IMPRESSIONS

Impressions: An effect, feeling, or image retained after an experience. A vague notion, remembrance, or belief.

As we conclude another year, students look back at a year of fun, wonder, excitement, and hardship. This year is strongly imprinted in our memories and students will remember it forever. The IMPRESSIONS that the school leaves on the students and the IMPRESSIONS that the students leave on the school are everlasting. From the annual bonfire starting off our football season, to Homecoming celebrations, to the Junior class stepping into the Seniors' shoes and the Seniors stepping out into the world, this year will always be remembered. Students will carry forth, bringing with them an impression of where they are from and who they have become, because of our school and community. The memories of Key West High School that students will bring with them out into the world will guide them through life and aid them in making good first IMPRESSIONS. Teachers and community leaders leave IMPRESSIONS on students and hopefully these IMPRESSIONS will help them succeed. Years come and go, but the memories made at Key West High School are always with you, impressed in your soul.

— Tiffany Anzalone, Editor-in-Chief

OF MEMORIES

This Senior Class by far had the most spirit at the annual Bonfire. Even after being defeated by the Juniors show their array of colors by wearing red shirts, symbolic of Seniors and their class shirts.

Student

during Coffin Week, the Seniors held their heads high and staked their rightful spot at #1! The impressive Class of 1998 Throughout their Student Lives, they have experienced pride, joy, and excitement for their Alma Mater.

Imprints

KEY WEST HIGH

Senior Katie Baldwin and friends show their school spirit by holding their hands high for the Alma Mater. The Alma Mater is our way of showing respect for our school.

These Seniors get really heated up with spirit for the bonfire. Seniors always have the most spirit out of all the classes.

Excitement sparks as the Varsity football team carries the coffin to be thrown into the bonfire. The bonfire is held every year to get Key West High School's spirit rising. It takes place the night before the first home football game. This year's first football game was against South West Miami. The bonfire must have gotten the team's spirit fired up.

Conchettes show their spirit by performing at the '97 bonfire. They performed to Space Jam.

GETS FIRED UP!!

Sporting her class shirt, sitting on a friend's shoulders, while waving her hands in the air, Senior Brooke Donahue lets her spirit rise above the rest of the crowd. Don't fall Brooke!!

These Varsity Cheerleaders wear their year of graduation while getting the crowd riled up. Go Conchs!

HIGH SPIRITS

Aww, how cute! Seniors Andrew Braswell and Lissette Cuervo are such a spirited couple. Both wear their jerseys to school for the football game that Friday night. We know we'll see Lissette cheering for Andrew!

Sophomore and JV cheerleading captain Andrea Leto cheers her school on at the pep rally. Junior Varsity cheerleaders put in a lot of hard work and dedication to make their performance at pep rally have a "jump" start.

Seniors Lorne Nordstrom and Rainy Scarbrough know their class is going to win the spirit jugs because the class of '98' is #1!!

Seniors Ryan Burns and Marko Gonzalez scream their school spirit. Even though they're not wearing their class color, red, they still show their spirit by using their voices. Hey, Ryan, is that SPIRITment gum?

Sophomores Jessica Saldo and Raeann Banks have spirit written all over their...bodies. This year Sophomores showed a lot of spirit. Class of '99 better watch out next year!!

Senior Rosilee Crimi is striped in spirit for her Senior class. Your Senior year is your chance to shine, and many seniors have a lot of spark to show off. Key West High School is filled with creativity and Rosilee is a good example.

SKIMMING THE SURFACE

Freshman Joseph Delvalle fights his way over this rough wave. This guy finds his surf at Pelican Shoals, a popular spot to surf. The water is beautiful and the sun is always shining. Surfs up Dude!!

Senior Joel Baker spends a day on the beautiful ocean waveboarding and catching rays. This sport has a lot of names from scurffing to wakeboarding. Nice form, Joel.

Nice catch! Senior Inka Rodriguez shows off her extremely large fish. Inka spends a lot of her time, when out of school, on the water.

These three look like they're having fun! Amy Gladwell, Josie Tarracino, and Elena Haskell are all smiles.

They're just coming back from a long day of fun and sun on the jet ski. Jet skiing is one of the most popular watersports in Key West. If you don't have one or have never been on one...go rent one and have some fun!!

Just another beautiful sunset in Key West. Most locals take advantage of the colors that end our days. From pink to orange the sunset fills the sky with a radiant glow of light. Key West is known for its awesome sunsets that are viewed from Mallory Square, which not only shows off our sunsets, but also the exotic talents of Key West locals. This picture captures the beauty of one of our many famous sunsets!!

Jonathan Gonzalez and Michael and Chris Ferrin are coming in from a long day of lobstering.

Lobstering is one of the top tourist attractions in Key West. Everyone looks forward to Lobster Season. Micheal, Jonathan, and Chris sure took advantage of the two Sportsmen Days before the season started. Bet they had a big dinner that night.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Shannyn Okeefe, George Rodriguez, John Darling and Candace Child decide to brown bag it. A lot of people bring their lunch to school instead of buying it. Good thinking guys.

Junior Tony Mendez gets ready to dig into his lunch. School lunch is always satisfying and the majority of people don't have too many complaints. Tony certainly gets his daily filling.

Lunch doesn't always go by quickly as some of us would like. Lunch is a time to socialize and relax. Of course to eat you have to spend a good portion of your time in the lunch line. This picture pretty much portrays the every day lunch line. Patience is a virtue.

Sophomores Amber Davis and Kit Stein enjoy their lunch while discussing the upcoming bonfire. A lot of people don't like eating in the cafeteria, so the outside bench works for these two. Key West High School students have the convenience of eating just about anywhere they want, from the patio to outside on the grass. Except the Seniors who have the option of eating off-campus lunch.

Seniors Scott Miller and Dennis Piscopink enjoy a lunch in the cafeteria along with Junior Eddy Herrera. Just about everyday you'll see these guys sitting together at the same table. Enjoying your pizza guys?

Seniors Monique Tynes and Monica Munoz laugh in amazement at how fast Bryan Wofsey WOLFS down his corn!!

Junior Larry Youngman finds an interesting way to eat lunch. Very creative, if you can't find a table, use a trash can!! Very smart!

Senior Lazaro Chavez is known for his stylish clothing and good looks. You'll never see him in the same outfit twice. If you need fashion tips, go see Laz.

DRESSED TO IMPRESS

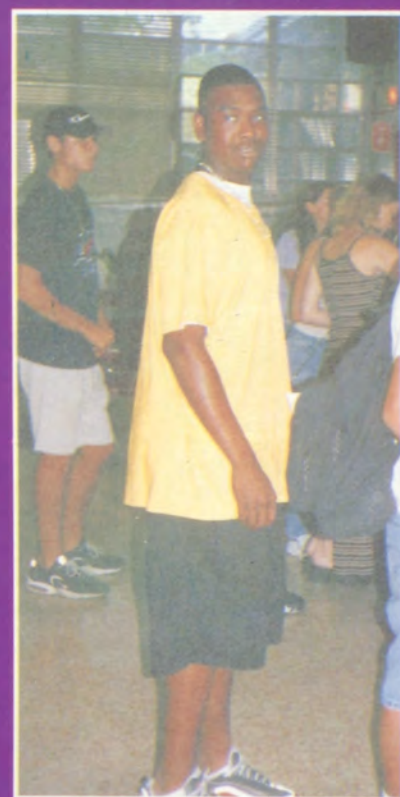

Junior Alisa Gosselin struts her stuff in a new fashionably correct leopard shirt. Leopard print is way in this year, so Alisa knows what she's doing. And to make her outfit complete she added some cool shades!!

These Sophomores Micheal Anderson and Billy Spottswood look good enough to be in G.Q. They're sporting commonly seen brands of Gap and Polo and they are looking "sweet."

Junior Kristin Walterson is showing off her bright personality with a pair of lime colored shorts. Kristin always finds a way to shine among the crowd.

Senior Devin Butler sports a bright shirt to match his shining personality. Check out those awesome shoes.

Sophomore Dane Artman is striped in fashion. Also his khakis show his great fashion sense because just about everybody has pair in their closet this year.

Junior Jana Denker sits at her piano and plays one of Mozart's famous pieces. Jana has taken piano for numerous years and has established a talent many wish they had. It's not as easy as it looks. Piano takes patience and graceful movements of the hands.

Senior Micheal Wirsching and Junior Nicole DeNicola have found their talent on the stage of Tennessee William's Fine Arts Center. They performed in the play GiGi the Carrousel Horse, directed by Key West High School's own Daniel Bonnet. Many high school students participated in this play, Micheal and Nicole being two out of many. Both want to succeed to become famous stars. Looks like their on the right road.

Will Perry focuses his attention to his hacky sack. This has become a popular sport at KWHS. It takes concentration and timing to perfect. Looks like Perry's got it down.

These girls are the Key West High School Mistys. They have the talent to make a small group sound awesome. Keep up the good work!

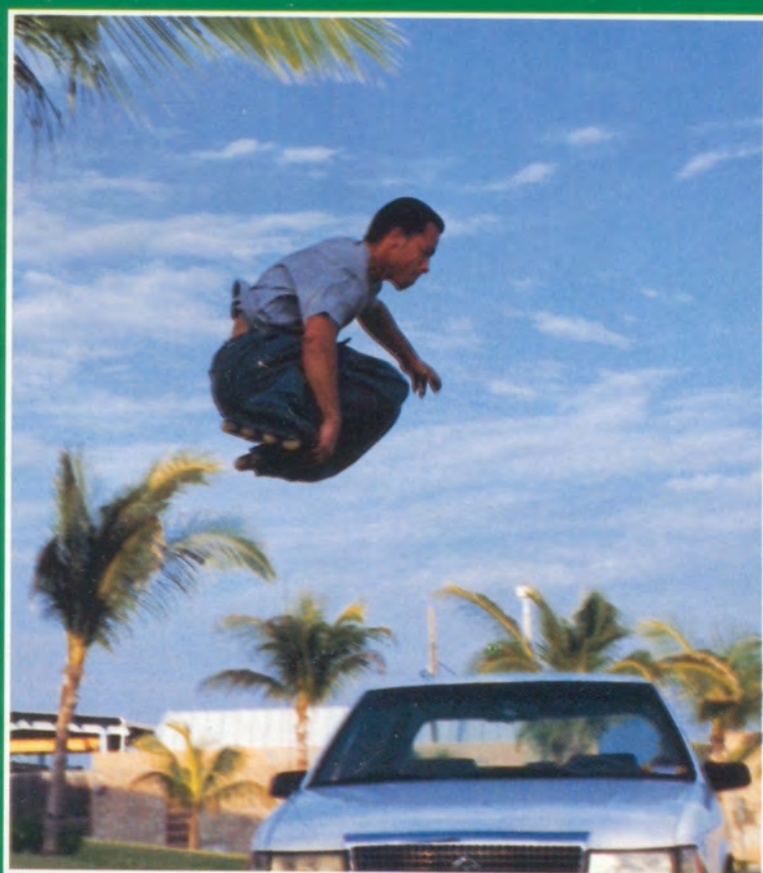

STAR QUALITIES

Junior Lele Poole shows off her stuff on horseback. Lele has been riding for many years and won many ribbons. Horseback riding isn't a very common thing in Key West, that is why she goes to riding academy in the northern U.S.

Junior Christina Stout models in one of the famous French magazines. Christina has been modeling for many years during her summers. Looks like we might have another Niki Taylor in our very own school.

Junior Russell Grabois has a talent that soars high!!

Rollerblading has become the sport of the future. And Russell is taking it to a higher level. He easily soars over an entire car.

Many people would never dare this feat, but Russell is confident in his skating and judgement.

Best Buds

Seniors Joleana Barton and Bobby Salter have a chat at lunch. These two Seniors are probably discussing the expensive cost of their letter jackets. Seniors make bonds to last a lifetime and take an oath to stay in touch.

Seniors Paula Alvarez and Brooke Donahue have a conversation during lunch. They've been good friends for quite a while. Many people make friends as Freshmen and keep those friends all through their years of high school. Then the hardest part comes and friends have to say good-bye as they go their separate ways. Paula and Brooke look like they're not letting a second of fun pass them by.

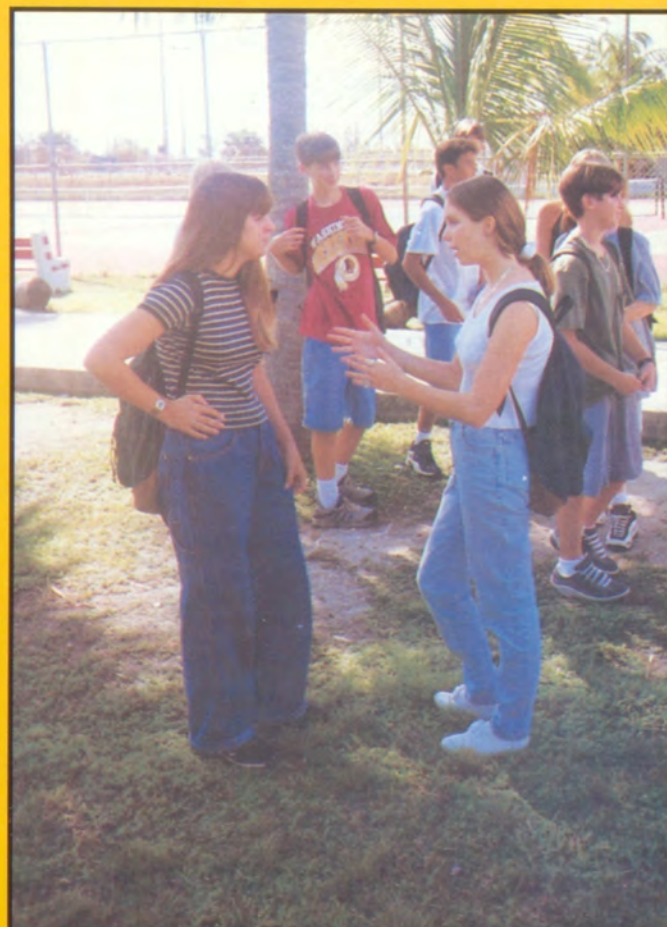

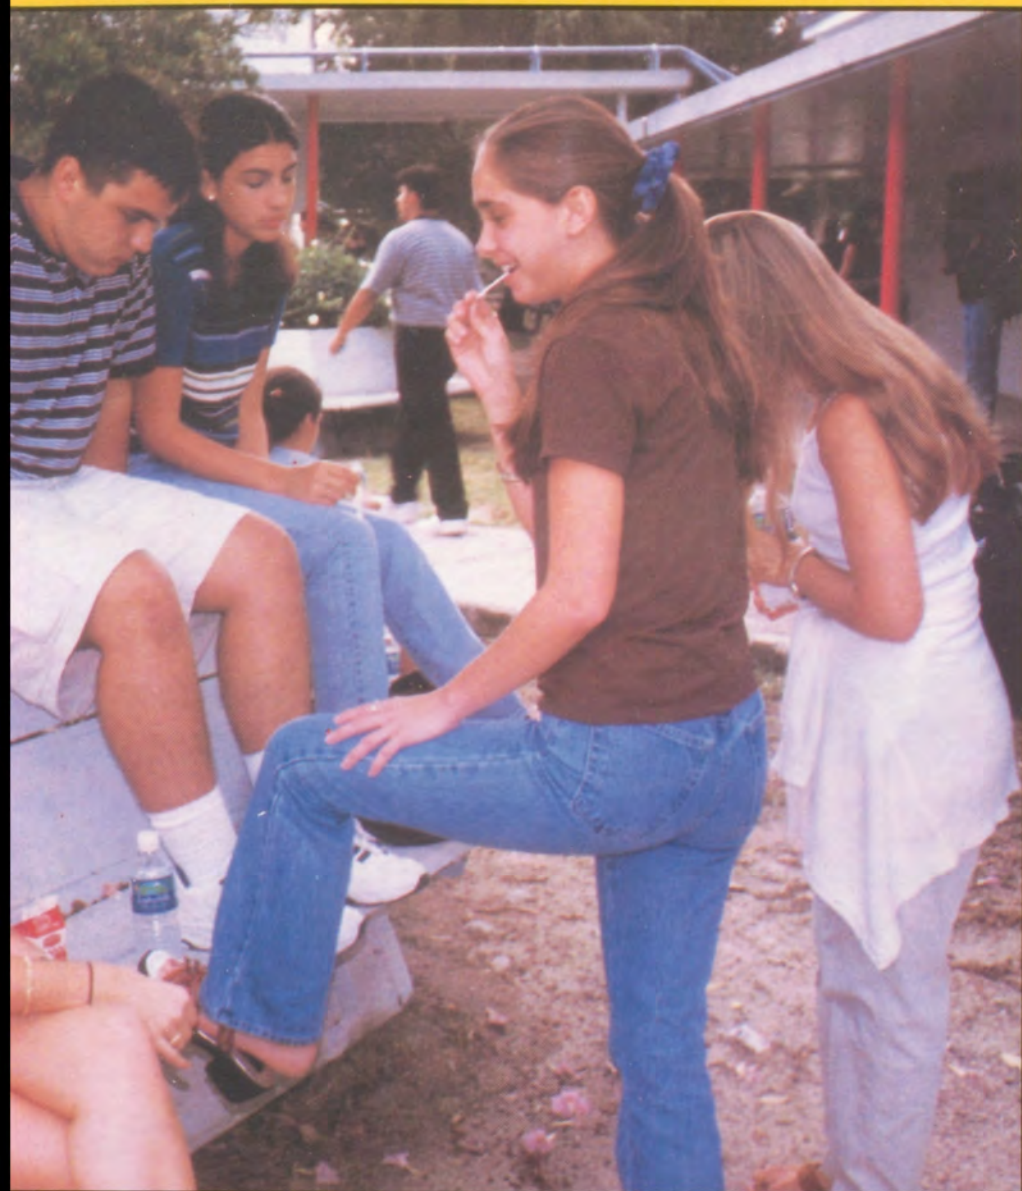

Juniors Laveda Johnson and Tyressa Butler discuss an interesting story during the 15 minute break. This time is a great chance to get away from classes for a little bit.

The three amigos, John Larkin, Natalee McIntyre and Jonathan Phelps, cool off and relax on a picnic bench under the shade. A lot of students prefer this area rather than the hot, crowded patio. It's much more laid back.

Being a true friend means listening to the problems of the day. As you can see Rebekha Delgado is paying close attention to Erica Lyons' story. Every now and then it's nice to have someone who will listen to your daily obstacles.

Sophomore Laura Soto and Senior Marcus James share a quiet lunch together. The 30 minute lunch period is a great time to catch up on the latest happenings with your friends.

Seniors Shannon Koshnik and Katie Sheehan laugh as Amanda Aguiar tells them what happened earlier. After a hard day at school, it's always nice to hear a funny story.

KWHS CATCHES THE TV JEEBIES

This group of girls seem to be enjoying themselves at the street fair the day of Fantasy Fest. The street fair is an annual event that takes place the night before the parade. Everyone enjoys the food and festivities. This is when the crazy tourists first start to show up and Key West gets a taste of the wild nights to come.

Senior Tiffany Burton seems quite happy to be downtown at Fantasy Fest. Tiffany decided not to dress up this year, but added a little sparkle to her outfit.

Junior, Jennifer Davis and Sophomore, Andy Morey are all dressed up for Fantasy Fest. And what very creative costumes, Speed Racer and Trixi.

Amy Rachmuth, Patrick Lewin and Brian Donohue take a moment to cool down from the Fantasy Fest partying. You sure do have a lot of beads there, Brian. What's the problem? Are they weighing your neck down?

Jessie Eisenzimmer and Carly Bervaldi take time out from their wild night to pose for the camera, showing off their amount of beads. It's amazing how everybody goes crazy trying to get those plastic necklaces. Look at those mischievous smiles! Wonder how they got all those beads?

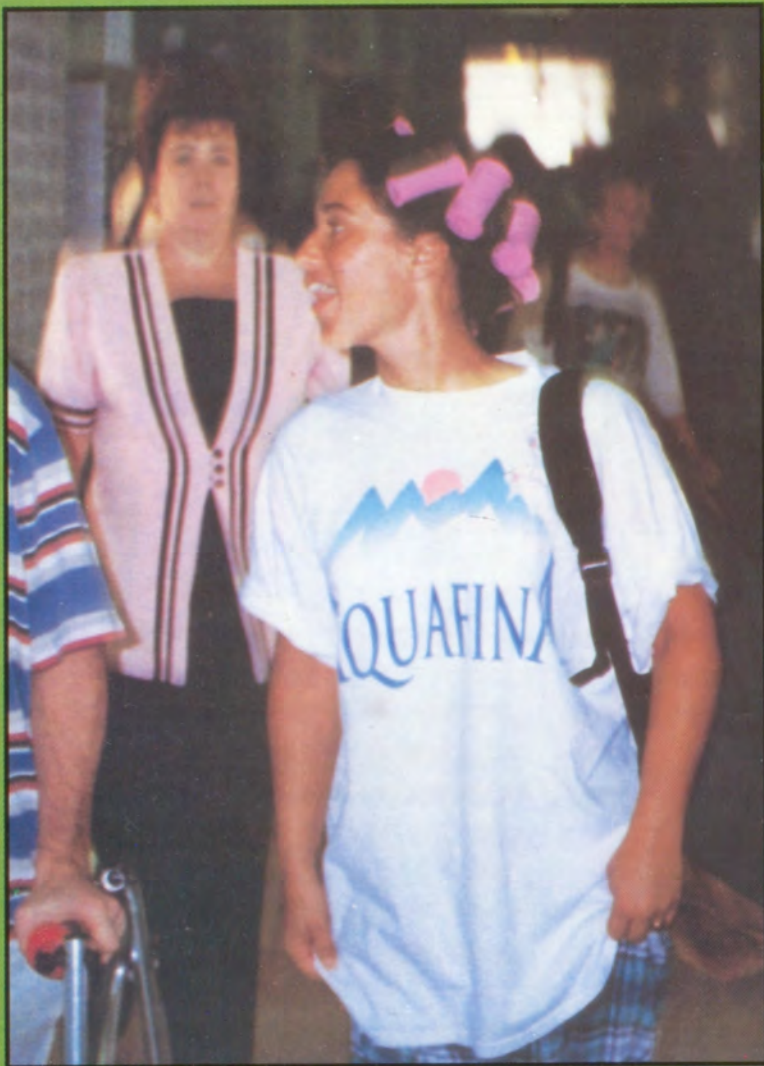

Senior Kristie Digou really wanted to join in the parade of costumes. Interesting idea, could she be "I Dream of Genie?"

