Key West High School

Key West, Florida

VOLUME IX

Foreword

To embody the true spirit of Key West Senior High, to portray every phase of school life and activity, and to reflect the ideals perpetuated by our Alma Mater, is the threefold purpose for which we have steadfastly striven in publishing this volume of the Conch.

Dedication

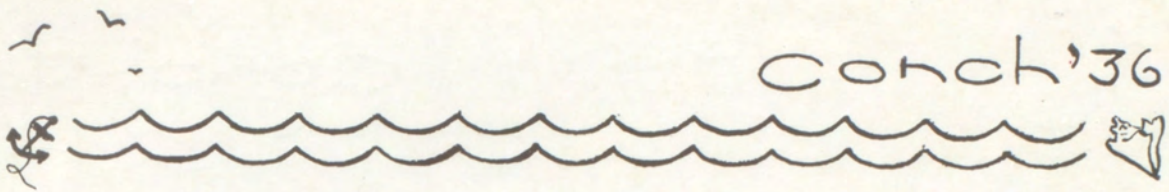

This volume of the Conch is dedicated with sincere appreciation and affection to the Sponsor of the Class of '36:

MRS. HILDEGARD RUSSELL

She counseled us earnestly, labored for us untiringly and prayed for us and with us fervently. We shall treasure her personal interest and friendship in years to come.

Class Poem

1936

(A Petrarchan Sonnet)

Non Exitus Sed Initus

Four years, we rowed our boat THE KEY WEST HIGH,
Tugging against the gales with eager stroke.
"We must cast anchor here," our pilot spoke,
"For it is time to bid the sea 'GOODBYE'
While blue and silver match the tropic sky.
Fill up your pipes for one more friendly smoke!
Then share your booty," here his deep voice broke.
"NO THUGS CAN STEAL THIS TREASURE, SHOULD THEY TRY!

When purple wings of dusk spread over day,
The Class of Nineteen Thirty-Six passed on
Where mystic Cereus incensed the air.
How wistfully my eyes shall often stray
Into my CONCH to loves and dreams long gone—
A treasured solace for my days of care.

—STEPHEN BOYDEN.

History of The Class of 1936

As I sat on the doorstep last evening, the May twilight enfolding me, I fell to thinking about school, until like Rip Van Winkle, I got stuck fast in yesterday. My memory went back to the time when the Class of 1936 first entered Senior High School in September of 1933. We were seventy-one in number. This group was divided into two distinct sections, one under Mrs. Thompson, the other under Mrs. Russell. Officers for this term for the first section were Belmont Carey, President; Billy Gardner, Vice-President; Helen Cates, Secretary and Treasurer; Isabel Armayor, Representative to the Student Council. Officers of the other section were Herbert Eddy, President; Thomas Eden, Vice-President; Clarabell Cerezo, Secretary; Alberta Elwood, Treasurer; and, Clarabell Cerezo, Representative to the Student Council.

We were eager to show the upper classmen that we could work, therefore, we plunged into the activities of school and came out victorious.

On the Varsity, we were well represented in the Pep Team and in the Athletic Association.

In our Sophomore-A year, the section under Mrs. Thompson, presented a one-act comedy entitled "Sophie Goansmasher", which was enjoyed tremendously.

Soon we became Juniors! Officers of the first section were Jesus Carmona, President; Joseph Pinder, Vice-President; Helen Cates, Secretary; Marguerite Goshorn, Treasurer; and George Collins, Representative to the Student Council. Officers for the other section were Herbert Eddy, President; Clarabell Cerezo, Vice-President; Faye Adams, Secretary; Anne Kennedy, Treasurer; and, Beatrice Spence, Representative to the Student Council.

At the beginning of this semester, Mrs. Thompson left us to visit Egypt and other points of interest in the Old World. Mrs. Salis took her place and we continued with our activities as before. The Class, in order to make money for the PROM, gave a dance which proved to be a financial success. We also put on a number of boxing matches, which drew record-breaking crowds.

When Conch Day arrived, we were prepared for any pranks that the Seniors might play on us. We showed those Seniors how we could 'take it'. I'm sure that the Monday morning after Conch Day will always be remembered by them.

The Junior-Senior PROM given in May was very much enjoyed by the Seniors. Ours was a Spanish theme. The color scheme, red and yellow, was carried out even in the refreshments. We presented Tango dancers, who danced to Spanish music, and we were honored by Miss Emily Crosland, a well-known mezzo soprano, who rendered a Spanish song. Miss Crosland was at the time our music instructor, and now, though she is gone, we still remember her affectionately. The waiters and waitresses were, indeed, young Spanish folks out for a night of revelry. The air was filled with the spirit of Old Madrid—gayety, laughter and song. The occasion has left pleasant memories for all of us. On every hand, we were complimented for our originality.

