Prosser Club Views Style Show

Prosser Vestal Club members saw a style show at their meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. E. C. Klostermeyer, presented by 4-H Club members of the Junior Cut-Ups and Busy Hands Clubs.

Half of the garments modeled were judged in the top 10 per cent at the Benton County Dress Revue at the Benton Franklin Fair. Ellen Wolf was commentator. Models were Lorraine Brown, Emma Martin, LaDonna Brown, Dorothy Larson, Janell Taylor, Mary Jean Klostermeyer, Vicki Hall and Kathy Hileman.

Vestal members practiced judging the garments.

The Christmas workshop will be Nov. 5 at the Buena Vista Grange Hall.

Guests were Mrs. William Masten, Mrs. Fred Martin, Mrs. Ira Martin and Mrs. Willmer Hyden.

Spokane Award Received

Mrs. John McMillan

Mrs. John McMillan, Kennewick, who received the Best-of-the Fair trophy at the bi-county Fair for her knitted work, has also received the sweepstakes award at the Spokane Interstate Fair for the National Wool - and - Needlework contest.

Mrs. McMillan, who received the award for a knitted shawl-type stole, won $10 for the blue ribbon, as well as two white ribbons.

The winning stole will be entered in the National Wool-and-Needlework contest in New York where judging will be on workmanship, beauty of design and general appearance.

The grand national champion will receive $1000, a special engraved trophy and free round-trip to New York with a 3-day stay for two persons.

Mrs. McMillan, the former Sally Austin, is the daughter of Mrs. George Austin. A graduate of the Kennewick schools, she is a former Benton-Franklin County rodeo queen.

THE GRANGE NEWS
10 E Sat., Jan. 12, 1963

State fair fund is allocated

Allocation of a major portion of the 1962 state fair fund to 43 fairs that were held in the state last year has been announced by state Director of Agriculture Joe Dwyer. Recommendations had been made by the state Fair Commission.

The 1962 fund amounts to $420,000 of which 90% or $378,000 is available for distribution to the fairs, Mr. Dwyer said. The 1961 state fair law provides that 10% of the fund be reserved for expenses of the commission and for special emergency grants-in-aid to fairs. The fair fund is derived from a portion of the state tax on pari-mutuel betting at the state's horse racing tracks.

Thirty-eight county and district fairs received $293,000 in the allocations announced by Dwyer. The five statewide youth shows—Washington State Junior Dairy show, Spokane Junior Livestock show, Washington State 4-H fair, Washington State Junior Poultry exposition and Central Washington Junior Livestock show—received $53,000. The remainder of the $378,000 will go to approximately 50 community fairs.

District fairs received allocations totaling $139,700 as follows: Central Washington, Yakima, $18,000; Spokane Interstate, $16,000; Northwest Washington, Lynden, $15,000; Southwest Washington, Chehalis, $14,500; Southeast Washington, Walla Walla, $14,500; Evergreen State, Monroe, $14,000; Columbia Empire, Longview, $14,000; Grays Harbor, Elma, $11,500; North Central Washington, Waterville, $11,100; and Palouse Empire, Colfax, $11,100.

The Benton-Franklin and Clark County fairs received the largest allocations given county fairs—$10,500 each.

Fair Seeks Queen Aspirants

Applications are now available at all Tri-City area chamber of commerce offices for girls who wish to compete for queen and princesses of the 1963 Benton-Franklin Fair and Rodeo.

The court will have one queen and two princesses. Deadline for entries to the Kennewick Chamber of Commerce is March 1. Mrs. John Wilkins, chairman of the queen committee, announced.

To be eligible, girls must be residents of one of the counties; they must be single, between the ages of 17-20, and must own or have access to horses and equipment.

Former princesses are eligible to run for queen only. Former queens are not eligible.

Organizations may sponsor a girl. Applications must be signed by the applicant's parent or guardian.

Selection of the queen and her court will be made by a panel at a private judging on the basis of personality, public-speaking ability, horsemanship, general appearance and cooperation of parents.

Entry blanks are available at Kennewick, Richland, Pasco, Prosser, Benton City, West Richland and Connell.

Further information can be obtained at any of these offices.

Fair Royalty Is Sought

West Richland girls were urged today to sign up for queen-and-court positions in connection with Benton-Franklin County Fair.

Lyle Mineer, president of the West Richland Chamber of Commerce, reported he felt there are many West Richland girls who are good horsewomen and could qualify for the contest. So far none has applied. Girls must be between the ages of 17 and 20. Details and applications may be obtained from Mineer.

Applications from the two counties will be accepted until March 1.

Mrs. Chapman Heads Auxiliary

Mrs. Bernard Chapman was elected president of the Benton County Mounted Posse Auxiliary at the February meeting.

New vice president is Mrs. A. M. Richter. Mrs. Kenneth Thompson is secretary and Mrs. Phil Berman treasurer. Trustees are Mrs. Tom Surplus, Mrs. Fred Schroeder and Mrs. Jimmy Earvin.

The Auxiliary presented a plaque to Mrs. John Wilkins, retiring president.

WESTERN STYLES will be modeled by Miss Sharon Hartley, 1962 Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo queen; Toni Garrett, left, and Scotty Miller at a Western Wear Style Show April 2 at 8 p.m. at the Black Angus. The show, open to the public, is sponsored by the Benton County Mounted Posse Auxiliary. Western clothes and accessories for the family will be modeled.

Jaycee-Ettes Aid Park Fund

John Clark, Benton County park director, received a check from the Kennewick Jaycee-Ettes to buy a swing set for Columbia Park. At left was Mrs. Jack Gillette and at the right was Mrs. Robert Fenno, project chairman. Jaycee-Ettes raised the money with a booth at the Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo and from Christmas card sales.

TEN LITTLE PIGS come to dinner. This thrifty litter of ten little pigs is the FFA project of Alvin Ray Benitz. The mother is a purebred Poland China. The father is a Chester White. White being a dominate color, all the pigs are solid white. Cross breeding is popular, as breeders think it lends vigor to the offspring. This litter bears it out.

BABY SITTING — range style. One mother tends several calves while the other mothers feed at a distance. These Hereford cows and calves graze on the Rattlesnake Range of R. J. McWhorter. Instinct tells the mothers not to leave their babies too far or too long, but satisfying their appetites necessitates grazing at some distance. The cows compromise and leave one mother to babysit. Whether they got this practice from humans or the other way around, no one knows.

Winners Told for Demo Contest

Benton County 4-H members have been busy this week giving 4-H demonstrations.

The demonstrations are part of the Benton Franklin County Fair, which is scheduled for Aug. 23, 24 and 25. After all the demonstrations have been given, judges will determine which members will represent Benton County at the State Fair in Yakima, scheduled for the latter part of September.

Twenty-three 4-H'ers participated in the Prosser Area demonstrations Monday, April 8. Last year 14 participated in the event. Results for the Prosser area are as follows:

Red ribbons: Mike Andrews, Judy Bean, Tena Boast, Marcia Buckminster, Christine Elliot, Linda Fridlund, Ed Gage, Jacqueline Gould, Terry Hall, Nancy Roseberry, and Sarah Wolfe.

White ribbons: Susan Blakney, and Gail Ritchie.

Mrs. E. C. Klostermeyer and Marilyn Bottorff, Lorraine Brown and Mary Jean Klostermeyer, junior leaders, were in charge of the event.

Miss Munsey To Be Queen Of '63 Fair

La Nay Munsey, Kennewick High School senior, has been chosen queen of the 1963 Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo.

Miss Munsey, 18, was a 1962 fair-and-rodeo princess. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hall, Kennewick. Her princesses are Janet Heiser, Kennewick; Vicki Smith, Richland, and Lee Ann Hamilton, Kennewick, all 17-year olds.

THE QUEEN WILL FORMALLY receive her crown from 1962 queen Sharon Hartley, Kennewick, at a coronation ball May 4 at the Kennewick Masonic Temple. Tickets for the ball may be purchased from members of the Benton County Mounted Posse, its Auxiliary, or at any Tri-City Chamber of Commerce office.

Mrs. William Kelly, auxiliary spokesman, said the queen and court were chosen from a considerable number of candidates by judges from the chambers of commerce, fair board and posse.

Miss Munsey's hobbies are horseback riding, outdoor sports, and 4-H Club work. She owns a quarterhorse named "Brandy," and intends to attend beauticians' school after high school graduation.

Miss Heiser is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Heiser, and a Kennewick High School junior. She owns a quarterhorse named "Rusty," and her hobbies are riding, swimming and 4-H work. She hopes to become a beautician and hair stylist.

PRINCESS - ELECT VICKI IS the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Smith, and is a senior at Columbia High School, Richland, where she belongs to the pep club and drill team. Her hobbies are skiing, swimming and candy-stripping and her Arabian quarterhorse is named "Lindy." She hopes to attend Columbia Basin College and become a physical therapist.

Miss Hamilton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hamilton. She is a senior at Kennewick High School and hopes to become a teacher. Her thoroughbred Arabian is named "Sugar." Her hobbies are riding, swimming and 4-H Club work.

Lee Ann's older sister Judi, was a fair-and-rodeo princess in 1958, and queen in 1959.

Garden Tips

Suggestions Given For Fair Exhibits

By RAY FRENCH
Garden Consultant

The Benton-Franklin Fair Aug. 23-25 gives us three weeks to prepare and select flowers, vegetables and field crops for exhibition.

This region grows a wide variety of horticultural crops, yet our entries in these categories are low. The floriculturists do a much better job of exhibiting than do the other agricultural fields, but even they could do much more.

Our area grows many field crops, namely wheat, but the only place we see wheat is in the dryland Grange booth competition. Sheaves of grain are quite beautiful to see and we should have some of them exhibited this year.

OBTAIN A PREMIUM BOOK at the county extension office and plan to enter it at the fair. If you don't have good products and your neighbor does, have him exhibit, and if he doesn't want to enter, borrow some and enter it for him.

Following are some recommendations for exhibiting:

A. Flowers

1. Number of blooms — follow the premium list carefully. Too few or too many can disqualify.

2. Stage of maturity — pick flowers so that they will be in the proper stage of maturity at judging time. Generally this is just before full bloom.

3. Uniformity — this includes size, shape, and color, as well as length of stems. This is one of the more important points.

4. Size — according to type or variety, but in any event try to get the typical plant of any variety.

5. Substance — freshness, firmness and — or fineness of texture.

6. Foliage — every exhibit of cut flowers must include foliage. The quality and condition of foliage is very important in judging. No foliage is used except that on the stem of the specimen. Foliage should be cleaned by wiping carefully with a soft, damp cloth. Accessory foliage such as florists greens are never used with specimen exhibits.

7. Color — should be clear, unfaded with attractive, harmonious markings or shadings. Do not mix colors of blooms in a class of lot numbers calling for one color of bloom. Mixed colors, in this case, would disqualify.

