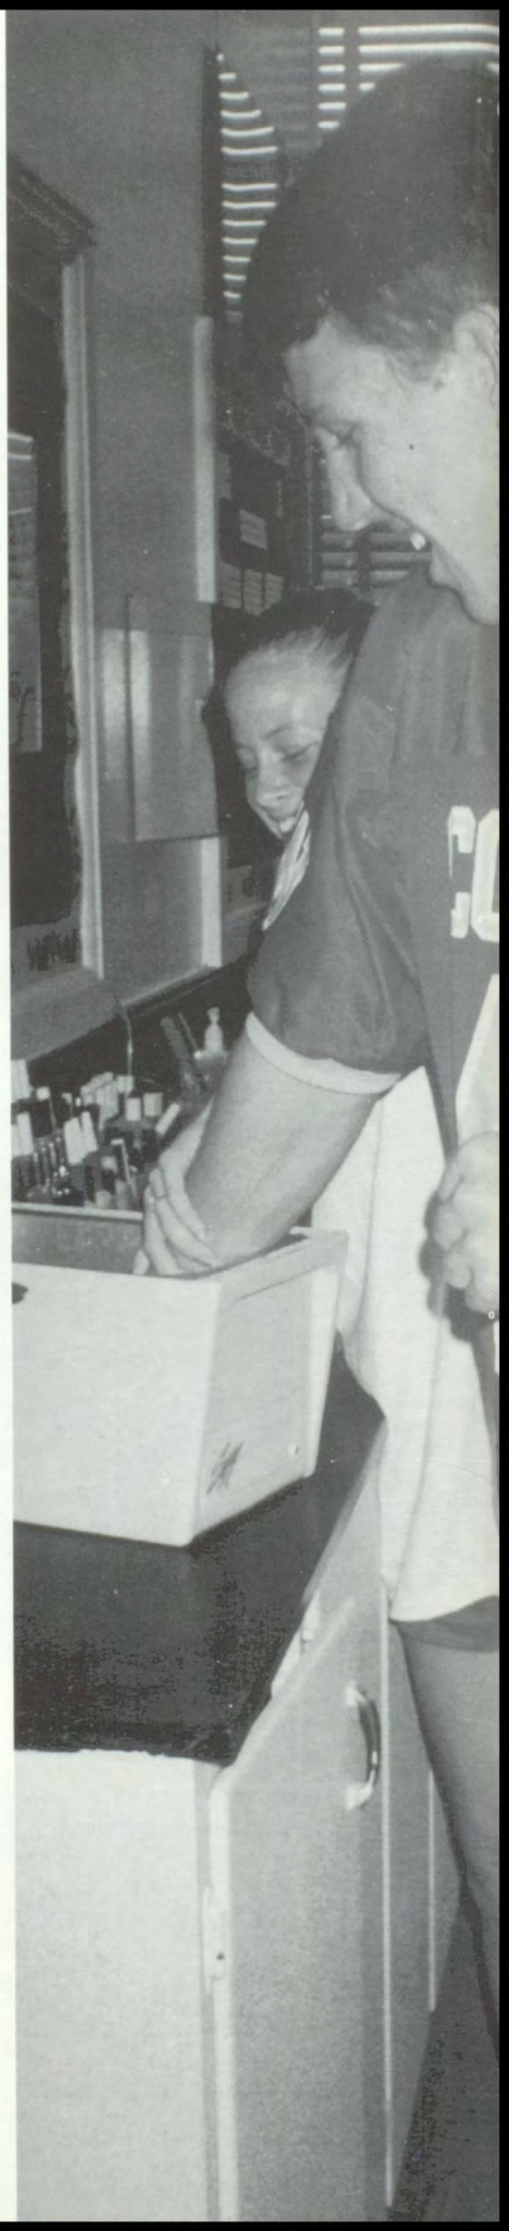
"I like broadcasting and it will help me get a job as a sports broadcaster." - TV Production Student, Steven Simeon

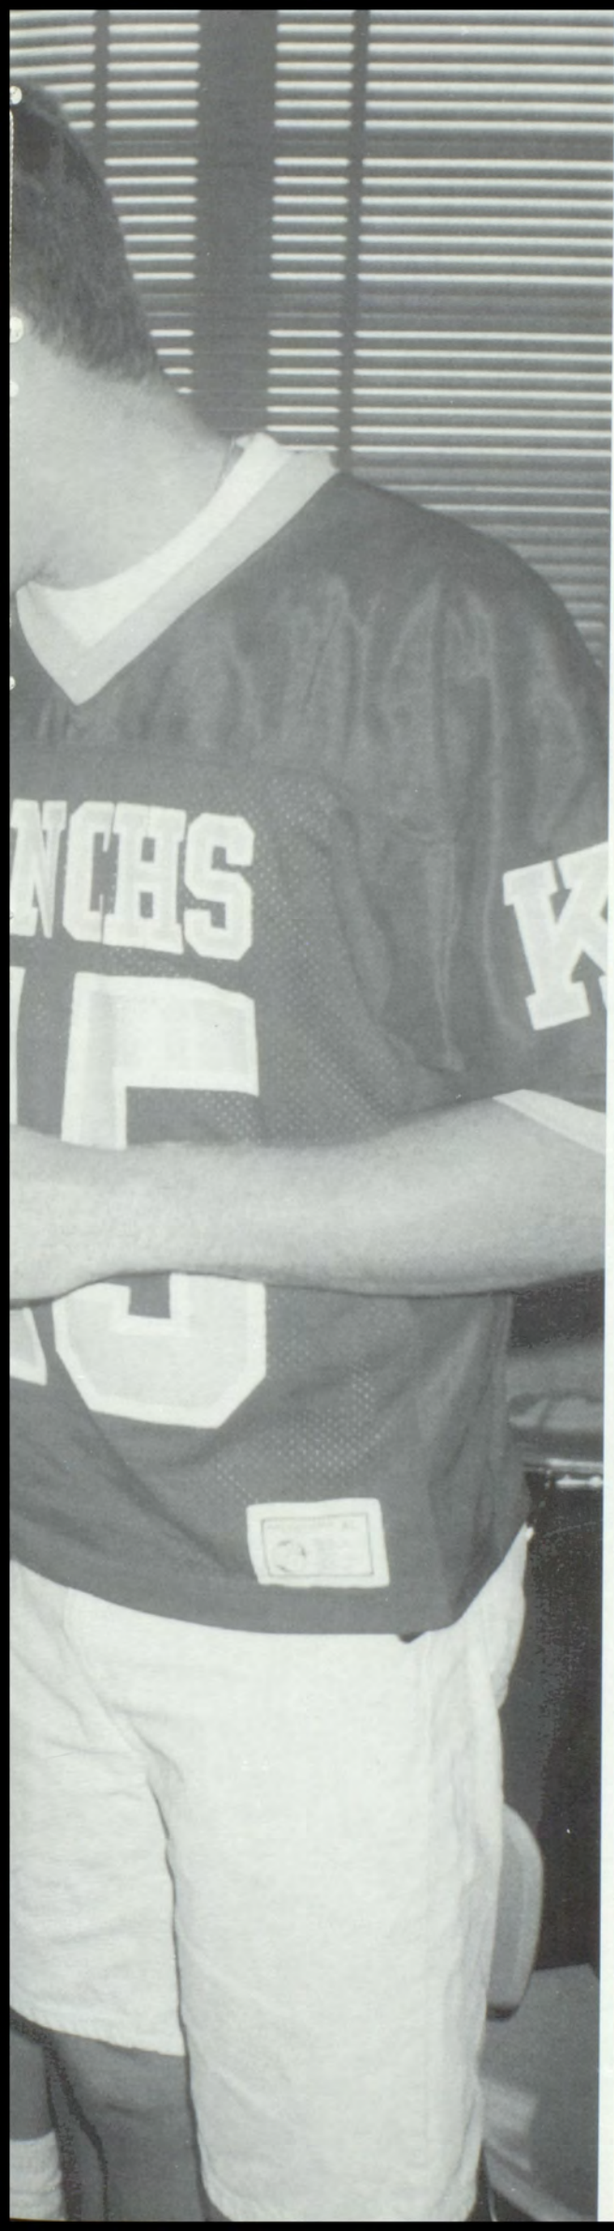
The Cosmetology program is becoming so popular that it may become a permanent part of the school's curriculum. Students and teachers frequently go to the Cosmetology classes to get their hair and nails done.

Key West High's T.V. Production students have recently been interviewing around campus. In the future we will be seeing a lot more of the Television Production crew. "It will help me prepare for my future in the entertainment field," said Michael Malgrat.

This and all of the Tech Prep courses lay the foundation for life after high school.

"Another picture?" asks Mr. Fant, as he attempts to take a break from a hard day's work in the TV Production room.





So hot ! Abba Devitt has his hands dipped in hot wax before his manicurist does his nails.

''Tech Prep has made me see the reality of the workforce. I've had to put my skills into what I do. Nail Tech gives you hands-on experience - obviously ! It's a one-on-one learning environment.'' - Tricia Rodriguez

Kara Kight's client, Deanna Davila, gets her nails done during 5th period. This is a great way to relax during a stressful school day.

Nice nails are very important. They are so important that many students give up their lunch time so aspiring artists, like Patricia Valdez, can make their nails look beautiful.

Yummy ! Brett Snider puts the finishing touches on his marble cheesecake for College Night '95.

Who can resist such cute little kids? Brandi Griffin keeps an eye on the children of faculty members during her child development class.

"Child care keeps teen mothers in school. It makes kids stay in school and helps them learn how to take care of children." - Sue Jolly, Child Care Teacher

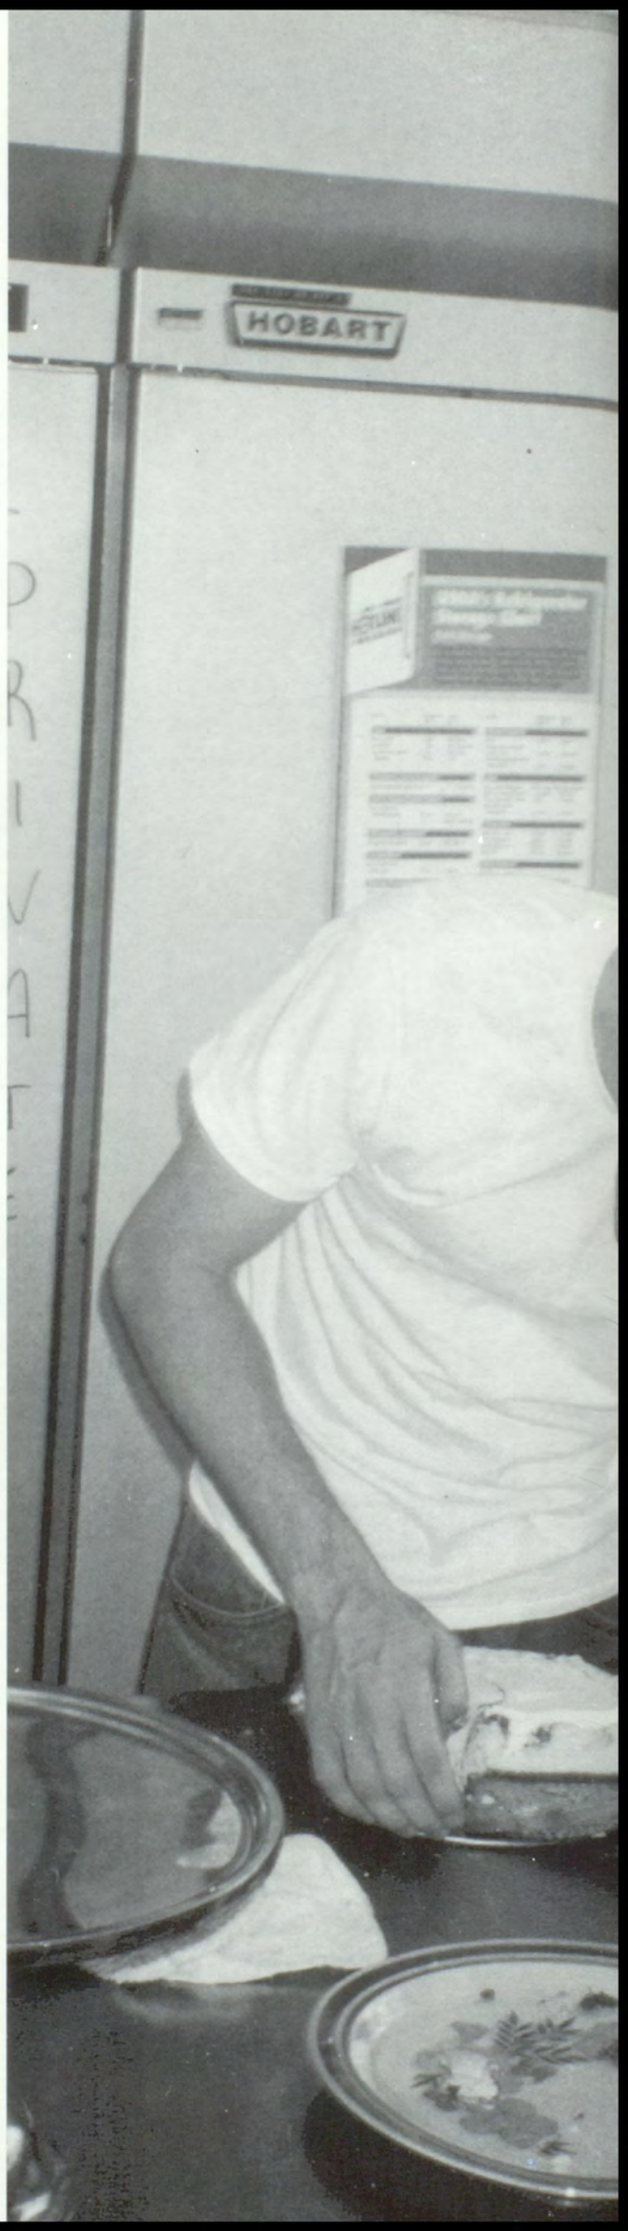
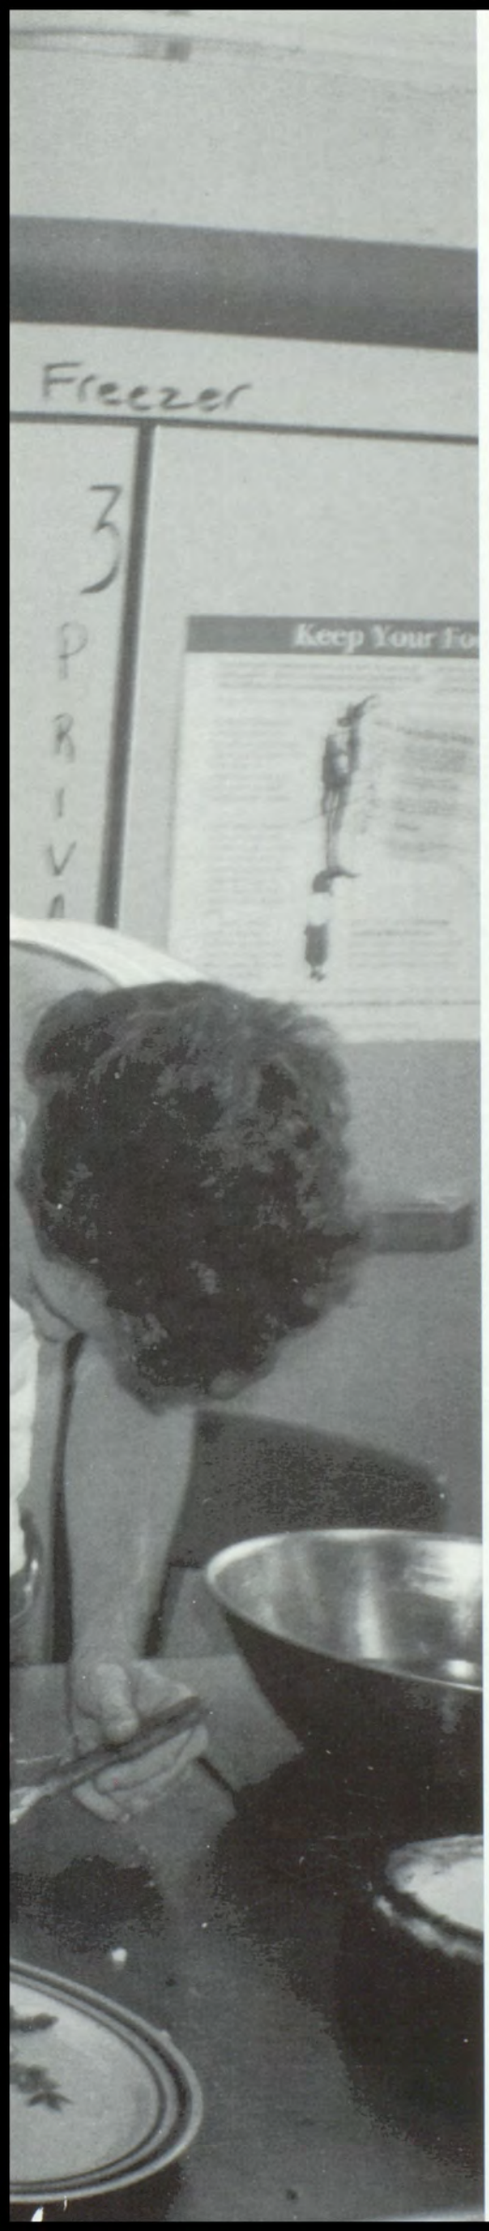
Mrs. Marine relaxes as she lets the students of the Child Care lab take watch of the children.

