The face of Pocomoke High School reflects almost every phase of school life. It is the face of victory on the court, of defeat in the locker room, of youth as students file past, and of experience as teachers try to impress the essentials of living.

Pocomoke High School is the face of the buildings you must pass each day, the administrator whom you seldom see, the teacher who will live on forever in your mind, and most important, your face and the faces of those around you.

Faces change from year to year. They blur, fade, and distort, but never entirely disappear. The way we remember the face of P.H.S. will depend on how we lived this year and how we live the years to come.

The theme of the 1966 Papoose is school symbolism. Every event, team or organization may be represented by an insignia. This insignia may be a school seal - an athletic letter - a mascot. Such emblems act as reminders of the goals and ideas of the organization, its members, and its place in Pocomoke High School.

Dedication

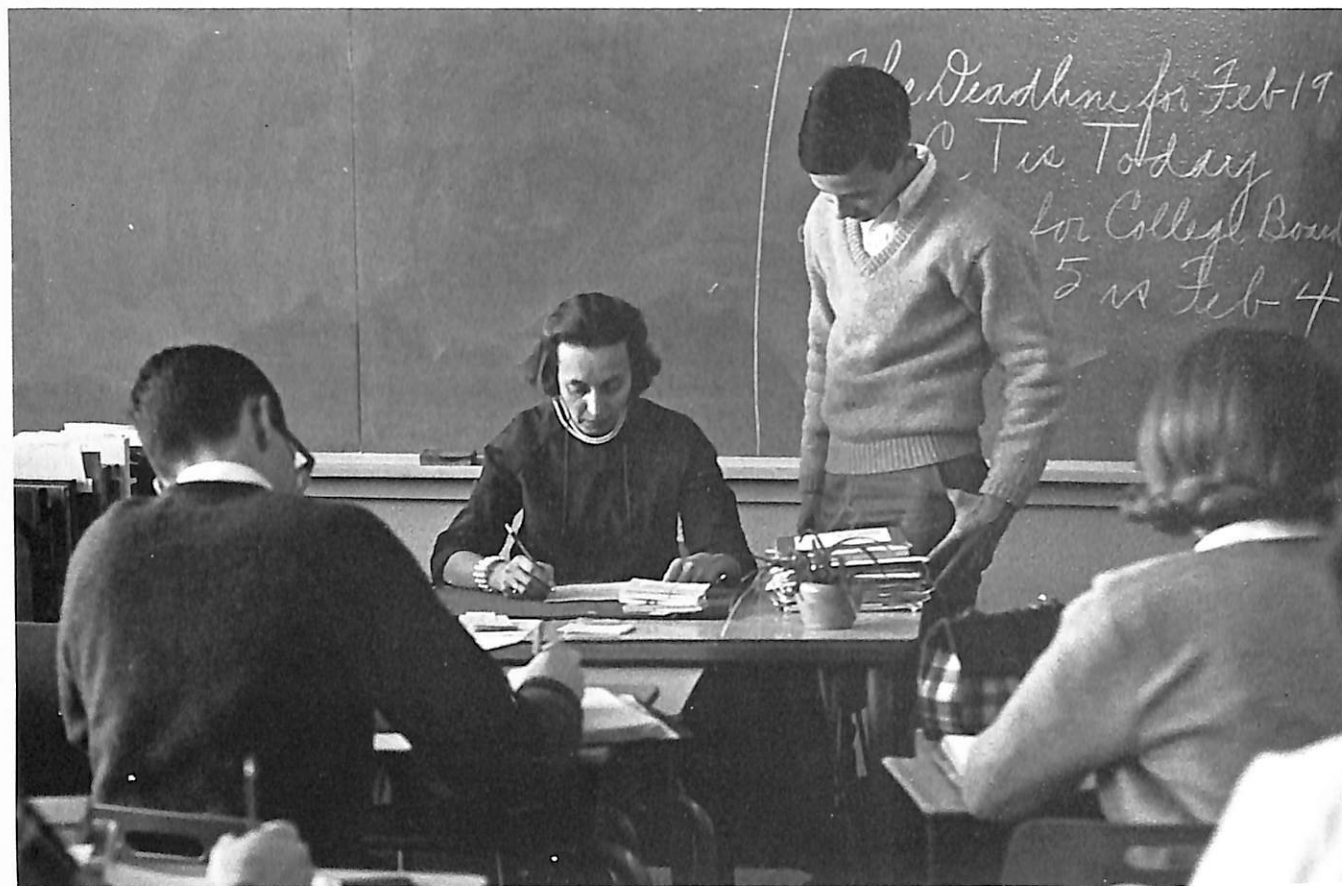

Mr. William T. McComb, a person of high ideals and sparkling personality, with leadership abilities, has earned the title of a loyal friend and capable advisor.

"Whoso neglects learning in his youth, loses the past and is dead in the future."

We can only travel the sea of education through the aid of those who have navigated it before us--those who have mastered it to the highest degree. Such are the lives after which we must pattern ourselves. We, the members of the 1966 yearbook staff feel that one faculty member of the Pocomoke High School administration has exemplified such a life, through his unlimited dedication and unfailing kindness. Because he was here when we needed him most, we give to him our most treasured gift--for the deed of a year of work, a year of fond memories. With gratitude, we the members of the 1966 yearbook staff dedicate this edition of the Papoose to Mr. William McComb.

Mrs. Tatem gives helpful assistance to a puzzled student.

Language classes work in many areas.

First comes a basic mastery of the rules of grammar and composition, followed by their application in both oral and written expression. Nothing contributes more to a student's success than an alert and lucid approach to any subject and an ability to articulate. In no classes are greater efforts made to train students in the mastery of these abilities than in English and French.

French lab vitalizes language lessons.

In Physics, students perform many interesting and educational experiments.

Science has many faces: the past, the present, the future; the universe and the smallest atom of a one-celled animal. Science is the face of infinity, of the unknown, and of the real. No other thrill is quite like that of seeing microscopic animals for the first time, actually identifying some mystifying "unknown" in chemistry class, or solving, at last a baffling problem in physics.

A lab group completes a difficult chemistry experiment.

Science classes progress toward truth.

Biology labs enable the student to explore the unknown.