8. Stem — stiff, straight and long.

9. Condition — bloom and foliage should be free of insect damage, water spots, sunburn, bruises or other mechanical injury, rust spots, or other disease.

B. Preparation

1. Cut in late afternoon or evening the day before exhibiting. The flowers then have more stored-up food.

2. Use a sharp knife, making a long slanting cut.

3. Carry a pail of warm water, 100-110 degrees and place flowers in it as soon as cut.

4. Store flowers in refrigerator or cool room overnight.

5. Do not place lower leaves in water. This invites unsightly decay organisms.

C. Grooming

A limited amount is allowed such as removal of a petal or a wilted floret on some blooms; however, this should not be noticeable to the judge.

D. Containers

The fair board provides containers.

The Extension office also has a bulletin available on the "Care and Preparation of Cut Flowers."

Much can be done to help flowers grow better such as staking, disbudding, and proper watering. Insect control is also quite important.

Next week I'll discuss vegetables for exhibit.

LEE ANN HAMILTON

Horses, Teaching Interest Princess

She is a Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo princess now, but 17-year-old Miss Lee Ann Hamilton hopes someday to be a junior-high-school teacher.

The tall, slim brunette graduated from Kennewick High School this year and has enrolled at Columbia Basin College for the first year of training for her life's vocation. She intends taking the last three years of study toward her education degree at Central Washington College of Education.

But Lee Ann, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hamilton, 902 W. 10th Ave., Kennewick, has other interests in life besides academic study. Topmost of these is horseback riding on "Sugar," Lee Ann's spirited thoroughbred Anglo-Arab mare.

Lee Ann will be riding Sugar when she and the other fair and rodeo royalty make their grand entry at the rodeogrounds in Kennewick on Aug. 23 and appear in the big annual parade the following day. Miss Hamilton also likes to swim, and while in high school was active in the Commercial Club, Future Teachers of America and Jobs Daughters.

An older sister, Judi, is a former princess and queen of the fair and rodeo.

Trimming A Tough One

Those bristly, red whiskers that Carl Mansfield of Kennewick is growing for the 1963 Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo beard contest were tough to trim. So tough, in fact, that barber, Chuck Madsen, decided yesterday to use pruning shears on them. Carl, holding a king-sized comb, and Chuck, are both members of the Kennewick Junior Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the contest. Beard judging will take place during the Aug. 23-25 fair and rodeo.

JANET HEISER

Princess To Miss Rodeo Competition

The women's barrel-racing event at the Aug. 23-25 Benton-Franklin County Rodeo has temporarily lost Janet Heiser of Kennewick as a contestant, but the three-day fair and Western celebration has gained her as a princess.

A better-than-average contender in barrel-racing and pole-bending contests in which she has competed at junior rodeos, Miss Heiser will have to watch the event from the sidelines in this year's big bi-county arena show. It is a small sacrifice she made for the honor that Janet, her two fellow princesses and queen are wearing so proudly.

RUSTY, MISS HEISER'S REGISTERED Quarterhorse, will also miss the competition. But he will carry his owner in the Aug. 24 parade.

At 17, brown-eyed Janet already has her career planned. She is working during the summer as receptionist in the Evans' veterinarian hospital and hopes someday to become a technician.

But first things first—Janet has her senior year ahead of her at Kennewick High School. She belongs to the Sage Hen Club and, besides horseback riding, enjoys water skiing, swimming and dancing.

MISS HEISER IS THE daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Heiser, 5322 W. First Ave., Kennewick, and has spent much of her life in the Tri-City area. Seein' you at the fair and rodeo.

Prosser Float Is First

The Prosser Chamber of Commerce float was grand sweepstakes winner of the Benton County Junior Fair parade Saturday.

The multi-colored float also took top honors at the Tri-City Water Follies parade.

Other winners in the hour-long parade included:

Commercial, Benton and Franklin PUDs and Richland Power and Light; organization, Tri-City Chambers of Commerce; senior mounted, Benton - Franklin Fair and Queen's Court.

Junior mounted, Golden Pine 4-H Riders; children, Jennifer Sneddon, Benton City drill teams, Atomic Twirlers and comics, John Austin.

Many Themes In Junior Fair Parade

The past, the future and the religious as found in the present were portrayed in one segment of the Benton County Junior Fair and Rodeo grand parade Saturday. Jennifer Sneddon, 6, Benton City, stole the hearts of some 2,800 persons that viewed the parade, with her exhibitions of bare back riding tricks atop man's ancient motive power. The float entered by the Assembly of God Church represented the religious and future. The parade, described as the largest in 12 years, featured a total of 55 mounted units, drill teams, antique cars and floats.

Tri-City Skaters Are Going To Square-Dance Convention

The Tri-City Hilanders square-dance group doesn't expect to be lost in the crowd of 10,000-12,000 square dancers attending the Far West Convention in Eugene, Aug. 16-17.

The 15 members of the Hilanders will be the only ones square dancing on roller skates. It was because of the group's unusual talent that it received a special invitation to attend the convention.

THE HILANDERS FORMED about three years ago under the leadership of Mrs. Shirley McCalmant, Kennewick, and caller-teacher Harold Parker, Kennewick. The group ranges in age from 13 to 40 but most of the skater-dancers are teenagers.

The Hilanders meet each Tuesday from 7-10 p.m. at the Highland skating rink. Members are from Kennewick, Richland, Pasco and Benton City. Chuck Swanson of Benton City is the club's president.

The Hilanders do all types of square dancing. "Anything that can be done on the feet can be done on skates," Mrs. McCalmant said.

The one difference is the dance is a lot faster. The caller has to call faster and the music has to be faster.

THERE ARE ALSO SOME falls, Mrs. McCalmant said.

The Hilanders are believed to be the only square-dancing skaters in the region. They have performed in Vancouver at the state square-dance festival; at the junior and bi-county fairs in the Tri-City area; at the Veteran's Hospital in Walla Walla and before local civic and fraternal organizations.

VICKI SMITH

Rodeo Princess Is Veteran Rider

There is one thing that Princess Vicki Smith of the Benton-Franklin County Fair and rodeo possesses that goes well with her costumes.

It is a smile which reflects a sunny disposition. She attributes this at least in part to having spent her entire 17 years in the Tri-Cities.

VICKI WILL RIDE HER REGISTERED half-Arabian, half-Quarterhorse mare she has owned for three years in the grand entry of the Aug. 23-25 bi-county rodeo.

"I call her 'Melbs'—that's Melba for short," she explained with a twinkle in her eyes. Together, Vicki and Melbs have taken part in several Richland Riding Club playday events.

Besides riding, she likes to bowl, water ski and swim. Before graduating from Columbia High in June, Vicki belonged to the school's Pep Club and was on the drill team.

VICKI IS THE DAUGHTER OF Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Smith, 423 Sierra St., Richland, and has one brother, 22, and another, 5.

Looking beyond her debut on Fair and Rodeo Queen LaNay Munsey's court, Vicki's plans aren't too complete. She intends going at least one year to Columbia Basin College.

After that, she may take a course in nursing.

Meanwhile, there is one thing for certain—Vicki will go right on smiling.

A page out of automotive history will be pasted on the Tri-City calendar Aug. 23-27 when 50 antique cars will assemble in Kennewick for two days of celebration. A representative number of the old automobiles belong to the Tri-Cities' Ye Olde Car Club, which will host the gathering. Club members yesterday were tuning their own cars up for the event.

Old-Car Program Planned For Fair

The familiar "ah-ooga" of antique automobile horns will be heard in Kennewick again during the Aug. 23-25 Benton-Franklin County Fair & Rodeo weekend.

The noise will herald the arrival of more than 50 "horseless carriages" dating back almost to the 19th Century. They will be driven to the Tri-Cities by their owners from Yakima, Spokane, Lewiston, Ephrata, Portland, Seattle and Wenatchee for the Tri-Cities' first annual old-car tour and field events.

MEMBERS OF THE TRI-CITIES "Ye Olde Car Club" will be hosts and will enter their own antique autos in the various contests. Registration will be Friday night at Black Angus Motel.

Gil Linden, Richland, president, and Bob Graves, Kennewick coordinator, said the field events will be from 10 a.m.-noon Saturday on Kennewick Avenue. First, second and third-place trophies will be given for winning contestants in a balloon-breaking contest and spud-spearing fete.

Contestants will attend the Junior Chamber of Commerce barbecue in Keewaydin Park before lining up for the 2 p.m. fair and rodeo parade. Graves said queens and dignitaries will ride in the old cars, instead of the customary new convertibles, with the oldest auto in the meet being reserved for Gov. Albert D. Rosellini.

HIGHLIGHT OF THE AN-tique car owners' banquet at the Black Angus Motel Saturday night will be award of trophies for the field event winners and individual car judging. Four main trophies will be for best-restored old car, enthusiasm award, best-dressed family and hard luck award.

Prizes will also be given in automobile age divisions—1916 and earlier, 1917-'26, 1928-'42—on the basis of engine condition, interior, body, undercarriage and general appearance. Climax of the meet will be a 60-mile tour Sunday morning to Prosser via Old Inland Empire Highway and return via Highway 410.

Cosponsoring the event are the Kennewick Jaycees, who will provide manpower and Kennewick Retail merchants, who will provide trophies. Mayor Lawrence Scott and Glenn Felton have offered five gallons of gasoline for each old car that arrives under its own power.

Centennial Planned

Anderson was Paul Garwood, Nevada Centennial commissioner. Anderson is former manager of the State Theater group and was active in Kennewick civic affairs.

Gardening Tips

Exhibitors Urged To Show At Fair

BY RAY FRENCH

Garden Consultant

This is the week 4-Hers, gardeners, farmers and city folk have been awaiting—the Benton-Franklin County Fair Aug. 23-25.

Let's all take our better flowers, vegetables, and field crops to the fair for exhibit. This is a wonderful agricultural area and we should take pride in exhibiting our products.

THE PAST TWO WEEKS I have written on preparing flowers and vegetables for the fair. Keep in mind that in showmanship, uniformity of size, shape and color are important as well as the right degree of maturity. Avoid all specimens having bruises, blemishes, and diseases.

Another reminder in harvesting vegetables is to save the "bloom." Bloom is that material that protects the skin and prevents it from being shiny.

When prunes and apples are shiny, the "bloom" has been rubbed off. Be careful as to the removal of dirt. Do not scrub if it can be avoided for it scratches and removes the bloom.

About this time of year gardeners start asking about fertilization of flowers, lawns, shrubs, etc. Asters, petunias, zinnias, and other annuals should be fertilized now if they look yellowish or run down.

Since annuals will not go through the winter, it does not make any difference whether they get new growth or new flowers, and newness is what we really want. Verbenas, snapdragon, zinnia, asters, petunias, marigold, phlox and stock, to name a few, will take fertilizer very well.