Seniors Tiffany Anzalone and Ashley Brown stop for a picture to remember their wild night at the '97 Fantasy Fest Parade.

Seniors Garth Holtkamp and Olgine Brevil are all decked out to party on Key West's wildest night of the year!

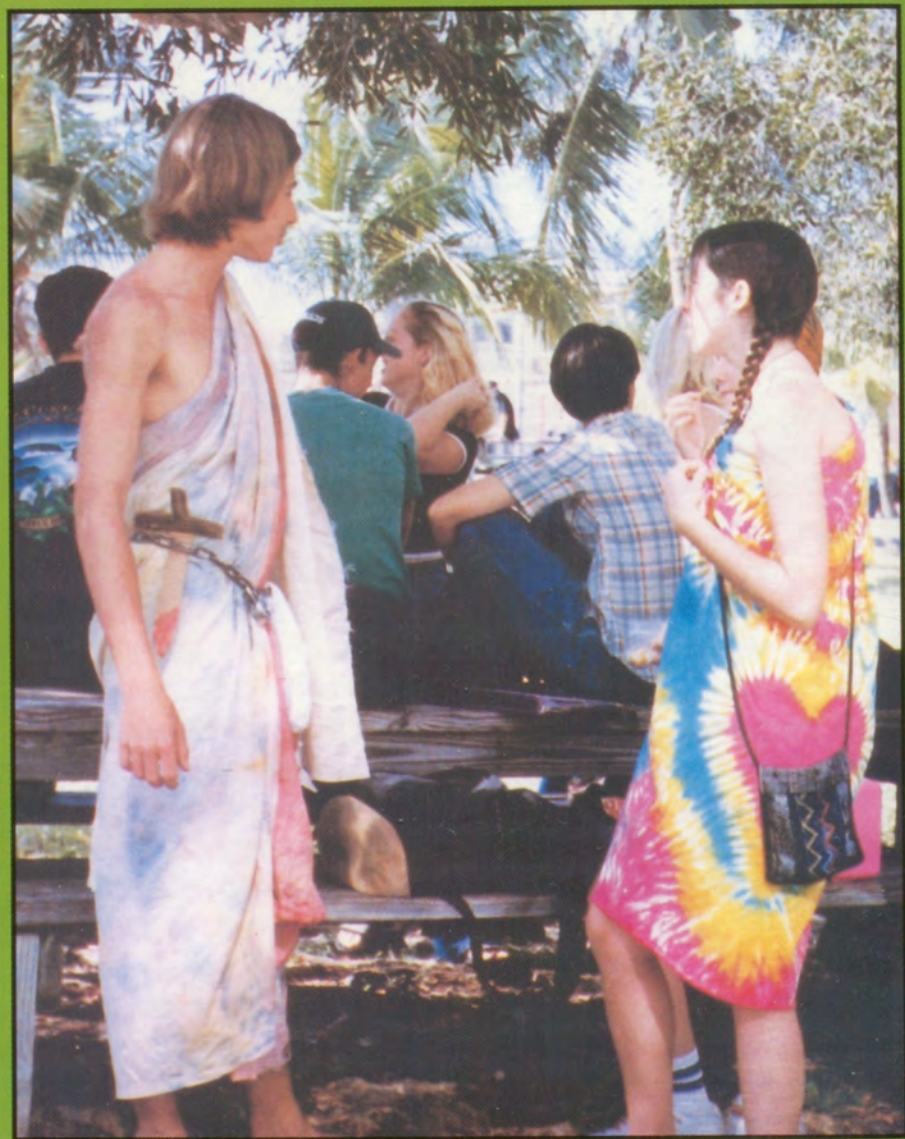

Senior Claudia Margolis got really into Pajama Day. Most KWS students do. P.J. day is considered one of the favorite days during Spirit Week. Claudia, like those pink rollers!

Sophomore Eva Steinmetz has decided she just wouldn't feel right in her P.J.'s without her stuffed frog Kermit. Everybody has a favorite toy when they're little, some of us out grow them and some can never part.

Senior Liz Wooten has a Senior bud sign her toga. Jennifer Norris must be next in line. I wonder which Senior got the most people to sign their toga?

Seniors Natalie Watson and Evan Haskill are quite creative with their togas. Tie dye isn't something you see on every senior on toga day.

SPIRIT, LET'S HEAR IT!

Sophomore Tal Yardini is happy to be in her P.J.'s. Some students liked coming to school in the P.J.'s so much, they wanted to do it everyday. P.J.'s are the most comfortable clothes. In fact, some kids do roll out of bed and don't change from their P.J.'s to school clothes. Not many, but some. Tal's bear even enjoys his very own bright boxers.

Senior Jennifer King is getting her toga signed by an unknown participant.

On Friday, October 31, 1997, our queen was announced. Out of the five well-deserving candidates, Melissa "Meme" Edwards, escorted by her younger brother Michael, was crowned queen. The crowd roared with excitement when the queen was announced. As the crowd slowly quieted down, the VIP's serenaded Melissa with, "Lady in White." The court exited the field, and another Homecoming is now a memory here at KWHS. A symbolic stop in our voyage as we "Sail Through the Years."

Impressed By Beauty

Homecoming Court member Monica Munoz. Her escort was Bryan Wolfsey.

Homecoming Court member Angela Rodriguez. Her escort was Ben Harrison.

Homecoming Court member Inka Rodriguez. Her escort was Solares "Buddy" Gregory.

Homecoming Court member Liz Wooten. Her escort was Brandon "Chupa" Charette.

Junior Nicole Ryan and date Josh Batten enjoy a slow song on the dance floor. A lot more people danced than most of you'd expect. The dance floor was packed on November 1st, 1997.

SAILING THROUGH

The Senior class float tied for 2nd place with the Juniors in the Homecoming Parade. Sailing to Victory was the theme they used and they did a great job displaying an enormous amount of school spirit. All of that energy must have helped the Fighting Conchs Homecoming night in their football game against Gulliver; they sailed to a victory of 26-25!!

Juniors captured the theme with a whole different perspective. Up, Up and Away was their theme with hot air balloons representing the years of high school. Their amazing props and creativity tied them in 2nd place with the Seniors. A lot of hard work is visible just by looking at this float. Every year the Juniors have maintained the status of 2nd place. Next year guys. Go Juniors!

THE YEARS OF KWHS

Sophomores had an original float. They went way back through the years and got KWHS alumni, ranging from previous homecoming queens to state winning coaches, involved on their float. Originality and an awesome presentation won the Sophomores 1st place.

Sailing Through the Years Arabian Style was the creative theme of the Class of 2001. All of their hard work was rewarded with the prize of 3rd place. The Homecoming Parade was one of the first events where the freshmen had a chance to exhibit their class spirit. Great job freshmen!

MOOD SWINGS

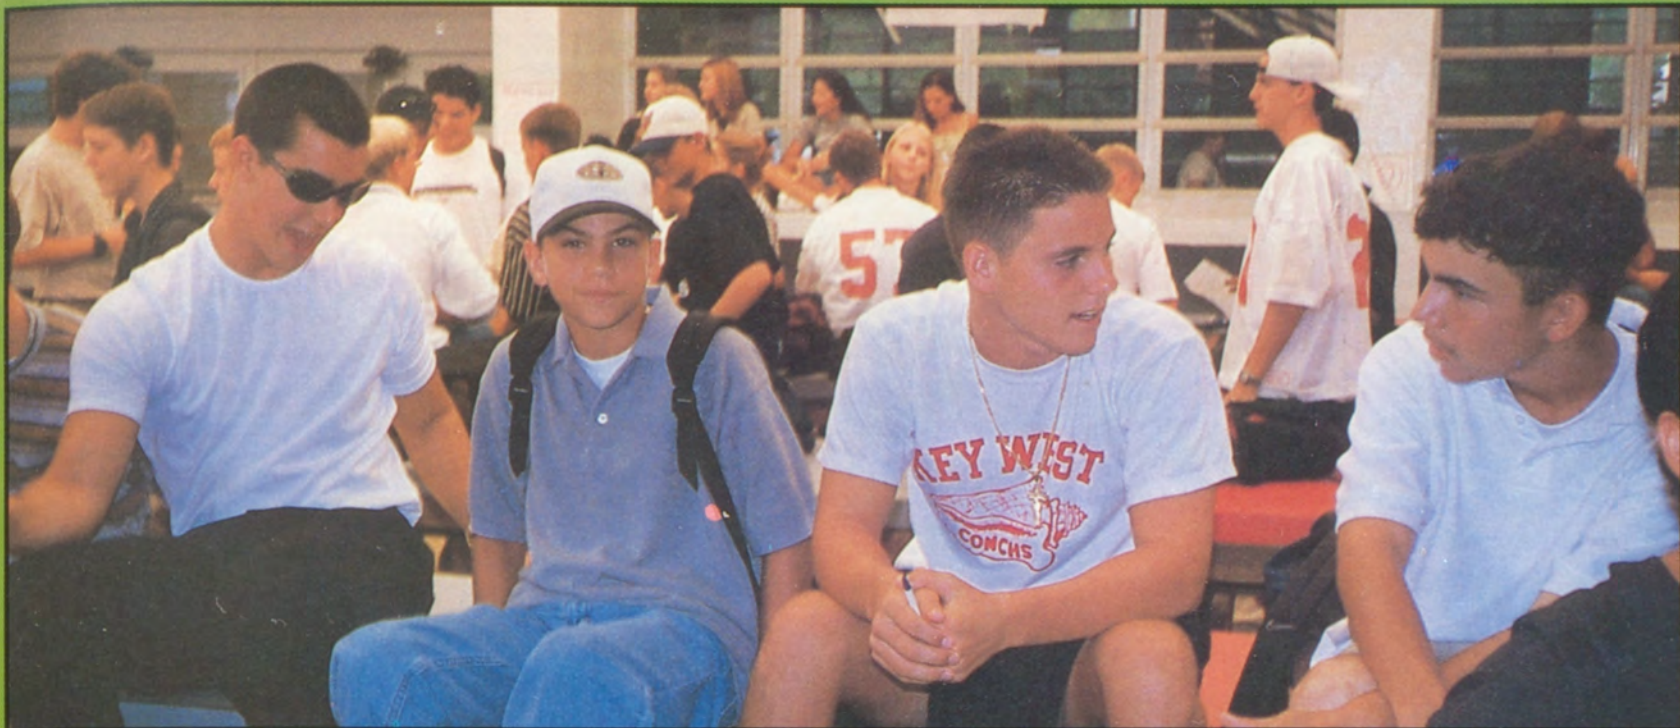

Senior Jesse Perloff seems to be in the mood to day dream. Every high school student does it. Sitting in class, you find yourself in an endless daze anticipating the fun weekend to come. Take it from Jesse, dozing off in class can get you in trouble. And do you really want to spend a fifth year walking the long halls of Key West High?

Sophomore Brandy Hawkins and Senior Philida Ridler seem to be in moods that disagree. Moods in a school day can fluctuate from happy to horrible. It looks like these guys are having a personal discussion, school having nothing to do with it. Most school days are fun and keep everybody smiling.

Freshmen Ricky Gonzalez, Matt Krathen, and Robert Rogowski all portray three different moods in one picture. Ricky looks very excited about something, Matt doesn't look very entertained and Robert is just not in the mood to even listen to the story Ricky's telling.

Junior Sean Morales just isn't in the mood to socialize. He seems to be very deep in thought.

Some people enjoy some time alone to think through things and make tough decisions.

Sean's usually not one of those people, but there are always those rare exceptions.

Sophomore Alexis Ramirez looks very concerned about something. Looks like she's lost something of great value. Keep looking; it'll be o.k. Alexis.

This group of students spends their break relaxing on the side walk. Many areas around campus are great for chatting with friends.

Important

The 15 minute break gives students a chance to take time out of their busy academic schedules to catch up with friends.

People

SENIORS

As the 1998 school year comes to an end, this class will leave a lasting impression at Key West High School. This group of Seniors shows off their pride with the coffin, with the word "SENIORS" on the lid, over the class color - red. The Seniors are unique, due to the pride and dedication they have shown throughout their years. We have also seen all their enthusiasm in their involvement and participation in many activities including Spirit and Coffin Week and Clubs and Organizations. The top class has shown no lack of Conch Spirit. Most Seniors feel that graduating high school and being independent will be the greatest challenge in their lives, leaving an impression that will last a lifetime.

The Class of 1999, Seniors of tomorrow, faces many challenges this year. They started off strong by coming in second place in the homecoming parade. Holly Hopkins says, "We're all pretty proud of coming in 2nd for the third year in a row, of course we've always strived for first place, hopefully next year." Aileen Rowe, Junior Class President and Varsity Cheerleader, excitedly said, "No doubt about it, our class has the most spirit. Everyone's always involved in any activity that the Executive Board decides to do. Whether it's an event like our Homecoming float or Coffin Week, Class of '99 always leaves a lasting impression. Even though we're symbolized by the color black, the Junior class's spirit still shines through. We are loud and represent ourselves at all spirit events and activities. This is greatly shown in the newly reformed Key West High School Pep Squad, which is headed by Junior Ayesha Osborne. When asked to give a quote this is what she had to say: "This group has not been around since the late 80s. The purpose of the squad is to encourage school spirit by adding to the cheers at all of the pep rallies and games throughout the school year."

Smile! Holly Schmidt shows her team spirit after a volleyball game at St. Brendan's High. She's all ready for the ride home.

Deana Valdez and Nicole DiNicola gossip with each other after school. Anything good going on today, girls?

This group of Juniors sit around thinking and planning their Homecoming float. These girls grew weary after working in the sun, and they decided to rest in this tree. By the way, what did you girls think of the Sophomore float? Pretty snazzy, huh? Don't worry guys, we'll get them next year during Coffin and Spirit Week!!

Merlin, a.k.a. Kenneth Clarke, works hard on his latest magic potion on Halloween Day in his World History class. Where did you get that awesome costume, Kenneth? Could you cast a magic spell and change our grades to all A's?

Jennifer Jones works hard to help raise money for the band at the Senior class sponsored Halloween Carnival. Could that be a witch costume? Hey Jenny, which witch are you supposed to be? The wicked witch of the West or the East? What is that you are making anyway? I'm sure you had a blast this night.

Sophomores, the forgotten class of 2000, impatiently awaits the impressions the upperclassmen will make on them. This class started strong by winning the Spirit Parade their freshman year. This is a group of Sophomores all dressed up in their class color GRAY, showing school pride and class spirit. Enthusiasm and class spirit are expressed by class sponsor, Mr. Paul: "The class of 2000 is a one-of-a-kind class that will be remembered for many things for a long time to come." Class counselor, Ms. Edwards, comments on our academic achievements by saying, "The academic standards, like GPA and total credits to graduate, have been raised, but it is encouraging to see how these students are working hard. They're an outstanding group." They continuously impress KWHS with their scholastic and athletic abilities. English teacher, Mrs. Freer, occasionally quizzes her sophomore classes with, "What are the two most important things in life?" Most sophomores would answer "graduation" and the homecoming parade. As graduation creeps closer, the Class of 2000 will leave a lasting impression on KWHS, just as KWHS will leave a lasting impression on them.

FRESHMAN Class of 2001

The dull ache of nervous energy in the pit of your stomach and at the same time, the excitement of starting a new year at a new school. This is the impression most Freshmen received as they descended the halls of KWHS at the beginning of the school year. As they stared up to the mighty conch, the Freshmen realized that they were entering not only a new school, but also a new stage of their life. And once again, they were forced to leave the comfort of their high status at the middle schools and start over, from the bottom of the barrel. They were forced to reestablish their place among the student body. But the Freshmen easily overcame the difficulties and obstacles that faced them. Pictured above are Christopher Child and Lee Mattingly. Both have enjoyed their first year at KWHS.

At first glance, this year's Freshmen seemed uninterested and nonchalant about the activities going on around them. As the year progressed, they finally showed their true colors. They became more involved and forced the other classes to acknowledge their presence. And even though the path to becoming a Senior is long, we can all admit that the Freshmen, through triumphs and tribulations, have definitely made an impression on KWHS.

This class of Freshmen are all into the t.v. This is because they are receiving valuable information about being Freshmen in high school. We hope you all are listenin'.

These two Freshmen prove that they can walk and talk at the same time! What's to smile about today boys? Any dates lined up for the weekend?

This Freshman comfortably strolls down the hall. Freshman year can be an unnerving experience, but KWHS's Freshmen jumped right into the high school experience.

Mr. Welsh, one of our school's vice principals, says he can't think of anything else he would want to do, or be anywhere else other than here. He loves Key West. Sometimes, however, he says that he would rather work with the students than the adults!

Mr. Fletcher, another of our school's vice principals, says working with the kids and getting to know them are some of the things he likes best about his job. Of course, he loves coming to work every day! Who wouldn't? With such a great staff and terrific students, everyday is a blast!

Mrs. Tingley, another vice principal, says that she enjoys giving something back to the school and community that she grew up in. She feels that Key West High School offers quality programs for students and is proud to be a part of such a great place.

Humanities

Our Future

Humanities lets students head in the direction of their dreams. From drama to woodshop, KWHS students enjoy their education on what a black box is or how to use a table saw. Many students take electives to give themselves a break in the middle of the day.

Either way, KWHS is full of diverse and fun electives leaving many impressions on its students.

Math

Measuring Up!

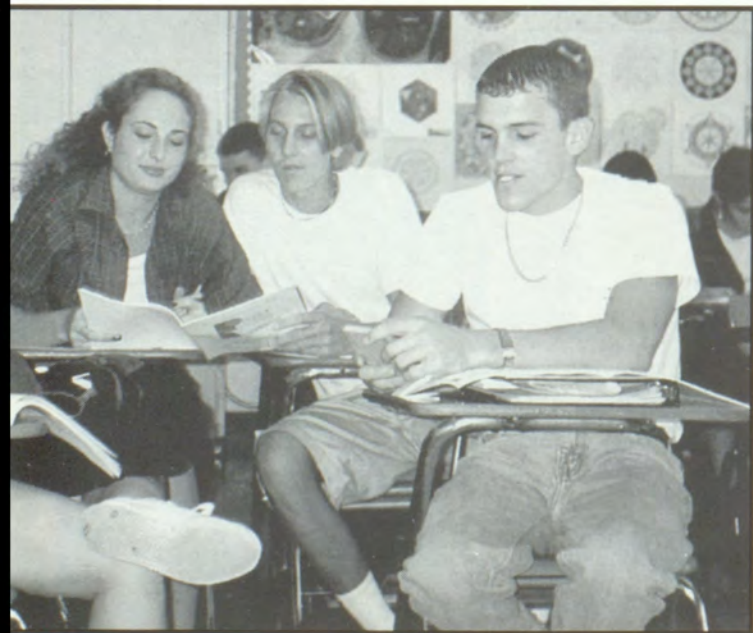

Take a system of numbers; add a few operations, theorems, and postulates; subtract a little carelessness and a couple of impossible solutions; and result with a multiplication of knowledge in arithmetic and mathematics and a realization of an important division of our high school education. The faculty of our math department have exceptional talents in many fields, including those of general math, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and calculus. They have succeeded with distinction in broadening our concepts of the complexities of the mathematical world.

Science

Science explains some of the mysteries of the universe.

Within our nicely equipped class rooms the science teachers explore various facts of life. Actual experimentation, discussion, and observation — utilizing laboratory facilities — both evokes interest in the courses and enables students to reason out their own conclusions on the latest scientific studies. The latest addition is the very successful marine biology classes — a real "hands on" experience.

Senior Mike Wirshing lurches off J-wing in Mr. Mathy's exciting physics class. Many fun "hands on" experiments are done in and out of his exciting classroom.

Maya Nelson and friend, both Sophomores, take notes on her Biology class. They are studying the anatomy of a sea urchin.

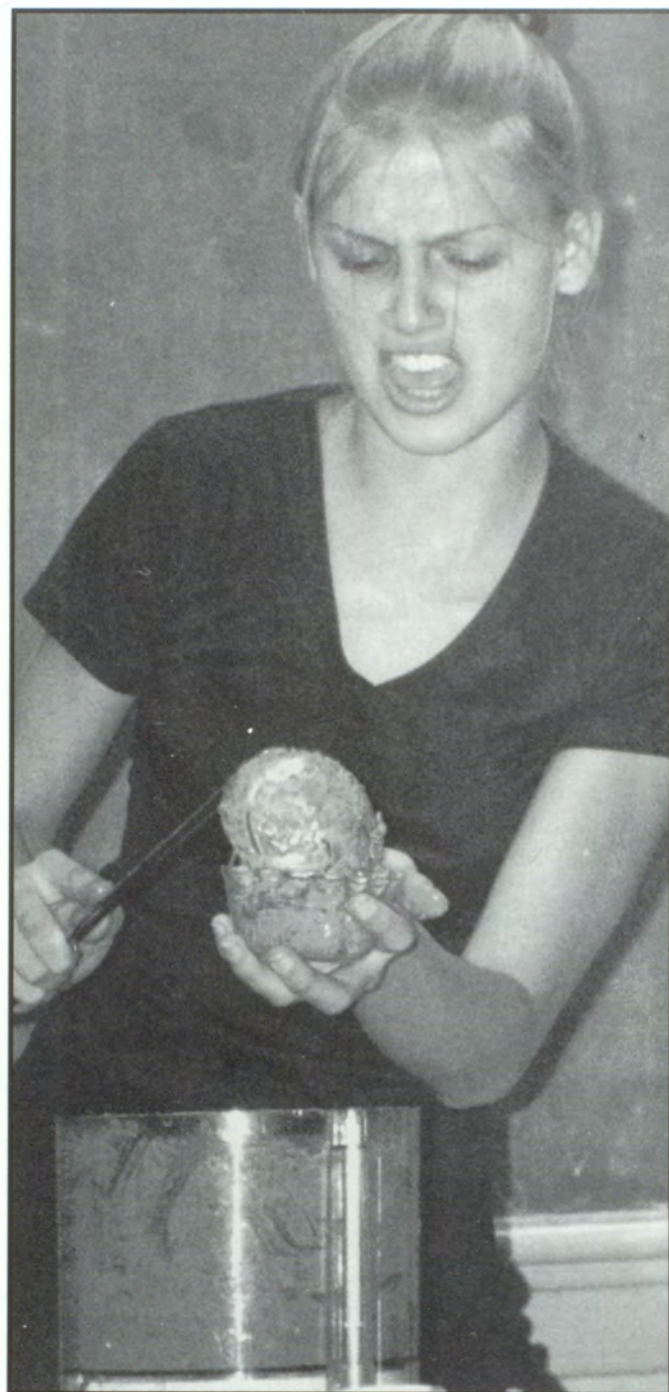

English

Unlimited Knowledge

Beware of improper English. The English teachers of Key West High School lay down the law when they catch us articulating incorrectly (for those of you who don't pay attention in class, that means slang). Put yourself in your teacher's shoes.

