

THOMAS A. GALVIN RITES.

The funeral of Thomas A. Galvin of 15 Dixon St., owner of the Narragansett Cafe on Long Wharf, was held from his home this morning to St. Augustin's Church. A solemn high mass was celebrated by the Rev. James A. Fitz-Simon, pastor. The Rev. John T. Shea, Carmelite Monastery chaplain was deacon and the Rev. Joseph D. Schenick was sub-deacon. The Rev. Timothy Keane of Lady of Lourdes Church, Wellfleet, Mass., was in the sanctuary.

The body was placed in the receiving vault at Island Cemetery. It will be interred in St. Mary's Cemetery. Father Keane read the committal service, assisted by Fathers FitzSimon and Schenick.

The bearers were Arthur B. Cottrell, William S. West, Dr. Peter P. Integlia, William Franklin, Raymond J. and Charles Burns, Dennis E. Collins and James H. Dwyer.