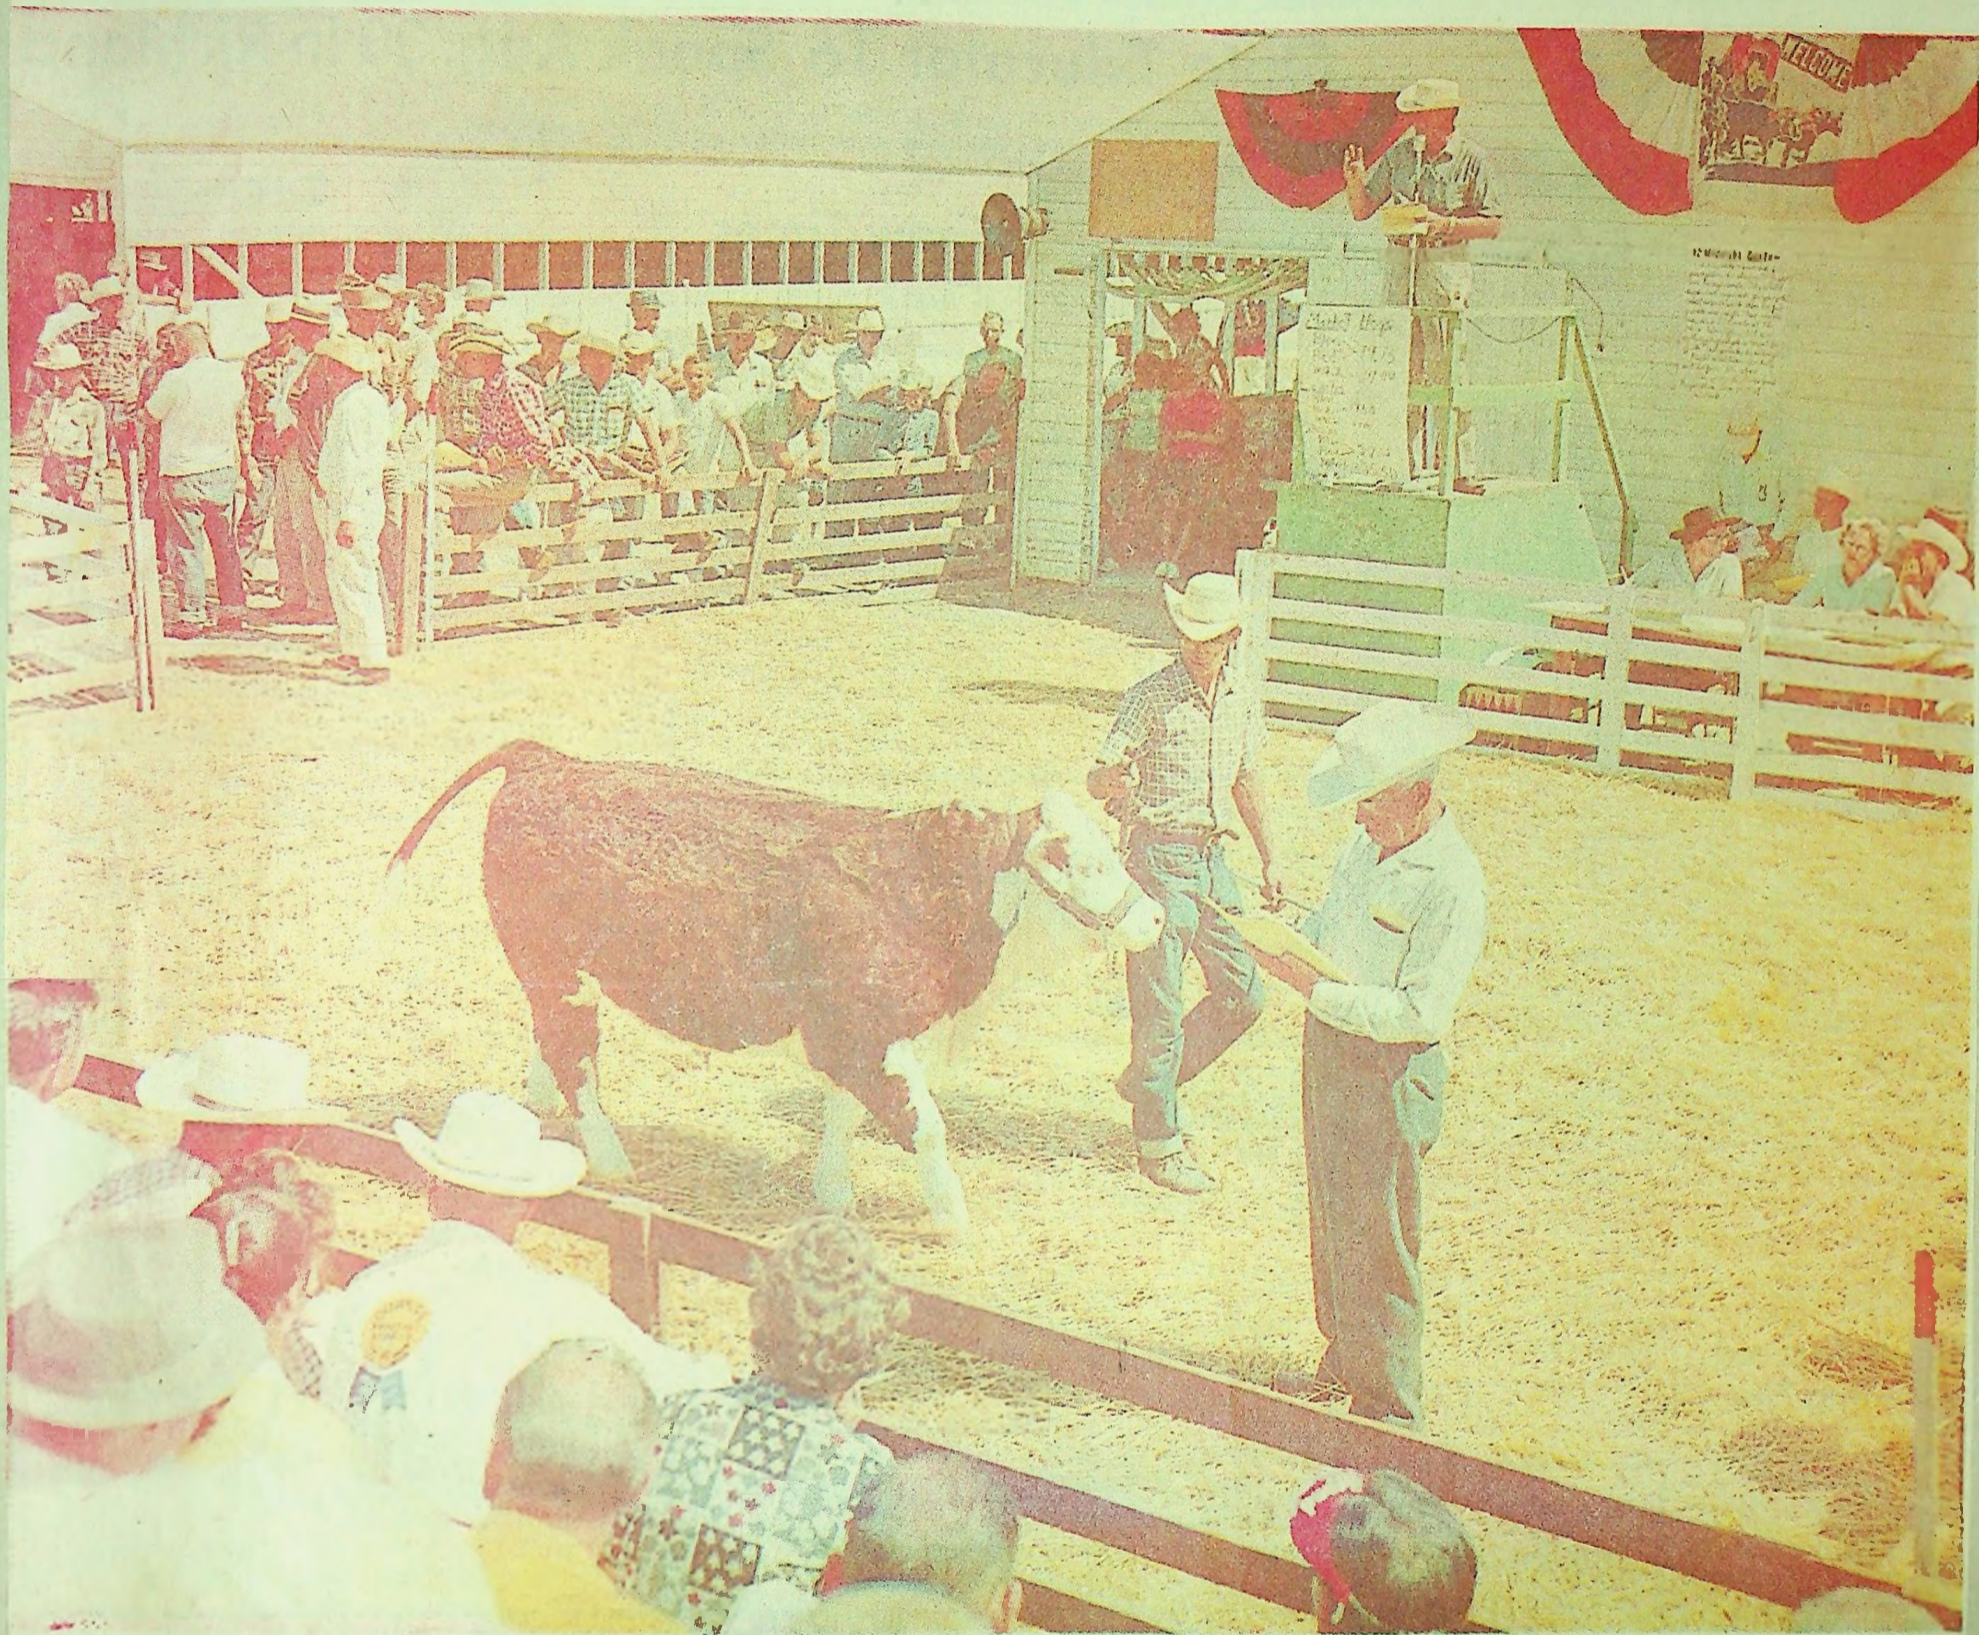

DO NOT FERTILIZE SHRUBS, trees, or perennial flowers now, for they might get new growth which would be tender, and winter kill could result.

One exception to this is chrysanthemums. An application just as the flower buds are forming will intensify color of both flowers and foliage. Apply the fertilizer as a light side dressing at the base of the plants, and soak the plant well immediately after.

Lawns can be fertilized too. If your lawn is changing from dark green to yellowish-green, this indicates the supply of nitrogen is running out.