George Perpall and Chester Knowles of our class were elected respectively to the positions of Vice-President and Business Manager of the Athletic Association for this year. Summer came and vacation days.

Then we came back proud of our new status as Seniors! Officers for the year were Jesus Carmona, President; Joseph Richardson, Vice-President; Aleida Napoles, Secretary; Beatrice Spence, Treasurer; George Collins, Representative to the Student Council. Additional honors were: Chester Knowles, President of the Athletic Association; Faye Adams, Vice-President; President of Student Council, Joseph Richardson; President of the Glee Club, George Perpall. In the field of sports, Joseph Pinder won the Tennis Championship. The Class of '36 has always taken a leading part in all activities carried on in the school.

Soon Christmas rolled around and the time for the Senior Christmas Party arrived. The Seniors gleefully distributed appropriate gifts to the dear Juniors.

No doubt they said, "Santa is a good old chap this year". Then came the holidays. Some members of our class left the island to enjoy the two weeks vacation elsewhere.

Once again we settled down to hard work, preparing ourselves for final exams. All but five pulled through. Then we became 12 A's—a mark of high distinction. Mrs. Thompson turned over the mid-term graduates to Mrs. Russell. But still there was a great deal of work ahead of us. The first six weeks went by quietly enough. The Annual Staff, headed by Joseph Richardson and Delio Cruz prepared a very beautiful Annual. A glance through this book in future years will bring back many happy hours.

At the beginning of the second six-week period, a committee of three—Aleida Napoles, Isabel Armayor, and Delio Cruz were appointed to help in selecting a Class Play. "Drums In My Heart", a Mystery Drama in Three Acts, became the choice. On April 24th, a fine presentation of this play was given by an exceptionally strong cast.

March 27th was Conch Day. The Juniors searched all over town for the coveted Conch Shell which the wise Seniors had hidden some weeks before. Our program on Conch Day was clever and humorous—a skit, "The President's Cabinet", was effectively carried out.

The historic Conch Shell was presented by the Senior President to the Junior President with words sincere and earnest, admonishing the frivolous Juniors of the reverence due this custom, but before the Junior President could respond, our class rushed haughtily off the stage singing recklessly. We spent a never-to-be-forgotten holiday together at Boca Chica of which the sunburned and tired Seniors bore mute evidence for a week or two.

The Daughters of the American Revolution awarded Aleida Napoles their Good Citizenship Medal. The Balfour Award based on Scholarship, Loyalty and Achievement was carried off by Jesus Carmona, our President. Cynthia Pearlman became our Valedictorian and Eloise Guito our Salutatorian. George Collins received the P. T. A. award for the Highest Boy and Cynthia Pearlman received the P. T. A. award for the Highest Girl. Each received a book prize of his own choice. Cynthia Pearlman also won the first prize in the State Essay Contest. The Class is proud of its honor students.

Most of the Hi-Y Officers are members of the Senior Class. The Dramatic Club under the direction of Miss Peebles is composed entirely of Seniors. The Debating Club claims a number of Seniors. Our Class Poet, Giftorian and Prophetess belong to the Creative Poetry Group, a new organization under the sponsorship of Mrs. Russell. This organization has its inception in the Annual this year.

All too soon, we approached Commencement Week—Baccalaureate with its inspiring Sermon and Class Night with its galaxy of stars. Tomorrow, we shall be luncheon guests of the Rotarians. The Music Department as usual will help furnish a suitable program.

Then will come Graduation Day, the crowning point of our course, and after that we shall go forth to meet the future.

Last Will and Testament

Key West High School

Key West

Monroe County in Florida

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

We, the Senior Class of 1936, being indisputably of sound and disposing mind and memory and about to pass out of existence, do make, publish and declare this to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking any and all former wills by us at any time heretofore made:

FIRST: We bequeath to our esteemed principal, Horace O'Bryant, all the fear, admiration, awe and respect, in which we hold him that he may, when we are gone, distribute said fear, admiration, awe and respect impartially among the incoming Freshmen in order that said incoming Freshmen may comport themselves with becoming circumspection in his presence, as we have always endeavored to conduct ourselves.

SECOND: We dedicate and bequeath to our beloved and patient sponsor, Mrs. Hildegard Russell, our deep gratitude for her kind services.

Further, we give and bequeath to Mrs. Lorine Thompson, all the facts in History and Civics which we learnt and which she didn't ask for together with our sincerest thanks for her good offices in our behalf whenever we got ourselves into trouble.

THIRD: To all our other dear teachers, we give back and return all the unsolicited advice, information, reproofs, admonitions and platitudes, which shall at the time of our departure from the aforementioned High School be in, upon or about our minds and memories, feeling that anything so freely and abundantly given away as said advice, information, reproofs, admonitions and platitudes of said teachers must be of trifling value and not worth retaining in our minds and memories when we depart as afore-alluded to.