Can you imagine not understanding what people are saying? The first time you here "da bomb," you would probably drop for cover and totally embarrass yourself. So, underclassmen, give your teachers a break and write them a Slang Dictionary. Seniors, remember all of the stupid sayings and ridiculous word combinations. That should give you something to laugh about when your old and gray...

HISTORY

Feed Your Mind

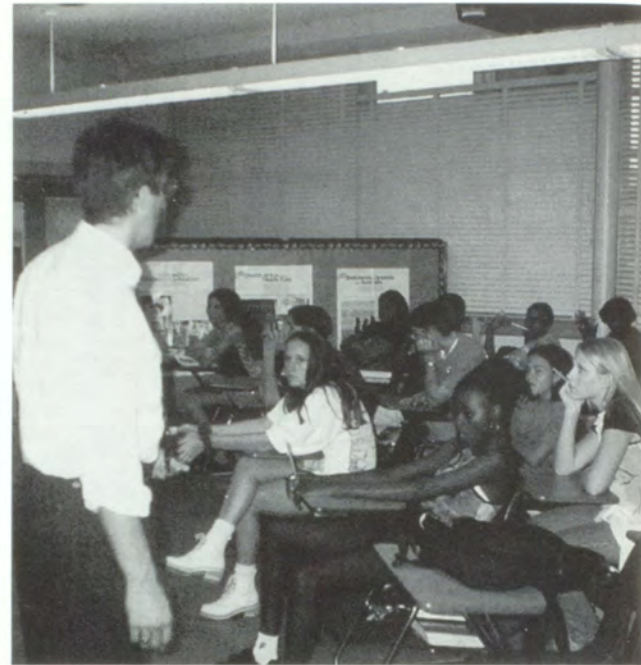

History is a great class for students to learn their origins, the struggles of ancestors, and many other facts. History helps us understand the conditions of our society and the effects on our world, by relating the past to the present.

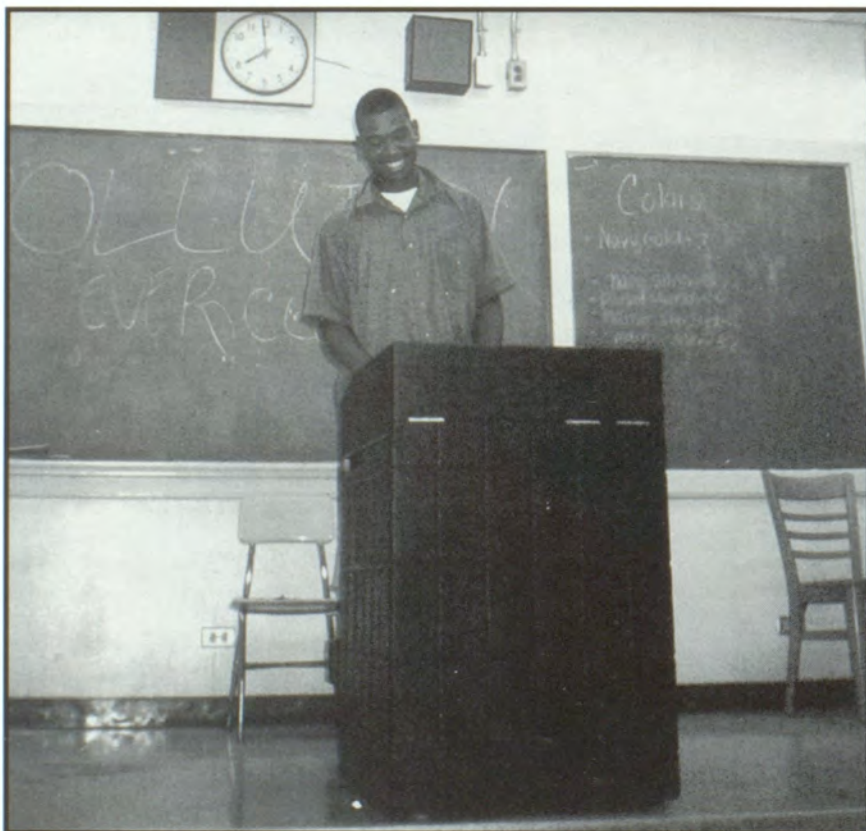

Catherine Hart points out an exiting fact to one of her fellow students, Jerome Simmons. He looks pretty surprised.

Colton Butler studies hard in Mr. Paul's history class. Knowledge will take you far, Colton, maybe around the world.

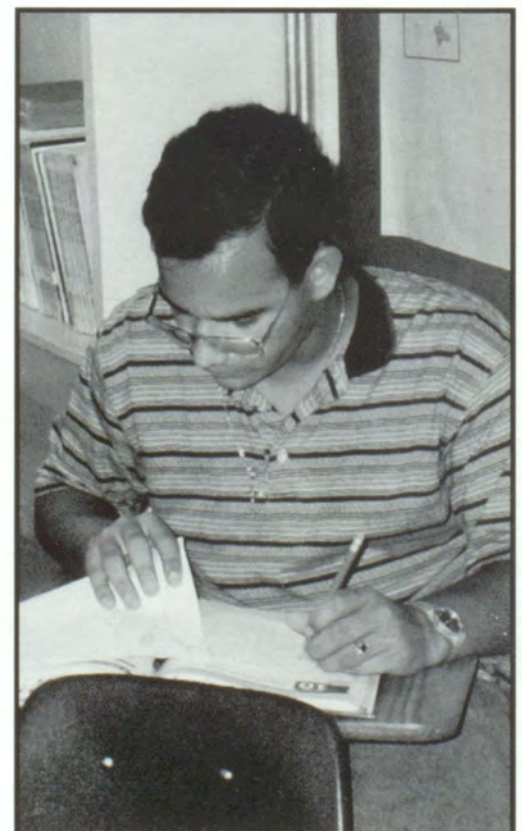

Mr. Paul lectures to his World History class. He educates his students on Christopher Columbus and his journey across the Atlantic.

New Electives

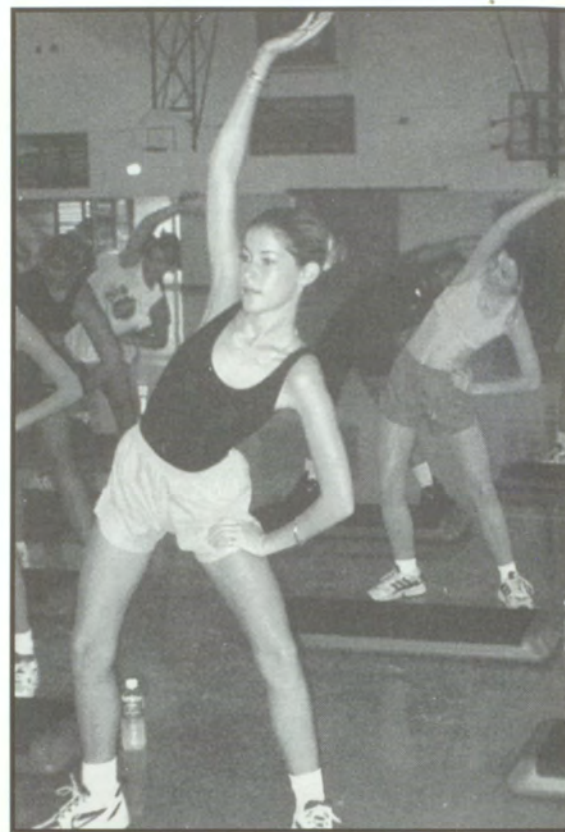

Are We Having Fun Yet?

Key West High School is broadening its horizons with more electives, giving students more of a choice when choosing classes. Sailing, aerobics, dance, and marine biology are some of the new classes now offered at KWHS. This wide variety of electives makes the school day exciting.

Mr. Bonnet and his new dance class warm up before a full hour of heart pounding, foot stomping, move groovin', booty hoppin' fun!

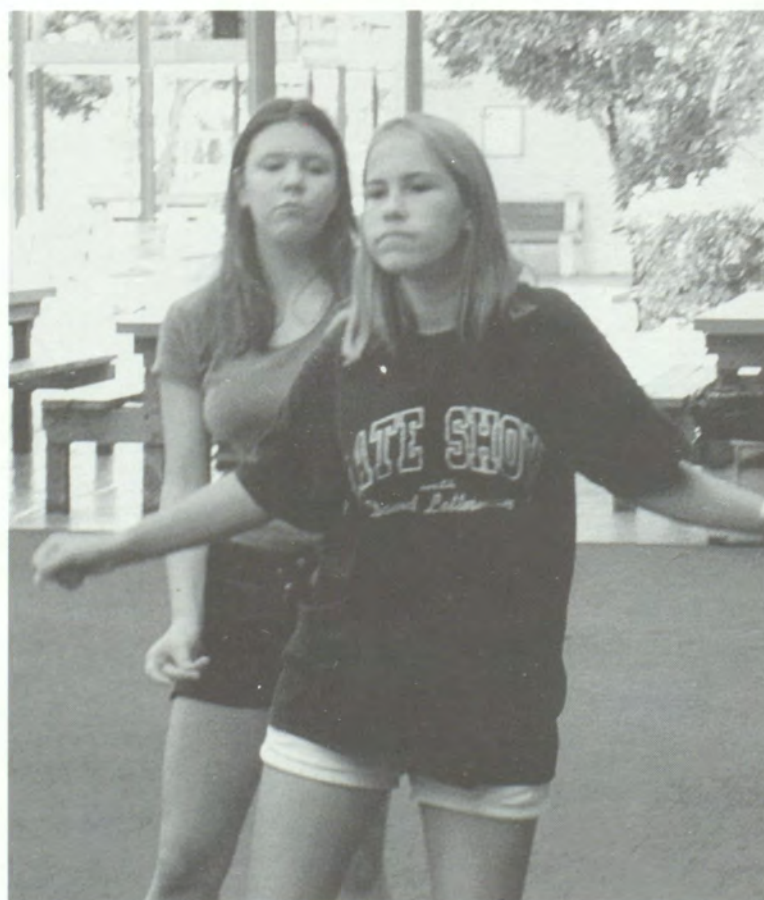

Stretch, reach, climb. Is aerobics really a class now? What a great way to have fun and stay in shape. Ms. Renier sure has her work cut out for her.

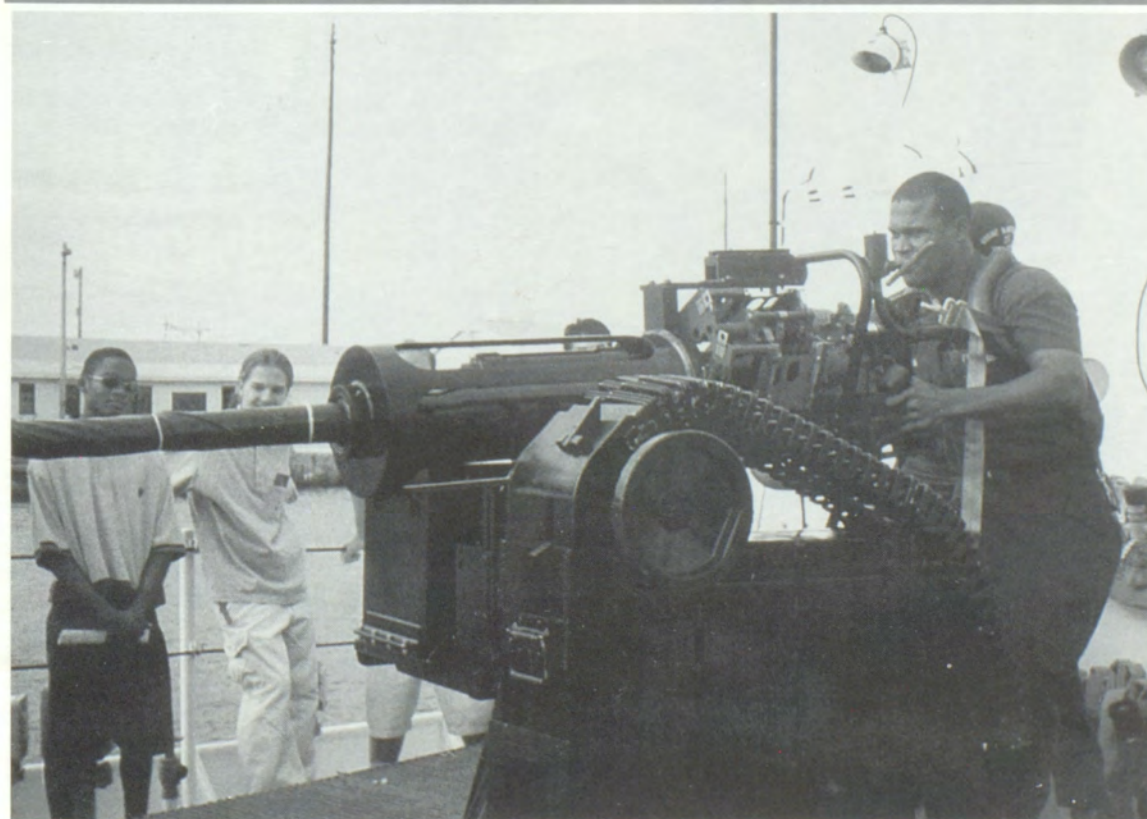

These four girls are working hard, trying to create a dance for Mr. Bonnet. Taking time out of their busy academic schedules by dancing is a great way to relieve unwanted stress.

Emily Heinrich and Marisa Wienstein try out some new moves to incorporate into their dances. Looks good girls!

Josh turns this boat just enough so Mr. Fant can't tag the buoy. Learning how to sail is one of the interesting things students learn in the yachting and boat repair class.

Mr. Fant's yachting and boat repair class watches one of our local Coast Guard men demonstrate the use of large guns, one of many gadgets on the USS Nantucket.

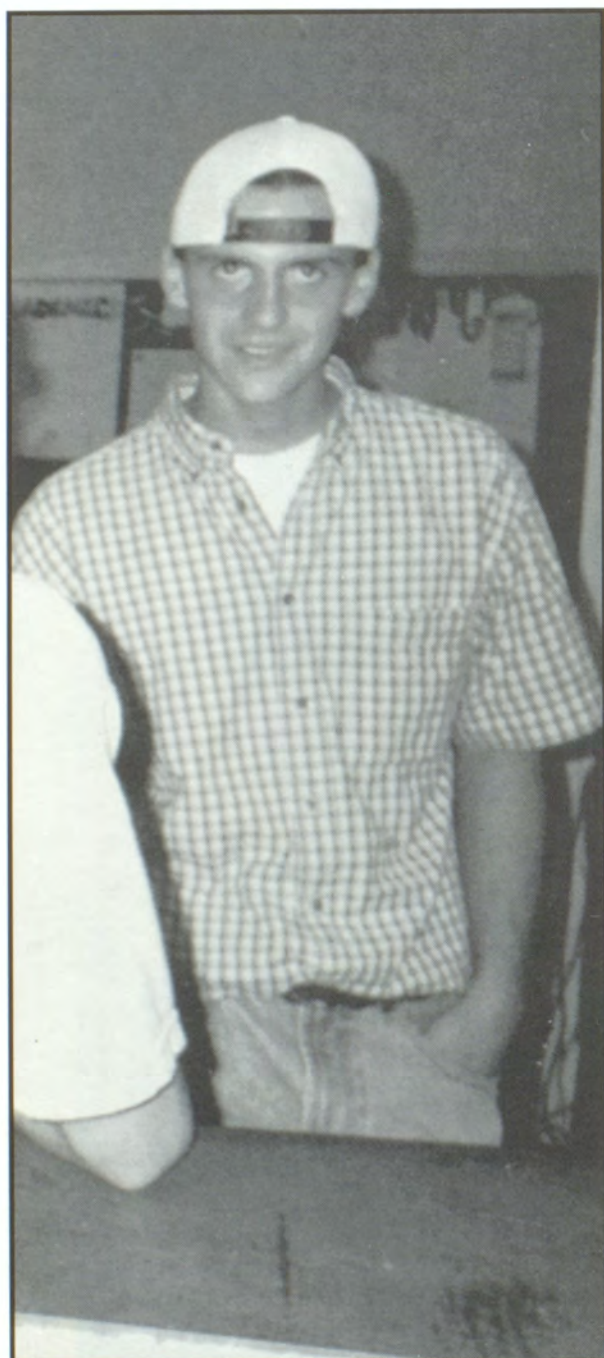

Publications

Write On!

Key West High School Publications preserves all of our memories, and reminds us of all the impressions made, our teachers, and our friends. Unfortunately it will also force us to remember all the foolish mistakes, bad hair days, and weird clothes. Yet it keeps our minds fresh with all the great memories we had at Key West High School.

Candice Wagner and Jose Corredor, like most Key West High School students, love lunch. Just like everyone else, this is their time to relax and prepare to have more fun with the upcoming activities. This class is one of the few classes lucky enough to enjoy lunch while still in their classroom, far away from that mile-long lunch line that most of us battle every day.

Aaron Poller works on a mind puzzling assignment during his class time. Everyday a new challenge is brought upon these kids in hopes to entertain and educate.

Special Education

Expanding Horizons

Key West High has expanded its horizon this year with a Special Education department. This is one of the newest editions to the line of classes offered here. The kids are given the opportunity to experience many different activities which they find educational and fun! From helping clean the halls to participating in school fairs, these hands on opportunities provide experience to benefit later in the work force.

Tech Prep

First Impressions in the Work Force

KWHS's Technical Prep program gives students the chance to expand their horizons and learn new and exciting things. Many students will not go to a four-year university, but with the help of the Tech Prep program they will have a fulfilling career. TV Productions, Electronics, and Nail Tech are just a few of the programs we have here at KWHS.

Mrs. Gootee's 3rd period Nail Tech class works artistically and carefully on various students' nails. Many students had their nails done for homecoming by our talented Nail Tech class.

Junior Latrice Pla is hard at work on someone's nails. The Nail Tech class set up a booth at the annual Children's Day. Don't mess up, Latrice!

Student Council

Taking Charge

Student Council has been very busy this past year. They started by electing officers: Monica Munoz, President; Jessica Cranney, Vice-President; Angela Davila, Secretary; and Carly Bevaldi, treasurer. These officers worked with the sponsor, Mrs. Christina McPherson, to help the club organize many school activities. These activities included the Homecoming Dance, Spirit Week, the Homecoming Parade, Freshmen Orientation, Teacher Breakfasts, and Pep Rallies. Student Council also participated in several community events such as the Marc House Christmas tree sales, Children's Day, and Senior Citizen Visitations. The 127 members worked together to achieve their greatest accomplishment for the 1997-98 year: the redecoration of the Teacher's Lounge.

Monique Thiel, Mrs. McPherson, and Lynly Curry put the finishing touches on their Student Council Christmas tree. This tree has greatly enhanced the beauty of our cafeteria.

Rebecca Tarrantino, Jessica Cobo, and Jessica Cranney prepare ornaments to go on our beautiful tree. The tree was on display in our gourmet cafeteria during the holiday season.

Senior Executive Board

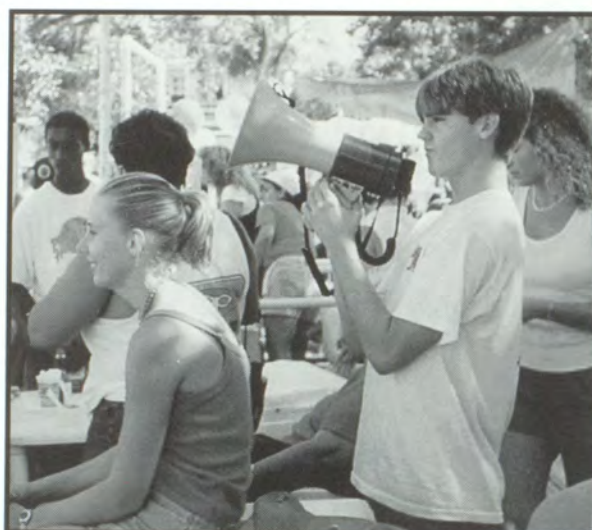

Nearing the End

If you're a senior and want to get involved, then Senior Executive Board is the club for you.

Activities like the senior breakfasts, the senior Homecoming float, various fundraisers, organizing school dances, and many monthly meetings kept them involved in school, while Fantasy Fest parking, Children's Day, and the Children's Halloween Carnival kept Seniors busy in the community. Liz Wooten, president, Crystal Moore, vice-president, Takisha Villareal, secretary, Tiffany Analone, treasurer, and 26 other members kept Seniors looking toward the future. They inspired them to strive for academic excellence and promote conch pride.

Lynly Curry works hard to help make her senior executive board float look great. This is just the beginning of all the hard work yet to come.

Junior Executive Board

We got it. Spirit!

