"President Tim Allen"

"This past year I've tried to fulfill my campaign promises of more student involvement and putting some purpose into the ASB.

Opportunities for involvement were certainly plentiful this year, not only through the numerous committees of ASB, but also by taking part in the many ASB sponsored activities.

The 1973-74 school year saw the opening of the student lounge, and as time passed it became the place to be during lunch and after school. In October many couples enjoyed one of the most successful Homecoming dances in years. Over Thanksgiving students enjoyed our Thanksgiving Hoedown. For many students this was a first time experience.

During Christmas vacation Col-Hi clubs sponsored various activities. The climax of "Christmas Week" was the Bomber Booster ASB dinner-dance, which, hopefully, will become an annual affair at Col-Hi. The 1973-74 school year also heralded the return of the Soc-Hop, and Saturday night at the movies became the place to go.

Inter-school relations also got a big boost this year through Tri-City Inter-High, as Col-Hi emerged as one of the leading figures of this miniature U.N.

Another new innovation this year was our spring leadership camp. Of all our activities this year, the camp was my favorite. Here I had the opportunity to meet and work with those students who will be taking on the responsibilities of the ASB in the next few years. I hope you will give them the support and cooperation that you gave us this year. On behalf of the ASB officers I would like to extend our thanks to you for your support."

Girls' League is an organization which serves both Columbia High and the entire community. Its main function is to sponsor Tolo, the annual spring formal, which is one of the highlights of the school year.

Activities this year included a Christmas party for the elderly at the Heather House, a dance, a canned food drive to help the needy, and Battelle-sponsored Christmas and Easter parties for children. The success of these projects was due to the great deal of time and effort put in by the Girls' League members.

The two advisors behind the scenes were Miss Korpi and Miss Pardo. In close cooperation with the officers, they acted as one spoke within the wheel of Girls' League, which made for a smoothly run organization.

The girls are expected to attend all home football and basketball games and function as an organized nucleus for the student cheering section. They also support other sports, but not necessarily as a group. Other duties of the membership include the sale of programs at home games, and acting as guardian angels to coaches, athletes, and managers in the various sports during their season. These fine, outstanding young men are the members of Columbia High's 1973-74 Key Club. They are assembled in front of the Reader Board, which was a project of last year's club.

The Key Club men are also members of the Key Club's International Group, which is an operation under Kiwanis International. The club performs duties assigned to them by the Kiwanis for money-making purposes. They also originate their own ideas for projects to help the community. The money is then used to further the development of the Key Club in future years.

FEAST is a vocational class which provides job training for students wanting to enter the food service industry. It develops an understanding that the food industry is the leading exponent of hospitality and aids the students in taking positive steps toward self-improvement.

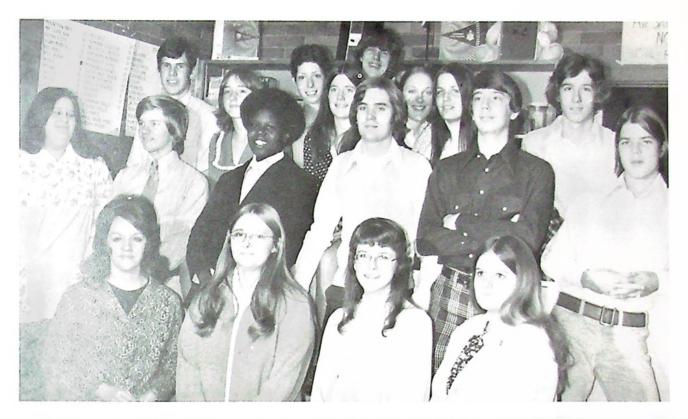

One of FEAST's main functions is the operation of "restaurants" once a week for the faculty and special guests. The members gain valuable experience in advertising, balancing a budget, purchasing, planning, and preparation of the meal itself. At the same time, they have a lot of fun doing it. Cooking experience is gained by working in the school cafeteria. Also, many various fund-raising projects are put on by this organization. The first of these, a pie sale, proved to be a huge success.