FOURTH: We give and bequeath the incumbent Juniors of Key West High School, our senior decorum, privileges, polished manners and imperial prerogatives as well as our seats in Chapel.

FIFTH: We do hereby collectively and individually solemnly make the following provisions for our posterity:

We, George Collins and Cynthia Pearlman, devise all our A's to J. V. Woodson and Francis Kea admonishing them that they endeavor to emulate our high standards unstintingly.

I, Joseph Pinder, leave my athletic prestige to the future athletic star, Bob Saunders.

We, Delio Cruz and Isabel Armayor, leave to Sidney Aronovitz and Barbara Carey our love for histrionics.

I, Anne Kennedy, bequeath to Anne Duncan my elegant manners and liking for fine clothes.

We, Joseph Richardson and Jesus Carmona, give to Joseph Alvarez our ability as leaders.

I, Leodawn Jerguson, devise to Virginia Pierce my secret for keeping beautiful without putting on airs.

We, Chester Knowles and George Perpall, leave to William Monsalvatge our vocal training.

I, Eloise Guito, dedicate and inscribe my secret for reducing the form without changing the value to Edna Mae Russell.

I, Herbert Eddy, leave my superior editorship to Joseph McMahon though I know it won't do him much good.

I, Thelma Atwell, leave to Ignatius Lester my graceful dancing as an everlasting heritage.

We, Alice Peat and Iola Rogers, reserve the right to leave our shyness and self-control to Winifred Shine.

We, Stephen Boyden and Florence Stewart, inscribe our brilliant mental endowments for writing poetry to Manuel Lopez so that he may write more soothing love lyrics to a certain girl.

I, Emil Sawyer, bestow my diamondball contract to Frank del Villar to have and to hold.

We, Jack Cormack and Marguerite Goshorn, endow Margaret Dexter with our gift for playing the piano.

Conch '36

I, Warren Hill, being in my best sanity give unto Doyle Smith my trademark 'BING CROSBY'.

I, Betty Moreno, give my ambition to become a great sculptress to Gerald Pinder in large measure.

We, Phyllis Rogers and Cynthia Howanitz, leave, albeit with reluctance, our becoming timidity to Virginia Whitmarsh.

We, Alice Napoles and Annie Saunders, bequeath our slenderness to Barbara Albury with many admonishments such as ONE LARGE WELL-BAKED IRISH POTATO. IF INADVERTENTLY EATEN, WILL ADD EXACTLY ONE POUND AVOIRDUPOIS.

We, Dorothy Woods and Edna Larsen, give our friendship with everyone, and loyalty to one steady to Dorothy Sawyer.

We, Beatrice Spence and Maudie Lowe, bequeath our unique and entirely individual technique for captivating boys and then leaving them in the cold to Rae Louise Russell.

I, Faye Adams, am perfectly willing to donate my charming manner and ability to make friends to Annice Smith so that she may never suffer from loneliness.

We, Luciano Gonzalez and Raymond Navarro, leave a few of our cleverest jokes and conundrums to Thurman Sands and George Lee to release from time to time for the edification of their naive teachers.

I, Delmar Hotchkiss, having been recently pronounced sane, bequeath my national guard uniform with all the trimmings to Mario Herce.

I, James Moore, eagerly bequeath my so justly famed aristocratic manners and much maligned cultured speech to Wesley Goethe who will find them very impressive if employed opportunely and in no modest measure to the feminine contingent.

We, Jeff Knight and Billy Acheson, leave our teasing playful habits to Paul Monsalvatge on advice of counsel.

We, Gerald Jaycocks and Billy Lowe, give away freely our wisdom and wise cracks to Hilary Albury.

We, Isidore Rodriguez and Frank Fernandez, leave our enviable black, wavy hair to Jack Key, being assured of a luxuriant and perpetual growth.

We, Evelio Rueda and Frank Orta, devise to Bert Roberts our flair for being funny and our good fortune not to be caught.

I, Aleida Napoles, leave my ability to make faces to Kathryn Albury. "Variety is the spice of life."

We, Helen Cates and Ruth Albury, bequeath to Helen Saunders our girl'sh laughter and the sparkle of our youthful eyes.

We, Helen Hoeffler and Mary Charlow, inscribe our quietness and innate aversion for boys to Norma Garcia in the hope that she will show the same high courage we have shown.

I, Nicholas Goshorn, leave my beloved violin and bow to Marjorie Frow. You can never tell what instrument Miss Smith may ask you to play, Marjorie.

I, Andrew Navarro, leave my prosaic ability at basketball to Alton Roberts.

I, Herman Knight, bequeath to Earl Almyda my love for history.