Spirit. That's one thing that the Junior Executive Board has successfully instilled in all of its 65 members. Aileen Rowe, president; Monique Thiel, vice-president, Jessica Cranney, secretary, and Anya Cruz, treasurer, have helped the Juniors to achieve their awesome Homecoming floats which have won second place for three years in a row. Their spirit was also shown through activities such as spirit jugs, spirit links, Jr./ Sr. Field Day, Jr./ Sr. Luau, parties, and Coffin Week (RIP). They earned money for these events through Christmas fundraisers (candy grams), Children's Day, and car washes. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Rowe, Mrs. Lomba, Mr. Vinson, Mr. VanLoon, and Mrs. Thiel.

Junior Executive Board's Homecoming float was so colorful, those long hours paid off. Their float was gorgeous when completed.

And here are the proud owners of the Junior Homecoming float as they take a moment to appreciate the beauty of their own artistic talents. These guys put many hours of hard work into this float. It really is something to be proud of.

Sophomore Executive Board

Stuck in the Middle

The phrase "Stuck in the Middle" is the first thing that comes to mind when people think of Sophomores. This idea is based on the fact that Sophomores have no long standing rivalries with other classes. Until now. The class of 2000 has proved that they are willing to take on any challenge that arises. Their float came in 1st place for the second year in a row in the Homecoming Spirit parade. Officers Ashley Estenoz, president, Jenny Sterling, vice-president, Jill Cranney, secretary, and Raeann Banks, treasurer, keep the spirit flowing through the 52 members. They've participated in spirit jugs, Halloween candy sales, Children's Day, and car washes. These Sophomores definitely broke the mold and proved that sophomores are an important part of Conch pride.

To top their winning presentation off, the sophomores and their guests join in song... "We'll Always Be Together..."

From poodle skirts to rollerblades, these students have captured the moment by sailing through the years. Sophomores scream out that they are here and will not be forgotten or overlooked. Juniors will have a hard time overlooking them anyways!

Freshmen Executive Board

Just the Beginning

They may have been young, and perhaps slightly inexperienced, but the Freshmen Executive Board showed KWHS that they had tons of spirit. Their first accomplishment was electing dedicated officers: Lande Spottswood as president, Taron Higgs as vice-president, Ashley Roberts as secretary, and Marina Burton as treasurer. These officers helped the Freshmen build an interesting float that placed 3rd in the Homecoming parade. Their monthly meetings with the 15 members and sponsors, Ms. Ford and Mr. Deischer, organized the Freshmen and they rallied to win the spirit links contest. The class of 2001 might have had a rocky start, but they quickly improved and are on their way to a great high school career.

Here we catch the tail end of the Freshmen float. It even looks good from the back. They did a knock out job and it looks like they had a lot of fun while they were at it.

Freshmen proudly display their float. They vogue it up and enjoy the attention they are receiving from the observers of the Homecoming Parade.

These girls are really getting into the swing of things. Their creativity won them a third place in the Homecoming Parade.

Interact

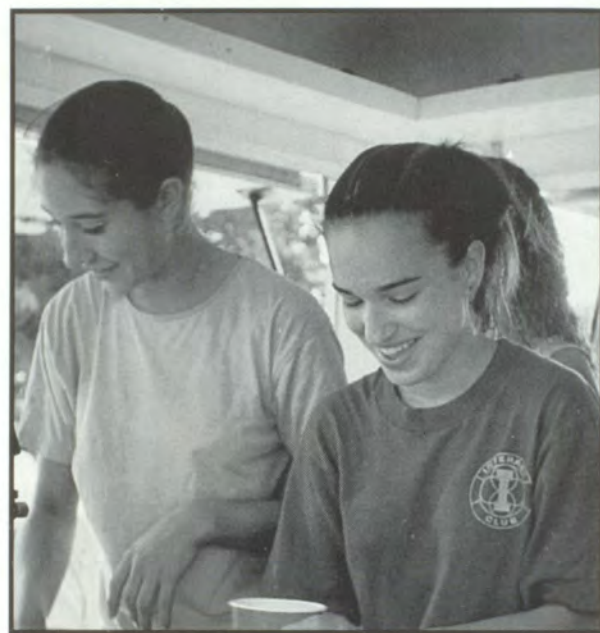

Touching Lives

More than 200 students showed that they care about their school and community by joining Interact, KWHs's largest service club. The sponsor, Mr. Holmes, organized many activities for the members to participate in throughout the year. Some activities include Children's Day, a food drive for the Salvation Army, Big Brothers and Sisters Christmas Party, Marc House Christmas tree sales, Wesley House Valentine's Party, Special Olympics, Children's Co-op Spring Fair, Beach Clean-up, Safe Port, and the Soup Kitchen. Officers Brandon Charette, President, Carly Bevaldi, Vice-President, Peter Batty, Secretary, and Shakti Assouline, Treasurer, make sure that each member earns points by participating in these and other activities. Interact is proof that KWHs students want to make a difference in their community.

Z Club

Z-Best!

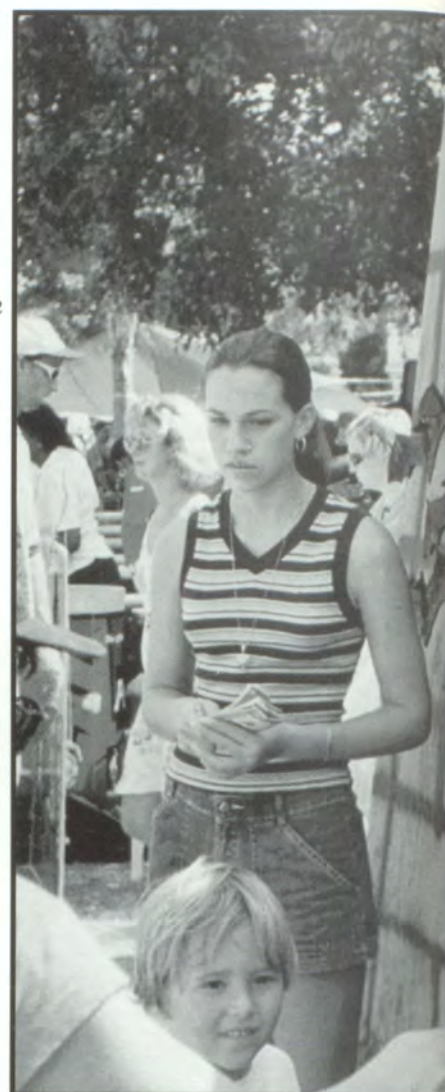

Can you have fun while serving your school and community? Sure you can, if you're in Z-Club! The Z-club participates in community service activities like the ABC Walk and Marc House Christmas tree sales and this year, they expanded their activities to include school service as well. One such activity was cleaning out the school's trophy cases. Claudia Margolis, president, Alisa Gosselin, vice-president, Christina Stout, corresponding secretary, Ashley Brown, recording secretary, and Shakti Assouline, treasurer, worked with Ms. Hodgdon to come up with ways to make monthly meetings more exciting. The result was the addition of a fellowship committee. When students discovered the many changes in Z-club, many decided to join, doubling membership to about 110.

Yahaira Sarrono talks to the man in the big hat. Maybe she wants a puppy. Z-Club does many activities for our community. This is an example of their community involvement as they help with the animal shelter's open house.

Advantage

Giving the Homeless the Upper Hand.

What's impressive about KWH's newest service club, Advantage? A lot of things! Anyone can be a member of Advantage, as long as you are committed to making a difference in your community. One thing that is unique about Advantage is that it doesn't have officers. Instead, it has a main planning committee consisting of Shannon Koschnik, Katie Sheehan, Amanda Aguiar, Jenna Vega, Tiffany Burton, and Monique Diaz. Katie Baldwin is the main leader of this group. She has worked with Mrs. McPherson, sponsor, to organize activities. Some of these activities include food drives and providing Christmas trees for needy families. The 30 members of this club were proud to have been involved during its inaugural year.

Beta

Beta' than Eva'

The National Beta Club is an academic honors club. The members, which amounted to 50 this year, must achieve and maintain a GPA of 3.0 and may only have one "C" for a semester grade. These high standards help members to be proud of their achievements and strive for higher goals. Children's Day booths and the Sadie Hawkins dance are just two of the many activities that Beta officers, Yulise Jones, president, Christian Maribona, vice-president, Dawn Grooms, secretary/treasurer, and the sponsor, Mrs. Henderson, have helped to organize. Their monthly meetings let all members be a part of the planning process and give the club more unity.

National Honor Society

Giving it that Extra Effort

The National Honor Society gives some of KWHs's top students a chance to be involved in a club that is academically charged and that serves the community. All members must have a GPA of 3.5 with no final grade of a "C" or below. This year about 50 members qualified for NHS. This year's officers are Melissa Edwards, president, Julio Barroso, vice-president, and Shawna Bowden, secretary/treasurer. Some of the community service activities that NHS did this year were the Angel Tree program, which gives Christmas gifts for under-privileged children, two booths at Children's Day, various canned food drives, beach clean-ups, and they raised money for needy families and single mothers for the Family Resource Center.

Petros were a hot item at Children's Day this year. Two NHS sweated over the crock pot to satisfy the constant customers.

Mu Alpha Theta

Too Many Variables

If you know what this equation is, then you might be a candidate for Mu Alpha Theta. This academic club has 21 members that participate in 6 state tests each year. Mrs. Nystrom, sponsor, makes sure that all members attend these Florida Math League tests. All members must be enrolled in at least Algebra II and must not have received a grade lower than a "B" in any previous math class. The officers, Joleana Barton, president, Melissa Edwards, vice-president, Julio Barroso, treasurer, and Sarah Williams, secretary, dedicate many hours to organizing meetings and tutoring sessions for the members to improve their math skills.

Chess Club

One Move Ahead

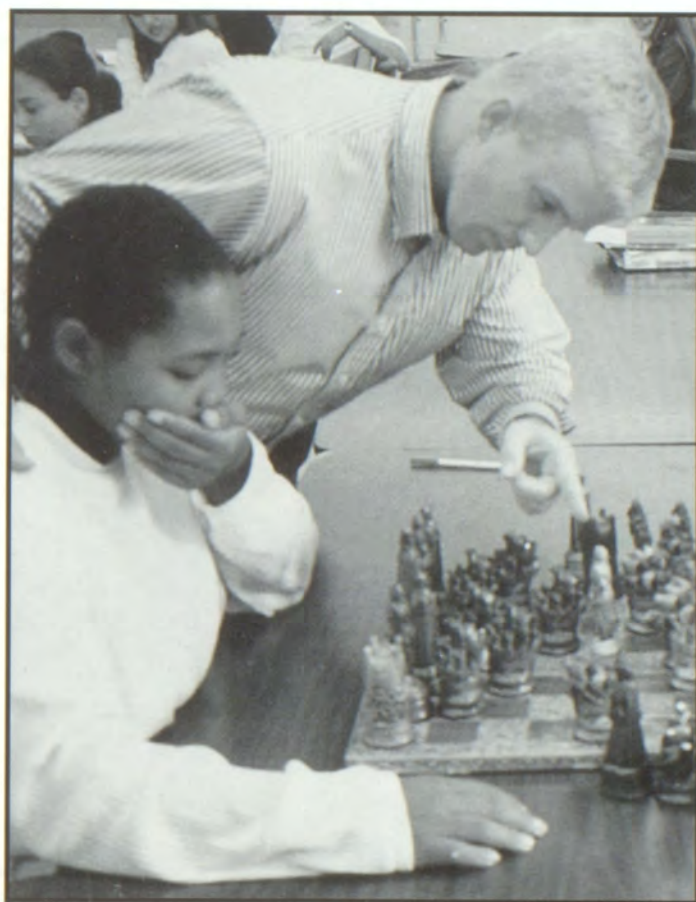

"Checkmate" is the most popular saying in chess. This game has many different rules, so most people think that it is difficult and only for nerds. But Mr. Mathy, sponsor, says that this is not the case. "Anybody can learn to play chess. They just have to be willing to learn." Their officers, Dawn Dumas, president, Holly Hopkins, vice-president, Alisa Gosselin, secretary, Carly Bevaldi and Christian Maribona, game coordinators, were in charge of setting game dates, club meetings, and arranging competitions for their members against chess clubs throughout South Florida. They met about once a month to discuss new strategies and, of course, to play chess.

Renaissance

Back in the Day

Renaissance, a cultural rebirth; revival. The Renaissance period celebrates the Renaissance period of Europe. The main requirement was to have fun while participating in Guilds, which are groups of people who work together to define and focus their skills and travel to various fairs and festivals all over South Florida. The 40 members work with Mr. Spence, sponsor, to come up with costumes and creative activities that relate to the Renaissance period. With this club, anything goes.

Art Club

Picture Perfect

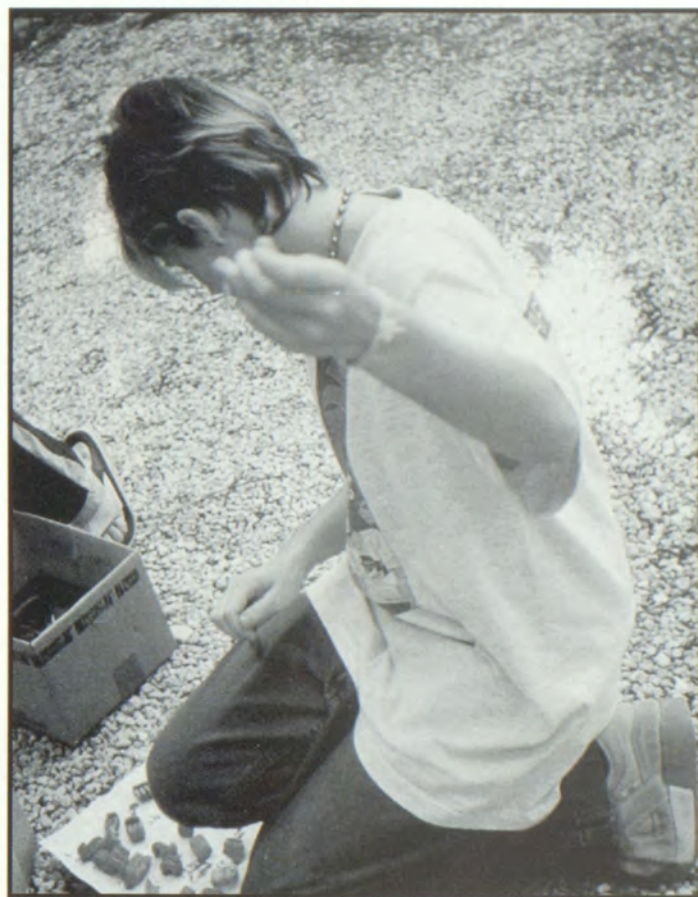

K.W.H.S. has many artistic students but there has never before been a way for them to combine their talents and work together for the beautification of the school and community. Until now. The newly formed Art Club has 30 members that have an interest in some aspect of art. President Emily Dunn, Vice-President Kim McCrory, Treasurer Jennifer Davis, Secretary Alexis Disdier and Sponsor Mr. Henderson organized activities such as murals, card designing and aiding other students and teachers with art work. These and other activities will help to beautify K.W.H.S. and give it a more art-friendly atmosphere.

Art Club Officers:

Secretary: Alisa Gosselin, President: Emily Dunn, Treasurer: Nick Olsen, Vice-President: Kim McCrory.

Drama Club

A Change in Character

What do Children's Day, Fantasy Fest, theatre trips, Broadway shows "Chicago" and "Rent", play readings, trips to London with Shakespeare points of interest, and the Key West Theatre Festival have in common? They are all activities that the Drama Club participated in. The 60 members and their officers, Holly Hopkins, president, Kristin Walterson, vice-president, Marsha Ward, treasurer, Halley Haack, secretary, and Nicole DiNicola, parent liaison representative, have shown an active interest in the performing arts this year. Mr. Bonnett, sponsor, is extremely proud of the many accomplishments that this group has achieved.

Mr. Bonnett helps show these Drama members how to dance. At least we think that's what they're doing.

Kelly Germane and Kelly Sorber take tickets for a miniature scrambler ride. Drama Club made a lot of money off of this and the kids had a blast on the ride.

Nicole DiNicola and Alisa Gosselin smile for the camera on their way up to Ft. Lauderdale. They travel there to see the Broadway musical Chicago, which was much enjoyed by all who attended.

This lucky group of students is about to see the traveling Broadway production of Chicago. Sit down, relax, and enjoy the show, Drama Club. On their return to KWHS, all were excited to have had the change to see such a wonderful show and all had tons of compliments on Chicago.

Productions

Lights! Camera! Action!

They sang. They danced. They acted. They were the 60 students involved in the production of this year's school play "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat." The students who were chosen for this play had to pass an audition that included both singing and dancing, then they were cast to play different roles. The various productions, otherwise known as Musical Theatre, are sponsored by Mr. Bonnett. The Drama Club was also a major contributor to these productions both in time and money. Many members of the Drama Club participated in the play, making the show a wonderful success.

Holly Hopkins and Sarah Revelin are doing a role play for their drama class. These actresses work hard to remember their lines.

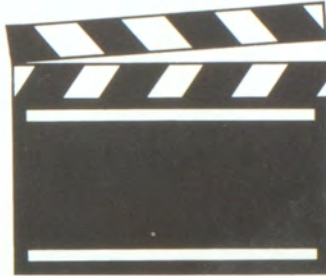

Michael Lockwood makes himself all pretty for the camera. He loves to act and it really shows. Gosh, he's cute!

In this classroom production Nic Richards is playing Jesus of Nazareth while the people under him pray; well, a few of them anyway. Nic, don't get too carried away in playing this part, it is only acting.

Dancing and shaking,
this is not a normal line up. These kids will be featured in this year's musical "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor
Dreamcoat."

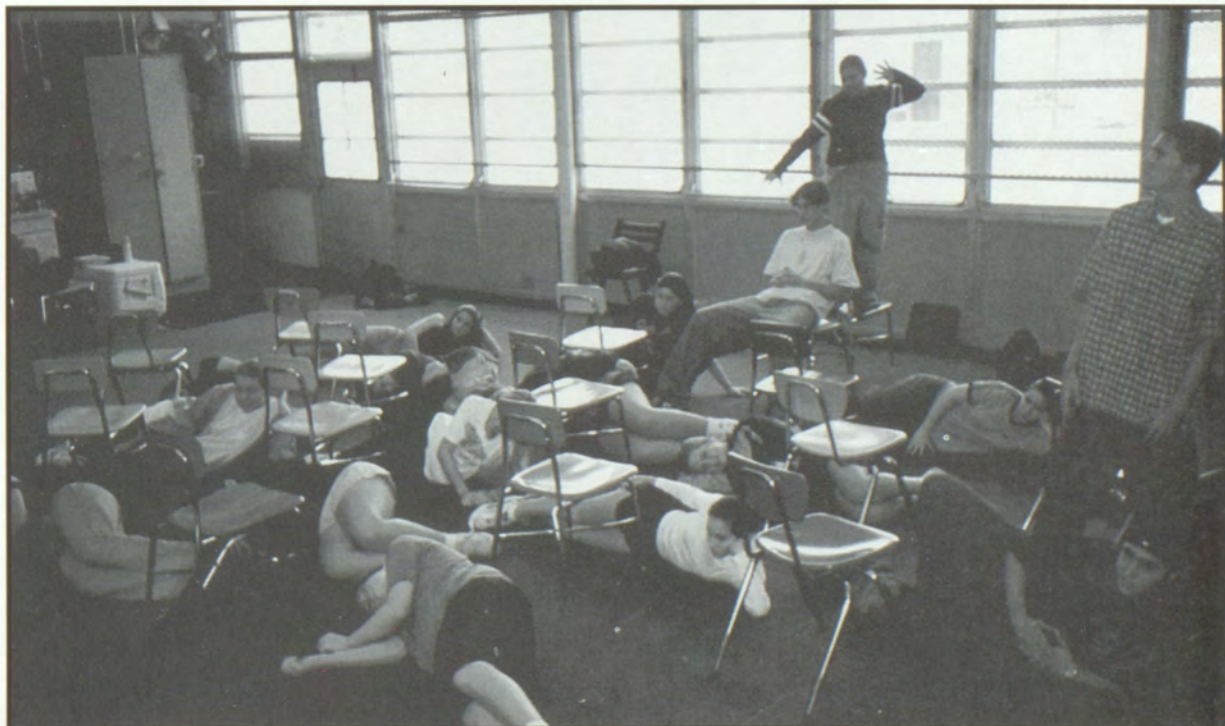

These students are trying out for the dance section of Key West High School's spring production. Looks like they are doing jumping jacks.

Donald Deihl, Kenneth Clark and friends are playing around with their potential scripts. They not only played with scripts, they also experimented with costumes.

Everyone in this drama class is playing dead. It is a good thing that they are not, because the show must go on! Are they really getting a grade for just lying around like this?

Concert Choir

Doe, a Deer, a Female Deer

The lights dim. A hush falls over the crowd. All eyes turn to the stage as they wait for the 70 members of Concert Choir to enter. It's not easy being a member of the Concert Choir, the oldest choral organization at KWHS. First, you must pass an audition. Then, you have to learn the songs and routines you will be performing. You must be willing to donate time to your school and community through things like spirit jugs, Christmas wreaths, and Mimi's pork sandwiches. The Concert Choir has performed on Good Morning America twice, at the Statue of Liberty, and at the Lincoln Center in New York City. They also sang at memorial services for two of the greatest men that KWHS has known: Tommy Roberts and Glynn Archer, Jr. The choir officers and Mr. Wilt have worked to plan several parties and trips throughout the year.

This is our Concert Choir on a less formal note. Everyone is letting loose in their casual attire. I guess after endless hours of practicing and performing, they need a little time to goof off. This was the perfect time, and a great photo op'.

Misty's & VIP's

Ray, A Drop of Golden Sun

The best of the best. This expression is often used to describe the VIP's and Misty's. The VIP's have a long and distinguished list of accomplishments. The 19 boys are proud members of KWHS's second oldest choral organization. Their unique talent allowed them the honor of singing for Charlie Gibson and Joan London on Good Morning America. The 12 girls in the Misty's have such wonderful voices that they bring a ray of sunlight into the lives of everyone they sing for. The Misty's have traveled with and without the VIP's to participate in concerts and performances throughout Florida and in various other states.

