Dream

DATE

DO

As we entered high school we had huge dreams. Some dreamed of playing the starting quarterback position. Some dreamed of getting accepted into top schools. Some dreamed of making new friends and others dreamed of having an amazing high school experience. "I dreamed of having straight A's all four years and ranking towards the top of my class," said Aaliyah Lucky. Dreaming is the first step in achieving success, but daring to get to those dreams is the next step in the process. Our new principal Amber Archer Bosco dared to take on a big opportunity in leading the school. Maxi Llama dared to be a state champion by improving his wrestling skills and won the state title. Taking risks was a big part in achieving dreams and reaching them. Every day Conchs dared to reach their goals whether it was breaking school records, winning competitions, or making the grades. Devin Osterhoudt said, "I dared to make many new friends and I did by being active on the swim team, softball team and in school." In order to make our dreams come true we had to do something to get there. The faculty led a group of art students on a trip to Haiti to visit kids in need. The boys' basketball team made it to semi-regionals undefeated. New records were set in various sports, the Academic Challenge team conquered, and the band and chorus earned top ratings along with many other accomplishments. They happened because we dreamed, we dared, and we did.

Living the Dream

High school is a time to make many memories with close friends. It is a time where we learn who we are and get ready to start our lives. This year we had many exciting experiences. We had an amazing Homecoming, our sports programs had great seasons, and we had more Pep Rallies. We even had a Pep Rally in the morning for our Winter sports accomplishments. To celebrate our accomplishments in general, we had a school wide party. School provided a fun, educational environment. Our hard work, great staff, and amazing students made this year one to love. We had a year full of success, pride, and happiness. This year was better than we had ever dreamed it would be.

SUMMER DAYS

Sophomore Marella Barroso, and senior Anthony Davila stay in the water to beat the heat.

Senior Koon Hoi Poon travels back to his native land, China, for summer vacation.

Madison Dorman and Belle Jampol dive the beautiful waters of the Florida Keys.

Senior Morgan Nelson sits up high next to the Grand Canyon.

Students favorite season proves to be an adventure each year.

Summer, the season of love, sun, adventure and no school! Students had all sorts of experiences during summer. Some traveled to different countries, visited family, or enjoyed our beautiful little island. Summer was the time when students took a break, relaxed, and enjoyed the warm weather. The students' summer adventures left much to once reunited with old friends. Love those summer days!

Humberto Dos Santos and Chanice Dos Santos spend their summer in Madeira, Portugal.

Kelly Rosch plays Superman into the pool.

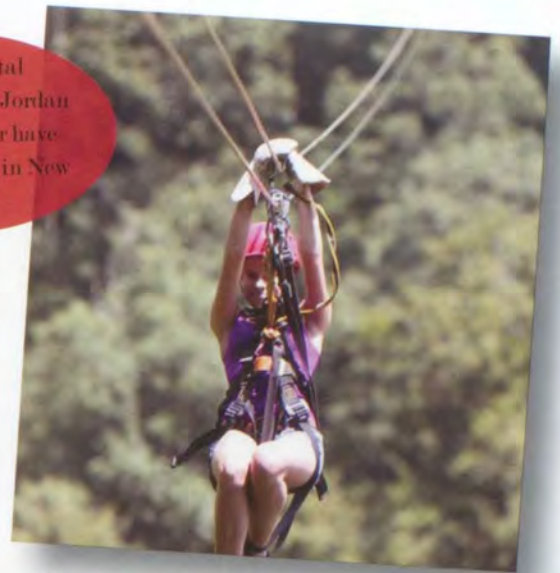

Seniors Robyn DeRoche and Zebedee Mannix-Lachner hike the Appalachian Trail.

Senior Rachel Quad shows us rope swinging in perfect form.

Juniors Crystal DePoo-Davis and Jordan Mannix-Lachner have their summer fun in New York City.

Students Marliese DeMauro and Torrin Jacobsen on a mountain-top in New Zealand.