I, Thelma Mendoza, desire my magic dancing shoes to fall to Juanita Gomez. She always envied my grace.

We, Ella and Cora Lee Curry, leave our resemblance to Helen Roberts and Ira Maloney.

I, Cleora Roberts, grant my leadership in basketball to Helen Key.

I, Berl Pinder, bequeath to George Solomon my brusqueness—not enough to become embarrassing—and a little of my boxing ability.

And FURTHER: I, Clarabell Cerezo, gladly bestow my sympathy upon my successor who will surely need it.

LASTLY: We, the Class of 1936, constitute and appoint our beloved sponsor, Mrs. Hildegard Russell, to be executrix of this our last will and testament.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we, the best class that was ever graduated from this High School, have hereunto subscribed our names and affixed our seal this 27th day of May, A. D. 1936.

| 1. Eloise Guito | A librarian to click
Must be very, very quick! |
| 2. Dorothy Woods | Rings are lovely for a wife,
Howard loves you as his life. |
| 3. Maudie Lowe | Sweet is this ambition pill,
Taken whole it will not kill. |
| 4. Thelma Atwell | Silver slippers for your feet . . .
Dancing does make life complete. |
| 5. Alice Napoles | Megaphones are helpful things
For the voice that softly sings. |
| 6. Cynthia Pearlman | Here 's a mirror that betrays
All your charming willful ways. |
| 7. Anne Kennedy | Lovers bold, and lovers true
For a pansy girl like you. |
| 8. Joe Richardson | A salute, Il Duce, brave
And no kiddin'. I'm your slave! |
| 9. Jeff Knight | Here's a sporty little car.
Treat her right, she'll reach a star. |
| 10. Billy Lowe | Model Grocer, a bouquet . . .
Celery and old Tokay. |
| 11. Warren Hill | "Spiced with magic is this seed"
Which as mocking bird you'll need. |
| 12. Gerald Jaycocks | Take her young and keep her tame.
Will this cradle fit your FLAME? |
| 13. Betty Moreno | You are short and know it, so
Somethin' like this'll make you grow. |
| 14. Faye Adams | You're a pal, so I've been told
Worth your weight in purest gold. |
| 15. Clarabell Cerezo | Which boy's comin' over now?
Treat them mean, they'll come and how! |

Here's a little yappy dog. |
| 17. Jack Cormack | Clipper for the stratosphere?
Terra firma's safer, Dear! |
| 18. Herbert Eddy | I give you some ink from Kress
For your famous printing press. |
| 19. Helen Cates | Violets are ladies' eyes
Smiling wistfully and wise. |
| 20. Cynthia Howanitz | Parasols will keep your fair
Like a blossom in night air. |
| 21. James Moore | You dislike the girls who smoke
Here's one who won't . . . that's no joke |
| 22. Raymond Navarro | Clowns are men with hearts of gum,
Pain inside and outside mum. |
| 23. Phyllis Rogers | Blow your horn, my little friend,
It's a method some commend. |
| 24. Florence Stewart | Fountain pens are made for one
Who aspires to reach the sun. |
| 25. Andrew Navarro | So Bolita is your game?
Well, what number do you claim? |
| 26. Emil Sawyer | Like the hollyhock, you woo
Splashes of red, white and blue. |
| 27. George Collins | You have brain and so why fret?
You'll rise high with this I bet. |

28. Cleora Roberts Basketball, . . . a game you like,
But I'd rather ride a bike.
29. Ella Curry I give you a hand to hold
And a lover rich and bold.
30. Cora Lee Curry Trees hold soft and clinging vines
Sweet surrender are the signs.
31. Isabel Armayor You should not be at a loss
When your husband comes in cross.
32. Aleida Napoles Happiness is part of you.
What gift of mine could add a sou?
33. Nicholas Goshorn You're too young to lose your smile.
Dance and fun cannot defile.
34. Billy Acheson Spongemen can a secret keep.
Take this one . . . he's quite discreet.
35. Luciano Gonzalez Trucks for drivers who like speed.
This is one you're sure to need.
36. Delmar Hotchkiss Silently you go your way,
Yet a funny bone betray.
37. Alice Peat Greta Garbo you adore?
Who could wish for something more?
38. Iola Rogers Sidewalks are such handy things
Used by queens as well as kings.
39. Isidore Rodriguez New mascara from Pinaud
Keeps your lashes, oh, just so!
40. Chester Knowles Dawn again? You're all alone?
What a pal an ice cream cone!
41. Evelio Rueda I was told your luck is poor.
One more chance and you're secure.
42. Frank Fernandez Driving blindly on has made
Many angels, I'm afraid.
43. Helen Hoeffler Lovely flowers are for such
As can give the gentle touch.
44. Delio Cruz If the crowd's not big enough,
Trumpet blasts will do the stuff.
45. Frank Orta Take your gun and dog along . . .
Trip the Keys with merry song.
46. Annie Saunders Nautical lore is your flair.
Sailor boys with curly hair.
47. Mary Charlow You should heap up quite a pile
With your million dollar smile.
48. Jesus Carmona Carefree, joyous, popular,
Stacom for your coal black hair.
49. Marguerite Goshorn True to one boy? That's the key
To your happiness I see.
50. Ruth Albury They tell me you're domestic.
Will this apron help the trick?
51. Stephen Boyden You've a poet's dreamy look.
Surely you'll enjoy this book.
52. Leodawn Jerguson If you would look worldly wise,
Take the googoo from your eyes.
53. Edna Larsen Platinum blondes acting coy
Never miss a sailor boy.
54. Thelma Mendoza Here are bells for merry toes
That like to dance with gigilos.
55. George Perpall Sailing boats were made for you
And cabañas planned for two.
56. Berl Pinder If you care to tote a gun,
You are in for lots of fun!
57. Joseph Pinder Gasoline will speed you up,
Should you wish to win the cup.