Girls in the eighth grade Home Economics class construct color wheels in studying interior decorating.

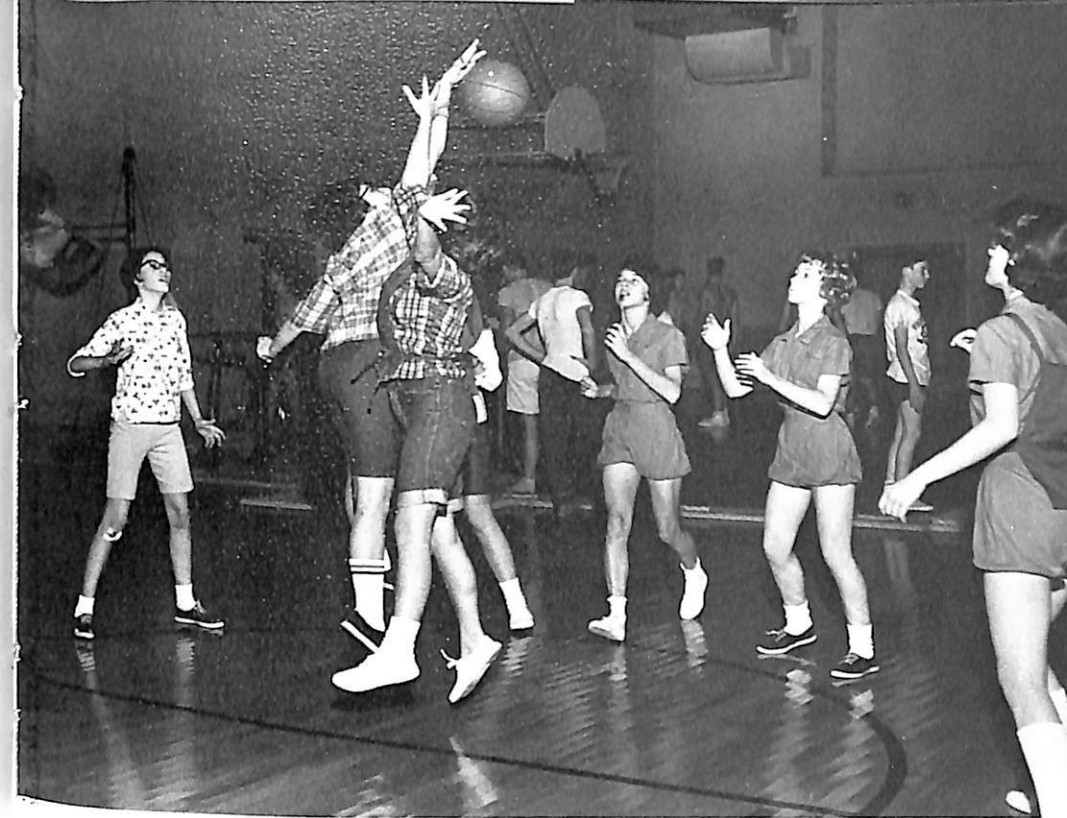

Under the watchful eye of Mr. Dolby, Industrial Arts students work to complete a wood project.

Home Economics courses prepare girls for the future by teaching them various aspects of sewing, cooking, and home managing. Mrs. Marian Severance, Home Economics teacher, instructs the students in interior decorating, budgeting money and planning nutritious, as well as tasty meals.

In Industrial Arts, boys learn to recognize the components of different kinds of machinery, to create and assemble useful projects in wood and metal, and to use many industrial tools. The students learn the skills of electrical wiring, welding, soldering, riveting, drilling, refinishing, and jointing. Through these classes students master the basic fundamentals of trades which may become their vocations.

Curriculum

Physical fitness is an important part of daily life.

Pocomoke High's physical education department, which includes more space and equipment than any other department in the school, is kept busy from the opening bell until the last bell with its program for all seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth grade students. Students learn the fundamentals of many sports including baseball, soccer, basketball, volleyball, and softball.

