From Within

Within All of Us

I was about 7 years old and I had a crush on my brother's friend Chris. My brother wanted to play a joke on me and tickled me until I peed my pants.
Alexa Sellers

When I fell at a chorus concert when I was running off-stage.
Shaun McHugh

I was leaving English class one day and all of a sudden, I slipped down the stairs. It was very embarrassing. One of my friends helped me up and now he teases me about it everyday.
Frankie Webb

What is your most embarrassing moment?

While playing soccer, I had the ball all to myself and I was right at the goal. When I went to kick the ball I completely missed and both of my feet flew from under me, I fell on my back and knocked the wind out of myself. I tried to play it off, but I was mortified.
Stephanie Thompson

I split my pants from front to back and didn't realize it until I walked into 1st period.

Stefani Ranghelli

In 6th grade me and a couple friends went to the movies all glammed up, big heels and all--they made us a lot taller than normal. After the movie, there were a couple of hot guys outside, to show off I walked down the stairs. That's when I rolled down the stairs and fell on my face.

Jennifer Diaz

It would probably be Bill Gates. All day long, he would just show me where he keeps all of his money.

Analise Smith

I would spend my day with Brian Skezlock. We would chill like back in the days.

Matt Baldwin

I would spend my day with the Crocodile Hunter, Steve Irwin. We would wrestle sharks and alligators. That would all be awesome.

Katie Price

If you could spend one day with anyone who would it be?

I would spend the day with Tiger Woods, because he is my idol.

Chase Cervantes

It would be with super hot David P. and we would eat grits.

David Perdomo

Jack McDonald because no one is cooler than him.

Josh Yarbrough

Time to

This group of boys pause from eating their dinner at Benihanas to take a picture. They had a blast celebrating Shaun McHugh's sixteenth birthday.

Tyler Lockwood spends his weekends playing baseball. In his spare time he practices his technique on pitching.

Tatianna Ortega, Tara Walterson, Laura Herrera, Chezare Rivas, Coral Etshman, and Bonnie McInnis take a time out from dancing on the dance floor to take a breather. These girls look like there having a blast!

Jordan Willis, Noelle Niblack, Summer Disson, and Coral Etshman look like they're having fun after a night on the town. The group stayed overnight at a hotel after celebrating Summer's birthday.

Get Away!

Every Friday, students gather with friends to talk about how they are going to get away from the books, teachers, and stressful classes over the weekend. Weekends are a time to relax and be yourself, and that is what everyone needs for the next week of school. Students only have Friday and Saturday to have fun and get loose, so they need to squeeze in as much as they can.

This group of friends seem like their having a good time at Erica Beebe's party. They take a break to chat and hang out.

These group of kids meet up at TGI Friday's to relax and spend time with each other before the upcoming week.

Melissa Muniz and Kelly Knowles have fun working at Planet Smoothie on the weekends. They enjoy helping out their many customers.

In 10 years, either in major league baseball or working hard making $60,000 a year.

Jesus Blanco

Nowhere! It is too early for me to decide what I want to do with my life.

David Newman

Just graduated from college and living in New York, having a job in Fashion Merchandising.

Laurel Wilkes

Where do you see yourself in 10 years?

In 10 years, I see myself in a nice house with cars and a beautiful wife and kids, but I also want you to know before you can have all that, it starts in school.

Antwon Williams

In 10 years I'll hopefully have a good job, be married and have a family of my own.

Kristi Willbourn

Coming back to this great town and trying to make a difference for us all in this community.

Troy Noda

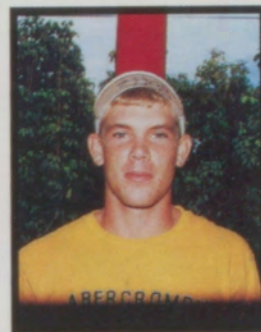

I would eat a Carmello Bar because it is the best. It is all chocolatey and it has a lot of caramel.

Tiffany Greer

Definitely chocolate. Any kind. It's the best, no doubt about it.

Jen Burns

Snickers because you can never have enough.

Gustavo Alfonso

If you could only eat one candy for the rest of your life what would it be?

Candy corn because it's the best and it has pretty colors, and they go together so well.

Sally Becker

Heath Bar. They are so good, I always crave them when I'm down. They always satisfy me.

Crystal Dukes

It would have to be a Heath Bar. It is my favorite. I could easily eat one everyday.

Amber Rivas

Setting

A bright personality can easily be seen through Avery Jones' clothes.

A pink belt and matching sequined t-shirt make Hunter Boyle look flashy and breathtaking.

Although some believe the dress code is too strict, Miriam Gomez proves it can be obeyed and you can still look stunning.

Spirit is the trend of the day as Eva Cross displays her pride of being a KWHS JV Cheerleader.

Classic khakis and a comfortable polo shirt make up the daily attire for Ralph Henriquez.

the Trends

A mini jeanskirt with matching sandals and top give Terese Smith a trendsetting appearance.

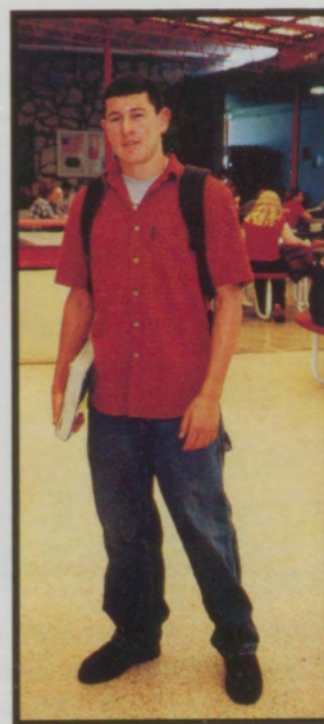

The popularity of Japanese animation is exemplified in Preston Young's colorful shirt.

Many students change style frequently. Lisette Cobo and George Fernandez show that they can go from casual to stylish from one day to the next.

The rhinestone rose on Feryn Burchett's top adds to her usual flowery appearance.

The "Abercrombie" appearance is confidently portrayed in Marshall Montalto's daily fashion.

Ghandi is my idol because he was such a peaceful and wise man. He seemed to be able to look at problems from all sides and that is a hard quality to obtain.

Katie Gonzalez

Alex Rodriguez because I want to make money in something I enjoy doing.

Kyle Cabrera

My role model is Hugh Hefner. I want to be just like him. He has the perfect life.

Nick Meyer

Who is your role model?

My role model is my older sister because she achieves the goals she sets for herself and is always teaching me new things to help me succeed in life.

Ashley Scott

My role model so far would have to be Michael Jordan. He is really successful and has a lot of talents. I might not turn out to be a basketball player, but I'll try hard to be successful like him.

Thant Myat

My role model is Ed Fortune of the 1987 Redskins. He did what he had to do and I know it was hard on him to do. I believe in what he fought for so in my mind he is my role model.

Jack McDonald

Fred from Scooby-Doo.
He's always disappearing with the ladies.

Mike Irwin

Angelica Pickles
because she's the master of the play pen.

Mary Meyer

Lisa Simpson because it is very inspiring to see such an intelligent child with much potential come from such a dysfunctional family.

Elyse Bonar

Who is your favorite cartoon character?

One of my favorite cartoon characters
would have to be Bart
Simpson, just because he's always getting into trouble.

Annie Brown

Johnny the Homicidal Manic.
While little is known, he represents the average functional paranoid person.

Casey Nacrelli

My favorite cartoon
character would be the Taz Manian Devil because he's wild n crazy and on the other hand, he's caring,
and loving just like me.

Lamont Fulton

Everlasting

Just the girls, Aisha Orofino, Kelly Haack, Ericca Garnier, Mary Meyer, and Stephanie Thompson are hanging out on the patio before school.

In between practice, these band students relax and play cards to keep themselves entertained.

Robert Kostic, Ramon Gomez, April Miller and Eduardo Diaz are having a morning laugh with high hopes for the school day.

Right: Tyler Lockwood, Brandon Wagner, Matthew Ramseur, and Rachael Roberts goof off while helping run the "Conch Zone" school store.

Although students have a full schedule George Fernandez and Eugene Rivera find time to spare.

Memories

This group of freshmen friends are chillin' and spending some time together this morning.

Nicole Otero and Amanda Walker are showing off their costumes, on Halloween.

Sophmores Richard Etshman and Rhyen Vandine are sharing a joke to lighten up their day before class.

Jade Rice and Tarrin Disson are looking very happy to be in this class today. Say cheese!

Kristie Kajfasz ,Katie Gonzalez ,Daniel Curtis, Christina Boza and Zachary Covan are having a friendship pow-wow in the band room this afternoon.

Secrets of

Yanae Barroso, Brooke Pazo, and Ali Blume laugh and have tons of fun at Fantasy Fest while collecting beads.

Seniors Stephanie Thompson, Mary Meyer, and Amanda Phelps share their last Fantasy Fest memories together before they're off to college.

"Say cheese!" Juniors Alisha Cottar, Raelyz Palmero, Olivia Gootee, and Terese Smith pause for a moment during the Fantasy Fest chaos to take a picture.

the Zodiac

"Say my name!
Say my name!"
Andrea Alvarez,
Laura Estevez,
Erica Ernst, and Andrea Gallardo
show off their Destiny's Child
look for Fantasy Fest.

"Strike a pose!" Seniors Christine Pierce, Michelle Swartzel, and Candace Stevens make a wild pose to gather attention while watching the parade.

While walking downtown Elaney Vestal, and Chelsy Snell stop for a breather to see Shiri Kainan and Samantha Hart while they are selling beads.

The craziness of downtown is not enough to slow down Nelson Hills, Martina Hindsley, Deborah Hindsley, Michael Spottswood, and Michael Irwin. They just barely have enough time to take a picutre.

Conch

Seeing double!
Ernesto Cabrera and Julio Abella are identical on twin day!

Freshmen Crystal Suarez and Toyanna Pla show off their school spirit on Pajama day while watching a practice at the football field.

Hula-ing his way through the hallways, Jack Langston catches many glances while showing off his school spirit.

John Snell, Donald Rutledge, Erik Kosac, Thomas Barnett, Lee Baker, Heather Perez, Nathaniel Bowden, Jesus Blanco, Tyler Lockwood, Lynn McNeill, Dusty Zietz, Oliwia Rochnowska, Michaela Gonzalez, Elaine Spottswood, Marissa Malone, Shiri Kainan, Coral Duffy-Erskine, Erica Ernst, Amber Rivas, Andrea Alvarez, Andrea Gallardo, Michelle Swartzel, Taylor Harper, Ashley Grist, Katie Gonzalez, Stephanie Thompson, Lisette Cobo, Nichole Otero, Nicole Pugh, Lindsay Sexton, Denise Alfonso, William Duclo, Jaqueline Techmer, Amanda Walker, Tarrin Disson, Adam Noda, Candace Stevens, Christine Pierce, Laura Estevez, Ahsanti McIntosh, Bernice Figueroa, Lindsay Staudt, Robert Combs, Catherine Spaulding

Go Seniors! Andrea Gallardo, Marissa Malone, and Andrea Alvarez rejoice over the victory of 2nd place at the Homecoming Parade.

Spirit!

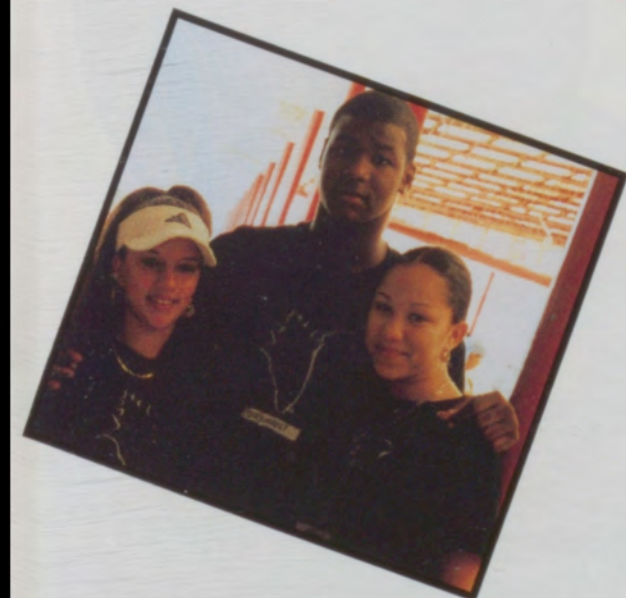

This large group of sophomores show off their school spirit by wearing their class color, grey.

Accessorize, accessorize. Ericca Garnier shows her pride with a red "Seniors" headband.

Theme of the Day

Mon: Toga Day
Tues: Twin Day
Wed: Hawaiian Day
Thur: Pajama Day
Fri: Color Day

Got Juniors? Alisha Cottar, George Fernandez, and Raelyz Palmero wear matching class shirts for color day.

Although new to the school, these freshman cheerleaders are already shining with conch pride.

A New

The class of 2005 waits patiently for their music so they can do their choreographed dance for the judges.

Talia Liz, Athena Nunez, and Alexandria Blum add last touches to their multicultural outfits as they get ready to board their float.

Two heads are better than one! Jacob Sawyer and Jason Huefner work together to get their float as close to perfect as possible.

He's got the whole world in his hands! The finishing touches are done as Mr. Bohac helps with the hard work.

Tomorrow

Tiffany Greer and Jenifer Burns secure the covering on their float so it is not seen before starting the homecoming parade.

The class of 2005 works together to get everyone organized before the parade begins its journey down Flagler Avenue.

The final product comes out flawlessly with a message of hope- "Utopia: Striving for a New Tomorrow".

After they finish an important part of their float design, the freshmen crowd around with pride. This piece will be the focal point of their float.

Sophomore

Aarika Cates, Kyle Cabrera, Bert Budde, and Ana Trawinska work together to finish the sunset for the background of their float.

The class of 2004 practicing their dance for "God Bless the USA". They performed this song as well as the alma mater in front of the judges at the parade.

Class Of 2004

Daniel Padron, Josh Barnes, Ana Trawinska, Alexandra Naranjo, Elizabeth Dowling, Jessica Pita and their sponsor Mrs. Polk discuss the construction of the background.

The sophomore class has a great time dancing to music and throwing out candy as they walk beside their float. Their hard work won them 3rd place in the float competition. Go sophomores!

Utopia

The members of the sophomore class are waiting patiently for the parade to start. "I thought we did a pretty good job for all the hard work and effort we put into the float", said executive board member Kyle Cabrera.

Ahhhhh, don't fall!! Shannon Maribona attempts to pick up Chezare Rivas, who appears to be fearing for her life. Aren't you supposed to be working guys?!

Shannon Maribona, Alexandra Naranjo, and Ashley James paint the conch for the front of the float. The conch symbolizes "the best years of our lives" as the sophomores said in their skit.

Shhh! Jorge Quintana and Richard McChesney take a break from the action packed ride down Flagler as they anxiously approach the judges' stand.

Robert Trosset and Brittani Harden make last minute adjustments before the homecoming festivities begin.

Looks like hard work pays off! Tiffany Curry, Elizabeth Hogan, Donovan Bowers, and Jorge Quintana take time to perfect their class float.

Practicing the dance with elegance and grace, Julie Gonzalez prepares for her performance.

2003

The Senior Class shows their cultural diversity as they display flags from around the world on their float.

The Seniors are showing off their power tool skills while working on their homecoming float.

Mrs. Williams dazzles the judges with her vocal talent on the senior float.

Andrea Gallardo, Marissa Malone and Laura Estevez take their time working on the shiny backdrop of the world.

Uniting

Michelle Swartzel, Lindsey Sexton and Erica Ernst are working diligently on the Senior float.

As Ashley Thomas holds up an American flag in the background, others wait in anticipation for the parade to start.

Different cultures of the world come together in bright spirits to entertain the crowd.

Work, work ,work! Seniors Andrea Alvarez, John Snell and Erica Ernst are working on what will soon be a symbol of pride for all the seniors.

Homecoming

Vanessa Cepero and Jessica Geide break it down on the dance floor.

This group looks like they are having a good time even before the dance.

Ashley Ryan and her date wait in line to take pictures.

Elyse Bonar and Jordan Nelson cool off outside.

2001

These girls look like they are having a good time.

This group shows how to have a good time just talking to friends.

Amber Bergwerff and Nicole Stone talk before the party gets started.

Frank Bellido de Luna and Ivy Duffy-Erskine cool off outside.

While slow dancing Seamus Kehoe and Jamie Mattinly stop to take a quick picture.

Times too

September 11, 2001 is a day that will go down in history. Sitting in our classrooms we watched in shock as we saw the Twin Towers crumble before our eyes. The terrorist attack on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon stunned the student body as well as the nation. In the aftermath, we found comfort and support in friends and family as we slowly began to piece our lives back together and return to our daily routines. Though America's tragedy has had a major impact on our lives it has showed us how to unite as a nation and make ourselves stronger.

Right: Mary Meyer makes a new fashion statement! Looks like Stephanie Thompson finds her glasses very amusing!

Strike a pose! Jessica Geide prides herself on being the clown out of her group of friends. She was the source of entertainment at Hannah Richard's birthday party.

Abandon ship! These members of the Sophomore Executive Board sunk the paddle boat! Everyone had a good laugh as they fell overboard.

Throughout our high school years we made memories that will always stay with us. Sometimes these memories were of parties we attended or trips we went on with friends. Other times they were of special ceremonies and celebrations which will be remembered because they take place once in a lifetime. High school was a time to experience more things and take on new challenges and where students took advantage of all the opportunities. We all tried to make the best out of our years within these halls, so when they have passed we will be left with memories to last a lifetime.

This group of friends meet at Trumbo Pool to surprise TJ Tekesky with a going away party. It was one farewell that his friends will always remember.

Remember

Above: This group had a fun-filled day at Universal Studios. They attended a concert and also went on rides which they got into easily thanks to their wheelchair!