The Class Prophecy

(The Gypsy's Warning)

(Florence Stewart, a gypsy girl, has just been announced)

Gypsy: Hello world! Just as Rip Van Winkle and Isabel Armayor got stuck fast in YESTERDAY, a while ago, I got stuck fast in TOMORROW.

Announcer: She is sitting down on the stump of a tree. The president is coming to the microphone.

President: Here's the gypsy girl I told you all about. She is talking to herself. Listen Radio Audience, for her words are strange.

Gypsy: (Holding up her hands and looking at them) Oh lovely servant to the will of man.

Announcer: The President is right. She seems to speak as one in a dream. . . but listen. . .

Gypsy:

Obediently you
Have bent to his desire and still
Most noble, proud and ever true,
You've aided him to climb who spun
His silver dream of position,
Not tremblingly as ivy clings

To cliffs but surer than in flight the eagle wings,
Your long and straight white fingers fly
To carry out each high command
The brain contrives: if yet a sigh
Is heard, you stifle it, oh Hand!

Announcer: Who is that excited senior?

President: That is Thelma Atwell! . . . Listen. . .

Thelma: Great guns! The gypsy is talking about her hands!

President: And, Boy, she sure seems to know something.

Announcer: I'll say so, but listen, folks, the gypsy continues. . .

Gypsy:

Long Jupiter will rank bequeath . . .
The Sun by chance his brow might wreath,
But Mercury when long will do
The bidding of a man who to himself is true.
Unhappy he, should Saturn reign
Supreme. Too stern he'd be and life
Would lose its wine of joy to pain,
For seriousness would be rife:
And, this sign on a hollow palm
That cups, foretells without a qualm
That Lady Luck has long forgot
The MAN WHOM DESTINY HAS 'PUT ON THE SPOT'.

President: Come, let's have her read our hands. I'd like to know my fortune.

Announcer: Who's that young frightened looking girl over there?

President: That's Faye Adams but hear what she is saying. . .

Faye: Well, I AM scared, if that's what you mean!

President: Yeah? What're you scared of?

Announcer: Who's that blond brute looking at her?

President: That's the famous athlete, Joe Pinder, but listen. . .

Joe: More'n likely she's scared we'll all hear her secrets.

Faye: He's just a meanie. Let's show the boys we're not scared.

Announcer: She's a game little sport, folks.

President and Athlete: (As they approach the gypsy) OKAY BY US!

Announcer: I shall now turn the microphone over to the gypsy while you good folks listen in.

Your hands foretell a president,
 A carefree life as Southern gent.
 A nurse all starched and piled up curls,
 You much prefer to wear Conch pearls.
 A school-ma'am sweet with dignity,
 An officer who braves the sea,
 In politics lies your career
 You'll be renowned as financier.
 You'll cook "As well as mother cooks."
 And you'll be famed for many books,
 You'll put all comic stars to shame,
 In Africa you'll shoot big game.
 Your destiny to travel far,
 Attorney pleading at the bar.
 A girl most popular in town,
 A missionary of renown.
 At Yale I see you hold a chair,
 A handsome count or millionaire.
 As sculptress you should make your mark,
 You'll spend your life near Central Park.
 You'll see your thoughts outlive the age,
 As pianist you'll be the rage.
 You'll learn the trade of dad, of course,
 You're fate . . . a cop upon the force.
 As beauty . . . rival of a peach,
 You've beaux galore and foolin' each,
 To show the young idea the way
 Chic Secretary on Broadway.
 Bing Crosby or I'll miss my bet,
 Best governor we have had yet.
 Your wife will be demure and good,
 You'll hate to do the things you should.
 A housewife able but so pert,
 You'll win renown with your dessert.
 A fiddler to his finger tips,
 As batter you must make no slips.
 Outstanding personality,
 You crave ease and tranquility.
 Another nurse . . . the latest fad,
 Smart wife of a true sailor lad.
 In politics you should do well,
 A publisher with books to sell.
 A ladies' shop exclusive, smart,
 To land a man of wealth takes art.
 A baker of the finest bread,
 A judge all guilty men will dread.
 Quite soon I see a bridal shower,
 Among athletes you'll be a power.
 At Rhumba a celebrity,
 A famous lawyer you will be.
 A housewife trim, neat and demure,
 A business girl, determined, sure.
 The pulpit you are bound to fill,
 Great audiences you will thrill.
 Two peas, alike, as in a pod,
 A lovely handiwork of God.
 At cards you're a celebrity,
 At home and far beyond the sea.