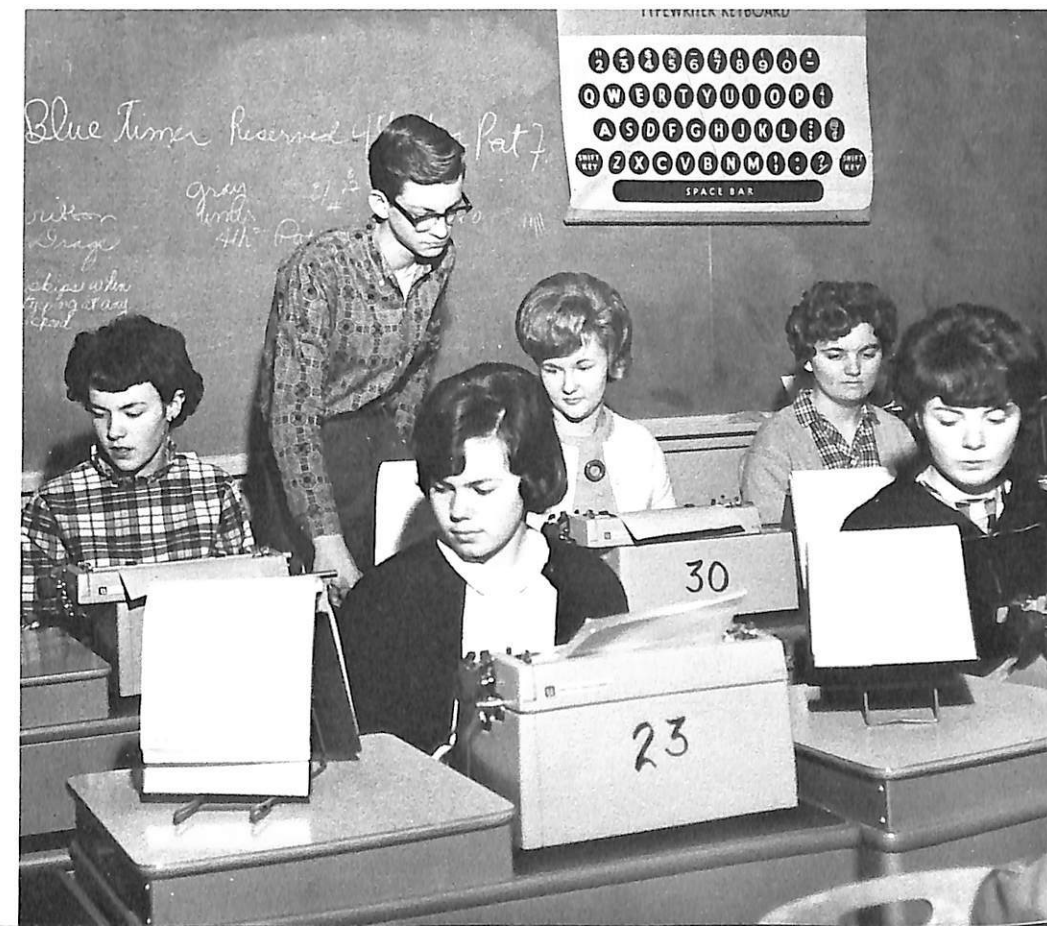

This year, for the first time at P.H.S., an intensive first aid course was offered by the physical education department. In addition, many periods were set aside to teach the fundamentals of score-keeping in the respective sports.

Attempts to develop student's skills.

The Commercial Department, under the guidance of Miss Mary Emily Matthews, strives to mold tomorrow's secretaries and businessmen. Subjects included are: bookkeeping, shorthand, note-hand, and typing. The commercial classes have prepared bulletins and announcements for school and civic functions. This year was highlighted by the publication of the TRIBAL LIFE MAGAZINE. The magazine will bring back memories to underclassmen as well as seniors.

Commercial courses, long a favorite with girls planning secretarial careers, are also popular with students who have no plans for commercial jobs. In addition to typing, courses are also offered in business math, office practice, and shorthand.

Students practice to learn basic typing skills.

Math Courses Instill Vital Knowledge.

Mrs. Smith explains problems in advanced mathematics.

Pocomoke High School has worked hard to keep pace with today's growing emphasis on math. Among the courses offered to the students are: General Math, Business Math, Algebra I, Algebra II, Plane Geometry, and Advanced Mathematics.

While many students forget about math as soon as the minimum requirements are satisfied, college-bound students take the advanced courses. The excellent training, experience, and background received by the students prove time and again to be extremely helpful.

World of Literature is Open to All.

During our six years at P. H. S., we use the library and its facilities constantly. Teachers work closely with the librarian to achieve maximum use of the library's resources. With an increasing number of audio-visual materials now available--the library plays an even greater job in its contribution to the school curriculum. Books, magazines, recordings, and films provide many avenues of learning and pleasure. Under the skilled supervision of the librarian and her able assistants, the library will no doubt continue to be one of our most prominent facilities.

Junior High students work to complete research papers.

Principal:
Mr. Leon N. Timmons

To fulfill the needs of the students at P.H.S. has been the main desire of Mr. Leon Timmons, principal. Besides meeting the administrative demands which a high school requires of its principal, he always finds time to talk with a troubled student who is searching for an answer to his problems. His patient disposition is evident as he carefully performs both large and small duties connected with his job. Admiration for him is shared by students and faculty because of his sincere efforts to build Pocomoke High School into a fine educational institution.

Guidance Counselor:
Mrs. Gladys Lankford

She is always willing to advise inquiring students concerning applications for scholarships and selection of the college most appropriate for their aptitudes and interests. She has also worked with the Employment Agency helping to locate jobs for non-college pupils. Keeping records of college preparatory test scores and arranging interviews with the director of admissions at various schools are two more of Mrs. Lankford's many duties. She has won our admiration and devotion by inspiring us to strive for achievement of our individual goals.

Secretary:
Mrs. Nancy Beauchamp

It would be difficult for anyone at Pocomoke High to get along without the helpful services of its efficient secretary, Mrs. Beauchamp, who extends a helping hand whenever needed.

Her secretarial duties include book-keeping, filing, recording school transactions and handling all money that comes into the office. Her work undoubtedly gets interrupted hundreds of times daily but she can be relied upon to exercise that one great virtue which she abounds in --- patience.

The teaching profession is one that carries with it heavy responsibilities, anxiety, and concern. The responsibility of efficiently preparing students for college and future work, the anxiety of how to persuade students to study in order to learn, and concern for the problems that confront us--all these weigh heavily on a teacher's shoulders.

These responsibilities are an important part of teaching. They include constant study, work, and complete dedication to the profession.

Forbearance, understanding, efficiency--these are only a few of the outstanding qualities of those who continue to work to give P.H.S. the best of everything.

They have many duties other than teaching: they sponsor clubs, direct plays, collect numerous fees, keep records. They find time for extra-curricular duties, attending games, school programs, and frequent meetings.

School Plant Runs Smoothly

Lunch is a welcome break during a busy day at Pocomoke High School. Under the direction of Mrs. Florence Brimer, the cafeteria has been rated among the best in this area. Nutritious and attractive meals are planned and served each day to nearly five hundred students and teachers.

Mr. Elmer Insley and Mr. Ben Beauchamp have the monumental task of keeping P.H.S. in tip-top shape. Their high standard of efficiency is evident in the immaculate condition of our classrooms, cafeteria, gym, and hallways.

The combined work of these capable people is very important to the successful operation of P.H.S.

P.H.S. Challenge Team retires undefeated

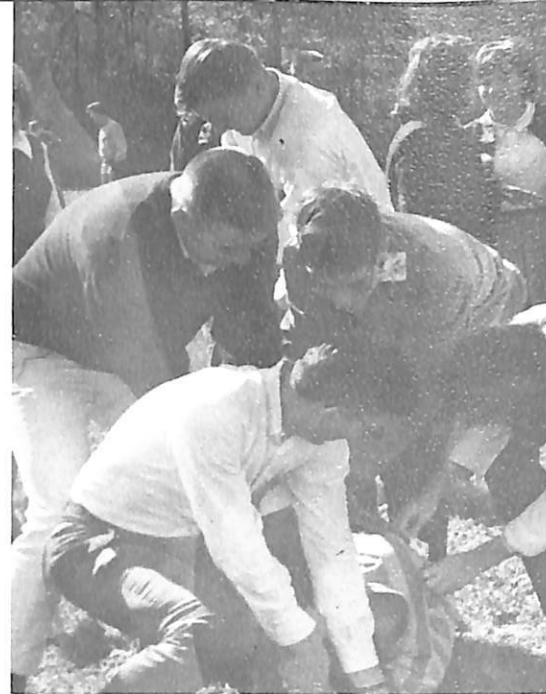

For the second consecutive year, Pocomoke's High School Challenge Team, under the capable direction of Mr. Stanley Dennis, brought honors to their alma mater.

