

The funeral of John Curley took place this morning from the residence of his brother, Michael Curley, 37 Connection street, to St. Augustin's Church. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. George Archambault, with Rev. Edward P. Deery as deacon and Rev. Joseph P. Coleman as sub-deacon. The burial was in St. Columba's cemetery, the bearers being Edward C. Sullivan, Samuel Harrington, Cornelius Sullivan, John Murphy, John Sullivan and John J. Hogan.

Mr. Curley, who was a well known gardener, died Saturday at his brother's home, after a short illness. He was a native of Ireland, born 73 years go, and coming to this country, when a young man, making his home in Newport, where he had been employed as gardener on several of the estates of summer residents. He retired from active work a few years ago on account of advancing years. He is survived by his brother and several nephews and nieces, residing here.