It's a Woman's World

The main objective of the Home Economics Department is to present the importance of better living standards to the teenage girl. This is achieved through devoted teacher, proper equipment, and a well organized program of study. A variety of subjects are concentrated upon during the school year. Among these subjects are cooking, sewing, good grooming, child care, and development, and buying, cleaning, and furnishing homes. The girls use their knowledge by sewing in class, preparing luncheons for teachers, and working on home projects and paper.

Dress designing is an important phase in the Home Economics Department.

Reading, Writing, and Conjugating

The English and Library Departments go hand in hand in every student's school life. The English Department provides the student with a better knowledge of their native language. Through fundamentals in grammar, book reports, themes, vocabulary lessons, and literature, students are able to obtain a clearer understanding of those subjects which are used daily, whether spoken or written.

On the other hand the Library provides the inspiring atmosphere for study and research. Shelves stacked with marvelous selections of books and reference material, hold the answers to questions in all subjects.

Melody and Harmony United

Be it the stirring and martial strains of a Sousa march, or the soft harmony of a Lerner and Lowe show tune, the Music Department can always be counted on to provide the very best.

Diversified Co-operative Training

In keeping with the idea that the purpose of school is to prepare us for our lives after we have graduated, a special group has been organized in which participants are permitted to work at jobs which interest them as future vocations.

Promote Safety...
Prevent Sorrow

The expansion of the Driver's Education Department has benefited more students than ever before, because of state driving laws. Well-qualified teachers devote much time and effort to producing courteous, cautious, and capable drivers. Classroom study acquaints the student with regulations and fundamental safety precautions. When the students are ready, they are taught by actual driving experience in modern automobiles donated by local dealers. After passing all the required tests, they are granted the privilege of an operator's license. They can now join the ranks of the many well-trained drivers in the state of Florida.

Adding An International Flavor

Through Key West High's Language department students are able to learn about countries, their customs, and languages.

Three languages are offered in two year courses: French, Spanish, and Latin. Whether it is classical Latin with its myths or accounts of Caesar's wars, snappy rhythmical Spanish, or romantic French, student's interests are surely intensified by any choice. Films, records, and classroom conversation make the studies more rewarding.

Strength of Bodies and Minds

In accordance with the President's Council on Physical Fitness, our P.E. department has strived to set high standards for those students taking physical education. Among the requirements are: passing written tests on rules of games, skill tests and a more rigid test of various physical feats.

Included in the many activities are softball, basketball, volleyball, tumbling and trampoline. All these aid in making students more mentally coordinated for their daily routine of activities.

"Responsible Youth--Progressive Adults"

The Key West High P.T.A. is an organization worthy of much praise. The objects of this group of adults are to promote the welfare of children and youth in the home, school, church and community; to raise the standards of home life; to secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth; to bring into closer relationship the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child; to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social, and spiritual education.

Indispensable and Industrious

There are not many people in any school anywhere that keep smiling while facing a mob of hungry students. To these hard-working ladies, we owe a thank-you for their friendliness and good food. Equally as important as good food is a neat, clean school. For this purpose Key West High School has a group of efficient custodians. These men make it possible for all to be proud of the appearance of our building.

Conchs Rank Ninth In State

This has been one of our best years for football, finishing second in the Gold Coast Conference and ninth in the state. We will be sorry to lose those players who are seniors this year as they did much to strengthen the team. We had another distinction, that of being the only team to beat the state champions, Coral Gables. Another factor that made this season great was the support the student body gave the team. All in all this season has been excellent and we are proud of our team—the fighting Conchs of 1963.

The Junior Varsity--The Conchs of Tomorrow

The junior varsity, although not given as much recognition as the varsity, put on a very good showing of skill, courage, and sportsmanship. Being on a team such as this the boys learn the necessary skills that in the future seasons will make the varsity of which some will be a part—a good one. Will the teams of years to come be good? Only time and the junior varsity can tell.

Skill, Spirit, and Sportsmanship

Again and again last season the Conch cage squad showed their basketball skills. They faced an uphill battle against a series of powerful opponents. Each time they played, the team showed the results of hard practice, good sportsmanship, and skill.