Everyone shares a good laugh when Coral Etshman falls on the floor. These girls had a blast chatting with friends and dancing the night away at Susie Dayao's sweet sixteen party

Louie Paez strutting his stuff at Disney's Island of Adventure. Louie knows how to be the center of attention and his outfit definitely wins most creative!

This stupid kite! Thomas Barnett gets fed up with his kite he had to fly in physics class. When he got tangled in the string he took his frustration out by throwing the kite away.

Time for game night! The Conchettes are getting geared up for their performance at the varsity football game. Everyone enjoyed dancing to "I want you back" by the Jackson Five and their performance was a real crowd pleaser.

Time for fun. Alyssa Bosco, Ayleen Herlihy, Megan Jones, Brittani Harden, Tiffany Curry, Caitlin Hemphill, Rosalee Koenig, and Sarah Estenoz hang out at the Casa Marina in hopes of finding stars during the shooting of an MTV show.

Soaking

She's got skills! Lynn McNeill shows how easy it is to do tricks while kneeboarding.

Taking on one of the hardest sports, Scarlet Moore shows off her skills. She must work on keeping her balance for the entire ride.

One of the great aspects the students admire about the keys is the beautiful water that surrounds the island. Every weekend people are on the water enjoying themselves, whether it's jumping waves with jet skis or just relaxing on the beach. The girls spend time on their tans while the boys show off their catch. Memorial or Labor Day we always seem to find our way to Snipes Point to celebrate.

Kristin McKenna brings new meaning to the game of water polo. Do you think this will catch on in the keys?

Senior, Taylor Harper, takes off his scuba gear after taking a 100 foot dive. This is just one of the many water sports that students take part in on the weekends.

Water sports don't have to be in salt water. Junior Jordan Willis, sophomores Susie Dayao, Amy Osbun-Rapp, Kristi Wilbourn, Coral Etshman, Robin Velasquez, Tara Walterson, and freshman Rachel Walterson take time to have fun in the backyard pool.

As lobster season starts, Tiffany Curry, wastes no time getting her share. Nice catch!

At Snipes Mary Meyer, Deborah Hindsley, and Stephanie Thompson are relaxing in the water during Memorial Day weekend.

Jamie Kloza wipes out with a perfect ten back flip, but has a hard landing. Ouch!!!!

Up Rays

Pump It Up

"We got spirit, yes we do! We got spirit, how 'bout you?" Freshman Douglas Bowers, Junior Donovan Bowers, and Junior Anthony Lombardi have school spirit painted on their face.

Whistle while you work! Junior Rachel Sweeting and Freshman Natasha Major are working hard on the posters for the pep rally.

"Aaaaaa!" Seniors Michaela Gonzalez, Andrea Gallardo, and Andrea Alvarez show their class spirit at the Homecoming pep rally.

"Welcome to the first pep rally of the 2001-2002 school year!" says our student council president, Shiri Kainan, as the students pack into the bleachers.

"Pep rallies are a sign of unity and of pride," said Mrs. Tingley, assistant principal. They are a moment when the entire school can come together to show their Conch Pride.

"Pep rallies have been in existence since the school opened," said Mrs. Tingley. "They are a show of support to fellow students and our school. They show our traditions and are reflective of our culture."

Pep rallies have been a tradition at our school and will remain that way.

"Pep rallies serve as a time to continue tradition, to display honor and to respect people as individuals," said Mrs. Tingley.

This is the time when every player of every sport gets to be proud of themselves and our school can show we are behind them 100%! Go Conchs!

"We're going to crush Coral Shores!" Seniors Lisette Cobo, Krystal Salazar, Rose Curry, Christopher Gibson, Joseph Morgan, and Alan Capraro are chillin before the big football game.

"Conchs are #1!" Juniors Jennifer Jones, Gina Chiello, Kristen McKenna, Donovan Bowers, and Sophomore Naomi Medlin stand for the playing of our alma mater.

"Did we get the touchdown?" Senior Rosemary Skorbot looks on to the game anxiously awaiting the referee's call.

Help the victims of the September 11th disaster. Shiri Kainan and Mrs. Kainan show off their "Proud To Be An American" t-shirts they sold at the football game. All proceeds went to the disaster relief fund.

Senior Shiri Kainan, juniors Hunter Boyle and Tiffany Curry are working hard on a school spirit shirt. Unfortunately we could not see the shirt on display at the Homecoming pep rally due to Hurricane Michelle.

Alma Mater:

In our cities
southern section
Fair to every eye
Proudly stands our
Alma Mater
As the years go by.
Service, service is
our watchword
Words that will avail
Hail to the our
Alma Mater
Key West High, all hail.

Nicholas Meyer tries to look very nonchalant while he works with Stephanie Thompson in his black sequined skirt.

Reigning

Watch out girls!!! These two studs, Louie Paez and Alan Capraro, are eye catchers. They pose for a picture in front of their ride before picking up their dates.

Christine Pierce and Candace Stevens take a break from their action packed pool game to pose for a Kodak moment.

Right: Elaine Spottswood, Lisette Cobo, Aisha Orofino, Scarlet Moore, Rose Curry, Krystal Salazar, Lindsay Thommes, Mary Meyer, and Marissa Malone go for a boat ride in the winter. Looks like it's cold!!

Supreme

Girls night out?!? Erica Ernst, Michelle Swartzel, Andrea Alvarez, and Shiri Kainan put their fun on hold to take a picture together.

The waiting game! Arthur Mulcahy sits under the Sugarloaf Lodge sign every day before school, waiting for his ride.

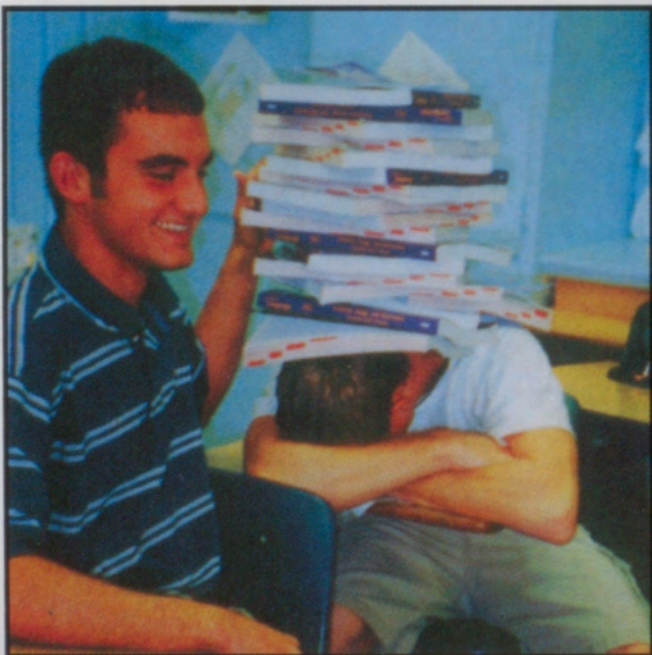

Elaine Spottswood, Erica Ernst, Lisette Cobo, Andrea Alvarez, Samantha Hart, Laura Estevez, Shiri Kainan, and Andrea Gallardo celebrate the winning of second place in the homecoming parade.

Samantha Hart and Mrs. Sanchez, her mother and counselor at Key West High School, pose for a picture after Sam was announced onto the homecoming Court 2001-2002.

Within Our Minds

Making The Difference

Mr. Welsh is the assistant principal primarily in charge of discipline.

Mrs. Tingley is the assistant principal in charge of scheduling and curriculum issues.

Mr. Boza is our newest assistant principal overseeing the ESOL program and new teachers.

Mr. Hollins has been our commander and chief for over three years. Due to family circumstances he had to leave us in the middle of the year. We will miss him and wish him luck.

Mr. Lopez is not seen on campus, but he has a definite impact on a section of the school population. His primary role is the administrative support of the Alternative Education site at May Sands School.

With each school year, something new and exciting comes along with it. While the students are usually in the brunt of change, this year Mr. Boza remarkably stands out in its path, too. Just last year, he was a teacher to the students, but he now takes a stand for the school as Vice Principal. Many new responsibilities came with this promotion. He now has to deal more with the students' safety, rather than just their rights and education. He has had to ban students from the school patio and follow up on who needs to be suspended and when. It's nothing but the crazy life in Mr. Boza's office, in which he spends very little time. "Most of the day I'm walking around the school doing this or that," says Mr. Boza. Students will be glad to know that he misses teaching and hopes to go back someday.

For those overachievers looking for opportunities to challenge themselves beyond their required academic course load, English teacher Kerri McLean offers the Great Books course.

The Great Books program was born at the University of Chicago and is governed by the philosophy that "truth and values are absolute and unchanging."

Adopted by many high schools, Great Books has become "an English elective class in which students read works from antiquities to now," said McLean. Written by famous authors as diverse as Plato and Tennessee Williams, students read and discuss many works from 3 to 300 pages long. "Most of what we read are short pieces because everything should be read at least twice," said McLean.

Students taking this course are not required to take tests or write research papers. Instead, their grades are based upon participation during Socratic Seminars where the teacher or a fellow student asks questions about facts, interpretation, and evaluation of the reading.

This course gives students a basis for understanding universal beliefs and ideas that have for many years shaped and continue to shape civilization.

Kelly Knowles and Erica Ernst show off their skills in an African Tribal Dance. This was the end to a folktales unit.

Make them all dance. Mrs. McLean's class joins in with the dance demonstration. Mary Kongos and Maren Ridenour seem to have it down.

Discrete Math is an alternative technique for solving real world problems. Topics such as the electron theory, estate division, conflict resolution, number patterns in nature, fractal geometry and many other real world issues are taught. In Discrete Math, you also study patterns and apply them to predict and solve many problems. Discrete Math teacher, Mrs. Jones says, "Math is so often defined as the study of numbers, but it is so much more." Student Theodore Wharburg includes that, "In this class we do so much more than solving equations or finding a slope of a line." Mrs. Jones feels that, "Many kids who think they are math brains, are the last to solve our problems. It's just different." Discrete Math is definitely a course unlike any other!

We're graphing what? Mr. Holmes tries to explain how to graph parabolas; a difficult concept for many students.

Ms. Provost

Claudia Balmecedo and Martha Rayo carefully measure the lengths to properly build a platonic solid structure.

This past summer, 10 students were selected to go to Belize with Mr. David Perkins for an adventure of a lifetime. In order to be chosen, the students had to fill out an application and be interviewed by Mr. Perkins on why they should be selected. The students and Mr. Perkins went on a breathtaking 14 day field study in Belize to learn about watershed ecology. One of the students that was selected to go, Megan Oropeza, said "We did so much in the 14 days that we were there. Now that I look back on the trip, it seems so amazing."

During the trip, the students did many sightseeing events like swimming in Bug Rock Falls and caving in the Rio Frio Cave. "We went into a cave and Mr. and Mrs. Perkins had us sit down in silence and turn off our head lamps. It was complete darkness! Sometimes I felt as if my eyes weren't even open. This was a great experience," said Talia Fernandez.

As the trip ended everyone was sad to leave but they were eager to come home. The Belize trip provided the students with many great memories and new friendships in which they will never forget.

This past summer, this group of students, along with Mr. and Mrs. Perkins, find it hard not to stop and take a picture at the Xunzntunich Mayan Ruin in Belize. This was just one of the many experiences they encountered during this educational opportunity.

Greg Kremer's schedule consists of teaching Contemporary History, World Religions, Sociology, and being head coach of the Varsity football team. All of which qualify him as being a very important leader at Key West High School.

Last year, Mr. Kremer was approached by a few students wanting to start a new historical club. He pondered on the idea, but later decided it was a great opportunity and became the sponsor of the new club. Over the course of last year, they did many fund-raisers to attain money for a trip offered by Cultural Heritage Alliance (C-H-A). The C-H-A allows students to visit historical places around the world for a reasonable price. On June 26, Mr. Kremer, as well as 7 students from Key West High School left Miami to begin their historically focused trip. They visited Paris, Venice, Lucerne, Rome, and Athens. Mr. Kremer said, "standing inside the Coliseum was so awesome. It was like total immersion."

A few weeks after his return from the trip, Mr. Kremer resumed coaching the Varsity football team for the summer session.

Just recently, Mr. Kremer resigned from head coach of the Varsity football team. Although he is still teaching, he will be greatly missed by the members of the football team, as well as the community here in Key West.

Time to shop. Cy Clever participates in weekly shopping trips as part of his curriculum. The purpose is to teach them daily living skills.

Mr. Wise

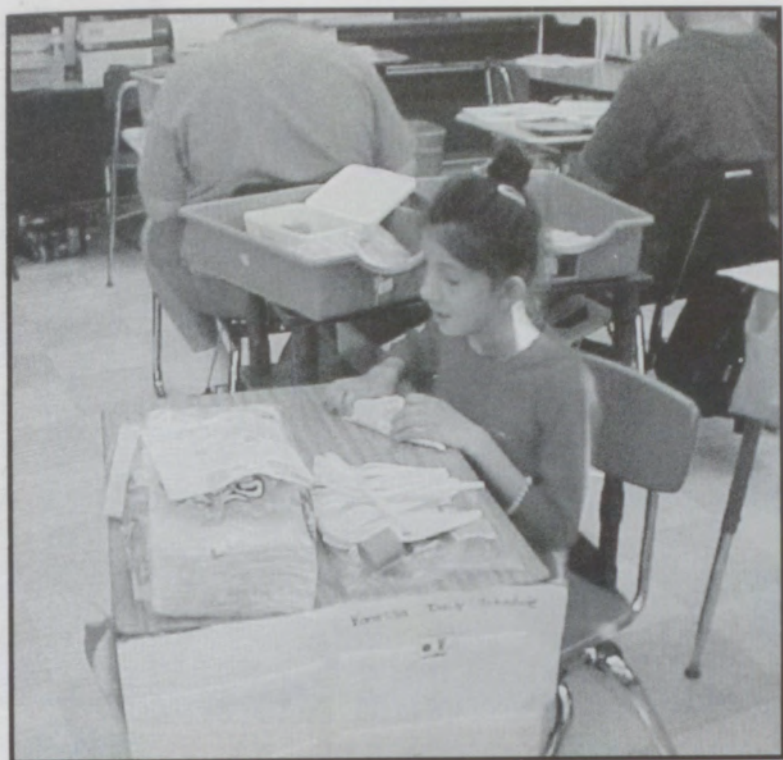

The purpose of high school is to help prepare students for the world outside these walls. Here we learn the skills needed to succeed in life. However, some of us have unique needs which require special attention. There is a class of twelve students who are physically and mentally disabled. These students attend what is called Functional Skills class. Their curriculum differs somewhat from other students'. Ruth Holland, one of the Functional Skills teachers, provides a "hands-on" approach to learning. For example, "we do not read books about going to the grocery store, we go there", said Holland. As with any class, an important goal is to maximize individual strengths. This class also prepares the students for the work place by teaching them, as Holland puts it, "the most important skill... independence."

Even though functional skills students may be unique in some ways, they are no different from other students at Key West High School. "You see them walking down the hall and receiving high-fives from their peers. It is great to know that everyone is accepted," said sophomore, Analise Smith.

All students have an equal opportunity to learn the necessary skills to pursue their life's goals. We are also learning to respect each other and accept our differences, whether it is in the classroom or out in the community.

Web Design: the new class in town. Ms. Blanco focuses her student's efforts in creating a web page.

Focusing on her work, Lameka Howard is constructing a web page for one of our school's organizations. This is just one project undertaken by Ms. Blanco's web design class.

When choosing class schedules, many students overlook the vast array of humanity classes that there are to choose from. The humanity classes are made up of different activities and creative learning skills. These classes consist of electives such as choir, band, languages, drama and acting. "Acting is a form of art that allows a normally shy person, to break away from that disposition and immerse themselves in a character," said Diana Davila. Classes such as these allow you to express yourself creatively and open yourself up to new ideas, giving you confidence in all that you do. "My presentations in art class allow me to truly express myself," said Veronica Garmas.

Have you ever stopped and wondered what goes on in a vocational class? Though they vary in content, the intention of the classes are the same. The classes are meant to help prepare you for your future, especially for the outside world. Leyany Roble says, "I think taking different types of classes offered in this program will help me get a better job and more career opportunities." The vocational curriculum includes classes such as keyboarding, on the job training (OJT), cooking, Journalism, Cosmetology, and nail class. Theodore Wharburg takes a journalism class and says, "I have learned the basic structure of the newspaper and learn how to create layouts." Vocational classes are here to motivate our students for a promising future. Whether the students are college bound or not, they will always have the skills that our vocational classes teach.

Capturing the Moments

As an organization dedicated to capturing, compiling, and preserving memories; Yearbook is a very valuable asset to Key West High School. Throughout the year members of the yearbook staff work hard to illustrate the many different personalities of our school and the people in it as well as to present them in an honorable and respectful fashion. "From people involved in clubs or sports, to nights out on the town or weekends on the water, we get it all." said Brittani Harden.

"I am very proud to be a part of the inaugural Sophomore Choir. We would like to thank Mr. Wilt for giving us this opportunity," says Talia Fernandez.

Finishing off their performance, Shannon Maribona and Emily Cummins extend their hearts and hands to the audience.

Daniel Garcia and Shaun McHugh break some hearts with their rendition of the Beach Boys Medley.

The sophomores know there will be heartache through out the high school, at least they're assured they'll always be there for each other to lend a shoulder.

The sophomore choir puts their smiles on and lights up the stage.

Right: Hand in hand, Christina Boza and Daniel Curtis shine in the spotlight.

"Choir is a tight-knit group that really works well together and has a lot of fun. We take tours throughout the year to elementary and middle schools and we're honored this year to be asked to sing Christmas carols for a TBS special. Choir is a great way to get involved and to make friends because you become part of an extremely outgoing group of students who love to perform,"

Drum Major, Ria Phillips leads the band out onto the field for the nights half time performance.

"This year, the band is over 100 strong and contains some of the most talented students I've had the chance to work with," says Mr. Truhan, who is the director of the band. The band has not only been a cherished part of our student community, but the community of Key West as well. "Conch pride isn't just something you have, it's something you do," says Truhan. The band holds very true to this definition.

