

STUDY - DEN

10. Two Rare Castelli Tin-Glazed Earthenware Spouted Wet Drug Jars
FAB

Two rare Castelli tin-glazed Renaissance earthenware spouted wet drug jars, of Orsini-Colonna type, c.1520, each having dragon head and neck spout, applied side handle, each finely decorated with two profile bust-portraits, facing each other on either side of the spout, one showing the portrait of two young men, one, showing the portrait of two grey-haired old men, each with Gothic printing below in Latin,

the jar with the young men, titled:

Syrup of Byzantium (translated from the Latin)

the jar with the old men, titled:

Syrup of Roses (translated from the Latin)

each with old damage and repair.

10" x 6 ½" d.; 8 ½" d. (overall)

Two 175,000

Provenance: Original furnishings of W. R. Coe.

LIVING ROOM

11. Flemish Verdure Tapestry

A Flemish late 17th Century verdure tapestry, having castle in parkland setting, a crane, emblem of longevity and human wisdom, eating in verdant foreground, with foliate and floral border surround, incorporating repeated motif of urns of flowers and baskets of fruit.

approx. 10' x 8'

28,000