Because of the fine showing in team efforts, the Key West High School students showed a more avid interest in the home basketball games.

No one person could be singled out as a star; the entire team worked hard as a unit. This year's team will long be remembered as one of the most outstanding.

Features

"Without us?"

Directors, Mr. Conner and Sue, confer.

"Happiness Is a Crate of Alligators!!"

Mr. Anthony J. Drexyl Biddle thinks alligators add a nice homelike touch to his house. Cordy would much rather box than go to school. Livingston prepares for war with the other Biddle Bible classes. Mother has her hands full trying to keep the Biddle household from utter chaos. This is difficult to accomplish with two over helpful servants, eccentric relatives popping in, a North Carolina snob, and all this revolving around two people trying to arrange a wedding.

The above and much more was presented to Key West November 13 and 14, by the hard working Senior Class of 1964. Weeks of practice and long hours of anxiety confronted the cast, sponsors and student director.

"The Happiest Millionaire" will be remembered in the years to come as a very funny sophisticated comedy, highlighted by early century costumes and setting.

Credit is due to Mr. Conner, director, Sue Carroll, student director, the stage crew, Senior sponsors, and all members of the class of 1964 involved.

Left, left, left, right, left, was the sound of the marching feet of band members while practicing on mornings, afternoons, and nights. Their precision was excellent and their music superb!

"The Twirling Six"

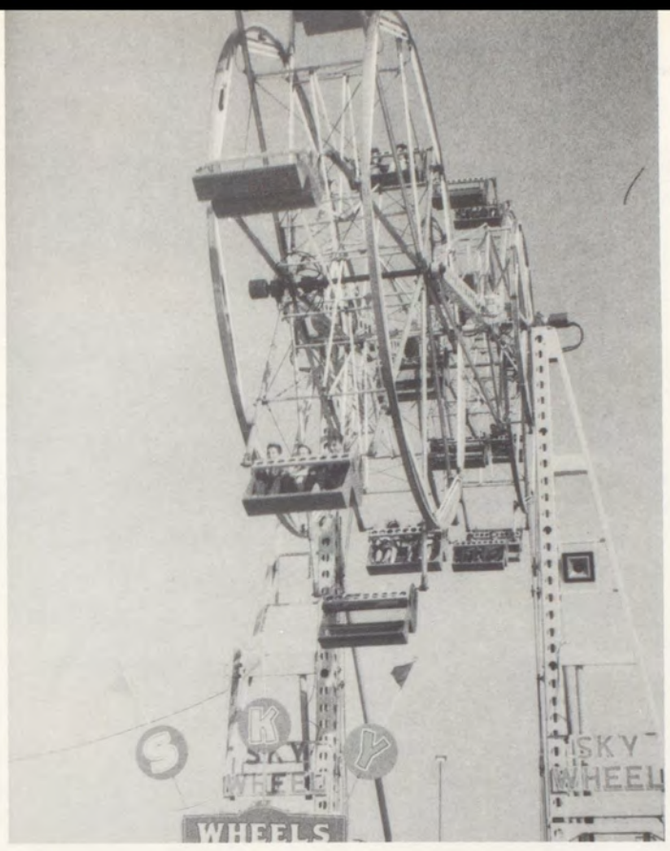
Good Will Towards Men

The annual Christmas Program presented by the Key West High School was the most outstanding in recent years. The city of Key West can be proud of the fine workmanship of the props and the excellent presentation of the show.

The brilliant color and originality added to this spectacular program. Precision and harmony made for a beautiful show which will long be remembered by the students and the public.

O, Christmas Tree, O, Christmas Tree; thy branches green delight me!



Did you see that bolt fly off?

What's next?

BIG THRILL!

That crackling noise was my ribs.

Come One! Come All!

The annual county fair provided much excitement and amusement for old and young alike. Our students were in the midst of it all, riding the most daring rides, spending dollars trying to win stuffed animals for "that" girl, or just strolling around the grounds enjoying a candy apple or cotton candy.