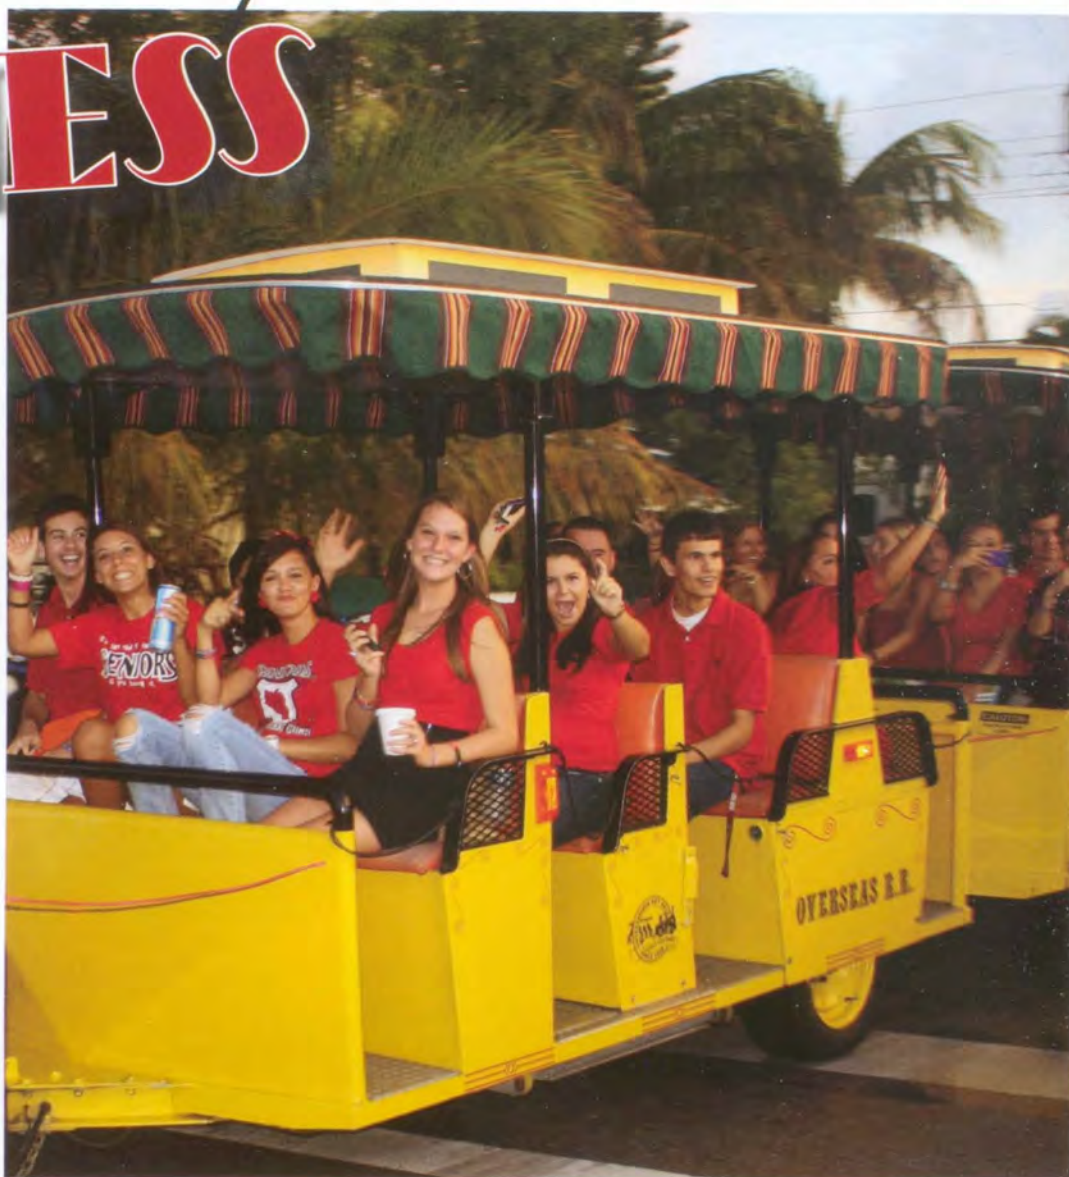

Senior Travis Hicks keeps it real in the beautiful Hawaiian Islands.

First Day MADNESS

New start to a new year

The first day of school was a big hit. Students arrived on campus and were excited to see familiar faces and ready to take on the new year. With crisp new paper, sharpened pencils in hand and smiling faces, students were prepared to work hard and succeed. Seniors especially were excited for the annual first day grand entrance. This year seniors rode in on Conch Tour Trains announcing the arrival of their much anticipated senior year. As the day progressed, it was evident that the teachers were excited to see new faces in their classes. The first day proved to be exciting and filled with Conch spirit.

