FOREWORD

If in the dim distant future, when you no longer attend your Alma Mater, and your thoughts drift back to the School and the things you loved; if by glancing through this Volume of the Conch your memory is refreshed and you can live again in those days of long ago, then the Senior Class of 1928 will feel that its efforts have not been in vain.

“Ah, here’s where we may turn and go,
Down paths of memory,
Back to the land we used to know,
The land of used to be.”

DEDICATION

FRANCIS E. GRUBER

In appreciation of his tireless efforts, generous consideration, sympathetic advice, and worthy counsel in making this Annual a success, we the members of the Senior Class of the Key West Junior-Senior High School affectionately dedicate this second volume of the Conch to Frances E. Gruber, our class sponsor.

The first Key West High School was founded in 1900 on Simonton Street, near Fleming, in a wooden building, and was known as the Sears School. Amid unfavorable surroundings, the students worked until 1908, when it was moved to the present Harris Grammar School. This was a great improvement, but it was soon evident that a larger and more modern school was needed.

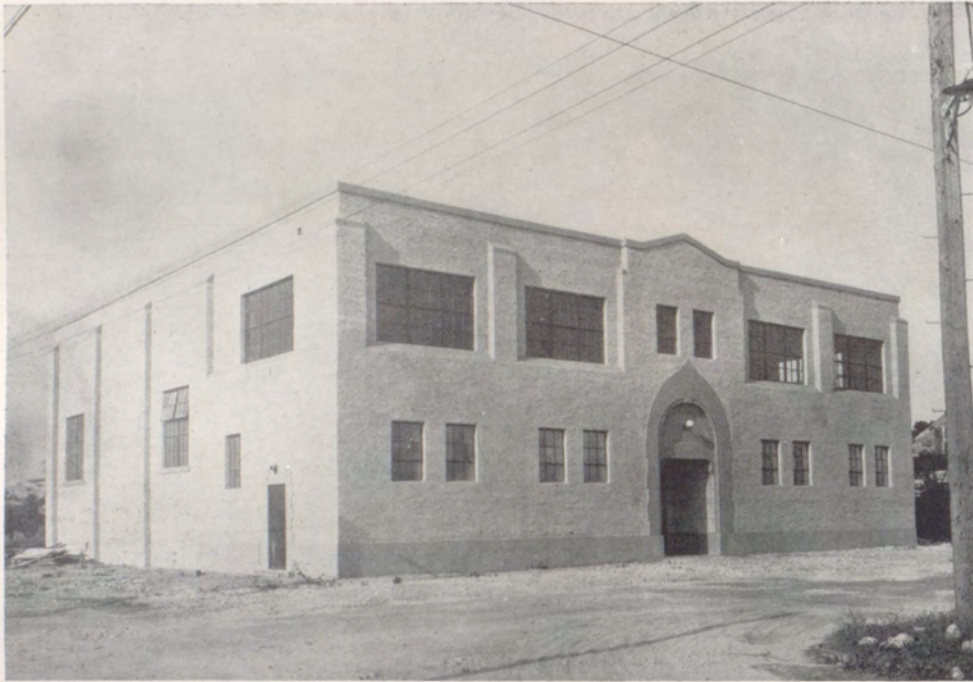

During 1914 the demand for a larger school was felt, and resulted in the present Division Street Grammar School. In 1921 the citizens of Monroe County felt the need for a larger and more modern building, and therefore voted to erect the present building that is now occupied by the Junior High School.

1923?

Amid great festivities, the cornerstone was laid on May 30, 1923, and it was ready for the students to enter in September. The building, beautiful in every respect, and the pride of the county, was large enough for the time being, but soon the citizens decided that Monroe County must not only be up with other counties, but must be a leader in education, offering her sons and daughters all she can in this line.

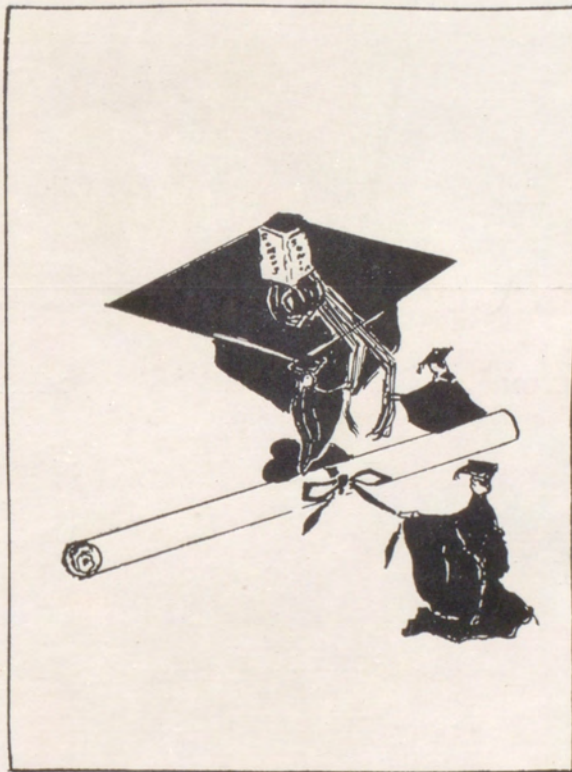

This could be done only by another building, and at the beginning of the present year the Annex was completed and occupied by the Senior High School. In addition to all Senior High Classes being conducted in the Annex, it has a cafeteria, manual training shop, cooking and sewing rooms, laboratory, and a lecture room.

