We are the Conchs, whether fifth generation or first. We are where we come from. Conchs are not just people. To be a Conch is a way of life. We win together and we lose together. We celebrate the memorable times together and console one another in challenging matters. No matter where we go our pride precedes us.

The pictures are place holders for the words that describe us. They capture our memories and hold fast the life we leave behind. So many words capture who we are.....

A Picture is Worth 2009 Words caught in the moment

Pictures were essential in catching the moments. From the moment of pure exhilaration, when winning the Homecoming game, to the moment of disappointment when some realized it would be their last performance on the field. Each picture had a way of catching the moment as it transpired, displaying raw, unbiased emotions. Although not all of our experiences were positive, they helped mold each person into who they are today. The pictures remind us that we overcame many adversities in our lives, and they changed us for the better.....

Matthew Chelekis, Austin Cerkleski, Garrett Pita, and Michael Murphy hold up their catch from a great summer day on the boat.

Mrs. Cerkleski

It's finally the time of year everyone waits for; summer time!! Summer time is the time when your biggest worry is which bathing suit to wear. Over this past summer, students enjoyed sleeping in, going on vacations, and soaking up the sun. "I'm sad that it was my last summer in high school, but I was happy to end it with a

People express their individuality through the items in their bags. Not only does the style of bag define the person, but also the essentials that they carry in their bag. You'd be surprised, even teachers, have strange possessions that they are toting around with them. From staplers and Crystal Light, to lip gloss and cell phones, you never know what you're going to find. Who knows what the person sitting next to you in math class may be carrying.

Fashion came in many shapes, colors, trends, sizes, and accessories. Some students liked to follow the latest trends and others made their own fashion statements. No matter the style, it made for an interesting blend. While most students preferred to dress casual and comfy for their school days, others simply enjoyed wearing dresses and heels on a daily basis. From skinny jeans to sweat pants or t-shirts to ties, fashion of all sorts were expressed daily in the hallways.

Our school mirrored the world because it had a diverse culture. A lot can be learned from the students and their ethnic backgrounds. Some students revealed something unique about their heritage, and they were willing to share it with others. "I was born in Japan, and am of Filipino decent. I have lived here for what seems like forever and I love it," said senior, Kriszelda Menez. We had a diverse mix of students and the great thing was that there were people from all over the world. Although they were not native, they easily learned to know and love the "Conch" lifestyle and shared their traditions with others.

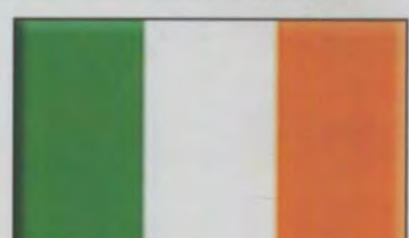

Cassandra McGee

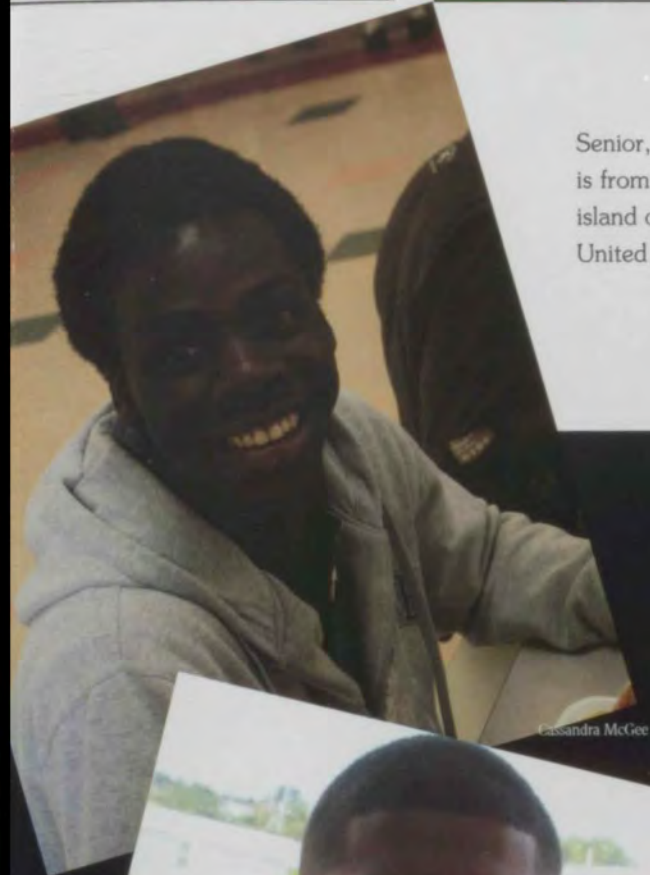

Farida Begum calls the middle-eastern country, Bangladesh, her native home. Her good friend and classmate, Munisa Makhmudjanova, was born and raised in Uzbekistan. Julia Taylor makes conversation about her sushi pajamas on Pajama Day.

Every student, new and old, waited patiently for Homecoming week. This one week made up one of the most exciting parts of the school year. Students anticipated the floats, the competitions and rivalries, the Homecoming game, King and Queen elections, and finally the dance. One could not forget about all of the spirit that goes into making everything traditional and full of conch pride. Having experienced those events as a senior reminded Martika MacLaren that was her last year, "Its hard to believe that this is the last time I will be getting ready for Homecoming. I'm going all out this year because it's the end of the road and I want to make it unforgettable." Luckily for the underclassmen, they have a few more years to better their Homecoming week experiences.

The Homecoming Parade was one of the most exciting events of the entire school year. Each class worked hard building a float, planning a skit and trying to calm their nerves before each performance. Each class had to base their float around Broadway which made it interesting and theatrical. The students looked forward to the parade and waited in anticipation for the winners to be announced.

The clapping of the cheerleaders, the tempo and upbeat flavor of the band, the Conchettes, as well as the spirit of the students made up the anticipated and exciting pep rallies. The pep rally is one of the many traditions that the school took pride in. At the pep rally, students pumped up their fellow classmates for the season. It's a pastime that everyone loved and looked forward to getting involved in. How could one not want to participate in such an exciting activity?

The seniors thrived in the majority of events at clash of the classes. Starting off with only a few wins, they paced themselves and finished first place by one point. Luckily, their school spirit and pride helped them win it all and take home the gold conch. Being that it was their last time participating in clash of the classes, they had one last chance to walk away with a win and that they did.

It's hard to remember an event without pictures to capture the moment. The happy times and the sad times were documented by digital cameras.

"I like to take pictures because it expresses the individuality of the person captured in them and it's great to look back at them and remember the moments we shared with others," said senior Christian Deen.

In ten years or more students will look back and remember how they were in high school. It will always be fun to reminisce about friends, teachers, and the countless number of activities that went on.

Sometimes students don't remember certain events or people, but the moment they see a picture, it triggers memories about people and the fun times had by all. Picture it.....

A Picture is Worth 2009 words behind the scene

When students got involved, they did so 100%. Whether it was getting good grades or being involved in after school activities, they went the extra mile. The pictures here are a testimony to that; a testimony to the hard work, dedication, intelligence, and time spent by those who cared the most.

The rigorous courses took time not only in school, but out of school. The students put their community first and made sure that they would be a generation that made a difference. If the school were remembered for nothing less than its clubs and organizations, than it would have been remembered well.....

Natalie Castaldo

Cassandra McGee

Seniors, Alexia Degraffenreid and Sarah Rodriguez decorate Wendy's room.

Michael Palka

Andrea Niles carefully cuts out a piece of their float while Ariel Sanchez instructs others.