Adding Pizzazz

"It's so much more than twirling a flag on a pole," says Amanda Walker, who is captain along side Coral Duffy-Erskine and Nicole Otero. It's plain to see that a lot of time and devotion goes into developing the skill it takes to either spin the flags or twirl a baton. Along with band, auxiliary provides a spectacular half time performance. Not only is being a member a good experience, but also good way to show school spirit.

Officer Coral Duffy-Erskine keeps in step with a smile on her face while performing one of her famous baton routines during the half time show.

John Wild performs at Children's Day with Mr. Truhan conducting in his wig and beard. Even though it is a day for the children, even the grownups get involved.

The Jazz Band takes a break while Mr. Truhan prepares for the next number.

"The Jazz Band is an ever evolving group of student musicians that are prepared to work towards a higher level of performance. My expectations as a director are that the students learn how to quickly assimilate a certain style of music. Whether it be Swing, Rock, or Salsa, we achieve this through broadening our experiences with different styles. Playing them as often as we can helps them to become consummate musicians."

Jazzing it Up

The leader of the bunch, Mr. Truhan feels the music his students are creating.

The steel drum class practices hard to accomplish the desired sound that Mr. Truhan is looking for. It may be different but these high school musicians are beginning to get the hang of it.

Adam Noda concentrates hard on his drum as he plays towards perfection.

The Beat of a Different Drum

Working on the main melody during Steel Drum class, Liza Davia and Damary Torna practice to make sure the music they are making meshes together for the sound they strive for.

Michael Austin studies the rhythm during fourth period so he is sure to play right.

Kirby Pagunson contemplates his beat before he begins to play. He sets the pace and the rhythm for the rest of the band.

Yell What You Hear

Go Big Red, everybody yell Go Big Red! Spirit, dedication and stamina earn the community's respect for the Varsity cheerleaders. Every Friday night home game, rain or shine, the cheerleaders pep up the crowd and give the football or basketball players motivation to keep winning. Pride in what they do is always illustrated by their spirit and enthusiasm during the trying games.

Half time is always something to enjoy when the cheerleaders take the field. Raelyz Palmero and Marissa Malone show their spirit in their performance.

Due to the large number of cheerleaders this year the team has been split up for basketball games. This group cheers on the team to victory.

The second group of Varsity cheerleaders concentrate on the game while they wait for the next cheer.

Stick it girls! These cheerleaders convey their strength in stunts.

Michelle Swartzell shows her enthusiasm about being in the air through her facials and tight stunting.

The entire Varsity team takes the field at the home football games only to dazzle the crowd.

We are Number One

After being named National Champions last year in Washington DC, this year's squad hopes to do the same in Disney World Orlando. Difficult practices are only endured by the determination for victory. "This team has the most potential I have seen since my first squad I've coached." said Coach Bosco.

Lets Go, Lets Fight

Even though the Junior Varsity may be the new cheerleaders, this year they have really earned their spot with the Varsity. JV governs themselves and has the drive to improve and become the best. During the year they demonstrate extreme spirit and outgoing personalities that make them successful.

A long night of cheering can really run down a person, however Eva Cross keeps up her energy throughout the whole game.

-Kunia Rodrigues-

"Pep Squad is a group of young multi-talented ladies who enjoy pepping up players on athletic teams. Yet, pep squad is also a group that takes pride in serving their community. Pep Squad participates in many fundraisers such as Children's Day where they served pizza, The Spirit Parade in which they marched in their red, white, and blue shirts and The Goombay and African-American Heritage Festival. They also attend sports games where they cheer on the players and the fans by reciting cheers from the stands".

French Exposure

Towards the end of every passing year, the French Club has one main goal; their trip to France. During the course of the year, each of the members create new fundraising ideas in order to earn the amount needed for this annual trip. The group finds that taking this trip not only improves knowledge on the foreign culture, but also the foreign language.

Exploring The

Members of the Police Explorers are an elite force of young people who participate in various activities throughout the school and our community. Led by officer Diaz, police explorers consists of ten people who work fairs, football games, various festivals, and other events that take place in the community to ensure our safety. Their main goal is to possibly build a solid foundation for a future in law enforcement.

Officer Diaz explains the finer points of questioning a suspect to Deglyse Chivarria, and Pedro Ham. Skills like this are important if you want to pursue any type of law enforcement as a career.

Deglyse Chivarria lectures the group on things he's learned in the explorer program. As a lieutenant his skills and knowledge will be valuable to the new members of the group.

Possibilities

Fire Explorers gives young people the opportunity to experience the feeling, and work that professional fire fighters go through. Started in 1999, the explorer program has expanded to the education of many youths, including various students at Key West High School. Led by senior Daniel Cassel, our school's branch of fire explorers respond to calls to aid EMS, and volunteer fire fighters. These students prove that a group of dedicated young people can make a difference in the community.

Recreating the Past

A few of the members from Renaissance stop to talk before one of their weekly after school meetings. Mrs. Sanford has welcomed this organization into her classroom and helped guide them towards their goals.

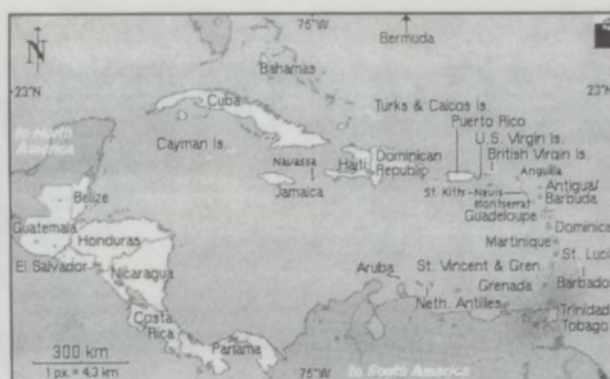

Alexandria Pichardo and Vanessa Gilday share a laugh while going over some information about an upcoming renaissance event.

"The Renaissance Club isn't just about sitting around and doing research," says Danielle Miller, president of the organization. "It's about bringing a piece of our past to the present." Renaissance members have been very busy this year. They have not only been doing bake sales to benefit their cause, but also going around to different schools to provide students with more information about this interesting period of time.

Members from this year's Latino Club came together at the Cuban American Heritage Festival to celebrate and pronounce their pride in being a Cuban.

Even though this year's Latino Club hasn't been very busy doing activities to support their heritage, their pride still shows strong through them while at school. They take time talking to each other and their sponsors, Mrs. Farina and Mrs. Hernandez, to research about other members' backgrounds and the countries from which they originated.

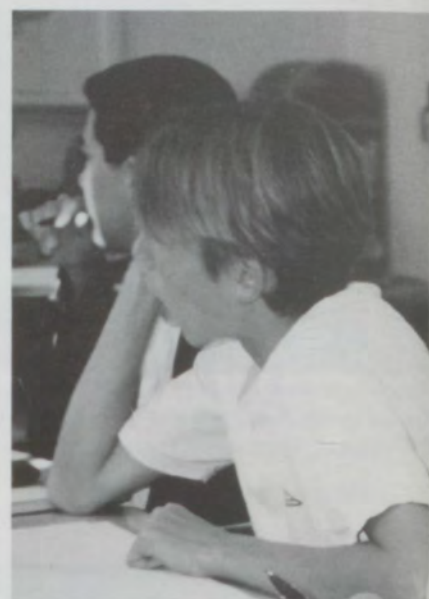

During one of the rare Latino Club's meeting, Mrs. Farina and Mrs. Sangil stop their discussion to show off their Latino pride.

Racking their Brains

Students dedicated and interested in challenging themselves might enjoy the Academic Challenge Team. The team has only been around for four years, but this year it got off to a great start. With such a large number of kids wanting to join this year both a Junior Varsity and Varsity team was chosen. The top twenty students were chosen, including a Junior on the Varsity team. The team has high aspirations, including plans to compete against Coral Shores and Marathon High School on television, and from there they plan to be successful in the Academic Challenge Competition in Disney World.

Nate Bradbury listens closely to the next question.

Teamwork is the key to success. Brandy Barta, Allan Batalier, Julie Hennigan, and Fenna Krienen work against the clock to come up with the right answer.

Stocking Up

The Investment Club is fairly new to Key West High School. It was established as a sanctioned club in 1999. Since then it has enticed a variety of numerous students who have an interest in the Stock Market. Because of the September 11th events the students involved have realized how the economy is influenced by global events. But downward trend in the economy still hasn't driven students away from investing.

Donavan Bowers and Naomi Medlin check out the latest trends in the market so they can present ideas to the group in the next meeting.

Our Reach

1. Jesse Kehoe continues to look down field for an open receiver, even while a Coral Shores player is in pursuit. 2. Antwon Williams slips a couple tackles to get free for a first down. 3. Latron Hickson tackles the ball carrier for Coral Shores. 4. Alan Capraro and Christopher Gibson are in heavy pursuit of the ball carrier. 5. Keith McCloud looks like he's free for a touchdown as he runs down the sidelines.

Friday Night Football

Sweaty practices, broken bones, our team puts in so much to become number one. Time and dedication are essential to the varsity football team. Early mornings, late nights, almost year round our team practices together to become the best they can be. The Conchs aren't just football players, they're hometown heroes as well. "As the season starts our stadium floods with old players and Conchs coming to watch their team play."-Tony Roberts, Junior. Little boys from the Junior Football League come and watch, anticipating their turn to be on the field, all eyes on them.

Get him! Patrick Freeman takes down the opposition's quarterback for a sack. Although he makes it look easy, this is quite a feat.

Now that's team work! Michael Brooks and Antwon Williams assist each other in the backfield tackle.

Below: Let our colors fly! Justin Duck shows the school's pride in our country as he leads the team onto the field carrying the American Flag Hold that ball! Adron Barnes looks like he's going to break a tackle and gain some more yards for the team.

Right: Down! Set! Hike! Our offense is ready to run the play with Antwon Williams at the helm.

Touchdown! The crowd goes crazy, as Clinton Storr racks up points for the Conchs. He held a strong position, one of the top scorers on the team.

"We are starting to work together and are beginning to look like a team. I feel our season will be very strong, we have a coach that pushes us to be the best we can be." -Gus Alfonso

"I'm very confident about this year's team. We have a strong defense, offense that will put points on the scoreboard, and a coach that's willing to help us get better" - Drew Phillipps

1. Way to tackle them boys. Terrance Moore, Willie Rodgers, and James Hickson really give it their all.

2. Taking one for the team James Hickson gets the wind knocked out of him. After a few minutes he got up and got back in the game

3. Terrance Moore makes a touchdown. Perfect timing and precision made him able to keep the ball moving down the field.

With high expectations, coach Gootee pumps up the team for tomorrow's big game. Their season is incredibly short, so every game counts. The boys were a little unhappy about their schedule but their hopes for success never changed.

Coach Gootee is taking on another duty. Not only does he coach baseball, but now he will be taking on the added responsibility of coaching the J.V. Football team. "I've been around football all my life. This was just the next step for me." He's been coaching for 14 years and has had many successful seasons. With new plays and tactics, Gootee is prepared to turn this relatively new team into a powerful force. "It is our job as coaches to develop each player into someone who will contribute to society as a successful, positive role model."

Coach Gootee watches patiently to see what the call is because the game is now on the line. This call was crucial to the final outcome of the game. The Conchs beat Belen 27-0.

Pushing Through

4. Long, hard practices keep this team in top shape and ahead of the competition. Practices sometimes go until all hours of the night. Giving a little, will in turn get you the result that you are looking for.

5. Waiting eagerly to get back in the game, Steven Christian, Drew Phillipps, and Ian Laveitzan are preparing to go show the other team what the Conchs are made of.

1. Caitlin Marian, mastering the butterfly technique to make herself a worthy opponent. Future competitors better watch out. 2. Keeping the pressure on, Morgan Scorby makes the other team work hard to stay in the race. 3. Caitlin Stepan, Justyna Czerniewska, Paulina Czerniewska, and Martina Hindsley really know how to show spirit and that is what Conch pride is all about. 4. Justyna Czerniewska shows perfect form in the breast stroke. 5. Deborah Hindsley isn't just your ordinary swimmer. As she looks back to see her time, she realizes that she blew the other team right out of the water.

SWIMMING

Go With the Flow

Spectators cheering, people staring, and then you see the Conchs finish right before you. It seems like no other team can compare to the Key West High School Swim Team. "All the girls are very experienced and know what it takes to be successful," said Justyna Czerniewska. Their practices consist of swimming for two hours, that's about three miles, four to five days a week. Hard work and dedication has really paid off. They know what it means to be the best...a Conch!

First place once again. Being one of the top, more experienced girls, Elaney Vestal is a major component of the team.

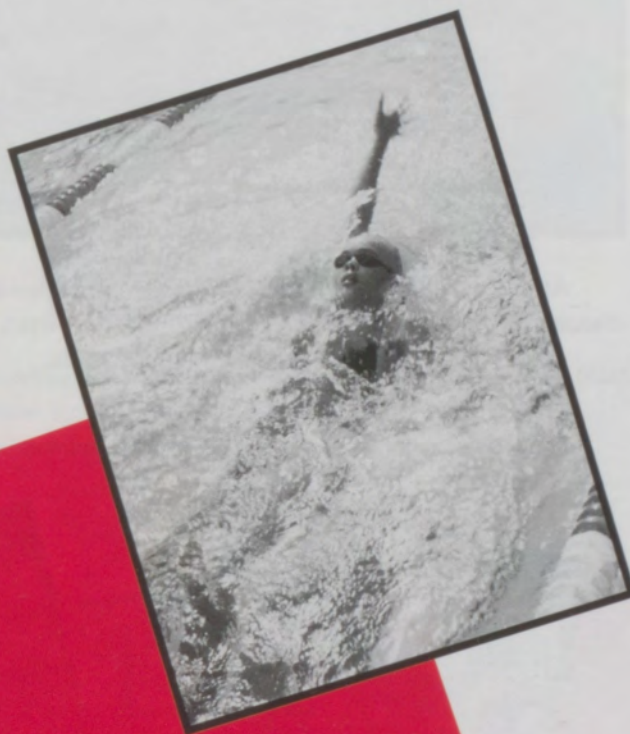

Taking a deep breath, Liza Davia pulls ahead. Timming your breathing is essential to getting the competitive edge.

Giving 100%, Morgan Scorby glides toward the finish line. This being her second year, she has shown great improvements.

Sometimes the greatest achievements are made when you compete against yourself. Elaney Vestal sure proves this to be true, by trying to beat her time and always staying one stroke ahead of her competition.

Top- Elaney Vestal, Caitlin Marian, Liza Davia, Casey Kehoe, Jaime Zimmerman, Crystal Cates, Katherine Patton, Morgan Scorby, Lauren Brewster. At a pre-race dinner with the team, Nathaniel Bowden has a discussion with some of his teammates. The dinner was a good time to relax and bond with your friends.

Near the finish line, Allan Batalier starts to speed up. You want to kick it in the end so that no one passes you, causing your team to get a higher score.

Splashing through a puddle, Lee Baker advances on his competition. Though the course is muddy, he seems to be handling it just fine.

2. Joshua Barnes works hard in every race he runs. One of his goals for the season is to go to states. 1. First year runner, Timothy Anson, has achieved great accomplishments. He is already one of the top runners on the team. 3. As he comes around a tree, Charles Hyatt surveys the scene in front of him. He keeps an eye out for unseen obstacles and other runners.

The gun goes off... you see a jumble of colorful jerseys charging to get ahead of each other. This may seem like a survival of the fittest sport, but it is very much a team effort. "My goal is to go far as an individual, but also as a team," says Timothy Anson. The place won by the team depends on their top five runners. Runners are scored based on the place they come in overall. The score of the team is based on the sum of the team's top five runner's places. a perfect score is fifteen. You get that by adding the places; $1+2+3+4+5=15$.

Team running is a crucial part of cross country. It helps the team get a lower score. James Painter, David Gonzalez, and Jason Huefner demonstrate running as a pack, keeping each other's pace.

Crossing the Line

4. Side by side, Antonio Osborne and Michael Sykes help the team out by moving up. It's usually a more pleasant run when you have a teammate to run with. 5. Ryan Milligan paces himself for the long run ahead. Although the three mile race is hard, he looks like he's enjoying himself.

1. Determination is one of the keys to succeeding. Jacqueline Bayliss proves this at meets where she pushes herself to the max. 2. Almost at the finish line, Katie Gonzalez kicks it into a sprint. The final sprint can mean the difference between a victory and a loss for your team. 3. Relaxing in between meets, practice and school, Jenifer Burns plays a game on her calculator while Jason Cooke cheers her on. The team got to enjoy a pre-race spaghetti dinner at one of the coach's houses. 4. It is no surprise to see Janna Van Essen ahead of her rival runners. She is known for her fierce competitiveness that helps her keep one step ahead of everyone else. 5. With a look of concentration on her face, Jenifer Burns works on maintaining her pace. It's important to keep a steady pace so you don't wear yourself out in the beginning.

Making the Time

Cross country may be a team sport, but that doesn't mean that the members all have the same convictions about certain aspects of the sport. When asked what her favorite part about cross country was, Katie Gonzalez replied simply, "The finish line." Most people have a dreaded part of their sport, be it at practice or at the meets. Janna Van Essen, on the other hand, doesn't feel this way, "I don't have a least favorite part. I love it all." With these great attitudes throughout the team, they are poised for success.

Katie Gonzalez keeps up with the pack in the initial sprint at the start of the race. It is important to get a good spot in the beginning so you don't get boxed in.

Elaina Bonar keeps ahead of the competition easily. She has done well this year and has been a major asset to the team.

The team takes a short meeting before practice to discuss today's workout. Jacqueline Bayliss and Elaina Bonar take this opportunity to drink some water so that they don't get dehydrated.

Team support is a major part of running. Emily Meyer and Kristin Mckenna help each other out by working off of one another's pace.