Announcer: The Seniors are all seated again and the gypsy is yawning wearily, but listen. . . .

Gypsy: I had a dream which was not all a dream.

Announcer: She is preparing to leave.

Gypsy:

Now I must be on my way
 For it is not TOMORROW.
 It is yet today!

Senior B Class History

Midst glories and praises, we entered Senior High during the mid-term of 1934. As 10B's, with Miss L. Peebles as home-room teacher, we presented an enjoyable playlet, entitled "Memories of Yesterday", which was a representation of life in the South, written by Miss Lorace Peebles.

Our sporting activities during our Junior year were very successful. The Junior boys defeated the Senior boys in a basketball game in 1935. The following Tuesday, we buried the Seniors in chapel.

Our social activities during our Sophomore and Junior years were also successful. As 10A's, we gave a Pre-Hallowe'en dance to secure the money for the prom. In May of 1935, we were ready to honor the graduates. The dance was held at the Country Club in a Spanish setting.

As Junior A's, we presented a play entitled "Father's Day On" under the supervision of Mrs. Anna Guito. This was greatly enjoyed.

On the day that school closed for the Christmas holidays, the Seniors presented us with comic presents in chapel.

Upon returning from the Christmas holidays, we worked hard and became Senior B's in February, 1936.

Junior A Class History

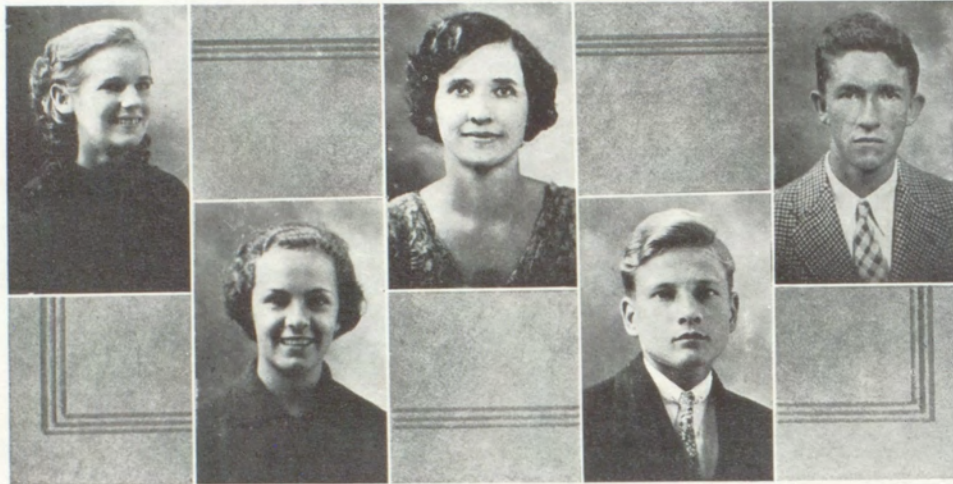

One more year in our dear Key West High and then we must go out into the world. Many of us would like to continue our education, but we fear that this will be realized by only a few.

During our first semester we gave a dance to raise the necessary funds for the annual Junior-Senior Prom. This affair turned out to be very successful financially and one of the loveliest affairs of the semester.

Our class has been fortunate enough to have earnest, hard-working members, who have always endeavored to advance the interests of the class.

We aspire to set a worthwhile example so that the under classmen may emulate us.

History of 11-B

Our class came over to Senior High in 1935 as Sophomores. We elected the following officers: President, Arnold Brye; Vice President, Louis Richardson; Secretary, Dorothy Mae Dungan; Treasurer, Elwood Dexter; and Representative to Student Council, Matthew Zacal.

That year our basketball team took part in several games in the Key West High School Gymnasium.

The basketball team took part in the games during the tournament. The class has sponsored a dance and an amateur program in order to raise money for the prom.

During this time we have had two sponsors, Miss Eliza Gardner and Mrs. Addah Ramsey.