Michael Palka

Leaving their mark

The 2008-2009 Executive Boards put a lot of time into their work and club. They spent countless hours preparing their floats and met a few times a month to discuss and plan new activities for their class. There was a different council for each grade and each was responsible to develop fundraisers for their class. They participated in car washes, spirit jugs, spirit links and other events to make money for their class. "Executive board isn't just a club to us, it's a time that all of us can come together throughout the year and just have fun. Whether it's having a car wash or building our float we all enjoy doing it." said senior Sean C. Williams.

Music to My Ears

A diverse group of people who shared an interest in musical art were the members of the bands. The marching band, led by talented Mr. Goldstein, is one of the many highlights at a football game or pep rally. The bands had many musicians who could excel in a wide variety of extra- curricular activities, but chose to showcase their abilities in the world of music. "It was awesome to be invited to perform at the New Years Eve festival in Rome because of our talent" said Amanda Lopez, marching band member. Besides the talented band, we also have an equally talented guitar program, led by Mr. Truhan. The students loved playing, and most of them liked it so much that they plan on continuing next year. Our talented music programs came a long way, and great things are bound to come out of our musically inclined students.

The scholastic clubs consist of Mu Alpha Theta, National Honor Society, and Academic Challenge. The clubs are made up of committed, hard working students who take the importance of education very seriously.

Mu Alpha Theta students must have at least a B average and have completed Algebra 2 to become members. Members must take 6 tests and their scores are compared to other students throughout Florida. Sponsor, Mr. Clearman, enjoys seeing the students grow and become successful.

The National Honor Society has a variety of students between grades 10 and 12. Students must hold a grade point average of 3.5 or higher. Members work hard in the classroom and on homework to achieve and maintain the required grade point average. Students set the bar high and achieve success.

The Academic Challenge team is a club that competes against all Monroe County Schools. They use knowledge that has been taught in and out of school to win competitions. The students excel in the academics arena and where competitions are concerned, soar with the best.

Student Council was a large and important organization that was responsible for many school events. Student Council was considered to be a representation of the school and members made decisions on things such as, the Homecoming Queen's crown and the theme for Homecoming. Also, the club also participated in service events such as decorating for homecoming and making holiday cards for the elderly. They met on Tuesdays after school and had a very successful year. A BRIGHTER FUTURE

Conservation, eco-friendly, and going green.....those are all things associated with the Bio-Diesel club. Bio-Diesel received great feedback from the county for their valiant efforts in making the environment a friendlier place. There were many people in the community that were proud to see students trying to go green. The Bio-Diesel club dealt with making alternative fuels by collecting old grease from restaurants. "It's a great class to learn about alternative fuels. Learning about all of these alternative fuels our class is becoming more educated and hopefully will be able to make a change in the future," said Matthew Fox. Because the class is so large, they are hoping to have a positive effect on the entire school about being eco-friendly. "We need to set good examples for kids so they don't make the same mistakes we did; we're trying to set positive examples of going green. We're paying the price for the last generations' mistakes, so better to start with us," said member Mary Gaston.

"Be the Change" pulled together a plethora of students from Key West High to do exactly as its name says—be the change. From the tears that fall on Challenge Day to the laughter ringing during Big Brothers Big Sisters sessions, the people involved believed that little by little, one person at a time, the world can change. And though it takes time, they worked hard. They realized the rewards that come from the hard work of doing what is right. People outside realized this too. It may not always seem that the audience is very apparent, they keep working hard, showing dedication and loyalty to basic integrity.

For centuries publications played a huge role in society. It was no different in this day and time. The student body anxiously anticipated the latest news and the publications classes worked hard to get it to them via the newspaper, the Snapper and the annual edition of the Conch yearbook. Both publications highlighted events and recorded memories. The Snapper and Yearbook staffs consisted of dedicated members, who enjoyed informing others of what was going on in school. The classes also served as an opportunity for students to obtain practice towards a possible career that may require similar skills. "The best part of the yearbook is making memories for my school," said, three year Yearbook Staff veteran, Alexia Degraffenreid.

Keys Kids did it again, another spectacular array of plays. Every year this group of kids ranging from grades 3-12 audition for a play. Most of the time, the productions are musical plays. This year was exceptional. Oklahoma, the first play of the year was performed in October of 2008 was about a young cowboy falling in love with a farmer. The cowboy faced many obstacles to achieve his goal.

"Working in Oklahoma was a lot of fun for everyone. We still have songs stuck in our head, from ho-downs to bails of hay, to romance. Everyone was involved," said Mariah Woessner. The second play of the year was just as outstanding as the first. Willy Wonka was about a young boy who found a golden ticket in his chocolate bar that invited him to visit the mysterious chocolate factory owned by Mr. Willy Wonka. The boy and his grandfather, along with five other kids and their relatives visited the factory and had all kind of adventures. The productions were must-sees and wowed the audience.

Keys Kids put on another great play this year. High School Musical was a fun and quirky play about high school aged kids who had to find their way through the halls of East High School. All of the students that participated did an amazing job and performed their hearts out. Not only did all of the students do extensive singing, but they also had to learn difficult dances. Some found really challenging, but in the end, it was well worth it. Thanks to a great stage crew, creative directors and teachers, and talented actors, the play went off without a hitch. Many of the participants mentioned what hard work it was, and how they have eons of free time now that its over. "I had a really good time as Chad, and thought everyone did an awesome job", said Ashton Ricks, and surely everyone agreed.

With Key West's small size and secluded location, you would think it would be hard for people to express their individuality through clothing. Fortunately, that is certainly not the case! People with a love for fashion and sewing joined the club for a chance to express it. The Fashion Club, in it's second year, has excited and united many. The club, led by Ms. Santana, hosted an annual fashion show debuting items made by student designers. Students worked hard all year long in class learning the skills of the trade in order to produce their best pieces for the fashion show. The fashion show gave not only designers an opportunity to show off their creations, but, also, possibly inspired students to pursue a future career in modeling.

The Freshman Academy was a program that all incoming freshmen were a part of. The program helped to integrate incoming freshmen into the big world of high school and made sure that students kept on task and achieved all that they could. The freshmen were divided into three teams with three different sets of teachers. The core subjects in the Academy included history, science, and English and each team had it's own separate pod. The Freshman Academy helped the ninth grade students stay on track, and made the transition into high school much easier. Each set of teachers worked together in their planning so that the curriculum for the ninth graders did not turn into something too hectic for them to handle. The teachers, as well as the students of the Academy did a great job in working to achieve greatness and success.

Hey Good Lookin! Whatcha Got Cookin'?!

Cooking can be a hobby, a love or passion. Key West High School's Culinary program allowed students who are interested in a restaurant related career to get a jump start in training. Students take this program for a minimum of three years to be eligible for a certificate through the National Restaurant Association Education Foundation. During this class, students learned the processes and guidelines of cooking. They cooked food for many school district related functions as well as the annual Keys Energy Holiday Meal, AIDS the SMART Ride fundraiser, and various Key West High School club functions. They started out by learning how to apply for a cooking related job, food safety, then finally how to prepare types of food. The program helped students get prepared for a future cooking career.

A major part of our school's tradition was the sports program. We were the people who attended the games to support and cheer our teams on. We took pride in athletics and went great lengths to help the sports teams along the way as they gave back during each game. Playing a sport took much commitment, determination, and spirit, which is something we did not lack this year. The teams dominated in competition. The sports program was a major part of the school year and students showed showed their pride whether they were participating in a sport or cheering on the team.....