Alex Stevens dishes up a slice of piping-hot pizza during his first period cooking class.





Tech Prep Too

eXperience success

The Cooking and Hospitality and Child Care courses are large assets to Key West High; both provide the survival skills necessary for the world out there. A healthy lifestyle is essential for personal achievement. The Cooking and Hospitality course demonstrates the idea of good hygiene and cleanliness. "When I am out on my own, it will help me cook my own meals, keep things organized in the kitchen, and come up with new recipes," said Amanda Parker of the Cooking and Hospitality course.

The Child Care class teaches students the proper methods for taking care of, and raising a child abuse prevention family. This includes theories on and early teen pregnancy. "I enjoy the Child Care class. It will help me tremendously when I settle down with a family," said Carie Baso.

"I really like cooking. All we do is make food, watch movies, and burn the food .....accidently. - Daniel Holland

The Cooking and Hospitality and Child Care courses are only a few of the many programs offered to the student body through Technical Preparation. The faculty and staff at our school have gone to many seminars to collect information on Tech Prep. With successful programs like these, students may not touch the sun, but at least they will get off the ground.

Look at that mess! Health Career's teacher, Mrs. Parker, organizes her thoughts and her work with a smile, after her first period Medical Skills class.

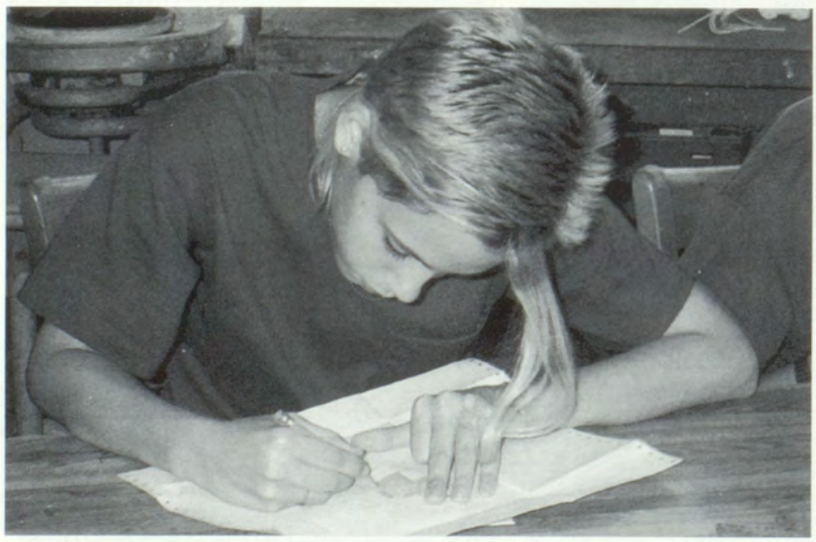
freedom to eXpress

Boredom, confusion, frustration, claustrophobia... no student can handle any academic class 24/7. Your mind dwells, not on your classwork, but on the escape plan you've been concocting for 9 weeks - mission impossible. Enter stage right, the Humanities Department, a group dedicated to offering enjoyable classes that give a student the emotional release from those long,tedious classes.

Humanities, the largest department at KWHS, consists of the fine arts: band, choir, art, drama, Conchettes, and cheerleading. Seventeen teachers struggle together against the forces of evil and boredom to make the entire department more enjoyable.

"Music is universal. Its a nice way to approach people because everyone can relate." Mr. Wilt

The classes offered by the Humanities Department allow students the opportunity to be creative and to learn about other cultures. Some of the skills taught will become helpful when traveling off "the rock"; others just provide an opportunity to loosen up and enjoy school. A school without a good humanities program would be like a club sandwich without lettuce and tomato.



After weeks of learning basic drawing skills, art student Adrienne Delrio developed a graphic design to create a personal statement.

Performing in the Fall Choir Concert, Daniel Ferrina and the Freshman Boys Choir pump up the audience with their number entitled "The Old Chisholm Trail."

"It doesn't just teach responsibility and leadership, it also teaches unity and brings the group closer together. Its hard work, but it all pays off." Jennifer King

Student Services

eXpert opinions

A new student, Ashley Brown, walked into the front office of Key West High, lost and confused. Ms. Nodine, part of the administration, guided Ashley to her counselor. From there she was led to faculty that would introduce her to life at Key West High School.

Student Services is a section of our school often overlooked. The many different divisions of this department are very important to the everyday welfare of our school.

Student Services primarily consists of the recently expanded guidance department:counseling, testing, college registration, college advisory program, clinic, academiccounselors, and the registrar's office. This department offers a wide range of support services to students, parents, and staff alike.

Since the B-wing expansion was completed in April of 1994, the entire department has had an increase in the number of students that visit. The clinic, for example, now has 16 times as much traffic as it did two years ago.

Communications is an art. Brandi Figueroa works on her own style of answering the phone in the front office.

"Our goal is to keep the students in school as much as possible. When we can diagnose illnesses right away, we can get the students back to school sooner," said Renee Grier, the school nurse.

The increase in visitors is largely due to the wide range of programs and immunizations now offered. The clinic provides everything from first aid to sports physicals and STD counseling.

The clinic was not the only service expanded. The guidance department now includes a college advisory program, headed by Alice Calleja.

"There is so much you have to do for college. Mrs. Calleja really helped me out by getting me scholarship information and helping me with applications," said senior, Rachel Gordley. These services are beneficial to the entire student body.

Hear ye ! Hear ye ! Our librarian, Mrs. Todd, lectures about different Renaissance costumes as an English class listens intently.

Physical Education flex that thang

Picture this: blood shot eyes, heaving breathe, dripping, iron pumping, volleyball crazed maniacs- Oh, the horror! Now wander into the perfectly normal recesses of our Physical Education program, which helps students exercise their social and mental skills, as well as their physical ones.

Personal fitness, or P.F. is part of the Physical Education duo required here at KWHS. It has a wide variety of activities for the student body's enjoyment. During a P.F. class, you might find yourself swimming, running, lifting weights, or playing team sports. Our lush, tropical weather is perfect for a number of outdoor activities, though students are still wondering why we don't have a hakey-sack team. For some, P.F. is the only exercise they get. Junior, Jason Lucas, uses the time to buff his bod.

Life Management Skills, taught by Coach Wise, deals with After-School-Special issues like drugs, sex, and suicide. LMS is designed to give students experience and understanding in problem solving. The theory is that if students can learn to recognize problems like stress, addiction, or depression, they can handle them in a positive way. Students often find these real life situations are more informative then academic classes because the knowledge can be used on a day-to-day basis.

So, basically, keeping in shape and playing it smart is the key to staying healthy. Besides, the only famous couch potatoes I know are recurring guests on Mauri Pouvich and they're pretty scary. As Coach Wise often suggests, the best thing to do is get up, look in the mirror, and tell your reflection,"I'm lookin' good and feelin' good!"

"LMS makes me physically aware of the real world. It helps me see how I should be a more health conscious person." - Raven Price

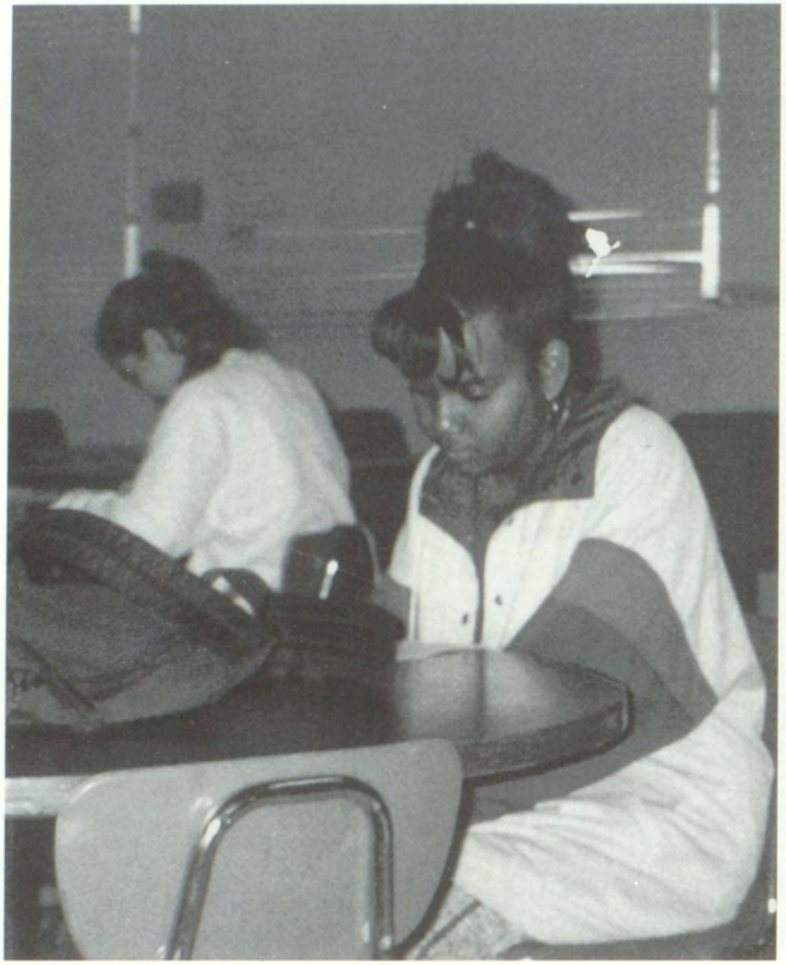
Coach Wise teaches his LMS class the connection between the egg and the uterus, but what's the connection between that shirt and tie?

Ms. Thiel's personal fitness class gazes into the air... It's a bird, it's a plane, no, it's a volleyball!



It is not uncommon to see Demetria Shine studying for any class. Her peers have recognized this characteristic and dubbed her "Most Likely to Succeed."

Steven Sands and William Russell smile confidently before taking Ms. Edward's test; they know their cramming will pay off.

What a snooze! No one knows just how boring cramming can be better than Jennifer Birber.

"Even though I know I shouldn't cram with all of my tough classes, it always ends up the night before a test, and I have to." - Chrissy Mock

Cramming eXtreme pressure

Cramming. It is a seven letter word that stands for headache. To some it is an optional study method, but for most it is a fact of life. With all of the Dual Enrollment, Advanced Placement, and Honors classes that were offered at KWHS this year, it is no wonder that the traditional cramming cycle began again.

Junior Vanessa Griesbach survived Mr. McKell's AP Economics course. "It's a college level class, so of course it was really hard. Mr. McKell had study sessions, but I usually ended up cramming before the tests."

Knowing how powerful the urge to cram can be, McKell offers his study hall "because I've been frustrated by students who just cram, they don't prepare properly for my tests."

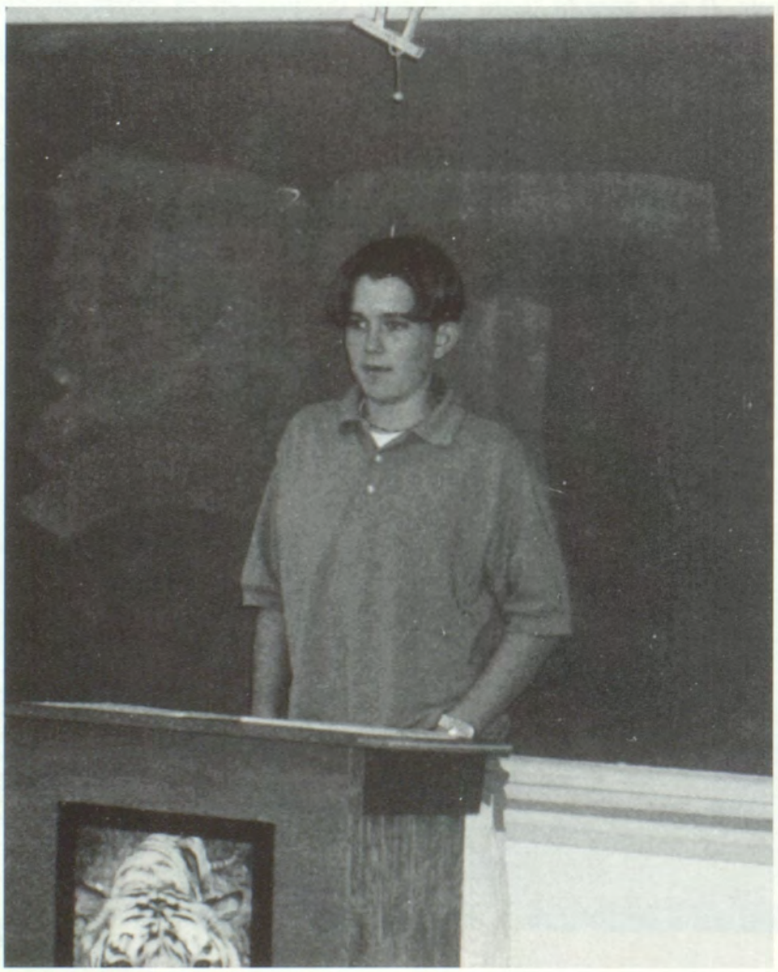
Actually, some students find they can get by with just a quick pre-test glance at their notes or text books. Sophomore Robby Barrows is rather fond of this tactic. Yet he, like many other students, still has to rack his brain at test time. It just goes to show that even the pressure of procrastination can't keep students from cramming. Take it from a seasoned crammer; as long as there are tests, no matter how many study groups are available, students will find time, or lack of, to cram.

Many students use their lunch periods to study for upcoming classes. For Tiffany Burton and Rosilee Crimi, lunch will be a book of Spanish served with a side order of math.

Adonis Morejon and Monique Tynes experience an identity crisis during Mrs. McLane's English class.

Beam me up! Steven Coursen sits in Mr. Rodger's math class pondering just how much his calculator can do.

Unlike most students, Buddy Gregory is not affected by the common case of jitters; he breezes through his oral report without a problem.



English and Math maXimum learning

Mrs. Rodriquez looks on as Keith Rendueles, Leslie Skiver, and Alan Krug prove that three heads are better than one. Cooperative learning groups are a common method of teaching at KWHS.

"I look at English as a play on words. It helps me to see the other side of what people say and write." - Natalie Watson

English and Math. Both are a fact of life; both are required classes that everyone must take. Sounds monotanous, right? Well, that isn't always the case. The English Department is making some major changes, and the Math Department is looking forward to some in the future. Education is heading toward a new era. This includes reforming the idea that English means learning grammar and literary works by old dead guys, and that math requires a pocket protector.

Part of the alteration taking place in the English Department is the addition of a new AP Language and Composition class, and administrators are in the process of restructuring the entire department. Even the name is going to be changed from the English Department to the Language Arts Department.

"We hope to teach communications rather than English," said Ms. Hodgdon, the department head.

The Math Department also wishes to clear away old cobwebs, but most of their changes will take place next year with the new block scheduling. This year, though, students get a chance to see a new face. Ms. Gable, once a substitute, was offered a full-time job as a math teacher.

"I thought trigonometry would be impossible to understand, but Ms. Gable made it seem easy," said junior J.P. Gonzales.

Both of these departments are undergoing changes, due to Florida's new School to Work movement. The major goal of this program is to prepare students to matriculate into a post-secondary education, or to enter the workforce straight from high school. With the changes taking place, Key West High will not only become a more beneficial school; the old dead guys will be given proper burials, and factories will be forced to discontinue the production of pocket protectors.

Social Studies and Science eXperimental learning

Students from Mr. Wardlow's history class sprawl out in the J-wing hallway to have more room to work on their Renaissance Faire castle.

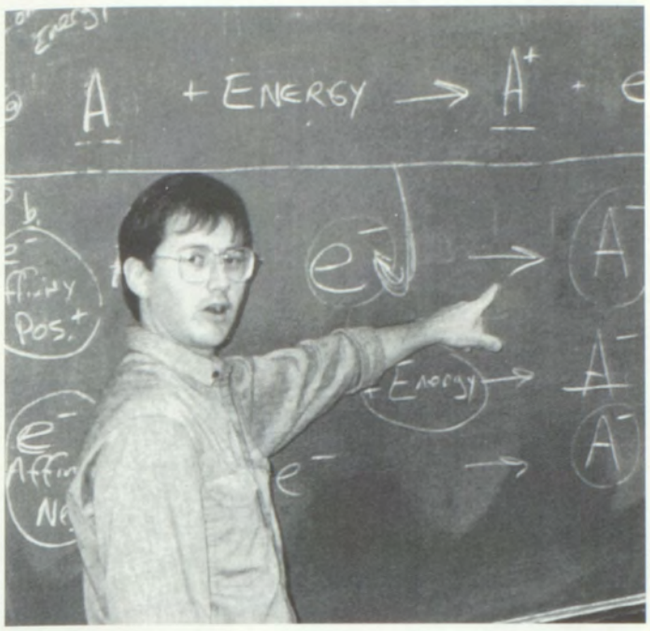
Social Studies and Science are just two of the seemingly endless list of core courses that students must take. There are a wide variety of Science and Social Studies courses offered at KWHS, ranging from World History and Economics to Biology and Physics.

