So he gave to us the Forum
And others have followed his plan
To aid in bringing together
People from every land.

There was Mrs. Caroline Wittpenn
Whose efforts were not in vain,
No, she kept the Forum's spirit.
Let us remember her name.

There was also Mr. Geismar
And Mr. Schloss, our friend, Too
And our own Miss Sadie Leinkauf
Familiar to all of you.

They gave their time and effort
They gave that you might receive
So you may share what others think
No matter what you believe.

Then for their efforts we thank them
Let us keep the Forum their way,
We have it to share--so let us.
And "Bless This House"--Lord we Pray.

The time has come our Council says
To talk of many things
Of heat and light and cleaning tools
And what gives money wings.

Last year our income fell far short
Of what we hoped to get;
We skimped and saved and did without
And so kept out of debt.

But now we've used up our reserves
Our cupboard is quite bare;
We need your dollars and your cents
Whatever you can spare.

So please send off your cash at once
If you will be so kind.
Five hundred grateful little girls
Will keep your gift in mind.

Waldheim - Stevens Forum 20th Year Celebrated in Hoboken

Special program with Miss Sadie Leinkauf, as guest speaker marked the 20th anniversary of the founding of Phillip Waldheim-Stevens Forum, 916 Garden st., Hoboken, last night.

Miss Leinkauf, secretary to the superintendent of schools of Jersey City, and honorary commander of Girl Scouts, reviewed the history of the forum. She described the high ideas of Phillip Waldheim, who left the forum to Hoboken to aid in the education of the people of that city. She expressed the hope that the people of the city would maintain those ideals.

The forum is erected on land which was given by the Stevens family through Caroline Bayard Stevens Wittpenn.

Bequeathed $75,000

Mr. Waldheim bequeathed the sum of $75,000 to be used for the erection of a non-sectarian forum in Hoboken. A provision in the will indicated that if the fund was not used within 3 years, it would go back to the estate. After a search for an appropriate location, Mrs. Otto Wittpenn last remaining direct descendant of the Stevens family, at the request of the committee gave the ground at 916 Garden st. Since that time the building has been used for forums and debates of all kinds. A bronze plaque in the entrance hall defines those aims as "This forum devoted to the betterment and education of the citizens of Hoboken has been erected through the generosity of Phillip Waldheim, one of its lifelong citizens, and was dedicated to his memory Sept. 30, 1925.

Give Pageant

A pageant entitled "Spirit of Giving" followed. It followed the theme of the forum. The pageant was written by Miss Nan Hirt of Hoboken, and directed by Miss Margaret Falcone, Miss Elizabeth Burnette and Miss Anna Van Twisk. Miss Helen Kausman was accompanist. All participants were members of Hoboken Girl Scout troops.

Welcome address was given by Elaine Anderson, followed by a welcome song, sung by 6 Brownies. Musical program included: "The Toymakers Dream," piano solo by Lois Brahm; "Ave Maria," accordion solo by Marion Brahm. A family skit included Jean Hyland, mother; Lillian Raffone, father; Lenore Faircloth, brother; Ann Douglass, sister and Patricia Silvers, Brownie.

A manger scene followed in pantomime. Wilma Frahm was "Joseph," Lucy Petrocelli, "The Virgin Mary," Ruth Case, "Guard-
"Panagah," Dorothy Butterfield, and Joan Stratton as 3 Scouts. The final scene "Why the Chimes Rang" included in its cast; Lucy Lamoine, Margaret McGovern, as "humble ladies"; Phillyce Blank, Linda Gnassi, Millicent Chiricelli, as "great ladies"; Dorothy Butterfield, "king," Lillian Rafone, "emperor," and Delores Lynch as the "little boy." "Bless This House" was sung by Capt. Rita Linder, Capt. Roslyn Holmes, Capt. Grace Spenser, Maureen Dunn, Margaret McGowan and Susan Aucoch.

Carols during the pageant were sung by 30 Girl Scouts, under the leadership of Roslyn Holmes, and Grace and Marion Spenser.

Rodger Sciorsci is president of the forum. Vice president and treasurer is Miss Leinkauf, and

GIRL SCOUT LEADERS AND COUNCIL HOLD DINNER PARTY

Closing Their Gatherings for the Season—
Miss Grace Iannacone Is Given Linen Shower
—Other Hoboken Items

The Girl Scout Leaders Association and the Scout Council had a dinner party last night in Meyers Hotel, Hudson street, Hoboken, to close their gatherings for the season. The leaders were hostesses to the council.

Miss Anna Van Twisk, scout commissioner, was present with other heads of the troops and Brownies. During the evening everybody exchanged gifts with their unknown friends, songs were sung and games were played.

Serving on the committee were Miss Rita Linder, Miss Nar Hirt, and Miss Helen Kaufman, entertainment; favors, Miss Dorothy Holmes, Miss Anne Ciski, Miss Grace Spencer, Miss Veronica Kelly, Miss Marion Spencer.

The committee on arrangements consisted of Miss Alice Milewski, Miss Marjory Wachter, Miss Grace Gage, Miss Dorothy Puseman.

This evening the scouts will take part in the Flag Day exercises at the Hoboken Elks Club and on Sunday will visit the hospital ship "Sanctuary" in Hoboken, for which the scouts are collecting records.

Miss Grace Iannacone, of 332 Washington street, was given a personal and linen shower last night in the Union Club, Hudson street, by Miss Josephine Gato. The bride to be received many gifts. The shower took place in the Gold Room and there were 33 gifts.

Miss Iannacone will be married on July 8, to Michael Porro, of 528 Adams street. The wedding will take place in Our Lady of Grace Church, Willow avenue.

EILEEN DUNCOMBE SCOUT COMMISSIONER

Miss Eileen Duncombe, of 1245 Garden street, has just been elected commissioner of Hoboken Girl Scouts, succeeding Miss Anna Van Twisk of Washington street. Miss Duncombe is acting principal of the Joseph F. Brandt Junior High School in the absence of the principal, J. Garth Coleman.

Other officers elected at the scout council meeting were Miss Violet Davey, deputy commissioner; Miss Miriam Rothschild, treasurer; Miss Elizabeth Burnett, secretary. The last two mentioned officers were re-elected.

The committee on nominations included Miss Ida Housman, chairman; Mrs. Nina Hatfield; Mrs. Frank Abarno.

DEC 45 HOBOKEN

GIRL SCOUTS HOLD PARTIES

Every troop of the Hoboken Girl Scouts is having Christmas parties afternoons and evenings of this week.

Last Saturday afternoon 40 Scout carolers went to St. Mary's Hospital in Willow avenue and sang Christmas carols. Children in the wards were given gifts and older ladies were given aprons.

Today the carolers are singing at the meeting of Rotary, and tomorrow evening will sing for the Hoboken Zonta Club at its meeting in Meyers Hotel.

HOBOKEN

ENTERTAINS SCOUTS AT SUMMER COTTAGE

Miss Anna Van Twisk, of upper Washington street, a past Hoboken Girl Scout Commissioner, had seven Girl Scouts and Scout leaders as guest at her summer cottage in Milford, Conn., over the week-end.

Leaders who went were: Miss Violet Davey, Miss Nan Hirt, Miss Josephine Smithson and Miss Roselyn Holmes.

Girl Scouts who were guests of Miss Van Twisk were: Theresa Decker, of Troop 8; Joan Fowler, Troop 1; Jean Raccioppi, Troop 13; Dolores Lynch, Troop 13; Margaret Zovacky, Troop 4; Dorothy Butterfield, Troop 3; Lillian Raffone, Troop 2. All of these girls had a hundred per cent attendance in the band for the past year. Miss Van Twisk is a former director of the band.

Girl Scouts Sing Christmas Carols For Rotary Club

A delightful musical interlude featured yesterday's weekly luncheon of the Hoboken Rotary Club, in Meyers Hotel, as 30 talented local Girl Scouts offered a program of Christmas carols. The girls' fine choral work was under the direction of Miss Miriam Rothschild. George K. Reilly presided.

Rotarians and their guests paid a silent tribute to the memory of C. H. C. Jagels, former president of the club, who died Sunday at his Summit home. A prayer was offered by Rev. Adelbert Q. Wettstein, pastor of the Reformed Church, and member of the club.

A survey of questionnaires sent out by Rotary on its proposed scholarship fund indicates that members who have thus far answered favor the plan of raising $1,250 immediately, so that the club may be in a position to send some deserving young man to college next September.

The return to Rotary of two former members—John Ferguson, who is president of F. Ferguson and Son, and Fred Vogel, of Hendberg, florist—was announced by President Reilly. Ferguson was the first president of Hoboken Rotary. Both he and Vogel were active members for many years before pressure of business compelled their withdrawal.

Girl Scouts' Pageant Is Big Success

With a representative group of every Hoboken Girl Scout Troop participating, a colorful pageant entitled, "The Spirit of Giving," was presented last night as part of a celebration marking the twentieth anniversary of the Waldheim-Stevens Forum, Hoboken.

Written by Nan Hirt and ably directed by Ann Van Twisk, Margaret Falconer and Elizabeth Burnett, the pageant depicted by tableaux and pantomime the "Spirit of Giving" in many ways.

Miss Sadie Leinkauf, secretary to Thomas F. McFeely, superintendent of schools, and one of the charter members of the Forum, opened the ceremonies. She extended anniversary greetings and gave a brief resume of the Forum's history.

The pageant got under way with a speech of welcome by Elaine Andersen and a welcome song by the "Six Brownies," Maureen Dunne, Alice Erfmann, Betty Ann Mayer, Patricia Rogers, Annamae Razzetti and Anna Bini. Pi no and accordion solos by Lois and Marion Brahm held the spotlight next with a short skit featuring Jean Hyland, Lillian Raffone, Leonore Faircloth, Ann Douglas and Patricia Silvers.

With the voices of forty carolers in the background, Wilma Frahm, Lucy Petrocelli, Ruth Case, Claire Jeker, Dorothy Butterfield, Barbara Weihe, Patricia Patmore, Helen Materak and Beatrice Kayser portrayed a tranquil Christmas manger scene.

Little Elaine Burnham was warmly received for her dancing, which was followed by a family scene featuring Jean Hyland, Doris Bosco, Ann Douglas Flanagan, Jean Raccioppi and Joan Stratton.

A large cast joined in the skit, "Why the Chimes Rang." It included: Lucy Lamoine, Margaret McGovern, Phyllis Blank, Linda Gnassi, Millicent Chiricelli, Lillian Raffone, Dorothy Butterfield, Dolores Lynch, Joan Fowler, Rita Linder, Roslyn Holmes, Grace Spencer, Maureen Dunn, Margaret McGowan, Susan Ancock, Theresa Gnassi, and Patricia Burns.

Pianist for the production was Helen Kaufman while Joan Stratton and Margaret Zovacky acted as curtain girls.

ENTERTAIN AT A TURKEY SUPPER

The Leaders Association of Hoboken Girl Scouts, entertained the Scout Council at a turkey supper on Sunday night in the Scout House, Garden street.

The tables were decorated in green and red with Santa Clauses for centerpieces. Favors were miniature chimneys filled with candy and place cards were a Santa Claus in the top of the chimney. Miss Roselyn Holmes was chairman of decorations and she and her committee made them for the occasion.

Miss Violet Davey and Miss Miriam Rothchild prepared the meal and served everything down to green and red pie. Miss Helen Kaufman was head of the clearing up committee, and Miss Angie Milewski was in charge of the Christmas games. There were large trimmed Christmas trees in both rooms. Miss Nan Hirt was master of ceremonies and the evening closed with the singing of carols led by Miss Roselyn Holmes.

There were 45 persons present among them being Miss Sadi Leinkauf, honorary Scout commissioner; Dr. George Morley, the doctor of the council; Miss Grace Morley, and Miss Joyce Price. Miss Price has just returned from Manila and been discharged from the Woman's Army Corps. She is staying with former WAC Elizabeth Wehr, head of the court of awards of the Scouts.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts of Hoboken certainly know how to get the best when they pick their Commissioner. The finest women of our city have served in that capacity, in spite of the fact (or perhaps because of the fact) that it is a seven-day-a-week job.

For the past three years the Girl Scout Commissioner was Miss Anna Van Twisk. Everyone knows what a fine job she did. Now the new Commissioner is our own vice-principal, Miss Duncombe.

Miss Duncombe always has the good of the girls at heart, and we know that she will do just as much good for the Scouts as she does for us here in school. Congratulations, Scouts.

GIRL SCOUTS PLAN DINNER

Hoboken Girl Scout Council met last evening in the home of Miss Vera Schermall, 615 Washington street, and appointed committees to arrange for the dinner party the council will give in Meyers Hotel on June 13 for the Leaders' Association. Eileen Duncombe, scout commissioner, presided at the session.

Appointed to the decorations committee were Mrs. Frank Abarno, Mrs. Louis Blenderman, Mrs. Nina Hatfield.

Serving on the entertainment committee will be Miss Violet Davey, deputy commissioner; Dr. Dorothea Guinther, Miss Anna Van Twisk, Miss Elizabeth Wehr is general chairman.

Present at the meeting, other than the hostess and commissioner, were: Miss Violet Davey, Miss Elizabeth Burnette, secretary; Miss Miriam Rothschild, treasurer; Mrs. Hatfield, Miss Elizabeth Wehr, Miss Helen Wehr, Dr. Dorothea Guinther, Mrs. Blenderman, Mrs. Agnes Linder, Miss Ida Housman, Miss Anna Van Twisk.

JUNE 2, '46 Centennial

An outstanding guest was Mrs. Nina Hatfield, Hoboken's librarian, to whose recent, somewhat casual reference to the city as the site of baseball's first match game is attributed the development of plans for the centennial. Incidentally, the Girl Scout movement is dear to the heart of Mrs. Hatfield. Just how enthusiastic she is over the Girl Scout program was evidenced by her hearty applause as each unit of Girl Scouts and Brownies passed the reviewing stand.

MAYOR McFEELY OPENS GIRL SCOUT COOKIE DRIVE—The Girl Scout annual cookie drive in Hoboken was started off on Saturday by Mayor B. N. McFeely, who bought the first two boxes at the City Hall. The Brownie Scouts, who made the sales, are (left): Ann Douglas of Troop 7 and Lucille Lawless, Troop 6. By taking orders in advance, the Hoboken Girl Scouts sold up to 6,000 boxes of cookies on Saturday night. Former Scout Commissioner Violet Davey and Miss Miriam Rothschild, treasurer, are in charge of the sale.

Mayor McFeely Opens Cookie Sale of Hoboken Girl Scouts

Announce Drive Will Continue to Apr. 15

Mayor Bernard N. McFeely of Hoboken was the first customer in the fifth annual cookie sale of Hoboken Girl Scouts at 11 a. m. Saturday in his office in City Hall.