The Conchs football team was one of the most dedicated teams. Although the team encountered a few losses, the squad always stayed strong and pushed it to the limit. Bringing in a new coach brought about many changes but the team still managed to shock their fans with their excellent skills. The team put in more than 15 hours a week and it showed on the field.

They pulled through and defeated Belen for the first time in 3 years. The win was a major accomplishment for the boys. "Thanks to Coach Hughes stepping in, we were able to get a lot done this season. I've never worked so hard but it all payed off in the end." said junior Phillip Young. The great accomplishments of the season, gave great pride to the boys and happiness for a job well done.

Runners Crossing

The Cross Country team had a common thread; the love of running. Running is what they knew and loved to do. Students who ran cross country had one key ingredient for success; self-discipline. "Running is more than just a sport, its a passion," said Micheal Labounty after an exhausting race.

Running the Garrison Bight Bridge up and down fourteen times when it's pouring down rain required dedication. The cross country team was made up of dedicated, self disciplined, motivated individuals just looking for a good run. They found passion and success and showed great pride while running their best.

The Girls Cross Country team was full of hard working individuals. It took much commitment to be up at 6:30 in the morning to run the hills of the golf course. "I've enjoyed my past three years on Cross Country and look forward to my senior year," said Marlene Thurber.

It took teamwork and commitment to do this. Each player was treated equal and everyone ran down to the last second of their race. The team pushed each other until the finish.

Ztensity

In the beginning of each game you found the Varsity Volleyball team doing a cheer and spiraling out to get pumped and ready for their game. Loud and clear, you heard them cheer and chant, "Intensity" and other game readying chants. They thrived on energy and consistency. They worked together and bounced off of each other. They looked to their teammates for help and motivation and were always willing to boost up a player. They worked hard and never gave up. With all the effort they put in at practice you saw it pay off on the court.

They had fun while still maintaining dedication and dignity. They drove to be the best athletes on the court and all put forth the effort to win the match. They played to the last point and when the ball dropped at practice they did push ups and did not let it happen again. They came far, achieved so much, and were proud to call themselves volleyball players.

With great power, Jessica Bodmer serves the ball for an ace and point for the team.

Get Served!

A new beginning. For many years J.V. Volleyball had been a soft spoken part of the Conch sports, but this year they made a positive name for themselves. For most of the girls, this year was not their first year playing volleyball. Coach Hulme began working with the girls after school when they were in 8th grade. Their progress showed on the court, putting their first win in the bag. The girls came along learning varsity rotation and improving their skills. They were dedicated, hardworking, and full of spirit. They filled the gym with chants and big smiles. They improved immensely and will dominate the court next season.

Through all weathers you found the Golf Team out on the course practicing and competing. The team was open to guys and girls and the coach was always willing to help students learn the game. Although it was an individual event, the scores were added together for a team score and the individuals showed great teamwork and bonding. The team strived to be under par and get their best scores every competition. With a range of ages, the boys had fun, while at the same time, striking the ball with consistency and strength. Their game improved every match and their scores decreased over the season. They ended with a great record and a regional finish. The boys said they had a successful year and see great things in the future of the team.

Well Oiled Machine

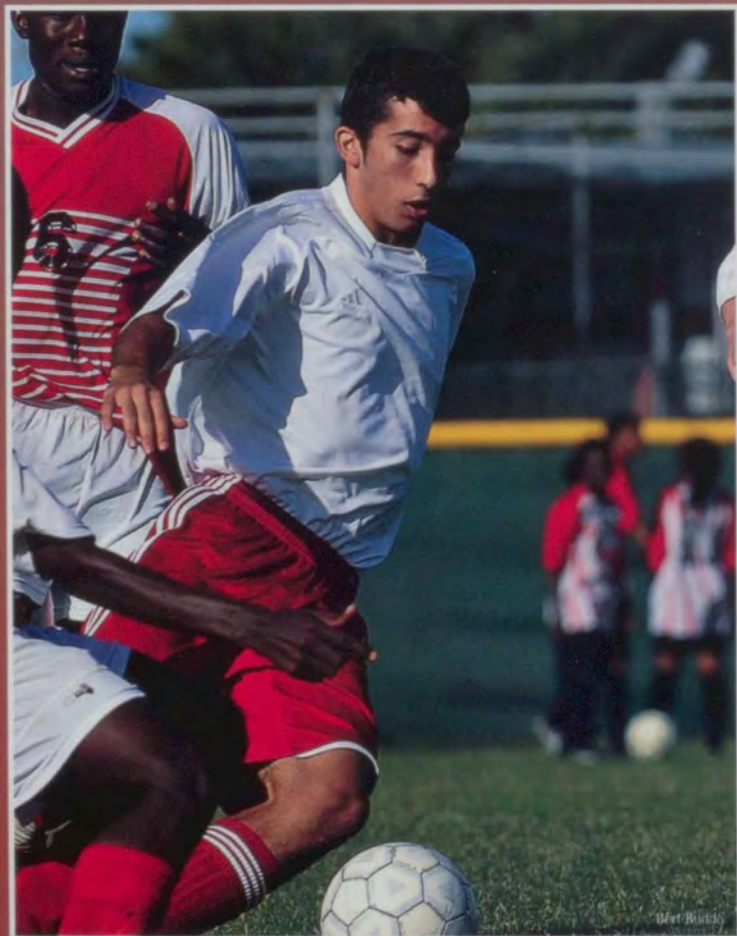

The Boys Varsity Soccer team definitely stepped up their game this year. Even though their win/loss record wasn't above and beyond, they stayed together, played together and kept their heads in the game at all times. The boys practiced throughout pre-season to gain endurance and stamina so that when winter sports rolled around they were ready to go. Coach Clifford and Coach Wright found a transportation method this year by by taking the Keys Transit to and from the away games up the Keys to Coral Shores and Marathon which helped save money and become more economical. The Varsity roster consisted of boys from all four grades which will help keep a strong program in the years to come. Senior, Alfonso Arteaga said "It's a little crazy knowing that this is my last year of soccer at Key West High. Its been a great , unforgettable experience."

Trying to get out of the way of his opponent, John Schoneck skillfully dribbles the ball in the other direction.

Expect to Win

Putting forth all they've got to the very end is what was seen when you watched the Lady Conchs Soccer Team. The girls dedicated themselves to the sport and spent long hours on the field leaving lots of competition for their opponents. With the love and passion for the sport that the girls had, there was no reason for them to fail. They worked hard, stayed strong, kept their grades and attitudes high, and never doubted themselves or their teammates. They showed a great example for other teams and demonstrated the pride they had in their team and school. The team rose to the top and achieved success, winning districts four times in a row, making it to the regional competition. "It's cool to be a part of such an accomplished team, but it's a shame that it ended so soon, especially with all the hard work we put in," stated Jasmine Jones, who looks forward to working as hard next year.

The Boy's Varsity Basketball team did a stellar job this year. Practicing tirelessly, without complaining about the demanding workouts and practice drills, the boys demonstrated that they are serious about the sport of basketball. They put their heart and soul into playing and represented our school with pride. "This year has been full of hard work and dedication.

We started training during the summer and it has helped tremendously on the court." said senior Joshua Berkenmeyer.

This year's Boys J.V. Basketball team made tremendous efforts in becoming the great team that they were. Working hard and practicing everyday benefited them this season. This was not just a team, but also a family. They were a group of boys that worked together and encouraged each other on and off the court.

The boys were dedicated. They gave each game their all, and that was what made them come out on top. Led by coach Ronald Bolden, the boys had an exciting season. We all look forward to next year and can't wait to see the next great Key West High School J.V. Boys team.