Apply from one-half to one pound of actual nitrogen per 1000 square feet of lawn. If you have alkali problems, apply ammonium sulfate otherwise you can use a balanced fertilizer.

Benton-Franklin County Fair Time Draws Near

The Junior Fat Stock Sale is not only a stellar event at the annual Benton-Franklin County Fair, but is also the climatic occasion of the season for 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America members of both counties. They raise their beef calves, their hogs and sheep with loving care, exhibit them at the fair and then place the prime animals in the sale ring. This year's fat stock sale will be at 10 a.m. Saturday near the livestock barns at Kennewick Fairgrounds. It is an important part of the fair, which begins Thursday and continues as the Tri-Cities No. 1 annual attraction through Sunday night.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 18, 1963

Although the main attractions of the annual three-day Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo will not be until next weekend, many important events have already been staged and more will be featured today. These are the junior competitions and attract entrants—mostly 4-H club members—from throughout the Pacific Northwest. The competitions demand a knowledge and ability in practical matters as well as excellence in hobby creations. Perhaps the most popular are those involving horses. Among them are the junior and senior fitting and showing contests. Some 14 horses and their owners waited their turn Saturday at lunch time at the fairgrounds in Kennewick, while a judge and owner went over the finer points of the contestant's horse.

Steady Growth Marks 14 Years Of County Fair

After 14 years of unspectacular but steady growth, the Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo is now bursting at the seams.

When the rodeo first opened in 1949, about 7,000 crammed the stands at the fair grounds.

Last year more than 9,000 squeezed in to watch the three-day spectacle. And this year's audience is expected to be the same.

For the arena stands have reached overcrowding capacity. Only expansion of facilities will permit future spectator growth.

Posse Is Pondering Expansion

Plans for this expansion are now being discussed by members of the Benton County Mounted Posse.

"We don't expect to have anything concrete for about five years," said Dana L. Zimmerman, Posse captain this year for the second time. "But there is no doubt we have got to do something."

With the closeby 100 acres acquired by the fair, the Posse expects no trouble in finding land for the expansion.

When completed it will be the first major addition to facilities since the rodeo started.

Although the festivities as they are known now are quite young, their origins stretch back to just after the turn of the century.

At that time, the fair was known as the Grape Carnival and was held yearly near the present site of the Kennewick wharf.

Then, according to Alfred Amon, one time president of the fair, it merged with the newly born Kennewick Fair. These festivities continued during the twenties but gradually died out.

Revival Featured Rodeo

During the thirties the festivities were revived, this time with the accent on the rodeo events.

"We used to have a rodeo every Fourth of July on the site of the present high school," said Amon. The land was acquired from the county. Later the site was moved to the present Fruitland Park, and this land was eventually deeded to the city.

During World War II, the festivities closed down.

"In about 1946 they were revived," said Amon. "People had a big do downtown with stars up from Hollywood to entertain them. Among the stars was Spike Jones."

"I took over in about 1948 and we moved the Fair to the present site."

At the same time interest in rodeo events was growing. And in 1949, the Benton County rodeo was started by "a few old cowboys who used to be in rodeos but got too old to participate and decided to put on a show themselves," said Zimmerman.

Mounted Posse Formed

The result: the incorporation of the BCMP with about 80 members. Among them was Pat Owens, 1935 Northwest bronc-riding champion.

The festivities were known then as the Benton County Fair and Rodeo. Two years later Franklin County was persuaded to join, and the name was changed to its present title.

Debts totaling $11,000 were incurred by members in the early days as they sought to find capital to run the show and buy the ground and facilities, now worth $150,000.

At first the rodeo ran at a loss and was offset by the Posse membership and initiation fees.

For four years car races were run on the grounds every Sunday during the summer.

"It put the horses out of business but made us some money," said Zimmerman. In 1958 there was enough cash in the coffers and a sufficiently large membership to warrant a return to horses.

Today, with receipts of about $14,000 compared to $8,000 in the early days, the rodeo is self-supporting. "And if the wind doesn't blow and we have no rain we might even clear a couple of thousand," Zimmerman said.

Only once did the weather interfere. That was in 1956 when rain washed out the festivities. It was a bitter blow.

Preparation Takes Time

For more than 1,000 hours of work — 10 men engaged six months a year using all their spare time — is spent on organizing the festivities. They start three months after the previous year's events have finished.

Among the chores to be settled:

- Contracting out for stock — bronc horses, steers and roping calves. One man, Joe Kelsey, who recently acquired 70 head of special long-horn Mexican cattle, has furnished the stock for the past 11 years.

- Engaging the contestants — many of them top names in the rodeo circuit "and much better than those of a decade ago," said Zimmerman.

- Arranging program sales — a weak point in previous years but growing every year "as more and more people get personally interested in performances."

But although the rodeo itself has grown gradually in size, the quality of its features increased tremendously. And so has the fair.

The original purse for instance was $2,500. This year, with entry fees and purse combined it will total about $8,000.

Events have speeded up—"making our show one of the fastest in the country," said Zimmerman.

Tri-Citians Are Responding

The result: "People in the Tri-Cities are getting more and more rodeo-minded. Interest has grown enormously, he added. And those who turn out this year can expect the biggest and best fair and rodeo ever. A host of festivities has been planned for the three-day event, which starts Aug. 23.

Appointments and appearances, keeping her wardrobe in order and her horse, Brandy, groomed, keep Miss La Nay Munsey, Benton Franklin County Fair and Rodeo queen, busy these days. She has little time to relax with her favorite hobbies. Always interested in horses, she has been riding for several years. Lawn work, usually a family project, finds Queen La Nay equally at home with the lawnmower and her horse. Along with the lawn, she enjoys caring for the family ducks with the assistance of her sister, Diane. Another hobby is painting. Lower left, she appears with her court, Princesses Janet Heiser, Vicki Smith and LeeAnn Hamilton.

Gardening Tips

Exhibitors Urged To Show At Fair

BY RAY FRENCH

Garden Consultant

This is the week 4-Hers, gardeners, farmers and city folk have been awaiting—the Benton-Franklin County Fair Aug. 23-25.

Let's all take our better flowers, vegetables, and field crops to the fair for exhibit. This is a wonderful agricultural area and we should take pride in exhibiting our products.

THE PAST TWO WEEKS I have written on preparing flowers and vegetables for the fair. Keep in mind that in showmanship, uniformity of size, shape and color are important as well as the right degree of maturity. Avoid all specimens having bruises, blemishes, and diseases.

Another reminder in harvesting vegetables is to save the "bloom." Bloom is that material that protects the skin and prevents it from being shiny.

When prunes and apples are shiny, the "bloom" has been rubbed off. Be careful as to the removal of dirt. Do not scrub if it can be avoided for it scratches and removes the bloom.

About this time of year gardeners start asking about fertilization of flowers, lawns, shrubs, etc. Asters, petunias, zinnias, and other annuals should be fertilized now if they look yellowish or run down.

Since annuals will not go through the winter, it does not make any difference whether they get new growth or new flowers, and newness is what we really want. Verbena, snapdragon, zinnia, asters, petunias, marigold, phlox and stock, to name a few, will take fertilizer very well.

DO NOT FERTILIZE SHRUBS, trees, or perennial flowers now, for they might get new growth which would be tender, and winter kill could result.

One exception to this is chrysanthemums. An application just as the flower buds are forming will intensify color of both flowers and foliage. Apply the fertilizer as a light side dressing at the base of the plants, and soak the plant well immediately after.

Lawns can be fertilized too. If your lawn is changing from dark green to yellowish-green, this indicates the supply of nitrogen is running out.

Apply from one-half to one pound of actual nitrogen per 1000 square feet of lawn. If you have alkali problems, apply ammonium sulfate otherwise you can use a balanced fertilizer.

THIS IS ALSO THAT TIME OF year when evergreens need some extra attention. They will respond to a good hosing down. Use a hose with good pressure and wash all cobwebs, loose needles, and some insects from the tree.

Have you noticed the fruit of the flowering crab and quince are getting ripe? Every year people ask me if these are of any use. They make excellent jelly, with an attractive color and fine flavor.

Sweepstakes Winner

Grand sweepstakes trophy was won Saturday at the Umatilla County Fair by the Tri-City float sponsored by the Tri-City Chamber of Commerce. Fred Nordgaard, Tri-City Float Committee chairman, displayed the trophy and blue ribbon won for placing first in the Chamber of Commerce division. The float's next scheduled appearance is at 2 p.m. Saturday in Kennewick at the Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo parade. Nordgaard said Saturday was the first time the float has been transported to and from a scheduled parade without flat tires or broken wheel. It has taken first in the chamber division at parades at Wenatchee, Milton-Freewater, Lind, Benton City and Grandview.

Street Dances To Herald Start Of Fair And Rodeo

Jorful and gala street dances Kennewick on Wednesday and Friday nights will herald the Benton-Franklin County Fair rodeo.

Street dances will be staged 8-10 p.m. both nights in the ring lot behind Washington Square and J. C. Penney Co. under sponsorship of the Kennewick Junior Chamber of Commerce. George Westfall, chairman, said that 24 musicians will be on hand and separate dances will be held for teen-agers and adults.

The annual Jaycee - sponsored fair and rodeo board-growing contest will be judged during the Wednesday night dance by Fair Queen LaNay Munsey and Princesses Vicki Smith, Lee Ann Hamilton and Janet Heiser.

Western dress, which became the theme in Kennewick today by proclamation of Mayor Lawrence

Z. Scott, will also be judged during the two-night street dance. In addition, amateur talent from Ed's Elia's Dance Studio will perform.

Art-Entries Acceptance Is Tomorrow

Entries in the Benton-Franklin County Fair's amateur art exhibit and competition will be accepted at Fair Building No. 1 from 1-8 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Walt Reese, chairman, said judging will be by Mrs. Arna Peck and Mrs. Bruce Murphy, and will be in seven categories: oil, water colors, pastels, tempura, black and white, sculpture and mosaic.

All paintings must be originals, ready for hanging and the work of an amateur, or someone who does not earn the major part of his income from art. Art pieces that have previously been exhibited at the fair will not be accepted.

Rules Outlined For Exhibitors

Mrs. E. E. Allen and her committee, in charge of the floriculture exhibit for the Benton-Franklin County Fair, have outlined rules for prospective exhibitors.

No pre-entry is necessary. The exhibitor obtains an official entry number from the fair office and flowers, plants or arrangements to the floriculture building Aug. 22 from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. They should be checked out Aug. 25 from 7 to 8 p.m.

Specimen blooms must be grown by the exhibitor and should be cut with stems as long as possible to be recut for the container. They should be left in deep water overnight or for several hours before bringing to the exhibit.

House plants should be in possession of the exhibitor at least three months prior to the fair.