Ann Douglas of Troop 6 and Lucille Lawless of Troop 7, the 2 Brownies who sold the most cookies last year, had the honor of making the sale to the mayor. Accompanying them were Miss Anna Van Twisk, Girl Scout commissioner; Miss Grace Spencer, Brown Owl of Troop 7, and Miss Margaret Sieber, lieutenant of Troop 4. Group had the pleasure of meeting Congressman Edward H. Hart during their visit.

Cookie drive will continue through Apr. 15. Each scout is responsible for the sale of a certain quota. Those who sell 25 boxes will receive rewards as "cookie princesses," and the title of "cookie queens" will be bestowed upon the scouts who sell 50 boxes or more, in addition to a special award.

Cookies are purchased from a New York firm and sell at 25 cents for a box containing 42 cookies. Proceeds will go to foster Girl Scout activities.

Shipment of cookies, destination Hoboken, which should have arrived on Saturday at Girl Scout headquarters, due to transportation difficulties did not arrive until yesterday. Girls, who have been taking cookie orders for the past several months were anxious to make deliveries, so they scouted around, looking for methods of transportation and came up with vehicles of various types shown in the picture, and which they could operate themselves. They started out yesterday afternoon as soon as school was out to make deliveries. All of which goes to show you, you can't stop a Girl Scout.

Girl Scouts Hold Holy Hour

Hoboken Girl Scouts had a holy hour Sunday afternoon from 3 until 4 o'clock in SS. Peter and Paul Church on Hudson street, to observe Girl Scout Day. Troop 8 of the church, was hostess.

The speaker was Father Murray, moderator of the troop, who spoke on the advantages of scouting and how it can shape the future of the girls' lives.

There was pledging of allegiance to the flag of the United States, recitation of scout laws, scout pledge, motto and slogan. The group was led by the color guard. The hour was closed with the benediction.

Among those at the service were Miss Eileen Duncombe, scout commissioner; Mrs. Louis Blenderman and Mrs. Agnes Linder, scout council members.

This is Girl Scout Week and during that time the girls will wear their uniforms to school.

ENJOY WEEK-END IN CONNECTICUT

Troop 9, Hoboken Girl Scouts, went to the Milford, Conn. country home of Miss Anna Van Twisk, a Scout leader, where they stayed for the weekend. The group left Friday night in a station wagon accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heath. Lieut. Catherine Donnelly also was with them.

Saturday morning, after breakfast, there was a hike for which the group took lunch with them, and in the evening there was a Hallowe'en party at the fireplace. Games were played and stories told. Yesterday morning all went to church to observe Girl Scout Sunday.

Scouts who went were Joan Fowler, Helen Burke, Helen Solicito, Patricia Byrne, Patricia Patmore, Regina Alexander, Anna Olsen, and Martha Kriesat.

Girl Scouts Are Guests of Mrs. Van Twisk

Senior Girl Scouts of Troop 9 in Hoboken, had a delightful time over the week-end when they were guests of former scout commissioner, Miss Anna Van Twisk of Washington street, at her summer cottage at Milford, Conn.

The visit was a special award to the girls and after the parade on Memorial Day, in which they participated, they were driven to Milford by Lt. Josephine Smithson and Lt. Mrs. James Cleary who were in charge of arrangements, assisted by Lt. Nan Hirt. Miss Van Twisk went with them.

Swimming and canoeing were enjoyed and there also was bicycle riding and hiking. In the evening songs were sung and games played. On Sunday the girls went to their own churches.

Scouts in the group were Patricia Patmore, Barbara Burke, Anna Olsen, Katherine Timoney, Katherine Donnelly, June Lamereaux, Martha Kriesat, Regina Alexander.

On Saturday the girls and leaders were surprised with a visit from former Major Emily Van Brussell who was a scout captain at the time of her enlistment into the Wacs during the war. She has been released from the service and is staying in Boston with friends who accompanied her on the visit.

Next week-end a group from the Girl Scout Band of which Miss Van Twisk is director, will be her guest.

VIOLET DAVEY TO HEAD GIRL SCOUTS

Succeeds Sadie Leinkauf as Hoboken Commissioner.

At a meeting last night of the Hoboken Girl Scout Council, Miss Violet Davey was elected Scout commissioner in place of Miss Sadie Leinkauf, who was made honorary commissioner. Miss Leinkauf had the office for a number of years.

Other officers elected were, Miss Ida Housman and Miss Elizabeth Wehr, deputy commissioners; Miss Margaret Floner, treasurer; Miss Theresa Rabold, corresponding secretary and Miss Marie Kern, recording secretary.

It was decided to celebrate the Scouts anniversary on November 20 and at that time the officers' association will give a play and every troop will have a game.

For December 12, the association will have a cake and candy sale and serve tea. It will take place in the afternoon in the Scout house.

It was decided to have the Christmas party on December 19 when the usual program of carol singing and distribution of gifts to the children will take place.

A report of the sale of tickets for the motion pictures that was held last week showed a profit of fifty dollars for the Scouts.

The Scout class in home hygiene this year will be augmented by the Cadettes of Sts. Peter and Paul R. C. Church, with the Red Cross nurse from the Hoboken chapter for instructor.

Present at the meeting were Miss Leinkauf, Miss Davey, Miss Elizabeth Wehr, Miss Helen Wehr, Miss Housman, Miss Falconer, Miss Olga Gosch, Miss Kern, Miss Rabold, Mrs. Richard A. Beyer and Mrs. John Fife.

Nov - 36 Mark Anniversary of Girl Scouts

Hoboken Girl Scouts celebrated their seventeenth anniversary last night at a party in the Waldheim-Stevens Forum, 916 Garden street.

The Scout Officers' Association gave a comedy entitled "Breakfast at Camp" and those who had the roles were Roselyn Holmes, Helen Wehr, Miriam Rothchild, Helen Nestler, Helen Kaufman, Florence Reese, Angie Palerano, Grace Spencer, Dorothy Susselman, Dorothy Halloran, Dorothy Kierenan, Josephine Smithson, Virginia Fal-lon and Elizabeth von Segern.

Games were played and there were relay races. Roslyn Holmes was in charge of this part of the program.

Girl Scouts Have Own Scout House

Organized twenty-two years ago last October the Girl Scout organization in Hoboken has had a remarkable growth during the past two decades.

Not only is it a highly efficient organization with an ever widening influence and increasing number of troops and Girl Scouts but it has been able to function with a minimum of expense and to build and equip a girl scout house on land which was donated to the council back of the Hoboken Forum.

The Hoboken Council has tried to use the Girl Scout principles and program as a means of helping girls to become good Americans. All the troops meet in the Scout House; all have exactly the same privileges and responsibilities; every troop contains girls of all sorts—bright, slow; pretty, not-so-pretty; well-off, under-privileged; Catholic, Jewish, Protestant; Armenian, Belgian, Czech, Dutch, English, French, German, Irish, Italian, and so on down the alphabet of nations—in other words, each troop is America in miniature. Within the troop, nothing distinguishes one girl above her fellows except her own qualities of character and leadership, personal honesty, fairness, good humor, being a good sport, having ideas, being interested in new things. Girls learn to respect differences of opinion, to subordinate personal or merely selfish desires to the majority will, to stand up for what they believe to be right, to work together wholeheartedly for a common aim. Co-operation is stressed in all serious or important matters; competition is limited to play and games. Girls work WITH one another, not AGAINST one another.

The financial policy of the Council has also been in conformity with these principles. Since all troops meet at the Scout House—the equipment and maintenance of which are paid for by Council funds—no troop needs separate contributions and no troop is re-

The Hoboken Girl Scouts gave their annual Christmas party to children on Saturday afternoon in the Forum, 916 Garden street, for which those of the Mary Stevens Hammond Home, Memorial Day Nursery, Elks crippled wards and tuberculosis clinic were guests.

On the stage there were three Christmas trees, one large one and two smaller ones and all were gayly trimmed with stars and colored electric lights.

The program included a pantomime by about twenty-five scouts and a one-act Christmas play, entitled, "Santa Claus and Son." Members from the various troops participated. Miss Miriam Rothchild was accompanist.

A special feature of the program was the singing of Christmas carols by twelve scouts, dressed like old English waiters and carrying wrought iron lanterns. The carols were grouped against a background of transparency that represented church windows.

Later in the afternoon every one of the three hundred children present received boxes of candy.

Among the scout officers present were the honorary Scout Commissioner Sadie Leinkauf; the Scout Commissioner Violet Davey; and Mrs. Louis Immen.

another meeting room, lavatory, cloak room, office, heating system, and completely equipped kitchen were added. Ever since its formal opening in September, 1936, the complete house, the pride and joy of every Girl Scout, has been in operation afternoon and evening, day after day, throughout the Scout year.

MISS ANNA VAN TWISK NEW GIRL SCOUT COMMISSIONER

Miss Anna Van Twisk of upper Washington street, Hoboken, who has been a deputy commissioner of the Hoboken Girl Scouts, was elected commissioner last night at a meeting of Scout Council in the Girl Scout House, Garden street. She succeeds Miss Violet Davey who had the office for seven years.

Miss Van Twisk has been connected with the Hoboken Girl Scouts for twenty years and for some time was leader of the Scout band. At present she is its advisor.

Miss Van Twisk is a teacher in the kindergarten at the Joseph P. Brandt Junior High School and received her B.S. degree at New York University.

Other officers elected were Miss Elizabeth Wehr, deputy commissioner; Miss Eileen Duncombe, secretary; Miss Miriam Rothchild, treasurer.

All of these officers will serve for two years under the new ruling of the association.

The cake sale was set for November 21 and will be from 2 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon in the Scout House with the Leaders' Association in charge. Proceeds will be used to defray the expense of the Christmas party the Scouts give for children of various institutions and organizations in Hoboken.

Miss Davey reported on the Scout war stamp collection, proceeds of which will be called a Victory Fund for children's relief work.

VERONICA KELLY HEADS SCOUT OFFICERS

At the meeting of the Hoboken Girl Scout Officers' Association, which took place last night in the Scout House, Garden street, Miss Veronica Kelly was elected president. She succeeds Miss Nan Hirt.

Miss Grace Spencer, leader of Troop 7, was made vice president; Miss Rosalyn Holmes, leader of the senior troop, secretary, and Miss Rita Tallon, leader of Troop 2, treasurer.

December 8 was set as the day for the children's Christmas party, and on December 18 the Scout carolers will sing in St. Mary's Hospital, Willow avenue.

GIRL SCOUTS HAVE HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Troops 7 and 14 of Brownies of the Hoboken Girl Scouts had a Halloween party on Saturday afternoon in the Girl Scout House, 918 Garden street, as a preliminary celebration for Girl Scout Week which started yesterday.

It was a costume party, all of the 45 Brownies present wearing gay colors and portraying some kind of character. Halloween games were played and prizes went to Jean Block and Wilma Mulder.

A group of Brownies under the direction of Tawny Owl Lenore Bresticker, presented a play entitled, "The Three Pigs." Refreshments were served.

The party was supervised by Miss Grace Spencer and Mrs. W. Rutowski.

Other Troops Aid Girl Scout Week

Three and Ten
Play Part in Observance

Hoboken Girl Scout troops are active this week, gathering every evening in the Scout House to have some kind of a party in honor of the current Girl Scout Week.

Every troop has a different colored tie to wear with uniforms, and the girls of Troop 3 wear red ones. Members of this group are planning to make toys and gifts to be sold at the annual cake and gift sale the troops will have on some afternoon this month.

Lieutenants of the troop are Ruth Scharfe, Grace Voigtlander, Marjorie Wachter, Clara Kouba, Dorothy von Seggern, Dorothy Pusemann.

Mrs. Ann Ciski, captain of Troop 10, is the mother of a baby girl, and her husband is in the service.

The troop members buy war stamps every week and plan to do so for the remainder of the war, and do other things to help win the war.

Lieutenants of this troop are Alice Milewski, Gertrude Scheidler, Mary Scheidler, Jeanette Schultz.

Girls of the troop have set aside the last Monday of every month to plan and prepare a meal, all of the girls assisting with the preparations.

On November 14 the girls will have a hike to Allison Park.

Troop, Brownies Mark Scout Week

Grace Spencer Heads
One of Brownie
Pack

Among the Hoboken Girl Scout troops observing Girl Scout Week are Senior Troop 11 and Brownie Packs No. 7 and No. 14.

Members of the senior troops are known by their special uniform, and the girls have started their part in the Christmas party all of the troops are to give in the Scout House on December 22.

Troop social activities include roller skating and frankfurter roasts, and among other activities the girls are helping Miss Violet Davey, former scout commissioner, at the OPA Ration Board.

Roslyn Holmes is captain of the troop and Marion Spencer is lieutenant. Their interests, other than scouting, are Red Cross, knitting and reading.

Brownie Pack No. 14 is headed by Mrs. Rutowski, of 925 Garden street. She is the mother of three children and is interested in sports, knitting, cooking, sewing and crafts.

Brownie Pack No. 7 has Miss Grace Spencer, of 903 Clinton street, for its Brown Owl, head of the troop, and she is a teacher in Plainfield. Her hobbies, besides her Brownies, are sports, knitting, crafts and reading. She is a graduate of the State Teachers College in Jersey City.

Miss Nan Hirt is Miss Spencer's assistant, and Miss Leonora Bresticker is the pack Tawny Owl.

Both packs are working on the Christmas program and occasionally have short plays coached by Miss Bresticker. She is doing war work and attended the war school at Stevens Institute and graduated from the John Marshall School of Law in Jersey City.

Girl Scout Finds Wallet for Sailor

A wallet she found in the street, containing $45.50 in cash and papers identifying it as the property of a Navy lad from Missouri, was turned over last night by Dolores Basco, of 109 Willow avenue, Hoboken, a member of Girl Scout Troop 13, to officials of that city's USO center in the community Y. M. C. A.

Fred L. Broad, "Y" secretary, managed to locate the owner of the wallet within an hour, through Naval Intelligence, and learned the young gob was slated to sail today. He was already aboard his ship. Given brief leave, he came to Hoboken and recovered his wallet and contents, thanks to the honesty of Dolores.

Every article at the sale on Saturday afternoon given by the Leaders Association of the Hoboken Girl Scouts in the Scout House, Garden street, was disposed of and proceeds will be used for scout work.

Things on sale included cake, pies, candy, and many novelties made by the leaders and the girls such as aprons, pot holders. There were many patrons throughout the afternoon and they were served coffee and cake by Miss Helen Kaufman, Mrs. R. Razzetti, Miss Lottie Zachal, Miss Roslyn Holmes.

Miss Violet Davey, was in charge of the candy table and the gift table was presided over by Miss Grace Spencer, Miss Marion Spencer, Miss Nan Hirt, Miss Veronica Kelly, president of the association, was hostess and greeted everybody.