The time has past, when the content of a social studies class was only good in the final stages of Jeopardy. Now social studies classes are involved with activities like making posters or designing battle scenes. Mr. McKell's Economics classes played the stock market game. The entire department has become more hands-on.

The Science Department, following in the footsteps of Mr. Wizard, saw plenty of fire, smoke, and...ugh, frog guts. Chemistry students had the opportunity to experiment with hydrogen and created some well controlled explosions. But the sparks really flew when Biology students were introduced to frog disecting. Jenna Vega got a nice taste of this when she cut open her froggy in Mrs. C's class. Riiibit...bud.

One big change that will effect both areas is the upcoming block scheduling. The extended classes will encourage the Social Studies Department to be more project oriented, while giving science classes extra time to complete laboratory experiments.

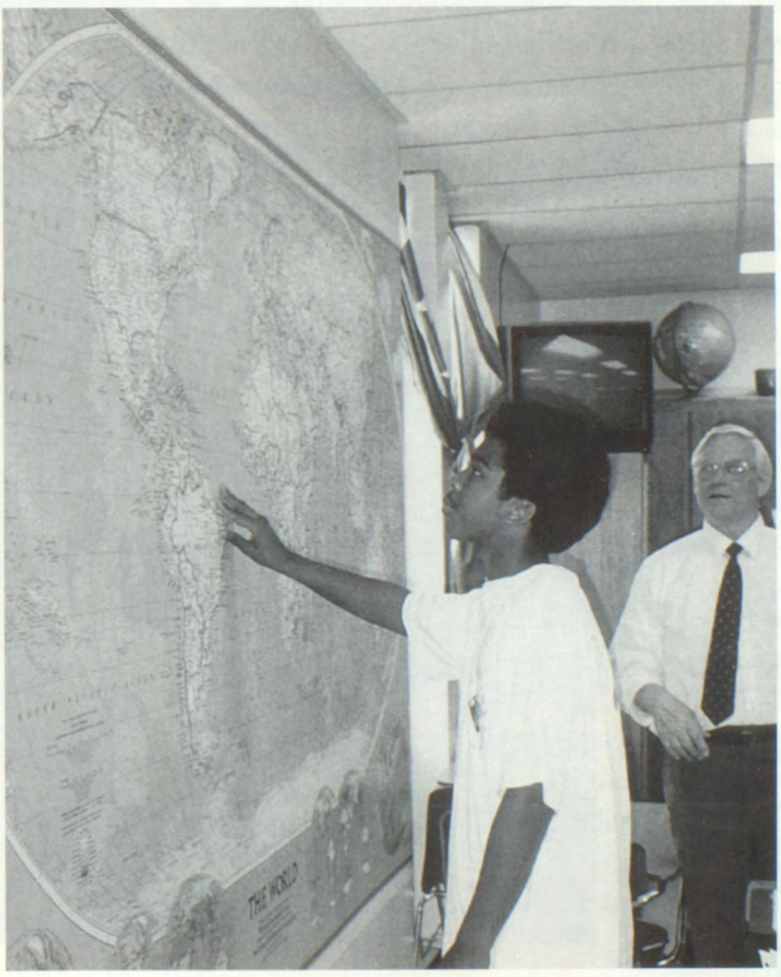
"Mr. Marmion's class is intriguing, because he uses special effects when he's trying to describe something. He turned off all of the lights in the room when he was demonstrating the Dark Ages."
- Melissa Edwards



Mr. Jones is caught off guard by our sneaky camera crew. He is in mid-lecture on ionization energy in chemistry class.

Seniors Monica Garcia and Tiffany Nesbit quickly attempt to complete their physics work in class. Marissa Centonze decides to face death, aka: homework.

Ricky Coleman demonstrates to the class that using a large world map doesn't have to be intimidating. The tiny island of Key West is quickly spotted as Mr. Matthews looks on.



ESE/ESOL eXecute the mind

Key West High School is a melting pot for all kinds of people. The student population, as well as the classes offered to the students, are very diverse. Classes at KWHS range from those structured for the academically inclined students, stretching to students who have little knowledge of the English language, and to students with learning disabilities. ESE and ESOL courses are offered for those students who require the extra ingredients needed to blend with the pot.

Teachers involved in the ESE program like their positions for a variety of reasons. Most enjoy these classes because they get to spend more one-on-one time with their students whereas in other classes this is not possible. "I have a lot less students, so I get to know each of them more personally than in a regular sized class," said ESE teacher Ms. Ellis.

Other teachers like this program for different reasons. "I like working with students who have the potential, but don't realize it- I like to help them do their best," said Ms. Tooley.

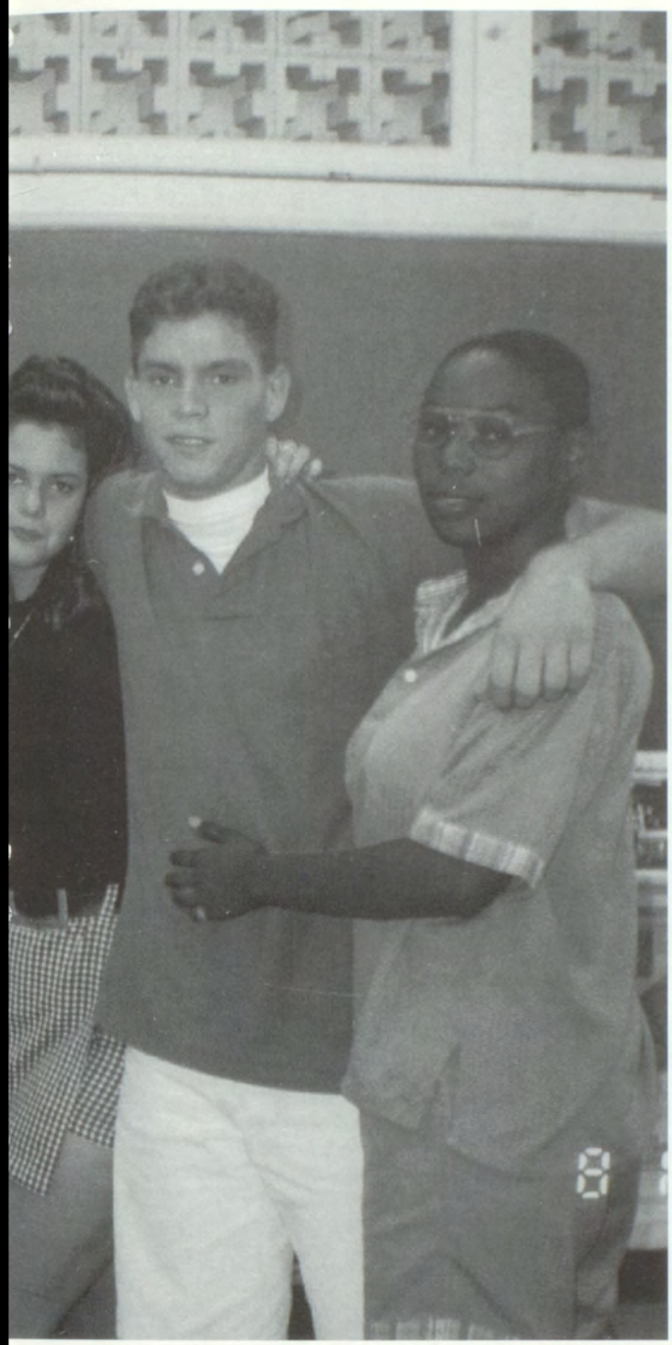
ESE students recognize these advantages as well. Jason Driver said of Ms. Ellis, "She's a really good teacher. She's the best we've ever had; she cares about us."

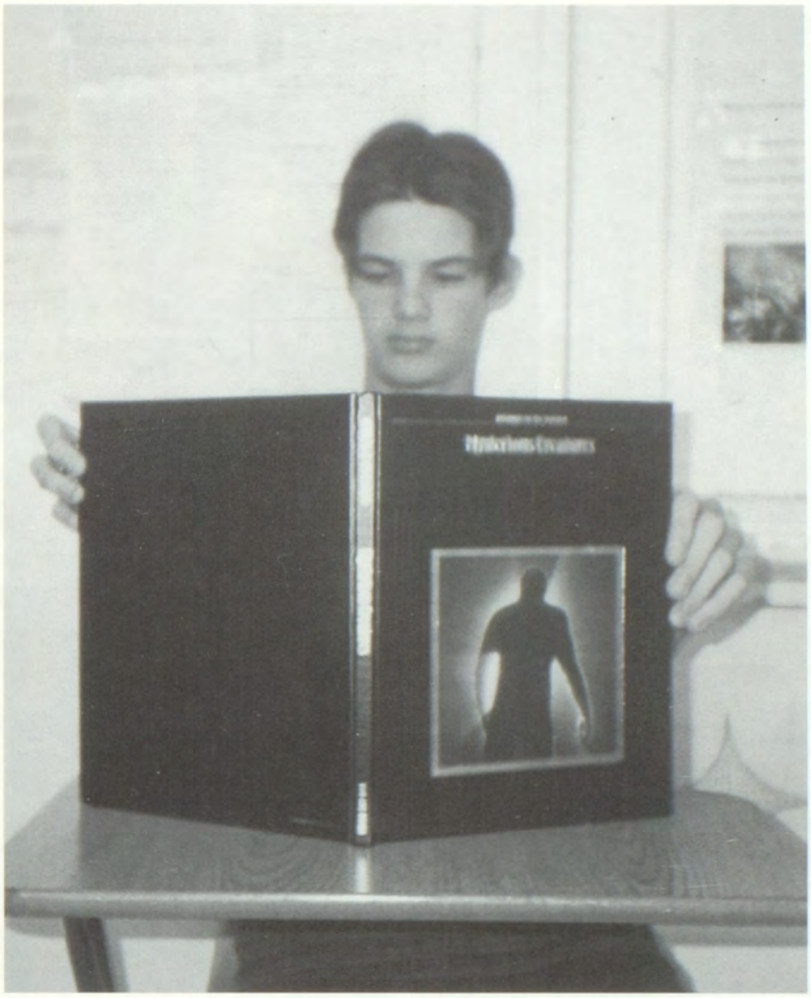
Jackie Casola, Vanessa Suarez, Javier Agostini, and Shimain Hickson have growncloser through their ESE class together. By being in classes together they get to know each other better. ESE and ESOL teachers want others to know that their students are no different from those who have "regular" classes. Ms. Carlyle said, "I love my field. I've never taught a 'normal' class- but then, what exactly is normal?"

"In my classes, the teachers are just as crazy as the students. We put the "fun" in dysfunctional."

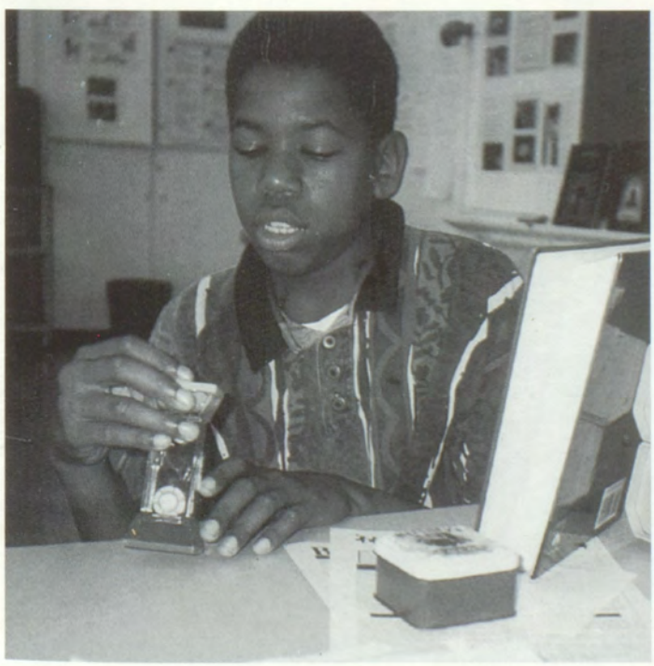
— J.D. Laffoon

Caridad Godoy flips through a magazine, extending her knowledge of fashion, while Natisha Singleton skims the informative pages of the Key West Citizen.





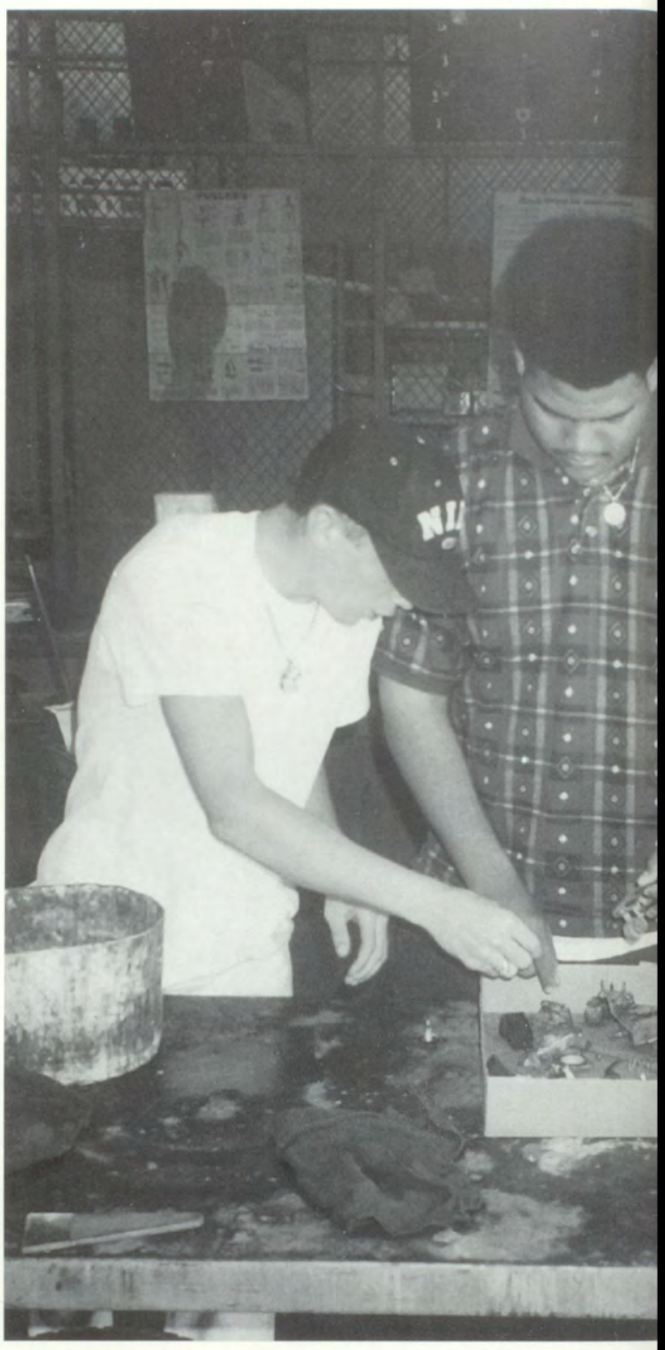
Paul Jones concentrates on reading from this book of Magical Happenings during his English class. Is this picture out of focus, or is this strange book having a supernatural effect on Paul and our camera lens?



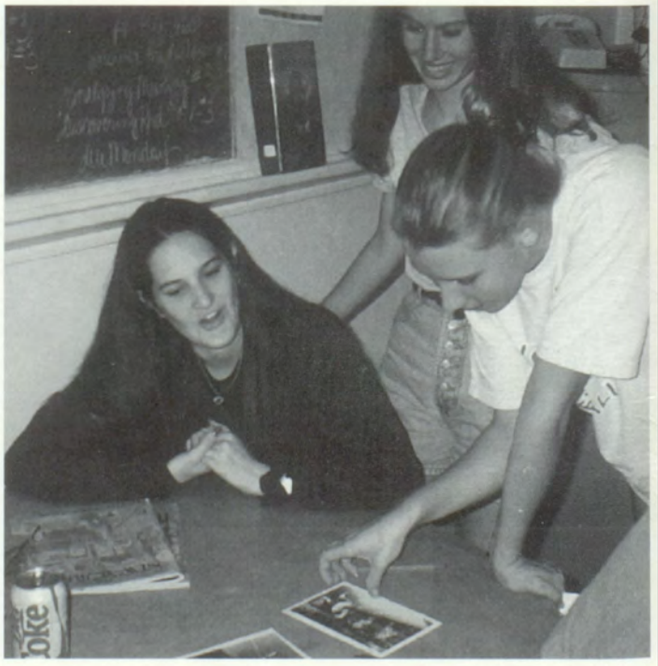
Tyrone Shine stares intently at the liquid hourglass during Ms. Carlyle's English class. He is determined to discover a way to stop the drops from flowing.

Time Out! Everyone needs to take a breather during the school day. Daino Gaines relaxes by playing a friendly game of solitaire on the computer.

Jean Estinvil and Sean Morales listen intently as Mr. Klimowich shows them a few pointers about wood. The wood shop class allows students hands-on experience. Watch out for those splinters!



Jennifer Bloomquist, Vanessa Griesbach, and Michael Crespo eagerly listen to Mr. Kremer's booming lecture on demography, during this sociology class.