The Lady Conchs Varsity Basketball team pulled together and played their hardest this year. Hard work and dedication was what this team was about. Practicing for hours a day and still keeping their grades up to par, showed that the girls set high standards coming into the season. "We met and exceeded everyone's expectations of us as a team. We had a great season." Win or lose the Lady Conchs played hard and ended the season with a solid record of 18-7. Overall, the season was a pretty awesome accomplishment. Im glad to have been a part of the team and I'll miss every bit of it," said senior Cassandra McGee. Pushing the limit on their abilities and strengths is what basketball is all about.

When you think of Conchs Basketball, you can't help but think about the JV Girls Basketball Team. Probably one of the most intense sports that our beloved Conchs participate in. The girls who made up the JV Basketball Team were filled with determination. Some strived to be a member of the Varsity Team, but were just as happy playing the sport they loved as JV members. On and off the court, the JV Basketball Conchs displayed their pride for their team. On a normal school day, they seemed like your average girls, but if you saw them on a game day or on the court, they took on a whole new persona, - the one where they were All Stars!

The wrestling team was a great part of our sports programs. We always had someone going to championships. This year it included Ben Covan and Oscar Fernandez. Even though they didn't come home as state champions, we were proud of how much they accomplished, especially coming from a small island.

All members showed great efforts and did what they had to do to get as far as possible. From freshmen to seniors they all had important roles to the team and all contributed so much.

The Boys Tennis Team started the 09 season off right. With two new singles players, Ben Theisen and Cole Matarrazo, and lots of great freshmen players, they were as strong as ever!

Although tennis is a very serious sport, the boys kept it fun and kept their spirits high. On the court, they proved their skills and played with stride; off court they joked around and did a great job of supporting their teammates.

For the Love of the Game

Dedication, honor, and team unity. These are just a few words that described the girls tennis team. The girls shared the love for the game that they have played for many years and enjoyed showing it on the court. They started the year off with determination and confidence to be the best. This season the girls gave their opponents some stiff competition.

The girls became stronger as a team through team work and practice. "The Girls Team worked tremendously hard and all individually improved their levels of play. We won some matches we didn't think we would win, and ended the season with a better record than expected." said senior Gabriela Scammacca. This year the girls tennis team walked away with lifelong memories and strategies.

Setting Records New

The boys started their track season not knowing what was in store for them, but found out they were going to have a very successful season. The main event for the boys season was the several school record shattering meets they had. The boys worked hard, practicing through spring break and spending long nights on the track to improve their performance. They all achieved new personal records as well as other records, putting their name in the history books for school records. They were goal oriented and strived to achieve the highest for their team and themselves. All of them went to great lengths to push themselves for improvement so that they became the best track team for competition. Success was something they know was not impossible to achieve and went full force in achieving it.

Along with the Boys Track Team, the Girls Track Team had a record breaking season. It was good to know that this was one sport where the team member did not have to try out to make it, he or she just have to give it his or her all and work hard. Through- out the years, the girls have stepped up and improved. In addition, the team picked up new members that were wonderful additions.

Victoria Brisson

Even though not all members were able to go to regional's, we were proud of those that did. Track presented a rigorous load on students. In addition to the book load that most students had, they also had several hours of practice after school. Some even stayed additional hours. It was great to see how much effort the girls put in to make us the proud Conchs that we are.

In Full Swing

A strong baseball team is what Key West High School's baseball program is known for. The skills the boys had were amazing and it's because of the hard work they put in. Most of the boys dedicated their time to the team throughout the year, including the summer time, in addition to any spare time. They had great sportsmanship. They never put one down for mistakes; they took it as a team. They weren't only a team, they shared a strong bond, friendship, and love for the game.

Whack goes the bat, pop goes the ball, and off goes the runner. Baseball is important to young and old Conchs. To be a part of the Conchs JV baseball team is a great accomplishment. Our JV team is one of the best around and the score board tends to show it. Short stop, pitcher, and left fielder, improving the necessary skills for a winning season. The 2008-2009 season showed that a unified team was highly important. "I'm glad that we finished off our last year with a close team and a good record." said senior, Sarah Rodriguez.

This year was an eventful year for the competition cheerleaders, as the team of twelve were like one big family. They brought skills and talent to a new level, despite the smaller team. They managed to do their best and show off their cheerleading abilities. All the long practices paid off in the end with the competition team taking 3rd place at Daytona Beach. After the long hours put in, the team was thrilled that their talent allowed them to place. The team proved that with hard work and dedication, a team can accomplish anything it sets its mind to do.

Mr. Bill Butler

Dedicated, accomplished.....