Zonta Makes Gift to Girl Scouts as Wittpenn Memorial

Hoboken Girl Scout Council has announced a generous contribution from Hoboken Zonta Club in memory of the late Mrs. H. Otto Wittpenn who was an honorary member of that group of executive women. The club did not send flowers to the funeral, deciding a gift to something in which Mrs. Wittpenn was interested would be more in keeping with her wishes.

The announcement was made at a meeting of the council in the Girl Scout House at which Miss Sadie Leinkauf, Scout Commissioner, presided.

Splendid returns in response to the annual appeals for funds were gratifying to the staff and besides the gift from Zonta there was also one from the Hoboken Woman's Club. Miss Ida Housman, deputy commissioner, is president of that club. Expressions of commendation upon the success of the Christmas party were also heard.

Tentative plans were made for attending the sessions of the Hendrik Hudson regional conferences which are to take place on leadership, organization and publicity. The first will be on January 26 in Elizabeth when Miss Olga Gosch will represent the Hoboken council. The study for that gathering will be publicity. There are two other meetings in the group, one to take place in Englewood and the other in Jersey City.

Miss Miriam Rothchild and Miss Helen Wehr, officers of the Hoboken Girl Scout Officers' Association were guests of the council meeting.

Council members present besides Miss Leinkauf, were Deputy Commissioners Ida Hausman and Violet Davey, and Elizabeth Wehr, Mrs. Louis Immen, Miss Marjorie Falconer, Miss Olga Gosch.

Girl Scout Council Plans Annual Party in Hoboken

Hudson Dispatch
March 1933

Card Medley to Be Held at Waldheim-Stevens Forum on Night of March 30

Tickets will be sent out early this week by the committee in charge of the annual card party of the Hoboken Girl Scout council, to be held in the Waldheim-Stevens Forum on the evening of March 30. There are to be favors for high score, and refreshments during the social hour which follows the games.

Miss Anna Van Twisk is chairman with Mrs. Thomas Hatfield, Miss Elizabeth Wehr, and Miss Violet Davey as other members of the committee; and the entire council to assist.

This annual party is the only public appeal made by the Hoboken Girl Scout organization, which has been for eleven years developing the principles of scouting and the healthful fun to be derived from its activities, to the girls of Hoboken. Every scout leader and council member is a volunteer worker, so not one cent is paid out in Hoboken for salaries for executives. All the money raised or donated goes entirely to promote the welfare of the girls.

In some cases, this means sending certain girls for a vacation in camp, where the out of door life and the influence of camp director and counselors develop the scout both physically and spiritually. During the greater part of the year in town the girls make their happy contacts through troop meetings in the scout house, where they learn to help other girls in addition to having a good time themselves.

Members of the scout council include Miss Sadie Leinkauf, commissioner; Miss Violet Davey and Miss Ida Housman, deputy commissioner; Mrs. Louis Immen, Miss Elizabeth Wehr, Miss Anna Van Twisk, Mrs. Thomas Hatfield, Mrs. William J. Duffy, Mrs. Herman Geismar, Miss Victoria Muzzi, Dr. Grace Clark Morley, Mrs. Robert T. Greenleaf, Mrs. H. V. Groesser, Mrs. Irene Fitzgerald, Mrs. Harvey N. Davis, Miss Olga Gosch, Mrs. Richard Beyer, Dr. Hugo Alexander, Miss Margaret Falconer, Miss Marie Kern, Miss Lillian Horwood, Albert Frapwell.

Zonta Club Has Big Card Party

The Girl Scout House in Hoboken was spic and span last night for the card party given there by Hoboken Zonta Club to benefit its service fund and members and friends who were present expressed their admiration for its attractive appearance and hominess. Twenty tables were in play and there were non-players. Jersey City Zonta had a delegation of twelve members, Miss Emmy Lou Allen, the president, coming with them.

Top score at the tables was rewarded with an imported bridge set consisting of tablecloth and napkins and a special prize for the evening went to Miss Kathleen Meyer. Refreshments were served after the games.

The party was one of a series being given this winter by the members and Miss Mary Kempf, a former president, and Miss Emily Kennedy, a former secretary, were hostesses. They were assisted by Miss Mattie Gibbs, the secretary and Miss Irene Kennedy.

Girl Scouts Will Attend Conference

It was decided last night at a meeting of the Hoboken Girl Scout Council to attend the regional conference in Jersey City which is to take place on March 10. The conference will be on publicity and representatives are to come from North Hudson and Jersey City.

The meeting last night was in the Forum, 916 Garden street, with Miss Sadie Leinkauf, commissioner, presiding. Mrs. Louis Immen, who was to receive a ten year service stripe at the recent rally but was unable to be present, was given the award last night.

Others present besides Miss Leinkauf were Mrs. Richard Beyer, Miss Violet Davey, Miss Elizabeth Wehr, Miss Anna Van Twisk and Miss Marie Kerns.

My dear Miss Gosch:

I am afraid the Girl Scout moving picture trailer could not be used at your card party, since it is a standard film, with sound track, and can only be used in moving picture theatres equipped for sound projection.

If, however, you wish to use it sometime, and can make arrangements with one of your moving picture theatres, please apply to Miss Oppenlander, your regional director at national headquarters, and she will let you have a print for use in this region.

Dear Mrs. Osborn:

The Girl Scouts can be justly proud of their many wartime activities. I would like to extend to your entire membership my greetings and thanks for their splendid efforts in the past.

The 6th War Loan Drive will run from November 20 to December 16, and we are asking you to undertake for the Treasury Department a National Newspaper Clipping Service prior to and during the entire campaign.

This Clipping Service will be invaluable to us in many ways in checking the effectiveness of our campaign and also in tabulating results for future drives. Therefore, we ask the cooperation of the various Girl Scout Councils across the Nation.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Friends of Girl Scouting:

Again we are here
To ask you to help us as you did last year;
Below we have listed the ways we have spent
The money that you most obligingly sent.

$471. 02

Here is the Scout House that had to be kept Heated and lighted and painted and swept.

147. 35

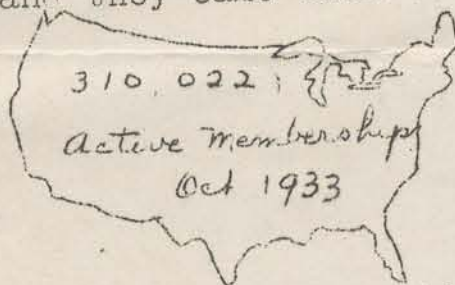

Here is the Band blowing loudly for aid;
Their bills for instruction just have to be paid.

170.85

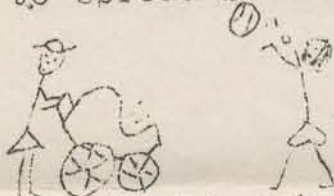

These little Scouts had two wonderful weeks
At Camp, and they came back with healthy red cheeks.

45. 15

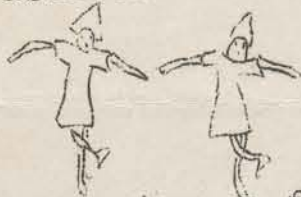

National Headquarters give aid on demand,
And tries to spread Scouting throughout all the land

55.91

These are the Girl Scouts at work and at play;
We need your assistance to keep them that way.

These are the Brownies, a fast-growing band,
Who trust that you graciously will "Lend a hand".

$390.28

This is the total of all we have spent;
We're really most thrifty; we don't waste a cent;
So please help us out in the work we must do,
And send us your check made out payable to

My dear Miss Gosch:

Thank you very much for your campaign appeal publicity. I think this is an exceptionally attractive presentation, and I hope your fund appeal meets with the success it merits.

Sincerely yours,

HOBOKEN GIRL SCOUTS TO STAGE FASHION EXHIBIT

An interesting exhibit of fashions of dress worn in the various countries will be shown by Hoboken Girl Scouts from March 15 to March 30. The exhibit has been made possible through the cooperation of the national headquarters which will lend the costumes. They will also be shown on March 16 when the Scouts have their rally. Miss Violet Davey, Miss Miriam Rothchild and Miss Olga Gosch will have charge.

At the January meeting of the Scout council a letter from Harry L. Gilchrise, secretary of the public relations committee of the national Girl Scout organization, was read, congratulating the Hoboken group for the originality of its appeal for funds. Mr. Gilchrise mentioned the fact that a copy of the Hoboken pamphlet had been published in the national bulletin. The pamphlets were the work of Miss Elizabeth Wehr and Miss Violet Davey.

An invitation was received from Dr. Frank Armstrong, rector of St.

Paul's Episcopal Church, for a member to meet with the committee for the Washington Birthday service at the Warrior's Shrine. The council will also cooperate for the President Roosevelt ball which occurs in Hoboken on January 30 by disposing of tickets.

Letters were received from the Memorial Day Nursery, the Hammond Home and Mrs. Herman Prehn, nurse for the Hoboken Elks' crippled wards for the good time the children had at the Christmas party given by the Scouts.

Mrs. Irene Fitzgerald, who is in charge of the Scout relief work, reported that food, clothing and other assistance had been given to forty families.

Present at the meeting were Miss Sadie Leinkauf, Scout commissioner; Mrs. Nina Hatfield, Mrs. Irene Fitzgerald, Miss Elizabeth Wehr, Miss Helen Wehr, Miss Marie Kern, Mrs. Richard Beyer, Mrs. John Fife, Miss Violet Davey, Miss Miriam Rothchild, Miss Olga Gosch.

Miss Schrotky to Be Speaker At Hoboken Girl Scout Exhibit

Author of Birthday Pageant
Coming from New York for International Rally

The Hoboken Girl Scout Council has just received word that Miss Oleda Schrotky, of national headquarters in New York, will be a guest and speaker at the International Exhibit and Rally to be held on March 16 in connection with the observance of the national Girl Scout 22nd anniversary. Miss Schrotky is a member of the national staff in charge of plays and pageantry, and is the author of the birthday pageant given last fall for the celebration of the birthday of the Hoboken Girl Scout group.

The Hoboken council has completed its plans for the program on March 16, which will be given in the Waldheim-Stevens Forum. The exhibit of Girl Scout costumes from all over the world will be set up there for scouts and all visitors to inspect, with Miss Violet Davey and Miss Lillian Rothchild in charge.

The annual card party of the scout council will be held on the evening of March 22. Miss Anna Van Twisk is chairman, assisted by the council members. Mrs. L. Rothchild will donate a cake which is to be sold during the evening, and which will be in charge of Mrs. L. Immen. Mrs. Nina Hatfield and Mrs. Irene Fitzgerald have selected the favors for the evening's awards.

Miss Marie Kern, of the council, will open a dancer's class next Tuesday afternoon in the scout house to enable scouts to make the points necessary for a dancer's badge.

Other later scout events are the weekend party of the Officers Association, April 14 and 15, at Camp Stevens, and the scout circus which has been set for afternoon and evening of May 19th.

Hudson Dispatch - Mar. 1934.

SCOUTS TO GREET NATIONAL SPEAKER

Miss Oleda Schrotky of National Headquarters of the Girl Scouts, is to be the speaker at the international exhibit and rally of the Hoboken Girl Scouts Friday. It is to take place in the Philip Waldheim-Stevens Forum, 916 Garden street.

Miss Schrotky has charge of play pageants and other entertainment for the national Girl Scouts and was the author of the Birthday Pageant given by the Hoboken girls on their last birthday anniversary.

At a meeting of the council which took place one evening, plans for the above mentioned affair were discussed. International costumes are to be shown and have been loaned by the national organization. They will be in the Forum for all visitors and scouts to see and Miss Violet Davey and Miss Lillian Rothchild will be in charge of the set-up.

For March 22nd, a card party has been planned and will be in the Forum under the auspices of the scout council. Miss Anna Van Twisk is chairman and will have the assistance of other council members. Mrs. Rothchild will again donate a cake which is to be sold on shares with Mrs. Louis Immen in charge. There will be refreshments and a door prize and a prize for every table. Mrs. Nina Hatfield and Mrs. Irene Fitzgerald will secure the awards.

A dancing class is to be started by Miss Marie Kern to enable the scouts to attain their dance badges.

As the spring always brings the scout circus to town, the date for it has been set for May 19. Troops are already planning for it.

On the weekend of April 14 and 15, the officers' association will go to Camp Stevens for a stay.

Hoboken Girl Scouts Are Ready for Annual Circus

A recent addition will be the interpretation of Dresden China figures, with Gustina Porcelli, Elizabeth Ryan and Charlotte Halloran.

The Brownies have a little sketch called "Runaway Clowns." Gertrude Scheidler is playing the part of "Pierette," and her partner is Elaine Gordon in the role of "Pierrot." A dancing group in the act consists of Laura McLaughlin, Jacqueline Jones, Alvied Greco, Jane Doherty, Gladys Hunecke and Florence Bremer. The comedy relief is afforded by Sylvia Winterfield, Marjorie Wachter, Theresa Forsyth, Kathleen De Marchi, Anna Marie Siefel and Dorothy Falber as a midget clown group.

As an added attraction to the evening performance, the officers will introduce a musical fantasy entitled, "The Song Writers Jam-boree." Josephine Smithson has an important part as the "master of harmonies;" Cecelia Wendelken, Mary Cornellisee, Dorothy Halloran, Grace Punturi, Grace Spencer, Roslyn Holmes, Charlotte Halloran are featured in specialty song and dance numbers. Other "bit" players and chorus members are Dot Susselman, "Peanuts" Zahn, Betty Van Kleef, Alice Doster and Marie Baxter.

The pianist for this song and dance skit is Miss Marie Kern, of the Girl Scout Council. The theme is based on song writing, and the setting takes place in the Song-writers' Rendezvous at Tin Pan Alley. The officers have spared no efforts to make this revue a thrilling climax to the circus.

Troop 2 has a unique interpretation of "the Circus Toy Shoppe," a new version of the theme based on the dolls' revelry when the toy shoppe is closed. Some of the "toys" are: Betty Fenick and Irene Lundburg as "Popeye the Sailor;" Velma Holmes, Hilda Hondema, Molly Lipovitch and Helen Silver as "the Wooden Soldiers;" Florence Rechten as a "Dancing Doll," and Caroline Lopian as a "Baby Doll."

Troop 10 brings living statues. This year these include authentic reproductions in the Greek sculpture personified by Nancy Apollo, Helen Nester, Elizabeth March, Ruth Mebe, Veronica Elling, Alice and Angelina Milewski, Mary Porcelli, Virginia Sheridan, Winifred Silver, Lillian Watchorn, Mary Anderson, Iona O'Brien, Gertrude Widner, Grace Bräker and Bobby Hall.