Fresh flowers only are to be used in the decorative section but need not be grown by the exhibitor. Foliage and accessories are permitted.

The section for picture-frame arrangements is open to clubs only, and should be entered using the treasurer's name and address. Details and frames concerning this section may be obtained from Mitchell Davis, Pasco before Aug. 21. The junior section is reserved for boys and girls 16 years old or younger.

Flower Show Pointers Given

Mrs. E. E. Allen, superintendent of the floral section of the Benton-Franklin County Fair, urges all amateur flower growers and garden club members to enter blooms in competition at the Fair.

"Agriculture on Parade" will be the theme and anyone may compete for ribbons and awards. Official entry numbers may be obtained at the Fair office. Exhibits should be taken to the floriculture building Thursday, Aug. 22 from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Entrys will be divided into five sections including specimen blooms, house plants, decorative arrangements, "picture frames" and junior section.

The "picture frame" section is open to garden clubs or any other organized group. It will be an interpretive composition relating to the theme, "Agriculture on Parade." Frames will be supplied and may be secured from Mitchell Davis, 6904 W. Marie, Pasco, before Aug. 21.

Assisting Mrs. Allen are Mrs. Edna Stewart, Richland; Mrs. Joe Templeton, staging; Mitchell Davis, properties; Mrs. M. W. Richardson, judges and clerks; Mrs. George Bellman, placement; Mrs. H. J. The Kennewick Junior Chamber of Commerce took Mayor Lawrence Scott seriously when he proclaimed this week "Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo Week" and suggested Western attire be worn. J. C. Isley, Jack Gillette, Bob Fenno and several

"nonconformers" were rounded up yesterday and dunked in a watering tank on Kennewick Avenue as part of the week's Jaycee hijinks. Isley struggled in the tank after Jaycees Virg MacArthur, Ken Bowman, Marv Huck and Jim O'Conner tossed him in.

Governor Will Lead Fair

By CHARLES LAMB
Herald Staff Writer

World-champion cowboys, Gov. Albert Rosellini and throngs of spectators and thrill-seekers will pour into the Tri-Cities between today and Saturday for the 15th annual - and biggest-ever Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo.

Gov. Albert D. Rosellini will miss the opening rodeo performance Friday night, but is scheduled to fly to Kennewick Saturday morning to lead the grand parade at 2 p.m.

He will stay for the rodeo that night. His daughters, Sue, 18, and Lynn, 16, will accompany him.

The governor's appearance will coincide with those of other celebrities, including at least two world-champion arena performers. They are Kenny McLean, Okanogan Falls, B.C., 1962 world's saddle-bronc champ, and Winston Bruce, Calgary, 1961 saddle-bronc king.

Bob Swaim, secretary of the Rodeo Cowboy Association-santioned arena show, said a $4,100 basic purse, plus entry fees, has boosted prize money to almost $10,000.

The cash, plus a $400 saddle for the all-around cowboy, and fancy belt buckles for event-winners, will draw an unprecedented number of internationally-known contestants, Swaim said.

There'll be dust and excitement in the air after the grand entry of the rodeo at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 2:30 p.m. Sunday, as leather-slapping cowboys come banging out of the chutes aboard the Brahma bulls and bucking horses of Joe and Sonny Kelsey, of Okanogan.

The rodeo stock is already in the corrals and ready for action.

Vern Gramling, rodeo committee chairman, said clowns Bob and Gene Clark, LaMonte, Calif., will fight the bulls and provide entertainment between events. In addition to calf roping, bulldogging, bull riding, saddle and bare-back riding, spectators will see wild-horse racing, women's barrel-racing and a variety of track events.

Junior and open-class livestock judging and exhibiting started this morning and will continue through Friday in the packed livestock barns. A climax to the stock events is the junior fat-stock auction at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Activity is not confined to the fair and rodeo grounds. The colorful kiddies' parade will wind its way from the Washington Street-Second Avenue intersection down Kennewick Avenue to Keewaydin Park at 10 a.m. Friday.

Fair and Rodeo Queen LaNay Munsey and Princesses Vicki Smith, Janet Heiser and Lee Ann Hamilton will ride with visiting royalty in both the kiddies parade and the Saturday grand procession.

The governor will ride in the oldest of more than 50 antique cars which will congregate in Kennewick Saturday from four states.

The Jaycee-sponsored street dance will be tonight at Albany Avenue - Washington Street parking lot. At last night's dance,

Grigg Pleads Innocent

PROSSER — Former Benton County Treasurer John H. Grigg Jr. today pleaded not guilty in superior court to a charge of misappropriating county funds.

The case will go to a jury in November.

Appearing unperturbed, Grigg, 62, of Kennewick, announced his plea to visiting Judge Albert Bradford, Walla Walla, in a calm, firm voice.

His $1,500 bail was continued. Grigg, county treasurer for six months, was arrested July 24. While in custody he signed a statement admitting he cashed a check for $817, of which he said he kept $548.28. The remainder, he said, was credited to the taxpayers' account.

Before the hearing, Grigg said he should never have signed the statement and did not remember what he signed. He added that he had not been well and had been in a hospital recently with pleurisy.

After the hearing he said the check was made out to him as treasurer and he had reason to withhold part of it.

He also said he had spent none of the money, that he did not need it, and that it "would all come out later."

Three inches of fuzz won a $5 gift certificate last night for Earl Spurlock, 1430 Stevens Drive, Richland, who was named the Man With The Longest Beard at the Fair Rodeo's beard-judging contest in Kennewick. Queen LaNay Munsey used a ruler to come to her decision. Spurlock said his beard stays. "I've acquired a name—The Beard—and I intend to keep it." Said Mrs. Spurlock: "If he can stand it, so can I." Spurlock started growing his beard in March. Another picture on page 22.

Sun Shines For Kids Parade

Preceded by his two native bearers, his .456 Webberly elephant gun slung casually over his left shoulder, a big-game hunter calmly stalked the narrow paths of the Kennewick downtown jungle today in search of the rare parade prize. But his shooting was off target and the prize eluded him.

Fair Art-Contest Winner

Winner of the Jaycee-sponsored window-art competition was Dick Shoemaker, seen here adding a finishing touch to his snorting buffalo on the window of Ken's Clothing, Kennewick.

More than a dozen local students took part in the contest, run in conjunction with the Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo.

Starry-eyed and mouths open wide in amazement, the children watching the kiddies parade in Kennewick this morning were as entertaining as the participants. This group was typical of the hundreds who lined the sun-swept streets of downtown Kennewick.

A morning shower didn't dampen the enthusiasm of cowboys, Indians, cavemen, masked knights, dogs and a centipede that paraded down Kennewick Avenue today.

Some 150 costumed children participated in the annual Benton-Franklin Fair and Rodeo Kiddies Parade.

A group of cavemen preceded a married couple, who, in turn, were followed by Robin Hood and his men.

A bright sun dried the streets before parade time and large crowd lined Kennewick Avenue to watch.

The parade ended at Keewaydin park where 600 cups of ice cream were given to all participants and their friends.

The parade was organized by the Kennewick Junior Women's Club. Cash prizes were awarded in four divisions. First prize was $3, second, $2, and third $1. Certificates for free malts or milk shakes will be given to honorable mention winners.

The results will be posted in the Kennewick Chamber of Commerce office window.

Cars Beat Horses

Governor's 'Seat' Battle Is Resolved

The background battle for the governor's "seat" is over.

Thwarted by the announcement that he will bring his two daughters with him, the Benton County Mounted Posse today gave up attempts to have him ride on horseback in tomorrow's grand parade.

Instead he will ride in an antique horseless carriage.

The move to get Gov. Rosellini on horse was started by the Posse after learning he was a good rider.

"WE COULD HAVE SUPPLIED a horse and we thought it would be a change to have him ride with us," said Bob Cruzen, Posse secretary.

"However, since he is bringing his two daughters with him, we agreed it would be better for him to go by car and dropped our suggestion. The important thing is that he will be with us."

Fair-and-rodeo officials are going ahead with plans to transport the governor and civic dignitaries in the antique cars, although as yet they have had no confirmation from his office to their suggestions.

If the governor does not agree to the proposal he will drive in a Washington State Patrol car in the parade in downtown Kennewick.

PLANS FOR TOMORROW'S visit of Gov. Rosellini have been approved in all other areas. He will arrive at Pasco airport at about 1:45 p.m., and will be driven to the parade by Kennewick Police Chief O. C. (Dutch) Lincoln.

After the parade he will tour the fair at 3:30 p.m. and hold a press conference at 4:30 p.m. At 5:30 p.m. he will attend a buffet luncheon at the Black Angus motel with the Fair and Rodeo queens and civic dignitaries. He will leave by air at about 6 p.m.

The three-day Benton-Franklin Fair and Rodeo which opened today is going full swing.

Only the 8 p.m. rodeo is scheduled for this evening.

A full program, however, has been planned for tomorrow.

At Annual Benton-Franklin County Show

Griffith Wins All-Around Rodeo Title

BY CHARLES LAMB

Mac Griffith, Pendleton, emerged Sunday as all-around champion of the 15th annual Benton-Franklin County Rodeo in Kennewick.

The Round-up City cowboy received a $400 trophy saddle and also won the show's saddle bronc riding belt buckle trophy by edging out Shawn Davis, Whitehall, Mont., the high Friday night scorer. Davis set the pace with a 173-point ride Friday night, tied with Griffith Saturday night at 176 points, but was dumped for a "goose egg" Sunday by John Doe, a veteran buckner of Joe Kelsey's stock string.

Griffith was also named champion Brahma bull rider of the rodeo after scoring tops of 174 Friday night and continuing to score in the other two contests.

Bob Ragsdale, Wilder, Idaho, cinched the steer-wrestling buckle of the show Sunday by tying Don Posey of Mt. Vernon in seven seconds time. Other championship buckles were won by Lawrence Simmons, Calgary, Alta., bareback bronc riding, and Harry Charters, Melba, Idaho, calf-roping, and Linda Kelly, Walla Walla, girls' barrel racing.

The Sunday performance outdrew

the lightly attended Friday night show, but was thin by comparison to the turn-away throng that jammed the grandstand and bleachers Saturday. The three-day rodeo was considered by many as the best in the show's 15-year history.

Outstanding scoring in the rodeo included roping times of 10 seconds even set by Dean Oliver, Boise, four-time world champion calf roper, a close 10.5 seconds by Charters, and a 6.1-second time for steer wrestling established by Larry Wyatt, Ellensburg. Top score for saddle bronc riding was 180 by Gene Tyler, Yakima.

In the Sunday show, Mike Brune, Benton City, won the junior stock horse race and the Benton City Riders won the relay race trophy.

Pendleton cowboy Mac Griffith left the Benton-Franklin County Rodeo arena yesterday sitting in one saddle and carrying another. The handsomely-engraved saddle he carried was awarded him for capturing the all-around championship in the three-day rodeo at the Kennewick Fair Grounds. (Herald Photo).