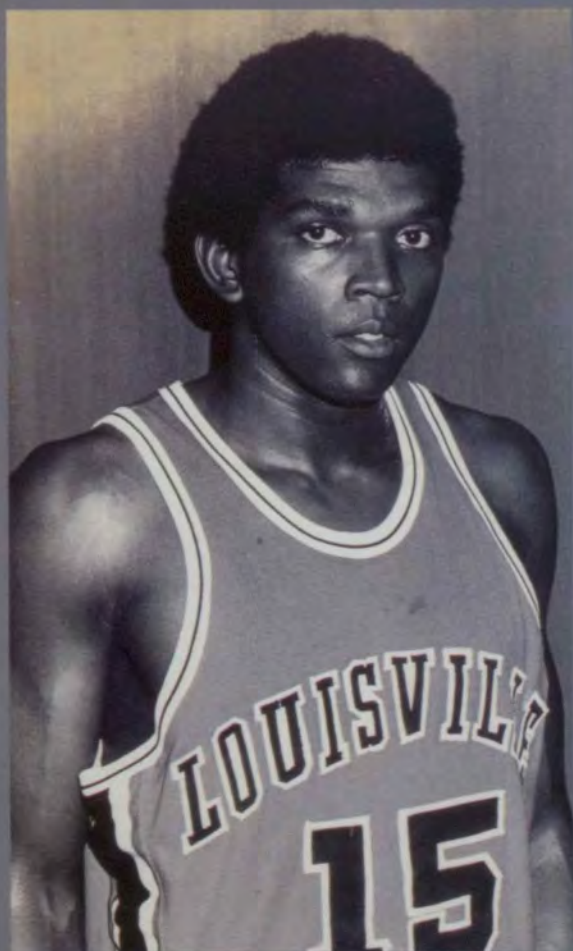

A role model

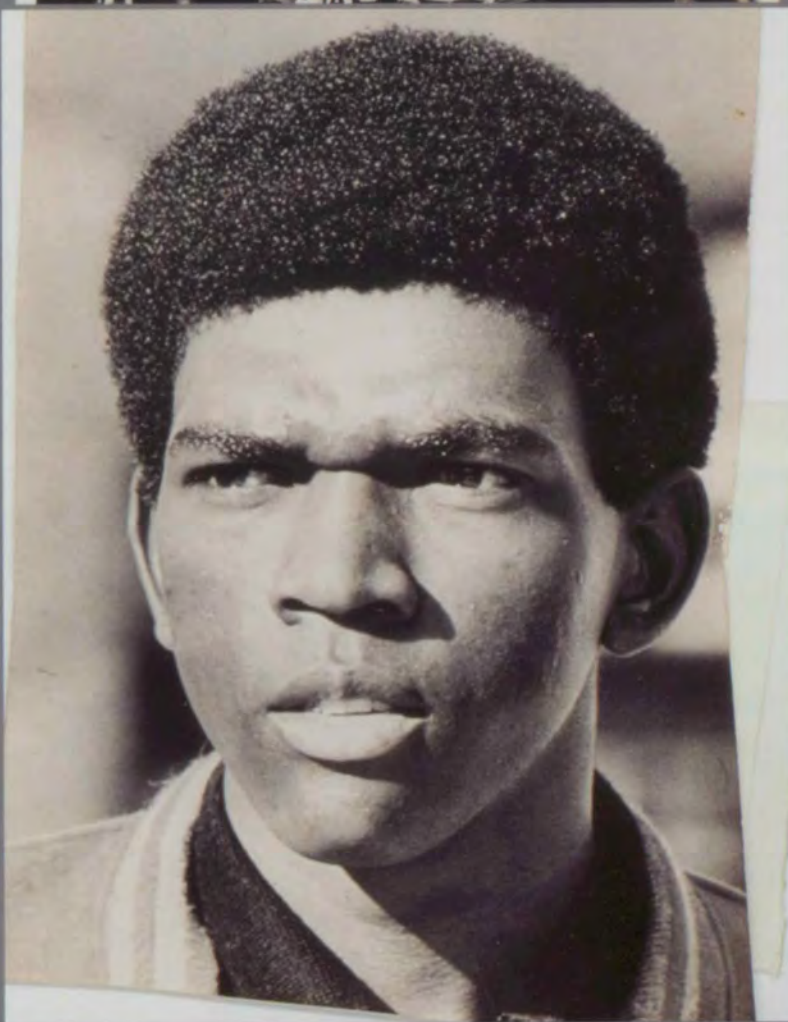

Bill Butler was a sophomore in 1968, the only year that Key West High School Basketball team won the State Championship. During his years at Key West High School, he received many accolades, he was all-region three times, all-State twice, All American, MVP, but "Jumping Jack" he carried throughout college. He attended Vincennes University in Vincennes, Indiana. Butler not only was an exceptional prospect but was a top student as well. "Inch for Inch, he is one of the truly great ones," stated Dana Kirk, an Assistant Coach at Vincennes. Larry Rusk, of the Vincennes Sun-Commercial who covered Bill, said "He's fabulous - one of the greatest jumpers I've ever seen. He's a great ball handler, among other things, and could make a perfect swing man at guard and forward". As you can see, the superlatives flow when in concert with Bill Butler. His versatility will be well served this year as a guard or forward. In 1972, a Veritable Jumping Jack, Bill played center in leading Vincennes Junior College to the NCAA Championship with a record of 33 victories and no defeats. Bill won the Rebounding Award and was co-winner of the Isaac K. Beckes MVP award. Butler was a starter at University of Louisville, Coach Denny Crum - "Butler made believers of all those skeptics who doubted the ability of a 6-1 forward to play winning major college basketball . . . The Cincinnati Bearcats now rank among the believers. After trying to take the ball to the basket on Butler, the Bearcats came away amazed and frustrated when he blocked 7 of their shots. He scored 408 points 1972- 1973, won 23 and lost 7 at University of Louisville. He was drafted by the Atlanta Hawks and the Kentucky Colonel.

Mr. Bill Butler has 33 years of service in education which began in 1976 and is still going. His career in education began in 1976 as a middle school teacher from 1976 - 2000. He began teaching at Key West High School in 2000 and is currently still teaching. Mr. Butler also was the basketball coach at Key West High School from 1971 until 1981. He served as Head Coach from the years 2000 until 2005. As well as an accomplished basketball player and educator, Mr. Butler also carries the title author; King Tut's Gold.

Devin Butler - "I am very fortunate to have Bill as my father. I don't know him as a basketball player, but growing up I heard how great of a basketball player he was. I know him as my father, and an outstanding educator and the person I look up to."

Dexter Butler - "All my life everyone told me that you are a son of a great basketball player. I have never seen my dad play basketball, but he is a great educator and a great dad."

A Picture is Worth 2009 words Saving the final Picture

Approaching the end of our senior year, we were preparing to go our separate ways from people we have grown up with and known our whole lives. We were about to head out into the real world and become adults. The last four years of our lives had many ups and downs, but were filled with great memories that we will cherish for the rest of our lives. Every person that came into our lives affected it greatly, and now it is our turn to affect the world. As we reminisce on all of our memories, the ones that came to mind were our float and clash of the classes, all of the victories that left lasting impressions. As our senior year came to an end, we left our childhood friends behind to embark on a new adventure. It's going to be great to see what the future holds.....

We cherish our "little girl" memories of you; you were and continue to be our precious gift. We feel proud and grateful for the way you have grown up so beautifully; full of grace, strength, and kindness. As you move into this next phase of your life we want to give you a quote that we have saved for this moment: " Let the music of life move you, Let the moment take your hand, Let it lead you out into the middle of the dance floor and embrace you. Dive off the high board, Ride with the top down, Thrive like a wildflower, and Sing (who cares what you sound like) with a voice all your own."

A photograph of two young men standing in front of a large mural of a red dragon. The man on the left is wearing a black t-shirt with a graphic design, and the man on the right is wearing a white t-shirt and a baseball cap. The mural is painted on a curved wall and depicts a red dragon with its mouth open, breathing fire. The dragon is set against a dark, rocky background. The men are standing in the foreground, looking at the camera.

A Picture is Worth 2009 Words

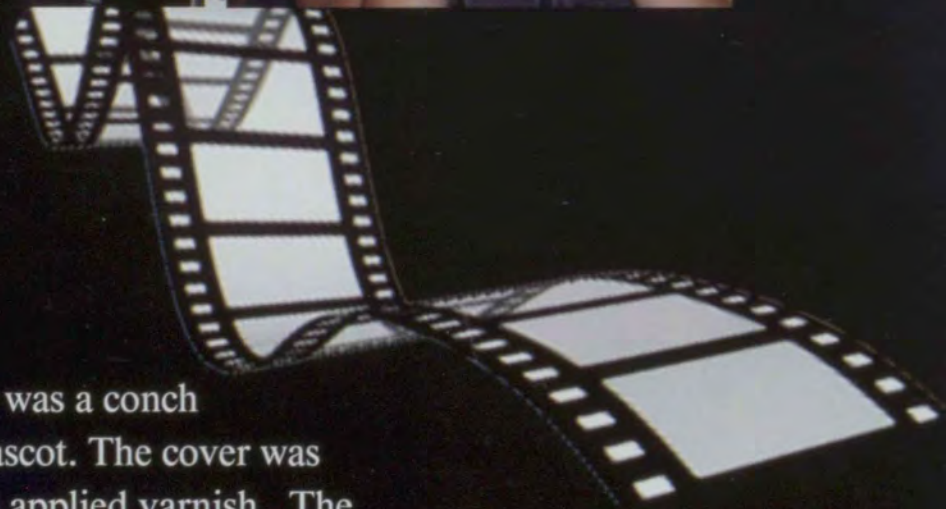

Colophon

This 9x12 yearbook was produced on 100# enamel paper. It was published by Taylor Publishing and printed in Dallas, Texas.

The photo on the front cover was a conch shell to represent the school's mascot. The cover was printed as a matte lithocote with applied varnish. The words on the cover told the story of the school and the students. The font for the the theme titles was Memento.

The pages were created using the Studioworks online program. The photos were taken by staff members and contributing photographers. Photoshop CS3 was used to crop and make corrections on photographs. The senior portraits and underclass photos were taken by Bryn Alan Studios.

The theme was created and developed by yearbook staff members who went to summer yearbook seminar. The adviser was Kristi Castaldo.

The One We'll Tell Our Grandchildren About

Okay, so this past year wasn't perfect. There were a few bumps in the road that may have caused the headlines to be predominately pessimistic. Californians had a little trouble putting out wildfires, and the Gulf Coast got a little soggy during Hurricanes Ike and Gustav. Wall Street and Detroit both needed to borrow a couple of bucks from the government after major banks and the "big three" U.S. automakers threatened to go bankrupt. Even our most beloved bean-counters, Starbucks, were forced to close over 200 locations due to an overwhelming economic downturn.

