MEMORIES

*The years we have spent
 In P. H. S.
 Were the best years of our lives.
 We'll ne'er forget
 All the friends we made
 As the years of joy rolled by.
 The class of '48
 We'll always rate
 In days to come and go.
 And the memories of
 The dear ones we love
 We'll cherish our whole lives through.*

Class History

CLASS OF '48

A red-letter day, always to be remembered by members of the class of '48 of Pocomoke High School, will be that of June 3, 1948, the date of our graduation. It will be the day when we can see behind us all of those unforgettable experiences of our school days, and the day when we can look ahead to seek our places in tomorrow's world.

As we look over these jam-packed years, we recall that it all started back in 1937. The pitter-patter of little feet was heard as boys and girls with beaming faces came into the first grade classrooms of the Elementary School for their first year. That was our class, and we were a very active class in more ways than one.

After gliding through the second grade with the old gang, we went into the third grade, only to be joined by two new members, Bill Pryor and Rosa Mae Parsons. When we reached the fifth grade Eileen Andrews, Irene Davis, and Mildred Ward became new classmates.

After completing the fifth grade, we, with an air of importance about us now, made the most exciting trip of our school days. That was our trip to the high school building to take up our sixth and seventh grade studies. During those two years we spent our time looking around the high school in every nook and corner. In the sixth grade Betty Hicks and Emma Miles were added to our class, and in the seventh, Richard ("Birdie") Miles and Ira Wilkinson joined us.

By this time the high school knew that "we brats" were coming and prepared to take us in, as we rejoiced upon graduating from grammar school. The first few weeks we thought the school buzzed around us, but we soon found out that the seniors thought the same thing. After getting a few swallows of high school work, we slowly became accustomed to it. As freshmen we were joined by Bill Long and Maurice Phillips. Near the end of this year we stepped into the social life of the school by giving our first party.

In our sophomore year Joe Gober and Bunie Hill entered our class. We really enjoyed this year as "silly sophs" by having a care free good time.

The high light of our Junior year was our "STARDUST" prom, which, quoting Mr. Krabill, was "best yet." We gave it at the climax of a successful money making campaign. We shall always carry with us memories of that prom and of the entire Junior year.

At the beginning of our senior year, we all "especially the boys" noticed a new face in our class. She was Lou White. Naymond Wise had returned from Service and had also joined our class. During this eventful year, we revived our school paper, this time calling it SCHOOL DAZE. Although most of us were busy with the paper and other activities, we doubled our efforts in order to put out a yearbook, give our Senior play, and several dances. Many of our activities led up to our graduation which will climax our high school career.

Since we entered the sixth grade, the following persons have withdrawn from our class: Wilson Ayres, Beverly Bean, Ethel Beauchamp, Quig Bennett, Bob Bradshaw, Laura Mae Brimer, Nellie Brombley, Linwood Butler, Charles Hancock, Robert Long, Johnny Mason, Mildred Outten, Della Stauffer, Mildred Ward and Rosa Lee Wise.

All during high school we have vigorously entered into the school life. We have added to our school's athletic program by our support and participation which have helped to earn several championships. We got around, socially, too, giving and attending parties and dances.

Last Will and Testament

Ladies and Gentlemen, Members of the Board of Education, Superintendent, Principal, Teachers, Friends, and any others it may concern:

We, the class of 1948, of Pocomoke High School, in the city of Pocomoke, in the county of Worcester, and the State of Maryland, United States of America, being sound in mind and body as well as actions, do give and bequeath this third day of June, anno Domini, One Thousand, Nine Hundred and Forty-Eight, the following:

I, IRENE DAVIS, will to CHELSIE GOSWELLEN my natural curly hair, providing she doesn't put it up but once every year.

I, FRANK BEAUCHAMP, will my ability to do physics to CHARLES BYRD, as long as he argues with Mrs. Cutright.

I, BARBARA SOLUM, will my height to PAULINE LAMBERTSON, if she will use it to a good advantage on the basketball team.