Sophomores Evan McGill and Allison Griffiths sit in class ready to take on their first day.

Senior NaQuan McNeill shows off his class spirit by wearing red, for the seniors, on the first day.

Students share an enthusiastic smile on their first day.

Senior Jestine Arteaga said, "The night before the first day I was tossing and turning thinking about putting on my new clothes that I stopped from wearing during the summer. I wanted to look good. It made me feel good seeing all of my friends again on the first day."

Seniors
Giovanni Vargas-Cabanas

Every year the students get the chance to show their creativity. During the week of the big homecoming game each day there is a new trend to follow. Monday, Seniors make unique togas. Tuesday, all students huddy up with their friends and match to look like twins, Wednesday, students wear their favorite pajamas, and Thursday was the day of the big game and every class wore their class color to the huge homecoming pep rally. Spirit Week is the ultimate display of "Conch Pride". All students join in the festivities and really give each day their own personal touch of uniqueness.

Elizabeth Morfji loves her angry bird pillow.

Do you think the float should have had a higher placing?
"I think that we could have done a lot more to make it better."

The Freshman class poses in front of the first float of their high school career. The theme of their float was the Smurfs and they incorporated the famous blue skin and lots of colors for a job well done.

Jose Figueroa Jr.

Will you be a part of the float next year?
"Probably"

Erika Pena

Do you think making the float was challenging?
"Yes, It took hard work and dedication."

Rachel Spencer

What did you do to build the float?
"I helped make the mushrooms"

New Beginnings

The Freshman class held their own against the upperclassmen in the homecoming parade. They chose the classic Smurfs to represent the "animation imagination" theme. Their skit was well thought out and had the crowd cheering. Their float sported bright and fun colors and was well built. Freshman Anthony Henriquez said, "We worked great as a class and I can't wait until next year." I'm sure everyone can agree great things are coming from the freshman class throughout their high school endeavors.

Sophomore Swag

The Class of 2014 placed 2nd for the second year in a row in the homecoming parade. With their theme of Winnie the Pooh, they shared a great experience and worked together to do their best. "Our class always comes together as a whole and puts in 100 percent effort every time, I'm proud of them," said Amanda Henriquez. The Class of 2014 showed their conch pride in their creative skit. In the 100 acre woods Winnie the Pooh ran out of his "Conch honey" and had to go on a search to find some, but he soon realized that Conch pride didn't come from the honey, that it came from within him. Their float brought out the animation imagination it was seeking to and had the crowd going wild.

1.- Pooh and Piglet come up with a plan to get honey before the Homecoming Dance.

3.-Students say the Alma Mater before leaving the judges.

4. - Amanda Diaz smiles at the judges after their skit is over.

5. - Tristin Milliken says the Alma Mater before they leave the judges.

6. - Hugo Valdes III and Steven Wells line up for the football scene.

The butterflies and bumble bees dance to 'Rumbly in My Tumbly' while performing for the judges.

"We all worked really hard on the float and tried our best to win. Although we came in 2nd place, the memories we made were well worth while." -Alec Toranzo

"We worked really hard and spent a lot of time working on it so it feels good to know it paid off." -Steven Wells

"Although our goal was to get first place, I am so proud of our float's performance that it doesn't bother me that we placed 2nd." -Ciara Bailey

"Working as a class felt so great, especially getting second place and knowing we did a good job." -Amanda Mederos

Meet the Characters

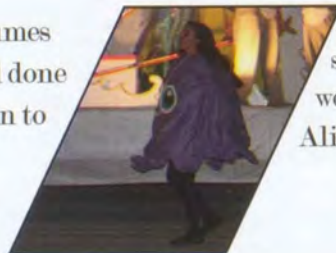

"The float was interesting and a fun experience."

1. The Junior float places third this year at the Homecoming Parade.
2. Maria Kongos and Yanaiz Morales tell each other what Conch pride really is.
3. The jelly fish talk to Nemo.
4. Taylor Williams and Kayla Geide are Crush and Squirt from the movie Finding Nemo.

