CLASS PROPHECY

BY WISE HENMAN, '27

It has been given unto me, as the chosen one of this class of '27, to dream strange dreams and to see strange visions of the glories yet to be.

I had spent the day in studying, and thinking intently of just how to go about doing it, for I was not born a prophet any more than the other members of my class. So all worn and weary, I lay down and fell asleep. But soon I arose, refreshed and strengthened, and took a stroll down the beach.

I had not gone far, when I saw something glittering in the sun along the water's edge. As I came closer I found it to be an old Grecian Urn which was tightly sealed. Attracted by its peculiar characteristics and antiquity I carried it home with me as a souvenir. As I was about to set it on the table it began to slip from my grasp, and due to its slippery condition, having been in the water so long, it fell to the floor with a crash and lay in fragments at my feet. To my astonishment there arose a yellow smoke. In this smoke there appeared unto me the fair and lovely Spirit of Prophecy, the angel of things to come.

She spoke words of gratitude and thanks for having been released from such a long imprisonment.

"Lo, listen! I was the princess of Greece long forgotten ages ago. I was sealed in this Urn for not consenting to marry a magician and was carried many leagues to sea and cast overboard. I am supposed to have the same power as the magician himself when released from this Urn."

Suddenly there was a flourish of a magic wand in the air and slowly did she roll back the curtain of the dim beyond, and, as she drew back the curtain, she pointed with a long transparent finger down the avenues of strange lands, and opening her lips she spoke unto me saying:

"Lo, hear me prophesy unto the young men and women of Snow Hill High School even those things which you herein behold."

Then as I looked into the land of the future, I could discern moving among the dim shadows of the peoples yet to be, the familiar shapes of those fair and radiant beings, who were once my class mates, now changed and transformed into citizens of the world outside, even as they long hoped to be.

I could see our class President, 'Edwin E. Brown, yes, even as today of the class of '27, for his ambition had led him upward and onward until he was then the governor of this, his very own and native state.

And it came to pass, that I looked into the professional circles and in a large office among many men of great minds sat a prosperous young lawyer, who was no other than my former classmate, Merrill Trader.

While I continued gazing into the professional circle I recognized Samuel Oglesby, the Editor-in-Chief of The Representative of '27, and Ames Pennewell who had written so many interesting sports articles while serving in the capacity of Sports Editor on the same staff, both of whom had found their greatest ambition in the highest of all worldly vacations, surgical doctors.

The veil before my eyes now grew more and more dim, yet through the intensity of my vision I could see a group of people, who were once my classmates, now changed and transformed into successful teachers.

I could see Jessie Donaldson, the President of our Student Council, a famous instructor of English, while Dorothy Shockley and Nellie Pruitt were both acknowledged Math. instructors of great note. George Victor was president of a great Western College and in his faculty were found Laura Dickerson, Emily Sturgis, Ethel Godfrey, and Marian McAllister, all of whom had made a brilliant success. Catherine Powell, I found at the head of the Romance Language department in the same college.

And it came to pass, that as I watched the home lights fade away, that sweet strains of music held my soul entranced by the beauty and perfection of their harmonies, and as I looked, I beheld Beulah Pratt, the Queen of the World's Music.

Here also I beheld Elizabeth Nelson, a very extensive traveler, who visited many places of interest each year.

Through the tranquility of my vision I could see LeRoy Smith, an automobile machinist and dealer. I also could see Wendell White, a very prosperous wealthy and business man of the day.

As I looked farther into the future I could see Florence Pennewell, a

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '27

BY D. VIRGINIA STURGIS, '27

The history of the class of '27 began in September 1916, when sixteen tiny bashful, girls and nineteen bold but blushing boys presented themselves at the Primary School building and were enrolled in the first grade under Miss Winnie Spencer. Of this number, the following are found among the graduates of '27: Edna Hales, Jessie Donaldson, Beulah Pratt, Elizabeth Nelson, and Virginia Sturgis.

The World War was going on at that time and the boys wished that they were old enough to enlist in the army so they would not have to go to school,—no books to bother them and each a gun to shoot. The girls were so badly scared that they wished they were at home with "Mother." Jessie Donaldson, however, soon got over her scare and became the leader of the class.