We boast of having the best student in Senior High, Harry Bravo. He has made the highest average in school for 1935-36.

Sophomore A Class History

We are happy to realize that we have completed half of our high school education.

As freshmen, we had Mr. Oscar Norman and Mrs. Bessie Eagan as home-room teachers. Several entertaining programs were put on by us in chapel under their sponsorship.

It is a matter of pride that many of our members are associated with the various organizations of Senior High. Some have distinguished themselves in debate as given in chapel by the High School Debating Society. We have also engaged in Basketball Games, Student Government, and other activities. The Honor Roll for high scholastic attainment holds some of our names.

This year our chapel programs have been very successful.

In conclusion, we wish to express our sincere thanks to Miss Eliza Gardner, our present class sponsor, for her loyalty to our class.

Sophomore B-1 History

As Freshmen, we were thirty-nine in number. This class, under the direction of Mrs. Anna Guito, immediately organized electing the following officers for that year: President, Catherine Thompson; Vice President, Lucette de Barritt; Secretary and Treasurer, Bonnie Mae Watkins.

The remainder of the year was spent in hard work.

In the ninth grade the classes were divided into two sections, one under Mrs. Bessie Eagan and the other under Mr. Oscar Norman. This division didn't affect the class activities, however, for they were still able to work together.

The class presented various interesting chapel programs which were very successful.

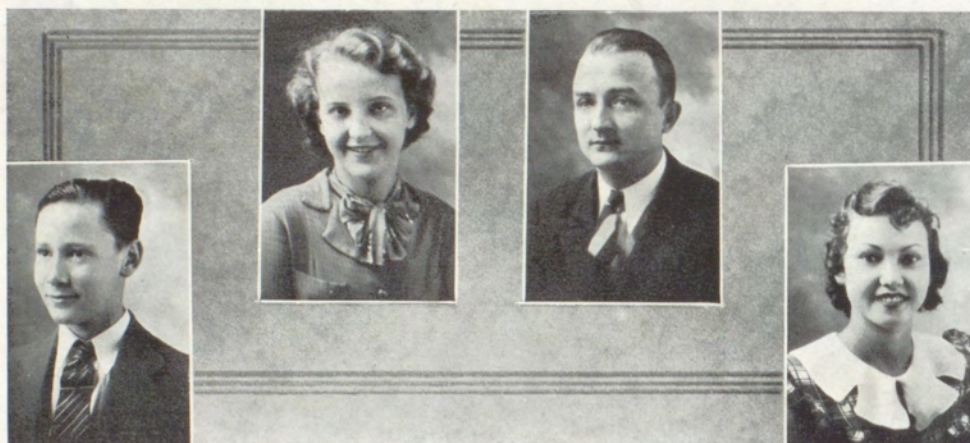

As Sophomores, we remained divided, one section under Mrs. Lorine Thompson and the other under Mr. Dumont Huddleston.

The class has taken part in the various school activities such as Basketball and the Glee Club.

From September to the Christmas holidays, the Snapper made its weekly appearance.

After our printer left town, it had to be set by hand and each page printed individually, requiring one hundred hours of labor.

A six-page paper then appeared. Hand-set, the paper was quite a novelty to the students as this method of printing was used from 1450 to 1898—prior to the invention of the linotype.

The purpose of the staff is to promote school spirit, give practical journalistic and business experience to the students, and aid in anything beneficial to the school.

The Dramatic Club was formed on December 4, 1933. The purpose of the organization is to encourage the study of drama, to develop the student's histrionic ability, and to set a higher standard for dramatic performance in our school.

In addition to its work on the art of acting, the club has taken up the study of the art of make-up and the pantomime.

Under the direction of our sponsor, Miss Lorace Peeples, the Dramatic Club has presented a number of plays since its inception, including "Her Radio Romeo", "Miss Molly" and the "The Dearest Thing in Boots".

Debating Club

Among the clubs of Senior High, the Debating Club has been outstanding.

Since its inception the club carries on its record not only debates, but jolly picnics, and a deep friendship for its sponsor, Miss Eliza Gardner.

The organization began its interesting work on October 12, 1933 with ten charter members—presenting its first public debate on February 13, 1934 on the subject That Our School Should Require Each Student to Take One Year of Fishing. Two debates were held in chapel in the years 1934-1935. The first one was on the question of installment buying and the second one dealt with elementary and secondary education in relation to the Federal Government.

This year two debates have been argued. The first was a chapel debate on the subject that the Federal Government Should Own and Operate the Public Utilities. The second was a public debate—Resolved: That the Several States Should Enact Legislation Providing for a System of Complete Medical Service Available to All Citizens at Public Expense.