Troop 1 is presenting a series of impersonations depicting the various circus freaks. Some of these characterizations are portrayed by Peggy Glendenning as "the rare Philipino Head-hunter and Man-eater"; Helen Black, as "the Burmese Snake Charmer"; Anna Pasquale and Frieda Boyarsky, as "the Siamese Twins;" Marie Falber as "the Two-headed Woman;" and "the Famous Family of Midgets," Dorothy and Eileen Guerth, Antoinette Sanders and Frances Van Leuven.

Commissioner Hoffman.

Hoffman was the only one of the four contestants, who did not seek the nomination of his own accord. He was actually drafted and entered the race only at the last moment, when pressure was brought to bear upon him which no man could have withstood.

George M. Eichler of Hoboken, a former Assistant Attorney General, was the only lawyer to support the Leffle-Carey ticket, polled Carey as a supporter and running on the ticket. Carey, polled by Hoffman, added starter entering the contest at the last minute against Senator Emerson L. Richards of Atlantic City. Senator Joseph G. Walzer of Essex and former Judge Robert Carey, of Essex, were also polled.

Girl Scouts Plan Novel Acts For Annual Circus Saturday

Musical Fantasy to Follow Performance at Waldheim-Stevens Forum

The Hoboken Girl Scouts' Annual Circus will be held at the Waldheim-Stevens Forum Saturday. There will be two performances, one at 2:30 in the afternoon and an evening performance at 8 o'clock. The troops have been preparing their various acts for months, in order to make this year's program the most novel and entertaining ever attempted.

Troop 1 will present a series of impersonations depicting the various circus freaks. Some of them are portrayed by Peggy Glendenning as "the rare Philopino Head-Hunter and Man-Eater"; Helen Black as "the Burmese Snake Charmer"; Anna Pasquale and Frieda Boyarsky as "the Siamese Twins"; Marie Falber as "the Two-Headed Woman," and "the Famous Family of Midgets," Dorothy and Eileen Guerth, Antoinette Sanders, Frances Van Leuven.

In addition to the freak show, Troop 1 is also featuring "the Side-show of the Nations." These demonstrations will feature a cast of 35 scouts in costume.

"Circus Toy Shoppe"

Troop 2 has a unique interpretation of "the Circus Toy Shoppe," a new version of the theme based on the dolls' revelry when the toy shoppe is closed. Some of the "toys" are: Betty Fenick and Irene Lundburg as "Popeye the Sailor"; Velma Holmes, Hilda Hondema, Molly Lipovitch and Helen Silver as "the Wooden Soldiers"; Florence Rechten as a "Dancing Doll" and Caroline Lopian as a "Baby Doll."

Troop 3 has a comic novelty entitled "The Singing Lesson." Some of the funmakers in this act are: Dorothy Susselman as the "singing professor"; Rita McCloskey as "his daughter, Lucy"; Eileen Burke as "Lightfoot, the hero," and Elizabeth Oberhoffer as "Tippy-toes, the butler."

Troop 9 once again will present "The Acrobatic Sailors," with their unparalleled feats of tumbling, balancing and adagio exhibitions. Helen Zahn, better known as "Peanuts," will be featured this time in an inspiring performance called "Glorifying the Hand-Spring." Marie Baxter executes a tricky pole balancing act, which has taken many hours to perfect. Marie Labes and Marie Florio are two new stars making their debut in a group of hair-raising contortion tricks. Lucille Frieh, Grace Punturi, Alice Doster, Mary Forsythe and Margaret Zahn are presented in an adagio tableaux.

The Clown Band will be there again with its usual antics and tomfoolery.

Troop 4 again comes to the fore with its animal act. The animal actors are: Trained seals, Grace Spencer and Alice Sullivan; dogs, Rose Riabudo and Otea Spellman; monkeys, Lucille McBride and Loretta Masello.

An attraction in this act is the wild animal trainer, Rose Pasquale, and her "cage of lions and tigers." Among the lions and tigers are Marion Spencer, Peggy Meehan, Edith Lanzetti, Marie Silvester and Pauline Attaman.

Present Statues

Troop 10 brings living statues. This year these include authentic reproductions in the Greek sculpture personified by Nancy Apollo, Helen Nester, Elizabeth March, Ruth Mebe, Veronica Elling, Alice and Angelina Milewski, Mary Porcelli, Virginia Sheridan, Winifred Silver, Lillian Watchorn, Mary Anderson, Iona O'Brien, Gertrude Widmer, Grace Bruker and Bobby Hall.

In addition to the freak show, Troop 1 is also featuring the Side-show of the Nations. These demonstrations will feature a cast of thirty-five Scouts in costume. Realistic props and acting will add much toward startling results.

Toy Shoppe.

Troop 2 has a unique interpretation of "the Circus Toy Shoppe," a new version of the theme based on dolls' revelry when the Toy Shoppe is closed. Some of the "Toys" are Betty Fenick and Irene Lundburg, as "Popeye, the Sailor"; Velma Holmes, Hilda Hondema, Molly Lipovitch and Helen Silver as "the Wooden Soldiers"; Florence Rechten as a "Dancing Doll," and Caroline Lopian as a "Baby Doll."

Troop 3 has a comic novelty entitled "The Singing Lesson." Some of the funmakers who make this an unrivaled "sawdust farce," are Dot Susselman as the "Singing Professor"; Rita McCloskey as his daughter, "Lucy"; Eileen Burke as "Lightfoot, the hero," and Elizabeth Oberhoffer as "Tippy-toes, the butler."

Troop 9 once again will present "The Acrobatic Sailors" with their unparalleled feats of tumbling, balancing and adagio exhibitions. Marie Baxter executes a tricky pole balancing act which has taken many tedious hours to perfect.

Marie Labes and Marie Florio are two new stars, making their debut in a group of hair-raising contortion tricks worthy of a professional. Lucille Frieh, Grace Punturi, Alice Doster, Mary Forsythe and Margaret Zahn are presented in a beautiful and amazing adagio tableaux, accomplishments in strength, skill and balance achieved only by the acrobatic sailors.

Clowns Ready.

The Clown Band will be there again with its usual antics and tomfoolery.

Troop 4 again comes to the fore with its animal act. The animal actors are Grace Spencer and Alice Sullivan, trained seals; Rose Riabudo and Otea Spellman, dogs, and Lucille McBride and Doretta Masello, monkeys.

A remarkable attraction in this act is the wild animal trainer, Rose Pasquale and her "cage of lions and tigers." Among the lions and tigers are Marion Spencer, Peggy Meehan, Edith Lanzetti, Marie Silvester and Pauline Attaman.

Troop 10 once more brings us its living statues. This year these include authentic reproductions in the Greek sculpture personified by Nancy Appollo, Helen Nester, Elizabeth March, Ruth Mebe, Veronica Elling, Alice and Angelina Milewski, Mary Porcelli, Virginia Sheridan, Winifred Silver, Lillian Watchorn, Mary Anderson, Iona O'Brien, Gertrude Widmer, Grace Bruker, Bobby Hall. A recent addition will be the interpretation of Dresden china figures, with Gustina Porcelli, Elizabeth Ryan and Charlotte Halloran.

The Brownies have a "circusy" little sketch called "Runaway Clowns." Gertrude Scheidler is playing the part of "Pierette" and her partner is Elaine Gordon in the role of "Pierrot." A dancing group in the act consists of Laura McLaughlin, Jacqueline Jones, Alvild Greco, Jane Doherty, Gladys Hunecke and Florence Brammer. The comedy relief is afforded by Sylvia Winterfield, Marjorie Wachter, Theresa Forsyth, Kathleen De Marchi, Anna Marie Siefel and Dorothy Falber as a midget clown group.

Present Fantasy.

As an added attraction to the evening performance the officers will introduce for the first time a musical fantasy entitled "The Song Writers' Jamboree." Josephine Smithson has an important part as the "Master of Harmonies." Cecelia Wendelken, Mary Cornillise, Dorothy Halloran, Grace Punturi, Grace Spencer, Roslyn Holmes, Charlotte Halloran are featured in specialty song and dance numbers. Other "bit" players and chorus members are Dot Susselman, "Peanuts" Zahn, Betty Van Kleef, Alice Doster and Marie Baxter.

The pianist for this song and dance skit is Miss Marie Kern of the Girl Scout Council. The theme is based on songwriting and the setting takes place in the Songwriters' Rendezvous in Tin Pan Alley. The officers have spared no efforts to make this a new and unusual revue as a thrilling climax to the circus.

Scout Band and Clowns and 'Trained Animals' Are Bigger and Better This Year

That the Hoboken Girl Scout annual circus has become an established feature of the spring season was amply proved Saturday when nearly 1,000 gathered there for the two performances of the scout's eighth annual circus. Like the big circus in New York, the scouts' own grows bigger and better every year, and the troops have learned to put on a show which is not only smooth but really clever and original.

The various acts have been recounted in this column, and to pick out any particular feature as outstanding would be unfair to the rest as every troop arranged its own "act," planned and made its own costumes, and furnished its own talented performers. Much credit goes to Miss Emily van Brussel, who, although she is no longer able to take an active part in the scout organization, wrote and produced the officers' show which closed the evening performance and welded the many diverse attractions into a well balanced program.

At the close of her part of the program Miss van Brussel was presented with a bouquet as the scouts expression of appreciation for all that she had done to make the circus a success.

The scout band appeared as clowns, with their amusing antics scattered throughout the performance, and the Brownies also put on a clown act called "Runaway Clowns." Our old friends, the three little pigs and the Big Bad Wolf, one of the comedy successes of the evening, was put on by Troop 9 with Lucille Freih as the wolf. Troop 9 also put on its "acrobatic sailors"; Troop 4 appeared as a group of trained animals; Troop 2, "The Circus Toy Shop" and Troop 1, portrayed the circus freaks. Troop 3 had a comic novelty entitled "The Singing Lesson" with Dorothy Susselman as the "pro-

Prepare for National Girl Scout Week

Character builds a Nation
BUILD CHARACTER

National Girl Scout Week will be celebrated throughout the country from October 28 to November 4. All the knowledge and crafts of scouting will be on display, and girls will wear with conscious pride the dark green uniform with its embroidered initials, "G. S. A."

In the mails, prior to that week, and in preparation for it and the weeks of local scout work to follow, the Council of North Hudson Girl Scouts has an appeal for funds. For more than a year, Commissioner Marjorie Leuly and her deputy commissioners have been struggling gallantly to keep the work of the council effective—handicapped greatly by the fact that no one of its volunteer workers can give the work full time.

So far it has triumphed, and it has no thought of failure—but support is needed, and needed sorely. It is the hope of the commissioner and her deputies that the results of this appeal will enable the council to secure a local director, and to intensify its curriculum and widen its fields of contact.

The poster reproduced above is to be displayed by the Girl Scouts this fall as part of a campaign for more and better recreation.

Lady Baden-Powell Lauds Hoboken Eaglet Girl Scout

Miss Roslyn Holmes Among Group to Meet Leader at Summer Camp

Hudson Dispatch
Sept. 1936

Reports from the camp committee, Miss Laura Woodruff and Miss Anna Van Twisk, were given last evening at the meeting of the Hoboken Girl Scout Council, held in the board room of the Waldheim Stevens Forum. Commissioner Miss Sadie Leenkauf presided.

Miss Woodruff, executive secretary of the Hudson County Tuberculosis Society, reported that the group of Hoboken Scouts sent to Camp Hudsonia had shown a fine camp spirit, and that of the six honors awarded there, two were won by Hoboken Scouts, Grace Spenser and Helen Zahn. All had gained from six to 12 pounds in weight.

Miss Van Twisk reported on the outfitting of the Scouts, and said that camp clothing would be saved for another year.

Miss Ida Housman described the visit to Camp Andree, when Lord and Lady Baden-Powell made their visit there this past summer. Hoboken Girl Scouts were represented by Miss Houseman, deputy commissioner; Mrs. Nine Hatfield, Dorothea Halloran and Roslyn Holmes. Lady Baden-Powell commended Roslyn for her golden eaglet.

Miss Elizabeth Wehr presented suggestions for the annual appeal for funds for support of scouting in Hoboken.

The troop activities will begin September 23, and another council meeting will be held the following week in order to complete plans for the season.

Present at the meeting last night were Commissioner Leinkauf, Miss Ida Houseman and Miss Vollet Davey, deputy commissioners; Miss Elizabeth Wehr, Mrs. Irene Fitzgerald, Miss Marjorie Falconer, Miss Anne Van Twisk, Miss Theresa Rabold, Miss Olga Gosch and Miss Woodruff, who was a guest.

GIRL SCOUTS WILL MARK ANNIVERSARY

Birthday Party to Be Held at Hoboken Forum
Tonight.

The Hoboken Girl Scouts will have a birthday party tonight in the Waldheim-Stevens Forum, 918 Garden street, to celebrate the sixteenth anniversary of the organization in Hoboken.

There will be games led by the troop leaders, each troop to have a different one.

Members of the Officers' Association will give a short scout play entitled, "The Scout Laws", and Miss Elizabeth Wehr is coach. Refreshments are to be served and a few guests have been invited for the party. Mothers of the troop captains have also been asked to come.

The committee for the party tonight includes Miss Margory Faulkener, the chairman; Miss Miriam Rothchild, Miss Violet Davey, Miss Elizabeth Wehr, Miss Olga Gosch.

On December 18, Mrs. John Fife, a member of the scout council, will give tea in her home, Gate House, Castle Point, for members of the council. The Officers' Association will have a sale and tea party in the scout house next to the Forum at 918 Garden street, on December 14.

GIRL SCOUT MOVIE MARKS ANNIVERSARY

In connection with the national Girl Scout birthday, which will be observed Tuesday, the Hoboken Girl Scouts have secured permission from the management of the Fabian Theater in Hoboken for the showing of a two-minute Girl Scout trailer, a motion picture depicting Girl Scout activities. The picture is a talkie, and will follow the regular feature tonight, tomorrow and Friday evenings.

Tomorrow the Girl Scout band, led by Miss Anna Van Twisk, will give a program at the theater promptly at 8:45, in connection with the Scout picture, and the members of the council, officers of troops, and the Scouts will attend in uniform.

Hoboken Needlework Guild Stages Annual Banquet

Hoboken Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, had its forty-seventh annual exhibit yesterday in the Union Club Building at Sixth and Hudson streets, and at the same time observed the fiftieth anniversary of the organization.

The number of garments contributed this year was approximately 2,400 which is lower than last year. The supply consisted of men's and boys' underwear, infants and children's underwear; stockings, baby blankets and other useful things to make the poor and unfortunate warm and comfortable.

Instead of spreading out the garments on long tables as has been the usual custom, the contributions were placed in large bags and marked for distribution tomorrow to organizations for which they are intended. Mrs. Richard Beyer was hostess in the exhibiting room which was the smaller ballroom.

In the large ballroom the tea tables were spread and decorated with lighted candles and Mrs. John Stasse, president of the branch, welcomed the donors who came for the tea and Mrs. Catherine O'Hare, head of the Tuberculosis Clinic in Hoboken was the speaker. She expressed gratitude for the garments that have been so generously given to the clinic for many years by the guild and said she is in a position to realize and appreciate what work of the members has meant the community.