Margie Evans and Mabel Phillips helped to increase our enrollment in our second year. The "cutting up and down" was resumed more diligently than before under the guidance of our new teacher, Miss Lillie Heward. By this time most of the girls were not at all scared and the boys were beginning to show just how bad boys could be. At the end of this term Elizabeth Nelson led the class in scholastic standing.

When the third grade was begun, we were delighted to find that Miss Lillie Heward was again to be our teacher. She had been promoted as well as we. At this time our class was strengthened by the addition of Eunice Carmean and Ames Pennewell. The pupils in this grade had the privilege of playing at the sand table. Perhaps this is one reason why Eunice and Ames joined our class at this time.

At the opening of the fourth school year we still found ourselves under the supervision of Miss Heward. The roll showed several pupils missing, but Reginald Mariner, Mary West and Merrill Trader helped to fill their vacancies. Reginald's blusing manner and pleasant "grin" added greatly to the distinction of the class. This year ended with Ames Pennewell and Virginia Sturgis tying for first honors. Ours was the first class to receive certificates for the completion of the Primary Course.

A number of new faces appeared at the High School building in the fall of 1920, when Miss Elizabeth Richardson took in hand another bunch of "green horns" and gave them new ideas of preparation for High School. Marian McAllister and Laura Dickerson joined us at this time. The girls then had a big majority over the boys.

On our sixth return to school we found that we were to be taught by Miss Minnie Warren and Miss Elsie Cottingham.

We had now been going to school so long that we were becoming used to it and when our seventh year approached, we were quite resigned to begin another term of school work. A glance at the class showed that the thriving town of Newark was well represented by Catherine Powell and Elizabeth Dennis.

This grade completed our elementary work and we were honored with certificates from the Board of Education. Closing exercises were held in Mason's Opera House, Snow Hill, in which the other schools of the county participated as well.

1923 began our Freshmen year in High School and some of our instructors thought that we were "fresh" indeed. Dorothy Shockley, Wise Henman, Ethel Godfrey and Carolyn Hearthway joined us at this time. Notwithstanding the fact that the class had several instructors, the bluntness of the "freshness" was borne by Miss Bratten and Miss Riley. They understood very well how to proceed, however, and soon we were as sedate as anyone could wish.

When we began our Sophomore year, we began to realize some of the "serious responsibilities" of life. The animosity between the girls and boys began to disappear and some of the boys would rather fight for the girls, than with them. Our Home Room was presided over by Miss Collins and the following members entered; Nellie Pruitt, Bernice Ball, Emily Sturgis, Stella Hudson, Florence Pennewell, Wendell White and Samuel Oglesby.

Our Junior year found Addie Lea West and Eldred Gibbons the progressive new members of our class. We worked with greater zeal than ever, hoping to attain offices through high scholastic standing.

When we became Seniors, our zeal was increased to the limit as we began to realize that it was our last year of High School, and the time for fighting our battles was fast approaching.

Our class was at this time strengthened considerably by the entrance of Edwin Brown, George Victor and LeRoy Smith, who have proved valuable members to the class.

SENIORS WILL STAGE "TAKE MY ADVICE" A DRAMATIC COMEDY ON MAY 26

The Class Night exercises will be held in Mason's Opera House on Thursday evening, May 26 when the Senior Class will stage a very entertaining and interesting, Dramatic Comedy, in three acts, entitled, "Take My Advice." This performance promises to be very enjoyable and it is hoped that a good audience will be present to enjoy it.

The cast is composed of four male and four female characters. The entire story takes place in the office of the Eureka News in Eureka; the time is the present in the fall of the year.

Mr. George Victor will play the role of Bob Mannion, the well dressed young editor of the Eureka News, always displaying a neat personality; Mr. Merrill Trader, as Jimmy Sampson a peppy and energetic young salesman, whose business is waking up towns; Mr. Wendell White, as Jud Fenton, a town character who has never been accused as working, and whose every movement is slow and lazy; and Mr. Ames Pennewell, as John Wargrim, a grim powerfully featured man of fifty years, who is a power in the state who controls and dominates Eureka.