Spike it hard! Chelsy Snell winds up as the rest of the team watches during warm-ups. At this game against Marathon, Key West's warm-ups may not have been as fancy, but they are just as effective.

Get ready! The most important part of playing is being ready for the serve. Chia Ho and Whitney Eden stand in great anticipation as the ball comes over the net.

1. Way to get that ball! Karla Malsheimer works on her digging before a big game against Marathon.

2. Way to get up there! At the ten-foot line, Whitney Eden jumps up to spike the ball. Spiking one of the most important (and enjoyable) parts of practice.

3. What a play! It takes great hand-eye-coordination to successfully play the ball. This is exhibited as Maren Ridenour bumps the ball while Chia Ho is watching carefully to anticipate the ball.

Way to go up for the block! Chia Ho, Maren Ridenour, and Chelsy Snell try and stop Marathon from penetrating Key West's defense at the net. Blocking can be a great defensive weapon.

The varsity volleyball season has been one of change; different practices, different tryouts, and, most importantly, different attitudes.

"We're more confident this year", said junior Chia Ho. "We're more prepared and playing more as a team." The team so far has been battling to get out of a losing slump, having not won a game in over a year. "We really have an urge to win this year", said Chia Ho. Overall, the season outlook is positive.

"They're playing at a level I never thought they'd be able to", said head coach Julia Parmer. "We'll work hard and hopefully go away with some wins."

Be aware! Stormie Batten, Karla Malsheimer, and Kaite Smith are watching the serve as it makes its way over the net. Being able to determine where the ball is going to fall is half the battle.

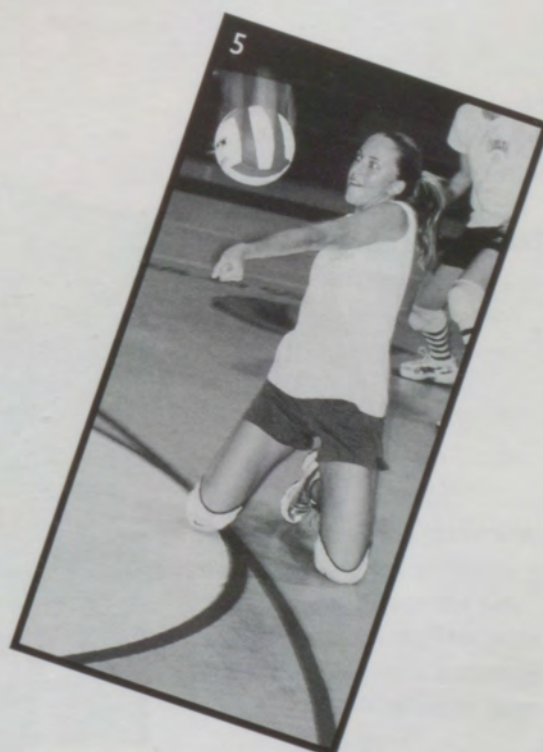

VOLLEYBALL

Diggin' It

4. Don't let it drop! To successfully play a ball, you must get under it and angle your arms correctly. This is shown by Shellie Galloway as she carefully concentrates.

5. What a save! Maren Ridenour slides in front of the ball just in time to make a great play. Going all out at practice makes you a better player come game time.

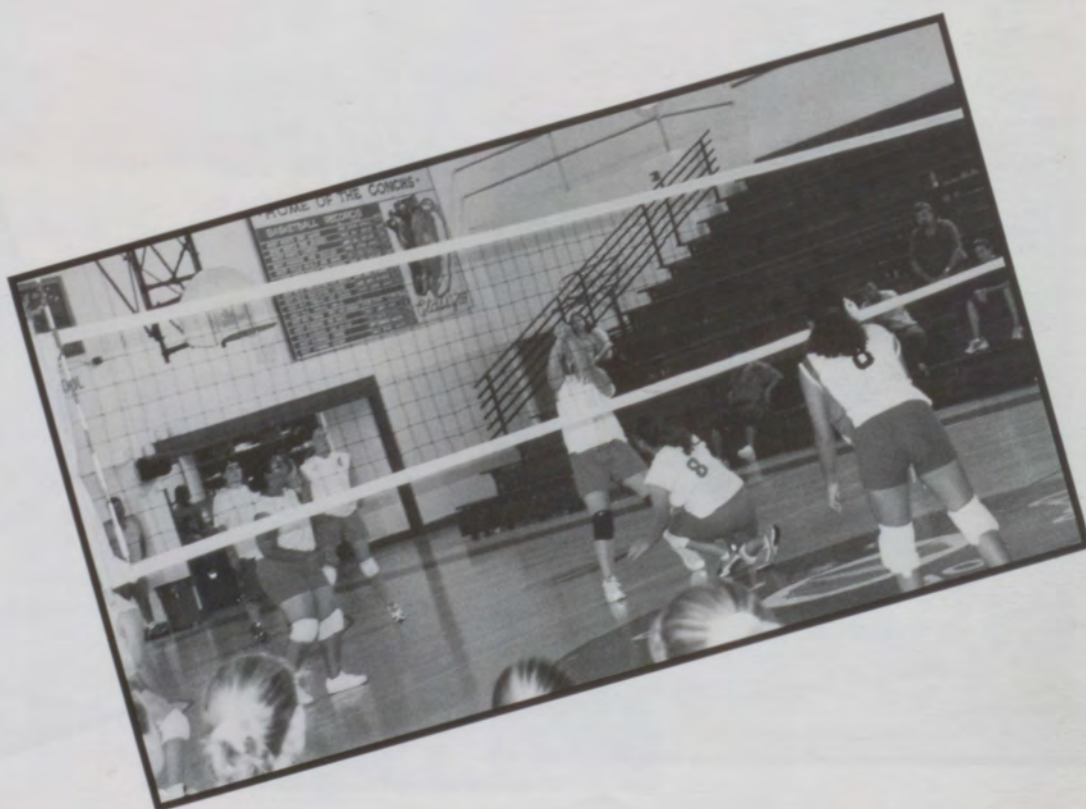

1. Aaa-ace! Nicole Eisenschenk blasts the ball over for an easy point.
2. Good effort! Nicole Eisenschenk dives and narrowly misses the ball.
3. Back row: Bonnie Mdnns, Kyle McLeod, Nicole Eisenschenk, Morgan Scorby. Middle row: Ana Trawinska, Laura Font, Maria Candelario. Bottom row: Kate Van Essen.
4. Nice serve! Bonnie Mdnns shows great form as she starts the ball over the net.
5. Nicole Eisenschenk, Morgan Scorby, and Bonnie Mdnns stand in line, waiting to spike. In volleyball, there is a great deal of waiting time in between plays and drills.

VOLLEYBALL Servin' It Up

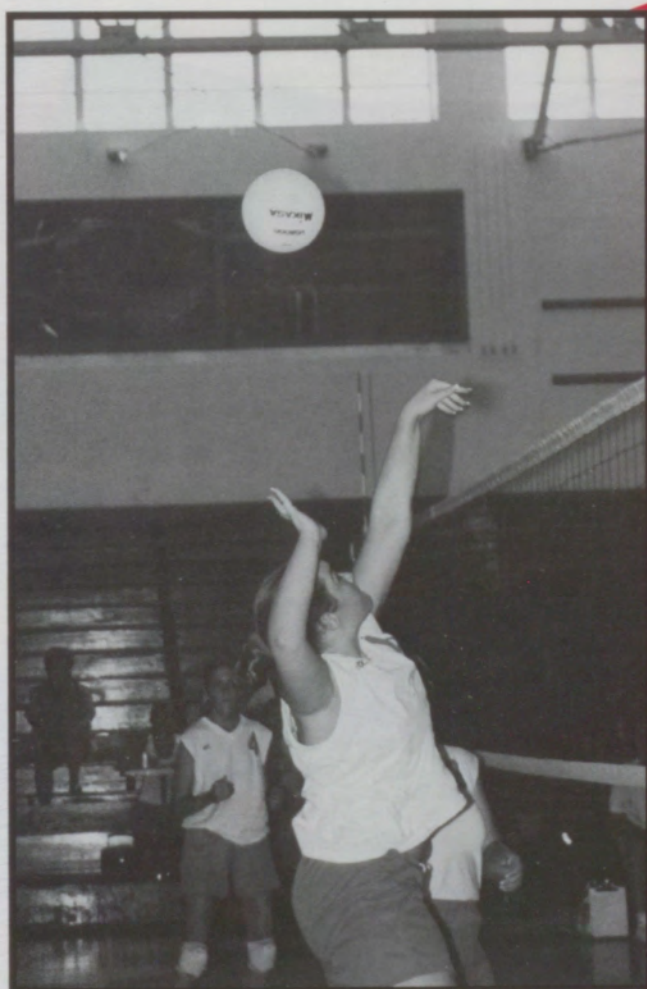

Change has been the theme for volleyball this year. Although most of their players are new, the team, as a whole, has shown improvements from last year. "There were times when they played as a team", said head coach Julia Parmer. They have also won two games, one of which was against Marathon. "Our team has really progressed since last year", said sophomore Ana Trawinska. The team also always gives 100%. "I'm impressed and pleased with how hard they work and their level of enthusiasm", said Julia Parmer. Hopefully we'll see good things to come.

Nice play! After setting the ball, Nicole Eisenschenk quickly gets out of the way as Bonnie Mdnns bumps the ball over the net. Teamwork is crucial if you want to score points.

Good bump! Nicole Eisenschenk gets in perfect position for a bump back to Coach Parmer during this drill. Practices this year have been harder, but has shown great results.

Spike it! Bonnie McInnis winds up for the perfect hit. She shows great determination while she keeps eye contact with the ball.

Nice return! After a teammate sets it up, Maria Candelario bumps the ball over the net, scoring for Key West. This game against Marathon was extremely close and Key West never gave up.

Way to dig it up! Kate Van Essen pops it up to the coach, Julia Parmer. This is drill one of their many exercises before a game. "There's definitely more training and exercising involved", said Ana Trawinska.

1. Seniors Nick Bently & Joel Brown discuss each others scores at the last hole.
2. Joel Brown, Kyle Cabrera, Tony Taridino, Nick Bently, & Nick Jones, are all relaxing after a long day at the golf course.
3. Sophomore Steven Atwood carefully chips his ball onto the green.

Senior Joel Brown carefully studies his ball as it flys through the air. He has to keep his eye on the ball so he knows where it lands.

Golf isn't just a game. It's a passion. A promising dedication to hit the ball longer and straighter than the previous day. Its an unbreakable promise to yourself to beat the course and your opponents. This season, the Conchs team has worked very hard to get ready for districts. They practice every day and even on their own time. Although the team has lost many seniors, they have gained talented players too. The team is doing well so far, and have a good chance of bringing home a victory at districts!

Top: The varsity team is getting a pep talk from Coach Fahey before their tournament. Even though this may seem like an individual sport, they must work together to dominate the competition.

All Fore One!

4. Freshman Cole Reigns hits the ball straight towards the green. This will bring him one step closer to getting the ball in the cup.

5. Sophomore Kyle Cabrera putting his ball into the hole. Being able to work the green helps his overall game.

1) Max Labrada controls the ball before sending it flying across the field. 2) Lining up to cross the ball, Kamil Stecki focuses on his target. 3) Michael Irwin takes over the ball from Charles Hyatt during a passing drill. 4) Michael McGraw, lining himself up for a save, stands focused and ready at the goal. 5) Olexandr Yanovych, practicing direct kicks, works on his technique as he blasts the ball for a goal.

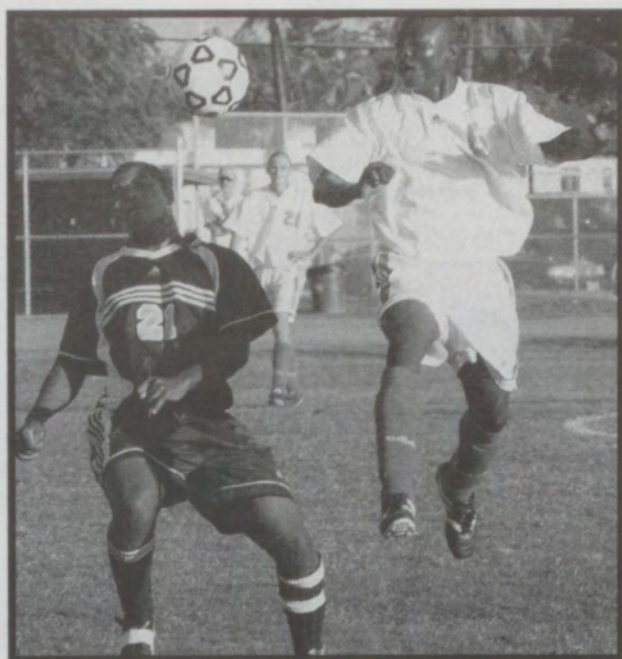

Shooting for Victory

At first glance, you'd think that the boy's varsity soccer team was very relaxed. "There were no tryouts", said Coach Clifford. The practice environment alone is very loose, with players shooting answers to questions while shooting goals. Don't let their facade fool you, the team is good. Last summer, the whole team went to Costa Rica for two weeks, playing three teams, one of whom was semi-pro. When asked how the trip helped, Richard McChesney yelled, "It got us in shape". The team also has high hopes for the season. "We'll have problems at the beginning, but we'll at least make it to the regional semi-finals," said Coach Clifford. Let's hope that their expectations are met and exceeded.

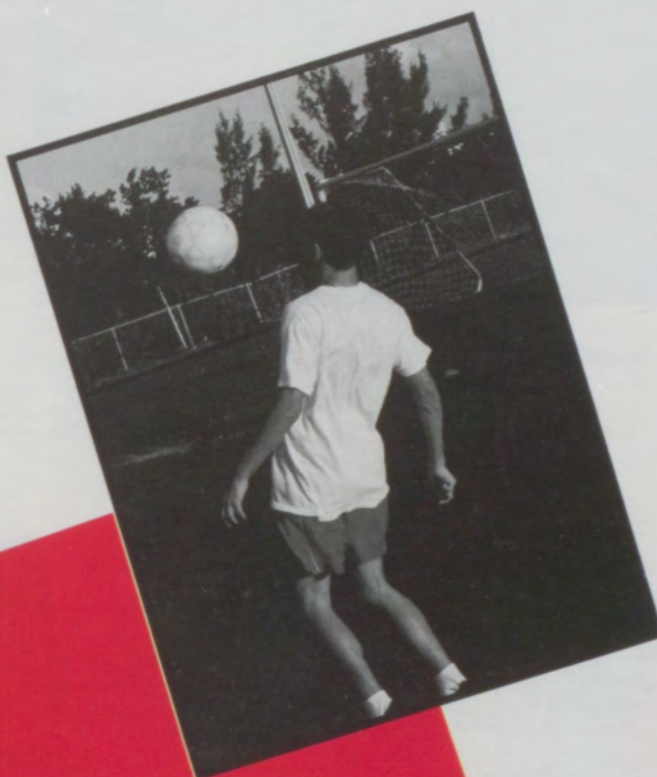

While trying to work his way through defenders, Leonard Pierre-Louis catches his opponent off guard as cuts the ball back.

Leonard Pierre-Louis, one the many diverse players from the team, battles for the ball, while his opposing player tries for a header. With effort like this, the Conchs will hopefully have a successful season.

Breaking away from a Hallendale player, Olexandr Yanovych, known to his teammates as "Czech Boy", dribbles toward the goal. Even as a freshman, he lead the Conchs this year in scoring.

Kamil Stecki demonstrates a chest trap during their last practice before the District championship game.

1) Jason Cook uses his back left foot reflection to confuse Marc Tumley and score on the goalie. 2) Coach Jason Clifford shows off his fancy footwork as Jesse Kehoe and Marc-Henri Pierre look on and learn. 3) Not just a goalie, Michael McGraw shows that he can handle the ball as well as the rest of them.

Like raptors these two players hone in on the ball. Their target is set and they refuse to lose sight of their objective.

This year's team has made great progress from the start of the season. "All the practices have really paid off," said Michael Spottswood.

They have learned to work together as a team for a better performance. With Coach Castillo's help, they had a prosperous season and we will see more of them in the future.

Blocking for a goal shot is one of the skills that a team must work on together.

He shoots...He scores!

1) Marc-Henri Pierre tries to confuse Jesse Kehoe with a "pull-behind" ball maneuver, yet Jesse still doesn't give up. Perserverance is the key to keeping your opponents at bay.
2) Marc-Henri Pierre practices ball coordination as he repeatedly heads the ball. These warm ups really pay off at game time.

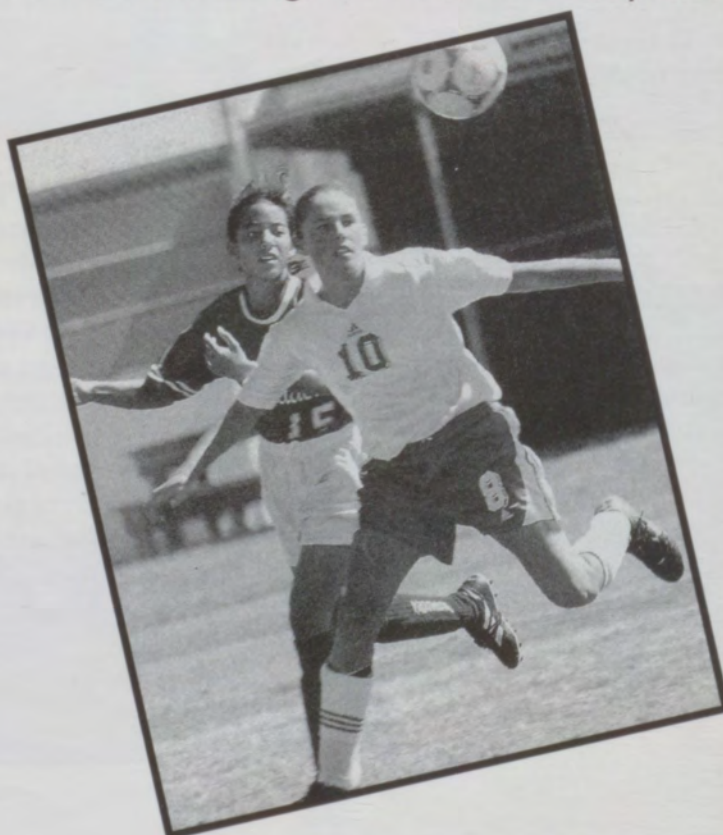

1. Blocking her opponent, Jamie Kloza prevents a goal and keeps the Conchs in control of the game. 2. Showing her skills and speed, Brittney Commander fakes out the other team and shows them who's boss. 3. During a pre game warm-up, Stephanie Thompson perfects her game and gets ready to devastate the other team.