Rebecca Weiden and Amanda Harris are responsible for selecting pictures. Their expertise in journalism has helped them in developing The Snapper, our school newspaper.

"My course prepares students for the rest of the classes they take, because it teaches them good typing skills."

— Mr. Brye

Electives eXceeding the limit

Every student, at every school, in every town across America takes the same-often dull- academic classes. Key West High is slightly different. While other schools have those boring electives, KWHS strives to offer unique electives to involve all; classes for students with leadership qualities, technical minds, some focus on craftsmanship abilities or writing skills, there are even some for those Freudian apprentices.

Leadership develops strong character, while teaching students to take charge of situations. This class was very involved in the community, and participated in many local activities.

Computer courses offered here at KWHS range from applications to electronic desktop publishing. The keyboarding course is required for freshman, because it prepares them for the rest of their high school career.

Psychology, a semester course that emerged this year, is taught by Mrs. Marine. It introduced students to the human psychi and the origins of human behavior. Sociology, headed by Greg Kremer, is the other semester course taken in connection with Psychology. This course received high ratings from the students, and Kremer was labeled an excellent lecturer. The contents of the class include the study of philosophy, environment, and human development.

Auto mechanics, taught by Mr. Higgs, focuses on the engine of the car. Eric Gartenmeyer and Chuck Christian search a box for just the right part. Auto body is taught by Mr. Stewart, and deals with the exterior of cars.

Journalism is a course that we are particularly fond of; it made this book. First year journalism students focus on the elements of creating a newpaper. These skills are then put to use later, on the Snapper or Conch.

Mrs. Marine uses Lori Jo Place as a human model to show where the neurons are located in the brain. This is one important aspect of Psychology.

Special Events

eXceptional entertainment

Calling all juniors! The annual American Authors Festival was successful once again this year. Pictured are students in Ms. Hodgdon's class that dressed up like a character from their favorite book written by an American author.

Although Denise McCaskill is a sophomore, she utilizes the opportunity to study up on colleges for her future. Key West High's annual college night is organized particularly for upperclassman to give them a chance to preview colleges before applying.

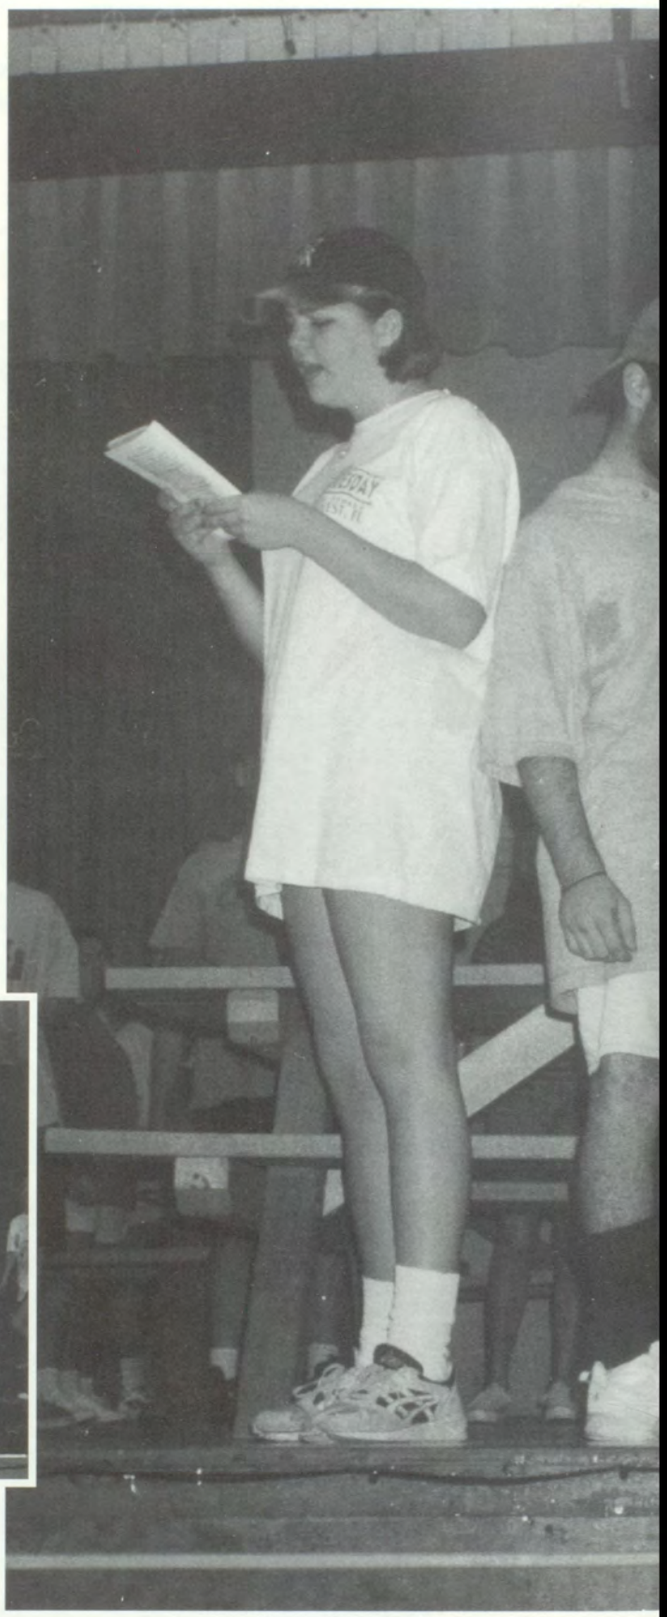
Michael Bernreuter and Kelly Johns help themselves to medieval foods prepared by Mrs. Hulet's cooking classes. This was a delightful treat added to the Renaissance Faire.

Hark! A damsel in distress! Jennifer Bloomquistis shackled and locked up in stocks for not wearing a costume at the Renaissance Faire. The Knights Police Squad performed this task with great perfection.

The annual Renaissance Faire had a great turn out this year. Most students actively participated in the new events that were introduced. King William Russell makes the deciding move in a game of human chess.

Robert Pinder, Robert Malby, Randy Sterling, Michael Balbuena, and Johnny Mantilla had ESP on the same day. They all dressed up like Santiago from Hemingway's, The Old Man and the Sea.

Nicolette Alex-Sands, who plays "Marty" in the production, does her best Marilyn Monroe impersonation. Maybe we are seeing a star in the making!



Well, they are not the Conchettes, but these girls have a lot of spunk. As the counterpart to the "T-Birds," these "Pink Ladies" are going to need all the enthusiasm they can round up.

Jessica Watkins and William Russell brush up on their acting skills at a rehearsal for the musical Grease, directed by Mr. Bonnett. Along with Amber McDonald and Kelly Vohs who perform in rotating performances, they play the production's two main characters, Sandy and Danny.

For the cast of Grease, singing on picnic tables became an everyday event. Mornings were spent in song and dance. What a way to start the day!

Grease

The "T-Birds" of Grease practice their dance moves in "Summer Nights." These macho guys want to know more about Danny's summer fling. Dancing around, they get the gossip....Travolta would be proud!

No, this isn't a James Dean flic. Nicole Lewis, Kelly Cabanas, and Tessie Stafford are advertising for a fund raiser hosted by the cast of Grease. In order to raise money, cast members held car washes, waited tables, and served Checker's fast food to passing motorists.

FIRST HAND eXPERIENCE

Interact, a community service organization, assembles red ribbons every year to be worn by students during drug free week. Members of Interact, Monica Garcia, Tejas Soni, and Chrissy Mock assist in assembling the ribbons which is an easy way to gain valuable service points- a requirement for the club.

Key West High Girls' singing group, the Misty's, leave the attentive audience at Horace O' Bryant Middle School with smiles on their face. At least a few times every year Mr. Wilt, the choir director, brings his performing choir's over to H.O.B. to show the middle school students some of the activities they can look forward to participating in upon entering the high school.

Aimee Calleja spent much of her day at Children's Day working for a variety of clubs. While attending the entrance of the "Haunted Z" sponsered by Z club, she also is seen wearing her Interact Club t-shirt, another organization she worked for that day, exhibiting her involvement and flexibility.

Varsity Cheerleading

Sponsor: Amber Bosco

Number of People: 16

Requirements: 2.0 G.P.A.

Activities: They perform at most athletic events, they are involved in community service event such as assisting with "A Day to Remember" for Senior Citizens, passing out flyers to support the School Advisory council

Achievements: Competed in Jacksonville at the State Cheerleading Championship Competition, they were awarded a national bid by the National Cheerleader Association (NCA), they also won a spirit stick at the NCA camp.

Varsity cheerleader Neda Preston is silhouetted in front of the blazing spirit bonfire.

Half time at football games is an opportune time for members of the community outside of school to see the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders exhibit their unifying talents. Nadi Vlaun and Tiffany Gaertner are raised high in heel stretches; another lift the cheerleaders have perfected.

Kara Kight leads the remaining cheerleaders in cheers. Cheerleaders utilize areas around the campus while devoting time after school for practice in order to prepare for games, rallies and other events. Many times both varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders combine in performances.

Varsity Cheerleader Officers: (from left to right) Secretary Neda Preston, Treasurer Samia Williams, Captain Kara Kight, and Co-Capain Tiffany Gaertner. Leadership positions require an additional devotion of time to the sport. Officers have to be responsible for insuring that everyone is working together, they teach dances and cheers, as well as lead the cheering in performing.

Cheerleaders once again demonstrate precision, and successful basket tosses. Tiffany Gaertner frequently became the victim for lifts and tosses, but carried out her job well. Stunts like these entertained the stands at football games, and got everyone, including the team, hyped for the game.

Shiloh Scarborough participates in getting the crowd pumped up in the first pep ralley of the year. Cheerleaders are anticipated regulars at pep rallies, their cheering excites and motivates students each time.

Nadi Vlaun always impresses students at pep rallies with various combination back hand springs and other amazing tumbling acts. Tumbling requires cheerleaders to devote alot of time and practice to perfecting their techniques.

"I enjoy cheering because it relieves stress and I have a good time while showing off school spirit!", Debbie Barrera Being captain of Varsity Cheerleading is a great honor" stated senior captian Kara Kight.

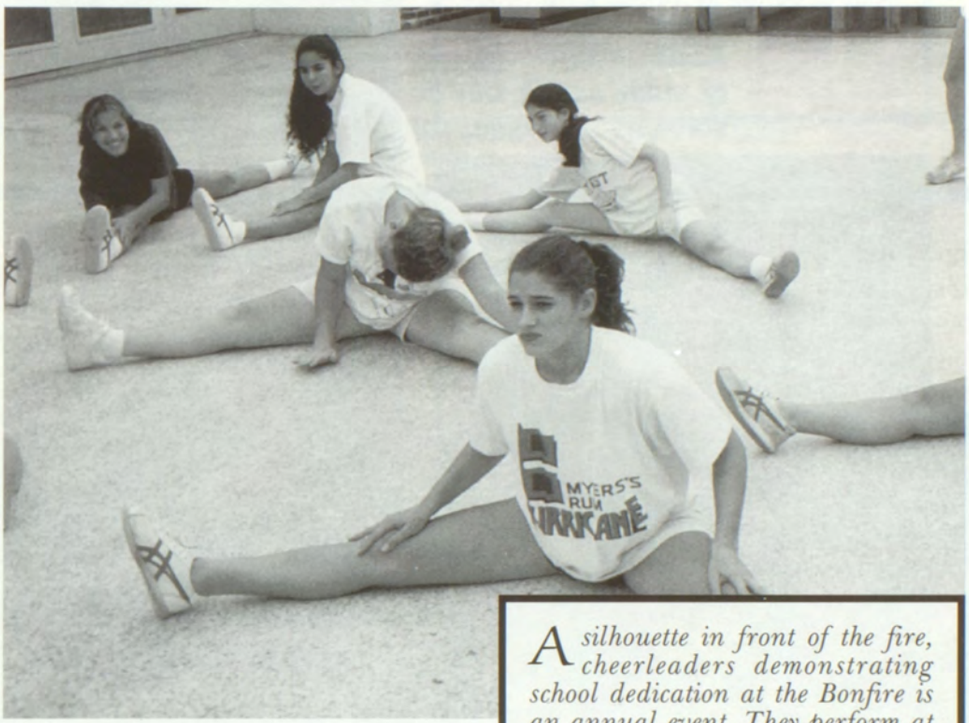
Senior and Varsity secretary Neda Preston says " the best feeling is being on the field with everyone".

Margery Fallon says " I just like it when everyone is together screaming for our school".

In preparation for the bonfire, September 21st, cheerleaders like Erika Valdez make sure there isn't an unmarked place on her body that doesn't say spirit. April Gonzalez assists in the decorating. Later the cheerleaders' performance helped to spark spirit in the crowd, adding to the intensity of the symbolic fire.

Stretching out before practice is important and mandatory for cheerleaders because of the types of jumps and tumbling that they attempt and eventually execute. Tara Blatt frowns, for many stretching is not their favorite part of practice.



A silhouette in front of the fire, cheerleaders demonstrating school dedication at the Bonfire is an annual event. They perform at various school held and community held functions throughout the year.

Concert Choir

Choir Director : Mr. Wilt. Mr. Wilt has been the choir director for several years, he alone directs all of the choirs- Concert, Freshmen, Misty's and VIP's.
Number of people : 65
Requirements : Audition
Activities : four concerts throughout the year, they perform at Children's Day, they travel to and perform at other schools numerous times throughout the school year, they also sing at various events in the community- including retirement homes, funerals, and more. Towards spring the choir takes their annual trip. This year they flew to New York City and sang at places like the Lincoln Center and infront of the Statue of Liberty, while seeing shows on broadway. In the past they have traveled to Miami, the Orlando area including performances at Epcott center and Universal Studios. They have also been featured on Good Morning America.

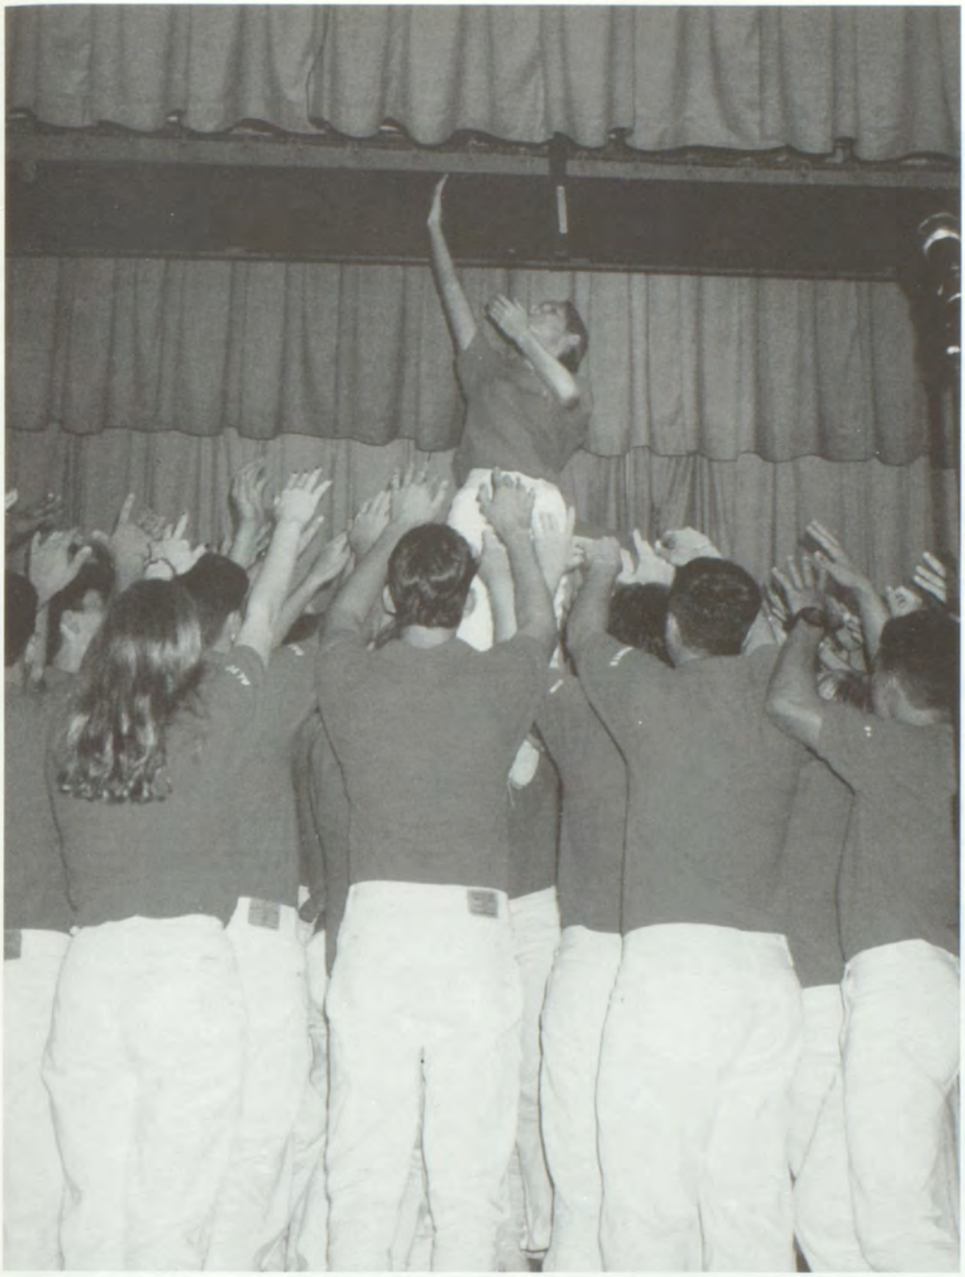
Achievements: The choir has been invited to sing at numerous places because of their ability, and has received special recognition by the community and practically any place which they have performed at.