The female characters will be interpreted by Miss Beulah Pratt, as Peggy Acton, a beautiful, pleasant and lovable girl who arrived in Eureka three months ago; Miss Elizabeth Dennis, as Virgy Mannion, Bob's sister, and a bright pretty saucy girl who works in the office of the Eureka News; Miss Nelie Pruitt, as Mrs. Nelson-Dodd, who is a haughty, aristocratic woman, a typical small town society leader, and president of the uplift society; and Miss Eunice Carmean, as Marcia Wargrim, the handsome, aristocratic snobbish daughter of John Wargrim.

DR. W. S. KREGER WILL PREACH SERMON TO GRADUATES

On Sunday evening, May 29, Dr. W. S. Kreger, of Makemie Memorial Presbyterian Church of Snow Hill, will preach the sermon to the graduating Class. The Senior and Junior Classes, and the faculty, will attend this service in a body.

COMMENCEMENT JUNE 3

The following Friday evening, June 3, the Commencement exercises will be held in Mason's Opera House. Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, President of Washington College will address the graduates. At this time also, the Old Home Prize Essay will be delivered. This essay was written and will be delivered by Miss Jessie Donaldson, winner of the Old Home Prize, having been selected by the faculty the best all round student in the Senior Class. Last, but by no means least, on this evening the Seniors will receive their diplomas. These will be presented by Mr. A. C. Humphreys, County Sup't. of schools.

THE JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

On Friday evening, May 6 the Senior Class of S.H.H.S. was delightfully entertained at a banquet given them by the Juniors. The faculty and members of the County Board of Education were also guests of the Juniors.

The Auditorium was beautifully and artistically decorated in crimson and gold, these being the Senior Class colors.

The banquet, which is the biggest social event of the school year was made doubly entertaining by the dancing and many games indulged in.

Mr. O. W. Wilson, Miss Evelyn Shockley and Mr. John Lynch rendered excellent music which added greatly to the evening's pleasure.

The supper, served about ten thirty, consisted of chicken salad, bread made in the form of a diploma tied with crimson and gold ribbon, pickles and coffee.

The favors were "red rose cups" each filled with mints, and in each was a card bearing the name of a guest. Wise old "owls" made of beautiful crepe paper, wearing a college cap and carrying a diploma under his wing, served as appropriate centerpieces for each table.

After supper, dancing was resumed until eleven-thirty, when the guests departed.

It was greatly enjoyed by all and was an event which will long be remembered by the Senior Class of 1927.

PROVEN RULES

Work steadily when you work, play hard when you play, rest a little and sleep enough.

Keep your head cool, your feet dry and your dressing room key handy.

Wash outside and inside, have a sense of humor and eat what your body and brain should have.

Wisely invest your experience and part of your income.

Be dependable in work, kindly in every deed and always give good service.

If these rules fail to make you live a long and happy life, something is wrong somewhere and you know where it is.

FAREWELL MESSAGE FROM THE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

—o—

With the history of the past surrounded by the most pleasurable associations flashing across our minds, we find ourselves on the threshold of our High School career ended, ready to face the future with its various fields of opportunities and difficulties. We are proud of a chance to enter a broader life with its doors open for us to choose our course, yet even though we are glad to start out in our future life, we regret we have to break intimate ties formed among us in S.H. H.S.

We, the staff of The Representative, wish to express our appreciation to the Senior Class for its kind support during the past year. May the work of each member, in his calling in life, be as successful and effective as of the past year.

To the staff of '28, we wish for you all the school spirit and teamwork that is needed to publish a paper. May The Representative of '28 be more successful than that of '27.

Lastly we leave to the student body the tasks and pleasures that accompany the school life. Let each one do his part and always remember that it is S.H.H.S. first every time.

Editor-in-Chief, '27.

—o—

WHAT DOES YOUR DIPLOMA
MEAN TO YOU?

—o—

What does your diploma mean to you? Simply a piece of paper? Does it mean the height of your ambition is attained? Or, is it to you a stepping stone on the road to SUCCESS?

Your diploma is something to be proud of, I admit. And who is not proud of his diploma? Yet, do not be satisfied with it,—climb higher! Let it be to you an incentive to press "Onward."

With your diploma as the first cornerstone in the great foundation of your success, rise to the very height. Some may say "I cannot rise higher. it is impossible." But is this true? Remember the old and tried maxim "Where there is a will, there is a way." And again, is anything impossible? With this in mind, who can answer to MOVE ON—"I can't?"