The Results

Saddle bronc riding—Gene Tyler, Yakima, 180 points; Shirley Bothum, Clarkston, 171 and 166; Harry Noble, Bonanza, Ore., 173 and 163; Rocky Rockabar, Medicine Hat, Alta., 166 and 173; Mac Griffith, 178 and 165; Jim Roeser, Wilder, Idaho, 173.

Tears Become Smiles When Lamb Misses Butcher Block

A 10-year-old Eltopia girl was reunited with her pet sheep, Lambchop, today, just hours before the woolly critter was to be butchered.

Kathy Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wells, raised the sheep from a lamb as her first 4-H project.

Saturday she paraded the pet through the sale ring at the 4-H livestock sale.

Bert Kinzig, Pasco, purchased the 83-pound animal for 28 cents a pound.

Kathy began getting homesick for Lambchop shortly after the sale, as did her six younger sisters.

She inquired as to the fate of her pet, and became more upset when she learned Lambchop was to be served up as lamb patties on someone's dinner table.

Kathy is a schoolmate of Carol Kinzig, 10-year-old daughter of the buyer.

Carol also had grown fond of the pet and took the cause to her father.

Kinzig, unable to resist the pleas for the sheep, called Kathy and said she could have Lambchop back as a present.

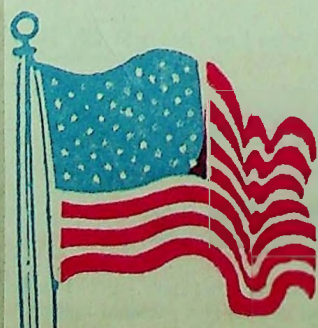

It was a happy little girl who was reunited with her pet at the Pasco Meat Packers, Inc., slaughter house this morning.

mas present," she noted. "I have renamed her Tri-City Lou in honor of Mr. Kinzig.

Kathy said she is going to mate Tri-City Lou and "go into the sheep business."

Turn-Away Crowd Thrills At Rodeo

By CHARLES LAMB

A turn-away crowd estimated at 5,000 saw world championship performing at its best at Saturday night's second go-round of the 15th Annual Benton-Franklin County Rodeo in Kennewick.

The wild bucking stock of Joe Kelsey, Tonasket, seemed to sense the big money gate and toss their riders proportionately higher. Internationally-famed cowboys and little-known hands alike performed like champs, turning in higher scores and better riding times than Friday in several arena events.

CONTENDERS FOR THE show's $400 all-around championship trophy saddle to be awarded following today's rodeo performance were practically legion. But the "triple-threat duo" were Shawn Davis, Whitehall, Mont., and Mac Griffith, Pendleton.

The Results

SATURDAY'S RESULTS
Saddle Bronc Riding—Mac Griffith and Shawn Davis, tied at 176 points; Leo Brown, Czar, Alta., 172; Bob Ten Wyck, Milton-Freewater, 156; Jim Rosier, 164; Glen Evans, 157; Rocky Rockabar, Medicine Hat, Alta., 166; Bob A. Robinson, Tuttle, Idaho, 169; Mike Isley, Salmon, Idaho, 172.

Steer Wrestling—Don Mock, Kennewick, 10.4 seconds; Les Kamm, Albert Van Doren, 11.4 tie; Bruce Boucher, Prosser, 11.4; Wayne Smith, Kennewick, 15.4; Larry Manthey, Pasco, 19.8; Chuck Boatright, Moses Lake, 31.5; Don Drake, Enumelaw, Mike Isley, Doyle Faught, Ellensburg, no time.

Calf Roping—Gene Hassler, Lowden, 13.7 seconds; John Pagen, Kennewick, NT; Doyle Faught, Ellensburg, 19; Jack Adams, Kennewick, 32.8; Dick Kelly, Walla Walla, NT; Bruce Boucher, Prosser, 15.3; Kamm, NT; Ted Milgarde, Walla Walla, NT; Phil Berman, Kennewick, 20.5; Bob Robinson, 17.3; Wayne McMeans, Sunnyside, 14; George Richmond, Hayden Lake, Idaho, 23.1; Jerry Anderson, Ellensburg, NT; Bud Urbach, Kennewick; Jim Brown, Kennewick; Roger Neilson, Yakima; Smoky Kaeser, Yakima, NT.

Bull Riding—Robert Taylor, Preston, 169 points; Phil Doan, Alberta, Canada; Larry Davis, Walla Walla; Bruce Taylor, New Zealand; Roger Huett, Walla Walla; Van Doren, Tom Silvertown, Tonasket; Clyde Fisher, El Monte, Calif.; Dave Garstad and Bob Robinson, NP.

Bareback Riding—Albert Van Doren, 173 points; Larry Wyatt, 170; Morris Demaree, Billings, 165; Dick Nelson, Mesa, zero; Jim Clifford, Redstone, Alta., 169; Jim Lightfoot, Caldwell, zero; John Reynolds, Melrose, Mont., 158; Bob Swaim, Pendleton, 163; Daryl Brown, Okanogan, 161; Doug Flanagan, Calgary, 163; Isley, 154; Doan, zero; Bud Schaefer, Kennewick, zero; and Jack Carson, Clarkston, 161.

Girls' Barrel Race—Barbara Burns, 17.6 seconds; Evelyn Brown, 18.3; Karen Blucker, 18; Kathy Anderson, 17.1; Katherine Prusack, 20.5; Clarissa Broadhead, 18.1.

Junior Stock Horse Race—Gary Chavez, Finley, first; Ken Oswald, Benton City, second; Stock Horse Race (open)—Kenny Rucker, first, (open) Brown, second.

FRIDAY'S RESULTS
Saddle Bronc Riding—Shawn Davis, White Hall, Mont., 173 points; Harry Noble,

Calf Roping—Bob Ragsdale, 12.9 seconds; Harry Charters, 13.2; Dean Oliver, Boise, Idaho, 15.1; Dr. Art Fulkerson, Milton-Freewater, 18.7; Don Pasey, Mt. Vernon, 17.8; J. B. McMeans, Sunnyside, 16.3; Tom Bergevin, Walla Walla, 17.2; Dean Longgood, 18.4; Cam Ellis, Skookumchuck, B.C., 18.8 and Ervin Carlson, Wilder, Idaho, 22.

Bull Riding—Mac Griffith, Pendleton, 174 points; Rocky Rockabar, Medicine Hat, Alta., 1 John Reynolds, 168; Rocky Rockabar, Medicine Hat, Alta., 167; Mickey Melinde, 155; Ed LeTourneau, Davis, Calif., 164.

Girls' Barrel Race—Judy Barns, 17 seconds; Linda Kelly, 17.1; Judy Curcio, 17.2; Shirley Dickerson, 17.2; Barbara Curcio, 17.5; Barbara Hapenstall, 18.3; Pam Talbot, 18.3; Charmaine Beck, 17.5; Jenise Gluck, 20.5.

Posse Relay Race Junior Posse Relay Race—Ken Oswald, first; Ken Oswald, second, and Jerry Chavez, third.

The two tied for Saturday night saddle bronc riding leadership at 176 points. Davis set the pace for saddle bronc setting Friday at 173, and Griffith was first in 'bull-riding' Friday with 174 points.

Kennewick's Don Mock posted low time of 10.4 seconds in Saturday's steer wrestling, seconded by Les Kamm, Pendleton, last year's all-around winner, who was tied by Albert Van Doren, Caldwell, Idaho.

VAN DOREN MADE THE 11.4 second time after being kicked in the face earlier by a Brahma bull. In the latter event, Robert Taylor, Preston, scored 169 points and was the only bull rider Saturday night to go the eight seconds.

A "first and only" last night was Jim Roeser's ride on Red Pepper, in the saddle bronc event. Announcer Larry Daniels said the fiery, sky-archer had never before been ridden for eight seconds.

Roeser also appeared high in the money—totaling about $10,000, including entry fees — which will be distributed following today's 2:30 p.m. performance, along with the trophy saddle and belt buckles.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S TRADITIONALLY smaller crowd saw fast and continuous action, plus between-event antics by Bob and Gene Clark, Lamar, Calif., clowns and bullfighters. Competition was so close in two of the events that Judges Ronnie Webb, Hampshire, Tex., and Clint Roberts, Lewiston, virtually had to "split hairs" to tell the winners.

Second-splitting was the rule for girls' barrel race contestants Friday, as times of 17, 17.1, ties of 17.2 and ties of 17.5 seconds were posted. The low Friday barrel racing score was by Judy Barns, Walla Walla.

A single point separated Davis' 173 score and Shirley Botham's 172 in Friday's saddle-bronc event. Davis is from White Hall, Mont., and Botham is a Clarkston cowboy.

Carl Mansfield, Kennewick, a member of Ken Clegg's wild horse racing team, suffered a badly-sprained knee when a horse he was attempting to mug reared and fell upon him. Mansfield sat helplessly on the ground amid a melee of flying hoofs for sometime until an ambulance could reach him.

Herald Staff Writer

Gov. Albert Rosellini said Saturday he is checking the possibility of obtaining funds for construction of Highway 8 from Kennewick to Plymouth during the present biennium.

In an appearance at Kennewick for the Benton - Franklin County Fair and Rodeo parade, Rosellini said he plans to discuss the problem with Ernest A. Cowell, State Highway Commission chairman.

THE GOVERNOR WARNED, however, it may be impossible to get the necessary funds this biennium without hazarding other vital projects.

He said Cowell has advised State Sen. Mike McCormack, D-Richland, that the 1963-65 budget has $15,600 scheduled for financing engineering location work.