Danielle Gallo and Kim Eizenzimmer perform the fast paced dance number "Eli's Coming" at Horace O'Bryant Middle School.

Zoe Hawkins-Wells and Juli Lot conclude a trio followed by Zac Bentley in the beginning of the song, "Eli's Coming", in the fall concert.

The graduating members of choir are 26 seniors. Many of them have been in choir throughout high school, starting with Freshmen choir in the 9th grade.

Key West High School Concert Choir Officers: (from left to right) Treasurer Amber McDonald, President Zoe Hawkins-Wells, Vice President Jeff Grabois, Secretary Jessica Watkins. Responsibilities of officers include planning the annual trip, and organizing and chairing activities throughout the year sponsored by choir such as spirit jugs, an ice cream social, and the end of the year banquet.



The choir comes to an impressing final pose at the end of the number "O Happy Day", as Liz Wooten leads the mass of hands upward. In the fall concert a variety of music with different backgrounds was performed, this song of religious orgin; was a gospel.

In order to finance activities like their trip to New York, choir had a booth at Children's Day selling pork sandwiches. Adonis Morejon takes over a shift assisted by other choir members througout the day.

Freshman Choir

Sponsor: Mr. Wilt

Number of People: 17 Freshman Boys, 25 Freshman Girls

Requirements: Try Out, the students must be going into the 9th grade in order to audition

Activities: The Freshmen choir are featured in all of the choir concerts, they also travel to many of the schools with the concert choir to perform for younger students. The freshmen choir participates in many of the choir fundraisers and they also perform at the Ice Cream Social and End of the Year Banquet. at the end of the year members of the Freshmen Choir are given the opportunity to audition for the Concert choir.

Eddie Williams was conned into playing the nerd in the Freshmen Girl number, the song, "One Fine Day" at the first concert of the year, but he reluctantly played the role well.

"Sisters", one of the Freshmen Girl's songs, was a cute dance number that paired up friends Kristin Picarcik and Edde Fallon.

Toby Peters and Eddie Williams practice with the rest of the Freshman Boys singing and dancing to "Old Chisom Trail".

The Freshmen Boys are silhouetted against the background of the stage in the fall concert, performing the song "Ghost Riders in the Sky."

Misty's & VIP's

Sponsor: Mr. Wilt

Number of People: 16 Misty's & 15 VIP's

Requirements: Try Out, they are judged on singing and dance ability, they also must be upperclassmen

Activities: They perform at Children's Day, and at other events in the community which they are invited to. They also perform in the concerts, socials and End of the Year Banquet Achievements: When not competing with each other- the Misty's and VIP's are local favorites. The Misty's are known for their singing and dance talent, and the VIP's are favorites for their ability to make all audiences laugh.

VIP's Michael Crespo, Sean Condella, Malcolm MacKenzie, Kelly Vohs and Tim Morris perform the song "Witch Doctor" complete in grass skirt attire at the fall concert.

Leslie Munoz and Faith Grant assist in the bowling game at the Misty's booth at Children's Day. The Misty's held the booth to help pay for their dresses.

Horace O'Bryant hosts the choirs for peformances yearly- The VIP's didn't have to put forth much effort in order to act like monkeys in the song "I wanna be like you" from the movie "The Jungle Book."

The Misty's: From top to bottom: Shannon Spoto, KimEisenzimmer, Leslie Munoz, Tesse Stafford, Sonya Manning, Danielle Gallo, Erika Vural, Juli Lot, Amber McDonald, Katie Halloran, Francesca Madeo, Tara Fowler, Zoe Hawkins-Wells, Jessica Watkins, Andrea Lundy, Faith Grant.

Mr. Wilt enthusiastically shows off the Misty's, their new dresses (which they finally wore) , and their ability to creatively arrange themselves in order to take a good picture.

While the rest of the VIP's thought they were just taking a good picture, Darren Horan, in the top right corner, is maliciously pushing Michael Olasin off the Conch. Michael did survive the fall, but was never, mentally, the same.

Auxillary

Sponsor: Mr. Harris

Number of People: 34

Officers: Captain- Latisha Peoples, Co-Captain- Trina Albury & Ivonne Garcia, Secretary- Yvette French

Requirements: Try out

Activities: Competition in Naples, FBA Festival in West Palm, Childrens day, Home Football Games, Parades, Indoor Guard Contest, and Concerts.

Kerry Kern realizes that she made a mistake on one of her moves while performing at the homecoming pep rally.

Children's Day '95 brought alot of excitement, especially as Auxillary made an outstanding performance before the crowd.

At the homecoming pep rally, Yolanda Gibbs shows her energy when the students go wild over her performance.

During the Homecoming football game, the Auxillary introduces a great performance for the crowd. They spent alot of time on this routine to make this year's homecoming one of the best ever. Along with many other clubs, Auxillary takes alot of time and dedication to make their best performances.

Melinda Gonzalez shows her dedication to her school as she helps out at a game for Childrens Day. Many students showed their school spirit by helping out at many events for Childrens day.

Every day after school, the Auxillary and Band practice all of their routines for the upcoming games and events. It takes alot of dedication to be involved in one of these clubs.

Auxillary heads off to march down Flagler ave. for the Homecoming Float Parade. They marched from the High School down Flagler and to the Football field for the introduction of the homecoming queens and the announcement of the float winner.

Number of People : 90-marching band, 60-concert band, 20-steel bands, 18-concert jazz band, 16-second jazz band.

Requirements : Try out

Activities : Competition in Naples, FBA Festival in W.Palm, Childrens Day, All home football games, parades, spring trip to Disney(including a performance).

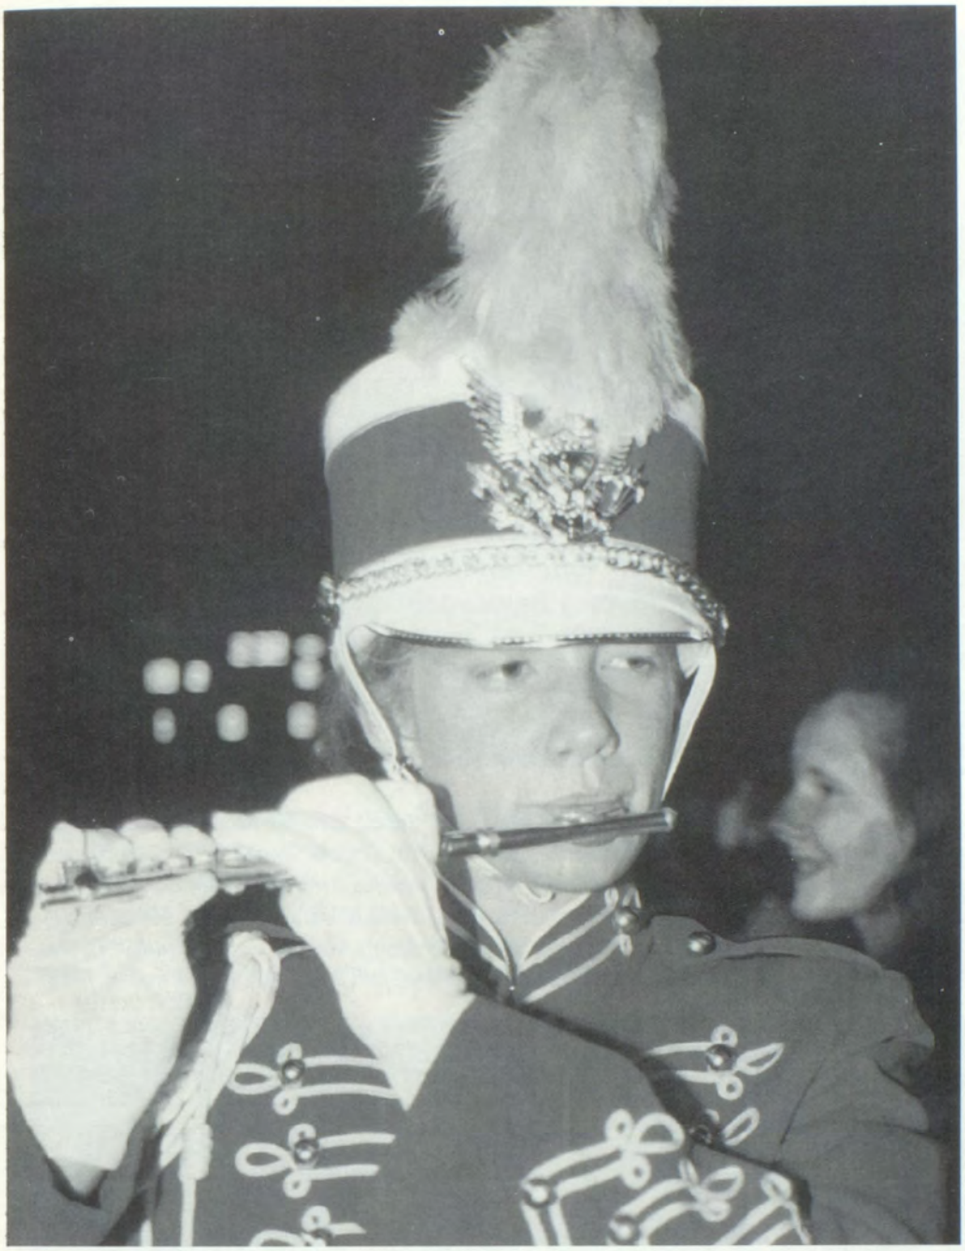
Acheivements : All State Competitions & FBA Solo and Ensambles.

At Childrens Day '95, the jazz band performed on the grand stand, making the day even more entertaining for the families.

At the Homecoming football game, the bands fearless leader, William Russell directs the band onto the field. As drum major, it is up to him to make sure everything runs smoothly.

During half time, the trumpets and trombones of the marching band, march forward at a steady pace to the beat of their own music.

Eddie Peirce practices his band notes, while dressed up for dress up day. His outfit seemed to distract one of his classmates, Allie Merino. Allie is wondering "where did you get that from?" Dress up day is a very popular day, even for the band members.



During the footballl games, the marching band performs at half time. Here, Danille Wilson plays her flute along to the beat of the rest of the band. After half time, the band returns to the bleachers to continue watching the game and cheering for their school.

Football games are a busy time for Junior Gilbert Font. Along with marching with the band, he also attacks the field with the Varsity Football Team.

Before a pep rally, the marching band gathers in their spot on the bleachers to practice playing the Alma Matter. The Alma Matter is played at the end of every school event. It is sung by the students and played by the band , along with everyone raising their pointer finger, to show school spirit.

With the call of the drum the line of the girls in crisp crimson and white snapped to attention. Not one sombrero bobbled; not one foot moved. The short long-haired brunette at the head of the group echoed the drums command and the line quickly moved out onto the brightly lit field. These girls are proud to be known as the Key West High School Conchettes.

They entertained us delightfully at football games, presented another successful Conchette Capers, and served our school faithfully through hard work and devotion. Conchettes are well known for their smile and happy disposition. Under the direction of ex-Conchette Sharlene Lot, they have again lived up to their traditional excellence.

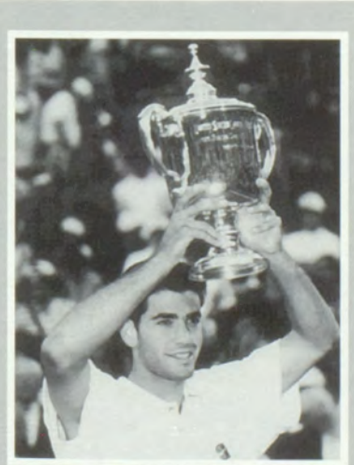
Mickey Mantle was one of the greatest baseball players who ever lived. From the time he broke into the major league in 1951, six months shy of his 20th birthday, until he retired following the 1968 season at the age of 37, Mickey Mantle inspired generations of fans with his power and ability. He died of a fast-spreading liver cancer at the age of 63, two months after a liver transplant.

It took 30 years for the Atlanta Braves to win a World Series,but the fans say the wait was worth it. A sixth inning home run by David Justice gave the Braves a 1- 0 victory over the Cleveland Indians for a 4 - 2 series triumph. the Braves had come close twice before, losing the Series in seven games to the Minnesota Twins in 1991 and in six games to Toronto in 1992.

Dallas Cowboys' Emmitt Smith goes for a long gain as the Cowboys went on to beat the Pittsburgh Steelers 27 - 17 to win Super Bowl xxx. For the Cowboys it was the fifth Super Bowl title, matching a feat achieved by San francisco last year. It was also the Cowboys' third championship in a four-year span.



Pete Sampras outlasted Andre Agassi and captured a third U.S. Open title and gain the No. 1 ranking. Sampras' aggressive style rocked Agassi with 24 aces to win the prestigious title. Two months earlier Sampras won his third straight Wimbledon. Sampras got to the finals by defeating Jim Courier; Agassi advanced by downing Boris Becker.

There have been so many titles, so many magic moments in the marvelous tennis career of Steffi Graf. There was the Grand Slam sweep in 1988, when she stamped herself as one of the best players in the world. But none of the triumphs matched the emotional victory over Monica Seles in the U.S. Open Finals. "This was the biggest win that I have ever achieved," said Graf, who owns 18 Grand Slam titles.

Timothy McVeigh is a well-guarded prisoner. He and one other man, Terry Nichols, are charged with 11 counts in the bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City. The explosion on April 19 killed 169 people and injured more than 500.

The Atlantic region's hurricane season this year was so active that it has produced the most named storms since the National Hurricane Center started assigning names in 1953. Storms are named in alphabetical order, but names beginning with Q, U, X, Y and Z are excluded because of their scarcity. This year, officials were preparing to reach the end of the list and begin naming storms after the Greek alphabet, starting with Alpha.

It was nearly three decades ago, after a series of race riots in Los Angeles, Newark and Detroit, that a commitment began to use race-based programs to improve the lives of blacks. It was called affirmative action. But in 1995-96 affirmative action plans began to get weaker. The Supreme Court issued decisions making it harder to justify giving minorities and women preferences in the awarding of federal contracts; and the Clinton Administration was reevaluating federal affirmative action programs.

The murder trial of O.J. Simpson ended. Not guilty. It took the jury less than four hours to reach a verdict in the sensational trial that lasted eight months. The jury of 10 women and two men found that Simpson did not kill his former wife, Nicole Brown Simpson and her friend, Ronald Goldman in June, 1994. The trial twisted and turned through a maze of scientific evidence and dozens of expert witnesses. Judge Lance Ito presided over the trial in which Los Angeles Police Detective Mark Fuhrman's racial slurs and attitudes became one of the focal points of Simpson's defense.

Miss Oklahoma, Shawntel Smith, got an extra birthday present for her 24th birthday: she was crowned Miss America. But she had to share the attention. Swimsuits also took center stage as television viewers voted overwhelmingly to retain the swimsuit competition, keeping with 75 years of pageant history. Detractors of this part of the competition tried to have it eliminated.

First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton had difficulty this year in finding an appropriate role for herself, one that Americans would be comfortable with, after her prominent leadership of the administration's failed health-care reform campaign. She remained an important adviser to the president. But in public, Mrs. Clinton concentrated on tasks more traditionally associated with first ladies - - tasks such as her crusade to improve the lives of women, children and families.

House Speaker Newt Gingrich, a Republican congressman from Georgia, rose to the heights of Speaker of the House of Representatives. Gingrich was always considered a 1996 presidential candidate. He promised to overhaul more than a generation of social programs that began in the eras of the New Deal and the Great Society.

The much - traveled Pope John Paul II returned to the United States for his fourth papal trip. The 75-year old Pope showed no signs of slowing down. He repeatedly spoke of leading the Roman Catholic Church into Christianity's third millennium. He was elected Pope in 1978. as the Polish Pope, he is the first non - Italian to head the church in 455 years. As one of the most charismatic pastors in centuries, he has made 67 trips outside Italy.

Bill Gates made computer headlines when he introduced Windows 95, the long - awaited upgrade to the Windows computer software program. It was billed as revolutionary and innovative, and the musical group the Rolling Stones were turned into software pitchmen. Gates, the 39-year-old chairman of Microsoft Corp., was also crowned the richest man in the United States, with a net worth of about $14.8 billion.