How many will be among the number to frame and treasure his diploma? To how many will a glance at his diploma mean "Higher!" To many will this glance bring a thrill of pleasure and ambition? Again, I say, "What does your diploma mean to YOU?"

—Dorothy Shockley, '27.

OUR GRADUATION

CAKE OF 1927

—o—

When first we think of our graduation cake, we think of our instructor of Home Economics, Miss Whaley, and wonder whether she would approve it with an A. But, on second thought we don't have to wonder, for we are witnesses that she has eaten of such cakes.

In order to make this cake of our, which must be nothing less than the very best, we use as our mixing bowl a pure, clean and wholesome body with education as our wooden spoon.

Now for the real cake: first, cream thoroughly together one pound of resolution with four times the amount of determination. Add to this a good portion of well-beaten knowledge. Sift carefully together a large amount of loyalty and truth, perseverance and unselfishness, and add this alternately with a reasonable measure of cooperation. Next fold in all the pep and enthusiasm that you have. Flavor this to the taste of a queen with an overflowing cup of cheer. Bake in an oven of tests and trials, until it reaches the lightness of success, approved by the severest critic. Then let each layer be bountifully spread with the pure white icing of love. And last, but by no means least, let "Our Graduation Cake of 1927" be decked with 37 bright red stars of honor.

FACULTY—Snow Hill High School

STUDENT COUNCIL

Under the guidance of Miss Jessie Donaldson, President and Miss M. Lillian Riley, faculty adviser, the Student Council of S. H. H. S. has made marked progress during '26-'27.

The Hall Police System was resumed this year and the work accomplished by the various forces prove that this system is indeed beneficial to the school.

At the beginning of the second semester, the Home Room Inspection Committee has functioned, and the result has been neater, more attractive and greatly improved home rooms.

The social affairs of the school have never been carried out more smoothly than those of this year, all of which have received permission and suggestions from the Council.

The Student Council was responsible for the sale of tickets for the Declamation Contest, held in the Assembly Hall on April 6, and it did remarkably well. The proceeds were beyond expectations and the affair passed off very nicely.

The Council has handled some very tedious cases during the year, inflicting punishments according to the offences; at no time has it appeared unjust.

The faculty feels that the Council is making rapid strides to success, and also that it has improved greatly the general welfare of S. H. H. S.

HOME ROOMS ORGANIZATIONS

One of the many interesting extra-curricular activities of our school is the Home Room Organization. It is one in which the entire student body is concerned and participates.

This phase of school life was introduced in the fall of 1924. Since then it has progressed rapidly and is proving to be more successful each year.

The Home Room Organization meets about twice a month. At every meeting, the President of each home room appoints a committee of three from his home room to see that the room is kept in order. He has the power of appointing as many committees as he likes, and thinks necessary to make his Home Room Organization a success.

The main functions of these organizations are to keep the various home rooms neat and tidy, with the boards erased and the books in place; to see that the magazine tables are kept in order.

The Social Committee of the Senior Home Room this year prepared and gave a very delightful tea, at which the Seniors had as their guests of honor, the Faculty.

Last year the Senior Home Room won the trophy for having the neatest and best-kept room during the entire year. This is decided by a secret committee appointed by the President of the Student Council every two weeks, whose duty is to inspect the various rooms, and give to the best kept room a score. The rooms are based on a 50% basis. The room that leads the greatest number of months is presented a scroll on which are the names of the teacher and the members of that particular home room. The Senior home room is striving for the trophy this year and from the chart now it looks as though they have a splendid chance of getting it again, although the Sophomores are giving them a close race.

The following, who have served as presidents of the various Home Rooms, have contributed substantially to their success: SENIOR HOME ROOM: George A. Victor, Jr. COMMERCIAL HOME ROOM: William E. Timmons for 6 months; Bernice E. Ball for 3 months; JUNIOR HOME ROOM: Marian Humphreys; SOPHOMORE HOME ROOM: Hance Fooks; FRESHMAN A HOME ROOM: Minnie Dryden; FRESHMAN B. HOME ROOM: Edward Cluff.