The high school also participated by displaying some exhibits in the fair.

Buckle up for safety.

The Future Is Theirs

Each year Key West High School has the opportunity of being represented in Tallahassee by students chosen by local organizations. Girl's and Boy's State provides a wonderful chance for students to participate in state government. Campaigns are in full swing and elections are held. Each day was emphasized as follows: Monday, "T" Day was Teens' Day; Tuesday, we concentrated on bettering our etiquette; Wednesday, Education Day, when students taught their classes; Thursday, Neatness was emphasized, and everyone came in their Sunday best. The finale to the week was School Spirit Day, when everyone participated in a rousing, enthusiastic pep rally.

Learning To Give While Enjoying

Each year the students and the student organizations of Key West High undertake various tasks in order to raise money for several charitable organizations. The methods and ideas behind the money making projects are different, interesting, and sometimes often humorous. The Beta Club sells lollipops which, much to the delight of the students, can be eaten in class: The Keyettes wash cars; Student Council holds a dance and a Hootenanny; candy sales and dances are often projects taken on by the other small clubs. The other clubs which participate are N.H.S; F.T.A.; F.H.A.; Key Club, the Band, Conchettes, Chorus, and the individual classes.

This money is divided evenly among the American Cancer Society, The Heart Fund, The Center of Hope, and The Community Chest.

"Students Govern"

Perhaps the most active organization in our school is the Student Council. This organization is composed of elected representatives and alternates from every homeroom and all grade levels.

These people present the ideas of their homeroom to the council for consideration and approval. This gives every member of the student body an opportunity to express their ideas and opinions.

Student Council has many activities to serve the school and increase school spirit. Among these are: conducting the class elections, sponsoring the Homecoming Dance and managing the assemblies, heading the annual charity drive, operating the supply store, and conducting themselves in a manner appropriate to members of such a fine organization.

To the members of Student Council and to those who express themselves through these people, we say congratulations for making our school the very BEST!!

Perhaps the most unique fund raising activity of any group is that of the National Honor Society, which is the sale of lovely picture postcards of our school in color. This group is one of the most respected in the school, so hats off to the National Honor Society.

The Miracle Workers

The CONCH staff this year, as every year, has done their best to present the school with a yearbook better than ever before. This select group of students worked hard all year to present to the student body a book that they can cherish for many coming years. Work was the main word of the editor, Susan Cassidy, at the beginning of the year. Although they worked very hard, the satisfaction of seeing the completed book made up for all the sleepless nights and headaches. The student body should say thanks for a job well done to this year's staff.