I, DONALD CREATH, will my ability to kick a soccer ball to FREDDIE CAREY, if he will promise to kick it through the right goal.

I, BETTE JAMES, will to ROBERT WILLEY my "good marks" and ability to work "easy" algebra problems without Mr. Krabill's help.

I, WILBUR LONG, will my flirting technique to JOSH LANKFORD, providing he uses that slow wink and whistle on the right kind of girls at the right time. There's always a time and place for everything!

I, BETTY LANG, will my big feet to JEAN OUTTEN.

I, JOE GOBER, will the "Too Fat Polka" to BARNEY CALLAHAN in remembrance of "four by four."

I, LOU WHITE, will my old P. H. S. text books to MARILYN HARDESTER, so long as she takes good care of them.

I, WILLIS HALL, will to WINSTON HENDERSON, my "Little Grey Ford," in hopes that he will make as much use of it as I did!

I, BETTY BUTLER, will my ability to write back-handed to IRENE BUTLER.

I, CHARLES BISHOP, will my height to JULES DIAMOND, providing he doesn't exceed six feet.

I, BETTY HICKS, will my long finger nails to ANITA ENNIS, if she will manicure them every night.

I, ROSE MARIE PAYNE, will my long hair to HARRISON LAMBERTSON, providing he doesn't get a hair cut.

I, JOHN HAM, will my argumentative powers to BARNEY CALLAHAN.

I, EILEEN ANDREWS, will to FRANCES INSLEY, permission to go out before she is sixteen, if she be sure to behave herself.

I, WILLARD STEVENSON, will to C. O. MELVIN, my ability to keep quiet occasionally.

I, BUNIE HILL, will my black hair to ALICE AYRES, so long as she will not peroxide it.

I, ADRON MASON, will my "jitterbug" ability to WILLIAM WISE, providing he doesn't do so well that he wins "Bertie Collins" away from me.

I, MAUDE HOWARD, will to BARBARA REYNOLDS, my ability to throw snowballs and not hit the person aimed at.

I, JERRY PAYNE, will my typing speed to RITA LUKE, as long as she doesn't embarrass George Hossfield by typing more than 140 words per minute.

I, WANDA REDDEN, will my good disposition to MARY ELLEN PAYNE, under the condition she doesn't run away with it.

I, NAYMOND WISE, will my curly black hair to WILLIAM WISE, if he promises to keep it trim.

I, COSTON GLADDING, will my good looks to EUGENE BAILEY, providing he uses his conceit with them.

I, ROSIE PARSONS, will my bow legs to NIOMI SPIDE.

I, PAT MORSE, will to ORLAND HOWARD, my ability to score in basketball with my left hand.

I, NORMA REDDEN, will to JULIA ANN CORBIN my hair, if she will comb and brush it at least once a week and put it up every night.

I, BILL PRYOR, will to TOM BELFI my ability to play a game of basketball without fouling.

I, CONNIE VENABLE, will my 101 LB. body to EMMA LEE BENSON in hopes that she doesn't lose it anywhere.

I, FRED HENDERSON, will to KENNY PAYNE, my ability to play a musical instrument as long as he doesn't put Harry James or Tommy Dorsey out of a job.

I, MARY JANE HOWARD, will my brown hair to PHYLLIS TAYLOR, if she'll promise not to use red rinse on it.

I, WILLIAM MATTHEWS, will my job in the cafeteria to ARTHUR OUTTEN, providing he doesn't eat all the ice cream.

I, BIRDIE MILES, will my athletic ability and height to BOB COLEBURN, if he'll make thirty points every basketball game.

I, ROSALIE JOHNSON, will to EARLDA RANKIN, my studying ability, if she will not get above "A" on her report card.

I, ANNE LANKFORD, will to MURIEL ALLEMAN, my blond, curly hair so long as she doesn't use hair straightener on it.