On November 8, 1965 the P.H.S. scholars defeated the contingent from Atlantic High. They proceeded to turn back the teams from Washington High and Chincoteague High, November 15 and 22 respectively. Preceding the three victories were many hours of practice to determine who would appear on the first program and to sharpen the recall ability of the team members.

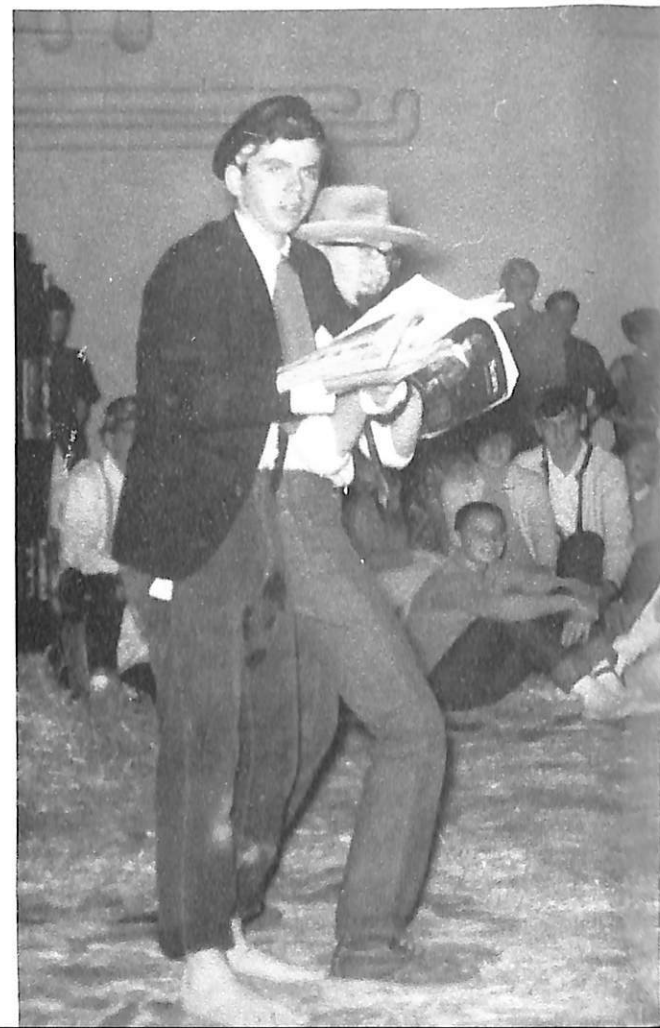

Energetic students restrain a squirming "victim" during the chase.

Pappy Yokum (Harvey Payne) struggles to support Preacher Miles during the "weedin" ceremony.

Daisey Mae (Judy Layton), captures Lil'l Abner (Ray Dryden), to begin the annual Sadie Hawkins chase.

Seniors, clad in their Sunday best, caper as they recuperate after the Virginia Reel.

Each year, the fall season at Pocomoke High School is highlighted by the annual Sadie Hawkins chase and dance. This event provides every girl with the opportunity to catch the "man" she wants, provided she is able to pin a gaily colored patch on his attire. Frequently, the girls are aided by several other boys, who have already been "captured". At the end of this exciting week a dance is sponsored by the student council of the high school, which turns out to be a memorable event for all -- and the beginning of a fun-filled year ahead.

"Do you Daisey Mae, take this here varmint to be yer awful weeded husband."

The Christmas season is enjoyed by all.

Candlelight provides Christmas atmosphere.

Spirits are high and laughter plentiful as the night progresses.

Highlighting the Senior High year was the annual CHRISTMAS FORMAL. This year's formal, held at the Elk's Home in Pocomoke, was a big success. Couples danced or listened to the music of the Cawley Combo. Later in the evening, Mark Meinster, Frank Parks, and Wayne Powell, as St. Nick, presented 'joke' awards to some of the students attending the dance. The senior class felt satisfied that it had provided an opportunity for the vacationing tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade students to get together and enjoy the Christmas spirit.

There is always at least one event in each of our lives that no one (except ourselves) can really express in words. This, then is the purpose of this page--to give you, the student, the opportunity to express those special events in your words.

Activities

"The world is full of willing people; Some willing to work and the rest willing to let them."

PRESIDENTS OF CLUBS: George Butler, Coin Club; Raymond Dryden, Athletic Association; Debbie Nock, Home Economics Club; Mark Meinster, F.T.A., Stamp

Club; Ronnie Shockley, Student Council; Nelson Outten, Literary Club; Linda Cutler, F.N.A.; Paige Webb, History Club.

Activities are an essential part of the school curriculum, for without them, the school would be merely a colorless institution. To the seventh grader entering P.H.S., the myriad of organizations and events may prove bewildering, but in time he comes to appreciate them as a necessary part of the school career.

Through these organizations, the student is given a chance to express himself and to become an integral part of the core of P.H.S. In the clubs are the beginnings of future nurses, homemakers, musicians, and teachers. In addition to helping the student through expression and realization of ambitions, the clubs also benefit the school greatly. During the year, through their various activities, the clubs help by keeping the student and faculty on good terms, putting out school publications, boosting morale, providing entertainment, and doing the various jobs around the school that help keep it running smoothly.

This year the Student Council of Pocomoke High School has had several money making projects, such as dances, selling pom-poms, and banners at the basketball games, and a powder puff soccer game at the beginning of the year. With this money, the Council plans to buy a water cooler for the school.

The Student Council also sent three representatives to the Maryland Association of Student Councils in Salisbury, Maryland.

In April it sponsored the annual talent show which was a great success.