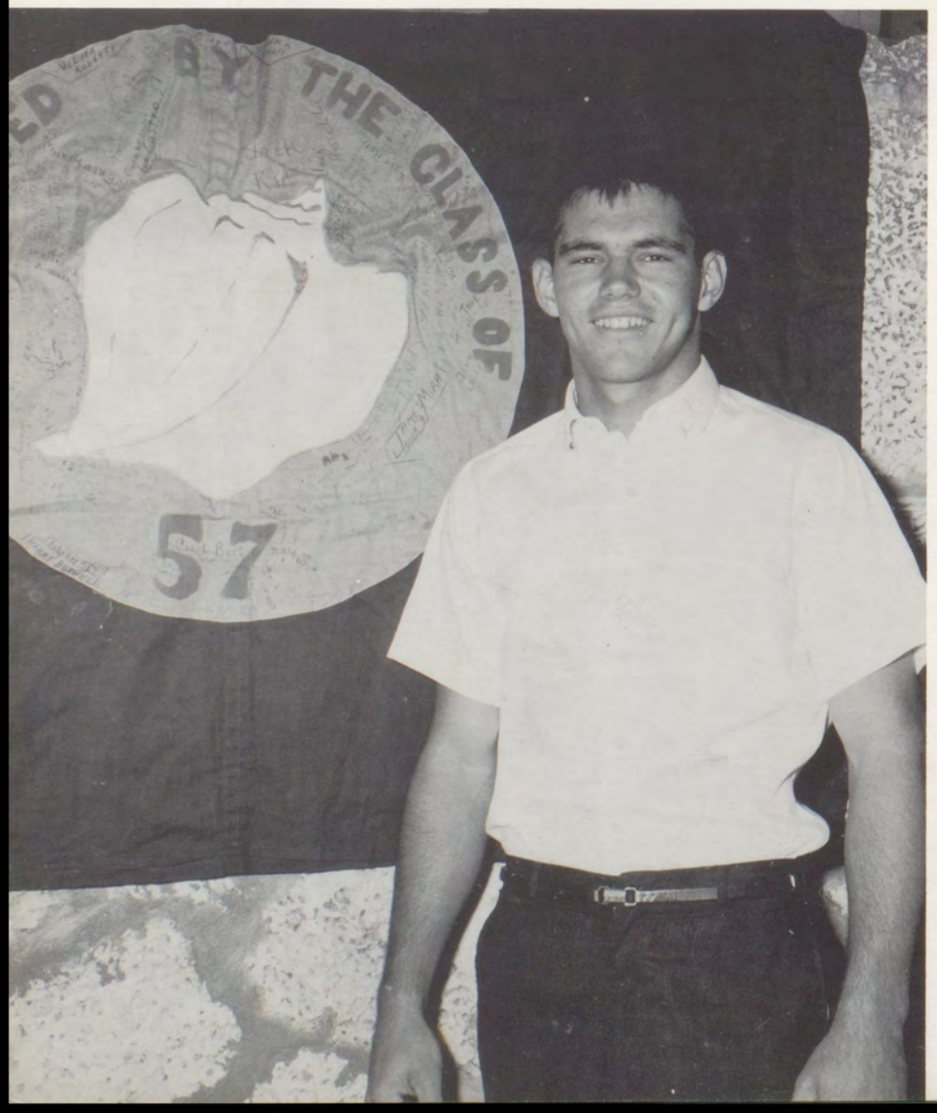
Tradition carried on by Jim Neace, president of the senior class.



Hard Fight. . .

It was a hard fight, but we won. After many years of studying and struggling, we reached high school. We found only more studying but along with it came the extra activities which seemed to alleviate the boredom of constant work.

The Senior year had the added attractions of fun and responsibility of being upper classmen.

Efficiency and co-operation were the qualities which enabled the Senior Class to move forward. The success of the play, "The Happiest Millionaire," was evidence of the qualities put into action. The officers by working together with the sponsors led the class through an exciting year.

Always to be remembered by all Seniors are the Senior All-Night Affair, Junior-Senior Prom, Field Day and Conch Day.

The day every Senior looked forward to was graduation day, but many were reluctant to see the time when high school finally ended for them. The Senior Class worked hard and played hard to make their last year a fruitful one. The Class of 64 is on its way to the future.

Work! - Success!

Work! Work! was the song of every junior as they worked toward a high goal of achievement and responsibility. Many new projects were ahead of them such as concessions, the Junior Play, and junior sponsored dance. Each one contributed his time and effort. It meant one thing—SUCCESS.

Success came in many ways. Among them were: the beneficient contribution to the annual charity drive; the tremendous approval of the Junior Play-"Parents Are Like That"; all this amazingly supplemented by the brilliant choice of officers—Ken Johnson, President; Charlie Young, Vice-President; Jean Peebles, Secretary; and Diane Dobronte, Treasurer.

The Progress Makers

The Sophomore Class of 1964 started the year by electing their class officers. These able students were president Buddy Salas; vice-president Wendy Shearer; Sheryl Wondergem, secretary; and Michael Knowles, treasurer. Supported with the full co-operation of their class they held candy sales, led the school in the annual magazine drive sales, and raised money for their annual class picnic. This class will go down in school records as one that will go a long way in the next two years.

The Wonderful World of Rivers

This year's annual Conchette Capers presentation; a tour through the "Wonderful World of Rivers" held the audience spell-bound as they were transported to the banks of famous rivers all over the world.