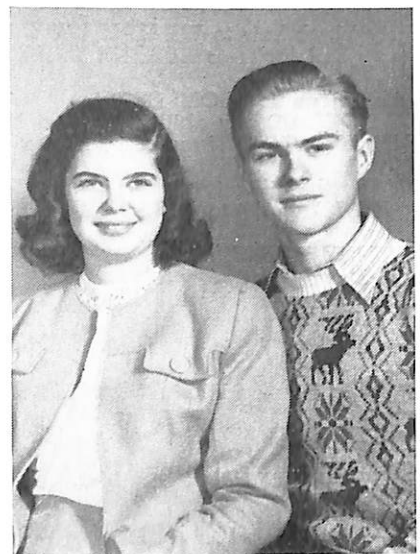

I, EMMA MILES, will my bashful manner to GLENNA VINCENT, if she will learn how to blush.

I, MARICE PHILLIPS, will my artistic ability to ORLAND HOWARD, providing he doesn't let Mrs. Creath catch him drawing pin-ups on the black board.

I, JIMMIE ENNIS, will to CHARLES BYRD, my ability to go in the dark room and work, not loaf, providing I graduate this year.

I, VI BACALL, will my short black hair to GO'DYFEE LEE BRITTINGHAM.

I, IRA WILKINSON, will my false teeth to BOB WILSON in case he ever meets up with Dick Young again.

Prophecy

"You really have been doing all right for yourself, Ira, I don't suppose you ever thought you'd be the owner of a large department store like this. I guess you get plenty of competition from Ham, Inc. Of course, you know, that's the new name of J. C. Penny Co. since John Ham took over. It just doesn't seem possible. Why it was just ten years ago that you and I walked forward to get our diplomas," sighed Bill Matthews as he leaned against the counter in Wilkinson's Department Store.

"Yep," agreed Ira, "time sure flies. I remember graduation night now. Bill Pryor and Barbara Solum had just had an argument about what Bill would do after graduating. Bill must have won out 'cause now he owns one of the biggest fleets of trucks in the East. Babs must not have been too angry. Anyhow, they were married the following spring."

"That's right," laughed Bill. "Remember at the wedding we all kidded Bill? . . . And look now . . . Let's see now, there's Maude and that fellow from Florida, Betty June and Keith, Mary Jane and Carroll, Lou and Jimmy, Willis and . . . dog-gone! I believe everybody is married now except Pat Morse."

"You know Bill, I thought we were an awful dumb class, but I don't suppose we were after all. Just think now, we've got Frank Beauchamp teaching history, Pat Morse teaching physical education, Anne teaching home economics, and, oh yes, Connie and Emma are teaching kindergarten. And there is Betty Lou nursing at Johns Hopkins, and to top that, Donald Creath, Coston Gladding and Fred Henderson are some of the best engineers around."

"Oh, excuse me a minute," exclaimed Ira, "here comes another customer . . . Why if it isn't Willard Stevenson. How is everything on the farm now days?"

"O.K., I guess," answered Willard, "What are you guys gabbing about?"

"Oh. Just about the good ole days at P.H.S.," sighed Bill.

"Have you heard the news?" asked Willard.

Why no, what's up," broke in Bill.

"Well, you knew that Bill Long was an undertaker and Adron Mason, a florist. Well, they've combined their businesses. You ought to hear some of their slogans like . . .

"You may not like flowers, but they'll grow on you!"

"Let us be the last ones to let you down!" and

"Use our lay away plan."

"Those guys are really cards," laughed Bill.

"I hear you and Maurice Phillips have started an art salon," said Willard.

"Have you all heard about the reunion?" asked Jerry as he joined the rest of the boys.

"What reunion?" asked Ira.

"Well," said Jerry, "a few of the girls who were in our class have gotten together and decided to have an alumni reunion. Betty Butler, Wanda Redden, Norma Redden, and Rose Marie Payne are going to cook the meal, if their bosses will let them have the day off. They're all secretaries you, know. Jimmie, Irene's husband from Crisfield, is donating some sea food, and Charles Bishop is giving some of his vegetables. They've already sent Vi, Bunie, and Eileen invitations at the beauty school in Philadelphia. Betty Hicks and Rosa Mae Parsons are telephone operators, so they probably have already heard about it. If they haven't, they will tonight. The ladies' aid is meeting at Rosalie's house."