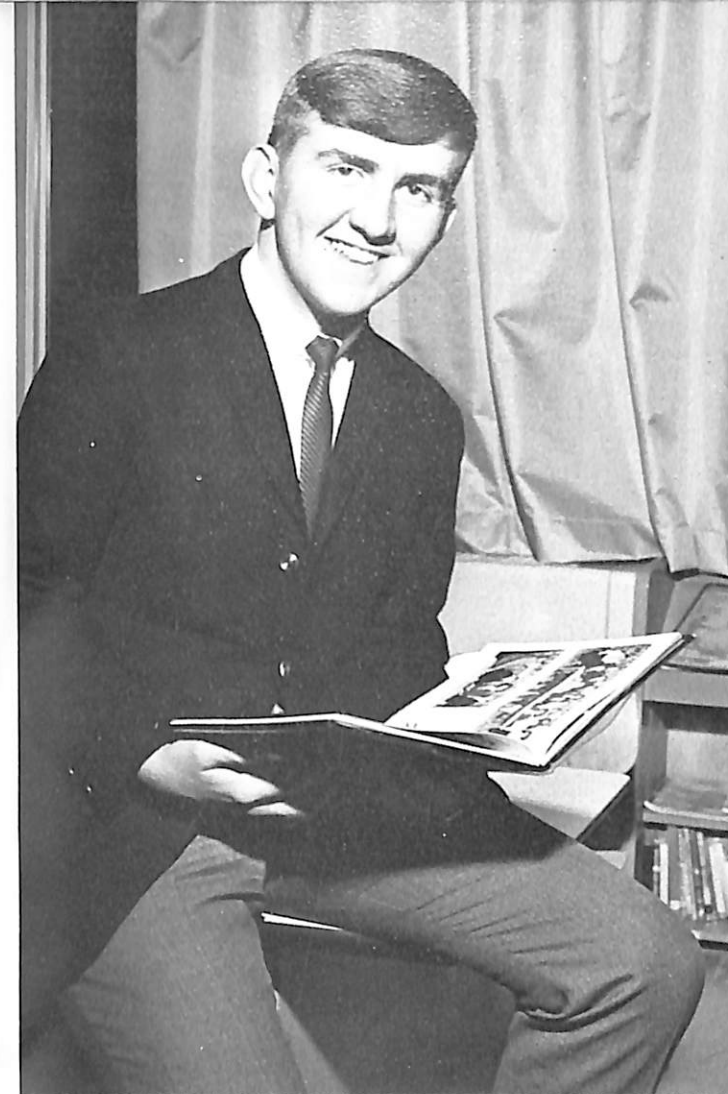

During the month of May the Council observed safety week, which consisted of an assembly, a poster contest, and a check of the safety devices in the students cars.

The goal of the Student Council for the year 1966 as in years past was to make Pocomoke High School an important part of the students life.

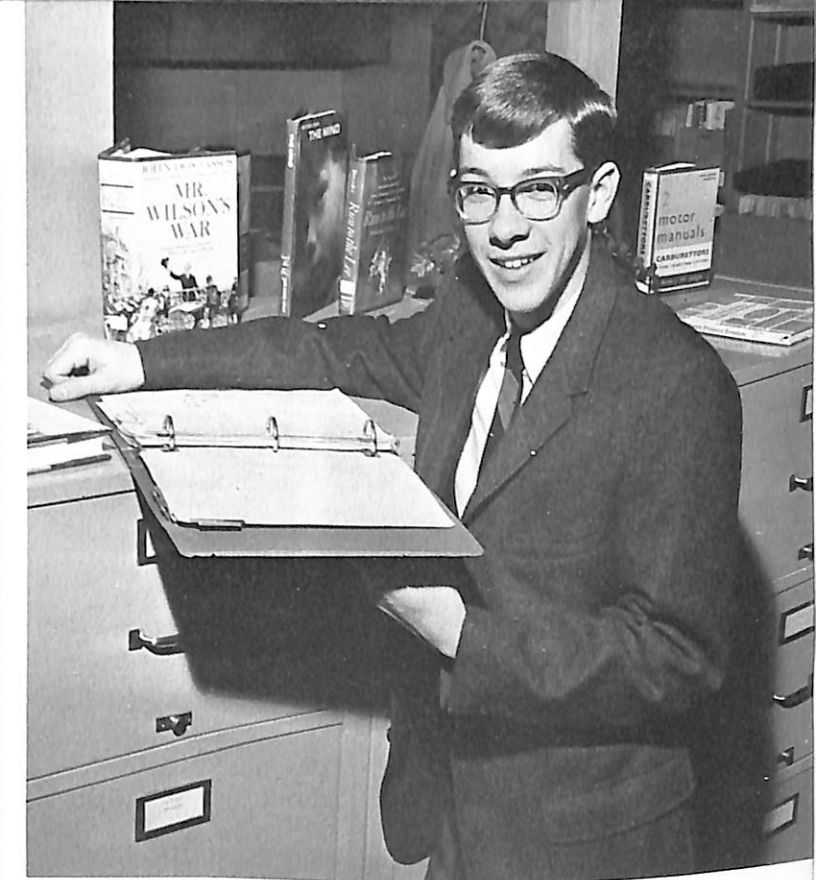

Under the leadership of Mrs. Nancy Smith, the Student Council has been a great asset to the school.

Both hard work and fun went into the 1966 PAPOOSE as the staff worked many days and nights finishing layouts, choosing pictures, writing copy, and selling ads. Sometimes the pace was frantic; but there were times of informal discussion, exchange of ideas, and critical appraisal.

Armed with copies of STANDARDS, the staff finally decided that the '66 book should be a modern rather than a traditional one. After this decision was reached, there were a thousand more to be made.

With a record number of ads sold and a record number of annuals ordered, the staff was able to increase its budget and thereby add more pages.

The inclusion of written explanations and a student curriculum section brought more complete coverage into Pocomoke's biggest annual.

P. H. S. Band Performed At Many Functions During The 1965-66 School Year.

Music is a wordless language, and the music of the 1965-1966 Pocomoke High School Band inspired students, faculty, and audience alike. Innumerable practice sessions have served to prepare the young musicians for sparkling performances at concerts, Band Day, and local festivities.