Shooting for Glory

Throughout the state, the name Lady Conchs Soccer rings a bell in every ear. It is one of the most developed teams in South Florida and an extremely powerful force. "This year's team is the most focused and hardest working squad that I have ever coached," said Coach Paul. "They have bonded as a unit very early in the season, which is rare and I suspect that they will be a contributing factor in the play-offs if they play up to their potential." This year was Coach Paul's first to be District Champions. "All the time and dedication really paid off. I couldn't have been prouder. All I ever ask is for them to give 100% and they did."

Megan Coe prepares to move the ball down the field and break through the opposing team's defense. Being one of the four freshmen, she has greatly improved and many things are expected to come of her in the next few years.

While sprinting to the ball, Aisha Orofino steps up and beats her opponent. This being her second year on the Varsity team, she has made many contributions to the team and is one of the reasons they have been so successful.

Pushing her way through the crowd, Gina Chiello shows she's not afraid of a good old fashion rivalry.

As she knocks down her opponent, Samantha Hart proves no obstacle is too big for Key West to overcome.

The team had an impressive season despite the fact the majority of the team is composed of new players. they got off to a rough start, but quickly proved themselves. "Once the team got the feel of things, we really took off" said first time player Naomi Medlin. It just goes to show that with devotion and a lot of practice we will always succeed.

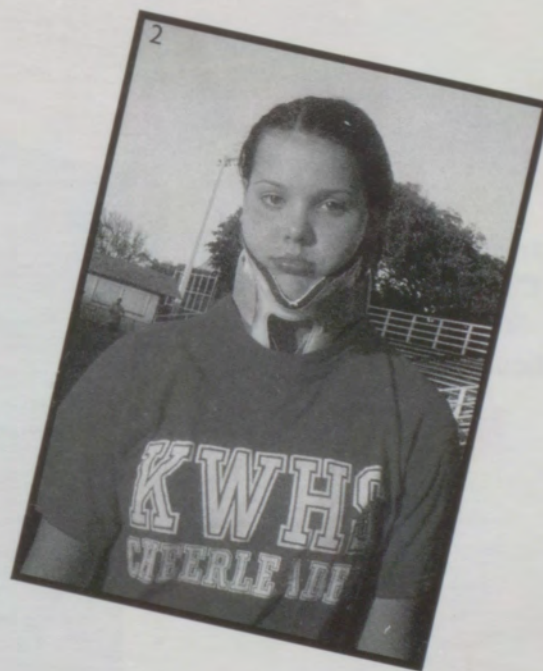

Kinga Madro, Justyna Czernewska, Paulina Czernewska, Christina Pellitier, and Martina Hindsley are travelling up to another school. These ladies are all smiles with excitement about their next game.

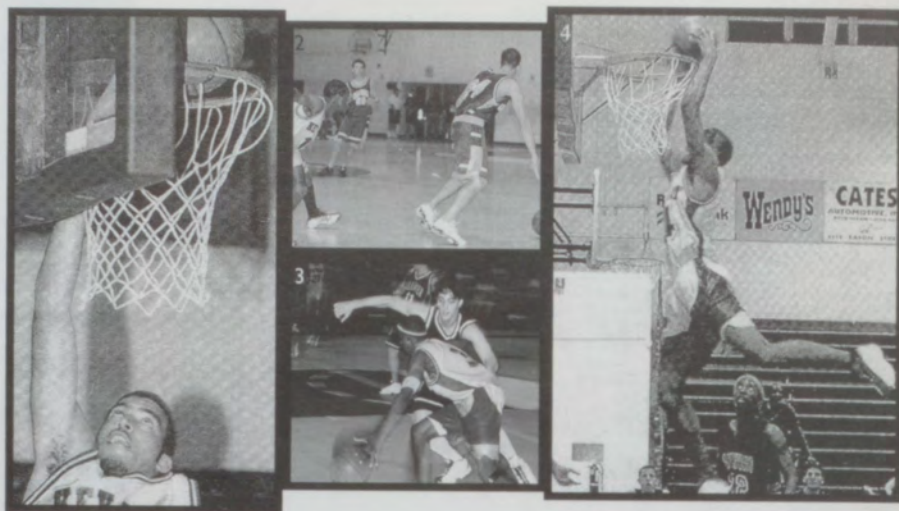

Shoot For Your Goals

1. Stacey Huff blocks an opponent from attempting a pass. The teams defense proved to be as vital to success as its offense. 2. Even injuries can't stop the athletes from cheering on the team. Christina Pellitier shows up at a practice to cheer on her fellow players.

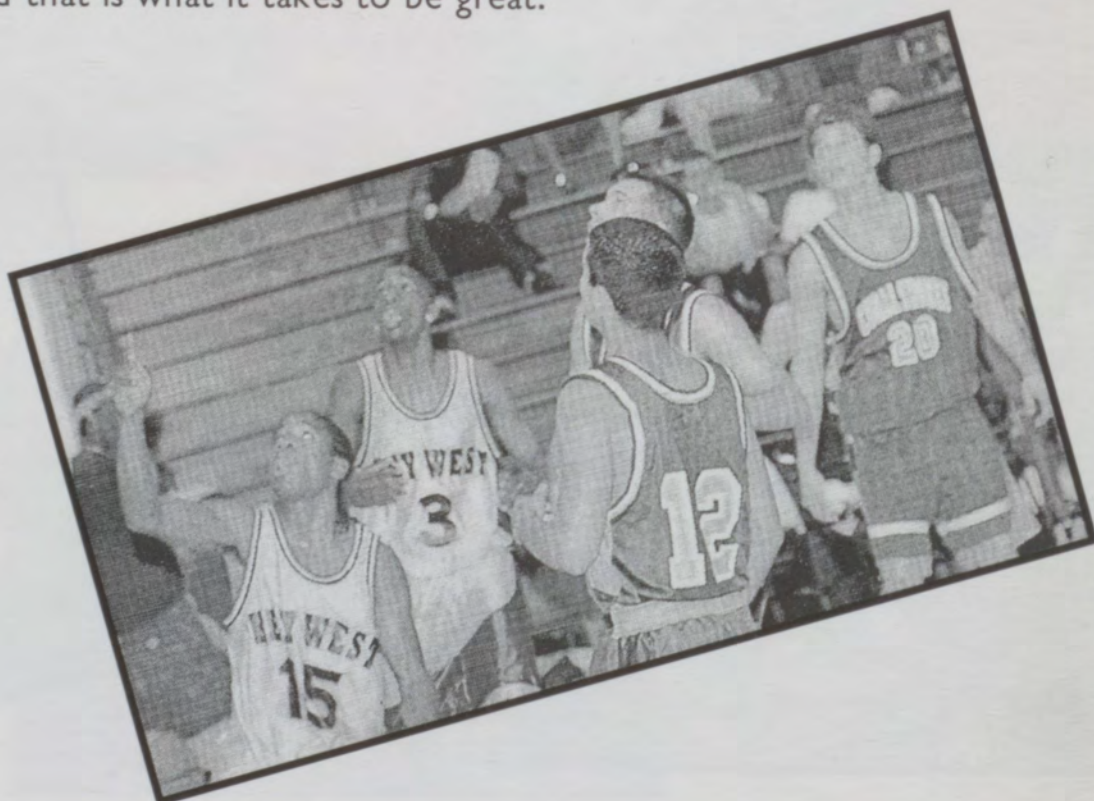

1. During pre-game warm-ups Ashley Thomas shows his jumping capabilities as he goes up for a layup. 2. Tough defense is essential to winning basketball games. Alex Harris is showing an example of tough defense. 3. Lamar Moore aggressively makes his way through Gulliver's defense scoring for the Conch's. 4. Eric Brown is catching some serious air over defenders as they watch on in surprise.

Driving Through the Lane

Whether it's making a three pointer, crossing someone up, or dunking over defenders, the players seem to rise up to these expectations. This year their goal is to bring back something every high school team dreams of, the state championship. So far, they are starting off in the right direction. "Basketball wise, the team is meeting most expectations for a successful season", says Coach Butler. Every home game seems to bring a certain spark into each player, and that is what it takes to be great.

Whoosh! That's the sound you hear as our team scores two more points. The team played 14 games this season. "I think our toughest opponent will be Miami Beach because they are a well rounded team," said sophomore Antwon Williams. The team did very well this year, they won 13 games and lost 1. They had an awesome season and we hope to see all players on the varsity team someday. Way to go Conchs!

It's up, and it's in! Dexter Butler shoots the ball past the other team's defense and scores points for us.

Eight excited players enter the lockerroom. While the girls get ready, the coach huddles the team and goes over the plays. As the game is about to begin coach Lopez shows his support and motivation by making his speech. "Play the best game you can play, do the best and decrease our turnovers. A good team will beat you if you play individual ball. The difference in winning and losing is you cannot just talk basketball, brake the bad habits, learn new strategies, work for and with the team. Win the game at practice and it will carry over in the game for a victory!" As the players run out onto the court, the crowd cheers them on. This is what it's all about, all the hard work and dedication can now be rewarded by competing in something you love.

Ashanti McIntosh is open to pull up for the jump shot and she does, scoring two points while her team cheers her on.

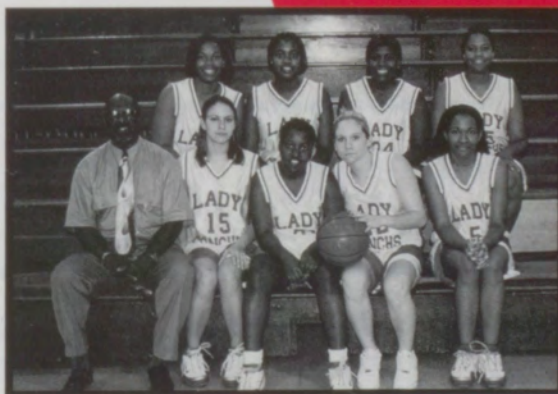

It is mine! Kenya Blocker edges out the competition to gain the rebound. It is important to be aggressive at the boards, so the team keeps possession of the ball.

Ashanti McIntosh overcomes defense with a great jump shot.

At all cost. Desiree Calitri does everything in her power to keep the ball from the other team. Sometimes the point guard must make sacrifices.

1. Moments away from getting a pin, Chad Rodriguez holds his opponent down by driving into him. 2. Anthony Lombardi dominates his opponent from up top and wears him down little by little to ensure his victory. 3. With control of his opponent's arms, Arthur Mulcahy starts to swing around in order to get the other wrestler on his back. 4. The whistle blows and Maxwell Hooten responds with a bump and chop to break his opponent down. 5. Derek Granger gets control of the other wrestler's wrist and brings it around to his back to weaken his opponent's balance.

Ready, Set, Take Down

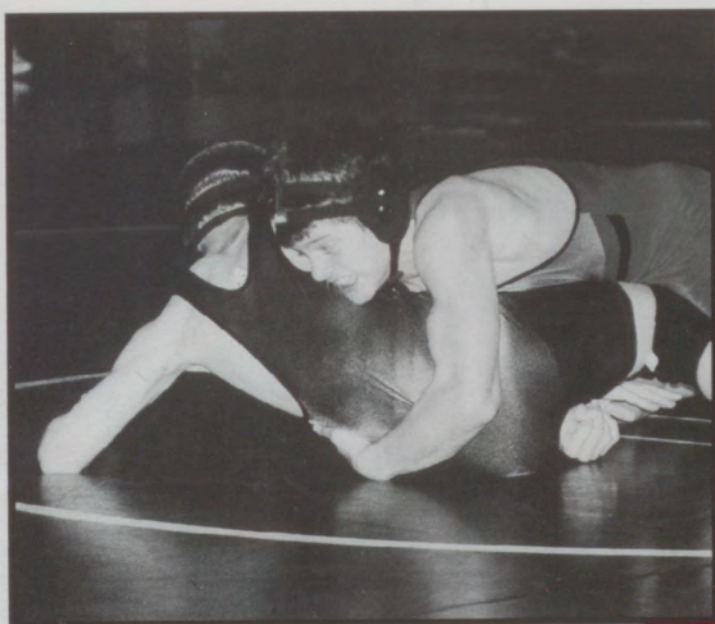

Sweat, straining muscles, and then we get the pin. It's all the same as past years, but with a new element. This year the team returned to practice with the usual assortment of athletes, some experienced, some not, but they also returned with some different members... girls. "As long as they have the dedication it's fine," says Justin Duck. Tiffany Schaafsma proves her dedication by coming in second in the womens state championship. The team has extreme motivation to do well this year and nothing will stop them.

With a chest crusher in, Richard Vandine smiles knowing he is seconds away from pinning his opponent and takes this opportunity to relax.

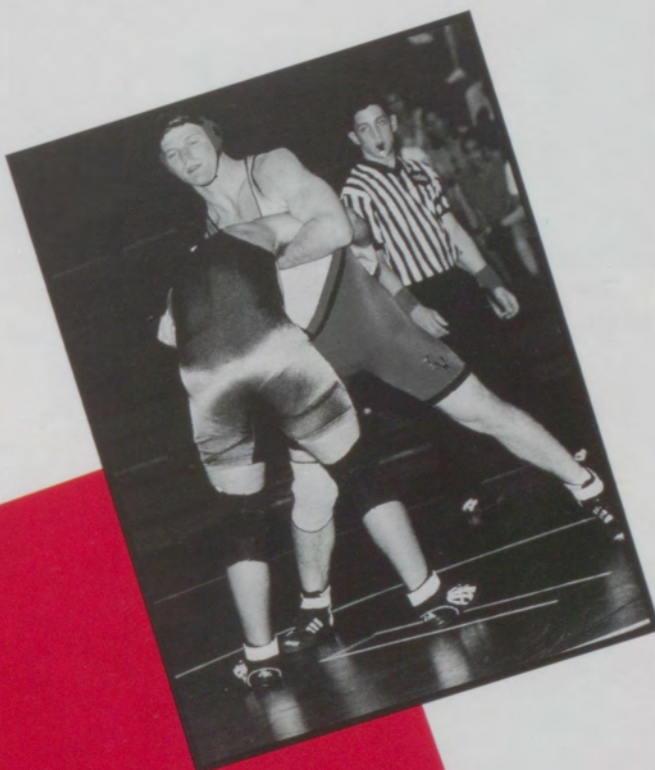

Securing his position on top, Michael Weber automatically puts in a power half to turn his opponent over onto his back.

This season has brought a new coach to the tennis team, Paul Findlay. Having an experienced coach has helped the girls enhance their game. "I think the girls have turned the corner," said Coach Paul Findlay, "things look good for the future." Winning a match early in the season, the girls are looking forward to a successful year.

Zoe Pishke blasts the ball back to her opponet, blowing them away and securing her victory.

TENNIS Serves Up

A one on one challenge can give you a great rush and be very exciting because you are able to take all the credit for a great game. It also becomes difficult when you find yourself in trouble and there are no teammates to help you out or pass the ball to when you get tired. Trying to aim the ball within the small boundaries at a fast speed is what makes it a challenging sport. This year the boy's tennis team increased in skill thanks to the new coach Paul Findlay.

Great things are to come. One cause of this is the more difficult practices. "One day, I had to do 12 200's under 40 seconds", said Chia Ho. Also, there are more people participating, which expands the team's chances of having more experienced runners, year by year. Unfortunately, a few athletes are out with injuries; one of them being Casey Kehoe, who is experiencing back problems. She took 4th at the state meet last year. Despite these obstacles, hopes are high for Key West.

Striding out, Jacqueline Bayliss is running the 4x400 meter relay. Jacqueline is one of the more experienced runners, this being her second year on the team.

Finishing First

1. With victory on her mind, Kristin McKenna takes the lead in the 100 meter hurdles. She executes good form as she flies to the finish line. 2. Hannah Richards competes in the long jump, as she shows her determination to place first.

1. At the exchange, Antwon Williams and Alan Capraro execute a smooth pass off. The fast pace of the race makes transitions difficult. 2. The two mile run on the track is suprisingly fast paced for such a long distance but Joshua Barnes has no problem staying ahead of his competition. 3. Sprinting down the straightaway in the 4x800 meter relay, Marshall Montalto secures the win for our team.

Life in the fast lane

The gun is fired and a jumble of runners surges forward. This year the team is well balanced with veteran and novice runners. It's crucial that the team has old as well as new runners so that when the experienced athletes leave, the others can take their places. "The runners that have been doing this awhile set an example for the others. They show them that it takes dedication and that they have to work hard," said Coach Perkins. The veterans on the team help the rookies improve their performances and ensures the team's success for years to come.

With their legs flying, Antwon Williams and Ernesto Cabrera sweep past the other runners to victory.

Baseball has long been one of the most popular sports in our school. The weekend finally arrives and the stadium fills up with fans ready to show their support. "We have an excellent group of players this year. If everyone on the team lives up to their expectations we will become State Champions," says Thomas Freeman. The guys have high goals and with talent like theirs they are sure to succeed.