Yet through it all, we had some wonderful distractions to occupy our time and take us to happier places. The 2008 Olympics gave us athletes to rally around and an opening ceremony that dazzled the world. Superheroes topped the box office while Britney was busy making her comeback. And if ever we did have a problem, there was probably an application in iPhone's App Store that could solve it.

And underneath all of this – the good, the bad, and the ugly – was the constant buzz of the 2008 Presidential race. From the lengthy democratic primary to the overwhelming voter turnout on election day, the race was historic from day one. And in a time when words like "recession" and "bailout" seemed to dominate the nightly news, a man who built his campaign on the words "hope" and "change" became the country's choice to lead us into the next era of America. On January 20th, 2009, the entire globe watched in anticipation as Barack Hussein Obama took the Oath of Office and became the first African-American to be inaugurated as President of the United States of America.

Nope, the past year wasn't perfect; far from it. There were moments that we'd rather forget. But to have lived through it is to have witnessed history being made on some of the highest levels imaginable. And that's worth remembering.

Hero on the Hudson >

U.S. Airways pilot, Chelsey "Sully" Sullenberger, becomes a true hero when he calmly and masterfully performs an emergency water landing of U.S. Airways flight 1549 into the Hudson River, saving the lives of the 150 passengers and five crew members aboard.

< Nobody Likes Ike

The third most destructive hurricane to hit the United States, Hurricane Ike pummels the Gulf of Mexico coastline causing an estimated $27 billion in damages in the U.S..

Billions Bestowed in Bailout >

In an effort to help stabilize the country's financial system, the U.S. Government approves a $700 billion rescue plan for financial institutions with an additional $17.4 billion promised to U.S. auto manufacturers.

Crude Swings Cause Mood Swings >

Consumers see gas prices swing from over $4.11/gallon to under $1.61/gallon. With gas prices at their highest, school districts around the country are forced to cut bus routes or move to four-day school weeks to help lower fuel costs.

Bill Gates Reboots

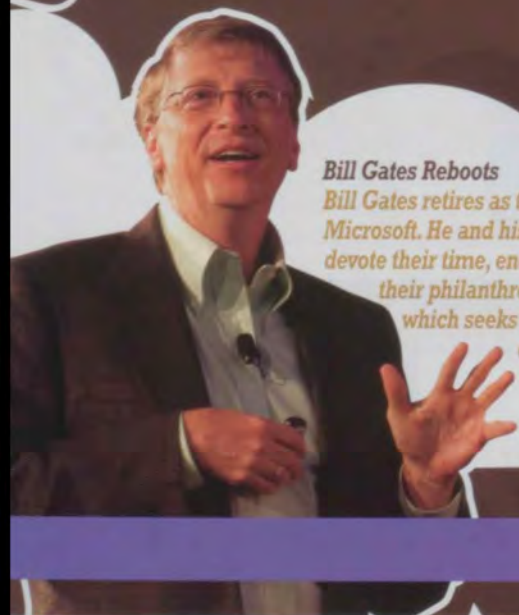

Bill Gates retires as the CEO of Microsoft. He and his wife Melinda devote their time, energy and money to their philanthropic Gates Foundation, which seeks improvements in health care and education.

Parks on a Dime

The super-tiny, two-seater European Smart Car finally arrives in the U.S., just in time for rising gas prices and a national backlash against gas-guzzling SUVs.

< Vice Presidential Look-alike

While lampooning republican VP candidate Sarah Palin on Saturday Night Live, Tina Fey's line, "I can see Russia from my house," becomes a catchphrase that actually shapes public perception of the candidate, with some voters attributing the quote to Palin herself.

< California Wildfires

California declares a state of emergency in Santa Barbara, Los Angeles and Orange Counties as wildfires scorch more than 43,000 acres of land, burning through residential areas and destroying at least 900 homes.

Worldwide Hunger Reaches New Levels >

According to the United Nations, rising food prices around the world have plunged an additional 75 million people below the hunger threshold, bringing the estimated number of undernourished people worldwide to almost 1 billion.

< Terrorist Attacks in Mumbai

In November of 2008, at least 173 people were killed and at least 308 were injured in a series of ten coordinated terrorist attacks across Mumbai, India's financial capital and its largest city. The attacks are carried out by a Pakistan-based Islamic terrorist group.

Obama-Nation

On November 4, 2008, millions of voters braved long lines at the polls to elect Barack Obama to become the 44th President of the United States and the first African American to hold the nation's highest office.

< Not Quite the Disney Pirates We're Used to Seeing in the Movies

International shipping is threatened by increased activity of Somali pirates in the Indian Ocean and Gulf of Aden. The pirates hijack merchant ships, oil tankers and cruise liners and demand ransoms.

We Fear What We Don't Understand >

Experiments involving a Large Hadron Collider spark fears among the public that the LHC particle collisions might produce doomsday phenomena, involving the production of stable microscopic black holes or the creation of hypothetical particles called strangelets.

Read the Book, See the Movie >

Girls, choose your perfume carefully. According to "Twilight," your scent could send your hunky vampire boyfriend into an uncontrollable thirst for blood.

Why... So... Serious?

In "The Dark Knight", Batman and new district attorney Harvey Dent team up to rid Gotham City of all its criminals. Meanwhile, a mysterious and psychopathic sadist known only as The Joker surfaces, unleashing a new wave of chaos and testing the limits of Batman's virtues.

< They All Lived Whackily Ever After

Skeeter Bronson's life is changed forever when the fantastical fables he fabricates with his niece and nephew start to mysteriously come true in Disney's "Bedtime Stories."

Just Do Whatever Your Cell Phone Tells You To Do >

In "Eagle Eye," Jerry and Rachel are thrown together by a series of phone calls from a mysterious and highly demanding woman who taps into limitless technologies to push them into dangerous situations and track their every move.

< The Curious Case of Benjamin Button

Benjamin Button is born an 86-year-old man and ages backwards through time, making his life...complicated. Inspired by F. Scott Fitzgerald's short story of the same name, the film earns 13 Academy Award® nominations, including Best Picture, Best Actor (Brad Pitt), and Best Director (David Fincher).

Kung Fu Panda

When Po, the laziest, most lathargic and least-likely of Kung Fu fans becomes "the chosen one" to battle Tai Lung to protect the Dragon Scroll, "panda-monium" ensues.

< Sophie Has Three Daddies

On a quest to find the identity of her father, Sophie brings back three men from her mother's past, one of whom will walk her down the aisle on her wedding day. In "Mamma Mia!" new love blooms, old romances are rekindled and everyone bursts into song and dance.

Amazing Heir Restoration

The Pevensie siblings return to Narnia, where they are enlisted to once again help ward off an evil king and restore the rightful heir to the land's throne in "The Chronicles of Narnia: Prince Caspian."

Fun Cubed

Earth's last trash compactor follows a sleek search robot into space, where he accidentally stumbles upon the key to the planet's future in Pixar's "WALL•E."

< Yes He Can

In "Yes Man," Carl Allen's life is going nowhere until a self-help seminar convinces him to say "yes" for one year to any and every opportunity life puts in his path.

Nobody Likes a Bully

Three socially deficient high school students seek to avoid a bully's reign of terror by hiring a body guard. Their best (and cheapest) candidate is a homeless, down-on-his-luck soldier named "Drillbit Taylor."