Some may think that the VIP's are taking their vanity a step to far. Not us. Paint those dancin' feet, boys!

The Misty's are climbing the walls. They are definitely working their way to the top.

"The Misty's get pumped up just in time for their next performance. Ladies, where's Hans and Franz?"

The VIP's strike one of their famous ending poses. The show's over boys. This group of boys work really hard during the year to perfect these great endings.

Freshmen Choir

Me, a Name, I Call Myself

Freshmen Girl's Choir and Freshmen Boy's Choir are two organizations that may seem similar, but are actually independent. Both performed at major concerts and several other places throughout the community. Both require you to pass an audition before joining. Both performed with the Concert Choir, VIPs, Misty's and each other throughout the year. But they are still two different clubs. The Freshmen Girl's Choir had 40 members this year. They enjoyed working with Mr. Wilt, the director. The Freshmen Boy's Choir had 25 members. They had fun both on and off the stage as they perfected their choreography and songs. Their most exciting part of the year was when they got to perform with the Misty's. They must have worked hard.

The Freshmen Girl's Choir has made a big impression on their audience this year. Hanging out, relaxing, and having fun are their specialties.

The Freshmen Boy's Choir is showing their stuff, practicing for their upcoming concert. Frankie, show 'em how to do it!

Turn the Beat Around

The band is an important part of our school spirit. They attend football games and participate in various school functions. The hard work and enthusiasm they put into their performance is enjoyed by all. In addition to their performances at the high school, they also help at different events for the community. You can see them at annual parades like the Veteran's Day, Christmas, and the Wesley House Walk. Outside the community, the band travels to competitions. This fall they attended the Heartland Music Competition and to the Florida Bandmaster's District Festival. They received the highest rating possible at each. Through hard work and dedication the KWHS Band has achieved their goals of keeping alive "The Tradition of Excellence."

Tara Stewart puts sugar on top of a funnel cake at Children's day. This fundraiser helped the band to raise money for many trips that they took this year.

Auxiliary

Tossing and Twirling

The Key West High School Auxiliary overcame challenging obstacles as they headed into the 1997-98 school year. Before the school year started, the auxiliary was required to attend three camps, Penny's Camp, KWHS Twirling Camp, and Band Camp. "All those practices sure payed off," said majorette captain Karey Kern. "They get the girls ready not only for football games, but also for the numerous parades and competitions they participate in." In the fall they showed off their spirit by performing in two highly rated band competitions, Children's Day, the Band Christmas Concert, and several community parades. In the spring the auxiliary performed as ensembles, duets, and solos. They perform for superiors at District, State, and M.A. They ended their '97-'98 year teaching newcomers to twirl.

Co- Captains, Joleana Barton and Claudia Margolis wait patiently at attention for the bonfire to begin.

Conchettes

The Boots are Back

Can you kick it? The Conchettes can! This year their kicks were better than ever because of the addition of white boots, a traditional part of every Conchette's uniform. The Conchettes worked hard to perfect their routines for the football and basketball games, pep rallies, parades, and other community events. Captains Jennifer King and Crystal Moore, Co-Captain Liz Wooten, and First Lieutenant Josie Tarracino worked with other officers and new director Mrs. Oakes (Conchette Tia) to organize new parade routines and cheers. The girls were very proud of their achievements and look forward to dancing when they return for Haden Week in the beginning of August. Along with their new uniform and new director, they've created a new attitude. Showing pride and courtesy are their newest goals.

Varsity Cheerleaders

On With the Crimson

"Pump that Key West spirit up!" This is what the varsity cheerleaders try to achieve throughout the school year. The 18 girls cheered for all of KWHS's sports. They also participated in "A Day to Remember" and Children's Day. Head coach Amber Archer Bosco makes sure that all of the girls are in top condition. Before they become Varsity Cheerleaders, the girls must participate in a rigorous week of practice and try-outs. They were judged on various elements and only top scorers made the team. Once a member, the girls must practice daily and keep a 2.0 or higher GPA. Captain Lynly Curry and Co-Captains Monique Diaz and Takisha Villereal keep pride high by inspiring the girls to strive for the best. The Varsity Cheerleaders make KWHS proud when competing in their many competitions.

Michele Rowley, while being held high in the air, symbolizes to the fans in the stands what "Losers" the other team is.

These cheerleaders cheer on their class while also cheering for their school at the Bonfire. The annual bonfire is held to pump up school spirit. The cheerleaders do a great job at getting the crowd fired up.

The Varsity Cheerleading Squad performs at the annual Childrens' Day. The girls perform all over town and even go to State and National competitions. Look at that precision. There's no doubt who has spirit, WE DO!

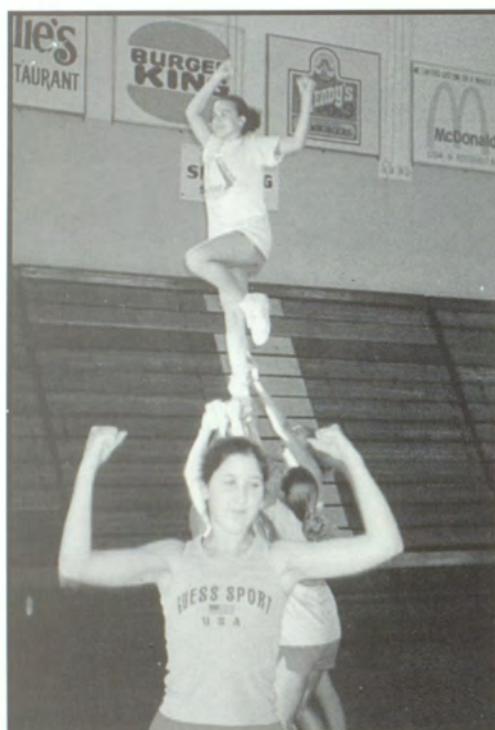

Wearing "99" on their jerseys, Angela Davila and Carly Bervaldi yell for their Junior class while at the Bonfire. For years the Bonfire has been time and place for classes to show their spirit.

Takisha Villareal hits a clean liberty and makes it look so easy to do.

During practice, Francesca Santiago shows her muscles while Carly Bervaldi does the same on the ground. And look at the big muscles that those girls have. That's from many hours of hard work and lifting.

At a home game, some Varsity Cheerleaders hit a heelstretch stunt while the others strut their stuff in front.

Some stunts and pyramids, such as this, require all 18 members of the Varsity Squad.

Angela Davila and Michelle Rowley get ready to jump over the heads of Lissette Cuervo and Tiffany Burton while Francesca Santiago waits for them.

These girls are practicing hard for their competition soon to come. They travel for many long hours, sometimes all the way to Jacksonville. They work hard, but it's not all work and no play for these girls.

Lauren Rodriguez, Jennifer Hernandez, Lynly Curry and Monique Diaz hold up Michelle Rowley as she hits an arabesque.

At the Bonfire Tiffany Burton, Monique Diaz, and Lissette Cuervo cheer for the Class of '98.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders On With the Gray

"This is Conch Territory!" KWS's J.V. Cheerleaders arouse pride and spirit among both students and athletes every time they shout this cheer. J.V. performed at many of the same events as Varsity, such as pep rallies and athletic events, but they've also established themselves as individuals. J.V. cheerleaders must undergo a tryout procedure with a week of practice and a tryout at which each girl is scored on technique, skills, and projection.

Captain Andrea Leto and Co-captain Ashley Estenoz worked with the 17 other cheerleaders to achieve the place of Top Team in the J.V. division at NCA camp. Head coach Amber Archer Bosco and assistant coach Neda Preston trained the J.V. well, and their hard work was rewarded with excellent performances.

Junior Varsity Cheerleader Officers: Andrea Leto: Captain, and Ashley Estonoz: Co-Captain.

These J.V. cheerleaders, Amber Ernst, Lacy Pischke, Bonnie Stump, Lande Spottswood and Nicole Munoz, "rock" the crowd with their dazzling smiles.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders are an important part in our football games. They boost the crowd's spirit and enthusiasm which in turn boosts the football players' ego, spirit and enthusiasm which in turn makes the game a whole lot more interesting.

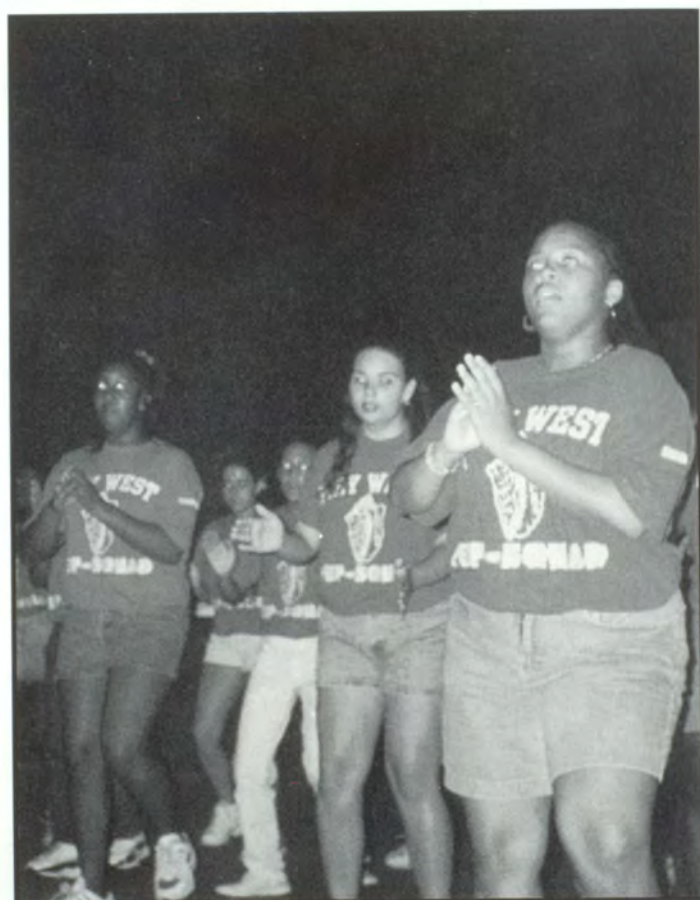

Pep Squad

Boomin' with Spirit

The Pep Squad takes this year's award for being the oldest, new club. Many students might not realize that the Pep Squad isn't really a new club. It is simply the reinstatement of an old one. This year's Pep Squad showed their spirit in almost every way possible. They attended all sporting events, participated in pep rallies and parades, and sponsored booths at Children's Day and the Halloween Carnival. The girls had pride in their officers and new achievements. The parents had a big influence on the Pep Squad and this organization probably would not exist without their support. Their spirit and Conch Pride makes their performances worthy of great praise.

Key West High's newly founded Pep Squad perform as they would at a game. Their rhythm and style have made quite an impression on KWHHS students.

Sailing Club

Anchors Aweigh

One of the greatest things about living in the Keys is our beautiful waters. The Sailing Club gets to take advantage of this luxury while participating in a school activity. The Sailing Club has made a great impression on Key West by competing in numerous local races, winning a large number of them. Captain Jeff Serrie, Commander Nick Olsen, Lt. Commander Kim McCrory, and Lt. Kirsten Hengst worked with sponsor Jim Fant and coach Lt. Jim Kammel of the U.S. Coast Guard to give each of the 20 members full sailing instruction. They also participate in regattas and other interscholastic competitions. The only requirements of the Sailing Club are that you have a 2.5 GPA and are actively participating in sailing activities.

FCA

A Leap of Faith

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes, often called FCA, has been working hard to make a difference at KWHS. This multi-denominational group has monthly meetings to pray and bring students closer together and give moral support. The organization, which is completely student-led, participated in many activities, such as Christmas Caroling on the Conch Train and World Wide Prayer Around the Flagpole Day. These students represent a wide variety of the population at KWHS and were members of many different athletic teams, like football and tennis, as well as non-athletic teams, such as Conchettes and Band.

Peter Batty, Mark Boyer, and Christian Maribona bow their heads as they participate in a prayer at the beginning of an FCA Meeting.

Members of FCA discuss their plans for caroling on the Conch Train. "Silent Night" or maybe "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Triathlon

Running, Biking and Swimming, Oh My!

The triathlon team got off to a late start this year, but made up for it by working extra hard to set new records for themselves. They sponsored a year-long candy sale to raise money for new equipment and trips. They trained for long hours to tone their bodies and get their muscles in shape. Their sponsor, Mrs. Fant, was very proud of her team and school. The triathlon team was greatly rewarded for their efforts by knowing that they did their very best in all their meets.

Jason Brewster practices the strenuous butterfly stroke for the open-water swimming entries. He is hoping to do well at the up coming triathlon in Boca Raton.

Chris Norman trains intensely for a challenging competition. Besides, it seems like a nice day for a jog at Bayview Park. This is an area where the team often practices.

P olice Explorers

Astor's Astoroids

The police are an essential part of our community. They provide protection and defend our rights. They strive to keep things calm and make people civil towards each other. The police explorers are just as essential to our school community. They provide high school students with the opportunity to experience what a police officer has to do on a daily basis. Then, students can decide whether or not this is the right career for them. They provide our youth with the opportunity to become an important part of our community.

Officer Jon Astor sits casually at his desk while wrapped in caution tape. His troops want to make sure he sits still and doesn't do anyone any harm. He was subdued by his very own Police Explorers.

AGGRESSIVE ATTITUDES

Once again the Conchs were back for another exciting year with a brand new head coach. Of course they had their wins and losses, but over all it was a good season.

According to Coach James, "The team had definitely progressed since last year. We were also expected to go a lot farther. I expected us to go eight for two. We should have only lost one game, and that was to Pace." Defense was strong this year. Leandre Washington led the team in tackles and freshman Patrick Lewin was a big surprise. The Fighting Conchs faced many tough opponents this season. They gave all they had throughout the entire season and made many of the diehard fans proud.

Top row: Pawel Krzemein, Steve Mira, Marcus James, Carlton Thurston, Fred Sellers, Andrew Braswell, Reggie Brown, William Nieblack, and Troy Phillips.

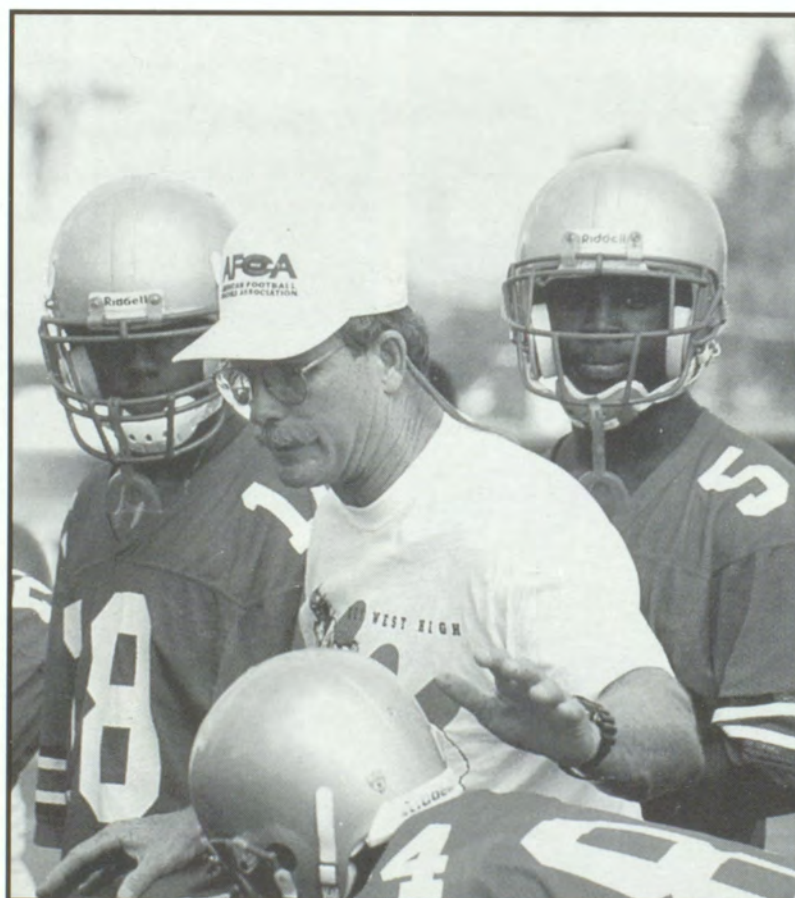

Coach Hughes assists Marcus James, Leandre Washington and fellow teammates in a scrimmage. The football team has to make sure they know their plays down pat so they can bring home a victory.

Senior Pawel Krzemien starts off a home game with a powerful kick-off. I guess the #1 on his jersey stands for the number one kicker. Pawel has done an exceptionally great job this year on the football team.

Two players give a helping hand to each while stretching out. They've got to be nice and loose before showing Coach Hughes all they have and what they're really made of. Right Boys!

Marcus James and Ran Carthon listen attentively while Coach Hughes discusses a play. Pay attention to the Coach Ran, not the camera. Hope he didn't miss the play.

Junior Ran Carthon is on the play as running back. As he fakes the other team's players he helps the Conchs score and win a victory. This year many players played a vital role in each game played.

Shown above, the Conchs practice a scrimmage drill before a home game. Let's hope they know all their plays so they can add another victory to the win column.

At the top of the 4th quarter the Conchs change a string of players to let others have the opportunity to play.

Marcus James: "I think the team is going to do good this year and should turn a lot of heads. We will show all the people who doubted us the Conchs are still here."

Andrew Braswell: "I think the season is going to be a great one. With a new Coach this year I think we'll have a winning season and come out on top."

Shaun Ramseur: "I think we have a strong, positive team that will come through because of the great conditioning coach Hughes has given us."

#24, Shaun Ramseur, tries to recover the ball from Gulliver Prep. Shaun was one of the starting players this year for the Varsity Conchs.

J.V. FOOTBALL

ACHIEVING GOALS

The Junior Varsity Conchs have once again shown great strength and determination. With new coaching and players, this JV team overcame the odds and fought through a tough season to find victory. Along with the coaching tactics of Freeman and VanLoon, the team learned the skills needed to win. The team practiced long and hard each day to assure these wins. They were found practicing on their new football field, going over new maneuvers and scrimmages. Though they were a young team with new players, they pulled their strengths together and showed us just what the Fighting Conchs can do. They pushed through the setbacks a new season brings and rose to the top. GO CONCHS!!

SWIMMING

Back for another exciting year, the Girl's Swim Team saw new, fresh, and smiling faces. Swimming has a new coach, along with many other sports. Coach Lori took charge.

The girls practice long and hard every morning from 6:30 to 8:00 and in the afternoon from 4:00 to 5:30 at the college pool.

They competed against some of the top schools including Gulliver, Westminster, and St. Brendan. Dedication and commitment were the key roles that these girls possessed when they intended to win. They gave 100% at practices and meets to make sure they came out on top.

Every year they seem to get better and better as new experience comes along and intertwines with old knowledge.

CROSS COUNTRY

RUNNING RASCALS

An exciting chapter in Conch Sports has been opened this year. Boys Cross Country was the newest fad added.

Headed by Coach Price and Coach Renier, the Boys and Girls Cross Country Team tried to make this year a mighty impressive one.

"We started out slow but our times have dropped greatly; we keep improving" states Carly Bervaldi, a member of the Girls' Cross Country Team.

Some of their competitors include Coral Shores, Gulliver Prep, and Archbishop Curley. The Cross Country Teams attended Invitational meets at FIU and U.M. Greentree.

Girls' Cross Country got started up last year and are a year ahead of the boys. Some people say that even though the girls might be ahead, the boys were still more aggressive. But the girls pushed and gave it 100% and pulled out some individual wins.

Carly Bervaldi, Lacy Pischke, and Amber Davis practice their sprint outs before running in a home meet.

Simon Lange sets the pace for the Conchs at their first home meet. Chugging along behind him are Joe Cooke, Stephen Welsh, Brandon Charette, and Luke Lanasa.

Both teams run and push themselves as hard as they can to try and win the meet.

Varsity Volleyball players take time out to replenish some energy before taking the court again. Volleyball is a sport in which plenty of carbos are needed so these girls will have endless amounts of energy.