Dear Friends.

I come from Bangkok, the capitol of Thailand. It is the biggest and the most important town in Thailand. Bangkok is a modern city, with a population of more than three million. The population of Thailand is about forty million. The national language is Thai. English and Chinese are spoken as well. Thailand is predominantly Buddhist. One thing that every Thai is proud of is that our country in Southeast Asia that has never been a western colony.

Before I left Thailand, I had thought that one year would be a very long time for me. The nearer Richland was, the more excited I got. Everything scared me and made me cry. Now that the most wonderful year of my life has almost come to an end, I am crying again. Leaving my family, my friends, and everything behind, I felt as if I had lost a part of my body, but now I realize how important America is to me. In fact, I should have said Richland instead.

I promise that I will come back to my home someday. Be sure that I will remember all of you. Don't forget to say "Hi" and talk to me if you see me walking around. Please accept my invitation to visit Thailand. I would be glad to see all of you again.

Never will I forget this fantastic experience. I would like to thank all of you, my dearest family, and the AFS chapter. If it weren't for good people like you, this fantastic opportunity, would never have been possible.

I guess I should say goodbye. Remember that I love you, my dear friends, and will always miss you. I am not a writer so I can't describe my feelings that well, but every word that I have said comes from my heart. Take care.

With love, Gai

Dear Friends.

Staying with you in Richland was the greatest experience in my life. Two months before I came to the United States I had never heard of a place called Richland. Now after a wonderful year is almost gone I can say that Richland became my second hometown. All the places and people are so familiar to me that I will find it always worthwhile to remember the time spent here. Sharing the time with you made me feel like being a part of you, your culture, and your way of life. This is what made my stay so much different from just paying a visit as a tourist.

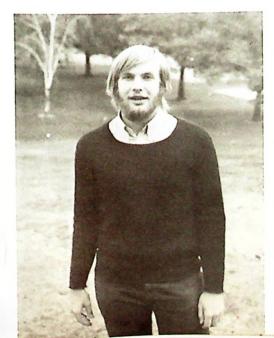

I want to give you a little idea of what my German home is like. I live in a fairly large city in southern Germany. Erlangen. Its population counts about one hundred thousand. The main sights are the University with about ten thousand students, the old city and the newer city, founded by the Hugenotts. A big industrial research area where most of the workers are employed makes it somewhat similar to Richland as the studies are also concerned with nuclear power. If you want to get a better impression, why don't you come over? I would be glad to show you all the places in my German surrounding

I think it is not possible to express with words how much this year meant to me. I want to say good-bye, hopefully not forever, with a special "Thank-You" for my host family, the Kindleys, and the AFS chapter, who made this fantastic experience possible.

Yours. Helmut

With only one returning member from last year, the 1974 Swing Choir quickly achieved the superior quality sound that the Columbia High choirs have always obtained. Unlike the traditional Advanced Choir and Bel Canto, the Swing Choir has only been in existence about five years.

Swing Choir is generally a public relations group and is primarily concerned with concerts and activities outside of school. Representing Columbia High at various state wide competitions and festivals, the group has repeatedly received high ratings.

Bel Canto

Sophomore Trio

Bel Canto is composed of twelve of the finest voices within Columbia High. Although this group has traditionally had only nine members, three more were added this year. This qualified the girls for competition, which included solo, ensemble, and jazz festivals. Performances at concerts, banquets, and conventions were also on the agenda for the busy Bel Canto.

For the first time in many years, Columbia High has a Sophomore Trio. An exciting asset to Col-Hi's music program, the trio was made up of Gin Brouns, Tammy Lyons, and Maureen Sullivan. The three girls often performed with the Swing Choir and also competed in solo and ensemble competitions.

Columbia High is very proud to have had these girls as an addition to the fine musical department this year.