< The Archaeologist Becomes the Artifact

The fourth installment of the "Indiana Jones" movies sees our aging archaeology hero and a young whipper-snapper join forces to face the dangers of the jungle, Soviet agents, and... aliens? Nearly 30 years after "Raiders of the Lost Ark," Harrison Ford dusts off his Fedora and bullwhip to bring us "Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull."

< It's What's Inside That Counts

"Journey to the Center of the Earth" is the classic Jules Verne novel come to life. An unconventional scientist and his nephew stumble upon a major discovery that drops them into a thrilling journey deep beneath the Earth's surface, where they travel through strange worlds and encounter a variety of unusual creatures.

Metal Militia >

What happens when gazillionaire industrialist Tony Stark decides to stop building high-tech weapons and instead build an armored suit that turns him into an army of one? "Iron Man" is born.

...But Somebody's Gotta Do It
Mike Rowe hosts "Dirty Jobs with Mike Rowe" on The Discovery Channel. Showcasing the hard-working men and women of America, it's not unusual to find Mike in places like coal mines, bat caves and maggot farms. This is definitely not the show to watch during dinner.

Reality TV Animated
Twenty-two teens. One summer. Nothing in common. And the cameras animators were there to capture everything! "Total Drama Island" is the most unreal reality show on television.

< It Keeps Us Tuned In

Sure, the intertwined plotlines and eye-candy cast make this North Carolina show worth watching. But with musical guest stars like Jimmy Eat World and Fall Out Boy, it's definitely the soundtrack that keeps "One Tree Hill" at the top of our TiVo.

< Our Dad Tells Long Stories, Too

The story of "How I Met Your Mother" has been going on for four years now. We're starting to think that dad is making it up as he goes along. Luckily, the story is hilarious.

Barack Obama becomes the 44th President of the United States

2008 election

< Hillary Clinton

The former First Lady and Senator of New York is Obama's formidable opponent during a lengthy Democratic Primary, yet she campaigns for Obama after his nomination is secured. After his election, President Obama names Hillary Clinton as Secretary of State.

< John McCain

Obama's Republican opponent, Arizona Senator John McCain spends 2008 criss-crossing the country campaigning for President, ultimately getting only 46% of the popular vote and 173 electoral votes to Obama's 365.

< Sarah Palin

This little-known governor from Alaska makes a huge splash when announced as John McCain's running mate. The prospect of being the country's first female Vice-President instantly makes the 2008 election historic regardless of its outcome.

"Change Has Come to America."

On January 20th, 2009, Barack Hussein Obama became the 44th American to take the Oath of Office, and the first African American elected President of the United States. He delivered his inaugural address before a crowd packed with over 1.5 million people eager to be part of the historic inauguration, and stone silent as President Obama spoke. Grown men and women cheered and wept as they witnessed history being made. The President delivered a very crisp, clear speech addressing all walks of American life and our neighbors around the globe.

"I Stand Here Today Humbled by the Task Before Us."

Barack Obama's election is as historic as the challenges he faces as the country's leader. The man who built his campaign on hope and change addressed the nation with a somber yet optimistic call to duty for all Americans to begin rebuilding a nation that is "bigger than the sum of our individual ambitions; greater than all the differences of birth or wealth or faction."