 Sponsor, Mrs. Hildegard Russell

Our group was born in Mrs. Russell's 8B English Class, where we were taught observation, imagination, and creative expression in some simple accepted poetic form. We learned something about true sound and true rhyme; also, about accent in words, and rhythm.

CYCLE and BETTER VERSE have graciously donated a year's subscription to our scrap book in the school library.

The purpose of our group is to nurture our abilities so that we may be able to arouse for our beloved Island City, a favorable impression on the outside world.

The Hi-Y Club organized in Key West High School in 1933 has contributed much to the good reputation among the boys of the school.

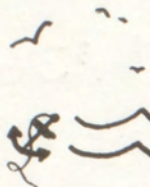

It organized the three C's campaign—

1. Clean Speech
2. Clean Scholarship
3. Clean Sportsmanship

"The Womanless Wedding" was presented in chapel to secure money for the state Convention. It was a financial success.

The Club is sponsored by five prominent professional and business men of this city. They are: Mr. Horace O'Bryant, Mr. Ed. Strunk, Mr. Joe Cabrera, Mr. J. A. Boza and Rev. James S. Day.

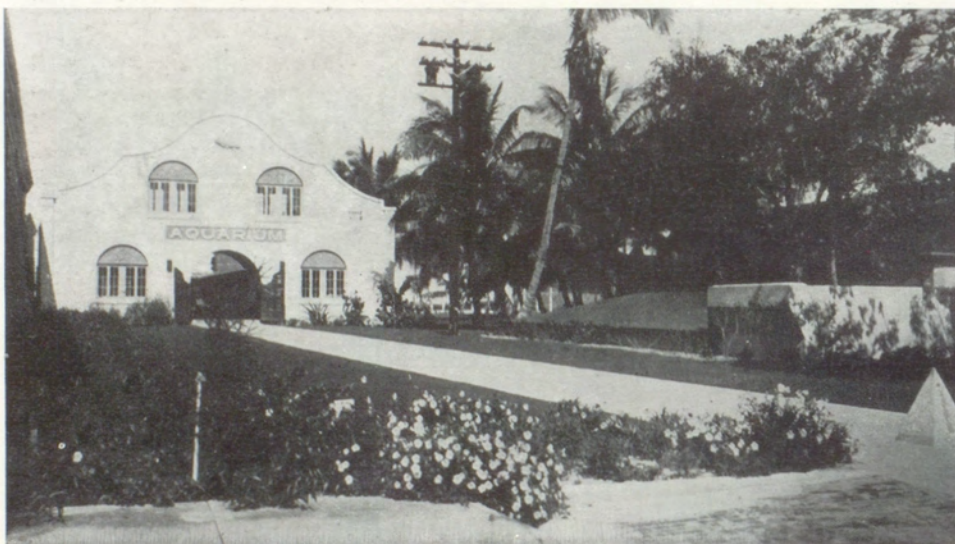

The purpose of the Hi-Y Club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the High School and Community a high standard of Christian character.

Basketball Team

The 1936 Varsity, under the able instruction of Coach Huddleston, had a very successful season of basketball.

The players were small and light but led by Woodson, Pinder, Knowles, Saunders, and Lopez; they proved too fast for the invading teams. The Varsity of 1936 entered a city league which was made up of professional teams. From these professional games, the Varsity soon proved to be a team worth notice. From these games, the High School boys gained much practice and learned points that were in the future to help them defeat the Up-State Teams.

The outcome of the games played during 1936 were as follows:

PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

High School.....	35	Busy Bees.....	30	Jan. 24
High School.....	47	W. P. A.....	23	Jan. 28
High School.....	29	Park Tigers.....	36	Feb. 4
High School.....	38	Busy Bees.....	28	Feb. 7
High School.....	45	W. P. A.....	23	Feb. 11
High School.....	38	Park Tigers.....	63	Feb. 18

Results of games played on our home court were as follows:

High School.....	57	Miami Military Academy..	10	Jan. 31
High School.....	38	Ida M. Fisher.....	33	Feb. 14
High School.....	47	Ft. Lauderdale.....	24	Feb. 21

Key West Varsity, although admittedly one of the best teams in Florida, did not attend the District tournament at Miami.

Tennis

A tennis tournament was held by the Athletic Association under the supervision and direction of Coach Huddleston. The tournament was full of excitement from the beginning to the end. Doyle Smith and Joe Pinder went into the finals. Doyle Smith although much smaller and younger than Joe Pinder put up a hard fight, but Joe Pinder played a little better game, so became the champion of the school.

Appreciation

To the business men, organizations, societies, and individuals who made this book possible, the Annual staff expresses its sincere appreciation.

It is keenly aware that of all the factors which go into the successful year book, finance is the most important.

The business men represented here believe in us. Therefore, we have good reason to believe that Key West High will reciprocate in the spirit of cooperation and appreciation now and in the years to come.