"I don't suppose Chief Justice Willis Hall will be able to come," reminded Bill. "The Supreme Court is all tied up with the suit between John Ham and Montgomery Ward."

Yeah, that's just like old "die hard Ham," but it's a shame they can't be here," remarked Willard.

"Well, I've got to run along now," said Bill.

"So have I," answered Jerry, "I'll see you fellows at the reunion."

SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE YEAR

SENIOR GET-TOGETHER

To open the social season the Seniors gave a "get-together" on October 3rd in the high school auditorium.

Autumn colors were used in decorating, along with pines and assorted leaves.

The refreshments were pretzels and soft drinks. This was one of the most successful dances of the year.

SADIE HAWKINS DANCE

The pistol was fired! The race began! Sadie Hawkins Day was here! The girls who weren't lucky enough to catch a man invited their dates. It seemed that everyone turned out for a big time on November 9th.

Things got started with dancing, cider, cokes, pretzels, and potato chips. In keeping with Sadie Hawkins' tradition, the girls paid all the expenses.

At 9:15 the wedding began with Rosa Mae Parsons as Daisy Mae, Richard (Byrdie) Miles as 'Lil Abner, Connie Venable as Mammy Yokum, Rose Marie Payne as Sadie Hawkins, Frank Beauchamp as Marrying Sam, Betty Lou Lang as the Wolf Girl, and Adron Mason as Papa Yokum.

CARNIVAL CAPERS

The Juniors gave Carnival Capers on November 21st.

In one half of the auditorium there were booths for playing games, pitching pennies, and fortune telling.

In the other half of the auditorium the ceiling was lowered with crepe paper for dancing.

Cakes, candy, and cookies were auctioned off to help the Juniors raise money for their Prom.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

On December 22nd the Juniors gave their Christmas Dance.

Holiday colors were used for the decorating scheme, along with a large Christmas tree in the middle of the auditorium.

The high light of the evening was the entertainment by Jo Sue Pate and Jack Bull.

Delicious refreshments of punch, ice cream, and potato chips were served.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

THE SENIOR CLASS PLAY

A three act comedy, "Who Wouldn't Be Crazy?" by Katharine Kavanaugh, was given by the Senior Class, March 12, 1948, at 8:00 P. M. in the Pocomoke High School Auditorium. The setting of the play was in the courtyard of the Good Samaritan Sanitarium near New York City.

FAREWELL P.H.S

With the passing of commencement, we, the seniors of '48, will leave behind us eleven years of experiences in this social world. Our background for a higher education and for our lives as adults has been formed. We have just begun our journey toward the better ways of life.

True, we are sad when we realize that our days of carefree fun and frolic are, for the most part, at an end. But this is no time to be sad. Commencement does not commemorate the ending of our school days. It signifies the beginning of our individual lives. It is a time to be joyful, for we are just starting our independent ways of living. Nevertheless, we shall always cherish the memories of our school days. We shall never forget the highlights of these, the years that were brimming full of gay experiences. We shall always remember these things, but we must never look back. We must look ahead, and plan the future so that our past will always be as golden as the dreams of the forthcoming years.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank, first, our parents for opening for us the way to better living and education; second, the faculty for guiding us along this way with patience, knowledge, and understanding; and last, but not least, our appreciation must be extended to all those officials of the school board who formed a most efficient background for our educators. As we recollect our school days, you will always be remembered as the ones who did so much, yet received so little in return.

In conclusion, we just want to say "So Long" and a hearty "Thanks fellows, for everything."

DEAR READERS

Now that you have read our memory book, please notice the business firms that have made it possible.

CONGRATULATIONS SENIORS

Today you have arrived at a very important milestone in your lives.
