

An underwater photograph showing a school of fish swimming through a dense kelp forest. The water is clear and blue, and the kelp is green and swaying. The fish are of various sizes and species, including some larger ones in the foreground and many smaller ones in the background.

Alaska Airlines®

August 1999

Sea Escapes

West Coast diving adventures