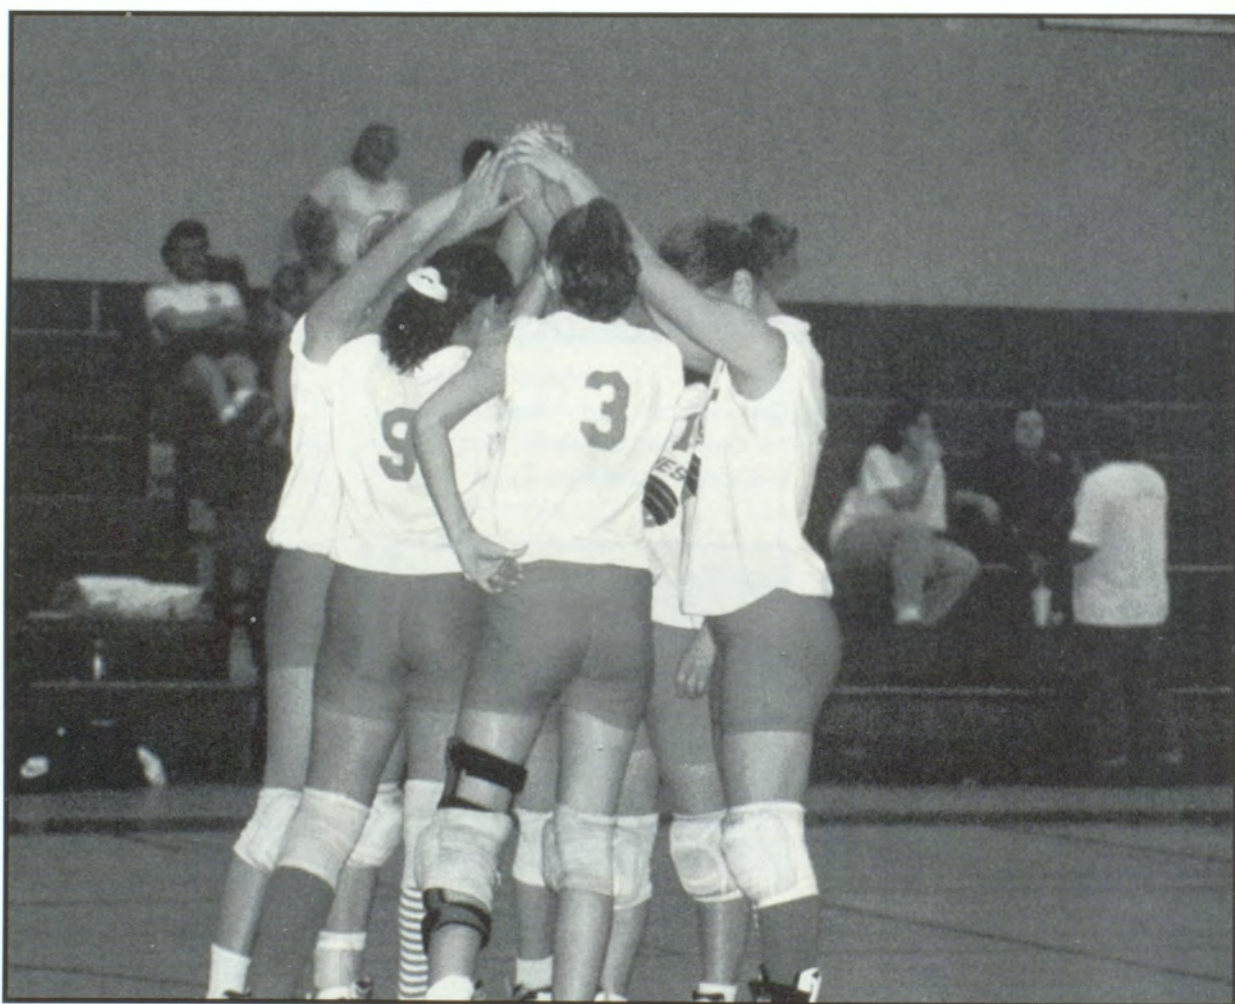

Allison Young, Mariko Tinaya and Jenny Costarino get set for the play. The Conchs played a tough game against Marathon.

Jenny Costarino, Amanda Harris, and Holly Schmidt back up the front players while they set each other up.

Amamda Harris is "Air Jordan" as she puts all her power in slamming the ball over the net. She helped out a great deal by helping her team score.

Before every game the Varsity Volleyball Conchs rally and get each other fired up. A lot of hopes were set on each match played by these aggressive girls. They didn't win every game this season but when they did it was a sweet victory.

Amanda Harris: "We're expecting a good season and we have a lot of new talent and returning faces. We hope to leave the last year for the seniors a winning one."

Mariko Tinaya: "I think that this year will be a good one and hopefully we'll do better than previous years."

VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

ANTICIPATING WINS

"Though we would like to be victorious every game throughout each season, we will realize that every victory is someone else's defeat. Defeat gives us time to learn from our mistakes," states Carolyn Delastrinos, a former member of Key West High School.

Even though the Varsity Volleyball team was defeated many times, they stayed focused and through dedication and hard work stayed together as a team.

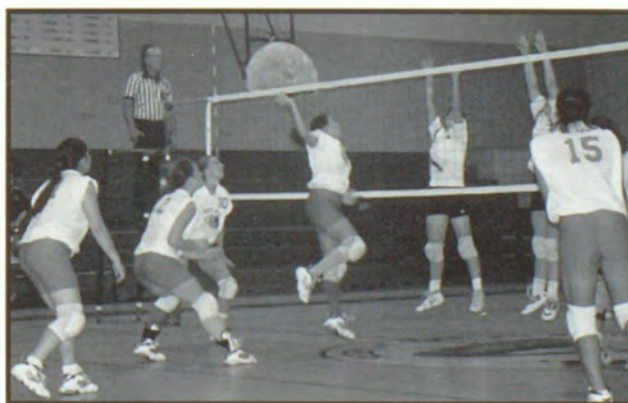

Two members of the squad, Mariko Tinaya and Amanda Harris, helped their team do their best as this was their last season, being that they will graduate in 1998.

"Although we started off struggling through the season we pulled together where it really counted. The girls fought through all the pain and conquered a big district rival, Northeast," quotes Jenny Costarino, a three year member of the varsity squad.

FALL SPORTS

BITTERSWEET SEASON

Just like the Varsity squad, the J.V. squad was almost a carbon copy. They were looking for one thing this season and that was wins. This young squad may have been defeated but through it all they gained new experience and new skills.

Many say in the years to come the Key West High School Junior Varsity Volleyball team will shine through. Some girls say their motto is "Serve 'em hot" and that was exactly what could be seen when these underclassmen took the court.

The Junior Varsity might have thought that they didn't succeed, but their fans were still there to cheer them on; you can always count on the fans. Each girl achieved something special this volleyball season and that was each girl's personal goal. Through the season the girls could only get better at doing their job and learning more about the position they were playing. Even though they lost a few they gained a lot.

Sophomore Joyce Ho gets ready to serve the ball to the receiving Marathon Dolphins. Joyce was chosen as a captain for the J.V. Volleyball team this year as she excelled at her position.

Marina Burton and Natalia Duke take the lead over a Coral Shores participant.

The Volleyball team manager, Nathaniel Tinaya, catches some Z's on his way up to a match. By the look on his face he must be having some sweet dreams.

VARSITY BOYS' SOCCER

On A Roll

Under new coaching this year, the Varsity Boys' Soccer Team was headed by Coach Pierzchala. Coming off of last year's great season this group of talented players hoped to do just as well or even better.

To play at a Varsity level hard work and long hours of practicing are required. Each of these boys worked hard at their position to accomplish goals they had set and intended to meet.

Playing top teams such as Gulliver, Belen, Westminster, and Cardinal Gibbons, the Varsity Boys must give it their all.

Many people say that the Varsity team keeps getting better as the years pass due to school spirit and pride in their effort to win.

VARSITY GIRLS' SOCCER

Stronger Than Ever

Winning and losing isn't the only result that comes about through the game of soccer. The girls acquired determination, endurance, and patience this year.

After last year's victorious season, Coach Conrad took the Varsity Girls' Soccer team even further. "Staying out of trouble and keeping their grades up is what it took to keep this team at a Superior level," states Coach Conrad.

New strategies were used this season. They consisted of a combination of playing a lot of freshmen and rotating players more often.

Key players that did an outstanding job this year consisted of the UNDOMINATABLE SENIOR TRIPLETS, Jackie, Jamie, and Jennie Carson, junior Jenny Costarino, and sophomore Dianne Herlihy.

MORE BOYS' SOCCER

Senior Joey Cooke kicks the ball past #15 from the other team and attempts to get the ball to another player on his team. With the score still 0 to 0 and with not much time left on the clock, the Varsity Boys try vigorously to score some points.

Joe Cooke: "We have a good group of seniors this year and we can have a good season especially with our new coach."

Pawel Krzemien: "With a young team you hope for the best."

Three Key West players wait at the opposite side of the field at Tommy Roberts Memorial Stadium. The boys wait to see if the ball will reach them so they can get it back to the Conchs.

Pawel shows off his soccer skills as two boys look on from the other team. They look at Pawel and wish they were as good as him or the "Conchs" as a whole team. The Conchs dominate and they are an elite team.

EVEN MORE BOYS' SOCCER

Coach P. gives one of his players a couple of pointers before taking the field. Coach P. is a very dedicated coach and it shows through all the games the boys won this year.

The Varsity Boys take the field during one of their first home games. As the sun sets the boys are slightly ahead of their opponents. Let's hope they can keep their lead.

The Varsity Boys' Soccer team huddles before a big game. The Varsity Boys had a tough schedule this season facing some top teams such as Gulliver and Cardinal Gibbons. The boys hope to pep each other up and get each other ready to face a big game.

Pawel and J.L. practice moves before a game. Players from the other team watch closely.

MORE GIRLS' SOCCER

Rebecca Tarrantino blows by two girls who try to steal the ball away from her. Even when it's two against one the Conchs still come out on top.

A Key West player tries to avoid getting hit head on by another player. Many injuries occur on the soccer field when both teams are eager to hang on to the ball.

Junior Jessica Cranney maneuvers around #17. Coach Conrad has taught these girls all the tactics needed to get out of every situation and fake out the other players.

Jennie Carson travels up the field toward the opposing goal. Jennie took on the role as one of the captains this year on the Varsity squad. Jennie has been an outstanding key player this season along with many other girls.

Senior Jamie Carson exclaims: "Come on Ref, I didn't hit her that hard!" I guess that girl won't get in the way of another Lady Conch player, especially one of the triplets!

EVEN MORE GIRLS' SOCCER

Jenny Costarino: "Even though our team consists of 11 underclassmen I feel we have the potential to reach and exceed our goals."

Diane Herlihy: "We have a tough schedule but we look to fend well against our tough district competitors."

Three Lady Conchs surround the ball trying to get it to another Conch player waiting to score. The Varsity team had great defensive and offensive skills this year. The experience of the girls and the coach combined helped out this season since these girls faced a tough schedule.

Senior Tiffany Burton runs past two girls who try their hardest to steal the ball away but it wasn't good enough. Tiffany also was part of the Cross Country team this year and since Cross Country deals with a lot of running it came in handy for soccer season.

Sophomore Kim Clynes scores a goal early in the game. This is Kim's second year playing soccer for the Lady Conchs. Her experience has helped her shine this year on the varsity squad. The future for the Lady Conchs soccer team looks bright if these outstanding underclassmen keep it up.

J.V. BOYS' SOCCER

High Hopes

"I think we have a well-rounded team. Our defense needs some work and our offense is doing well," states Michael Ferrin, a member of the J.V. soccer team.

After starting a new season in autumn, many J.V. soccer players wanted this year to be a more victorious one. After winning only one game last year, the boys hoped they would rack up some wins. With fresh faces along with a new head coach, the team knew that new experience would be added to the experience this young team already had.

Effort and dedication are two key roles that these players must possess. But if they play like a team and put their mind to it, anything can be accomplished.

During a practice in December, Michael Ferrin and another teammate practice some drills. In December the weather was just right for playing soccer, not hot, not cool, just right!

Peter Batty: "We have a new coach this year and his expectations of us are high and we hope to do well this season."

Anthony Gonzalez: "I think we have a pretty good team this year and we should go far."

J.V. GIRLS' SOCCER

No Limits

As the girls kicked the ball down the field at Tommy Roberts Memorial Stadium it expressed and showed the teams eagerness to win.

Soccer is a sport of speed, endurance, and determination. Sophomore, Yahira Serrano, stated "with our long and strong practices our team is improving." Even though a victory isn't always the outcome of every game, they still taught the Lady Conchs that lots of practice leads to powerful games.

After the seven hour school day, the girls were given the opportunity to exercise their bodies and give their minds a break. Leaving their books behind them, they entered the locker-room ready to face a tough practice or a nerve-racking game. Team spirit shines through, and fans are always there in masses, cheering the Conchs on to victory.

A week before a big game the boys try to learn last minute strategies before taking on Gulliver Prep.

More J.V. Girls' Soccer

Rachel Bender, Claire Birard, and Jessica Swaney practice some moves during a practice and show off all they got.

Alexis Rameriz gets her chance at shooting goals. With what appears to be the Great Wall between her and the goal, Alexis will have to give this one her all.

Jessica Cobo, along with fellow team members, looks eager to practice. They need to make sure that they have a good practice so they are ready to face all their tough competition.

Coach Bowe takes a few seconds of practice time to chat with J.V. player Tracy Anzalone. Because he tells them exactly what he expects from them, he has proved himself to be a great coach.

At Tommy Roberts Memorial Stadium the J.V. Lady Conchs Soccer team plays a scrimmage game. Tracy Anzalone and a fellow teammate struggle a great battle between each other to take control of the ball.

VARSITY BOYS' BASKETBALL

Dedication

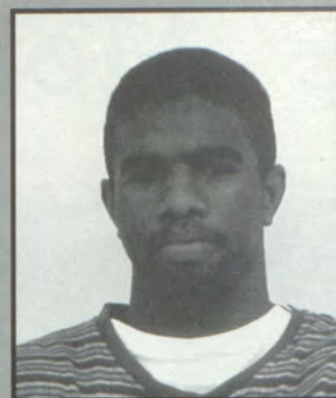

The Conch Varsity basketball team under the coaching of Glenn A. Hayes Sr., has once again given the fans an exciting season. With height and talent as their backbone to victory, the Conchs have once again shown great pride and commitment to achieve the chemistry and teamwork that was lacking in the beginning. While looking ahead, many accomplishments were made that helped to prepare the team for states competition and helped them to improve their form. With long hours of practice, perfection came along with the territory and the team always gave 100%. Playing tough rivals such as Belen and Cardinal Gibbons were obstacles they faced and with great skill overcame no matter the score. These Conchs sure know the meaning of not giving up. Great teamwork from point guard Malcolm Munnings Jr., Curtis Butler, and 6'8 center Stephen Parker helped to lead the CONCHS through a tough season.

Curtis Butler: "We have a good team but we got off to a bad start. We need to play more as a team because we have a lot of talent. We hope to put it together at the end and have a winning season."

Leandre Turner: "We have a lot of talent in a lot of different areas. We should be successful though we started off rough. This drought that we're in should help us pull together at the end."

Shamika LeLand: "This year basketball is trying to build up a great team but we need teamwork and effort from every player."

Alvarez Rice: "We don't depend on one player, it's a team effort."

VARSITY GIRL'S BASKETBALL

On The Ball

Once again the Lady Conchs Basketball team has left their mark.

The Varsity Girls played every game with the strength of a champion team. Their endurance was unparalleled to any other. With all the tough competition in the district, they fought hard to keep CONCH PRIDE alive.

With their aggressive attitudes they proved to the other teams who was boss. They had some tough games and a few unfortunate loses but they showed everyone that CONCH SPIRIT will always thrive.

Basketball is a team sport and this team played every game with the attitude of a team that works together to win. Coach Glenwood Lopez has done a great job coaching the Girls' Varsity Basketball team. Their hard work and team spirit really payed off.

With the score neck and neck a Varsity Girls' Basketball player gets a turn at foul shots. Hopefully if she makes them all it will push the Conchs ahead.

Mission Accomplished

As the Conchs are down by 11 points the Varsity Boys' Basketball team tries their hardest to catch up to the opposing team. #24 shoots the ball and hopes it goes in.

With 6 minutes and 34 seconds the score is tied 4 to 4. If the Conchs keep up the good work they just might be able to pull out a win.

Miguel tries to guard an opponent so hopefully one of his fellow teammates can have a clear shot at the net.

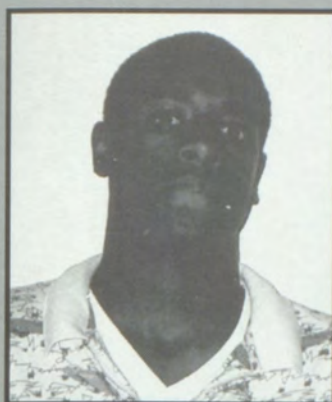

Senior Miguel Ulloa is "Air Jordan" when it comes to basketball. As he jumps up into the air off the ground he clears the net as the ball goes in. But as many baskets the Conchs tried to make this year, a victory wasn't always on hand.

Curtis Butler and Dennis Piscopink lead the Varsity Boys Basketball team as they make their entrance into the gymnasium.

Shooting For Victory

Carlton Thurston: "I think we have a good team but we need to work more as a team and we need to take practice more seriously."

Scott Miller: "We had rough times at the beginning of the season but I knew we would turn around and make it a winning season."

Miguel Ulloa and Curtis Butler tag team their opponents to hopefully get the ball and take it back up the court to the Conch's side. The Varsity Basketball team suffered some major upsets this season but once in a while things did go their way.

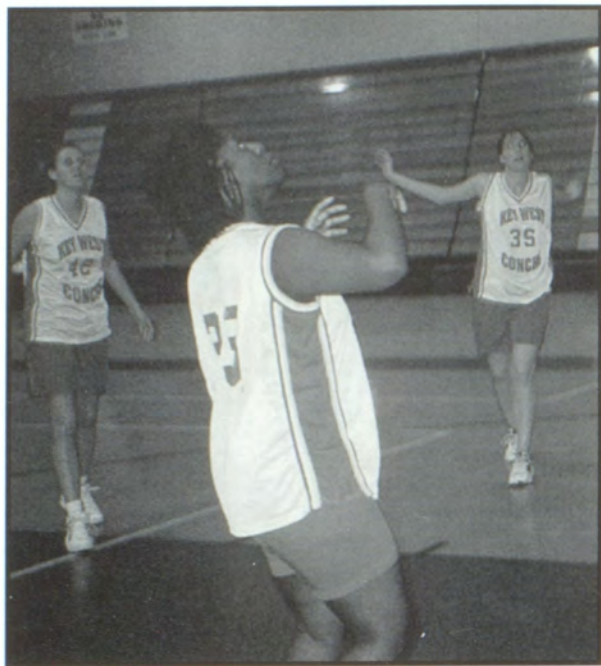

Junior Curtis Butler tries eagerly to get the ball back off a rebound. While his other teammates try to fend off the other players, Curtis has two players of his own he needs to get through.

Senior Steven "Red Dog" Parker has high hopes when he shoots the ball. With Steven's great height I'm sure it came in handy when trying to maneuver a slam dunk. With 6 minutes and 37 seconds still left, the Conchs are down by 6 points, but with the basketball team anything is possible.

Lady Conchs Hit The Court

Anya Cruz, Jennifer Lucas, and Julia Kuhnke practice some shots before a big game. Coach Lopez has prepared these girls for this home game and expects them to come out on top.

Both teams are up for grabs to get the ball. Shamika LeLand and another Key West player wait on the outside of the crowd to receive the ball and get a chance at scoring.

The Varsity Girls Basketball team is behind by one point as they try to regain the ball if it doesn't go into the hoop. If they get a hold of the ball hopefully they will be able to score.

With 7 minutes and 12 seconds left on the clock the Varsity Lady Conchs try their hardest to win a home game while Ebony Brooks shoots foul shots.

Three Conch players wait underneath the hoop to get a hold of a rebound.

A Girl For All Seasons

Olgine Brevil: "Our season started off strong. Sometimes we didn't play games to our potential but with strong practices things changed."

The opposite team tries to stop the Mighty Conchs but it wasn't good enough. With the dynamite offense and defense of the Varsity Girls Basketball team they are unstoppable.

Denise Ward: "If you don't succeed the first time, try, try again."

Denise Ward and Ebony Brooks wait anxiously to see if the ball their team shot will go in or if they will receive the rebound and get another shot at trying to make a basket.

Near the end of the clock, three Key West players are at the front of the court. They shot the ball the opposite way to their teammates so they can have one last chance at trying to score.

J.V. BOYS' BASKETBALL

Removing Barriers

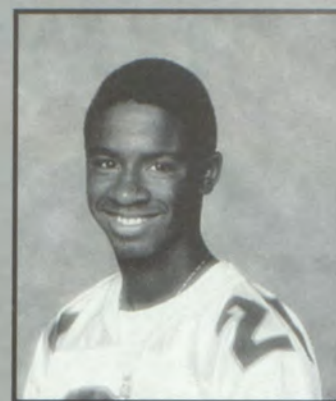

Despite the fact that the JV CONCHS had a young team they pulled together and showed what teamwork can do. Getting used to the long practices and even longer road trips were just two of the obstacles this fresh young JV team faced. Under the coaching of Glenwood Lopez they learned the skills needed to play well and make the shots needed to gain a victory. They also faced many longtime rivals such as Coral Gables and Southdade.

Quick shots and smart thinking are just few of the skills this young team acquired.

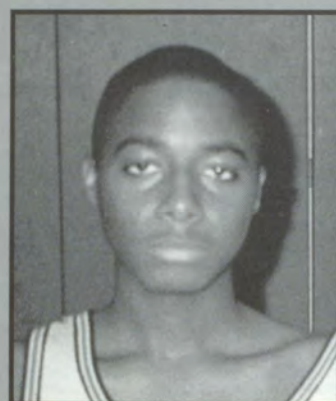

With their talent growing with each game and their spirits shining through they learned the meaning of CONCH pride.

Colton Butler: "Coach Carr started us off with a good program. If everybody plays to the best of their ability we should have a good season."

Lavel Lake: "This year we're going to have a winning season unlike the 9-11 record we had last year."

"The J.V. Boys' Basketball team jockeys for position under the net. These young men practice hard and will soon be at the next level — Varsity!"

Larazia Brown: "Team work and dedication has allowed us to have a good season."

Keia Hughes: "We had a young team this season. Every game we gained experience and got better. Next year state champs!"

J.V. GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Constant Movement

The Lady Conchs Junior Varsity basketball team has had an exceptional season. Being in only their fourth year, they have greatly improved their record.

Basketball is at its best when everyone works as a team. This seems to be the advice that the team followed throughout the season.

The J.V. Lady Conchs had a few standouts on the team this year. They ended a great season in January after playing some hard teams.

They really showed off their diehard attitudes.

The J.V. squad pulled through and showed everyone what they were made of. The Junior Varsity team has without a doubt lived up to the expectations of their Coach.

Although the team is young and inexperienced, this hasn't gotten in the way of their hard work and willingness to learn. This has been a good year for the Junior Lady Conchs.

Five Junior Varsity Girl Basketball players practice some moves before they go away for an away game. The Varsity and J.V. team will both face Cardinal Gibbons back to back.

Bam! Baby! Nothin' But Net!

Coach Carte takes a few minutes to give the J.V. Boys Basketball team a few pointers. This is the first year for Coach Carte and we hope that the boys exceeded his expectations.

Colton Butler dribbles and drives the ball down the court. A member of the Sabers tries to snatch the ball away from Colton but hopefully he didn't succeed.

Four Key West players watch intently to see if a ball shot by a fellow teammate goes in the basket.

On the opposite side of the court a J.V. Conch player tries to slap the ball back down to the court before it hits the net. Colton hopes he gets a shot to get to the ball before one of his opponents does.

