The "Spirit of Alaska Statehood" celebrates the 50th anniversary of Alaska statehood. The unique design was a result of a statewide "Paint the Plane" coloring contest that was open to all school-aged kids throughout Alaska. Among the many thousands of entries, the winning design came from 16-year old Hannah Hamberg from Sitka High School. Her design was chosen for its creativity, style and positive theme. The project was sponsored by Alaska Airlines with cooperation from the 50th Anniversary Statehood Commission and the Alaska Department of Education and Early Development.