Girl Scouts Assist.

Refreshments were served by Girl Scouts from Hoboken. They were Lydia Luthman and Ursula Merseberger of Troop 1 and Helen Nestler, Veronica Elling, Virginia Sheridan and Gertrude Schidele from Troop 10.

During the afternoon there was incidental music by Mr. Knauer; toe dances by Anita Marie Schmidt and tap dances by Janice Phillips.

Section presidents and directors were hostesses at the tables and the former were the reception committee. They are Mrs. John Stasse, the president; Mrs. Charles Bu-shong, Mrs. Julius Eppens, Mrs. F. Cavagnaro, Mrs. George Horn, Mrs. Louis Wolf, Mrs. Frank Markey, Markey, Miss Margaret Sachs.

Officers of the branch are, besides Mrs. Stasse, Mrs. Julius Eppens and Mrs. Louis Wolff, vice presidents; Mrs. Traugott Schuck, treasurer; Mrs. John Anderson, secretary.

Will Aid Many.

Joseph Samperi, owner of the Union Club Building, generously gave the use of the building free of charge to the branch for the exhibit and tea, and all of the refreshments served were donated by officers, section presidents and directors.

Organizations that will receive donations are St. John's Lutheran Church; Mary Hammond Home, Tuberculosis Clinic, Ladies' Aid Society, Girl Scouts, Holy Innocents Church, Council of Jewish Women, Red Cross, Memorial Day Nursery, United Aid Society, Sts. Peter and Paul R. C. Church, St. Vincent De Paul Society, St. Mary's Hospital, Baby Welfare Station, Seaman's Mission, Salvation Army, Mount Carmel Guild, Our Lady of Grace Orphanage, all of Hoboken; Christ Hospital in Jersey City and the North Hudson Hospital. An emergency bag was also filled.

GIRL SCOUTS HAVE COURT OF AWARDS

Four Leaders Honored at Event in Hoboken.

At the rally of the Hoboken Girl Scouts that took place on Friday evening in the Forum, Scout Commissioner Sadie Leinkauf, Deputy Commissioners Ida Housman and Violet Davey and Captain Elsie Deetz received fifteen-year service stripes.

Last fall the fifteenth anniversary of the Hoboken Girl Scouts was observed and these three council members and one officer have been associated with the organization all of that time. They were presented with old-fashioned nosegays, which were gifts of the Scouts. Virginia Halloran of Troop 10 made the presentation.

Ten-year service stripes were awarded to Captains Miss Miriam Rothschild, Miss Helen Wehr and Miss Elizabeth Van Kleef, and Lieutenant Miss Josephine Smithson, and five-year stripes to Scouts Florence Reece, Helen Smith, Rose Pasquale, Angela Pellerano, Mary Ryan, Margaret Sieber and Helen Biel.

Merit badges were distributed to twenty-three Scouts who had passed the tests in certain subjects, with Dorothea Halloran, Troop 10, taking six for child nurse, pioneer, first aid, homemaker, scholarship and Scout aid; Roslyn Holmes of Troop 2 came second with five badges for athlete, dressmaker, homemaker, pioneer and in world knowledge.

Other merit badge winners and their subjects were: Helen Black and Dorothea Fox, observer; Dorothy Puseman, housekeeper and cook; Rita Sullivan, housekeeper; Dorothy Rademacher, cook; Lydia Luthman and Ursula Merseberger, cook and cyclist; Ethel Poole, Peggy Glendenning and Mildred Hintemeyer, housekeeper; Grace Kaufman, Frieda Balk, scholarship; Margaret Sieber, child nurse; Virginia Tallon, health winner; Grace Spencer, pioneer; Grace Bruker, swimmer; Nancy Apollo, cook, home nurse; Helen Nestler, laundress, cook; Elizabeth Ryan, hostess, home nurse; Gloria Pandolfi, cook; Helen Beil, child nurse, housekeeper.

Miss Elizabeth Wehr, who was chairman of the court of awards, presented the merit badges and service stripes, and also distributed the badges to those Scouts who were eligible for a higher rank in Scouting.

Dorothea Halloran, who took the greatest number of merit badges, also secured her pin as a first-class Scout. Those winning second-class pins were Lieutenant Puseman, Grace Van Leuven, Eileen Gueth, Eleanor Sutton, Erna Puseman, Rose Pellerano, Elsie Weinacht, Alice Spiro, Lucille Hoagland, Peggy Ryan, Ruth Currie, Lucille McBride, Marion Spencer, Virginia Meehan and Helen Biel.

Those coming in as Tenderfoot Scouts or beginners were Dorothy Falber, Bertha Pirie, Carola Vitarius, Harriet Wallace, Jacqueline Larsen, Florence Anderson, Lottie Balk, Theresa Berkowitz, Gracy Burdy, Angelina Galla, Mildred O'Connor, Anna Puteska, Lucille Cassidy, Anne Doty, Phyllis Cornmillier, Josephine Presti, Dolores Traphagen, Margaret Conroy, Ruth Atwell, Gertrude Bischer, Mary Hack, Rita Kelly, Margaret Lemp, Olga Matrek, Grace McCormack, Nettie Marino, Mary Johnson, Dorothy O'Connor, Agnes Blue, Leonora Bresticker, Rita Roccasini, Anna Hendricks, Mildred Natale, Gladys O'Connor, Margaret Scott, Rene Reynnders, Helen Buthje, Dorothy Campbell, Marjorie Farrell, Helen Lydecker, Gertrude Scheidler, Florence Watchorn, Anna Pundt, Marjorie Wachter and Dorothy Gallagher.

Girl Scouts In Circus Hit

Hoboken Troops Have Parade an' All-Play To Full House

There is a family of 1,600 members that is like no other family in the world, the circus people of the "Greatest Show on Earth" and each spring they begin their season in New York City. Hoboken claims the distinction of having a group of several hundred members that have presented their own circus each spring for nine years, the Hoboken Girl Scouts, and Saturday seven troops united in giving two performances in the Waldheim-Stevens Forum, Garden street.

Incomparable equestrianism, gymnastic feats, the parade of the freaks and rare and curious animals were all a feature of the show, which played to a "full house," 400 people, for both the afternoon and evening performances. The circus parade, led by Scout band, Miss Anne Van Twisk, directing, consisted of a "congress of clowns," the entire parade surrendering to the tomfoolery of the clowns while the children, which took up a large part of the audience, greeted the paraders with great enthusiasm.

To make it more realistic, an organ-grinder, with the usual monkey perched on his shoulder, who passed the Forum on his meanderings, was immediately called in, to the great enjoyment of the youngsters and to the monkey too, who collected a large number of pennies in his little tin cup.

The auditorium was decorated to represent the "big top" with canvas and colored balloons. The Misses Elizabeth Weir and Violet Davey were in charge of the affair.

GIRL SCOUTS RANK HIGH IN RE-REGISTRATION

Hoboken Council 22 Percent Above National Normal

The Hoboken Girl Scout Council has surpassed by about 22 percent, the national normal for re-registration of members, it was announced last evening at the council meeting at the Waldheim-Stevens Forum. Miss Violet Davey, deputy commissioner, who made the announcement, has been preparing a table of records and statistics, which shows that this year the Hoboken Girl Scout troops re-registered 72 percent of their members, while the national normal for re-registration is around 50 percent, showing that the Hoboken turnover is decidedly lower than in other Girl Scout groups.

Miss Sadie Leinkauf, commissioner, presided at the meeting, and the calendar for 1935 was planned. It begins with the council card party, March 7; March 12 is national Scout birthday; May 20, the Hoboken Girl Scout circus, and June will be devoted to camping preparations.

The card party will be at the forum, with Miss Anna Van Twisk as chairman. There will be favors for high score, a door prize and refreshments. All the council members will assist the chairman, and Mrs. Nina Hatfield will be in charge of prizes; Miss Violet Davey and Miss Elizabeth Weir.

GIRL SCOUTS HOST TO THEIR PARENTS

Band Members Score Big Hit On "Father and Mother" Night.

A "Father and Mother Night" supper and entertainment, given last night by the Hoboken Girl Scouts band at the Waldheim-Stevens Forum, 916 Garden street, drew an attendance of more than 100 parents of the young musicians.

Among the guests were Miss Sadie Leinkauf, the girls' Scout commissioner; Deputy Commissioner Ida Housman, and Librarian Mrs. Nina Hatfield, who is a member of the Scout Council. Captains of a number of Girl Scout troops in the city were also present.

The girls of the band had prepared a tasty supper for their parents, and after the meal presented a diversified program of entertainment. During the evening short talks on the values of scouting programs were given by Commissioner Leinkauf and her associates.

A song of welcome by the entire band opened the entertainment program. The welcome address was by Dorothea Halloran. This was followed by a tap dance by Doris Hoey and Helen Kaufman, two talented members of the corps.

Virginia Sheridan gave a recitation, after which Grace Spencer sang "The Man on the Flying Trapeze." A five quartet comprising Peggy Ryan, Dorothea Halloran, Lucille Hoagland and Doris Hoey drew applause with their offering. Aileen Burke followed with songs, after there was a recitation by Charlotte Halloran.

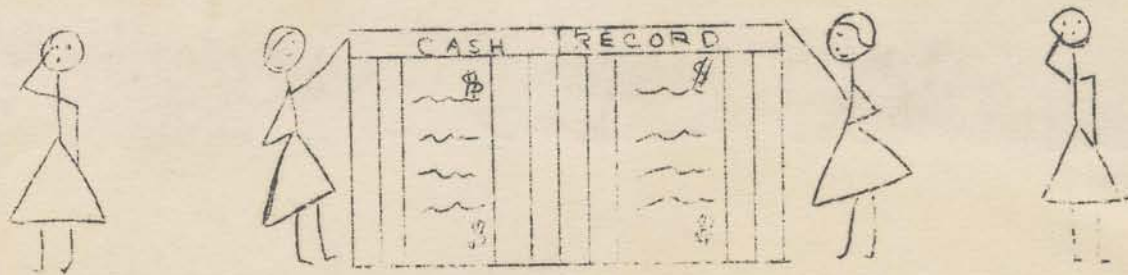

A specialty song number was effectively presented by Antoinette Lansevere, Rose Pasquale, Marie Baxter, Alice Doster and Lucille Friehe. A specialty solo was sung by Elizabeth Ryan. Songs by the entire band were followed by the single quartet and taps, by Mary Cornelisse, Lucille Friehe, Rose Pasquale, Alice Doster and Marie Baxter.

The committee of Girl Scouts which handled arrangements for the fair comprised Dorothea Halloran, Genevieve Neumeyer, Helen Kaufman, and Josephine Smithson. Anna Twisk is drum major of the band.

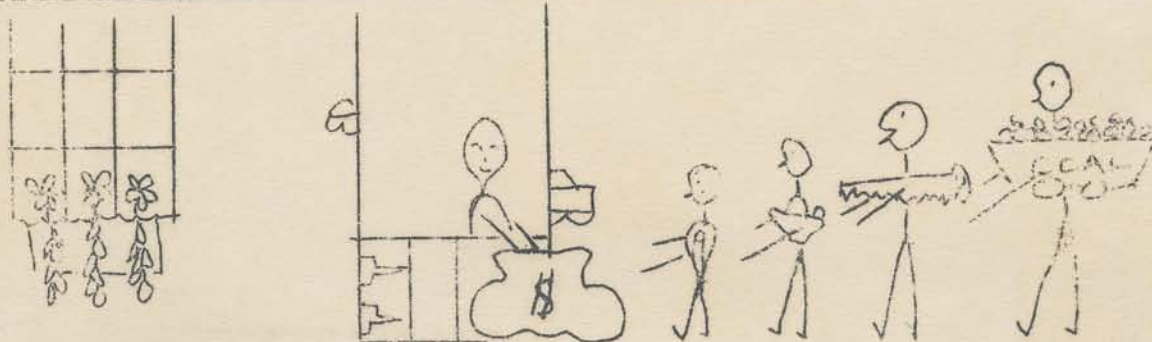

The girls hope to make this parents' night an annual event, and if the success attending this initial venture can be taken as any criterion, the affair should prove one of the outstanding items of their yearly calendar of events.

Girl Scouts' Staff Re-Elected

Hoboken Council Adds Member—Enjoy Dinner in Historic Castle Stevens

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Hoboken Girl Scout Council and Girl Scout Officers' Association was held last evening at Castle Stevens after a dinner also served in the historic castle.

One new member, Miss Theresa Rabold, was welcomed to the council, and the staff of officers was re-elected. It includes Miss Sadie T. Leinkauf, commissioner, Miss Ida Housman and Miss Violet Davey, deputy commissioners; Miss Elizabeth Wehr, treasurer, and Miss Olga Gosch, secretary.

A report was read on the national convention of Girl Scouts in Boston at which the Hoboken council was represented by Mrs. John Fife, who is spending the winter in Cambridge. She sent in an entertaining account of the sessions to be read at last night's meeting.

Miss Olga Gosch reported on the regional meeting held last week in Englewood, and the annual financial reports also were given.

The date of the annual Christmas party was set for the afternoon of December 22. It will be as usual at the Forum and the children of the local institutions will be guests.

There will be the marionette play by Mrs. Edith Ackley, and Christmas carols and gifts for visitors.

Members of the council present included Miss Leinkauf, Miss Ida Housman, Mrs. Richard Beyer, Miss Violet Davey, Mrs. Nina Hatfield, Miss Anna Van Twisk, Miss Olga Gosch, Miss Marie Kerns, Miss Elizabeth Wehr and Miss Teresa Rabold.

GIRL SCOUTS GIVE CHRISTMAS PARTY

Children of the Mary Stevens Hammond Home, the Memorial Day Nursery, Hoboken Lodge of Elks crippled wards and boys and girls of the Tuberculosis Clinic, all of Hoboken, made merry at a Christmas party given for them on Saturday afternoon by the Hoboken Girl Scouts in the Philip Waldheim-Stevens Forum, 918 Garden street.

Two large, illuminated trees were on the stage and Santa Claus (Miss Cora Besson) came and distributed gifts. For the girls there were dolls that had been dressed by the Scout Officers' Association and bags of candy, and the boys received toy airplanes and bags of candy.

The trees were not lighted until after a short play, entitled "The Grumpy Santa Claus," was given by a group of Girl Scouts. Those who took part in this were Gertrude Widmer, Virginia Sheridan, Gloria Pandolfi, Helen Leyendecker, Dorothy Campbell, Gertrude Scheidler, Helen Buthje, Alice Malufsky, Florence Watchorn, Florence Braemer, Veronica Elling, Elizabeth Ryan, Ruth Melee and Iona O'Brien. All were in costume and the scene was a toy shop.

