Dedication

The Class of '49 wishes to use this, the dedication of our Annual, as a means, though it is but a small one, to show our appreciation and most genuine gratitude to you, Mr. Goldsmith, the principal who has been our faithful guide and consultant throughout all our problems. We are sure that you will live always in our fondest memories of our Senior Year.

Class History

THE GOLD RUSH

The drivers cracked their whips, the horses rallied, and the wagons rolled. The band of pioneers were off to claim their fortunes in the newly opened land of Key West High school, now being governed by President Horace O'Bryant. He had sent out a proclamation saying that the new land was now opened for settlement and claims. So a merry group of Freshmen pioneers, under the capable guidance of Wellons, Ferguson and Dunmeyer, made up a caravan and started out. They knew that it would be a hard and long trip but at the end lay vast fortunes which once earned would never be lost.

Many fierce Indian tribes were encountered including the English and Social Science, but after a mighty battle, the pioneers headed on.

In order to replenish our supplies (of paper, pencils and brains that is) we camped at a settlement 'Vacation Land' for a few months before continuing our journey into the Sophomore prairie. Before leaving we had an oldfashioned barn dance, our Freshman Prom, to celebrate success in our travels thus far.

For our journey into the Sophomore prairie, prospectors Milner and Wilson were ordered to lead the caravan. This was indeed a rough and rugged country. We lost some of our pioneers in crossing History Mountain, elevation 2,456 feet, and Biology Peak, elevation 3,009 feet, but the rest of the band moved on. Half of our journey was almost completed.

The trip got rougher especially when we began to cross Junior Forest. This was the land of the fierce animals, American History; the worries of presenting a successful Jr.-Sr. Prom; and the dread of the approaching Conch Day. But with new members joining our caravan, new supplies and with drivers like Williams and Milner, we survived.

The Senior caravan ahead of us initiated us into taking their place on the march forward, as they had prospered and decided to settle down. After the initiation, we, with bruised knees, black eyes, and skinned legs, trudged back to the wagons making plans for our Conch Day the next year.

Thus we crossed the Junior Forest successfully and anticipated the last half of our hard journey.

Yes, ahead of us loomed the Senior Wonderland. It was the head of the 49'ers and the gold rush was on. Captain Clark cracked her whip, and we were off. To help her a group of pioneer leaders were elected. These were.....

President, Smitty the Kid
Vice President, Two Gun Vince Molina
Secretary, Trigger Girl Canova
Treasurer, Wild Peggy Collins, and Committee Chairman, Pistol Packing Judy Daughtry.

President Horace O'Bryant had gone on to other duties and now President Goldsmith made the rules and regulations of the land.

As we were loyal pioneers of a new county, we carried out all of his orders, which included the presentation of a musical show 'Dance the World Around,' and a 'Senior Play.'

When we had started our trip into the Senior Wonderland, we had been given new ammunition in the form of graduation rings and pins to guard us against the better and vicious Indian tribes of Juniors and Sophomores.

Our hearts beat quick for Conch Day was coming. The poor Juniors were terrified. Nevertheless, the day came and our hardy fighters and maidens descended on them just as we had been massacred the year before.

We thought it was going to be a smooth running trip, but woe unto us a tribe of highwaymen; placement tests--befell us. We groped in the darkness, and much later with weakened minds and heavy hearts, we came out like brave fighters.

Yes, it was the year of the gold rush and we had discovered our gold. Four years before we had started out in the rush for knowledge. Then in June of '49 we each stepped up and staked our claim with a diploma. Now we linger, thinking of the road of tomorrow, hoping that all of our paths will be golden lined.