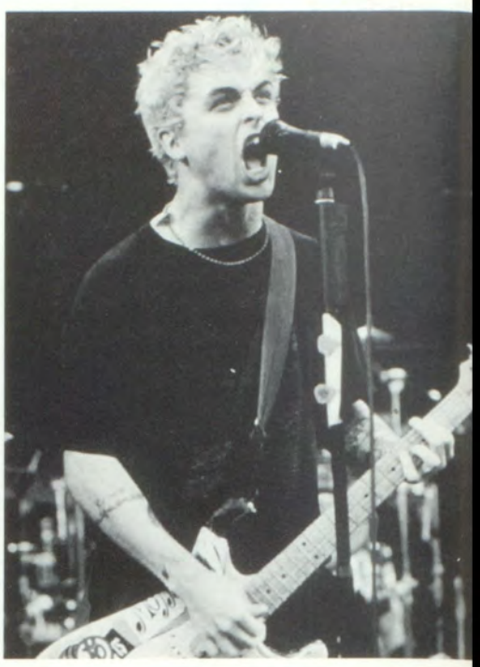
President Bill Clinton prepared for a new political battle: the 1996 presidential election. early in the election process, the 49-year-old Democratic president faced nearly a dozen Republicans looking to be the nominee to run against the President who had not even announced he was a candidate. But President Clinton had other concerns — - taxes and Medicare reform needed attention and, for the first time in many years, the Republican - ruled Congress.

Hundreds of thousands of black men marched in Washington in a spirited rally for unity and brotherhood. The Million Man March was organized by Nation of Islam leader Louis Farrakhan. Participants were optimistic that one of the outcomes of the peaceful day of praying, singing and speechmaking would be more understanding between blacks and whites.

Sen. Bob Dole, a Republican from Kansas, wanted to be president of the United States. When school began in September, Dole, the Senate Majority Leader, was a leading conservative candidate. The run for the high office was nothing new for Dole. He ran for vice president once, in 1976, and for president in the primaries of 1980 and 1988. If he won this time, he would be 73-years-old when he entered office, older than any newly elected president.

The gospel - influenced four voices of K-Ci, DeVante, Mr. Dalvin and JoJo - - also known as Jodeci, have a reputation of keeping their audiences thoroughly entertained. These guys have voices that could, and often do, jazz up the weakest material. Jodeci performs their vocal magic well enough to make their concerts worthy enough for any stereo system.

Green Day hit the charts with "Insomniac," its second major - label release. The San Francisco trio has unleashed whatever pent - up energy it managed to stockpile during the last whirlwind of a year. One of the songs, "Panic Song" is as close to sheer pop - punk purity as you'll ever get.



Garth Brooks was the first country artist to sell like a pop star in the early 1990's. Today, Garth Brooks is part of the old guard. The summit was "No Fences", recorded in 1990, which sold more than 12 million copies. A limited - edition greatesthits record, "The Hits", was a major success, selling about 10 million copies. And the 32 - year - old artist from Tulsa, Okla., is just getting started.

The Cranberries are threatening U2's reign as America's favorite Irish band. Their last two albums sold more than six million copies. The Cranberries are on to something big. Singer Dolores O'Riordan prances barefoot on state with a warming presence. The latest album from the group, "No Need to Argue," has been on the charts for several months. The Cranberries may have their limitations, but they haven't yet raised to the surface.

Pearl Jam's best - selling album, "Vitalogy", made one of the biggest debuts of the year. It sold nearly 900,000 copies, which nearly topped the group's own record set in 1993 when "Vs." sold 950,000 copies its first week. Meanwhile, the group, with Eddie Vedder as its leader, continued it fight with Ticketmaster, claiming the ticket firm charges fans excessive service charges.

Blues Traveler is a down - home Tennessee band with a unique style. On their most recent album, "Four," the group lets their talent shine through with some catchy tunes. As one critic said: "These tunes can be described as a spicy combo of on-the-edge rock 'n' roll and hard - line country/western bluegrass music."

Boyz II Men, the Philadelphia - based quartet which is made up of tenors Wanya Morris and Shawn Stockman, Baritone Nathan Morris and bass Michael McCary has had a presence on the top - selling charts for several years. They are more pop than either soul or rhythm and blues, but whatever their style, they are a massive success.

The pop-rap trio TLC, who hit it big in 1992 with such hits as "What About Your Fire", were at it again this year. Their hit album "Crazy Sexy Cool" hit the charts nearly a year ago and is still going strong.

One critic described Hootie and the Blowfish as a pleasant band with a mellow sound, a winning and unpretentious attitude, a goofy name and a lot more. The South Carolina band includes Darius Rucker, vocals and guitar, Mark Bryan, guitars, Dean Felber, bass and Jim Sonefeld, drums. Musically, Hootie can move casually but efficiently from harmonizing to country rock, from blues to thick - as - molasses Southern rock.

Steven Sawyer runs the ball one day at practice to improve his skills for the games.

Dennis Zamora finishes his kick and hopes that it makes it through the uprights for the extra point.

Varsity Football

eXhilarating

Hey all you sports fans! Well, if you love football then you must be psyched about the great season we had. In the biggest, most exciting game of the season, the fighting Conchs met their arch-rival, Miami Pace. They crushed the intense team for the first time in four years. The fighting Conchs also won their opener to Tampa Catholic. The Conchs faced many other tough opponents, but none were as tough as Jacksonville Bolles who defeated the Conchs. No matter what happened though, they kept their heads high with pride.

"The season is not what we expected to be, but it is not bad. We did achieve district champs and that is pretty good, but we have a higher goal than that."

Abba Devitt tries to get away from a couple of Patriots to try and score for the home team.

"Bubba is one of the most athletic players I have ever seen. Also one of the nicest kids I have coached. We know Bubba will go on to big things in college and we wish him the best of luck."

"Sean is one of the most consistent blockers. We will miss Sean's leadership on the offensive line along with Eric Hecht, David Lutz, John Welsh, Jerrod Ramseur, and Leif Bang. I am sure Sean will be a big success in life."

With his fast speed and endurance, Anthony Thompson shows some of his foot work and skills while running a pass at practice.

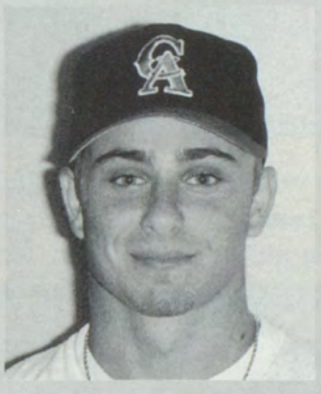
"Jason has been a big force on the defensive line ever since I have been here. It has been a pleasure working with him and we will miss his leadership on the defensive line along with Abba Devitt, Eddie Vargas, and Richard Niles."



"It has been a pleasure working with Steven and he has given us the ability of having another coach on the field. We know that Steven will go on to be a big success in athletics and in the business world. We will really miss him along with Mac MacKenzie and Dennis Zamora."

"Anthony Thompson is a high school All-American that excelled on the field. Everytime Anthony touches the ball something exciting happens and we will miss him next year along with Jason Jones."

During the Homecoming game, J.R. Mounts tries to escape from the defender so he could score for the Conchs.

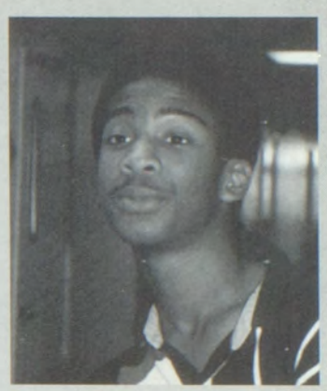
Junior does not necessarily mean weaker. The Junior Varsity football Conchs have shown great strength and power. Coach Blatt has lead them through a tough, but exciting year. The team is a mixture of freshman and sophomores. Even though they are not playing on the same level as varsity, they have equal mental strength and physical discipline. There is no doubt that next year's Varsity team will be district champs, with this incoming line up. Coach Mike Blatt states, "It was a 2-4 season, and was I disappointed in that? Yes. Was I disappointed in the kids? No. The kids gave it all they had in every game and quitting was not in their vocabulary."



"Ricky gives a 110% no matter what position he plays, he just wants to play."

"Aaron is a throwback to old time football: when the going gets tough the tough get going."

Felix Aguiar and one of his teammates practice their skills for tackling at practice.

Varsity Volleyball

great eXpectations

The Key West High School Varsity Volleyball Team was looking for one thing this year. That one thing was the District trophy. Head Coach Dee Downey said, "We were trying hard this year to get the District trophy. We went to District last year, so we knew what our competition would be like." Although the status of the other teams had changed, so had the Lady Conchs. With only two returning varsity players and four moving up from J.V., the varsity team took on a whole new look. It was necessary for people to learn the habits of others and learn to play together.

There is a lot of practice and dedication that goes in to making and playing on an athletic team. This year's volleyball team members put in the time they needed and Coach Downey provided the instruction. With the help of senior captains Amber Davis and Janette Rosales the Lady Conch's worked to do their best.

The District Championship was not to be this year; however, the girls gained valuable experience working together. It is not unreasonable to expect that next year the Championship is a possibility.

The Lady Conch's have GREAT EXPECTATIONS.

Jennie Stephenson taps the ball up in the air hoping it reaches the other side to score a point against Pace, one of the district rivals.

J. V. Volleyball

eXposure to the game

With only two returning players the 95-96 Key West High School J.V. Volleyball team had hit a rebuilding stage. Coach Judy Hetherington felt good about the attitude when she said, "This year's team is real positive." However with such a young team Coach Hetherington remarked, "We had to teach the new girls from scratch." Since the team consisted of 5 new players, 4 being Freshmen, Coach Hetherington used the help of returning Sophomores Captain Rosilee Crimi and Molly Milnes in stressing the learning of basics and rotation.

"When we get Freshmen, we have to teach them the basics," said Coach Hetherington. Learning the fundamentals of volleyball is the first step to a great team." The major objective for this year's young team was exposure to the game.

"We had a rough year, but next year I think we will have a better season," says Molly Milnes.'

"Playing volleyball for my first time was a very good experience for me," states Ayesha Osborne.

Swimming eXalted

This was a momentous year at Key West High School. For the first time in the school's history, there was a girls' swim team. The team had thirteen swimmers.

Practices before dawn and a pool that is not large enough for competition were just a few of the adjustments the girls had to make. The pool size was too small, so the swim meets had to be out of town. Junior, Tara Blatt said, "We always help each other out and keep our spirits up."

Varsity Boys Soccer
eXtending their reach

The game of soccer is one that requires speed, endurance, and determination. That is just what the 95-96 Key West High Boys Varsity Team has.

With only nine returning players, the team is reaching for a new height this year. "We are working toward Districts this year. We really want to win," said sophomore Jesse Perloff.

The team played well both offensively and defensively, and there were many close games for the team. It takes plenty of hard work and persistance to play at the level of a varsity team.

Players attribute the team's success to improved playing as a team, more passing, and being in better shape due to a strenuous running program. "We have never run so much, but we are never tired during the games," says Rob Vasbinder.

Varsity Girls Soccer

eXperienced

When soccer was first started at Key West High School, the girls had to compete with the guys for places on the team. Now with an overwhelming interest, the Key West High Girls Varsity Soccer Team is strutting their stuff.

With almost the whole team returning from last season, including a couple new faces, the girls' team is well experienced and confident in their skill. That is what gives them the edge on success.

New head coach, Joe Fiore says, "I received a great deal of satisfaction from working with the girls, they are a great team." He also replied that the girls have a great understanding for the rules, and have a great love for the game.

"You have to be aggressive and not let the other team intimidate you," says sophomore Jamie Carson. Soccer is a game that requires a superior level of skill, ultimate body fitness, endurance, and above all, great team work.

The team gathers in a huddle to pray before the game and go over the plays.

Ryans Burns races against an opponent to gain possession of the ball.

J.P. Gonzalez uses his footwork to mislead the opponent, then carries the ball down the field for an opportunity at the goal.

"We had a young team this year, we stepped up in the playoffs when we had to. I know next years team could be as good or better than this year's team."
Kelly Vohs

"We started off slow and came around in the end. We will do better next year."
J.P. Gonzalez

"It got off to a bad start, but the season ended good."
Steven Davila

Goal keeper Kelly Vohs dives to stop the ball therefore the opponents do not score a goal.

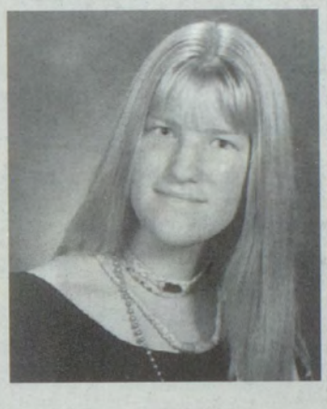
Pawel Krzemien takes the ball down the field while George Twyman makes sure the other team does not steal it.

Andrea Berglund shows some foot action on the ball while trying to reach the goal for the Conchs.

Jackie Carson kicks the ball aggressively down the field to make an attempt to score.

Breanne Van Natta uses some fancy footwork to pass the ball to another player to reach the goal.

"We had a lot of new talent this year, and next year's team will be loaded with talent." Mariah Parker



"I think we came together when we needed to. That, in my opinion, is a team." Chelsea Paul

"It was a great year for me and I wish good luck to the rest of the years to come." Cynthia Garcia

Goal keeper, Cynthia Garcia stops the ball from going into the goal, so the other team does not score.

Jenny Costarino makes three steps to throw the ball in by doing a flip on the ball first.

J.V. Boys Soccer

gaining eXperience

The KWHS Boys J.V. Soccer Team, suffering from the loss of key players, came through with a successful season. They showed their pride and school spirit in their effort and enthusiasm.

With the potential and enthusiasm they needed, the team stuck together and demonstrated their love for the game. Using their skills and spirit, they strived for the top. Not meeting their expectations, they experienced the difficulties of playing a defensive and competitive sport.

The experience gained in their efforts will provide for a stronger varsity next year.

"We had a bad season, but the seasons to come should be better."
Brandon Charette

"It takes hard work and determination even though we did not do that good this year, we are coming back next year."
Keith Rendueles

J.V. Girls Soccer

eXactly what they had

For the first time ever, the Key West High School Girls J.V. Soccer Team has had a winning season. After three winless, scoreless seasons, they broke the spell. With a team of only six returning players and eleven freshmen, there were a few things to work out.

The season statred out slightly rocky, but as practice became tougher and ambitions were raised, the games became more exciting. Freshmen, Nicole Barton scored the first goal in the history of the team, tying that game the team's hopes soared. After winning the last two games of the season, it gave the team a whole new perspective.

In soccer, the players need a combo of confidence, skill, and knowledge of the game. That is exactly what the J.V. Girls had this year. They are looking forward to a great season next year.

"We made history this season, and I am very proud to be part of this team."

Varsity Boys Basketball

high eXpectations

"Our season goal has been to be district champs and go on to be state champs. Beating Pace was a step towards our district goal," stated captain, Eric Woodberry.

With such high expectations, the Key West High School Varsity Boys Basketball Team had one thing on their mind, and that was achieving victory as a team.

With a dynamic come from behind victory over district rival Miami Pace, the Conchs proved that they have the ability, skills, and players to reach their goals. "I like being on the team because we play together as a team, and we get a lot of support from the fans," states Talmadge Singleton.

The Lady Conchs Varsity Basketball Team plays every game with the strength of a champion team. Their endurance is unparallel to any other, except their junior half. With all the tough competition in the district, they fought hard to keep conch pride alive. With a pounding win over archrival Miami Pace, the Lady Conchs moved from eighth to fifth in the state ranking. The team had a near perfect record with only a few slim losses. It's no surprise that they are a favorite with the state ranking polls, with their aggressive attitude they show who's boss.

They have had some really tough games this year. St.Brendans was the toughest district team to play. Unfortunately the Lady Conchs had to end their season to a tough loss to Gulliver in the first game of Districts 54-56.

J.V. Boys Basketball

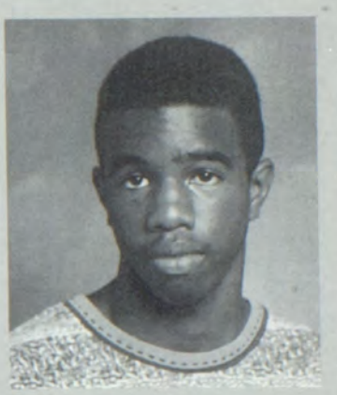
ineXperienced

Although the 1995-96 Junior Varsity Boys Basketball Team was young and inexperienced, the team got off to a good start and kept going. They had an excellent season, and they have many skills and abilities, as well as learning to play together as a team and get the points on the board. The team was led by some promising freshmen. Marcus James said, "The freshmen adjusted well to playing at the high school level. We helped them by showing them the plays."

The J.V. team provided some stiff competition for its opponents. They made the baskets count when it was necessary. "At the beginning of the season the team was falling apart, but towards the end we started playing as a team," stated Calvin Collins. The team improved stedily throughout the year, with players falling into their positions and getting comfortable playing as a team.

Coach Bacon stated, "I am very happy with the way the program is going. This is my first year as head coach of the J.V. team. I am very pleased with the way the team played this year. I am also looking forward to coaching a great group of young men next year."

Will this team be able to play at the Varsity level? Only time will tell of the team's development.



"We could have won more games if everyone played hard and lost the attitudes." Curtis Butler

"We had a good season despite the fact that we had some young players, but the players played good."

JV Girl's Basketball

eXceptional season

The Lady Conchs Junior Varsity basketball team has had an exceptional season. Being only their second year, they have greatly improved their record. Sophomore, Sara Dube said, "Basketball is at its best when everyone works as a team." This seems to be the advice that the team has followed throughout the season.