"The costumes were so well done and really fun to wear."
Belle Jampol

"Our costumes and skit were the best we have ever had."
Alice Tallmadge

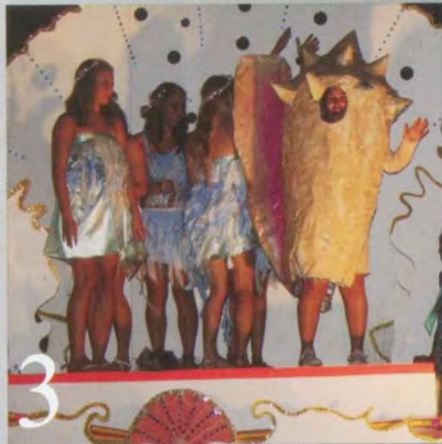

"It felt like our class came together as one whole team working towards one goal."

2013 goes BOSS!

This year's Junior class of had an amazing year filled with laughter, creativity, excitement, and fun. The theme for the Homecoming Parade 2011-2012 was "Animation Imagination." All the grades came together and chose a movie or show. Although the juniors came in third place, they put in all they had! Their skit consisted of Bubba searching for Conch pride around the wide open sea with the help of his friends; Nemo, Dory, Coral, Pearl, the turtles, and the Nymphs. They spent many long nights working on their costumes, skit, and float. Although they wished their float design could have been better orchestrated, they kept their heads up and accepted the third place trophy and congratulated the other classes on their win. They kept the learning process going and are going to give all they have next year. "We hope to go out with a BANG our final year here at Key West High," said Junior class president, Alice Tallmadge.

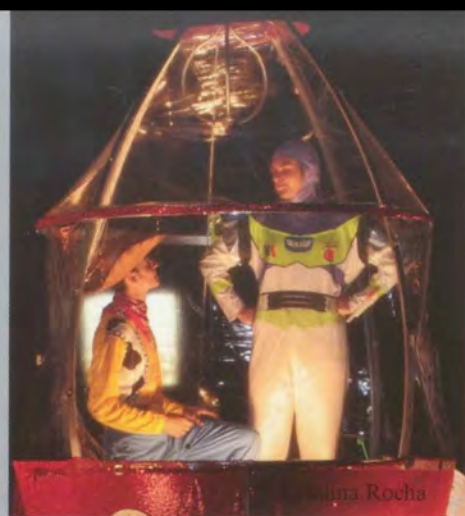

as we have is one of a kind and no matter what we love each other!" -Adriana Garcia

Seniors' "Three-peat"

The class of 2012 did it again! The senior class won first place in the homecoming parade for their float three years in a row, winning again with their version of Toy Story. With endless hours of hammering, drilling, painting and rehearsing, the class of 2012 proved that all the hard work pays off. But not only does working hard prove to have a winning effect, but it also brings the class together.

"Every year I can tell that it's time for float, because our whole class is buzzing with excitement, and everyone is closer than ever," said senior Zane Osborn. This year's senior class proves that with a little bit of dedication, and a whole lot of helping hands, victory is nothing short of possible.

Dancing toy boxes, Robyn DeRoche, Ryan Romanoff, Morgan Nelson, Madison Dorman and Jayde Sawyer help the senior class bring in a win for the third time.

"Woody represented all KWHHS students very well."
Anthony Davila

Clash of The Classes

An extraordinary event, Clash of the Classes, provided the student body with excitement and some healthy competition! The 'Clash' takes place annually, between each grade level. Events ranged from eating competitions where competitors ate a specific food combination before the other classes, to games like over-under, and unfreeze-my-T-shirt. Everyone got a chance to show their spirit! Although a victor was not announced due to a cancellation from rain storms, everyone showed their sportsmanship and Conch Pride in a "fair and enjoyable way", said Senior Alecia Archer.

Senior Antonio Guieb passes off the lathered up ball for over under.

Dare to be different

With every new year comes a fresh start for the student body. It's a chance to learn from past mistakes and make the most out of the present. With over 1,000 students in our school, it is easy to fade into the flock. We are all individuals with unique qualities. Sometimes we must strive to stand out and above the crowd. We must DARE TO BE DIFFERENT. Like rooting on our fellow athletes until we have no voice or reaching out and doing something nice for another or a worthy cause. Conch Pride is shown through our efforts in being different and standing out.