Stage Band

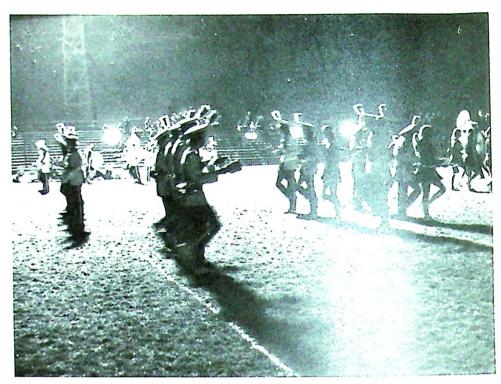

Columbia High's stage band this year was small, but what they lacked in numbers, they made up for in spirit. The twelve members of the band gave many performances this year, often for community and civic groups. They play mostly jazz, but this year added some rock and "pop" music to their program.

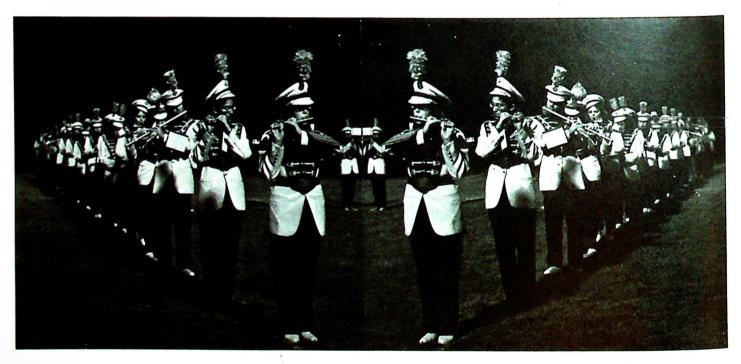

There were thirty-five members in Columbia High's orchestra this year, but only nine were Col-Hi students. The remainder of the orchestra was made up of students from Carmichael and Chief Jo junior highs, and one member came from Hanford. Their performances included a concert in November and another at Christmas. The orchestra did very well, and, according to Mr. Rogers, "was the best orchestra Columbia High has had in years."

Try to remember the days, like daisies in a country field: simple, yet filled with beauty, and with truth. As moments float by. the petals, one by one, are given to the wind, leaving only golden centers of memories for futures yet unknown. These days are springtime. with delicate blossoms in profusion, and beginnings scenting the air, while tomorrow's sunshine centers become precious, because daisies never tell.

COACHES WORK SO THE TEAM CAN PLAY

The coaching staff behind the Richland Bomber football team certainly rates as one of the finest in the state. With their superior coaching knowledge and skills, these men achieved strength, precision, and unity in the Bombers.

Head coach of the mighty Bombers is J.D. Covington. Coach Covington has coached Bomber football for the past three years, giving the Bombers their best season record in nineteen years when he took over in 1971. His assistants were Bob Elsensohn and Bob Pritchett.

Junior varsity coach was Ken Olson. A sophomore coach the preceding year, Coach Olson was pleased to be with the J.V. Rombers.

Sophemore coaches were Jim DeBord and Jay Haney. Both have had previous years experience coaching sophs. Many thanks to these dedicated men who worked so hard.

Bombers Have Built A Cross Country Dynasty

Guy Tunnell

Kirk Higginson Keith Jolley

Running cross-country is a demanding sport which requires determination. dedication, and pride. The Richland Bombers proved to possess these characteristics when they captured their fourth consecutive state crosscountry championship this year. This unparalleled feat was due in part to the remarkable team effort of both varsity and junior varsity and the excellent coaching of Coach Mike Hepper. Although cross-country has in the pash been lacking in fans and support, it is now growing in popularity and hopefully will in the future receive the backing it so needs and deserves. We at Columbia High are extremely proud of our State Champion crosscountry team.