The JV Lady Conchs had a few standouts on the team this year. Some of those players are Sara dube, Emily Dunn, Philida Ridler, and Olgine Brevil. They ended a great season in February, after playing some hard teams, with a near perfect record (11-1). Julie Kuhnke said, "Basketball is great." That really summed up the teams diehard attitude.

"This year was a good year, playing as a freshmen was a good experience for me. I cannot wait until next year to start." Shamika Lealand

"It's been a good year playing basketball with all my friends and I can't wait for the next season to begin." Philida Ridler

Boys Tennis gaining eXperience

Even though they lost four seniors in 1995, the Boy's Tennis Team had the experience and abilities to be a strong team. The 1995-96 season was somewhat of a rebuilding year with some strong underclassmen picking up the slack. The team practiced hard and developed the skills to be a very competitive team in the next couple of years.

With sixteen matches on the regular season schedule, the team was able to figure out the possibilities of a district championship early in the season. Blenn Dayao said, "The doubles team has a good chance at districts. I think it will be a good learning experience."

Z. Surber, a freshman who started the season out ranked number two, said, "I think the experience we have will carry on to next year." The boys had a lot of experience and depth. They developed their skills throughout the season and improved steadily. They had an excellent season and will have many more to come.

Girl's Tennis neXt year

The Lady Conch's Tennis Team has really improved their team since it began last year. Faith Williams said, "I'm really proud of this year's team. They have overcome obstacles that stood in the way last year."

The team will only lose one senior this year, so next year's team should be even stronger. Their confidence increased throughout the season and carried them to the District playoffs.

The coaches expressed pride in the team. Coach McKell stated, "The addition of the girls coach has strenthened the program and should continue to produce good results."

Katie Halloran remarked, "playing on this years team has been enjoyable and exciting."

A not too distant goal is to be State Champs. The coaches and student body are very proud of the teams hard work and determination.

Golf eXasperated

After having an almost perfect season last year The Key West High School Golf Team has had a "disappointing year" according to junior, George Twyman. This is due to the few losses they have had at the beginning of the season. Overall, they have lived up to the "Conch par." Next will be a rebuilding stage for the Conchs after losing four seniors. The young men are hoping to win districts and then going to the State Championship.

Grace Oatman, Rashawn Williams, Samia Williams and Andrea Berglund made up the record breaking 4x100 Relay Team. This team won their share of 1st places.

Jessica Carr hands off to Yolanda Gibbs in the 4x800 relay event. Key West won this race on their way to victory against Coral Shores in their opener for the track season.

Nadi Vlaun, Angela Davila, Jessica Carr, and Yolanda Gibbs were the 4x800 Relay Team at the beginning of the year. Later Yolanda and Nadi gave up their positions to run open and join with Jenny Costarino and Olgine Brevil for the record breaking 4x400 Relay Team.

Girl's Track eXulting

The Lady Conch's Track Team was in their second year and had their sights set on winning the District Championship. Last year they were District Runner-up to Gulliver Prep., by only 15 points. To motivate the team the captains (Nadi Vlaun, Samia Williams and Yolanda Gibbs) chose the slogan CONCHering the Track.

The season started off on a very positive note. The Lady Conchs won the first track meet with Coral Shores by a score of 106 to 26 and the second with Gulliver 68 to 55. At the FIU Invitationals Key West girl's won trophies and broke records. Ana Aschendorf won a trophy in the shot put and broke the school record with a throw of 40'2"; Grace Oatmen won a trophy and broke the school record in the high jump with a jump of 5'2"; and the 4x100 Relay (Grace Oatmen, Rashawn Williams, Samia Williams, and Andrea Berglund) won a trophy and broke the school record with a time of 53.24. Other records were broken in the Coral Shores and Gulliver meets. Jenny Costarino set new records in the 100mHH(16.4) and 400m(64.4); Amanda Gaerner set a record in the 300mLH(54.09); Ana Aschendorf set one in the discus at 102'3"; and the 4x400 Relay Team(Jenny Costarino, Olgine Brevil, Yolanda Gibbs, and Nadi Vlaun) set one at 4:13.

This years team had more depth than last years. A number of the Freshmen runners immediately estalished themselves and added to the strength of the returners. Coach Huhn stated, "This is our year. We are going to do our best to CONCHer track at the district level this year."

Cpt. Nadi Vlaun. "Nadi is an excellent runner. She's capable of good performances in both middle distance and distance." - Coach Huhn.

Cpt. Samia Williams. "Samia is a fine all-around Track athlete. She can sprint, long jump and triple jump." - Coach Huhn.

With a 1995 State Championship at their backs, the Varsity Baseball team hoped the 1996 season would end the same. The team started off the season ranked number one in the state as well as in the nation. Did the top rankings put any pressure on the team? "I felt being number one was great, but we didn't have the enthusiasm that we should have had to be the number one. We had a little added pressure, but all we needed to do was play hard all seven innings and we could be national champs and second time State Champs," stated Bobby Lowe.

With three tournaments on the schedule along with district games, the baseball team faced a tough season. Steven Sawyer said, "We want our baseball program to be something our school and community can be proud of." The team definately made the community proud, and the support was continuous throughout the season.

The 1996 season was full of promises as well as hopes. The promises were for a good season and lots of developed players. The hopes were for a third trip to Sarasota and a second State Championship and for a first National Championship. The only way to sum up the 96 baseball season was said by Steven Simeon-"We are the best, plain and simple."

Varsity Softball eXcelled

The Lady Conchs Fastpitch Softball team started off with a pretty good season. the team won a few and lost a few. The team was equipped with a lot of talented players. They will be losing five seniors next year which might hurt the team, but maybe not because there is a lot of talented freshmen coming up from the Junior Varsity squad. To play fastpitch you need to have dedication and the team has to work hard together. The Lady Conchs have a tough schedule playing in one of the biggest tournaments in the state. The district teams are also going to be tough teams to beat when districts come around. "I feel that the team works good together. Our goal this year is to when our District," stated Neda Preston.

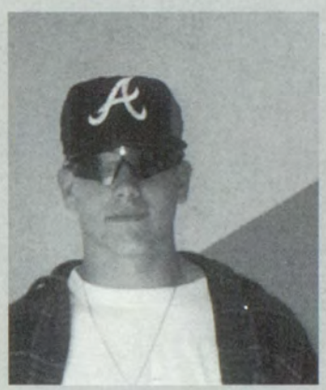
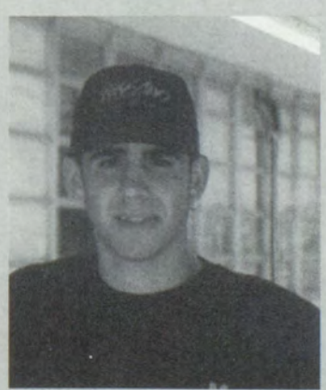
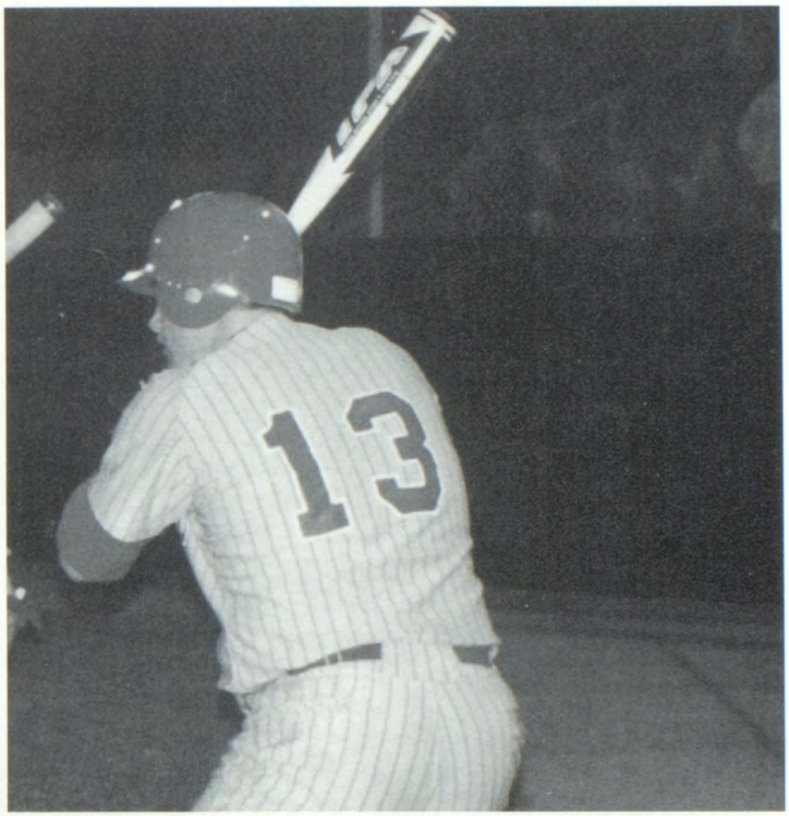
"Hard work and dedication is the key for Conch success, and I think that is what we have." Jonathan Gates



"There is nothing like being number one in the nation." Tony Acosta



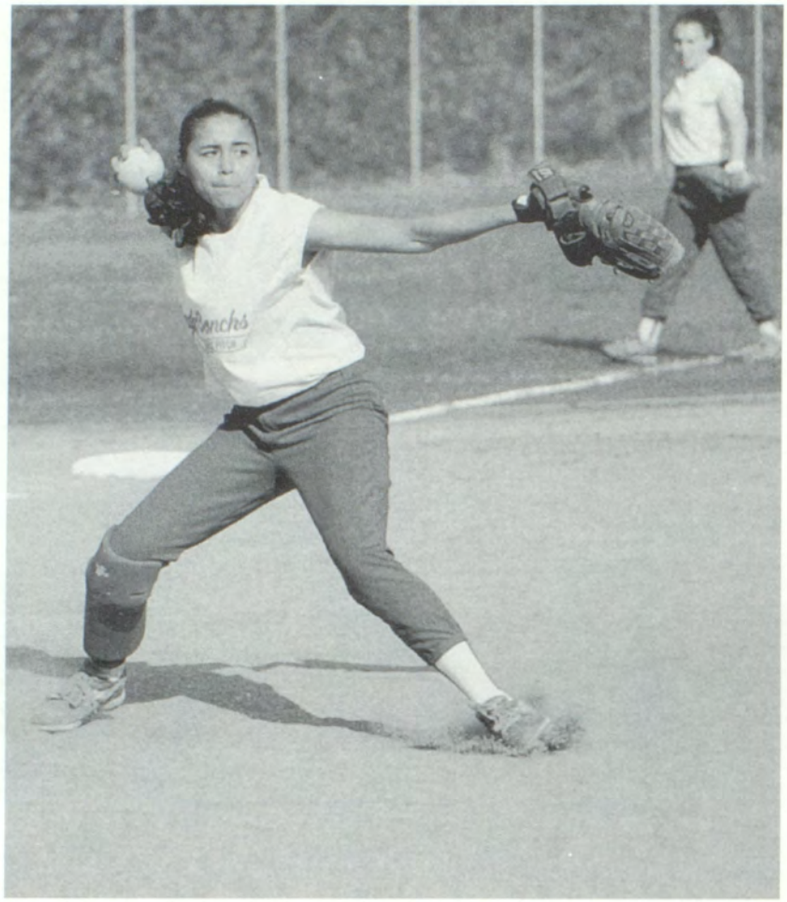
"It's a real honor to be ranked number one in the preseason, but it won't mean anything until the end." Michael Balbuena



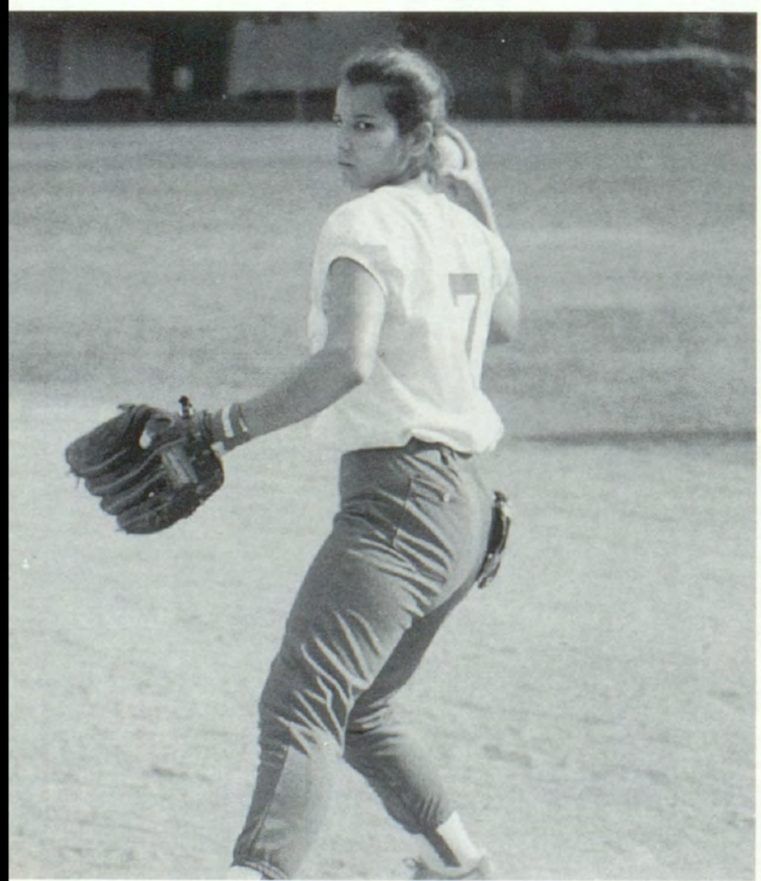
Craig Lariz stands on deck taking practice swings before stepping up to the plate. He broke the record this year for the most career hits.

Jonathan Gates comes off the mound to pitch the ball down the middle to get a strike.

The Conchs bow their heads to pray before the game begins.

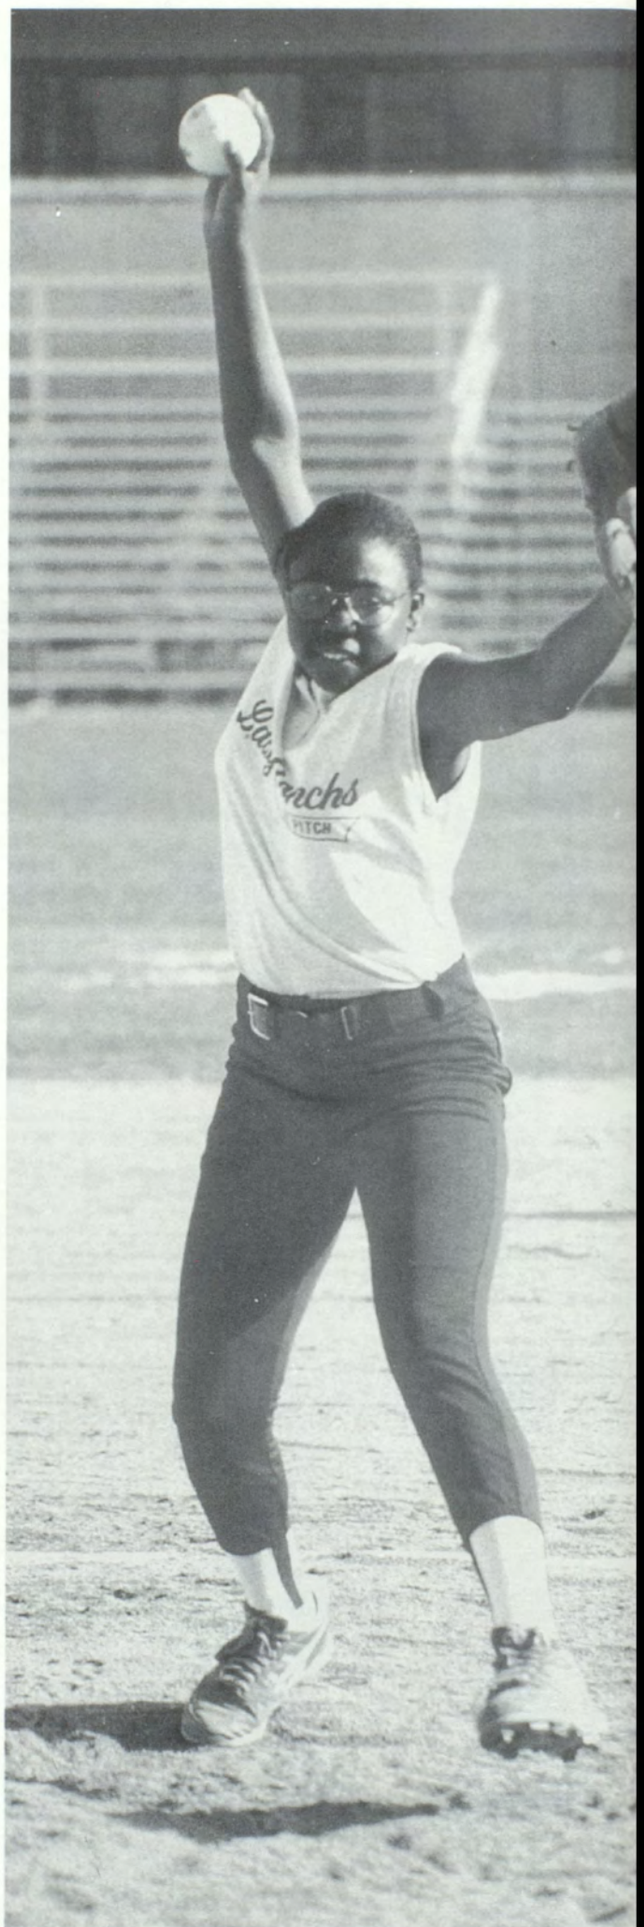


Janette Rosales sets back and ready to throw the ball with all of her power to make the out at first.