A photograph of a student in a red shirt playing a large drum, likely a bass drum, in a school setting. The student is wearing a red t-shirt and dark pants, and is captured in motion, with the drum head visible in the foreground. The background shows other students and a school environment.

This is what we Do

Socially you may have been one person; academically, another. Many classes and clubs gave students the opportunity to venture outside their boundaries. With a huge selection of about 40 clubs and counting, students were able to find the perfect club that suited them, or one out of the norm. Organizations often emerged out of a common interest in an issue or activity, not just for community service hours. Clubs ranged from the classic ones such as the very popular Executive Boards and National Honor Society, to the newer ones such as Gardening Club and Pie Club. The interests helped students embrace their personal characteristics and interact with others who shared similar ones. Group organizations allowed "that guy" to be more than just the athlete, but also the hilarious star in the school play.

Student Council is a great group because you're not just working with your class. You get a chance to work with every grade to make the school a better place.

Leading a better Tomorrow

Seniors Brandon Masiello, Lauren Miller, Eva Hooten, and Taylor Park work hard to make sure the stars are perfectly placed.

Student council was known for their leadership over the school activities. Together this club provided numerous activities for students, and helped out around the community. Student council members worked hard to put together a phenomenal homecoming dance for students. The club also threw a senior citizen prom, which was a big hit. Together as one, Student Council DARED to take charge and led the way for a better tomorrow.

Making the Change

When asked the question why do you like Project Protect, the following students had wise words to say:

"It keeps the school the recycling and makes people more aware of recycling" - Erik Vinson

"Project protect is amazing because I get community service hours and it helps the world!" - Lauren Schoneck

"It makes me feel like I'm helping the world one step at a time." - Adriana Garcia

This year we went green! The teens came together in clubs not only to help the earth, but also our school. Clubs such as Project Protect, Reef Relief, Habitat for Humanity and even our own Gardening Club. Each club helped our school and the community in a certain way. Project Protect loved to recycle! They volunteered their time and recycled the materials in the bins around the classrooms and outside! They kept the earth green and clean! Reef Relief helped out our fresh coral. They raised money to help in the efforts of saving the Keys' coral. For each coral saved, a fish has another day. Habitat for Humanity dug, shoveled, painted, and even hammered! They helped build houses for families in need and loved to accomplish great things! Our Gardening Club put a hint of green in our red school. They made sure the trees were nice and our gardens fresh! With the help of these clubs, our school is looking at a green future!

Keep it CLEAN, keep it GREEN!

"I like Project Protect because it gets me more involved and I want to help the earth and keep it green!" - Raquel Schoneck

"working for Habitat, I help the elderly repair their houses, I get to use power tools, and always end the day covered in paint. Doesn't get any better than that!" - Morgan Nelson

Bonjour Senor!

The Language Clubs bring different cultural views to the school. They teach students not only different languages, but also take a glimpse into other countries' ways of life. When the hard work is done, they thoroughly enjoy getting a taste of their favorite cultural foods by dining at places such as Chicos, El Siboney, or Croissants de France. Senora Sheer and Madame Palay do a great job keeping the kids interested in their clubs by coming up with lots of new, fun, and creative activities.

ALWAYS THERE the good stuff to set

Memories last a life time, and without the help of the yearbook staff, the Snapper staff, and the Television Productions classes, it would be hard to remember them all. Responsible for unearthing news, producing the very popular morning announcements, and creating page upon page of senior ads, dedicated students worked around the clock to ensure informative, entertaining, and visually stimulating media for the school.

Art did many great things this year. One of their main events was taking a trip to Haiti. They made children's books and took them to Haiti and read to the kids. Teachers and students used their whole spring break to spend time with the kids. Not only did they have that great event, but their Art show this year was one of the best yet. There were hundreds of beautiful art pieces displayed and sold. The art classes are growing larger and larger every year whether it's art 2D, 3D, Ceramics, or Photography.

Footloose!

Elizabeth Freeman

This year, Keys Kids Productions put a new twist on the old and classical Footloose! With a new modern spin, many students at

Key West High collaboratively put on four great performances for the community. Many seniors, being their last year were very enthusiastic about the play and thankful that Mrs. Hulme-Archer and Ms. Archer-Bosco took part in the show. Natalie Castaldo said, "I had a blast playing Ariel and I'm going to miss and cherish all the memories created while performing in Keys Kids plays."