Those who sang carols were Dorothea Halloran, Ursula Merseburger, Lydia Luthman, Virginia Sheridan, Gertrude Widmer and Elizabeth Ryan. Miss Marie Kern was at the piano.

An enjoyable feature of the program was the puppet show given by pupils of Public School No. 6, under the direction of Principal Harry Keefe.

There was a short address of welcome by Benjamin Schloss, a member of the board of directors of the Forum, and general carol singing for which the words were shown on a screen.

Children who came from the Mary Stevens Hammond Home were accompanied by Mrs. Clinton, the matron; crippled wards of the Hoboken Lodge of Elks by Mrs. Herman Prehn, their nurse; the Memorial Day Nursery children by Mrs. Kathleen Edmunds, and those of the Hoboken Tuberculosis Clinic by Mrs. Catherine O'Hare and Miss O'Brien. Miss Sadie Leinkauf, the Scout commissioner, was also present as were other officers.

Later in the afternoon the Scout council and officers had an informal coffee party.

Dear Sadie:

It was a great joy to see you in Hoboken but then you need not be reminded that an evening with you is always great fun.

My colleagues have been told in no mean terms of the lovely evening, for never have I been to a celebration done with more distinction and character. The school superintendent was a charming companion and I feel that his acknowledging that the Girl Scouts could serve a purpose which the public schools are not in a position to give, was most heartening.

Remember me to your sister and greet the superintendent for me and all my other friends. With the hope of seeing you soon.

Sing together "Happy Birthday Dear Girl Scouts"

INTRODUCTION

Happy Birthday Greetings
Twenty five years have passed
We'll now recall some things we've done
In these years that have flown so fast.

H

Here we all are gathered
Recalling once again
The happy days we spent together
And talked as friend to friend.

A lot of time has passed us by
Since we last saw some of you
We have a kitchen and 2 meeting rooms
In our Scout House all painted anew.

P

Perhaps you remember Miss Betty Wehr
She is serving her country at war
Dot von Seggern is a Navy Nurse,
We could also list many more.
I do not remember her
But I guess all you folks do
Army Nurse Caroline Avila
Who tonight is here with us too.

A promise for tomorrow
For at least 25 years more
To keep our program of scouting alive
Continuing in the work we adore.

Y

Yesterday has passed us by
But before we step ahead
We pause and toast the people
Who so willingly have led.

B

The Band has grown as you have heard
It is now complete with bells
New fifes and drums and bugles
Its own progress story it tells.

I

In the years we have spent together
We gathered memories by the score
In the years that shall come tomorrow
We hope we may gather some more.

R

Rallies we have twice a year
To give Scouts the awards they've won
This year "WAC" Lt. van Brussel
Was here to join in the fun.

T

True time waits for no one
Scouts differ not from the rest
But with passing of time we feel
We have certainly passed the test.

H

Honors that are due to folks
Would take a year to mention
But our ex-Commissioner Miss Leinkauf
Deserves some special attention.

D

Deeds that have been done for us
By some of our friends so true
Couldn't possible be listed now
But thanks to each of you.

A Girl Scout Birthday Party
A reunion with friends of old
Will have a special title
When our last record is told.

You know this is our Birthday
And though our paths may sever
This fact you will remember
THAT A SCOUT IS A SCOUT FOREVER.

CLOSING

Our Greeting has been delivered
It is a Birthday wish sincere
To every friend and Girl Scout
Who tonight is gathered here.

Sing together "Happy Anniversary Dear Girl Scouts."

Christmas time is here again
And so once more we too
Will have our Christmas party--
With a special treat for you!

Santa Claus is coming!
We know he will be here.
And he's expecting all our friends
To be with us this year.

Please join us at the Scout House
On the 21st. of December--
That's a Thursday, at 7:30 P.M. 1944.
We hope you will remember!!!

1944

Although a party we can't have
As is our custom every year,
We really need your help again.
Now that "Shower Time" is here.

Each Girl Scout and each Brownie
If they can, and we hope they may,
Bring just a small remembrance
To the Scout House for Shower Day.

Either a roll of paper towels,
Or a dish cloth bright and new
Or else a gay new dish towel,
Are suggested gifts for you.

We did not use the words "You Must"
A simple "Please" we say
That if you can, we'd like you to Make this a "Shower Day".

SIXTH WAR LOAN NATION-WIDE CLIPPING SERVICE
U. S. TREASURY IN COOPERATION WITH THE

THE NEED FOR A NATION-WIDE NEWSPAPER CLIPPING SERVICE

The Treasury Department does not have in its budget an appropriation for a complete Nation-wide Newspaper Clipping Service. However, in conducting any one of the Treasury's War Loan Campaigns, there is a definite need for a Nation-wide Clipping Service which covers not only large and small cities but rural communities as well. Newspaper clippings tell the story of the Drive's progress and the various promotional methods and devices being successfully used. This information is needed for national publicity use and for the guidance of people in other towns during the Drive. It will be valuable in planning future Treasury Department Campaigns.

With this idea in mind, the Education Section of the War Finance Division has asked the Girl Scouts to set up for them such a reporting system through a Nation-wide Clipping Service.

THE PLAN

The plan for the Nation-wide Newspaper Clipping Service would be to ask each Girl Scout local organization to cull the newspapers, (including school publications), in their communities for a period of six weeks for publicity material and promotional news in connection with the 6th War Loan. This service would start two weeks before the Drive opens and continue to the end of the 6th War Loan.

Each Girl Scout Council will be furnished with six Official 6th War Loan Nation-wide Newspaper Clipping Service envelopes, one envelope to be used each week in mailing in their clippings direct to Education Section, War Finance Division, Washington 25, D. C. The Girl Scouts should clip news items from their local papers only. Out-of-town papers will be serviced by Girl Scouts in the city where those papers are published. In this way duplication will be held to a minimum.

HOW THE PLAN SHOULD OPERATE

The Girl Scouts will be asked to look for five types of 6th War Loan material as listed below:

- (1) Copies of all sponsored War Bond ads appearing in the newspaper pertaining to the 6th War Loan.
- (2) Copies of local editorials appearing in the newspaper pertaining to the 6th War Loan.
- (3) General news items found in all sections of the paper such as Front Page stories and feature articles, Pictorial news, stories on the Society Page, and stories on the Sports Page in connection with athletic activities for War Bonds. Any stories on Schools and Youth Groups in the community.
- (4) Cartoons or Comic Strips featuring 6th War Loan promotion.
- (5) (Optional). Samples of other War Bond material being used locally such as milk bottle collars, etc.

If possible, divide each batch of clippings into two lots: those dealing with school or young people's activities; and the others. Mark each set accordingly.

Clippings should be sent at weekly intervals, even if there are only a few, because this will permit the information to find use while the Drive is still on.

Put only one copy of each clipping in each shipment. Send the master set to Washington, D. C.

Be sure that every clipping is marked with the name of the paper from which it was clipped, name of town and state, and date of publication. Attach each clipping to a special slip of paper containing this information. (See Sample Copy)

GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL ENTERTAINS LEADER'S GROUP

Event Is Held at Meyers Hotel—Other Social Items of Interest in Hoboken

Hoboken Girl Scout Council entertained the Scout Leader's Association last night at a dinner party in Meyers Hotel, Hudson street.

This has been a custom of many years standing, only every year the group reverses and entertains the other.

Among those present was Miss Eileen Duncombe, the scout commissioner.

There was entertainment during the dinner and decorations were made by the committee on decorations.

The general committee for the evening included Miss Elizabeth Wehr, chairman of arrangements; Mrs. Frank Abarno, Mrs. Louis Blenderman, Mrs. Nina Hatfield, decorations; Miss Violet Davey, Dr. Dorothea Guinther, Miss Anna Van Twisk, entertainment.

Hoboken's 500 Girl Scouts and Brownies Need More Leaders

NOV-'46

Local women interested in the welfare and advancement of the community's young people could heed no summons more worthy than the call for Girl Scout leaders which has been made in Hoboken.

For 27 years the Girl Scout movement has been marked by enviable progress here, but now executives of the organization find that this progress is being slowed down by an inadequate number of young women to direct the activities of the more than 500 Girl Scouts and Brownies in the city.

It has been pointed out that a great number of youngsters are clamoring for membership, and many more troops could be organized if the need for leaders could be met.

Since the organization meeting October 29, 1919, in the auditorium of Public School No. 1, the Hoboken Girl

Hoboken Council has had its own building in the rear of the Waldheim-Stevens Forum.

Following its enlargement in September, 1938, with money raised by a special drive in the spring of that year, the headquarters has been in operation day and evening throughout the Scout year. Facilities include meeting rooms, lavatory, cloak room, office and completely equipped kitchen.

Meanwhile, the concrete paved yard to the north of the Forum has been replaced by a beautiful garden, where many varieties of trees, shrubs, flowers and ferns create an atmosphere of peace and loveliness throughout the year.

Since the proper guidance of our teen-agers is more important now than at any time in the history of this nation, the need for planned leadership is imperative. We feel confident that women will

Members of Scout Leaders Association Are Guests—Junior League Has Tea Dance—Martha De Gennaro Becomes Bride

Hoboken Girl Scout Council gave a merry Christmas party last night in the Scout House, for which members of the Scout Leader's Association were guests.

The fireplace was decorated with a train of reindeer and Santa Claus in his sleigh, and there was a large illuminated tree. In the dining room, there was another lighted tree, and centerpieces for the tables were miniature reindeer, drawing Santa in sleighs. Favors were small Christmas trees, fastened to baskets of candy. Miss Eileen Duncombe, scout commissioner, presided.

Carols were sung, led by Miss Roselyn Holmes, with Miss Helen Kaufman at the piano, and games were under the supervision of Dr. Dorothy Halloran Guinther, and Miss Helen Wehr. Surprise gifts were exchanged.

Decorations were in charge of Miss Margaret Falconer and Miss Maude Burnett. Serving on the refreshment committee were Miss Anna Van Twisk, Miss Violet Davey, Miss Vera Schermall, Mrs. Agnes Linder, Miss Miriam Rothchild, Mrs. Louis Blendermann, Mrs. Nina Hatfield.

Miss Leinkauf Dies; Long in School System

Miss Sadie F. Leinkauf, secretary for 30 years to four successive superintendent of schools in Hoboken and the guiding spirit in the city's educational system, died at 9 o'clock last night in her home, 529 River street, Hoboken.

Except for the past year, when she was largely invalided by complications from an ailment of several years duration, she was active in many of the city's civic and all of its cultural affairs.

WAS WOMAN OF OUTSTANDING ABILITY

Recognized early as a woman of outstanding ability, Miss Leinkauf was offered an opening in politics by the late Mayor Patrick Griffin, but chose to remain in her chosen field of education.

She first started her career on December 1, 1901, with an appointment to the school system and taught in Public Schools 3 and 8. Her first position outside of Hoboken before that was in Union City, where she taught from 1899 to 1901.

On September 21, 1911, during the term of Mayor George H. Steil, Miss Leinkauf was appointed the assistant by A. J. Demarest, superintendent of Hoboken Schools. Thereafter she served under Joseph F. Brandt, Dr. Daniel S. Kealey and Thomas F. McFeely, who now holds the office.

In those 30 years as assistant Miss Leinkauf was commonly regarded as stable, continuing guide of the city's educational system. She coached a number of the school principals and during the illness of the late Dr. Kealey and while he was occupied on other educational work, acted as administrator of the city's schools.

Miss Leinkauf was graduated from old Hoboken High School and the Trenton Normal School. Once she started teaching, her chief activities, outside of the schools, centered on the Girl Scouts, the Zonta Club, the Waldheim-Stevens Forum, the Hoboken Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Hoboken Branch of the Salvation Army.

Miss Leinkauf was a charter member of the Zonta Club. In that club her activities were in committees, and she attended a number of national meets as the local representative. She also served on several national committees.

For a number of years she was chairman of the Hoboken Chapter of the American Red Cross, and was succeeded by Harold Wagner, when she was unable to attend to its arduous duties at the outbreak of World War II.

DIES

Miss Sadie Leinkauf

Miss Leinkauf was one of the founders of the Hoboken Girl Scouts. Its organization was effected October 19, 1919. Mrs. Caroline Wittpenn, who was one of the leading spirits in organizing the Girl Scouts, became its first commissioner, and Miss Leinkauf was made her deputy. Mrs. Wittpenn, however, retired from active leadership about a year later, and became honorary Scout commissioner. Miss Leinkauf took up the task of leadership about 1920, and served for 13 years.

When the Hoboken Chapter of the American Red Cross was organized in 1916, Miss Leinkauf was among the first to enroll, and became a member of its first executive board. This position she retained until 1941 when she was made vice chairman of the board.

When Edwin L. Ashton resigned in 1942, Miss Leinkauf became chairman, and in 1944 she was succeeded by Harold E. Wagner. It was known that failing health caused her to relinquish her many posts one by one within the past several years. In June, 1940, she was made a life member of the board.

For several years she was head of the advisory board of the Salvation Army in Hoboken. That post was also relinquished several years ago, and the place has since been filled by Charles Wester.

Anything that was of a cultural or educational nature strongly appealed to Miss Leinkauf.

This was demonstrated in the activities of the Waldheim-Stevens Forum. This building was erected and endowed by the late Philip Waldheim, for the purpose of creating an interest in culture and education. A feature was the promotion of a lecture course each winter on various subjects. Controversial subjects were not barred.

When the building was opened in 1925, Miss Leinkauf was made secretary to the board, though the liberalism that had marked its forums in its early years was no longer so manifest.

While Miss Leinkauf was still in good health and had the assistance of such liberal minds as the late Herman Geismar, the Forum attracted big crowds and was an important factor in the city's intellectual life. After M. Geismar's death and the failure of Miss Leinkauf's health, the Forum lost some of its interest for the public and drew progressively smaller audiences.

Miss Leinkauf is survived by a brother, Frank Leinkauf, and a sister, Miss Ethel Leinkauf, assistant librarian at Stevens Institute of Technology.

Funeral services will be held at 8 o'clock Monday night in the Applegate Funeral Home, 225 Washington street, Hoboken. Interment will take place at the convenience of the family.

Suggested Memorial to Miss Leinkauf, Outstanding Hoboken Civic Leader

The suggestion has been made that there be created some form of memorial to Miss Sadie Leinkauf, who will long be remembered for outstanding community service in Hoboken. She passed away last summer. Serving as secretary for a period of 30 years to various superintendents of education of the local public school system, she developed a keen interest in the development of youth, as was demonstrated by her leadership in the Girl Scout movement, among other things.

In addition to this she aided in furthering the cultural work of the Waldheim-Stevens Forum, a civic undertaking for adults. She also headed the local Red Cross Chapter, served on the advisory board of the Hoboken Salvation Army, and was one of the most active members of the Zonta Club, women's service organization. She gave further of her time to other civic undertakings such as the shade tree campaign, war fund drives, etc.