Pitcher, Melissa Edwards pitches the ball with all of her strength and puts it over the plate hoping it is a strike.

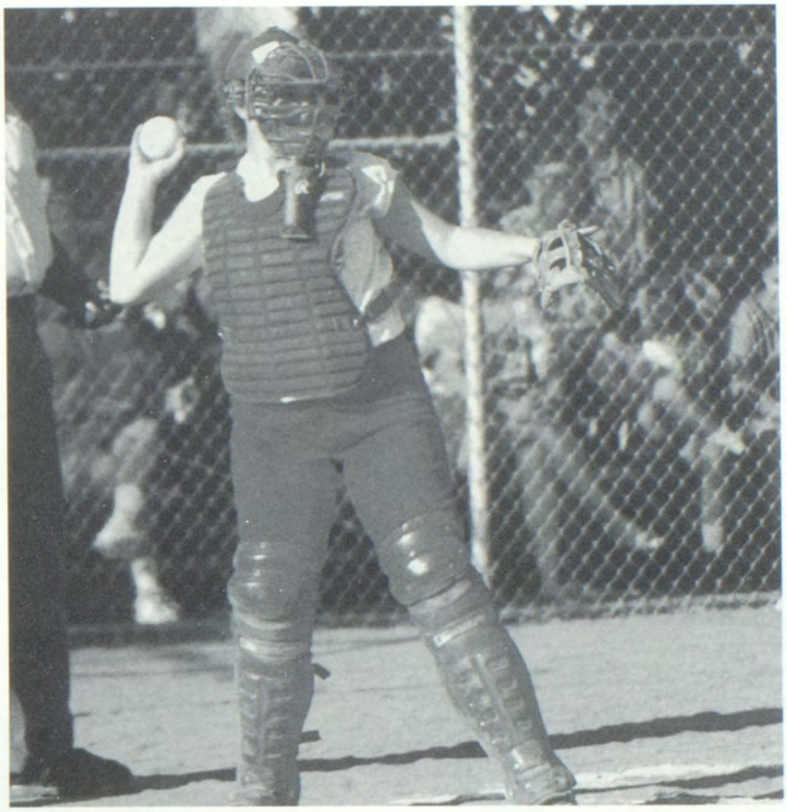
Debbie Barrera gets ready to throw the ball home to try and make a play at the plate.



"This year has been hard because there are a lot of new players, but we are learning and having fun."
Marissa Centonze

"We were shaky at first, but we are coming around as a team and working together."
Tara Blatt

"We have the skills; we just need to cut down on our mental mistakes and start hitting early in the game."
Melissa Edwards

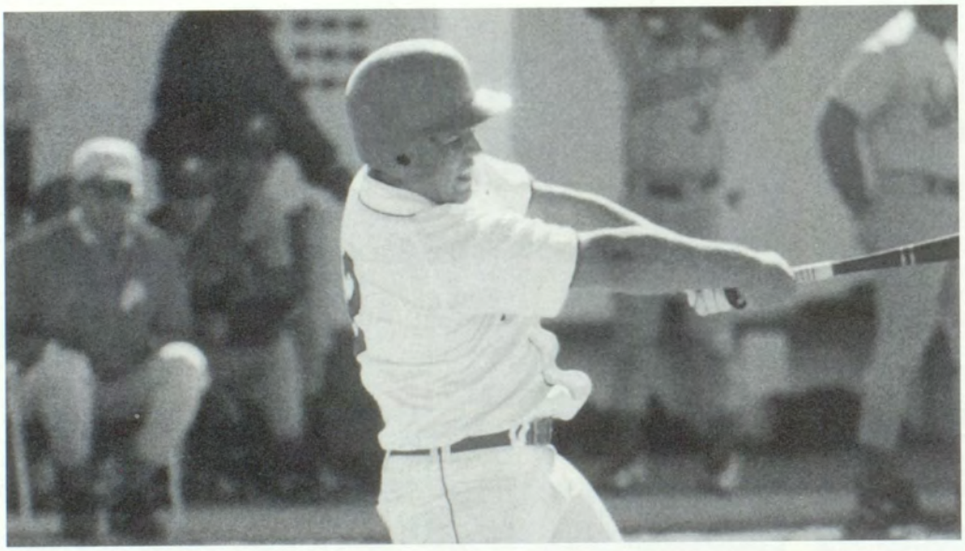


Catcher, Neda Preston gets ready to throw the ball down to second base to get the runner out while she is trying to steal.

Takisha Villareal tries to stop the ball when it was hit to her to get the girl out at first base.

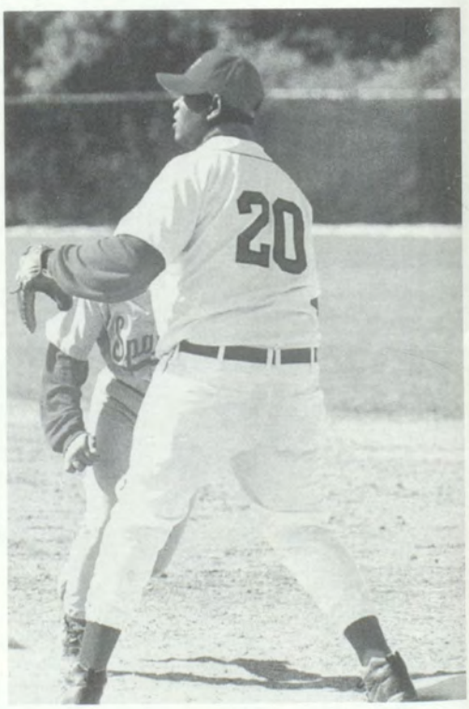
Angela Rodriguez goes down on the ball and stops it to try and get the runner at first base.

Eddie Williams, James Welch, Brian O'Connell, Michael Takovich, Gavin Scarbrough, Troy Phillips, Juan Menendez, Aaron Marn, Luis Leal, Christian Twyman, Eduardo Rodriguez, Michael Lugones, Peter Dunick, Lazaro Chavez, Coach Mira, Coach Moore, James Bogoeff.



Michael Lugones takes a level swing to make contact with the ball to try and get a hit.

Eduardo Rodriguez pitches the ball down the pipe to the catcher hoping that it is a strike.



Devin Butler steps out to get the ball from the pitcher to try and pick-off the runner on first.

J.V. Baseball eXperimenting

With a new head coach, the Junior Varsity Baseball Team took on a new look. Mario Mira, in his first season as the head coach was very optimistic about the year ahead of him.

The team had power hitters who developed many skills to be better at bat. "The coaches were teaching us the skills for hitting at the varsity level," said Lazaro Chavez.

Along with power hitting came some power pitching. The J.V. pitchers had the ability to add up the strike outs and have the skills to be pitching standouts in varsity play. Peter Dunnick said, "Our hard work and determination paid off in the end. School was also important."

The players came together and will be good to watch in the next couple of years.

Coach Mario Mira takes a time out to pull the infield together to have a little chat on the mound.

"This year has been very challenging. We have a young team and a new coaching staff. We statred off the season slow, but we started to come around after the first couple of games."
Christian Twymon

"It's a priviledge to play for the baseball program here at school."

Christian Twyman swings the bat while watching the ball to try and get a base hit for the Conchs.

Erica Gates pitches the ball hard trying to throw strikes to the catcher.

Leigh Giuricich goes down the first base line trying to get there before the ball does.

Monique Thiel gets in her batting stance and get a hit.

J.V. Softball eXceed

The Junior Varsity Lady Conchs got off to a great start. They did not have that big of a schedule, but they still got the job done. The team works well together and works hard at what they need to do or learn.

The team is equipped with a lot of freshmen, so next year they should have another good season. To most of the girls, fastpitch is a whole new ball game. They have to learn new rules and new ways to play softball. It was hard on some of the players, but once they got the hang of it they were all right.

One of the Lady Conchs toughest games was against Gulliver. The girls ended up losing only 3-1, but they did not give up. That is why the girls work so well together, and had such a great season.

"We play as a team and we are all a family." Erica Gates

"We work well together as a team and I feel we will have a great season." Aileen Rowe

Sarah Williams gets ready to throw the ball to try and get the runner at first base.

ADRIENNE,

When we held you for the very first time, and through those precious baby times — We thought we could never love you more;
BUT THEN YOU GREW.

Then, through the toddler years of curiosity, the little girl years of growing up — We thought we could never love you more;
BUT THEN YOU GREW.

And in these young lady years, you have matured into a wonderful, beautiful young woman — And still always, day by day, you keep growing nearer and dearer to our hearts.

WE ARE PROUD OF YOU! LOVE,

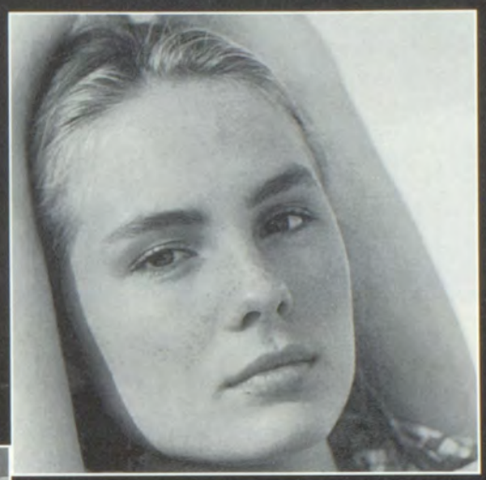
Nadira Vlaun



Nadi,

It's wonderful realizing a dream. . . Knowing that the precious little girl you once held close in your arms has grown into a most special, beautiful, young woman. We're so proud of the choices that you've made, the goals you've set, the ones already accomplished and the love and respect that you've won. May god's love continue to guide you in all that you do and may all your dreams come true.

We love you,

Adrian Wiltsey

Adrian,

Well here it is. . . the day you thought would never come.

We've been through thick and thin together to get to this point, but the important thing is you have done it ! !

I just want you to know how proud I am of the way you have turned out, and I wish you the best in whatever the rest of your life has in store. You have earned it !

You have always been there for me and I will be there for you if you need me . . . always !

Love, Mom

To my best friend and Boyfriend,

I am so proud of you, and what you have accomplished. You've worked hard and deserve it. Now the day has come for you to enter the "Real World" and start your life in the NAVY. You made the right choice, and we can work through anything that lies ahead, together.

You have made me so happy since the day we met, through bad times and good, you have shown me nothing but love, happiness and friendship.

I love you with all my heart, forever

William,

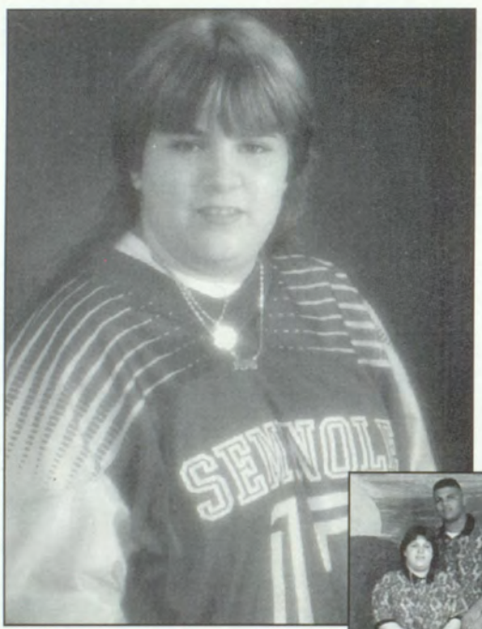
You are the light of our lives! No words can express how proud we are of the special young man you have become.

Whatever your dream may be it will be our dream too. We will always be here to love you, support you and celebrate your success.

With all our love,

Mom, Dad, Grandma and Papa

Jamie Lynn Godfrey



Congratulations Jamie,

We are so proud of you. You have brought us so much love and happiness and a beautiful granddaughter. It was hard there for a while but you did it and we knew you would. We have waited so long for this day, now it is here and we can share this happy day with you and your loving daughter.

Love,

Mom, Dad, Amy, Tina, Wella and Tiffany

Rachel Lynn Gordley

We are so proud of you, Honey!
We are excited to see what the Lord will do through you in the coming years!
We love you!

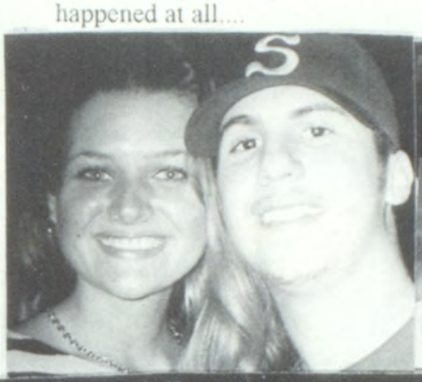
To tell the truth at this late stage in the game would serve only to confuse everyone involved. Needless to say, we're all fairly confused anyway. Now we could always have just sat down and tried to remember everything the way it happened, but there's always that chance that no one would believe it. There is also that chance that some people would believe it and that could lead to future prosecution. What is sure, is that you had to be there to understand the significance of how much fluid was consumed. Then we awoke to realize that we really don't know what happened at all....



There are only a few things that remain in the wake of this journey across this great land of ours, aside from the sour smell of our clothing the morning after, and that lingering taste of juice and apples. But of most importance are the pictures on this page. They are what are sure to remain, so as to remind you of how much fun it was and remind us that it really happened...

Debbie,

You have made us very proud. May your future be as bright as the smile you've always shared. You are special. Remember that success is not measured by the expectations of others, but how honestly you live up to your own.

Love always, Mom and Dad

Our little Debbie . . . .
You always would say - "I can't wait to be grown up, so my brothers and sister wouldn't boss me around." The years have gone by so fast, now you're just as tall as us.
Wishing you the best always
love,
Tammy, Andy & Chuckie

Tricia Marie Sawyer

Tricia,

You have filled our hearts with so much love from the moment we held you in our arms. From that moment on, we've watched you grow and blossom into a bright, beautiful and mature young lady. We are so proud of you and your accomplishments and hope you continue on that road of success. Remember hard work pays off, dreams do come true, and that you will always be our "little girl."

May God bless and take care of you!

Love,
Mom and Dad

If I could gather up all the smiles, laughs, memories and pride that you've given me through the years, and give them back to you , I would, Maybe then you'd understand exactly what it means to have a daughter, and why you're one of the most important things in the world to me.

No one could ever love a daughter and believe in her more, than I love and believe in you.

Hold fast to dreams for if dreams die, Life is a broken-winged bird that cannot fly. Holdfast to your dreams for if dreams go, life is a barren field covered in snow.

Just believe in yourself and you can make all your dreams come true!

The yearbook was completed and every space was filled, ...except this one. So, we (the 96' Yearbook Staff) figured that, (since Dr. Huhn was probably the one who left this space empty) that we should dedicate this block and this book to him. And now without further adu, (since this space is almost filled) Thank you Dr. Huhn, Without you, the yearbook just wouldn't have been completed !

Thanks,

The 96' Yearbook Staff.

Friendship is a priceless gift
That cannot be bought or sold.
But it's value is far greater than
A mountain made of gold.

For gold is cold and lifeless
It can neither see nor hear
And in a time of trouble,
It is powerless to cheer.

It has no ears to listen
Nor heart to understand.
It cannot bring you comfort
Or reach out a helping hand.

So when you ask God for a gift
Be thankful if he sends
Not diamonds, jewels, or riches, but...
The love of "real true friends."

Congratulations you made it! Love, Lauren, Maria and Andrea

Explorations. Exploring our identity, making the transition from child to adult, learning about ourselves, others, and the world around us in the year of 1995-1996. As the school year closes, like another file placed into the file cabinet of life, it won't be forgotten. It is another experience available to reopen, reminiscence about and always learn from at any time. So we continue on our path of explorations, after travel on this one little road, and for those who will not return to Key West High, they will continue on a whole new, exciting journey, opened to explore the wonderful discoveries the future holds.

COLOPHON

Xplorations, Conch 1996, was produced by the Key West High School yearbook staff at 2100 Flagler Ave. in beautiful Key West, Florida. Production was headed by Adviser Dr. Ralph Huhn. The book size is 9x12 inches with a press run of 650 books. The book contains 320 pages on 80 pound high gloss enamel paper. Xplorations 1996 was published by the Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas, represented by Kenneth Thornberry of Fort Lauderdale, Florida. The artist who created the cover was Erin Baker, a senior at Key West High. The cover used 160 point binders board, was smythe sewn, rounded and backed, and printed on four color lithocote material covered with plastic lamination. The yearbook staff would like to extend a special thank-you to Erin Baker, and the entire faculty staff and student body at Key West High School.