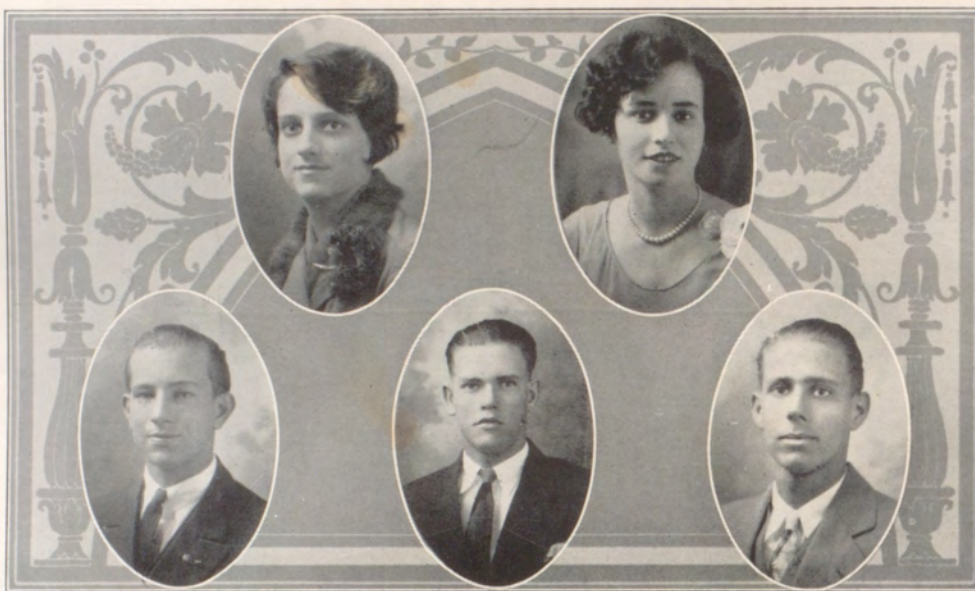

Key West High School had already made a name for itself among the other teams of the State on account of its athletic teams, but the students were greatly handicapped because of lack of a gymnasium. This was soon remedied, and in a few months, after the completion of the Annex, the gymnasium was ready to be used.

It is equipped for basketball, indoor baseball, and all indoor sport activities, and has a seating capacity of five hundred. Shower baths, hot and cold, are included in both boys' and girls' dressing rooms, including locker space for every student in the school.

In brief, Key West High School is about all a school should be, and the members of the Class of '28 feel a pang of regret as they leave these buildings where they have spent some of the happiest days of their lives.

CLASS POEM OF '28

By Victor Larson

As we stand on the threshold of life's journey,
Looking backward o'er four years,
We, the class of twenty-eight,
Begin on life's path without tears.

Year by year we've striven onward,
Pursuing work with hearts all true,
Grasping all things to be learned
From the old unto the new.

Our High School has offered much
For the future we pursue,
Giving students a firm background
Of all things pure and true.

Now we leave our Alma Mater,
And on life's path we go;
Things we've learned will be of help
For other facts we wish to know.

We will stumble, as all must,
As we plod on toward success,
But the righteous things we've learned
Will help us for the best.

For all whom are true and righteous
God will give a helping hand
To become a great factor
And to make a hearty stand.

Hail, classmates! Fellows! Girls!
One more hearty handclasp we give
To our school friends, pals, and teachers,
To be remembered while we live.

Farewell, all ye, the faculty;
Farewell, friends, all true—
While we are striving onward
We will always think of you.

KEY WEST HIGH SCHOOL SONG

Way down in Dixie, where skies are blue,
You'll find old Key West High!
Where dreams are new, and friends are true,
You'll ever loyal be.
Our colors, crimson and gray,
Shall ever wave on high!
Dear old Alma Mater, here's to you—
Cheers for old Key West High!

SCHOOL YELL

Grits, grunts,
Coconut pie!
Victory!
Key West, Key West,
Key West High!