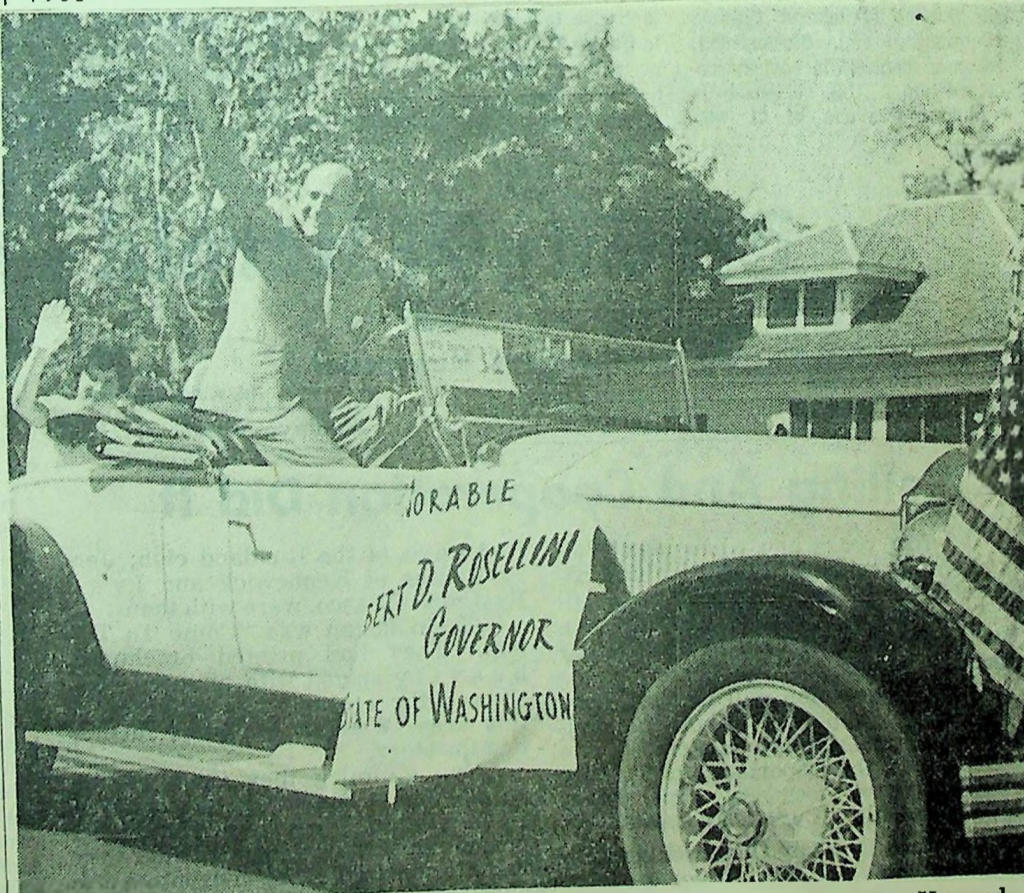

Cowell in the letter said no other funds "have been set aside or are available to undertake further work on this section of Highway 8 unless they come from projects which are of more vital need."

COWELL SAID THE COMMISSION has reaffirmed its intention of budgeting "as much as possible in the 1965-67 budget for this work."

Two decisions make modernizing the two-lane highway to Plymouth of special interest to the Tri-City area.

These are the signing of the Boeing Co. to use the Boardman area and a decision to recommend the interstate highway pass from the Prosser area to the vicinity of Plymouth.

The governor said the branch office of the Columbia Basin Commission was located at Ephrata at the request of commission officials.

Gov. Albert D. Rosellini led the Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo grand parade Saturday with his daughters Sue, 18, and Lynn, 16. The Governor rode in a 1925 Buick roadster driven by Bob Graves. He and his daughters remarked on the "beautiful sunshine" which added to the success of the parade.

Accidents Are Few In Traffic At Fair

Heavy traffic because of the Benton-Franklin County Fair brought grief only to a few motorists over the weekend and police praised drivers for keeping the rate down.

No one was injured in the mishaps, one of which was caused when William F. Kelly, 510 S. Buntin, Kennewick, struck a car belonging to Delbert Long 2714 S. Jean, Kennewick, while hurrying an injured rodeo performer to Kennewick General Hospital Saturday night.

THE PERFORMER WAS BOB Robinson of Tuttle, Idaho. He was examined by doctors and released. The main damage was that suffered by Long's car which police estimated at $200. The accident occurred at 10th and Gum.

Damage estimated at $375 was caused to the cars of Alvin A. Harris, Route 1, Box 18, Pasco, and Frank S. Johnson, 1323 S. Washington St., Kennewick; when their cars collided Saturday afternoon.

Police said heavy traffic contributed to the mishap which occurred when Johnson pulled across Washington street in front of Harris.

Thieves added insult to injury to one motorist at the fair.

FRED HAMILTON, 1121 E. 23rd, Kennewick, reported his unlocked car was prowled and a transistor radio, shift knob and a new box of spark plugs taken. In addition, the thieves had entertained themselves by playing the car radio while rifling the car. They left leaving the radio blaring and dome light on.

Norm McCaw, 814 S. Conway, Kennewick, chased two boys who threw two eggs against his car. He didn't catch the boys but he did nab 10 eggs they left in their haste to escape him. The episode happened at Fourth Avenue and Ely Street at 1 a.m. Sunday.

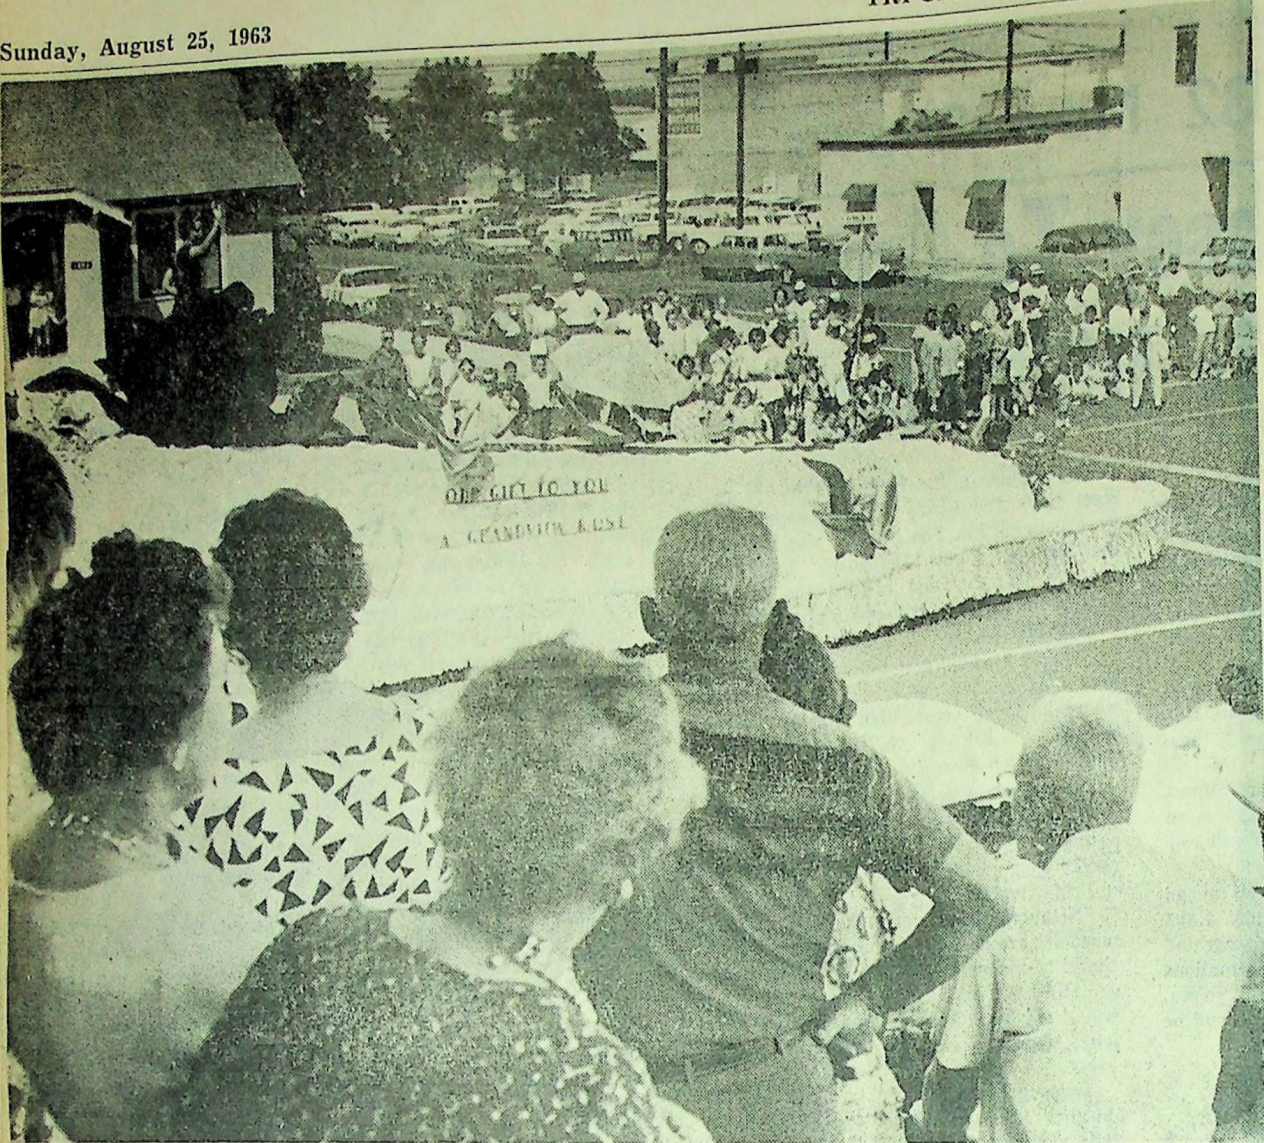

PRICE IS HIGH—Leon Darby, Jr., Prosser, received top price of 90 cents a pound at the Benton-Franklin County Junior Fat Stock Sale Saturday for his 82-pound Future Farmers of America grand champion lamb.

Record Crowd Sees 'Grand' Parade

Event Lives Up To Name

Benton - Franklin County Fair and Rodeo's annual parade yesterday lived fully up to its title—grand! It was grand in size, grand in color, grand in quality and grand in scope.

But the crowd was even grander. Dressed in summer shorts and slacks, the happy holiday-makers jammed three-deep the four blocks of downtown Kennewick along the parade route.

And they even spilled three-deep into the gutter in places.

Estimates ranged from 5,000 to 10,000—the largest ever.

GRAND SWEEPSTAKE Winner of the parade was the Prosser Chamber of Commerce float—the champion float of the Northwest this year. The Tri-City Chamber of Commerce float did not compete.

The parade, which took 75 minutes to pass the reviewing stand, was a spectacle the rodeo fans enjoyed most of all.

Although there were plenty of exhibits to please all tastes, it was the horses which stole the show. At least half the parade—led by Gov. Albert Rosellini and his two daughters, Sue and Lynn, in an antique car—was devoted to mounted groups which came from as far afield as Walla Walla and Hermiston.

Close challengers for popularity were the old favorites—the antique cars. The number of classics—many of which came from Portland and Walla Walla—was the largest ever.

FULL RESULTS OF THE PARADE, sponsored by the Kennewick Chamber of Commerce, were:

Grand sweepstake — Prosser Chamber of Commerce float.

Visiting cities — 1 Prosser, 2 Grandview.

Commercial—1 Tri-City Electric Systems, 2 Tri-City Power Karl Association.

Fraternal—1 Pasco Kiwanis 2 Tri-City Square Dance Association.

Youth organizations—1 Kennewick Theta Rho, 2 Kennewick Rainbow Girls.

Marching music — 1 Kennewick High School, 2 Fort Lewis Army Band.