THE DRAMATICS CLUB

November 26, 1926 is an important date, because it marks the first meeting of the Dramatics Club in this school year. This Club was organized in 1926 by Miss Riley, our English instructor, and in that year it was very successful.

During the year students have rendered interesting as well as instructive selections to gain admittance to this club. The membership has increased from 23 to 38 active members. This shows the splendid progress of the club, and the interest of the students.

The Reading Table which was installed last year has greatly increased in its number of magazines and also in popularity with the students. The school as a whole, seems to appreciate it very much and it has been very helpful to many.

The Club this year, very successfully took charge of the Declamation Contests—the selling of tickets and the decorating of the hall. Members of the club also served as ushers.

An amendment to the Constitution has been made this year adding to the regular officers a corresponding Secretary whose duty is to carry on all correspondence of the club outside of that in school. This new office means quite a bit to the club.

The officers of the Club for 1926-27 are: President: Dorothy Shockley, Vice President: Harry Clarke, Treasurer: Ida Donaldson, Secretary: Elizabeth Dennis, Corresponding Sec't: Eunice Carmean.

The Club regrettably loses fourteen members by the June graduation. These, will however, still hold an honorary membership in accordance with the Constitution made in the year of 1926.

The Club extends to these members a very cordial invitation to all club meetings during the years to come.

THE VIOLIN CLASS

During the year of 1927 the Violin Class of S. H. H. S. has been under the supervision of a young and talented young man, Mr. DelValle.

After taking a few lessons the Violin Class organized and elected the following officers: President, George A. Victor, Jr.; Vice President, Ames Pennewell; Secretary, Louise Duer; Treasurer, George A. Victor, Jr.; Rep. to Student Council, Louis Tuckerman.

The Class feels that it has accomplished much along the musical line and also thinks that its time has been spent profitably.

Although the Violin Class will lose some of its members by graduation, we hope to see it continue throughout the coming years.

—George A. Victor, Jr.

S. H. H. S. BAND

At the beginning of this school year Mr. Morston of Salisbury started in to instruct the Band class, but due to certain conditions existing, he was compelled to give up the class. For a short while we were without an instructor, but fortunately Mr. Scarborough, our instructor in Science, came to our rescue, and throughout the remaining part of the year he met with us every Tuesday evening in the Municipal Building for rehearsal. The members of the Band and the school as a whole, feel greatly indebted to Mr. Scarborough for the time and work he has voluntarily spent for the sake of the Band and S. H. H. S.

The officers of the Band for 1926-27 are: President, Hance Fooks, Vice President, Merrill Trader, Secretary and Treasurer, Eldred Gibbons. Other members are: Lester Hearthway, Clarence Barnes, Edward Rayne, John Burbage, Montgomery Staggs, Vaughn Hales, Paul Hales, Covey Chilcutt, Harry Watson, Edwin Brown, Kendal Powell, Wilson Hudson, Minnie Melson, Alberta Littleton, Louise Haddock and Catherine Rayne.

ANNUAL FIELD DAY HELD IN SNOW HILL APRIL 29

Under the auspices of the Board of Education of Worcester County in cooperation with the Playground Athletic League of Maryland, of which Dr. William Burdick of Baltimore, is the director, the twelfth Annual Field and Track Meet of the Public Schools of Worcester County was held in Snow Hill on Friday, April 29.

Peccmoke and Berlin tied for first place with a total score of 148 points each. Snow Hill gained second place with 128 points.

The boys and girls of our school tried hard to win first place; however, this did not discourage them, for they believe success comes to those who "when once they don't succeed, try, try again."

The following shows the first places won by Snow Hill students in the track and field events:

830 Yard Run Senior Unlimited 2 min. 12 2-5 sec. (A new record) won by George Victor, Jr.

60 Yards Dash 95 lb. Class 7 3-5 sec. (Equals Record) Hance Fooks.

Base Ball Throw For Distance 223 ft. 11 in. Hance Fooks.

440 Relay 95 lb. Class, 58 Sec. E. Cluff, M. Trader, L. Tuckerman, J. W. Watson.

Base Ball Throw for Accuracy 14 points 115 lb. Class, Wm. Townsend.

Flag Relay 1 min. 36 sec. Alice Aydelotte, Mary Brown, Blanche Cherrix, Cynthia Hales, Helen Harris, Vera Jones, Anna Larson, Madeline Outten.