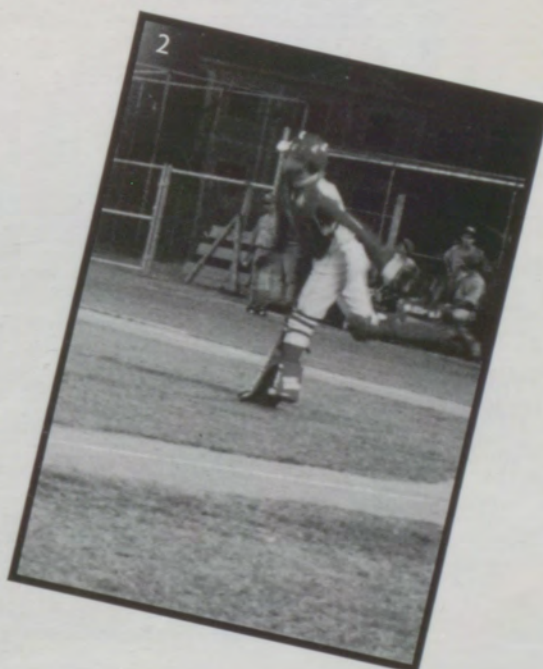

While waiting to go to the plate, Louie Paez warms up to loosen up his swing.

Showing Their Pride

1. Eagerly awaiting the ball Ralph Henriquez adjusts his equipment while teammate Xavier Perez prepares to throw. 2. As the only freshman on the team this year, Ralph Henriquez has claimed his spot on the team as a starting catcher.

1. As one of the pitchers, Daryl Lewis' job is to strike out the other team. 2. Raymundo Diaz warms up before one of the many games this season. 3. Chas Spottswood practices throwing a few strikes. 4. Gus Alfonso warms up with the pitcher before a game. 5. All that practice pays off for Chas Spottswood as he strikes out one of the opponents.

BATTER UP

Seeing the JV Baseball team with as much talent as they have, we could be looking at a great varsity program in the future. The team may be young, but theres a lot of talent there, which will only improve as time goes by. Adjusting from the junior leagues to the high school level takes time and practice. With determination and experience they make a good high school baseball program. With the help and encouragement of their coaches this year Coach DiFabio and Coach Valdez, they are sure to have a great season.

The team waits with antdipation to hear if the umpire will call the third out for them to go out on the field.

3. Ariana Corsi goes to steal home, but Brittany Commander makes for the tag.

While at practice, Janessa Sawyer works on her homerun hitting skills. She has contributed greatly to the outcome of the season.

The team has had a good season. "Even though our first loss was bad, we can still hang in there and keep our heads up," says Ashley James, who plays shortstop and pitcher this year. With Coaches Neil Mellies and Alexa Leto, the team feels that they will succeed in their goals. Hopefully by next year, the team will be undefeated.

The Conchs, are getting ready, aggressively, for the next play against Gulliver.

Working Towards Runs

1. Terasa Smith warms up before the game at third base.

2. Breanna Kight attempts to throw to second base to make the out.

1. Third baseman, Heidi Taylor, warms up before the game. Getting your muscles loose protects against injuries. 2. The girls look on as their teammates get ready to bat. Being a part of a team also means supporting one another. 3. Samantha Smithwick goes after the ball in a game against Coral Shores. 4. Janessa Delgado gears up to throw the next pitch. 5. Latoya Taylor gets ready for the play. Every player must concentrate on the location of the ball in case it ends up in their area.

GOING, GOING, GONE.

The team hopes to have a great season under new head coach Neil Mellies and assistant coaches Alexa Leto, Neda Preston, and Kristi Bernstein. The girls are spending countless hours practicing to improve their strength. "This year I think Gulliver will be our hardest opponent, but if we work as a team, I think we can beat them," said Jamie Mattingly. The team has great potential, with a winning season in their sights. Coach Mellies said, "So far the J.V. season is going well. They won their first game; they have a lot of talent." The Lady Conchs are well on their way to victory.

Janessa Delgado works on her pitching skills at her afternoon practice. Good pitching is an important part of a team's defense.

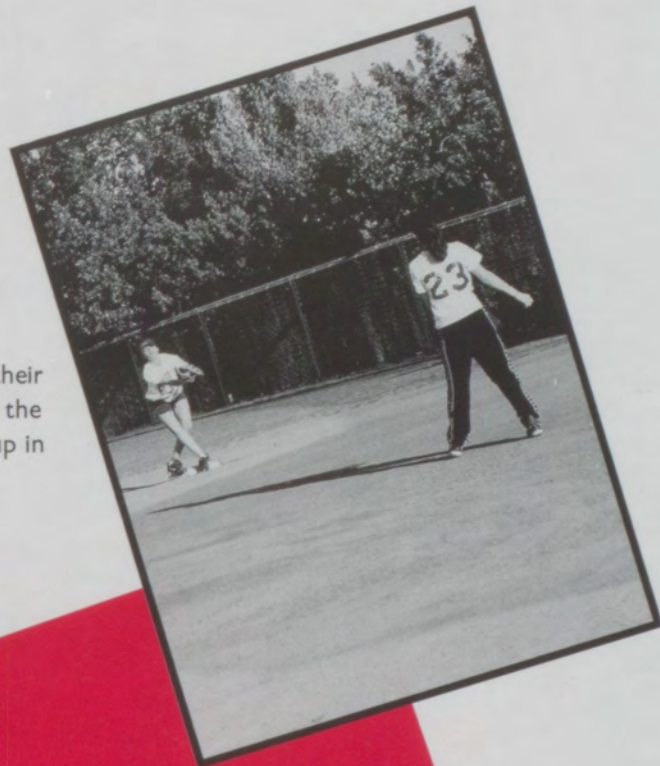

Catcher Hela Emanuel patiently awaits the pitch while preparing for their upcoming game. The catcher must be just as prepared for the pitch as the opposing team's batter. If a ball is tipped off the bat, it needs to end up in her glove.

Erica Lopez fields a grounder and throws the ball home to get the runner out. Even though this is practice, every player must give 100%.

Second baseman Robyn Srednicki covers first as the batter bunts the ball. She must cover the base as the first baseman goes for the ball so they can tag the runner out.

Brandie

Brandie,

When your tiny hand touched mine, I knew that I had been chosen to nurture you, love you, and then give you the strength to let go. Letting go is not easy, but I look at you now - a beautiful young woman, strong in your convictions and determined to face life on your own terms, and I feel my heart swell with pride and joy. The future is yours.

With love from, Mommy, Charles, Brittany, Jack, Christina, and Chris.

Kelly

Brandie,
It's hard to believe that my little "pumpkin" has grown into a beautiful young woman. I am so very proud of you and all that you have achieved.
May all your dreams come true.

Love Dad

Although you are not from me, you are a part of my soul and spirit. May you always dance.

Love Mary

To our sister, we love you lots and wish you the greatest of success.

Thomas A. Bouchard Jr.

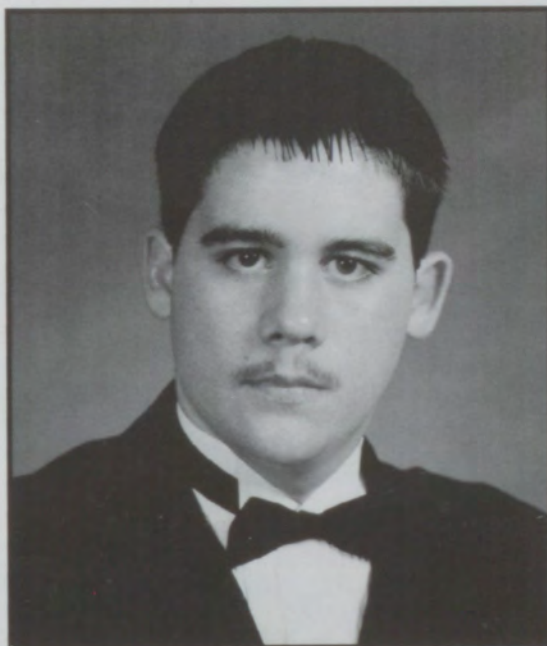

Dear Thomas - We can't begin to tell you enough how very proud we are of you. You have come a long way with many achievements to count for. I have always said to you that whatever you set your mind to, it can be achieved, and you did just that. Always remember that God is with you no matter what achievement is difficult too accomplish. He will be there to guide you through it (as well as your family). We love you and will always be here for you.

Thank you for being such a wonderful joy in our lives.
We love you son! Mom, Dad, T.J.

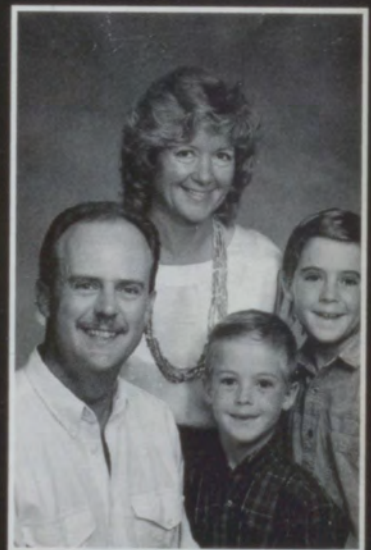

Jody Paul Diezel

JP Congratulations!!! We are so proud of you. We wish you great success in whatever you choose to do in life. Always strive to do your best. It's hard to believe 18 years have passed since I held you in my arms for the first time and you stole our hearts at that very moment. We love you very much.

My dearest Jalynn,
It is hard to believe that 18 years have gone by. I will always cherish and treasure those memories dear and close to my heart. You have become a beautiful and courageous young woman that I admire and love so very much. As you take a giant step into this big world to fulfill your dreams and life long ambitions, I will always be there for you just as I was when you took your first step. Now, go shoot for the stars and capture all of your dreams. Always remember "You are my Sunshine".

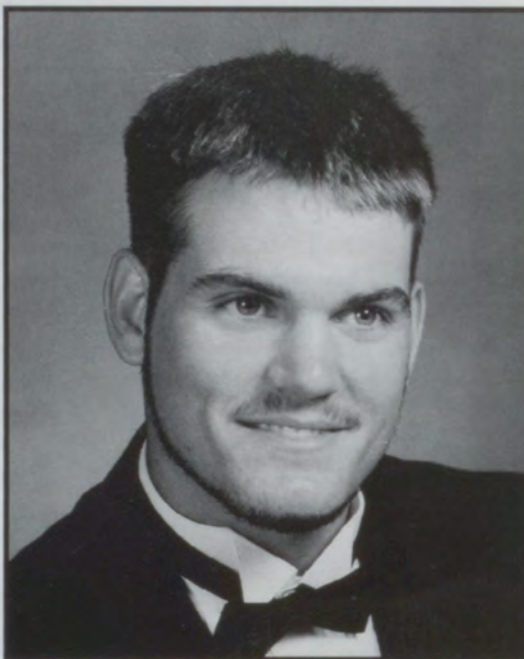

I love you girl!

Amanda Walker

Dear Amanda,
My daughter, you've brought such joy to our family these past 18 years. You've grown from a tiny shy little girl into a confident beautiful young lady! Keep growing, follow your dreams, and believe in yourself, as I believe in you! Thank you for including me in your life throughout your high school years, it's been so much fun! My wish for you is that someday you too will have your own daughter, just like you. Because of you, my heart is bursting with pride, and joy, and love!

XOXO, Mom and Doug
Zack and Abbey too!

Quashanti Simmons

Quashanti,

First of all I give God thanks and glory for all the things He has done. We thank God for how He has brought you through every situation. How very proud we are of you. You have always stayed focused. Ever since you were a little girl you had respect for me and others. So, I know what you put your mind to do, with the help of God you can achieve it. So, cast all your cares on God and He'll see you through. I love you always. May God Bless and keep you in His cares, always.

From

Mom, Dad, Sisters, Brother

Cody Granger

Hey, Cody Bear!

The years have flown by so quickly, and now you are finished with High School! You have been the son every parent dreams of having. Full of fun! Full of life! You have been an outstanding athlete in wrestling, baseball and football. There has never been a dull moment with you in our family. You have been a great little brother to Kenna and a wonderful big brother to Tyler and Drew. We had some hard times in life but as a family we have always made it through. And the good has outweighed the bad.

We always had something to do with you as a son, whether it was you always having practice or just something to do, or several friends just wanting to hang out at our house. You have seemed to choose good people as friends, not just casual friends, but those that have lasted through the years. We are sure the new friends in Key West will be the same.

We can't wait to see what the future brings for you. We know it will be great and we are sure as usual it will never be boring! We are all proud of you and love you very much!

Love,

Mom, Jim, Kenna, Tyler and Drew

Kelley Haack

Kel,
We are so proud of the young woman you have become. We love you & know without a

JOSEPH MORGAN

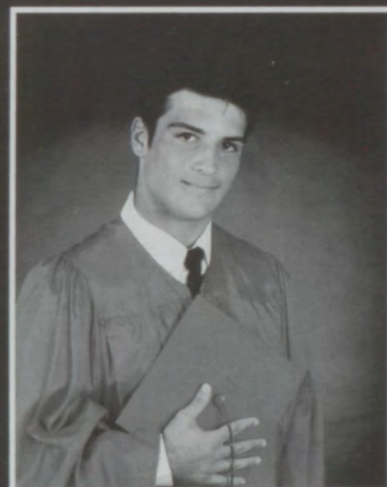

"It is unusual to find the level of maturity and the willingness to vindicate principle as you exhibited. You have demonstrated the qualities of integrity, bravery and principle that will guarantee that you become the man that all of us have always felt you would be. From everything that I can see, you are truly Hugh Morgan's son. My hat is off to you."

Joseph P. Klock, Jr., Esq.

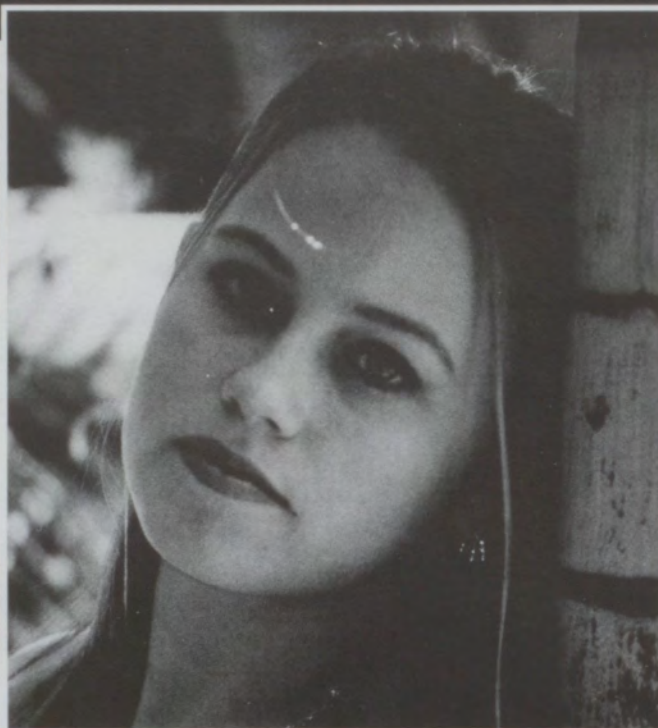

Joseph: These comments are particularly meaningful because they come from someone other than us who think the world of you and who love you immensely. You have been an ideal son and we are still learning from you and your exceptional good nature, qualities and principles. Indeed we are overflowing with pride and also our hats are off to you son. will be ready for it.
When you were born, and you looked at us both with those beautiful hazel eyes, we knew then and there that you would be a beautiful young woman, not only on the outside, but also on the inside. Your smile lights up the world for all that are lucky to know you. You are truly a friend to all.
We want you to know
how proud we are of you,
and we will always be there for you.

Congratulations on your graduation.
Love,
Your Mother and Father

Dear Mary,

We admire the person that you've become and know that you have the tools to go far in life. Continue to take the path less traveled whenever your instincts tell you to do so. Always remember that "Character is who you are when no one but God is watching".

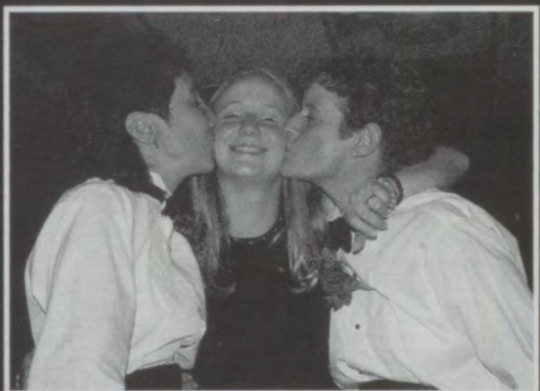

Love, Mom and Dad

Growing
I'm leaving now to slay the foe
Fight the battles, high and low
I'm leaving, Mother, hear me go!
Please wish me luck today.

I've grown my wings, I want to fly,
Seize my victories where they lie.
I'm going, Mom, but please don't cry
Just let me find my way.

I want to see and touch and hear,
Though there are dangers, there are fears.
I'll smile my smiles and dry my tears.
Please let me speak my say.

I'm off to find my world, my dreams,
Carve my niche, sow my seeds.
Remember, as I sail my streams
I'll love you, all the way.