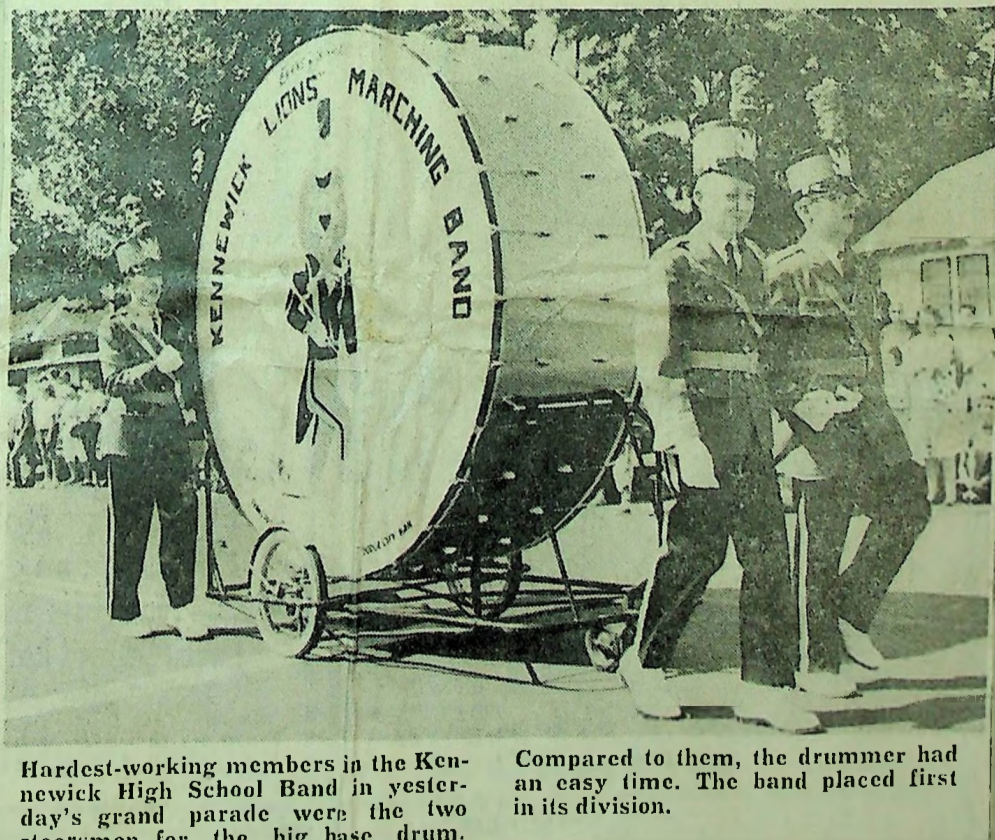

Drill Teams—The Columbians. Junior mounted groups—Red Top 2 Franklin County Junior Mounted Posse.

Senior mounted groups—Benton County Mounted Posse, 2 Waitsburg Saddle Club.

More pictures on page 29.

Guarded by an ever-vigilant truck from Pasco Fire Department, the long-line of antique cars passed by this large section of the crowd which lined the downtown streets of Kennewick during yesterday's parade.

Hardest-working members in the Kennewick High School Band in yesterday's grand parade were the two steersmen for the big base drum.

Compared to them, the drummer had an easy time. The band placed first in its division.

Float Cops Sweepstakes in Eight Season Parades

For the first time this year, Wow, Benton City Junior community floats from other Fair, Yakima Valley Junior Central Washington cities Monday will have an even break in parade judging.

That's because the Prosser float won't be competing in the States Day parade. It wouldn't be proper for the host city float to walk away with the sweepstakes trophy.

The Prosser float, guided by co-chairmen Phil Blakney and Ken Key, has a top-ranking reputation this season that's hard to beat.

The float has won sweepstakes at eight parades—Tri-City Water Follies in Pasco, Mabton Community Days, Milton-Freewater Pea Festival, Granger Cherry Blossom Festival, Toppenish Pow Wow, Benton City Junior Fair, Yakima Valley Junior Fair at Grandview, and Benton-Franklin County Fair in Kennewick.

Only once — at the Wenatchee Apple Blossom Festival was the float graded down to second place, and only once — at the Seattle Seafair Parade — did it fail to place at all.

Assisting with setting up the float at Kennewick last Saturday were Dirk Rodman, Jim Hileman, Virgil Schmidt, Phil and Mark Blakney.

The float will appear in two other parades this season in addition to States Day: Walla Walla Saturday, and Pendleton Saturday, Sept. 7.

Some 8,000 Attend States Day

PROSSER—An estimated 8,000 spectators saw the Milton-Freewater Chamber of Commerce float win the sweepstakes in the 38th annual Prosser States Day parade here yesterday.

Tying for first place in senior organizations were the Tri-City and Grandview floats. Toppenish was third and the Benton County Junior Fair fourth.

PROSSER'S FLOAT LED THE parade. On it were Miss Prosser, Marcia Lemon, and princesses Kathy Hileman and Ruby Hunter.

After the parade a performance was given in the city park by the Tri-City Drum and Bugle Corps. First-place winners in the marching band division.

Jack Quinn was master of ceremonies and Mayor H. N. Nelsen welcomed visitors. Chamber president James Rogers presented the States Day plaque to general chairman Maloy (Pat) Sensney.

The Wenatchee YMCA Youth Circus met with audience approval, at both the afternoon and evening shows.

PROSSER BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL Women registered 2,709 persons by their native states. This was an estimated one-third of the crowd.

Prizes went to Mrs. Rhoda

Beaton, 94, Prosser, oldest registrant, to Stanley Amack, Prosser, five days old, youngest registrant; and to Mrs. Minnie Williams, 74, for longest residency in Washington. Mrs. Williams was born in Mabton and still lives there.

Other parade winners were:

Commercial division—1. Benton Franklin PUD, 2. Don's Furniture & Upholstery, Grandview; 3. Gaskin Implement, Prosser.

Decorated cars—1. Bobbie's Beauty Shop, 2. Rainbow Girls, Prosser; 3. Nona's House of Beauty.

Non-fraternal organization—1. Gopher-Hooters Square Dancers.

Fraternal—1. Columbia Basin Shrine; 2. Fraternal Order of Eagles, Prosser.

Junior organizations—1. Grandview Rainbow; 2. Keowaydin Theta Rho Girls No. 76, Kennewick; 3. Prosser Four-Leaf Clover.

Junior marching group—1. Pasco Step-perettes; 2. Grandview Twirlybirds. Decorated bikes—1. Ron Moore; 2. Mike Middleton; 3. Mark Freepson.

Pets and Comics—1. Fairy Tales, Prosser; 2. Mary and Jill Moore and Lana Leggett; 3. Dennis Mink and Mike LaHart.

Bands—1. Tri-City Columbians; 2. Grandview High School; 3. Prosser High School.

Senior Division: Mounted Singles—1. Betty Lou Weaver, Prosser; 2. June Keretsee and 3. Bud Keretsee, both of Toppenish.

Junior division: 1. Kris'v Juzeler, Prosser; 2. Cheryl Phelps, Benton City.

Mounted pairs: 1. Ruth Flint and Lana Carroll, Prosser; 2. Jo Ann Anderson and Janet Crawford, Prosser. Pony Hitch—Two-horses: 1. Prosser Stampede Assoc., and Junior Roden. Four-horse—1. Sunnyside Fire Dept.; 2. Maiden & Son, Walla Walla.

Mounted Groups—Senior division: 1. Benton County Fair and Rodeo Court; 2. Appaloosa Horse Club; 3. Benton City Wranglers. Junior division: 1. Prosser Westernaires 4-H Club.

Float Ends Season With Sweepstakes

Prosser's spectacular float took the sweepstakes trophy at the Pendleton Roundup parade Saturday.

It was a dramatic swan song for the 1963 float season — the Pendleton appearance was the last for this year. Milton - Freewater had won sweepstakes at the Pendleton parade the past five years (the Milton - Freewater float won sweepstakes at the Prosser States Day Parade).

Themed to "Peace," the Prosser float won 10 sweepstakes trophies in the 12 parades in which it appeared this year.

The top honors were earned at the Tri-City Water Follies in Pasco, Mabton Community Days, Milton - Freewater Pea Festival, Granger Cherry Blossom Festival, Toppenish Pow Wow, Benton City Junior Fair, Yakima Valley Junior Fair at Grandview, Benton-Franklin County Fair in Kennewick, Walla Walla Fair, and Pendleton Roundup. The float also appeared in Parades at Seattle and Wenatchee.

The float traveled nearly 2,000 miles during the season.

Phil Blakney and Ken Key were co-chairmen of the float.

"We couldn't have done it without the help and support of many others," Blakney told the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon.

Chamber of Commerce President James Rogers enthused: "Prosser is well-known throughout the state because of the work which went into the float this year."

Let Us See You at the Fair FRIDAY, SATURDAY, SUNDAY

Be sure to attend the Benton-Franklin County Fair this week end. You'll be amazed at the progress being made in agriculture here in our area and especially the fine showing of our young people.

Low-cost electricity has also been a big factor in making farming more efficient and more profitable. Low rates for irrigation, for farm machinery, for electric heaters and power tools, plus the many, many household appliances have made it possible for Benton and Franklin County folks to Farm Better and Live Better Electrically.

See Where Your Low Cost Electric Power Comes From. Visit Your Electric Utilities Booth at the Fair All 3 Days!

Benton the entire United States where hydroelectric federal dams and thirteen non-feder supply power to form the Northwest ties, 11,190,000 kilowatts of hydro-electricity for your home, is furnished that are among the lowest in the United States.

SECOND PAGE ONE

Although the main attractions of the annual three-day Benton-Franklin County Fair and Rodeo will not be until next weekend, many important events have already been staged and more will be featured today. These are the junior competitions and attract entrants—mostly 4-H club members—from throughout the Pacific Northwest. The competitions demand a knowledge and ability in practical matters as well as excellence in hobby creations. Perhaps the most popular are those involving horses. Among them are the junior and senior fitting and showing contests. Some 14 horses and their owners waited their turn Saturday at lunch time at the fairgrounds in Kennewick, while a judge and owner went over the finer points of the contestant's horse.

Tables Crowded At Barbecue

Outdoor eating was popular Saturday during the beef barbecue at Keewaydin Park, sponsored by the Kennewick Jaycees. Tables in the park were filled most of the afternoon as fair and rodeo-goers stopped by for the feed.

Model T Chases Balloons

This 1913 Model T Ford owned by Clarence Medlock, Pasco, wasn't exactly designed for chasing balloons. But with its owner at the wheel, the trusty old "T" made a good account of itself in the balloon-breaking contest and other events of the antique car field trials in Kennewick Saturday. The contests were sponsored by Ye Olde Car Club of Kennewick, in connection with the fair and rodeo.