Sophomore Lavel Lake waits patiently to identify the teams next move. While waiting he thinks of different strategies he's learned so he can recover the ball. According to some J.V. players Coach Carte has well-prepared these boys for this home game.

Hard Work Paid Off

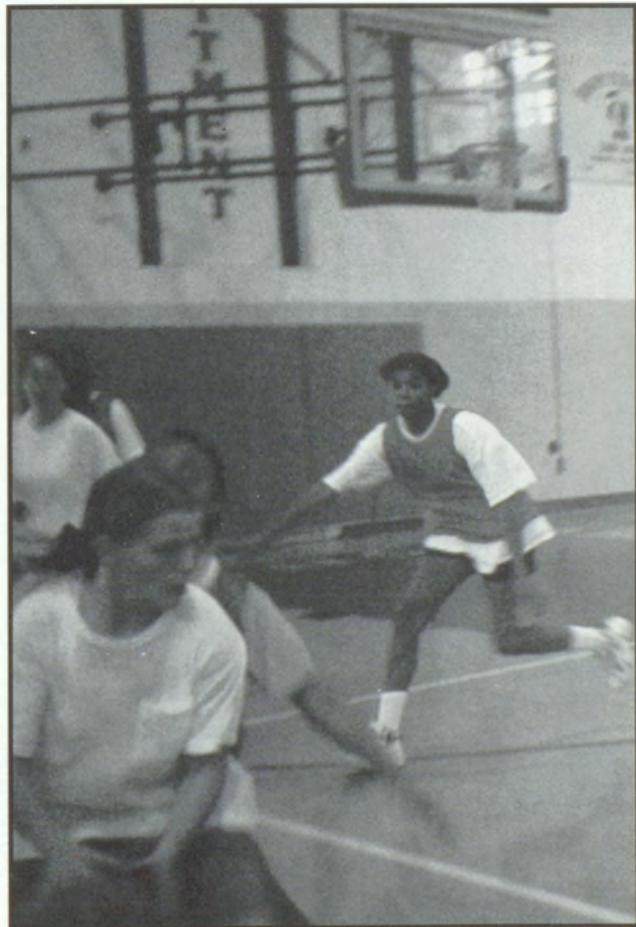

The J.V. team has a big lead on their opponent and with only a few seconds left on the clock the opposing team doesn't have enough time to catch up.

As the game comes near an end the basketball team hasn't done as well as they wished but there will be plenty more games for them to win.

Larazia and Jasmine surround one of their players during a practice in the gym. They work vigorously trying to learn new strategies.

The Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball team spends many hours a week going over new plays and new ways to win games.

Jasmine covers her opponent while other girls try to steal the ball. Scrimmage games and practices are valuable when you have a home or an away game right around the corner. With good coaching the J.V. team is always prepared.

Boy's Golf

Driving on to Victory

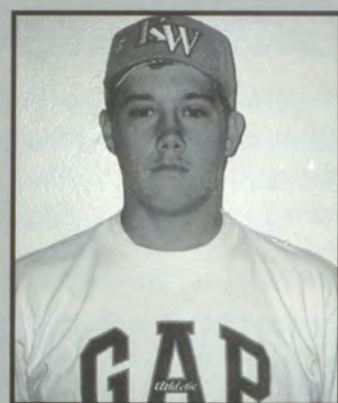

With so many underclassmen as members on the '98 golf team this was mainly a rebuilding year. Freshman Greg Oropeza stated, "I'm really happy that we got the coach we did down here. She played on a professional women's golf team." Jon Krathen also said that a new coach helped their year be a successful one. Although this was Coach Janice Phelps first year, many of the boys felt she was an excellent coach and mentor.

The boys got off to a positive start due to their winning attitudes. Each of them was equally talented. At practices and games the boys could be seen concentrating on their drives and lining up the holes to make the perfect putt.

Erik Lemon: "This year is going to be better than last year's. We have a strong team and strong attitudes, we should go far."

Todd Means: "This year is going to be like a rebuilding year and next year we should have a better season."

Matt Krathen, Jonathan Krathen, Scott Smith, Greg Oropeza, and Eric Lemmon take time from their practice to strike a pose.

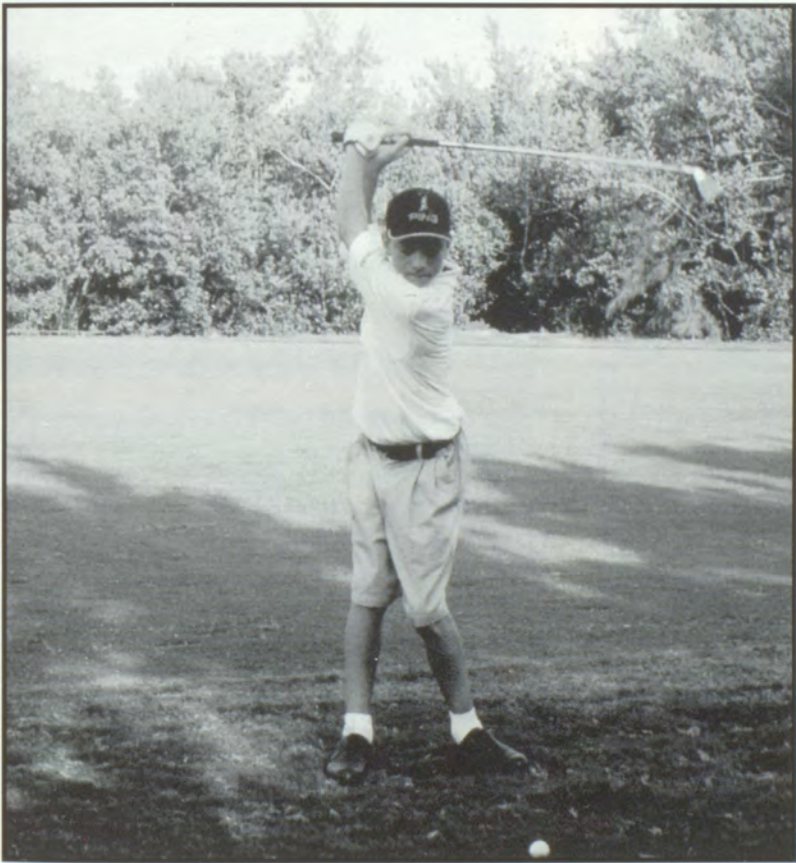

Greg Oropeza, a freshman at Key West High School, drives the ball far into the green. Greg hopes he hit the ball far enough to hit a hole in one!

Sophomore Todd Means lines up for a long drive across the fairway. Todd has lots of experience, playing golf since a little boy.

Junior Erik Lemmon putts it in for a birdie. Erik has excelled this year on the golf team.

Freshman Matthew Krathen shows us his driving skills as he takes full aim at the ball and tries to hit it off the tee.

Sights Set On Victory

Many old and new faces were seen on the tennis court this season. Who could ever forget the faces of Michael Ferrin, Z Surber, and Darrow McKnight? They held the first three spots on the tennis team last year and followed a similar pattern this year. Under new coaching for the '98 season the boys learned new skills from their coach and were very confident they would have a winning season.

Long practices and determination contributed in making this season the best it could have been. The boys took the season step by step and won one match at a time. The team had a winning attitude and knew that with the team's strength they would do excellent at districts.

Michael Ferrin: "I feel that if our team works hard we will have a good chance of winning districts. I feel that our team has a lot of potential."

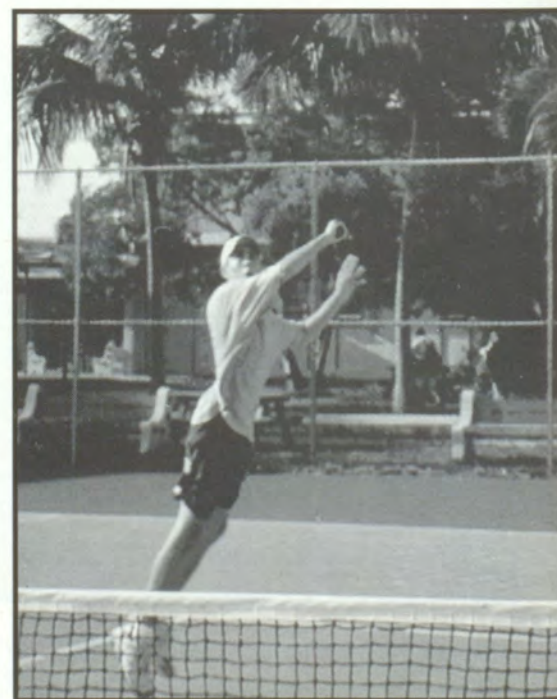

Z surber: "We have a younger team that will show its full potential at the end of the year at districts."

Sophomore David Jackson goes up to hit a ball hit by his opponent. David is a returning player and an asset to this year's tennis team.

Tiffany Anzalone: "It's going to be a lot of hard work but in the end it should pay off. It may be an individual sport, but working together as a team will get us through the season."

Amanda Harris: "Our team this year consisted of all of last year's members and more. Because of the experienced players, we had an excellent season that made us proud."

Girl's Tennis

Teamwork Holds The Key

"I feel that if we work hard we have the potential to do well at districts," said Tracy Anzalone a member of the Girl's Tennis team.

The girls had high hopes this season and each one of them showed their new coach, Coach Bowe, all the talent they possessed. The girl's team were whipped into shape by Bowe and by the end of the season nothing could stop them. Although they were a young team, each player gave no less 110% and the new members were guided through the season by Seniors Tiffany Anzalone and Amanda Harris.

The season was full of firsts. A new coach, new players, and new policies. In the end, all the hard work noticeably payed off. Lori Dixon said, "We had many talented players and I knew we would have a great season."

Junior Yashmin Rai is returning a shot to a player as Tiffany Anzalone awaits her turn.

Sophomore Tracy Anzalone is a very competitive tennis player. She has many strengths and she has played tennis at K.W.H.S. for two years.

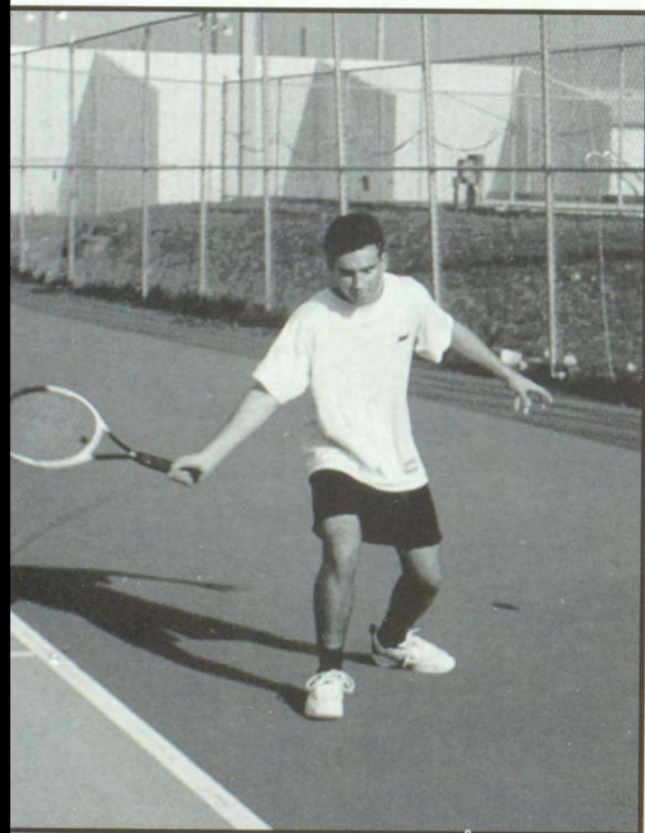

Game, Set, Match

Junior Merrill Roberts shows off his stroke during practice. He has become a much stronger tennis player by practicing many hours a week. He proved that he is a valuable member of the team and he will be returning next year.

Senior Cindy Dennis was an eager learner and improved drastically throughout the season. This is her first year on the team and she fought every opponent with fierce determination.

Junior Michael Ferrin, a member of the tennis team, concentrates on his hit over the net to score a point.

Swinging Into Action

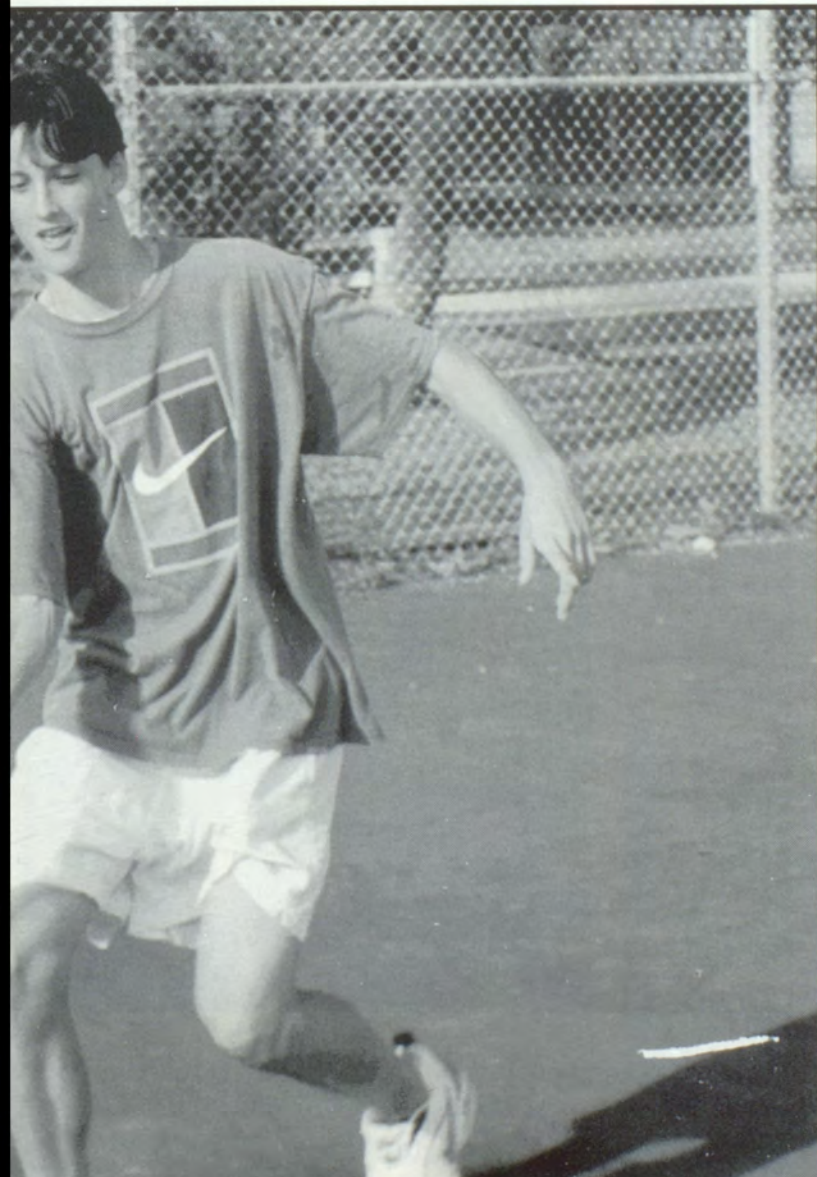

Tiffany Anzalone takes some time after practice to go over some moves and practice swings. Tiffany is a very dedicated member of the girl's tennis team.

Peter Batty is in full motion as he attempts to reach the ball. Peter had high hopes this tennis season.

Senior Amanda Harris picks up a low shot and hits it back to her opponent and scores a point.

Junior Z Surber returns a corner shot to his opponent, winning the point. He is a valuable player and is ranked #1 on the team. This is his 3rd year playing on the team and he hopes to be returning next year. Coach Bowe may not have been able to teach this young tennis prodigy how to improve his shots, but he sure was able to whip him into shape.

Junior Lori Dixon practices on getting the ball over the net. The girls had many steady practices this season as they prepared to face many tough competitors.

Boy's Track

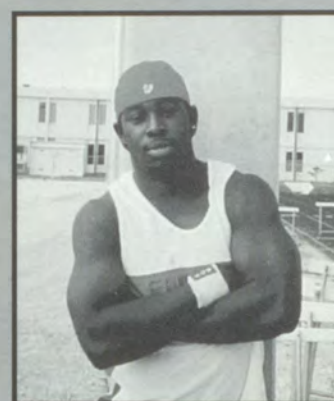

Breaking New Ground

The Fighting Conchs' first year of track is turning out to be everything that is expected by the team, the coaches, and the fans. The success the boys are earning comes from the long, hard, and dedicated practices held everyday. Coaches Mr. Perkins, Mr. Mathy, and Mr. Price are teaching the guys to work hard as a team and always reach for the top. A lot of commitment is needed to prove you are capable of remaining on this team where rules are strictly enforced. Some key members of this year's track team include Ran Carthon, Matt Davis, Andy Morey, and Toby Peters. In their inaugural year, the boys are actually performing well beyond their expectations.

Senior Bobby Salter: "I wish the boys track team program was here my 9th grade year."

Front Row (left to right): Luis Roman, Raphael Wright, Dylan Brook, Ran Carthon, Ricky Coleman, Steven LeLand, David Carballeira, Jon Niblack. Second Row: Bobby Salter, Brendan Milligan, Kevin Donahue, Andy Morey, Alvin Scott, Alphy Tyler, Ami Emanuel, George Hughes, Toby Peters, Nick Posada, Lemont Price, Russell Grabois, and Adam Burton. Third Row: J.P. Brennen, William Nyblat, James Mechalske, Nick Olsen, Keith Rendueles, Fred Sellers, Walter Kirchner, Kurt Malcosky, Michael Colona, Chay Poller, Adrian Emanuelson, Robert Huffman, and Matt Davis.

Sophomore Alvin Scott gives all he has to finish first in the 100 meter hurdles. This inaugural meet was enjoyed by many.

Junior James Mechalske is running the mile for the Key West High School Boy's Track team. Run, James, Run!

Freshman Sherwanda White: "Track, without a doubt, is the most competitive sport."

Senior Cotton Stine: "The coaches this year are making everyone a close team."

Junior Roxanne Wetherington launches forward as she competes in the long jump.

Girl's Track

Two Teams Are Better Than One

The Lady Conchs Track Team opened their season with a winning success. In gaining this success the help of a many talented athletes, such as Cotton Stine, Olgine Brevil, Carly Bervaldi, Keia Hughes, and Ebony Brooks was needed. It is obvious that our girls' track team is prepared for excellence. With a great coaching staff this team is well on their way. In its 4 years of existence, the girls track team has made its marks. They are always a top team in District and Regional meets, and have sent some members to State. With the addition of a boys team and a new coaching staff, the girls are highly competitive, dedicated, and ready for anything... hopefully State!

Run, Forrest, Run

Sophomore Adam Burton gets a good running lead at the beginning of his big vault. All eyes are on Adam as he attempts to clear the bar. Adam, you make that look so easy...great form!

Junior Toby Peters shows off his muscular strength by skillfully throwing the shotput, while fellow teammates Bobby Salter and Kevin Donahue watch.

Junior Matt Davis takes a leap of faith and does a great job in the long jump event. He has perfect form which helps him get more height and a longer jump.

Junior Lamont Price can't wait to get his hands on the toys in that sandbox.

Hurdling New Obstacles

Sophomore Andy Morey helps his team to victory while running the third leg of the 4 x 800 relay.

Junior Fred Sellers launches the shotput being careful not to step out of the ring. This event requires a lot of arm strength which Fred obviously has.

Freshman Nick Posada flies over the high bar in attempt to win the pole vaulting event.

Junior Chay Poller holds on for dear life and just hopes he will be able to make it over the bar. Pole vaulting is one of the scariest and toughest track events. You have to be brave and strong to make it over the bar. Chay does an excellent job at this event, especially since he just learned how to pole vault this year.

Senior Michael Colona grimaces as he slings the discus far into the air.

Reaching New Heights

Sophomore Larazia Brown is jumping to a victory in the long jump competition. Larazia's height and speed allow her to excel in the long jump and she came in first place at this particular track meet.

Junior Fawn Mokulis is following through with her spin after throwing the 3 1/2 pound discus. Fawn is one of two girls who compete in this event.

Sophomore Natalia Duke hands the baton to Junior Carly Bervaldi during the 4 x 800 meter (2 laps each person) relay.

Senior Olgine Brevil sprints in an attempt to win the hundred meter dash. This is Olgine's last year so she made it a memorable one.

Go The Extra Mile

Freshman Calee Thomas makes a clean pass of the baton to teammate Lacy Pischke during a relay race. The hand off of the baton is a very important part of the relay.

Sophomore Keia Hughes exhibits great height as she attempts the long jump event. Judging by the looks on the opponents faces, Keia's leap blew them away.

Freshman Jennifer Zubek races towards the finish line in this 100 meter dash. This event requires strength and speed, both of which Jennifer has.

Sophomore Monica Margolis springs herself into the sandpit in the long jump competition. This is Monica's first year on the track team and she is a very active competitor. Along with the long jump she also competes in the 1600 relay and the opening leg of the 400 relay.

Junior Cindy McDaniel has mastered the Flosberry flop, as you can tell by her great leap over the high jump bar.

Runners, Take Your Mark,

Senior Keith Rendueles doesn't look too stressed during his long jump attempt. All of his hard work and training has finally paid off. Keith, along with fellow teammates who take part in the long jump, do a superb job.

Senior Bobby Salter uses his muscular physique to his advantage during the discus throw. This is the first year boys at K.W.H.S. have had the opportunity to participate on the track team.

Sophomore Robert Huffman vaults over the bar to get a top ranking in the pole vault event.

Junior Tony Mendez is pumped up as he strives to win the 800 meter race against his opponents.