From the very beginning the Bombers possessed the characteristics of a winning team. Their amazing speed and ball-handling abilities enabled them to defeat their first six opponents by wide margins, meeting their first of two losses on January 5 at Kamiakin High. A month later the Bombers avenged these losses with solid victories in Art Dawald Gym. The rest of the season was a breeze. By tournament time Richland was rated first in the league.

March came in like a lion, as did the Bombers in District play. They then prepared for action in Spokane. Friday's games resulted in Richland and Kamiakin's victories over University and Shadle Park. The championship game was then dominated by the Bombers, who downed the Braves 68-58. By this time they were ranked 2nd in the state in the AP polls.

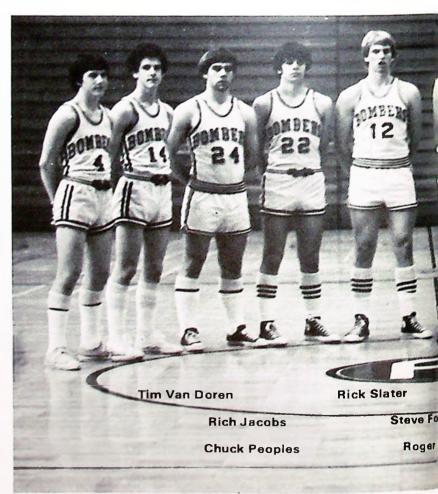

The state tournament in Seattle was the final step in Richland's long season. The defeat of Ballard in Friday's competition placed the Bombers in the final game for the state title. Pitted against the undefeated Garfield Bulldogs, they played a fine game, yet fell to the Seattle team, placing second in state competition for the second year in a row.

Although the Columbia High gymnastics team has been in existence a mere three years, they have built a reputation in the Inland Empire as being the team to beat. Each of the eleven members of the team is graced with exceptional flexibility and coordination. They perform on the balance beam, uneven parallel bars, and trampoline with a beauty and form fascinating to watch. They placed third in the state competition in the '73 season, and under the superb leadership of coach Rod Ostboe, were expected to do even better this year. Returning from last year's team are Susan Mock, Karen Sampson, Cindy Van Liew, and Brenda Belcher. All four show excellent talent and are very competitive in their field. Robin Boasen also shows signs of being an exceptional gymnast.

Mr. Evans Retires After 25 Years

Mr. Evans' number is up. After teaching mathematics at Col-Hi for the last twenty-five years, he has decided to leave this learning atmosphere and retire to lead a life of leisure. The students and faculty at Columbia High would like to take this opportunity to thank him and wish him good luck in the future.

I heard
lockers slamming,
girls giggling,
phony flirting,
and shouts of laughter.
I heard
silent sobbing,
fervent prayers,
solitary footsteps,
and hearts breaking.
I heard
single strings
and ten thousand trumpets.
I heard
all these things,
yet it is difficult
to say which sounds
spoke most for me.

TIPS ON QUITTING

CIGARETTES

- Pick a Q (Quit) Day.
- Switch to a low tar-nicotine brand, and begin to cut down BEFORE Q Day.
- Keep a supply of substitutes handy: mints, gum, celery, carrot sticks.
- Quit on Q Day; use substitutes when the urge to smoke is strong; keep busy; pamper yourself with special meals; drink plenty of water; exercise.
- Renew your resolve daily. Think over the health hazards of cigarettes.
- Plan a treat for yourself with the money you used to spend on cigarettes.

But a computer would tell you that the odds for a successful civilian career are higher when you have Air Force training in a high-skill technical area.

For example, if you learned about computers in the Air Force, you'd have a head start with a company that sells, services or programs them. Or a company that uses computers in accounting, statistics, or in business administration.

Pick from over 130 other jobs. If the one you want is available the Air Force will guarantee you that job before you enlist.

YOU CAN'T COMPUTE WHAT AN AIR FORCE SKILL MAY BE WORTH TO YOU.