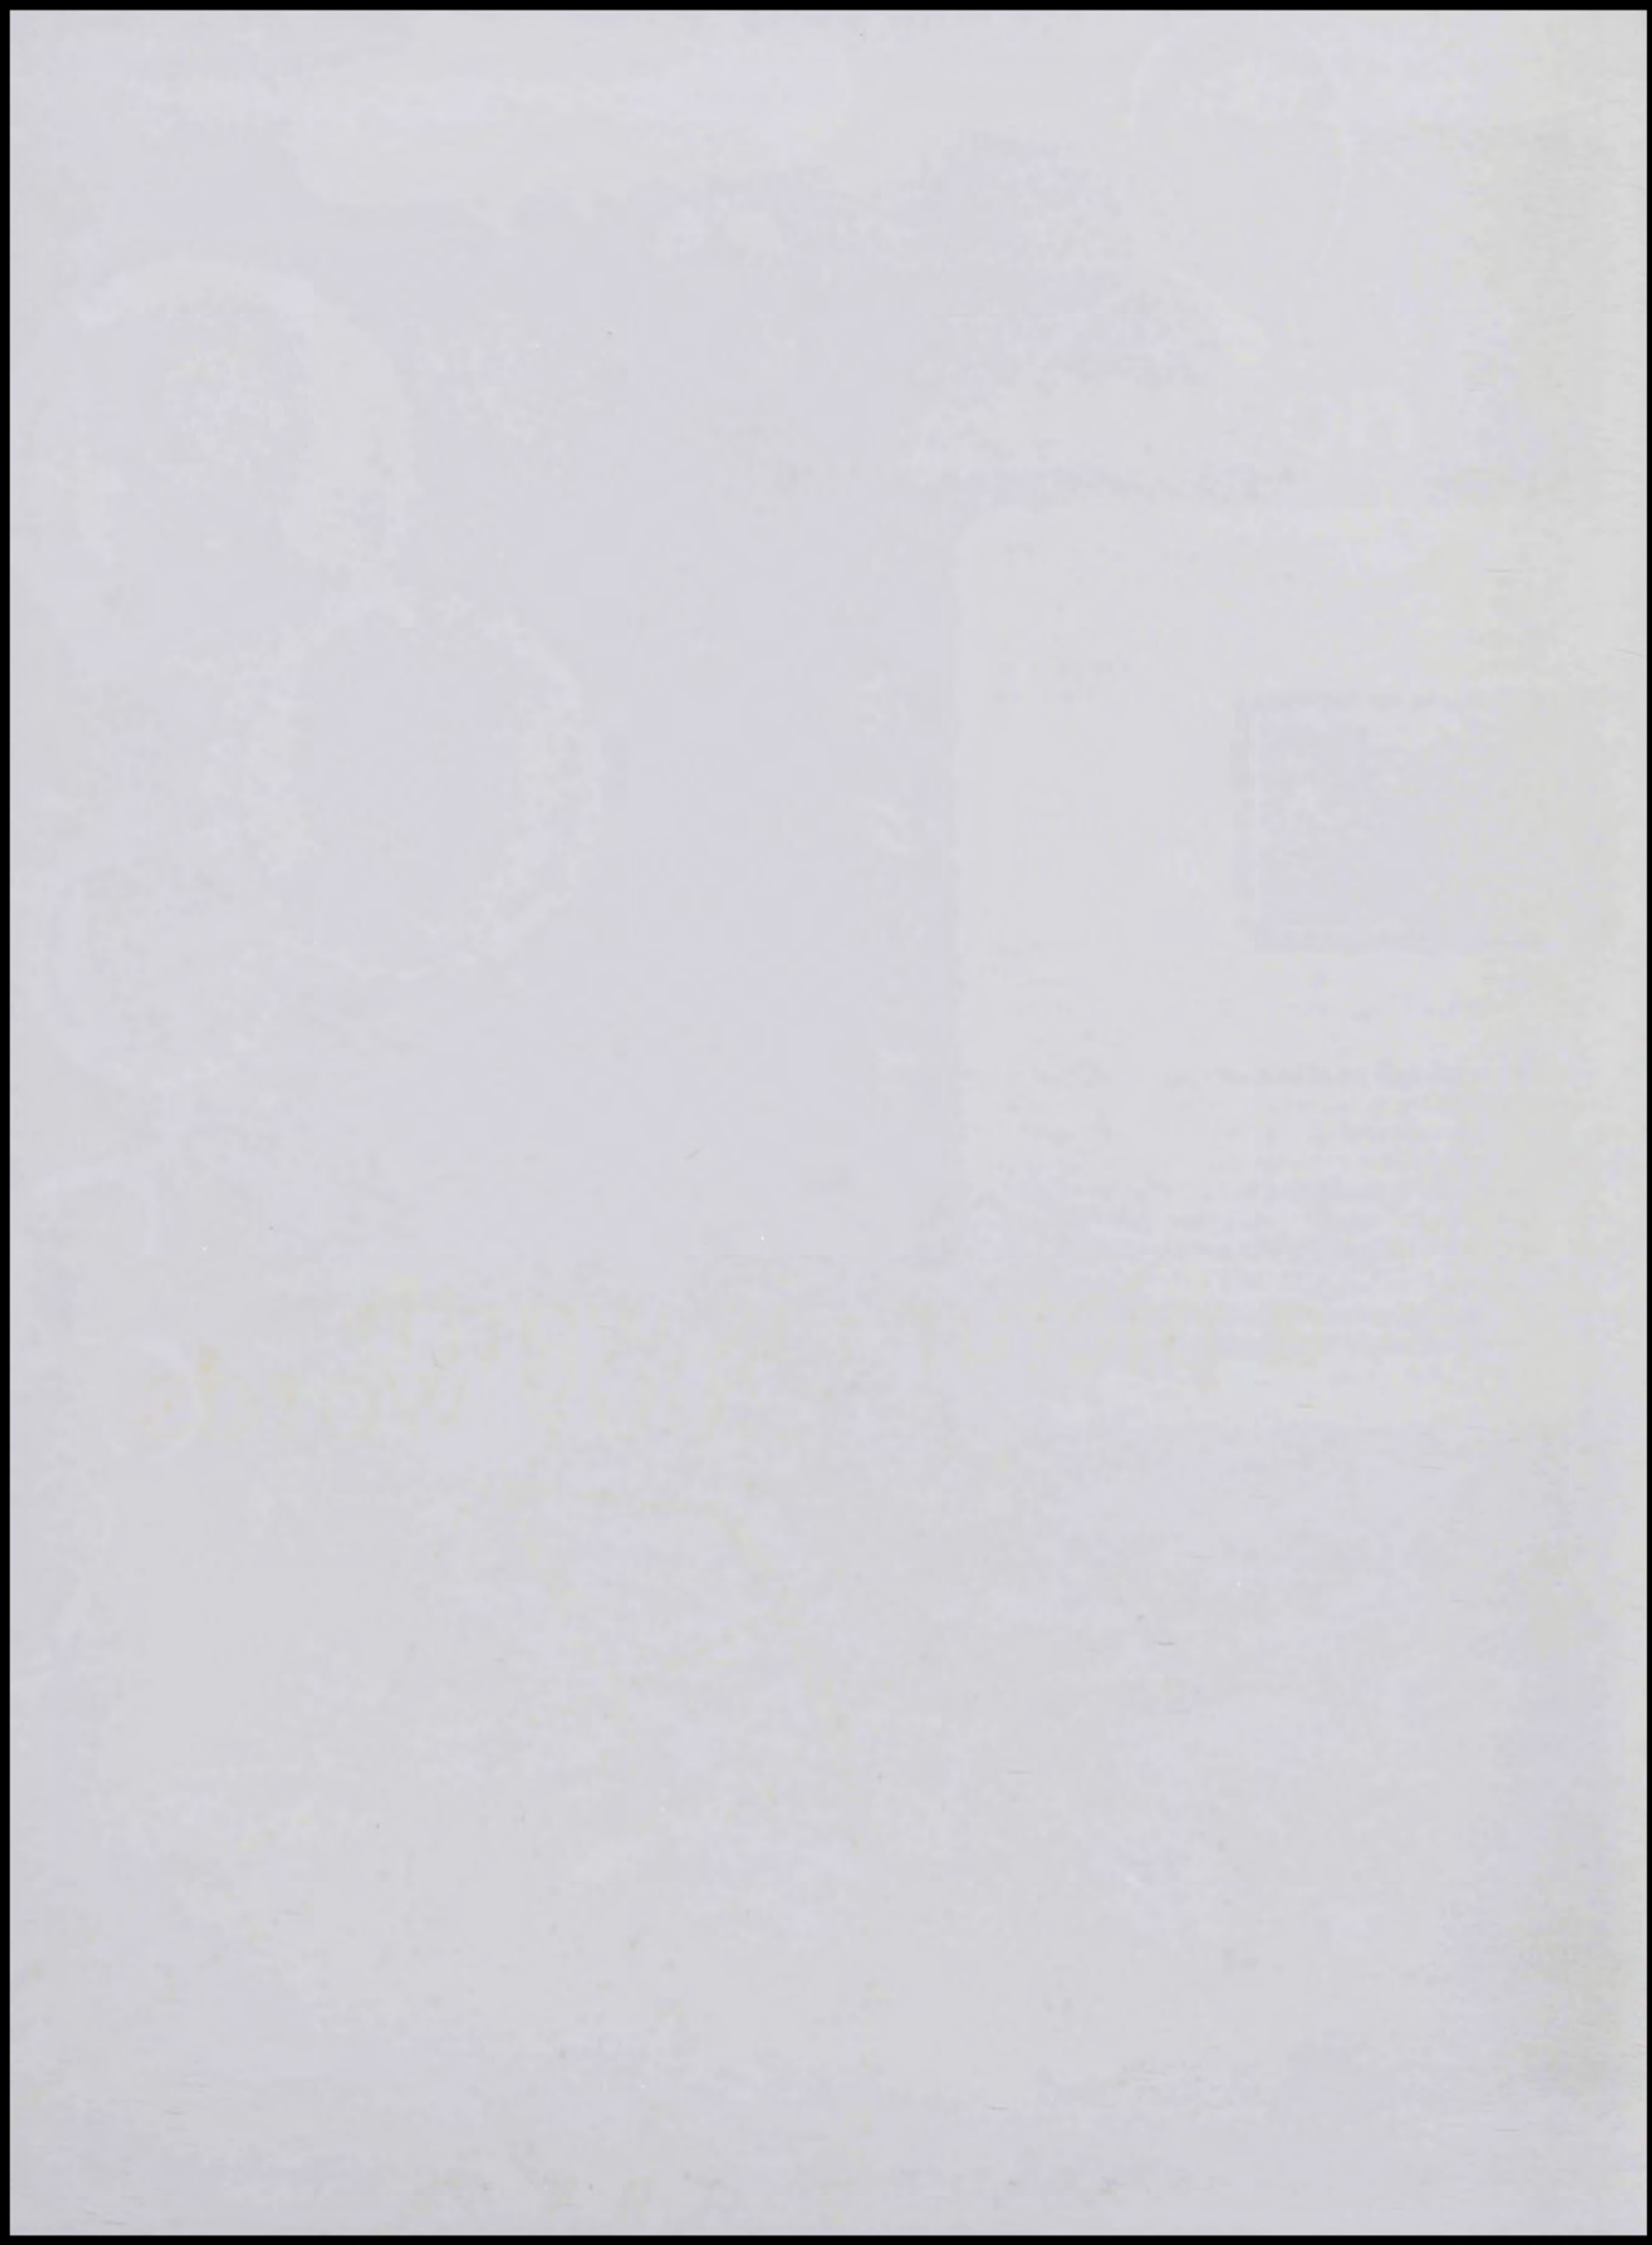

"Starting today, we must pick ourselves up, dust ourselves off, and begin again the work of remaking America."