Keeping Pitch

Belle Jampol, Jovani Borrego, and Cara Michaud sing joyfully to Baby it's Cold Outside.

Juniors, Mathew Rodriguez and Jonathan Monje, have a good time singing and acting in the VIP's traditional Twelve Days of Christmas.

Jeffrey Matthews II belts out a solo during the Fall choir concert.

It's no shock that Key West High School Chorus had another successful year. The Mistys and VIP's are composed of choir's top singers. The two groups consist of talented young individuals who together, create perfect harmony. Mr. Carter took time and effort to devise a select group of students that have the opportunity not only to put together performances in the auditorium, but also compete in a variety state wide competitions. Being a part of Misty's and VIP's requires dedication and commitment. Maintaining your grades and attending after school practices are just some of the many expectations of being part of this select group. Every year Mr. Carter succeeds in the goal of Misty's and VIP's reach of perfection.

Leah Hay, Shelbi Swanson, and Elizabeth Careaga dress up as the VIP's during the Misty Polka.

Zebedee Mannix-Lachner and Griffin Saunders dress up as the Misty's during the Twelve Days of Christmas.

A Word from our STARS

"Choir is not only about the singing and performing, but the lasting friendships that are created. They last way beyond our high school careers."
Lucia Pradas-Bergnes (11)

"If choir was a woman, she would be a very beautiful woman. You love seeing her, you learn from her, and she makes you happy."
Jonathan Monje (11)

Eva Hooten and Brandon Masiello strike a cute pose as the Misty's are singing "Rehab" by Amy Winehouse.

Mistys and VIPs

Those who wish to sing, always find a song.

Success and excellence were two traits Mr. Carter was known for. This year ten freshmen girls performed an outstanding burst of talent and received much recognition during this 2011-2012 school year. With this marvelous group, you'll begin to understand the true journey of voice. Each performance the girls soared with bursting joy that came from the soul.

- 3.) Claire Young, Amber Miranda, and Joecelyn Chavarria have a blast singing in their pajamas.

SING YOUR HEART OUT

Composed of harmony and shining characters, Select Choir was at its peak this year. Success would not be granted without the stupendous instruction of Mr. Carter. All in all, they show the true spirit of harmonious vocal performance.

Who inspired you to join choir and why?

TOO TERRIBLE

WCH STORY

Dare to Dominate

Sports were a big part of our school. We had many amazing student athletes. Our athletes were strong and determined for success. In every game they pushed themselves to the end to have a productive outcome. All games were intense and exciting because of the drive of the athletes. We had many achievements in sports. For example, new records were set, the basketball team had a 16-1 record, wrestlers went to states and one earned a state title, and some athletes signed for full ride scholarships, to various colleges and universities. This year was filled with ambition and victories. This was because our athletes DARED TO DOMINATE and dominate they did.

Football season is what you make it.
Always stay positive..

Devin Barber (12)

How close are you and your teammates?

"We are very close.

We will always be there for each other."

How did it feel playing your last football game at Key West High?

"It was a sad experience knowing it would be the last time playing with my friends. I will miss it but remember it forever."

Roberto Val (12)

What was one of your favorite experiences playing football this year?

"I enjoyed helping the team get the plays down. I am a more experienced player so I could help by sharing what I know."

Who was your biggest inspiration in playing football?

"Coach Valero definitely inspired me. He saw something in me that nobody else did."

Caleb Holley (12)

Would you consider yourself an important part of the team?

"Yes, I filled a position that not very many players could."

Was it difficult going straight to varsity as a freshman?

"It was much harder than I expected it to be. The players were bigger and more experienced."

Varsity Cheerleaders were a combined group of sophomores, juniors, and seniors. This year was the first year that Key West High School allowed 10th graders to try out for Varsity. They cheered on their football team with a lot of spirit to help them come out with victories.

Go Conchs!

This year's cheerleading season was amazing. We came together as a squad and mastered things unimaginable. I love this team and I'm going to miss the seniors!

Cheer was an amazing experience for me. When I first moved here from Texas I didn't know whether I would like it, but when I made the team the girls really made me feel at home I love every minute of my team and I'm glad I got to share my high school memories with them.

Even though it is hard work it is very rewarding. All the memories made and time spent with the team, they're like my second family.