SENIOR CLASS YELL

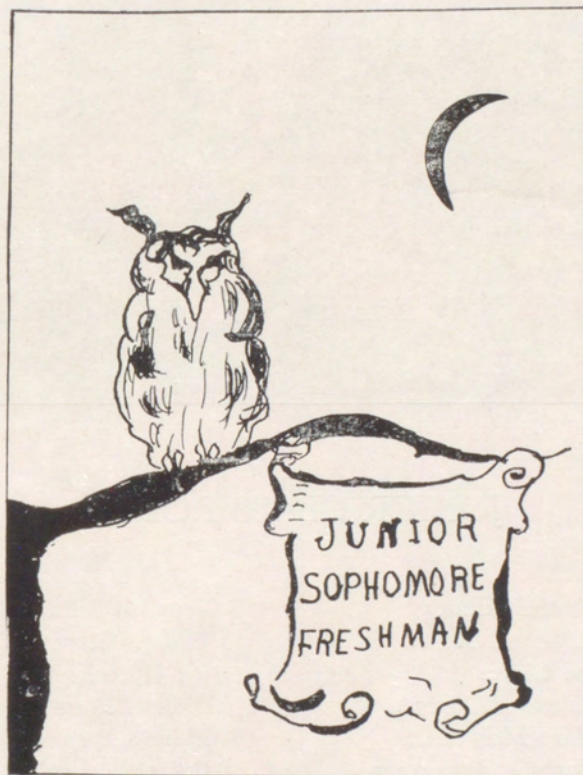

Senior class members are high-minded!
Bless my soul, they're double-jointed!
They go to school and don't mind it
All year long!

FOOTBALL

Never before in its history has the football prospects of Key West High School looked so promising as the afternoon that the pride of the school went in training for the second time under Coach Anderson. With the lineup as strong on the offense as it was on the defense, it looked as if the high school lads would make this season a banner year in victories.

The Conchs pried the lid off their season by licking the local Marine team to the tune of 27-0. This looked well, and the school could visualize a nice string of victories to its credit.

However, after the first game it seemed as if an evil spirit was following the team, because, just before the annual game with St. Petersburg, our old rivals, one of the best players was hurt and had to be left behind. While training in Tampa, Kermit Baker, another star player, was injured and was on the sick list for the rest of the season.

The game with St. Pete was a slaughter. The Conchs were facing a team heavier and more experienced, and the result was, before the game ended, about ten Key West boys were on the sidelines, knocked out or injured seriously. The score at the conclusion of the game was 27-0, and this seemed to break the spirit of the boys.

After that the team lost to Fort Lauderdale by only one touchdown. However, the following week the boys staged a comeback and licked Lemon City. Daytona Beach was licked on our home ground by one point, and the Gesu boys and the wearers of the crimson and grey fought for four heart-rending quarters in the last game of the season for the local team, neither side being able to score.

The school loses a number of players that have been with the "Fighting Conch" team since it was organized three years ago. These boys have shared the sorrows as well as joys, sticking with the team in victory and defeat, and are worthy of all the praise that can be given them.

They are Harry Capo as center, Robert Knight and Theron Gato, star ends, Captain "Dizzy" Roberts, the plunging full back, and Floyd Ayala, who amazed the school with his devil-may-care playing in his last year, Victor Larson and Earl Yates.

The school is losing on the line Glynn Archer, one of the best ends that has worn the crimson and gray; Kermit Baker, who was hurt several times, and, when advised by doctors to quit, said, "As long as the school needs me, I will play"; Fred Carbonell, the Cuban phantom, and George Adams, who relieved the regular center in a number of games. John D. Jenks, manager for three years, will also graduate.

The senior class is justly proud of these boys of hers, who sacrificed all in following their creed of "Service Before Self," and "Deeds, Not Words."

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

For the first time in its history has Key West High School put out a girls' basketball team, and the girls and Miss Olive Schell, athletic director, deserve a lot of credit for the showing they made.

The first game of the season was with Redland, in Key West, and as this team was champion of the State the results could not have been otherwise. All of the teams that the "Conchs" met were more experienced, and consequently Key West lost every game. However, the girls know the ropes now, and promise to have a championship team next year.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The achievements of the Music Department during the past year has been one of which Miss Veronica Davis, the instructor, as well as the school, can be justly proud. From the beginning the students of the band, orchestra and glee clubs decided that this term would be a banner year in the history of the school.

These organizations have lived up to their resolutions, taking part in all the activities of the student body and representing the school in many outside affairs. They were present at all of the football games, cheering the boys on to victory and consoling them in defeat.

The orchestra and glee club put on several musicals that were conceded to be some of the best amateur performances given in the city.

During the Christmas holidays members of the glee club added a touch of old-time Christmas festivities as they went about the city caroling the sick and shut-ins. The routine of the chapel programs were enlivened by selections from the glee club, band and orchestra.

At the beginning of the term the department met and decided that more efficient work could be accomplished if the units were organized. The glee club was organized under the following officers: President, William Johnson; secretary and treasurer, Ada Milligan; librarian, Charles Davis. The officers of the orchestra were: Neil Knowles, president; Sheldon Yates, secretary, and Joseph Cates, librarian. The band officers are: Kimbal Curtis, president; Neil Knowles, secretary and treasurer, and William Johnson, librarian.

GENERAL ELECTRIC
Refrigerator

THIS new-day refrigerator never needs oiling. It is unusually quiet. It is portable. It uses very little current. It has an all-in-one unit that is hermetically sealed to keep efficiency in—and trouble out.

Over a period of fifteen years, General Electric engineers worked toward this great electrical achievement. They have developed a simplified refrigerator that has no belts, pipes, drains or fans to get out of order.

Models for every home are now on display. Come in and see them.