Miss Leinkauf having been a communicant of the Episcopal Holy Innocents Church, of which Rev. Edward P. Hooper is pastor, one suggestion is that a suitable memorial to her would be a specially designed window in this edifice. This, however, is something which would have to be left to the judgment of those who organize to carry out the memorial plan, should this eventually take form.

That the memorial idea has merit virtually everybody familiar with Miss Leinkauf's activities for the betterment of her home community will agree.

Miss Leinkauf, Whose Passing Means A Serious Loss to the Community

Long recognized as one of Hoboken's outstanding women, Miss Sadie Leinkauf, who passed away over the weekend, in addition to having served for 30 years as secretary to four successive superintendents of public schools, figured largely in other ways in the activities of her community. A graduate of the old Hoboken High School and the Trenton Normal School, her aptitude for the life work she had chosen soon demonstrated itself and, after teaching in Schools 3 and 8, she was appointed assistant to Superintendent A. J. Demarest, serving thereafter in like capacity to Joseph F. Brandt, Dr. Daniel S. Kealey and Thomas F. McFeely.

Because of her capacity and long experience, she played a major part in maintaining the high standards of the local public school system, each superintendent in turn profiting by her intimate knowledge of its needs and operations. Her services in this respect proved particularly valuable during the long illness of Dr. Kealey.

A woman who was heart and soul for everything that might benefit Hoboken, Miss Leinkauf gave much of her time and efforts to aiding civic causes. She was a leader in the movement to have the city beautified through the planting of shade trees, and through her work in this field plantings were made at most of the local schools.

She was a charter member of the Zonta Club, served for a number of years as chairman of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, was among the founders of the Hoboken Girl Scouts, and for several years head of the advisory board of the local Salvation Army. She also helped immeasurably in making the Waldheim-Stevens Forum an outstanding agency for local cultural advancement, having served as secretary of its board of managers.

Through her death the community loses a valued citizen and one whose memory will be long revered for what she accomplished for her community.

Pay Final Tribute to Miss Leinkauf

Hoboken city officials, including Mayor Bernard N. McFeely, his fellow commissioners, and many members of the school system, joined last night in paying final tribute to Miss Sadie F. Leinkauf, for 30 years secretary to four successive superintendents of schools in that city.

Miss Leinkauf, who died 9 o'clock Friday night at her home, 529 River street, Hoboken, will have a private funeral today. She was active in nearly all of the community's civic and social affairs but had been invalided during the past year by complications from an ailment of several years duration.

Rev. Edward P. Hooper, rector of Holy Innocents Church, Hoboken, which Miss Leinkauf attended, officiated at the services last night at the Applegate Funeral Home. He was assisted by Rev. Paul Thomson, of St. Stephen's Church, Providence, R. I., and formerly of Weehawken. The latter cleric's mother was a lifelong friend of the local educator. Participating in the services, too, were Mrs. F. De Bari, organist of Holy Innocents Church, and William Flusk, soloist of Our Lady of Grace R. C. Church.

Among the hundreds attending the religious rites were: Superintendent of Schools Thomas F. McFeely and Mrs. McFeely, John F. Lewis, secretary to the board of education; Clarence Coane, principal of No. 9 School; Philip Marnell, No. 8 School principal; James Bostick, business manager of the school board; Miss Elizabeth Toohey, assistant principal of School No. 3; Miss Eileen Duncomb, vice-principal of Joseph F. Brandt Junior High School, and Miss Genevieve Bach, psychiatrist of the Hoboken school system. Also present at the services were many senior faculty members of the city's schools and retired teachers.

Miss Leinkauf's teaching career began in 1889 when she was appointed to the Union City school system. She left that post in 1901 and came to Hoboken where she taught in Public Schools 3 and 8. She was recognized early as a woman of outstanding ability and the late Mayor Patrick Griffin offered her a position in politics. She declined, however, and remained in her chosen field of education.

During the term of Mayor George H. Stell, on September 21, 1916, Miss Leinkauf was appointed secretary by A. J. Demarest, superintendent of schools. Thereafter she held that post under Joseph F. Brandt, Dr. Daniel S. Kealey and Thomas F. McFeely, the present superintendent.

A graduate of the old Hoboken High School and Trenton Normal School, Miss Leinkauf devoted much time to the Girl Scout movement, Waldheim-Stevens Forum, Hoboken Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army. She was a charter member of the Zonta Club and represented that group several times at national conventions.

Miss Leinkauf's love for anything that was of a cultural or educational nature was demonstrated in the activities of the Waldheim-Stevens Forum. Erected and endowed by the late Philip Waldheim, the building was dedicated to creating interest in culture and education. A feature of the schedule was the promotion of a lecture course each winter on various subjects.

Miss Leinkauf was made secretary to the board when the building opened in 1925. The forum attracted large crowds during its early stages and formed an important factor in the city's intellectual life.

Surviving are a brother, Frank Leinkauf, and a sister, Miss Ethel Leinkauf, assistant librarian at Stevens Institute of Technology.

The funeral, which will be private, will be held today at the convenience of the family.

"GIRL SCOUTS
GO MARCHING ALONG"

Dear Friend of Girl Scouting:

The "March of Progress" is on the way
Girl Scouts naturally fall in line.
They've been learning through work and play
That citizenship can be something fine.

Something challenging, something hard,
Something that seeks new ways to find,
Something precious that all must guard,
Something that calls on heart and mind.

Lessons like these the Girl Scouts learn
In their Little House that you help support.
We'll keep them working; will you in turn
Replenish our funds which are sadly short?

Our roof is leaking, our oil is low,
Our curtains are only strings across space;
The wintry winds are beginning to blow;
We throw ourselves upon your grace.

Mrs. Louis F. Blendermann Named Commissioner, Hoboken Girl Scouts

Mrs. Louis F. Blendermann of Hoboken was elected commissioner last night by Hoboken Girl Scout Council at headquarters. Mrs. Blendermann is president of Hoboken Woman's Club.

Others elected were: Miss Eileen Duncombe, deputy commissioner; Miss Miriam Rothschild, treasurer, and Miss E. M. Burnette, secretary. All officers were elected for one-year terms.

Thirtieth anniversary of Girl Scouting will be celebrated tonight with open house at Girl Scout headquarters. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Frank Adarno is in charge of decorations for the event. Mrs. Blendermann is chairman of the entertainment committee. The Misses Helen and Elizabeth Wehr will be in charge of refreshments.

Record Turnout Marks Hoboken Memorial Day

MAY 30 47

Led over almost its entire route by Mayor Fred M. DeSapio and the City Commissioners, Hoboken's Memorial Day parade, marked by a record turnout of both marchers and spectators, was an impressive tribute yesterday to the nation's war dead. Exercises followed at Hoboken and Flower Hill Cemeteries.

Veterans of three wars were among the estimated 3,000 persons who paraded in reverent homage to the memory of fallen heroes of America's battles. Joined by representatives of many civic groups, they walked through lanes of applauding thousands over a line of march that took them past all the city's war memorials. Scores of the marching vets were in uniform.

With Mayor De Sapio at the head of the colorful column were City Commissioners Stephen E. Mongiello, Michael M. Borelli, George J. Fitzpatrick and John J. Grogan. All along the line of march they were roundly applauded by onlookers who recognized appearance of the city fathers in the line of march as the first gesture of its kind in a number of years.

Grand marshal of the parade for a second year was Harold Katz, of Hoboken Post No. 55, Jewish War Veterans, 25-year-old World War II veteran who is a former Army first lieutenant; his aides included Fred Williams, of the Sons of Union Veterans; Charles Giani, of the O'Hara-Goldberg Chapter, Disabled American War Veterans; Frank Schielzo, of Hoboken Post No. 107, American Legion; Captain John Sheehy Jr., of Wallace Chapter, American Veterans Committee; Cornelius Kelly, of Mohr-Christie Post No. 158, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Dr. Milton Silon, of the Hoboken Jewish War Veterans.

gray uniforms, preceded the Mohr-Christie Post marchers. Ladies of the post's Cpl. Arthur Duffy Auxiliary, Madeline Lavagnino, president, at their head, made a fine showing.

LEGION HAS TWO CONTINGENTS

Members of the Hoboken American Legion made up two contingents, the first being led by Col. Fred H. Hauser, who spoke at subsequent memorial services sponsored by the post and held at World War I monument in Elysian Park, and the second headed by Matthew J. Carlin, post commander. Red Cross women, nurses' aides and the Red Cross mobile equipment were also in this division, marching music for which was provided by the post's military band and drum and bugle corps. Especially noteworthy was this latter outfit, made up entirely of World War II vets whose military marching precision bespoke a still vivid memory of their service training.

Pretty drum majorettes were again in striking evidence leading the green and white uniformed drum and bugle corps of the Joseph F. Brandt Junior High School, behind which marched the Jewish War Veterans led by Commander Bittman.

They were followed by the Playgrounds' drum and bugle corps, leading the Boy Scout troops commanded by Assistant Scout Com-

HOBOKEN GIRL SCOUTS TO STAGE FAIR NOVEMBER 22

Each Troop to Have Booth Displaying Various Articles for Sale—Miss Von Seggern Will Supervise Event—Other Social Items

Hoboken Girl Scouts, leaders and council members are busy these days getting ready for the fair they will have on November 22 in the Scout House, 918 Garden street.

An exception is being made this year in that the Scouts are not limiting their sale to just cake and food as in the past. Every troop will have a stall of different articles. Miss Dorothy Von Seggern, captain of Troop 3 and president of the Leaders' Association, is general supervisor.

Troops 1 and 4 will have the food stall where homemade cake, cookies, candy, relishes and salads will be on sale. Troop 3 will have a white elephant stall and a kitchen booth will be in charge of Troop 5.

Visitors to the fair can make merry at the game booths supervised by Troops 6 and 12 and popular snacks, frankfurters, rolls and soda will be dispensed by Troop 7. Tea and coffee also will be served at this booth.

Attractions for children will be found at Troop 9 stall and books will be on sale at the booth in charge of Troop 10. Among other things offered for sale will be lapel pins and handkerchiefs made by Troop 13.

Leaders have been sewing, knitting and crocheting, to make attractive things for their handkerchief stall while the Scout Council is busy dressing dolls.

Scout Commissioner Eileen Duncombe will be present to greet the visitors.

Hoboken Girl Scouts Take Milford Camping Trip

Girl Scouts of Senior Troop 214 of Hoboken took part in a holiday weekend camping trip to Milford, Conn. They left by auto Friday night and returned last night.

Most of the holiday was spent canoeing, hiking, roller skating, bike riding, singing and telling stories around the camp. Mrs. Robert Heath, captain, was in charge, and she and her husband and Miss Ann Van Twisk acted as chaperones.

Girls taking part were the Misses Anna Olsen, Regina Alexander, Martha Krieshe, Dora Geisler, Joan Fowler, Joan Haas, Rosemarie Miller, Florence Reilly, Nancy Schindler, Harriet Shubin, Theresa Byrnes, Helen Solecitto, Helen and Barbara Burke.

Hoboken, New Jersey.

Dear Miss van Twisk:

Permit me to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to you and your fine Girl Scout Band. I know that it was not without difficulty and inconvenience that you journeyed to our school in such inclement weather. It is just that spirit of civic cooperation that inspires young and old to cheer the activities of the Scouts. I am certain that the Girl Scouts' presence, as well as their grand musical renditions, inspired the audience in the same manner as it inspired the persons on the guest platform.

Kindly extend my thanks to those fine, young ladies in uniform and assure them that their generosity must be rewarded with future successes.

Very truly yours,

Thomas F. Mc Feely

Girl Scouts Don Overalls, Slacks And Mount Ladder to Scrub House

Exterior Looks Bright as Addition to Hoboken Building
—Shower Guests Amazed

There isn't much that a Girl Scout can't accomplish. Visitors to the kitchen shower of the Hoboken Girl Scouts, Saturday afternoon, inquired if the entire outside of the Scout house had been painted, because it all looked so bright and fresh. They were informed that it had been scrubbed.

Armed with scrubbing brushes, cloths, brooms and plenty of soap flakes and attired in overalls or slacks the Girl Scout officers had mounted ladders, and spent many hours in the early fall scrubbing the entire outside walls of their house. The result is that the old part of the house looks as bright and fresh as the new addition.

The cupboards of the new kitchen in the Girl Scout house on the Forum grounds were well stocked Saturday, when in response to the invitation of Mrs. Louis Rothchild, council members, officers, Scout mothers and other friends participated in the gift shower to fit out the kitchen and cupboards. There were large cooking pots; glassware, mixing bowls, long handled spoons for cooking, paring knives, among the gifts, and a pile of dish towels and dish cloths. In addition there were soap and cleaning powders, brushes and brooms and other paraphernalia for keeping the house in order. All were in red, in harmony with the red dotted curtains and red covered tables with which the girls have fitted up the kitchen.

Miss Violet Davey, Scout commissioner, greeted the visitors; Mrs. Rothchild and her daughters, the Misses Miriam and Lillian Rothchild who are Scout officers, provided and served refreshments, with the assistance of members of the Officers' Association.

Among the guests was Miss Clara Essers, deputy Scout commissioner of North Hudson, who represented the North Hudson Council. Mrs. Louis Immen, president of the Memorial Day Nursery Board, and Miss Lillie Leonhard, its executive secretary; and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beyer, who are both nursery board and Scout council members.

Visitors were invited to inspect the new addition to the house main room which will be used chiefly by the older girls. The entire interior of the building has been painted over by Louis Immen. The walls are cream colored and the woodwork buff, making the rooms bright and cheerful. The new kitchen boasts a gas stove, an ice-box, service counters, two service windows and three wide windows. The service windows proved their value Saturday as the refreshments were passed out of one and empty dishes returned through the other.

HOBOKEN GIRL SCOUT TROOP PRESENTS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Troop 3, Hoboken Girl Scouts, gave a Christmas program last night in Scout House, 916 Garden street, at which their parents, friends and other Scouts were present.

The program was as follows: Military tap solo by Bertha Wendt; military drill, by Frieda Bemke, Janet Darello, Anne Doty, Phylis Cronmiller, Ruth Otten, Clara Konda, Marion Kiernan and Marjorie Wachter; tap and song duet, Margaret Conroy and Dolores Traphagen; piano solos, Erna Pusemann.

Special features were: "The Top Shop," for which the parts were taken by Joan Fowler, Adelaide Castellini, Florence Lowe, Anna Alexander, Cecelia Roarty, Angelina Salinardo, Myrtle Sweeney, Clara Kon-da, Bertha Wendt, Shirley Hamburg, Annamarie Siefert, Anne Doty, Virginia Hamilton, Alvild Greco, Lottie Balk, Irene Keegan, Theresa Anderson, Dolores Traphagen.