When Dreams come true

The Class of 2012 dared to dream big and did great things. They placed first three years in a row for their homecoming float, held "firsts" like the Sweetheart Court and Dinner Auction and raised school spirit to a new level. These are just a few of the accomplishments the class was proud of. From academics to sports to community service, the Senior class set the example for others to follow. Throughout their four years, the class dared to accomplish everything they could. Their last year was their final chance to make their high school dreams come true. The class of 2012 went above and beyond their dreams. They always pushed for the best and never settled for less. Their perseverance and hard work set the bar high and made it a class that left a successful mark for future classes to follow. They worked hard to reach their dreams and finally their dreams came true.

These days have passed so quickly it has me in a whirl. I want to shout from all the rooftops "Where is my baby girl?" Eighteen years have come and gone, how did that time just slip away? How can I stand and watch you leave when there is so much more to say. We've walked a million miles or so together, you and I. At times our path got extremely rough, so hard to understand, but never once did you let go of my heart or my hand. I have cherished each and every one of our moments together; my wonderful daughter. At times you have been the only light that I could see. You have brought the sparkle to my eyes since the very first time I held you in my arms. I could not possibly imagine my life without you in it. How lucky for me that this amazing person is not only my daughter but my very best friend. Forgive me in the days ahead if you find I stop and stare, just yesterday my baby and now a beautiful woman is standing there. I hope you know I am on your side in all you dream to do. The tears that will be falling down my face will be for me and not for you. For you I feel excitement as the whole wide world awaits. Your dreams are waiting to all come true and don't let one moment waste. Be happy, make memories, have no regrets. Do what you love and laugh often. Live each day as if it were your last and most of all call home a lot. Kristina Brooke Ratcliff, my love will be with you every moment. Go out there and dazzle this world as you have dazzled me. Just one last thing, I want to thank you for the greatest privilege of my lifetime, being your mom. To the moon and back.

To the class of 2012:

You are a very special group of students and I am proud that you will be my first graduating class from Key West High. You have done wonderful things as a class and I am proud to have served as your principal. Remember to play hard, learn lots, dream big and live happy.

Ms. Bosco

One Last Lesson...

As you begin your new journey, I hope you approach life and love with the same fierce spirit you had while at KWHS. Too many people allow life to happen to them and then react. Get out there and make your life what you want it to be. It takes hard work, perseverance, and making the right decisions sometimes at the toughest times, but doing the right thing will always put you in a better place. My hope for you is that at the end of each day, you can lay your head down in peace, proud of yourself, not for the kind of car you drive or the size of the house you live in, but rather for the life you've created and the content of your character.

Thank you for blessing my first five years of teaching. You truly are a class I will never forget. - Miss Hulme

Don't ask us how but we always knew you had character and strength.

You also have always had a tremendous sense of humor and infectious laugh.

You are not all Mozart and Brahms, there's Brooks and MacFarlane too.

Serious, silly, studious, jokester – each describes you best.

You bring us great joy, and we know the best is yet to come.

Please save us a seat in your front row,

So we may continue to cheer you on with pride.

Love always, Mom and Dad

To the awesome, phenomenal, hard working, unique, talented, and special senior yearbook members: Miranda, Alecia, Natalie, Alexis, Marliere. Taylor, Rachel, Katalina, and Gino -

The time has come, as we knew it would, that you are ending your high school journey and beginning a whole new wondrous chapter in your lives.. How excited I am that you will be accomplishing many phenomenal things. Each of you has brought something special to me, the staff, and the school and I hope you continue to blossom and share your many gifts and talents with the world. It is my hope that you continue to Dream, Dare, and Do as you always have. You all are truly special and I will miss each one of you.. Continue on your path and remember to only give and expect the best that life has to offer. Each of you can achieve anything you set your mind to.

Gino- Editor In Chief , the irreplaceable one and only..

The four years have come and gone and it is bitter sweet. I am especially proud of all of your dedication to the yearbook staff and to the school all four of your high school years. Yearbook will truly miss your sense of humor, dedication, and laughs. I hope you continue life's journey with as much zest and zeal as you have shown for the yearbook, as it will be so greatly missed. Never forget all of the memories and continue to INSPIRE all those around you.

Ms. Castaldo

Dare to continue

The year was complete.
The Seniors would DARE to continue their education, friendships and memories of the past four years as a Conch. Dare, Dream, Do.