Brooke Mueller

Tiffany Nicole

What a beautiful young woman you have grown to be. Keep striving for the future and let nothing stand in your way. Let those great qualities of yours be your guidelines. We are all so proud of you and are so blessed by you. We love you very much.
Mom, Matt, Bubba, Matthew, Kailey

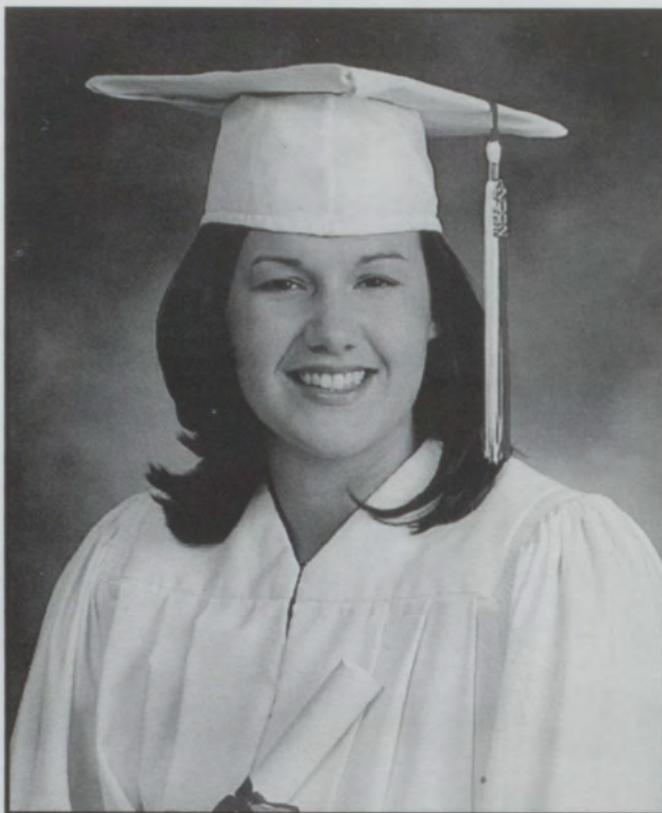

We wish you butterflies and rainbow skies to brighten all you do. Lovely flowers and sunny hours as wonderful as you. Hold close your dreams, welcome every challenge and look beyond what others see. We are all proud of the young woman you have become. Congratulations.

With pride and love - Tia Lou, Michael, Aunt Fran, Uncle Pete, Uncle Ed, Aunt Lee, Dad, Gran, Ralphie, all your cousins, most of all your guardian angel...

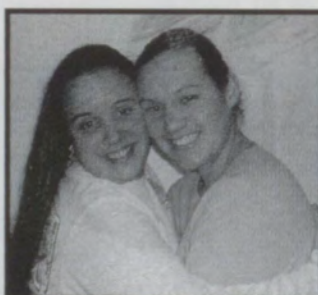

Lindsey Sexton

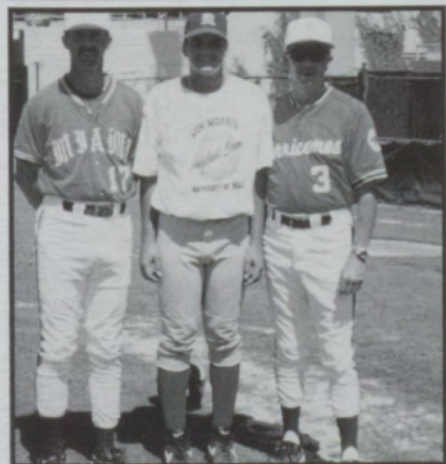

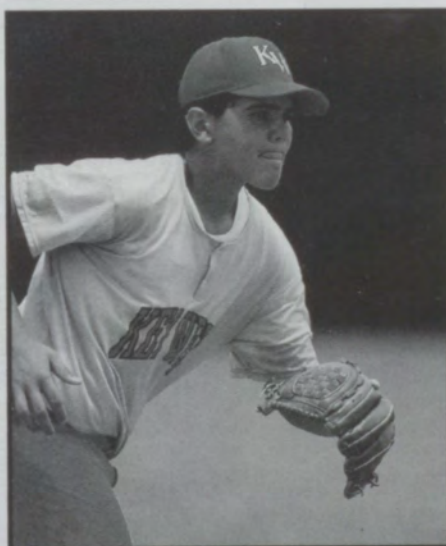

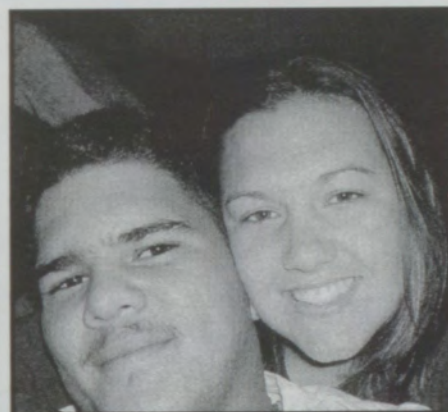

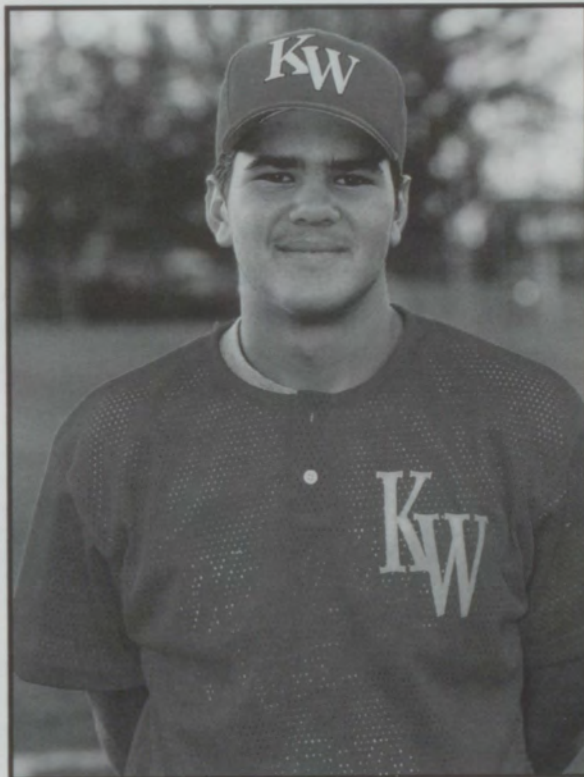

Linz,
Live life to the fullest. Laugh a lot, love a lot and be happy. We are so proud of you. We know that you can achieve any goal in life that you set your mind to. So now is your time, go out and do it.
We love you, Mom & Misty

It seems like it was yesterday that I held you when you were a baby. But time has a way of slipping past us unnoticed. I closed my eyes for a moment, and opened them to find you grown. No parent could ever feel as close to a child as I do to you. You are sensitive and caring, loving and giving. You are a person whom people respect, and so do I. I am so proud of you and I am so proud to be your mom.

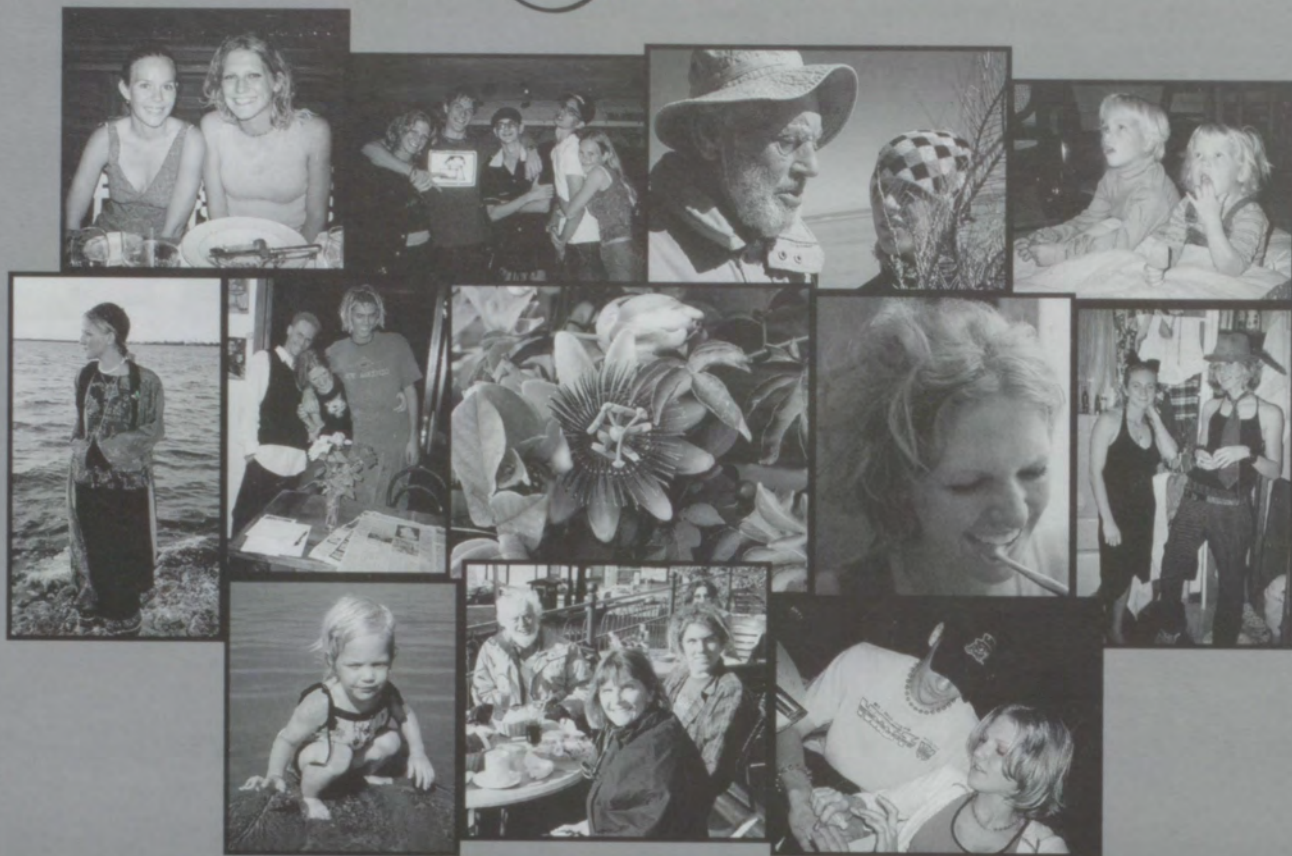

I love you

A little girl, you are no more - you have crossed through a new door.
Reach high, my darling! There is a lot of wonder to be found - just remember to keep your feet on solid ground.

I love you and am truly proud of you but then I know you can do all you put your mind to.

Only God knows your future, your destiny, as your momma I know you are a blessing to me.

Never give up or forget that your family loves you and that we have faith in you.

Even though your Dad is now gone, I know his pride & love for you lives on.
And remember baby this is the beginning not the end.

Congratulations - Love Your Momma & Friend

Graduation is a time
For feeling very proud,
For thinking lots of lovely thoughts
And saying them out loud.

It's a time for feeling love
About to overflow,
And just before it leaps its banks
To let the loved one know.

And so we're very proud of you
For being who you are,
For making something of yourself,
For making it this far.

We're proud because we're part
Of everything you do.
And now's the time to say how much
Love we have for you!

With all our love,
Dad, Colleen,
And your brothers and sisters.

What comes from within is everything inside of you.

your joys, your fears,
your times of laughter,
and times of sorrow.

What comes from within is not just feelings and emotions, but how we express ourselves
through our words and actions.

What comes from within...
A question that can go on for an eternity.

What comes from within
is who you really are,
What you truly believe in and how you lead your life.

Memories are what we will cherish and will have left.

Our friends will be the people who we can count on.

Our family will have everlasting support and unconditional love.

Looking back at this past year and remembering all of those who have lost their lives,
we see the best and worst of our world.
We see what occurs around us and show ourselves just how precious and valueable each moment is.
We realize how much we take for granted and most of all to never give up hope.
The Yearbook Staff would like to dedicate
The Conch 2002 to those who have endless hope and who never give up.