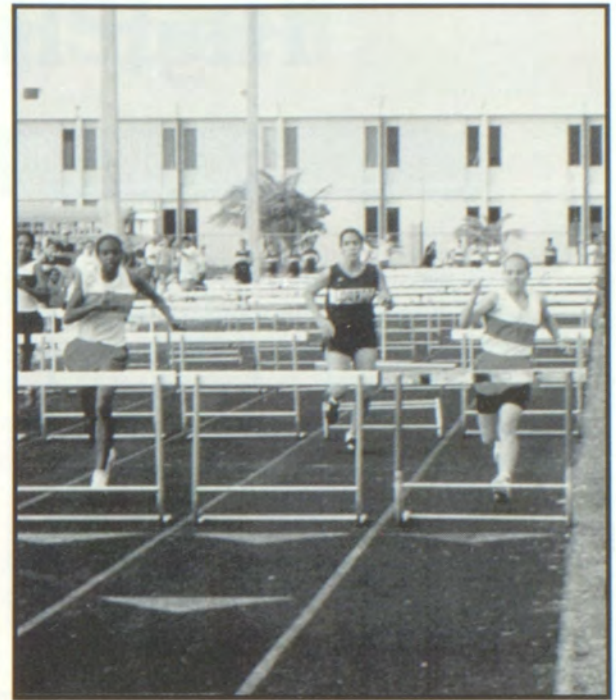

Get Set, Go!

Junior Cindy Mc Daniel and Junior Mary Francis leap over the hurdles and run to the finish line for another Key West victory.

Junior Carly Bervaldi and Sophomore Natalia Duke run down the lane in the long distance race. They are great competitors and teammates.

Sophomore Larazia Brown does her best impression of Aretha Franklin, demanding "R-E-S-P-E-C-T." Looks like you're "Raising the Roof," Larazia and leading your team to victory! Larazia set many records in the long jump this season and is hoping to make many more in the years to come.

Sophomores Lacy Pischke and Keia Hughes take time out to chat with each other before running a race.

Varsity Baseball

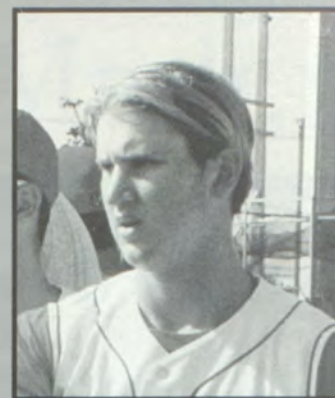

High Hopes

Under the direction of a new head coach, Brooks Carey, the 1998 Varsity Baseball Fighting Conchs tackled a demanding schedule consisting of our 32 home games. The team also attended tournaments in Ft. Pierce, Boca Raton, and Atlanta, Georgia. Determination, strength, and pride were very evident as the Conchs started off their season with two wins against Santa Fe

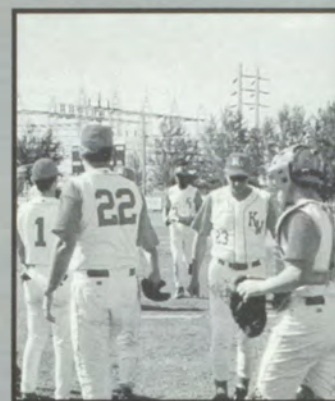

(9-3) and Coral Shores (3-1). Many Seniors shone through this season, as it was their last. Lazaro Chavez, Khalil Green, Christian Twyman, Eduardo Rodriguez, Devon Butler and Tony Ramos all hoped that the Mighty Conchs would make it to the state championship, which was held in Tampa, to make their final season the best ever.

Senior Khalil Greene:
"My last season as a Conch baseball player has been memorable. We underwent changes, but in the end it all came together."

Senior Devon Butler:
"This season has been tough, but we played hard and succeeded."

Senior Christian Twyman is in the mid-swing at the plate. He was a key player and had an outstanding batting average.

Senior pitcher Eduardo Rodriguez throws a fast ball hoping to strike the batter out. He pitched the Conchs to a 2-1 victory over Boca Raton.

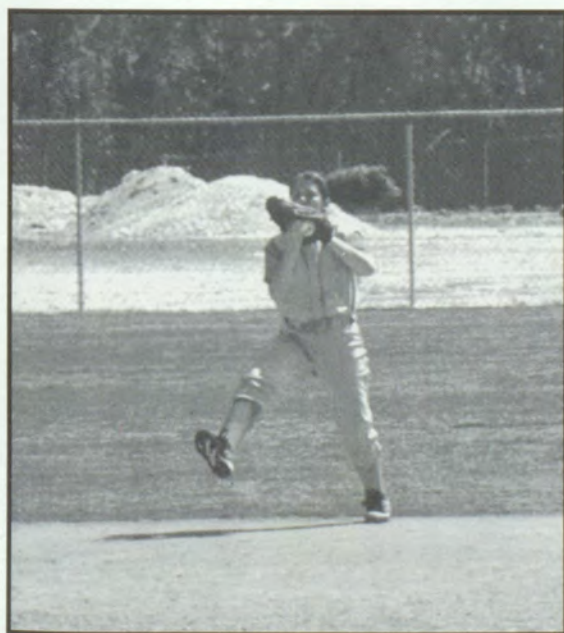

Senior Captain Melissa Edwards:

"If everyone would play with dedication and heart we could win games."

Senior Captain Angela Rodriguez:

"Our team has the potential to win districts. We just have to work hard and stay dedicated."

Senior shortstop Angela Rodriguez catches a fast, hard hit. Her talent and leadership guided the Conchs through a winning season.

Varsity Fastpitch

Gaining Speed

As Coach Vinson took on his second year of coaching the Lady Varsity Fastpitch Conchs he had high expectations for the year ahead. The season started out hopeful, but some injuries took place on the squad leaving Junior Aileen Rowe and Junior Holly Schmidt out for the season. Senior leaders on this year's

As the ref scrutinizes the play, Senior Melissa Edwards plunges for the base beating the throw just in time for a safe call.

Batting toward

Junior Juan Menendez is certainly a leading player for the Varsity Baseball Conchs. Juan has held the position of starting catcher for two consecutive seasons. He is a big piece of the Key West Baseball puzzle.

Senior Christian Twyman fields a grounder to third. Christian gets ready to make the throw to first making another out for the Conchs.

Captain Khalil Greene is an important asset to the Varsity squad and has played on Varsity for three years. He is being congratulated by his teammates for his homerun hit.

Senior Devon Butler waits patiently for the ball to come his way, while a Boca Raton player rounds first.

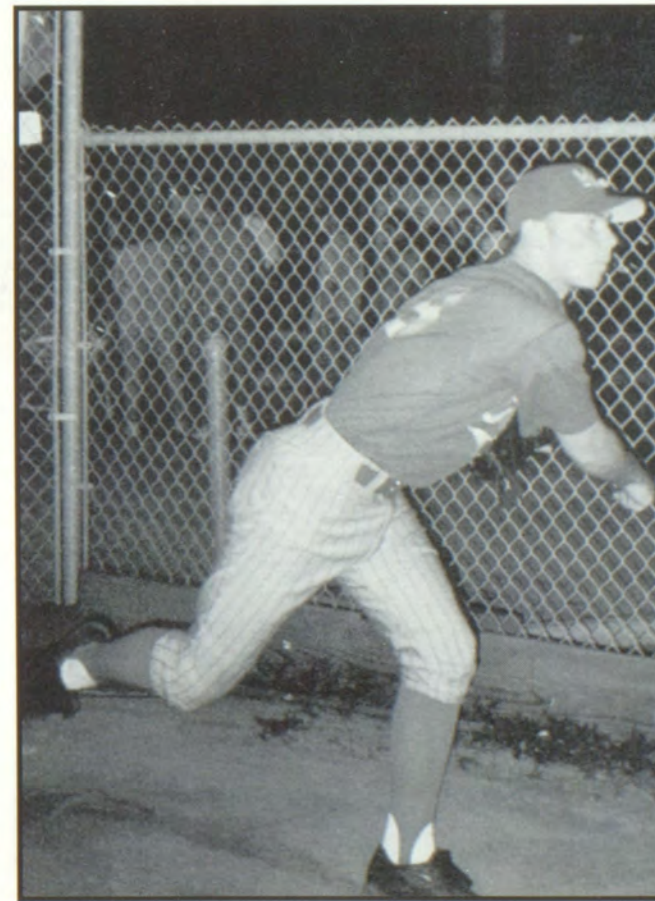

Junior hitter Aaron Marn takes his stance and is awaiting the pitch. Knock that ball outta the park, Aaron!

Pro Player Cal Ripken Jr. and Key West Baseball Coach Brooks Carey take time out from watching the hectic Conch game. The Orioles' player was visiting Key West for a benefit.

The 1998 Key West High School Varsity Conchs Baseball team watches a fly ball and anxiously awaits the outcome of the game. Each member of this elite team practices many hours and strives for victory. With a new coach this season is not only a learning experience, but a great challenge.

Senior Tony Ramos practices throwing the ball before a night game. Tony is a great asset to the team and always has a positive attitude.

Batting High

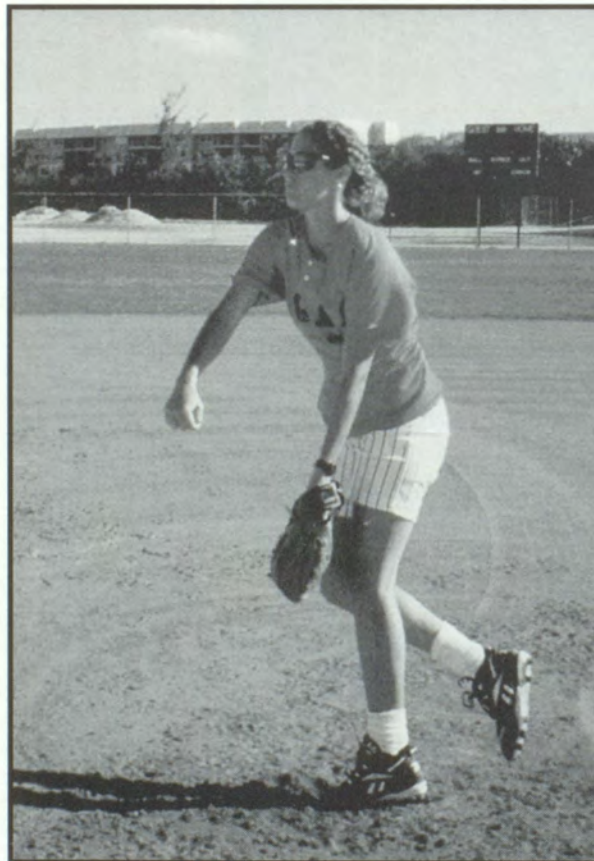

Junior Shannyn O'Keefe catches the ball at third base during a home game. Traveling and playing together brings the girls closer together and adds to their team spirit. The girls take the game seriously, but have a lot of fun.

Senior Takisha Villareal throws the ball during a Lady Conch practice. She has spent many hours practicing and polishing her skills.

Senior Sarah Williams bravely slides into second base during a Lady Conchs practice. Ouch, that's gotta hurt!

Junior Holly Schmidt practices pitching during a practice game. Holly's accuracy and speed were a definite necessity to the games in which she pitched .

Senior Captain Angela Rodriguez bunts the ball down the third base line in an attempt to score a run during a scrimmage between Varsity and JV.

Beginning on the JV squad, Sophomore Ashley Spoto showed such awesome catching skills that she was quickly moved up to Varsity.

Junior Monique Thiel bravely bunts the ball for a sacrificial run. Scrimmaging during practice allows the team to work on their playing skills.

Junior Nicole Barton does a split to catch a ball at first base. It takes talent and practice to catch the ball with such skill. Nicole has been an asset to the Varsity team and had a wonderful season. With talent like this, the Varsity team is sure to go far.

Senior Captain Melissa Edwards starts her powerful wind-up. Her leadership and pitching skills led the team to a winning season.

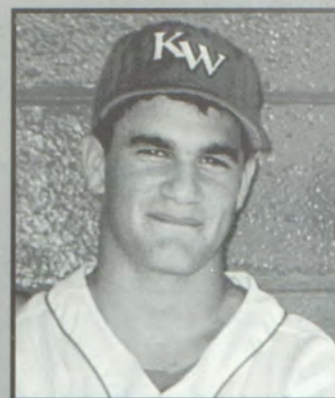

J.V. Baseball

New and Improved

The JV Baseball team came through this season when it counted most. With outstanding pitching and defensive skills, this young team was able to come out on top. This year's team consisted of many Freshmen, all extremely talented. Coach Michaud took these young boys under his coaching expertise and taught them the tactics needed to win. These boys worked hard and spent long hours practicing. All of this training will come in handy and is greatly needed.

Through dedication and persistence, the JV squad had a fun, winning season.

Ryan Baker: "I enjoyed this season. Playing baseball for the Conchs is exciting, and we had a great season."

William Francis: "Working hard and having tough practices really strengthened us as a whole, and allowed us to win."

What a coincidence that these two players just happened to form '98, the same year they made J.V.!

Pauline Patterson: "We have a lot of talent on this year's team, we just need to work more together as one."

Erica Delgado: "We have a lot of new and old talent and there is no reason why we shouldn't play to the best of our ability."

J.V. Fastpitch

A Little Old and A Little New

This year's J.V. Fastpitch Softball team contained a lot of old and new talent. The girls started off the season by coming in second place at a Gulliver tournament in Miami. Throughout the season the girl's tried to remain strong but fell behind many times and could not come back on top. The new edition to this year's team included Becky Gonzalez, Ashley Spoto, Jessica Cobo, Re-anne Banks, Erica Diaz, Nicky Sanchez, Jessica Velasquez, Jenny Sterling, and Ashley McCauley.

The J.V. team had some strong points, both offensively and defensively. Sophomore Erica Delgado throughout the season led the team with the highest batting average and also did a good job at second base and shortstop.

J.V. Fastpitch first and second basemen, Erica Delgado and Jenny Sterling are in their fielding positions ready to catch any ball that is hit their way.

Aiming High

Freshman T.J. Niles slams the ball straight into left field to score the runner on third base. By the look on his face, T.J. didn't know what enormous strength he had. T.J. is an exceptional baseball player, offensively as well as defensively.

Freshman Keith Hernandez sends a fastball into the catcher's glove to retire the batter. Keith is one of the many Freshmen on this year's JV baseball team who excelled in many areas.

Sophomore David Lariz uses his height and long legs to his advantage. His "Go, Go Gadget" arms always gets his opponent out.

After another Conch victory the members of the JV team met by the third base line to discuss the game in which they just played.

Catching Dreams

Sophomore Ashley Spoto warms up the JV Lady Conchs pitcher in the second game of the season.

Sophomore Rebecca Collins is getting ready to field the ball and stop any runners from advancing.

Sophomore Jenny Sterling stretches and makes an excellent catch at first base to end the inning.

Sophomore Damian Varela reaches to catch the ball that a fellow teammate threw to him, to get the third out and end the inning for the Conchs. Damian was moved in from the outfield this year and took on the role of playing third base.

Junior Erica Gates pitched a fastball to the batter, and, of course, struck her out. That play ended the inning and retired the side.

Amit,

We have watched you grow up and become a wonderful, witty, and thoughtful person. We have seen you bestow unconditional love and friendship on us and friends. You have made us very proud. We wish you good luck with all that you do, and remember, we will always love you.

*Love,

Joleana Elise Barton

*You came to me on Valentines Day
You brought with you, your loving way with eyes of an angel
skin like snow
the smell of a rose
a smile that glows*

*I opened my heart and let you in
I prayed that you'd stay unsure if I'd win*

*You filled me with song with laughter
with joy
A match made in heaven
of this I am sure*

*Eighteen years to the day
since you came my way
bringing with you your loving ways*

*You taught me the very simplest of things
how to laugh, how to sing*

*Now the day has come that you will leave
I will be strong, because I believe...
That you were sent from heaven above to teach me to be the happiest mom*

*To Joleana
Love Mom '98*

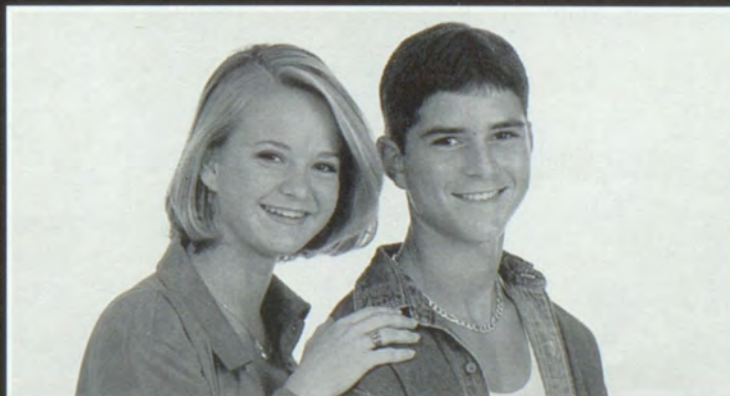

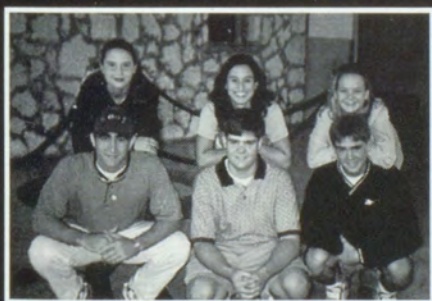

Ja Ja

*As our little girl you never stopped making us smile.
Your laughter, your kindness, your love, so eager to give.*

*Our little girl has become a beautiful woman
Still eager, still so much to give...
We have been blessed to have you
as our daughter
We are very proud of you.
We believe in you.
We love you.*

Dedicated to my Grandma
A Blink Of The Eyes
I came to you and spoke to you
on a daily basis
hoping and praying you would hide
the traces.
From the look on your face, I knew
there was no pain,
but, in my heart, I knew
we would meet again.
I said my prayers, but I still

wondered why
I received my answers with the
blink of your eyes.
I made you a promise that I
will forever keep,
I know you will hear
when I make that leap.
I had a lot of questions
and I had to cry,
but you answered them all
with just a blink of your eyes.
We miss you.
Love always,
Nana

Our Wish.
Our wish for you (Wookey Woodle) on the day you were born, was for your life to be filled with peace, love and happiness. You have done more than made our wish come true, for you have grown into a very caring, loving, and beautiful young woman. You have a gift from the Lord to make people smile and in return he has blessed you with our wish. No matter what you decide to do with you life I know it will be filled with fun, smiles, and sunshine.

*Remember when 4 years seemed like an eternity
Wasn't it just yesterday
It all keeps going by, faster and faster.
The magic of Christmas is dead
As with summer
And soon our souls too
Broken by monotonous mind-numbing jobs
Oh, to be a child
Uncaring of the true surrounding.
One day, you're an artist,
The next, perhaps, a pirate.
The beautiful days are gone
And the forever scarred are about to begin.

You've come a long way, from ponytails and skinned knees to womanhood and beauty. This transformation had not been just in appearance, it has also been in character. Your understanding, sensitivity and humor have combined to make you a unique person. You grew up to become all that we could ever hope and pray that you would be.

My Dog

Lisa,
You've grown into such a lovely young woman. I know your daddy is watching from heaven and is gleaming with pride and so proud to see what a beautiful person you've become. I will miss you when you go; my love will me with you always, and i know God's Angels will watch over you as they always have as you travel on through life.

I love you,
Mama

Rahkmaan Harris

Rahkmaan,

I've always thought a lot of you since the day you came into my life, and even now that you're grown up and soon will be gone your separate way, I'll always wonder how you are and wish you all the happiness life has to offer. I think of you and all we've shared more often than you would guess. Rahkmaan; remember to continue "To Look To The Hill From Which Cometh Your Help." (THE LORD). You have exceeded more obstacles than anyone could ever imagine, I am proud of you, continue to dream for if we couldn't dream, life wouldn't be worth the ups and downs we encounter.

Rahkmaan, you have been a tremendous joy to this family and to others outside of the family, remember we will always treasure the fun times we all have shared.

"WHEN ONE DOOR SHUTS, ANOTHER OPENS"

For every ending, there is a new beginning; and although there may be some sadness, in what you're leaving behind, may you also find joy in the promise of brighter tomorrows.

Love you,
Auntie Donna

Heaven's Very Special Child

By Edna Massimilla

A meeting was held quite far from earth.

It's time again for another birth,

Said the Angels to the Lord above.

This special child will need much love.

Her progress may be very slow.

Accomplishments she may not show.

And she'll require extra care

From the folks she meets down there.

She may not run or laugh or play;

Her thoughts may seem quite far away.

In many years she won't adapt,

and she'll be known as handicapped.

So let's be careful where she's sent

We want her life to be content.

Please, Lord, find the parents who

Will do a special job for you.

They will not realize right away

The leading role we're asked to play.

But with this child sent from above

Comes stronger faith and richer love.

And soon they'll know the privilege given in caring for their gift from Heaven.

Their precious charge so meek and mild,

Is Heaven's Very Special Child.

Impressions of a

It's hard to believe that the year has come to an end. All students are graduating up to higher levels. The Seniors are leaving Key West High behind and going out in the real world. The Juniors are now the rulers of the school and must lead the lower classes. The Sophomores are no longer stuck in the middle and are now big, bad Juniors. The Freshmen have made it through the gruesome year and are now the ones stuck in the Gray area. Finally, the incoming Freshmen are stepping into the frightening, but fun high school world. As each of us step forth into the world we carry with us the lessons learned and the experiences remembered. Not knowing it, our high school days help shape who we are and how we react to situations. The good memories and the bad will always be with us, impressed in our memories. With excitement, eagerness, and maybe some sorrow, we will look back on these days and cherish them forever.

Colophon

Impressions, Conch 1998, was produced by the Key West High School Yearbook Staff at 2100 Flagler Avenue in tropical Key West, Florida. Production was first headed by Dr. Ralph Huhn and ended under the supervision of Mr. John Spence. The book is 9 X 12 inches with a press run of 700 books. The book contains 336 pages on 80 pound enamel paper. Impressions 1998 was published by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas, represented by Kenneth Thornberry of Fort Lauderdale, Florida. The cover was created by the Editor-in-Chief, Tiffany Anzalone. The cover is debossed with silver foil and red number 804 on a grey vellum cover material. The endsheets used brown Sepia ink on Rainbow/Oatmeal paper stock. The font used throughout the book is Memento. The yearbook staff would like to extend a special thanks to the entire faculty, staff and student body at Key West High School. Good luck to the Class of 1998, may the spirit of the Conch be forever impressed in your souls.