Parts in the tap routine were taken by Lottie Balk, Sylvia Puteska, Florence Anderson, Marie Falker, Lucille Cassidy and Phylis Miller.

There also was a one-act Girl Scout play, entitled "A Grumpy Santa Clause," and the girls in the cast were Betty La Guardia, Sylvia Puteska, Marie Raulfs, Ione Stange, Frieda Bemke, Martha Nebels, Shirley Hamburg, Adelaide Castellini and Anna Smith.

Christmas carols were sung and refreshments served. Miss Helen Kaufman is captain of the troop.

But the church records were ransacked and no clue to any body that might possibly be that of the Irish patriot was ever found therein. According to another account, the interment was in the Protestant churchyard of Glasnevin. Some members of the family maintain that it was hidden in the family vault at St. Peter's.

The resting place of Emmet's remains is today as deep a mystery as it was a century ago.

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN

In 1884 Anne Nelson, 14, and Ellen Rose, eight years old, girlhood chums, came from Sweden to join relatives in America. They were separated and met again in Salt Lake City only this year. Then they discovered that for nearly the entirely 52 years they had lived in Utah within a few miles of each other.

IDAHO WELCOMES GIRL SCOUTS

Mr. CHURCH. Mr. President, in a little more than 2 weeks from now, nearly 10,000 of the finest girls in the Nation—together with their leaders—will converge upon the northern part of my State of Idaho, for the 1965 Senior Girl Scout Roundup.

We in Idaho have long been noted for the warmth of our welcome to visitors and for the persons of note who take advantage, summer and winter, of Idaho's magnificent north lake country.

But not a single person who has spent time with us in the past, has honored us more with his or her presence than will any of the thousands of Girl Scouts who will pitch their tents at Farragut State Park, beginning July 15.

An article written by Phyllis Lee Levin and published in the June 27 issue of the New York Times magazine tells us something of the general character of these young ladies. The last sentence of her article states the faith I have that the teenager of today is far better than is often believed.

I ask unanimous consent that Miss Levin's article, entitled "Good Scouts All," be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the article was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

GOOD SCOUTS ALL

(By Phyllis Lee Levin)

Come July 15, 9,000 teenage girls will pitch 6,000 tents in the rugged hills of Farragut, Idaho, for Roundup, a kind of summit conference of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. In preparation for this get-together, most of the girls filled out a comprehensive questionnaire studded with searching queries about their lives and thoughts. One cheerful conclusion may be drawn from their responses—and that is if the future depends on these teenagers in green, then congratulations are in order all around. It may well be that campfire strategy will save the world from going up in smoke.

These Girl Scouts, 15 through 17, if they are to be taken at their word are dedicated to higher education, helping others, serving in the Peace Corps, eradicating prejudice, enjoying folk music, dating without going steady, earning their own spending money, and generally doing good. The teenager who emerges from this survey, a composite of girls from all 50 States and from all types of homes, is serious, purposeful, industrious. To know her is undoubtedly to know the teenager next door—and possibly to help understand the one in the next room.

This teenage girl has a surprising earning capacity and is not afraid to roll up her sleeves and get her hands dirty. She has earned some or all of the cost of attending Roundup. Tutoring math, babysitting, working as a mother's helper, washing cars, mowing lawns, life guarding are just some of the ways she accumulated it.

Her hobbies are varied—from knitting, sewing and cooking to collecting stamps, coins and fossils. She is musical, to put it softly. She and her fellow Scouts will arrive in Farragut laden with 1,375 guitars, 1,156 ukeleles, 211 harmonicas, 199 recorders, 84 bongos plus an armful of banjos, flutes, piccolos, tonettes, kazoos and assorted homemade instruments. Musical tastes run from and to the Beatles and back to folk music and Peter, Paul, and Mary. She dislikes songs about violence and car accidents.

Fashion and its vagaries spurred the girls to outspoken opinions. They loath too tight and too short clothes, think you get to show your knees enough in bathing suits. The pale look, long hair that hangs in your face, heavy mascara and teased hair are intolerable. Mohair and anything madras are the teenage equivalent of white mink and Pucci prints.

Of all the subjects touched on by the survey, dating elicited the most surprising—and comforting—answers. The teenager, at least according to these Girl Scouts, has had her fill of going steady. She likes dating with another couple and observes cheerfully that "more teens are going to chaperoned affairs." She prefers going out strictly for fun, and enjoys teen centers. She obviously is pathetically on the run from serious involvements. Steady dating was almost tediously explored. "I don't think going steady or dating before 14 is good," one said. Another is against going steady but not really meaning it or dating for social prestige. Beach parties and hootenannies are preferred by far to parking or parties with no games or french kissing (you asked for it).

During Girl Scout Senior Roundup 1965, the days and nights from July 15 to July 28 will be filled with logrolling demonstrations and tree-climbing contests, beach picnics, and campfire sessions and tours of the Kaniksu National Forest. Gifts will be exchanged, songs sung, friendships begun. And when the final hamburger is charred and the last tent folded, probably the most memorable aspect of Roundup will have been its forums. These are organized discussions on topics that the girls declared of interest.

And those topics? Very much on the mind of the teenage Scouts who will gather this July are juvenile delinquency, curfews, driving ages, the role of a good wife at home and at the office, and the Negro's problems. Incredibly sophisticated, yet astonishingly naive, these youngsters want forums on the Peace Corps, the situation in Vietnam, the spread of communism. They also want to know what boys are like in different parts of the country. They want to discuss drug addiction, birth control, world peace, the space age and how to achieve a better understanding between teenagers and their parents. They worry about whether they are truly patriotic, are puzzled by movie censorship, want to know how to prepare for college other than scholastically.

If these 9,000 youngsters are united by a single dream, it is to be constructive and to help others. How typical are these girls? How strongly has scouting motivated them? The survey shows that 51.7 percent of these Girl Scouts think it has influenced them in their choice of job or field of work. One girl wrote: "Scouting helped me realize that helping others is not only important, but also fun and beneficial for the helper and the person helped." Another concluded that scouting taught her a deeper patriotism and feeling of responsibility to my country. An earnest teenager wrote that she had chosen medicine as her career, because "I want to do all I can for mankind." And still another: "I'm joining the Peace Corps to help others."

This portrait of the 15-through-17-year-old girl may impress some as being so wholesome as to be unbelievable. With only a single disquieting note—one teenager declares herself not only in favor of whip and chill deserts but also partial to peanut butter milkshakes—one wonders where the teenage problems are.

It is true that the girls are handpicked lot. Out of every 10 applicant Scouts, only 1 gets to go to roundup. The roundup group is selected on the basis of area representation, camping skills, adjustability and independence. It must not be forgotten, however, that the members of roundup represents all social and economic levels of American society.

How then do we rationalize that contrary to cloudy predictions, today's teenager is tomorrow's moral, sensible and responsible adult? Does this Girl Scout survey hold an ounce of realism? Yes, indeed it does.

Drawing on her 40 years of scouting experience, Margaret Chapman, director of the program department of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., explains: "The youngster who continues in scouting is likely to be more serious in purpose and more idealistic. After all, that's what we've been plugging for all these years. But, Scout or not," says Miss Chapman, "the rank-and-file teenager is a better character than he or she is being given credit for—a far better character."

"To further a voluntary partnership of girls and adults towards a stronger development of the spiritual value of the Girl Scout way of life as a bulwark of democracy."

Our little house is open to all troops at all times - as a meeting place; as a center for extra-troop fun, - boy-girl parties, candy pulls, sing songs, movies, etc. - as a center for leader and council activities. It is our home in as much as it gives us all the facilities for homemaking and in as much as every youthful and adult member of our organization feels free to come to it whenever they choose and to invite their friends to share it with them whenever they are able.

This year many improvements have been made. The "big blow" in November damaged our roof considerably but aside from that major expense we feel that the cost of upkeep has been small indeed in proportion to the unity the house has brought to all in scouting. A real partnership between girls and adults has been possible because of our common meeting place. Council members dropping in for their monthly meeting see troops in action and get to know personally the girls who belong to their organization. International friendship is quickened because all brownies and scouts have a hand in packing overseas bags. A desire to go to camp is created by the year-round use of our outdoor fireplace with its three grates and by the use of our games chest which teaches some games best played only in the great out-of-doors. "Well when you go to camp" introduces many of our house programs.

In 1951 we hope to strengthen our work all along the line. New leaders are getting a special

Dear Miss Van Twisk:

I understand that through you the Hoboken Girl Scout Band made an appearance at the merchant's war bond rally last night at Third and Washington Streets and that they will again be on hand for the rally planned for this coming Tuesday evening at First and Washington Streets. We of course greatly appreciate this fine cooperation and hasten to express, through you, to the individual members of the band our sincere thanks for a job well done. Incidentally, Mr. Greear tells me that the band looked exceptionally well in their new uniforms.

Very truly yours,

For several years the Girl Scouts of Hoboken have wished to bring you a pictorial report of their activities but never could justify the spending of money, - so generously contributed by their friends, - for such expensive publicity. This year our National Organization gave us copies of its Annual Report and we are delighted to send you your copy so that you may see the type of organization you help to support and the things in which Girl Scouts all over the country are participating.

So that you may be informed as to just what happened to the money contributed and earned locally last year our treasurer's report follows:

RECEIPTS		EXPENDITURES
Drive	493.75	Light and Heat	227.54

Dear Miss Van Twisk:

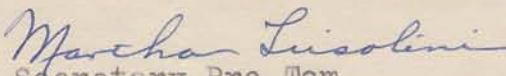

We wish to extend our thanks and appreciation to you, Miss Grace Spencer, Miss Dolores Peck and the Girl Scout Band on their splendid cooperation and enthusiasm at the Bond Rally Tuesday June ninth.

Without their valid support we are certain the rally would not have been as successful as it was.

The Retail Bureau of the Hoboken Chamber of Commerce wishes you to feel, you may call on them at any time and be sure of their cooperation in any endeavor you suggest.

Sincerely,

Chairmen of Bond Committee

Twenty-seven nations are represented by delegates at the international encampment marking the silver jubilee of the Girl Scout movement now in session at Camp Andree, Briarcliff Manor, N. Y.

At the opening ceremonies the girls heard Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt tell them that the reason for international misunderstandings was that "we don't bring them down to the level of our personal reactions—that is, the way you feel about the neighbor next door."

Thereafter the young ladies from all corners of the earth set out to remedy that difficulty, girls from Asia finding friendships with girls from Europe, Australians with North Americans, and South Americans with Africans.

The encampment at Briarcliff will continue for another week, and then the delegates will all spend a week at the seashore at Plymouth, Mass.

Leading the March with Matthew Grimlay, commander, was Chris Mohr, 82, father of Cpl. Chris Mohr Jr., who died in World War I, and after whom the post is named jointly with Seaman 1/c William Christie, who died in the late conflict. Noted in line, too, also with the V.F.W. contingent, was Water Patterson, U. S. Marine Corps veteran of the Spanish-American War. Both he and Mohr paraded the entire route.

MAYOR AND OFFICIALS REVIEW MARCHERS

Mayor De Sapio and his fellow city fathers dropped out of line at City Hall to take their place with other city officials and community leaders on a reviewing stand at City Hall. When the last marchers passed the municipal building they rejoined the parade at Fifth and Washington streets, proceeding with it to the disbandment point at Elysian Park.

Headed by escorts of motorcycle, radio car, mounted and foot police—the latter under the command of Captain William Christie, with Lts. George Solleder and Ambrose Ryan, and Sgts. George Torpey and John H. Flihs in charge of the two platoons—the vanguard of the cavalcade also included the two ambulances of St. Mary's Hospital.

Sixteen high-stepping majorettes set a jaunty note as they led the red and white-clad Demarest High School band, which made its usual snappy appearance as the first musical outfit in line.

Our Lady of Grace Holy Name Society band, in natty maroon and Massed colors and standards of the Scout troops made an impressive display in the lead of the Boy Scouts, with the colorful spectacle repeated as the Girl Scouts swung by with their drum and bugle corps. Girl Scouts, by the way, had by far the largest marching group in the parade.

Bringing up the rear was the children's playgrounds' division, carrying May poles, garlands of flowers and flags. The youngsters, always an attractive feature of the parade, presented a dress front bespeaking their fine preparation under the guidance of Miss Marian Kennedy, who marched with them.

Speakers at the cemetery exercises were ex-Captain Vincent J. Kennedy, patriotic officer of the Mohr-Christie Post, V.F.W., and Assistant City Attorney Charles De Fazio Jr., of Hoboken. Wreaths donated by local school children were placed on the graves of veterans. Cornelius Kelly, past commander of the Mohr-Christie Post, was master of ceremonies.

Captain Kennedy struck a solemn memorial note in his talk. Said he, in part: "To those now gone, we say the world is a better place for having known the tread of your foot and we are better men for having known the grasp of your hand and although we gather today to pay homage to you and offer up our prayers for you, we in turn ask that you pray for those who have come back, that we may carry on where you left off; that we do not lose the cause for which you have fought and died, and lastly, that we may make certain these dead shall not have died in vain."

A firing squad for the occasion was provided by the Sons of Union Veterans. Carol Ann Carregal, of the Brandt Junior High School band blew taps.

mitted in any way to such other. By means of an annual report and appeal, a card party, a cake and candy sale, and a Girl Scout Cookie sale the Council raises the money necessary to finance the program.

A few of the outstanding occasions and activities of the Girl Scout organization during the past twenty-two years of its existence in Hoboken are: :

Organization Meeting—October 29, 1919, in the auditorium of School No. 1, sponsored by Miss Leinkauf, Miss Davey, Mrs. Wittpenn, and Miss Shaw.

Charter Granted—by National Headquarters, December 15, 1919, to Hoboken Girl Scout Council No. 94. The first officers were: Commissioner Mrs. H. Otto Wittpenn; Deputy Commissioner, Miss Edith Shaw; Secretary, Miss S. F. Leinkauf; Treasurer, Thomas Hatfield.

First Rally—January 28, 1920, in auditorium of School No. 1; eighty girls received Tenderfoot pins and became officially registered Girl Scouts.

Girl Scout Band was organized in 1921—In 1923 Miss Anna Van Twisk took charge. In the spring of 1941 the Band had a drive for new instruments under the guidance of Robert Greear. The Band numbers about fifty members.

Opening of the Girl Scout House—June 1927. By permission of the Board of Directors of the Waldheim-Stevens Forum the Council erected the house on the land behind the Forum.

The Girl Scout Garden—Begun in the spring of 1928 on what had been a concrete paved yard to the north of the Forum. Now the garden contains twelve varieties of trees, twenty-four different shrubs, seven varieties of roses, fifty-four kinds of flowers, and six different ferns; and at all seasons of the year it is a place of peace and loveliness.

Enlargement of the Girl Scout House—With money raised by a special drive in the spring of 1938;