In addition to the Conchette routines, there were numerous apron acts which rounded out a well-planned program.

The Conchettes received much help from a group of boy volunteers who were willing to be a part of the performance.

Their director, Mrs. Kerley, and several Conchettes can be credited with the fine choreography.

The money received from the two night performances was used to send two girls to the dance camp in Texas and for next year's activities.

Up Periscope

On March 6 and 13 the senior boys who had the highest average in the fields of mathematics and science were invited to be guests of the crew of the U. S. S. Barracuda. The boys became Submariners for a day when they were given the opportunity to observe and operate the various controls. At the end of the day they were presented with certificates which made them honorary submariners.

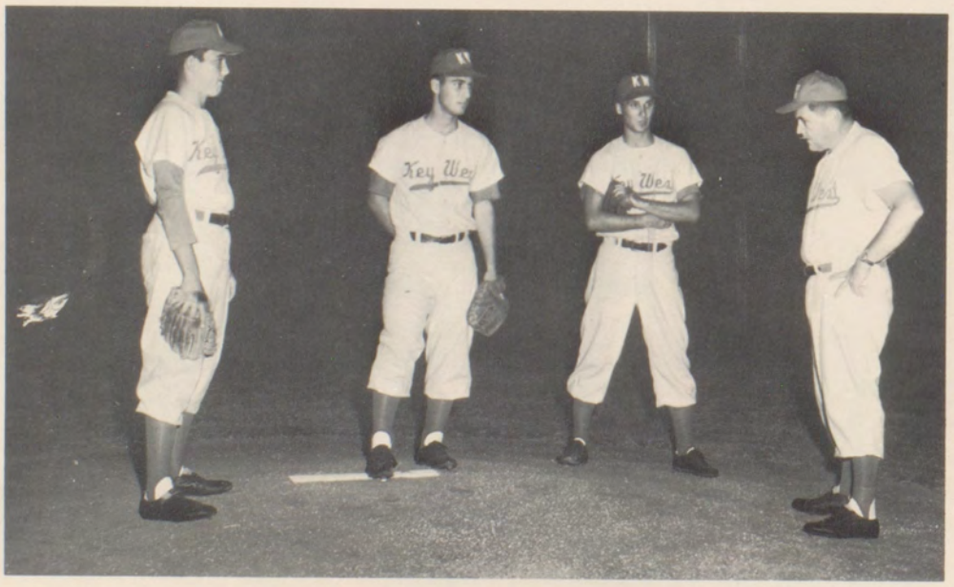
Conference Champs for Third Straight Year

This year's Conch baseball team left behind a record of which we can be proud. With fifteen wins to only two losses, Key West reinforced its position as one of the best teams in the State. Coach Pat Gallagher's third season as baseball coach ended with Key West as the Gold Coast Conference Champions for the third successive year.



The Coach discusses strategy with pitchers Albury, Sanchez, and McCormick.

Senior pride displayed.

Seniors make point.

Two for Seesaw

The Seniors and Juniors really had themselves a fine show of athletic ability as well as sportsmanship when on Field Day they went out to battle one another. Once the contest began the score was a continuous see-saw with the Juniors finally declared the victor, 97 to 57.

Kick hard Junior!

Sponsors rallying?

Get that ball!

Victorious Juniors.

A Day to Remember

Let's Twist again, like we did on Conch Day!

"I have to scratch my back!"

A Conch Day chariot.

This year's Seniors will long remember the wonderful time they had on Conch Day. Assisted by the hard-working Senior faculty, they enjoyed an elaborate picnic, and other activities.

Conch Day, 1963 has ended.

"May I present . . . ."

Perfect choice for perfect prom.

Shangri-La

April 19th was the evening the Junior class held its annual Junior-Senior Prom. This year's theme, a trip to Shangri-La, was portrayed in elaborate multi-colored decorations. The climax of the evening was the crowning of Queen Nancy Duke and the King Ray Willcox. The Junior class worked exceptionally hard to give the Senior class a prom they will never forget.

"I could have danced all night . . . ."