Run and Catch Relay- 1min. 22 sec. Mary Evans, Ethel Godfrey, Lolo Godfrey, Elma Handcock, M. Humphreys, Wilma Jones, Mary West, Mildred West.

Captain Ball—Elizabeth Barnes, Nellie Cherrix, Jessie Donaldson, Minnie Dryden, Julia Evans, Grace Lewis, Catherine Powell, Nellie Pruitt, Dorothy Shockley, Esther Tatman.

Boys Dodge Ball 95 lb. Class, J. Cash, C. Chandler, E. Cluff, G. Corddry, H. Duer, H. Fooks, M. Trader, L. Tuckerman, R. Watson, W. Watson.

SOCCER

Of all the sports that we indulge in, Soccer seems to be the most popular with the boys of S.H.H.S. It is a game in which, probably more than in any other, the players have to cooperate and display team work in order to get anywhere. It is practically impossible for one player to score without the assistance of his teammates.

The Soccer season of '26 was a very successful one. With all our regular players in the line-up, our team was an equal to any in the County, but unfortunately five of our "regulars" were kept out of the most decisive games, thereby causing us to lose our chance for championship.

The Soccer squad of '27 will miss the service of Cap't. Victor, Pennewell, Smith, E. Brown, Mariner, White and Gibbons, as they expect to be graduated in June. Richardson and Adams will also be absent as they have withdrawn from school.

The line-up of the regular team and substitutes is as follows: Bradly, Goal; Hearthway, L. F. B.; Barnes, R. F. B.; Smith, L. H. B.; Victor (Cap't.), C. H. B.; Boothe, R. H. B.; Fooks, L. C.; Townsend, L. I.; Pennewell, C. F.; Richardson, R. I.; E. Brown, R. O.; Substitutes: Harris, Gray, Mariner, White, G. Brown, Gibbons and Hales.

FIELD BALL

S.H.H.S. had a very valuable Field Ball team of '26, and one which always played hard and afforded a good fight. All the games were interesting as the teams usually were very evenly matched.

ORGANIZATIONS (Continued)

Marian McAllister and Eunice Carmean, who were so effective at the goal, Elizabeth Dennis, the popular Captain and stalwart Center Half Back, and Ethel Godfrey, the fleet Right Inside Forward will not be found in the line-up next September for another season's work,—because of graduation. The school regrets greatly their departure.

The Field Ball team of '26 won 3 games, tied 2 and lost 1.

The girls whose names are given below, under the direction of our capable coaches Miss Riley and Miss Whaley, are responsible for S. H. H. S.'S success in Field Ball: Marian McAllister, Goal; Eunice Carmean, L. F. B.; Nellie Cherrix, R. F. B.; Mildred Cropper, L. H. B.; Elizabeth Dennis, C. H. B.; Minnie Dryden, R. H. B.; Marian Humphreys, L. O. F.; Grace Lewis, R. O. F.; Mildred West, L. I. F.; Ethel Godfrey, R. I. F.; Julia Evans, C. F.; Substitutes, Mary Evans, Jessie Donaldson, Addie Lea West, Beulah Pratt, Elizabeth Barnes, and Ellanora Stevens.

BASE BALL

Baseball is nearly over in our school. We have one more game to play with Ocean City which will bring our season to a close. So far we have won two games and lost three.

In Clarence Barnes we have a good pitcher, but his support has been erratic. At the beginning of the season there were five teams in the league, namely; Pocomoke, Berlin, Ocean City, Stockton and Snow Hill, but because of regrettable circumstances Berlin has withdrawn. It looks now as though Pocomoke will carry off first honors, having won five out of six games played.

Below is the line-up of the Snow Hill players who have participated in one or more games:

Barnes, Pitcher - Outfield; Harris, Catcher; Victor, first base; Bradley, second base; Johnson, first and second base; Powell, second and third base and outfield; E. Townsend, third base; Hearthway, third base and outfield; Pennewell, outfield and pitcher; Scott, outfield; Fooks, outfield.

EXCHANGES

Never before has an exchange editor of The Representative had such a happy and prosperous year as the one of this year. He has received more exchanges than any other in the history of the paper. They have come from nearly every state in the Union.