AUTOCRAPH

Let us live a better life and remember all of those who have lost their lives

and the best of our world

We see that each of us

and show ourselves just how

and the best of our world

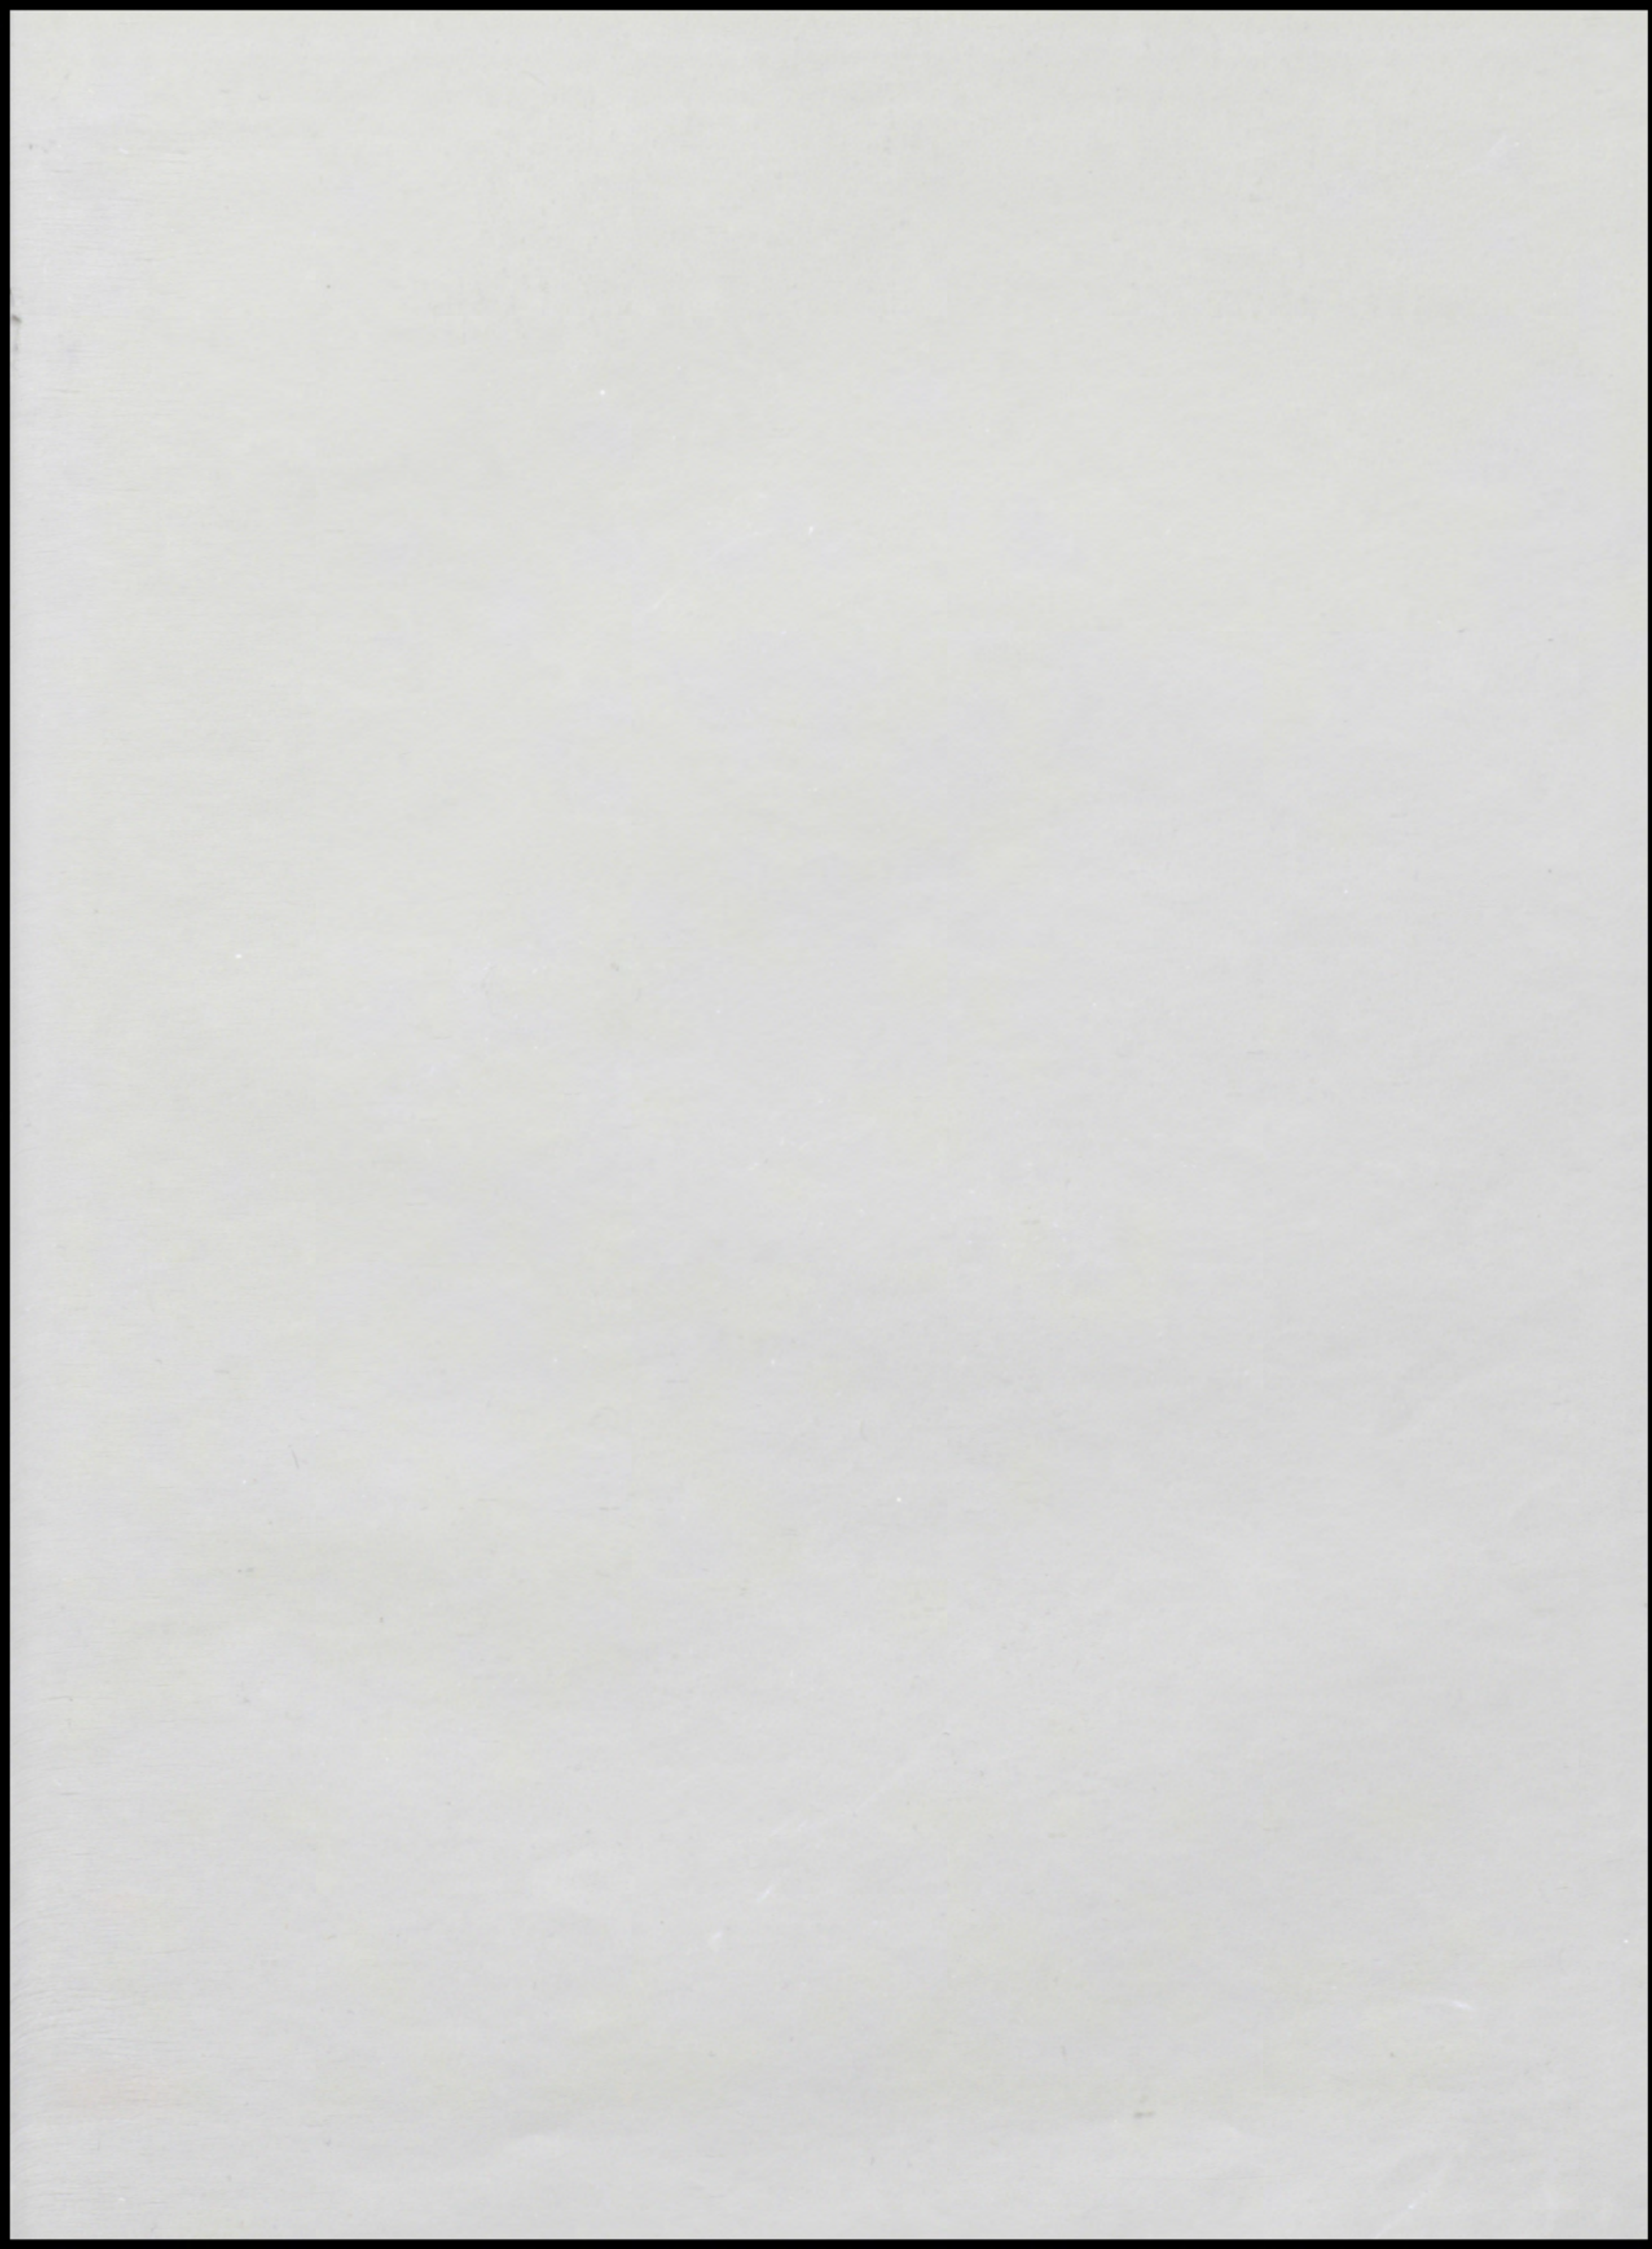

We really don't care who

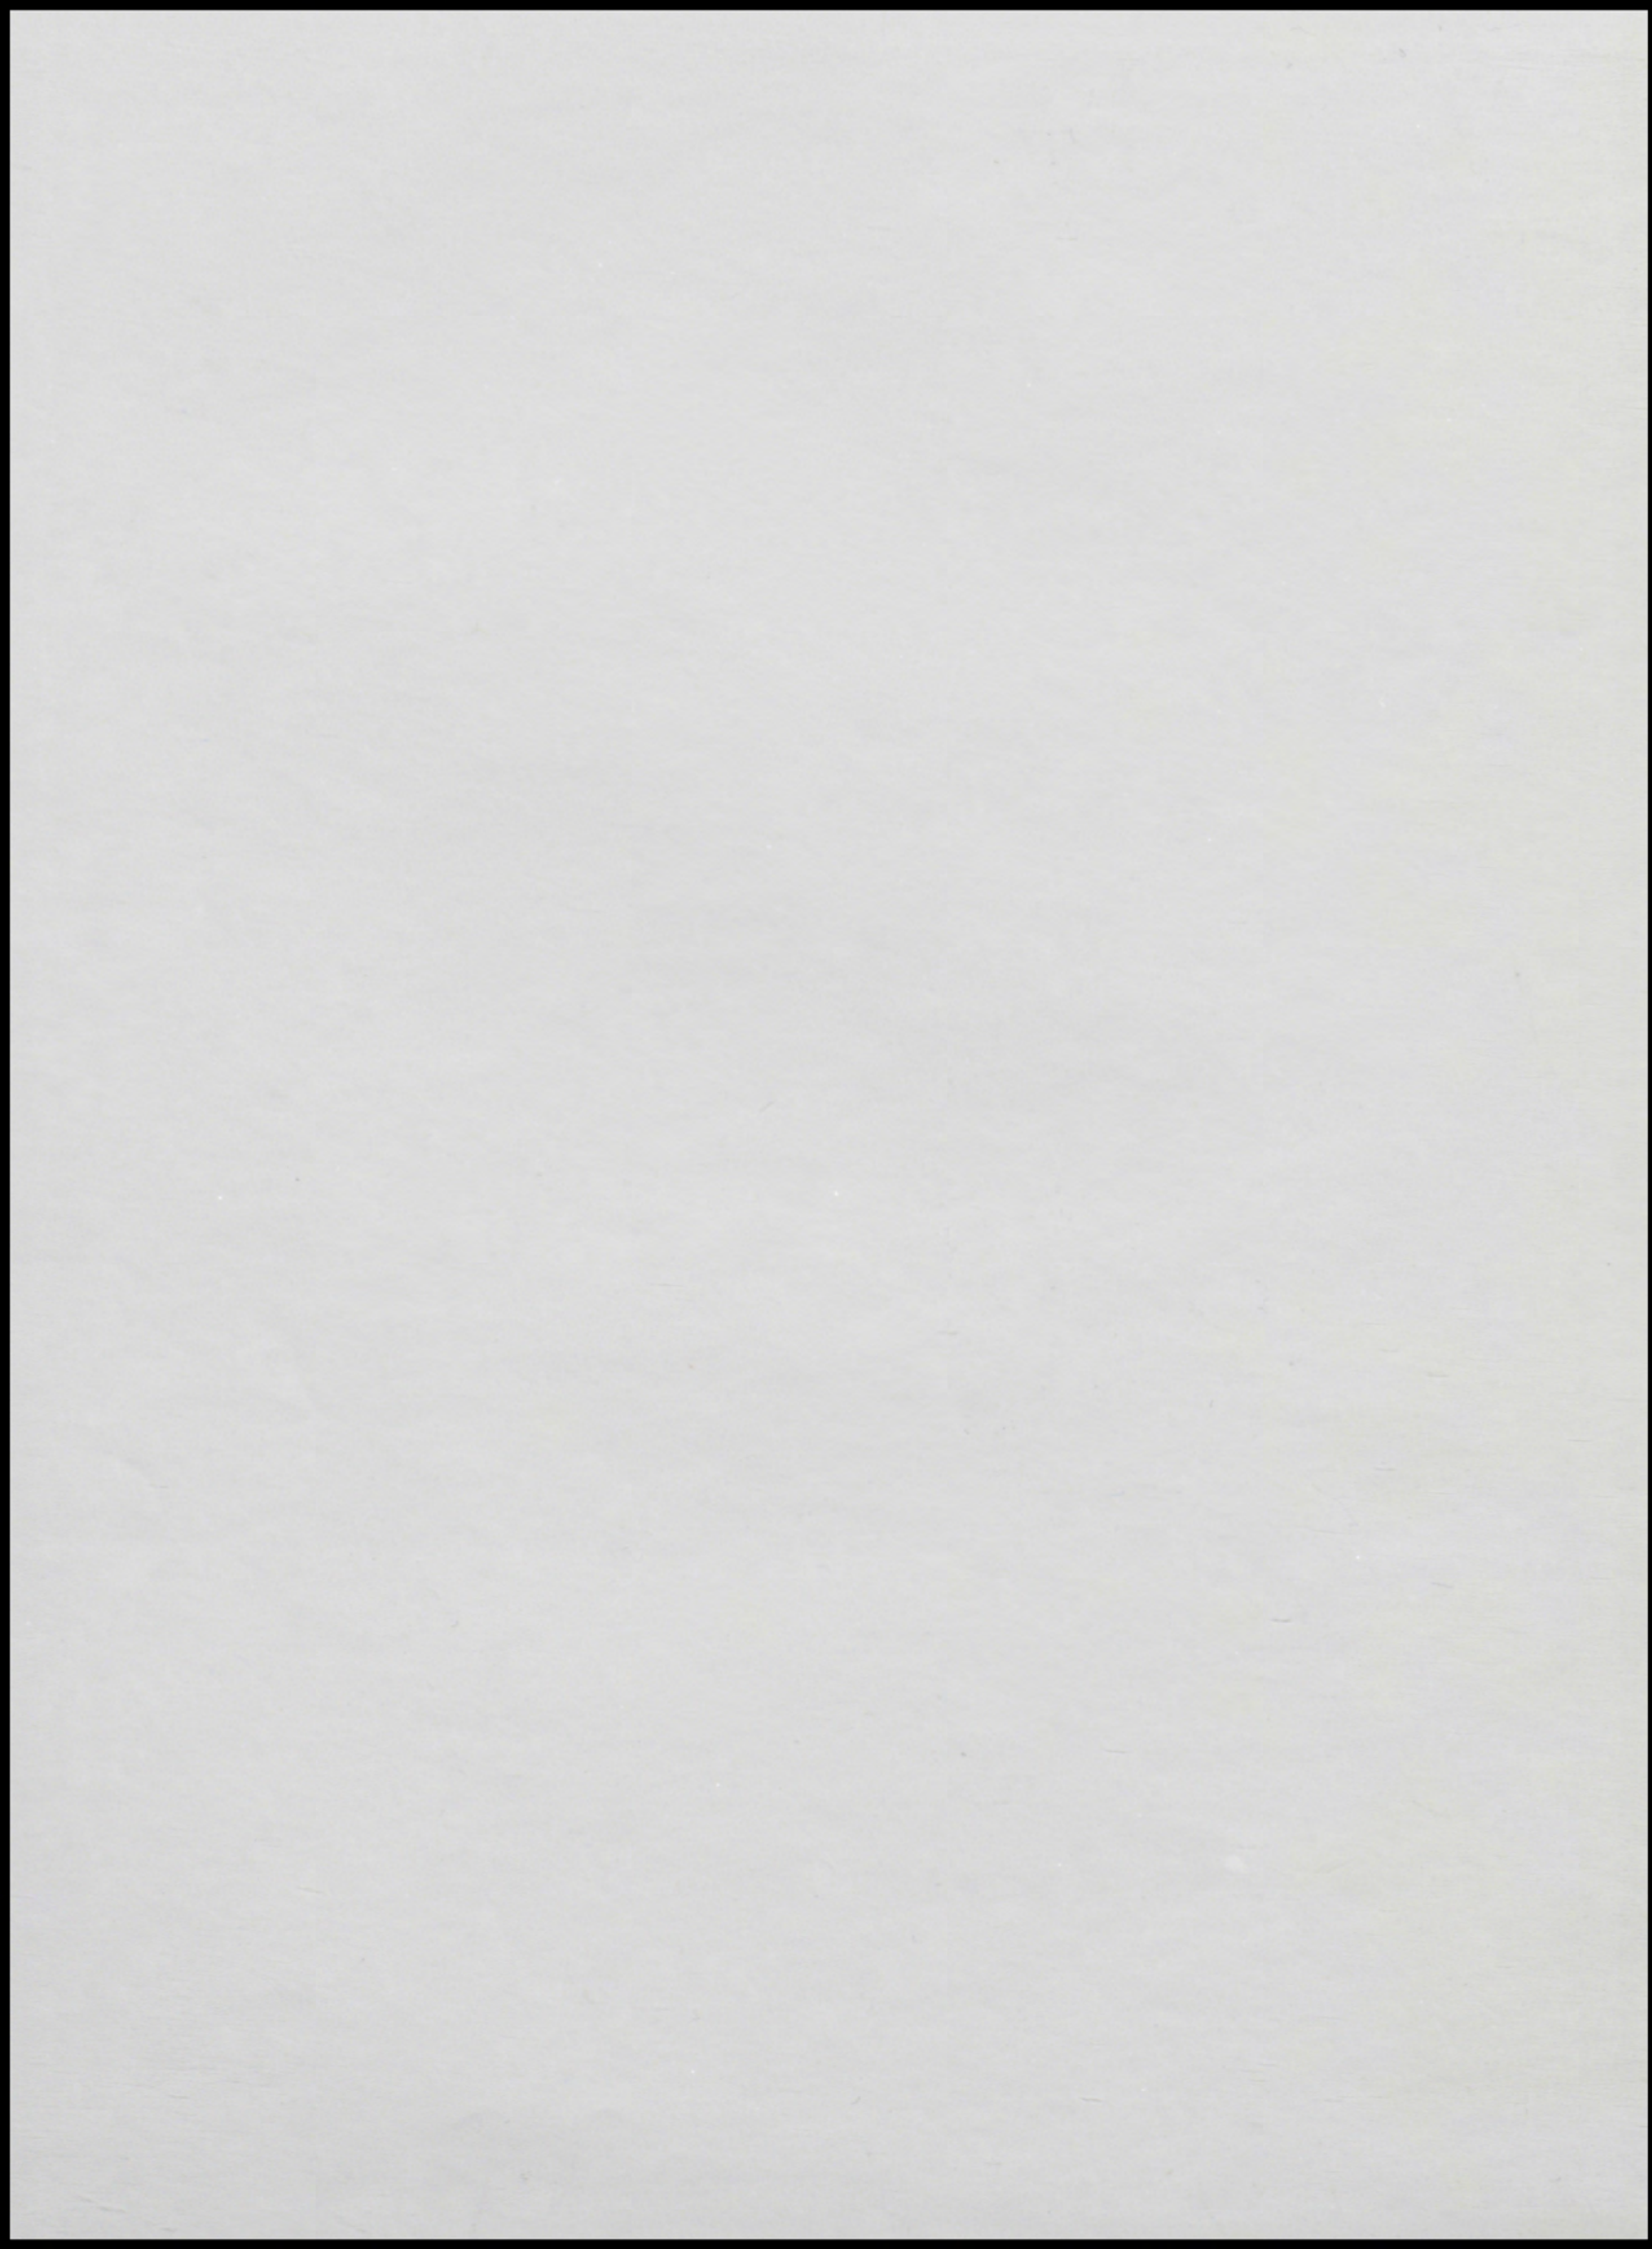

and most of all we give up

The Yearbook will be like the best

The Coach 2002 to those who have endless hope and never give up

Colophon

From Within, the Conch 2002, was produced by the Key West High School Yearbook Staff at 2100 Flagler Avenue, Key West, Fl. Ms. Kinnune, advisor, headed production. The book is 9x12 with a press run of 850 copies with 352 pages of 80 lb matte paper. The Conch 2002 was published by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas, represented by Ken Thornberry of Fort Lauderdale, Florida. The cover was designed by Shiri Kainan, Stephanie Thompson, Brittani Harden, Kristin McKenna, Ms. Kinnune, and Ms. Oman using 160-pt binder's board, a 4-color photo tip in, silk-screening, foil stamping, and embossing with Silver 915 on design and Maroon Foil on the lettering. The endsheets are Milkweed with Black 1. Fonts used throughout the book are: Ballardville, Ballardville Italic, Bern, Black Chancery, Dweller, Eric, Mickey, Nouveau Gothic, and Yougstar. The folio is three squares overlapping each other in Black 40%.

The Key West High School Yearbook Staff would like to thank the parents, teachers, faculty, staff, and community for their everlasting support.