Under the able direction of Mr. Charles Bragg, the band had another very active year. Performances included participation in the following parades: The Salisbury Junior Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade, the Firemen's Parade in Rehobeth, Delaware, and the Chicken Festival Parade in Salisbury. In Pocomoke, the band played in the Christmas Parade, Halloween Parade, Memorial Day Parade, and the Centennial Parade on Labor Day. An excellent program at Christmas was presented in conjunction with the Chorus. In March, the band performed in the Eastern Shore Band Festival at Easton, Maryland. In the spring, the Band again combined talents with the Chorus for the annual Spring Concert at P.H.S.

Highlight of the school year for the band members was the trip to the University of Maryland for Band Day. More than 3000 musicians from the state of Maryland participated in this annual event.

The new organization, the Monarchs, was formed by Mr. Bragg at the beginning of the 1965 academic year. It consisted of twelve talented musicians chosen from the band. This select group attended the Eastern Shore Dance Band Festival in Salisbury, Maryland, on February 10, 1966 and performed at the Christmas program, the Spring Concert and for various civic organizations.

FRESHMAN TRIO: Gretchen Miles, Susan Horner, Shawn Emory.

Appreciation for music in its various forms has always been encouraged at P.H.S. This year, the Chorus, under the capable direction of Mr. James W. Foster, participated in the Christmas and Spring Concerts in conjunction with the P.H.S. Band. On Easter morning, the Chorus sang at the Sunrise Service, which was held at the Winter Quarters Country Club. Accompanied on the piano by Susan Marshall, members combined their individual talents in a series of memorable programs throughout the academic year.

As a result of their efforts, they have found that exploring our nation's past is a most interesting and enjoyable experience.

The Senior High LITERARY CLUB sponsored by Mrs. McMullen, met monthly to discuss various books and their authors. Included in this year's discussions were: OF MICE AND MEN by John Steinbeck, THE BRIDGE OVER THE RIVER KWAI by Pierre Boulle, NINE COACHES WAITING by Mary Stewart, RECTOR OF JUSTIN by Louis Auchincloss, MY FAIR LADY by Alan Jay Lerner (based on George Bernard Shaw's PYGMALION).

Usually, a member of the group served as discussion leader. At the last meeting, Mrs. Tatem assisted the group in analyzing several of Robert Frost's poems. Much enjoyment came from the diversity of opinion among club members.

The Pocomoke High School ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION, under the capable direction of Mrs. Pat Westcott and Mr. Phil Slacum, has been an outstanding organization this year. Although most students are unaware of the many demanding duties of this active organization, it has quietly helped to create fine sportsmanship and team spirit within the student body and the community of Pocomoke. The Athletic Association must assist in the purchasing of athletic equipment for the teams. They also lend a helping hand toward expenses for new uniforms and salaries for game officials.

In addition to these many activities, the association has outdone itself this year. Through the contributions from citizens of the town and money raised by club projects, the association was able to purchase glass backboards for the gymnasium, and new cheerleading uniforms.

Girls in the HOME ECONOMICS CLUB plan for the future by studying various aspects of homemaking. They endeavor to master the skills of sewing and cooking and to study home management. Through this study, the girls learn to manage a home and to make that home an active and useful part of their community.

During the Christmas season, individual creativity was shown in holiday treats, decorations, and candle-making. A special project of this year's club was the publication of a BABY-SITTING GUIDEBOOK which the club members planned and wrote for babysitters. Throughout the year, Mrs. Marian Severance has skillfully guided the girls through every phase of homemaking.

The purpose of the F.T.A. and F.N.A. is to prepare qualified high school students for careers in Teaching and Nursing respectively. The F.N.A. (Future Nurses of America) of Pocomoke High School was invited to tour Peninsula General Hospital School of Nursing in Salisbury, Maryland. Everyone had a chance to ask questions and to view the different areas and departments of the hospital.

In February, the Pocomoke High School Chapter of the F.T.A. (Future Teachers of America) attended a county-wide Fellowship Hour at Worcester High School. Included in the Program was a panel discussion which dealt with the topic, "What Makes a Good Teacher?" On May 18th the Pocomoke F.T.A. held a county-wide meeting which was highlighted by a speaker from the Maryland State Teachers Association.

P.H.S. Soccer Team Wins County Honors

Coach Slacum's sturdy lads played hard and well on their way to the 1965 Worcester County Championship. Fine play and good sportsmanship were displayed by the Warriors in route to a commendable 6-3 record. The spirit and determination of these athletes were indicated by the fine fashion in which they finished the season. Preceding the final Snow Hill game, the Warriors were aware that they had to win both the Snow Hill game and the play-off game with Stephen Decatur in order to clinch the County Championship. In each contest the determined warriors came from behind to tie the score, and with esprit d'corps, won each game in overtime. The high-riding Warriors then tackled the undefeated Washington Wildcats in the District Tournament. The Princess Anne lads proved to be too much for the Pocomoke eleven as they defeated the Warriors 6-2.

Girls Narrowly Miss County Hockey Championship

The Warriorettes' only loss of the season cost them the Worcester County hockey honors; in the fourth game of the season, the tough Stephen Decatur Sea Hawks defeated the Pocomoke lassies 2-1. The year was characterized by closely matched teams and hard fought contests. Due to these circumstances, the Warriorettes were tied in three of their five games. The highlight of the season was the 3-0 victory over the Crisfield Crabbers. Despite the loss of the departing seniors, Mrs. Pat Westcott, capable coach of the hockey team, hopes for a county championship in 1966.

Warriors Earn 7th Straight County Title.

Closing with ten straight victories, the Pocomoke Warriors ended one of their best seasons with a 13-2 record. The only two losses were to Crisfield and Wicomico High. These losses were avenged later in the season with wins of 63-40 over Crisfield and 68-58 over Wi Hi. The Warriors welcomed these two victories because they were their first wins over these opponents in regular season play in over eight years (Crisfield) and three years (Wi Hi). The team had never beaten Wi Hi before, and the only previous victory over the Crabbers had been the win over them last year in District 5 Finals in Salisbury.

