

A skier in a red and grey suit is captured mid-jump, clearing a snowy ridge. A large plume of white snow is being kicked up behind the skier, creating a dynamic sense of motion. The background shows a vast, snow-covered mountain range under a clear blue sky. The Alaska Airlines logo is prominently displayed at the top in a white script font, with the date "November 2004" in a smaller, sans-serif font to its right.