The Staff and students of S. H. H. S. have thoroughly enjoyed reading every issue that our exchanges have edited and we, the Staff of The Representative of '27 trust that the Staff of '28 will have the same privilege of hearing the interesting news from as many schools, not only in our own state, but in others too, as we have had.

May all the exchanges of The Representative have a very happy, and profitable Summer Vacation!

—Exchange Editor, '27

STUDENT COUNCIL MAKES FIRST APPEARANCE IN ASSEMBLY

On Friday morning, May 13 the Student Council of Snow Hill High School sat in a body before an assembly of the faculty and student body. The purpose of this sitting was to partially reveal to the faculty and students the work accomplished by the Council during 1926-27.

Representatives sent to the council from the various home rooms and organizations at the first of the year to represent them in school affairs, gave a brief account of their work in the Council in behalf of their respective home rooms and organizations.

Miss Riley, faculty adviser to the Council, opened the meeting with a few very impressive introductory remarks, while Mr. Simmons made a most effective closing talk in which he not only commented upon the progress of the Council, but offered some excellent advice to the Seniors who are about to be graduated. Miss Jessie Donaldson, President of the Student Council, presided at this meeting.

At this assembly, also, the recently elected president of the Council for 1927-28, Mr. Louis Tuckerman, was formally presented to the students by Miss Donaldson, to which he responded with a few appropriate remarks.

Indeed the entire program was very enlightening and interesting to everyone.

kind and generous nurse.

The wonders of the years passed quickly, bringing Elizabeth Dennis in the field of sensational world's athletics, and Reginald Mariner, a great contractor of the day.

Then the angel of prophecy pointed to something in the distance and as I looked I saw Eldred Gibbons, a very industrious and prosperous farmer, tilling the field of grain.

And Lo! as I pondered these things in my heart, a large commercial city appeared before my vision and I happened to find myself, on the inside of a large Exchange Building. I found therein, a group of well known class mates. I could see them, even as if the intervening years were not at all. They were now changed and transformed into a group of industrious and successful stenographers.

I could see Eunice Carmean, head of the Bookkeeping Department of that great business. Addie Lea West, who was the chief typist of "The Representative," was now head of the Typing Department. Mary West, a clerk in the Revenue Department and, Carolyn Hearthway, excellent typist in the Finance Department were both outstanding employees.

My vision changed, and in another office of this great skyscraper, I could see Mabel Phillips, a worthy stenographer for a patient lawyer.

I also saw Stella Hudson, one of the chief clerks to the Chamber of Commerce, and Margie Evans, now the champion typist of the world.

Suddenly a change came over the spirit of my vision and I felt within my heart a strange, burning desire to see my old chums, Edna Hales, Bernice Ball and Virginia Sturgis, when the spirit of prophecy, responding to my unspoken wish, conducted me to a bachelor girl apartment in a large foreign city. where the three sat by a large fireplace, talking of the past. Edna, now a famous violinist was calling forth sweet strains from her polished instrument; Virginia, dancing a jig in time with the music, and Bernice looking on with her solemn gaze of contentment. In this city I found myself, Wise Henman, the world's famous artist.

And verily, as I beheld this scene and marveled thereat, thinking, aye even so shall it straightway come to pass with each and all of us, "Lo! the strains of music died away. The veil was drawn over my eyes, shutting out from my vision the things to be, and I awoke and turned my eyes back to the things that are; sure that as "coming events cast their shadows before" only goodness and prosperity shall follow all the days that are to come to the fair and talented members of the class of 1927.

WHAT ARE YOU BUILDING

Isn't it strange
That princes and kings,
And clowns that caper
In saw-dust rings,
And common people
Like you and me

Are builders for eternity?
Each is given a bag of tools,
A shapeless mass,
A book of rules;
And each must make—
Ere life is flown,
A stumbling block
Or a stepping stone.

"GET THE HABIT"

Boys and girls who begin to save while in school "get the habit," become thrifty and grow to be men and women of character, reputation and influence. Would you be such a man or woman? If so, start now to cultivate the habit of thrift and enjoy the respect and admiration of your fellows. Nobody admires the shiftless and thriftless. Begin now to save for the home you will want later, and we will help you finance the balance needed when you are ready to buy, or build.