For the seventh straight year, the Warriors won the Worcester County Championship. This enabled them to meet the other top Class C teams on the Eastern Shore. After winning their first game in overtime, defeating the St. Michael's Saints from Dorchester County, the Warriors lost in the semifinals to the Somerset High Dragons--the eventual Class C State Champions.

Jeff Carter Breaks 1000 Mark.

Jeff scores number 1000.

Over the four years of Jeff Carter's basketball career, he has provided the fans with many thrills by the impressive way he has handled the ball and the fantastic scores which he has compiled in each game. Going into the game with the Northampton Yellowjackets on February 18, 1966, Jeff had scored 978 points in his high school career. By the early part of the third quarter, he had pumped in 21 points bringing his total to 999. One more point was all he needed to break the 1000 mark and just minutes later he got it. Not only is Jeff one of the highest scoring Warrior players (with a total of 1082 points), he is also one of the finest team players to perform on any high school court. We know Jeff will long be remembered as one of the finest athletes that this city has ever produced.

Cheerleaders boost team spirit.

Victory! Victory!
Is our cry.
V - I - C - T - O - R - Y!
Are we with 'em?
No, we're not.
We're not with 'em;
We're on top!

Especially active during basketball season, the cheerleaders under the direction of Mrs. Pat Westcott filled our school with spirit and enthusiasm. Colorful signs in the gymnasium plus posters in the hall boosted the morale of everyone.

Practice makes perfect and our cheerleaders put in long hours as they prepared for the games. Special Pep Rallies were given to spark the interest of our student body, and give encouragement to our teams. Mimeographed copies of new and favorite cheers were given to each student to enable the student body to learn these cheers quickly.

This year with the support of the Athletic Association of P.H.S., the cheerleaders were able to acquire new uniforms.

P.H.S. Warriorettes capture

Worcester County Championship

With the return of four seasoned veterans and many experienced understudies, hopes for the 1966 girls' basketball season were high--even prior to play.

Expectations for the 1966 Warriorettes soon came true as the girls won their first Worcester County Championship in 3 years while going undefeated in the county and finishing with an 8-2 record overall. Playing in a county abounding in strength, the Warriorettes were nothing short of exceptional, remaining on top the entire season.

The team consisted of many stars, not just one outstanding athlete, and total team effort was a vital ingredient in the success of the season.

Congratulations to Coach Pat Westcott for a job well done.

As the times change, so do the ideas, goals, and ideals. With increasing emphasis on physical fitness and growing interest in the field of athletics, it has become necessary to start training athletic participants at an earlier age. The high, ever-increasing quality of today's varsity members and the stiff competition between schools have placed even more emphasis on junior varsity participation. This early instruction trains the athlete to work together with others as a team and has become a proving ground for future varsity players.

This season the JUNIOR VARSITY of P.H.S. posted an overall record of 3 wins and 4 losses while meeting tough competition from neighboring schools. Throughout the season, many of the J.V. players showed promise of becoming varsity stars in the future.

In regular season action, the Warriors went undefeated, winning two matches from both Stephen Decatur and Crisfield and one each from Onancock and Easton.

After getting off to a slow start due to inclement weather, the P.H.S. Warriors fought back the second half of the season to tie for the Worcester County Championship with Stephen Decatur. The Warriors were 4-2 in the county and 6-4 over-all. This strong comeback was a tribute to the fine coaching of Mr. Duncan and Mr. Slacum.

The girl's softball team placed second in the county for their 1966 season while exhibiting a 6-4 record. Many long hours of practice under their capable coach, Pat Westcott, went into this deserving season.

These fine teams completed Pocomoke's domination of county sports this year.

THE SPORTS YEAR IN BRIEF

This year has been one to remember for Pocomoke High School sports fans. With the return of many Senior veterans to each sport, hope was high from the beginning for athletics at P.H.S.

The soccer team soon set the tempo for P.H.S. sports by capturing the Worcester County Championship. The team was later defeated in the semifinals of the District 5 Tournament and ended the season with a 6-3 record.

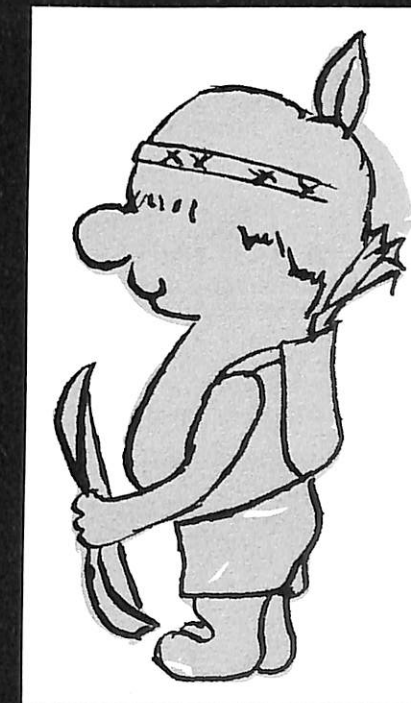

The hockey team finished in a tie for second in the county. They exhibited a 1-1-3 record.

Before long, basketball season arrived and both the Warriors and Warriorettes captured county honors - for the Warriors it was the seventh straight year. The boys then went on in District play before bowing out in the semifinals to the eventual State Champions. The Warriors ended their season with a fine 14-3 log while the Warriorettes were 8-2.

Soon, it was spring and the P.H.S. sports picture focused on golf, softball, and baseball. The golf team won its second straight District 5 Championship and ended the year with a perfect 6-0 record.

Meanwhile, the baseball and softball teams were compiling 6-4 records. The boys finished in a tie for the County Championship while the girls ended the season in second place.

At the year's end, the boys had three County Championships with a tie for the other, while the girls had one Championship and two second place finishes. Although graduation will mark the end of the careers for many high school athletes, we feel that P.H.S. will continue to be strong in all sports in Worcester County.

"Somewhere"

There's a place for us,
Somewhere a place for us
Peace and quiet and open air
Wait for us Somewhere.

There's a time for us
Someday a time for us.
Time together with time to spare,
Time to learn . . . Time to care
Someday Somewhere

We'll find a new way of living,
We'll find a way of forgiving,
Somewhere.

There's a place for us,
God grant His grace to us.
Guiding light, guide us true and right,
Guide us through the darkened night.
Somehow Someday,
Somewhere.

Valedictorian Address

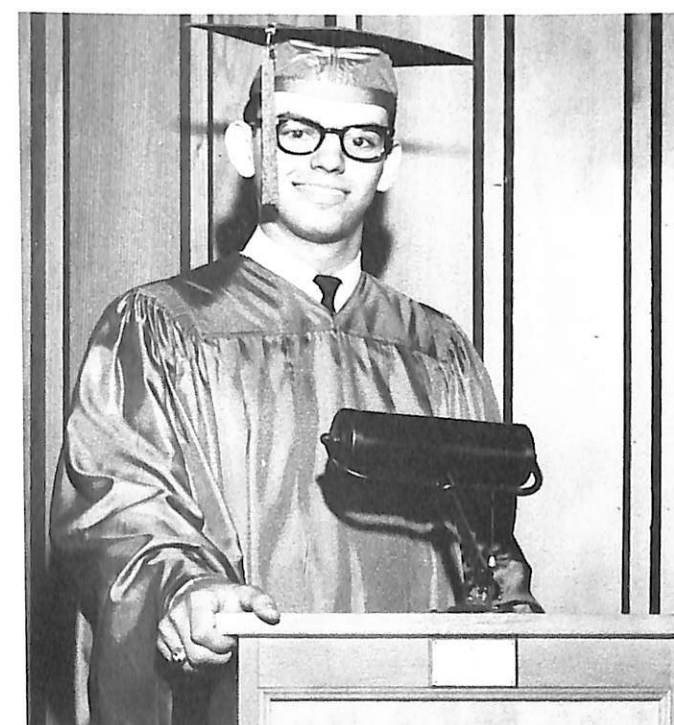

"We must always strive to use our capabilities and aptitudes to their greatest extent - be it for individual gain or for the betterment of mankind in general. I believe one of the world's greatest sins is wasted ability. Each of the members of this class is blessed with God-given talents. My most earnest wish is that they don't desecrate these precious gifts. Each of us as individuals, and all of us as a community, must strive for a better future."

Salutatorian Address

" Neither of us will exit tonight without leaving at least one special friend still in high school. Nor will either of us graduate tonight without the honest desire to gain one true friend in the future When dealing with people let us remember we are dealing with creatures of emotion, pride, and vanity Forgive and forget-some forgive but never forget 'He gained from heaven ('twas all he wished) a friend.'"

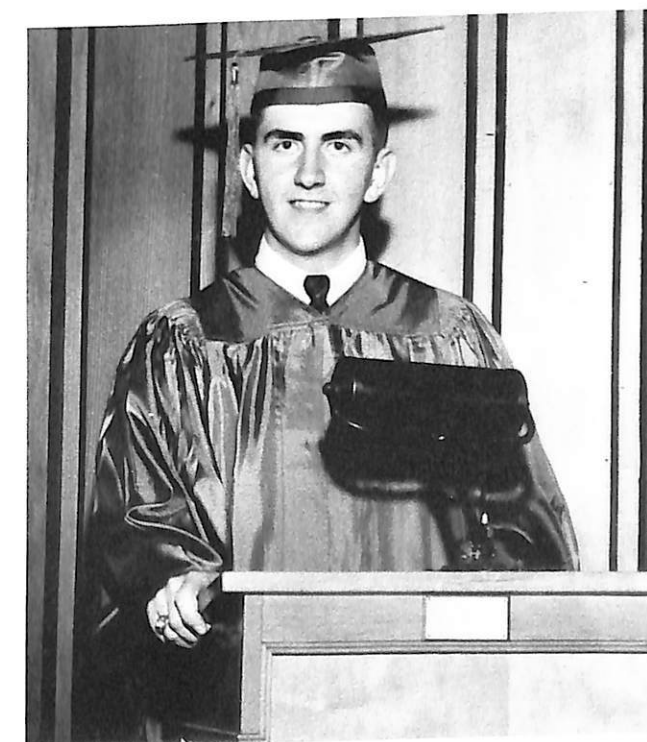

For The Last Time—June 9, 1966.

Valedictorian

Wayne Outten-Old Home Prize, Senior Class President.

EDITOR'S NOTE

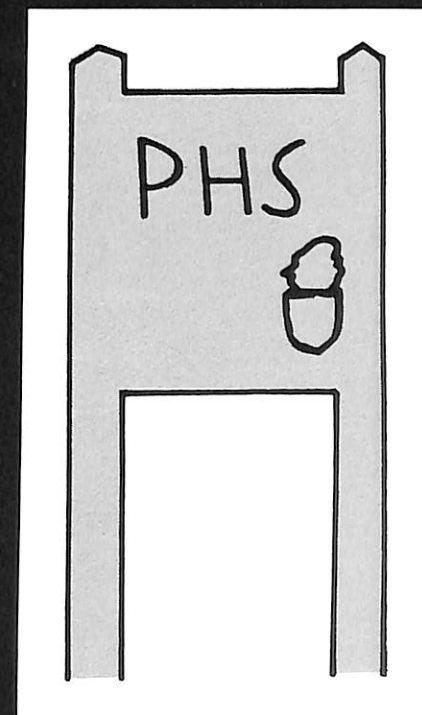

Within the pages of the 1966 Papoose are captured many events in pictures and words which, I hope, will bring to mind pleasant memories. The purpose of the 1966 yearbook staff has been to make this book a memento for each of you at P. H. S.

This book represents many hours of planning and months of preparation on behalf of the staff. For the staff, it has been an honor to serve P.H.S. in this way. We hope that you will find the Papoose rewarding.

Without the sincere co-operation of the administration, faculty, and student body, and the financial assistance of others, this book would not be possible. We are indebted to these people and we hope that you will take pleasure in patronizing our advertisers.

The staff is especially grateful to Mr. Ray Mitchell, our photographer for his advice and suggestions. I would like to thank each member of the staff. Each has rendered invaluable service in time and effort. And to several of you I extend special thanks, for offering sincere, yet candid opinions, to me. This I appreciate-as I have appreciated the friendship of a special few.
